Scoring for Kendrick were Verna Easterbrook, 18; Hermina Meyer, 16; Marilyn Schupfer, 6; Shirley Travis, 2 and Frankie Peters, 2.

Tigers Ton Trojans

With Ira Havens showing the way with 19 points, the Kendrick grade school team defeated Troy by the lop-sided score of 53-30. Others scoring for Kendrick were Clemenhagen 8; Craig 8; Taylor 6; Thornton 5; Gladden 4; Jones 2; Arbuckle 1 another win for the Juliaetta-Kendrick group.

After a slow start, which saw the teams tied 3-3 at the first quarter, the Kendrick Tigers managed to move into a narrow 12-10 lead at the half-time period in the A game. The third period was anything but slow from the Kendrick viewpoint, as the Tigers began hitting from all angles to outscore the visitors 13-5, and the stanza ended 25-15 for the Tigers. The fourth period was very similar to the preceding one, as the Trojans again were stopped by a tight-checking Kendrick squad. The final score of 37-20 gives a good indication of what was happening to the attempted field shots.

Don Millard led the scoring for both teams with 13 points, with Max Dammarell of Troy following with 10 points. Other Kendrick points were: White 6, F. Dammarell 5, Bob Ware 5, Hanks 2, S. Smith 2, Fev 2, L. Parks 1, McCreary 1.

Half-time entertainment was provided by the grade school band, led by Emma Jo Dowdy, who also put on a baton twirling exhibition.

Tigerettes Lose To Weippe Saturday evening the Weippe girls team won a rather slow game from Tigerettes by a 32-24 score. Neither team seemed able to score with any consistency because of a tight defense and poor shooting. Scoring for Kendrick were Easterbrook 12; Schupfer 2; Meyer 9 and

TO SHOW WEAKNESS

Grain markets remained weak during the past week, and prices of most grains continued on a downward trend, according to reports to the Department of Agriculture. All grades of winter wheat declined 2c to 3c per bushel at most markets compared with a week ago, while spring grain was down 5c to 6c with a slow milling demand and less active buying by the Commodity Credit Corporation. Corn held about unchanged with the purchase of over 10,000,000 bushels by the Commodity Credit Corporation about the loan supporting influence. Oats dropped to a more nearly normal relationship with other feed grains. Barley was sharply lower at Minneapolis where inquiry was slow both from maltsters and feeders, but held firm at Kansas City and on the west coast.

Pacafic Northwest cash wheat markets fluctuated within a narrow range during the week just past and prices closed about 1c per bushel lower than a week ago. Offerings from the country continued light. On the other hand, mill demand was very slow and purchases by the Commodity Credit Corporation were only 320,000 bushels, which is much lower than in other recent weeks. Demand for wheat for feeding purposes remained light due to a turn to corn and other lower priced feed grains. At the close of the week, ordinary export classes of wheat were quoted at $2.21 per bushel.

Receipts of wheat at Columbia river terminals held up fairly well with 576 cars, while Puget Sound markets had 354, compared with 644 and 431 cars, respectivey last week and 523 and 510, a year ago.

Heavy snows, sleet and rain in the central west reduced marketings of winter wheat but arrivals of spring wheat were somewhat larger and 500,000 bushels. Moisture in the grain belt was beneficial and is now mostly adequate in Kansas and Nebraska. Prospects improved in Texas and Oklahoma and most wheat fields in the far west have better than usual moisture conditions and protective snow covers. Purchases by the Commodity Credit Corporation dropped to a little over 2,000,000 bushels and snow demand for flour was reflected in a more limited buying by millers. Prices of winter wheats at the principal markets dropped 2c to 3c per bushel and No. 2 hard winter, ordinary, was quoted at Chicago at $2.33 to $2.34 per bushel and $2.22 to $2.23 per bushel at Kansas City.

The San Francisco wheat market turned somewhat weaker, influenced by slow demand and declines in other markets, while offerings were somewhat increased. At the close California No. 1 soft or hard whites were being quoted at $2.32 to $2.34 per bushel, bulk basis.

Wheat receipts at Ogden for the week were only 34 cars. At the close of that market northern spring, close of that market northern spring, soft white and western white were being quoted at $2.06 per bushel with hard white at $2.16 per bushel, f. o. b. Ogden.

Commodity Credit Corporation purchases during the period from noon of January 7 through January 14 were: 1,635,425 bushels of wheat; 1,682,867 bushels of barley; 182,612 bushels of rye and 5,190,660 bushels of corn. There were no flour purchases during that period. Wheat purchases consisted of 1,011,513 bushels through Kansas City; 40,bushels through Kansas City; 40,-000 through Minneapolis; 189,870 through Chicago and 385,042 bushels through Portland.

Cumulative purchases since July total: Wheat, 201,065,120 bushels; flour 1,189,790,000 pounds (26,123,-956 bushels wheat equivalent); bar-ley 14,291,414 bushels; grain sor-ghums 10,502,140 bushels; rye 2,-508,269 bushels: oats 4,432,700 bush-els and corn 28,969,440 bushels. The cash barley market at Port-land remained firm, reflecting the light offerings and a somewhat improved demand from feed sources. At the close of the week No. 2 western barley testing 45 pounds sold at $55.50 to $56.00 per ton, with growers continuing to hold remaining stocks quite firmly.

The San Francisco barley market weakened further following declines in other markets and a slow demand for both feeding and malting barley. At the close No. 2 bright western barley testing 44 pounds was quoted at $55.50 to $56.00 per ton.

The Portland cash oats market weakened considerably during the week and prices declined $3.00 to $3.50 per ton from a week ago, largely reflecting a decline in eastern markets and slower demand from feed sources and processors. At the close No. 2 white local oats testing 38 pounds were quoted at $62.50 to $63.00 per ton with light offerings prevailing as in other recent weeks.

"That is anybody's guess,' 'answered Mr. Schupfer. "For one thing, public power systems find it difficult to operate small, isolated units as efficiently as the larger private systems. Upkeep of lines and generators is more expensive today than the purchasers of public systems anticipated when private companies were condemned and taken over sevwere condemned and taken over several years ago. Even though public systems pay an average of only 6 percent in taxes against the private company's 23 percent taxes, some of these public systems are having a hard time making ends meet. Another thing, the public is beginning to see the handwriting on the wall. Wipe out private enterprise and the result will be an all-powerand the result will be an all-power-ful monoply, with no place to go for appeal if things go wrong. Such a situation is state socialism, and nobody seems to want it."

WHAT THOMAS A. EDISON THOUGHT of Public Ownership

"There is far more danger in public monopoly than there is in private monopoly, for when the government goes into business it can always shift its losses to the taxpayers. If it goes into the power business it can pretend to sell cheap power and then cover up its losses.

"The government never really goes into business, for it never makes ends meet. And that is the first requisite of business. It just mixes a little business with a lot of politics and no one ever gets a chance to find out what is actually going on. I feel so strongly on the government keeping out of business that if I had my way . . . all the government should have is an efficient inspection bureau."

Fly Immunity to DDT Is Debatable Question Some Insects Develop Strain of Resistance

Do flies become immune or resistant to DDT after it has been used for a few years?

This question arises from the fact that a few fly-control failures on farms where DDT was effective in other years have been hard to account for. The explanation was that the flies probably had become resistant to the chemical. Uncle Sam's entomologists admit that insects can develop resistance to the insecticides used against them, as in the case of the apple codling moth against which lead arsenate lost its effectiveness. Moreover, Uncle Sam's bug men say they have, in the laboratory, been able to develop a DDT-resistant strain of flies. It is not likely that a DDTresistant strain would develop naturally in the short time since DDT was first used.

It is more reasonable to believe that the occasional failure on farms where DDT already has been used with good results is due to carelessness or inferior product.

One thing in particular that should accompany the use of DDT is the destruction or removal of fly breeding places, such as manure piles, weed piles, old stack bottoms and wet spots in barnyards. One or more such spots may be able to turn out flies faster than DDT can kill them, for DDT is not noted for fast action. A fly may survive for hours after alighting on a surface coated with DDT.

Herds and Flocks

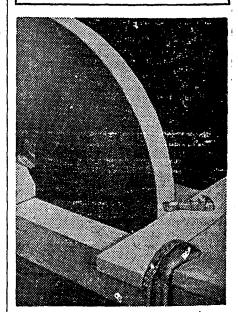

New insecticide, pyrenone, has proved its effectiveness in control of flies on livestock. Better than some of the old-time fly killing insecticides, the new material is being used now in some livestock fly sprays.

Use of protein supplements in rations for shotes always has been profitable. Some farmers have failed to use these supplements, though, grain is so high, the cost of protein supplements is relatively low. So, if the use of supplements is more important one time than another. now is that time.

It looks now like the farmer who has a flock of good pullets in the laving house next fall will get good prices for eggs. The better care you take of pullets now, the better they will be able to stand up under the strain of heavy laying next

Benzene hexachloride, recommended by swine specialists at agricultural colleges for control of hog lice and mange, now is being incorporated in hog oils that can be used in dipping vats, hog wallows, hog oilers or on rubbing posts.

Reviving Grindstone

This farm grindstone, although badly battered about its entire diameter and worn quite flat in one place, was easily trued-up by dressing it with the sharp-pointed tool shown attached to the small board. The dark "cutting tip" of the tool is made of carboloy cemented carbide, the hardest metal made by man.

Tests Show Tung Meal Poisonous to Chickens

Tung meal proved unsatisfactory as a source of protein in chick rations in tests conducted at the Florida agricultural experiment station. The tung meal proved poisonous, whether raw, heated or heated and sifted. It caused heavy mortality at 10 and 15 per cent levels. At 5 per cent and higher levels the tung meal interfered with feed utilization and growth.

• Leaders of unions representing railroad engineers and firemen seek to force railroads to add extra, needless men on diesel locomotives. This is sheer waste -a "make-work" program which would mean fewer improvements and higher costs—for YOU!

Railroads use modern diesel locomotives because they are one of the means of giving faster, better service to you.

Two men compose the crew of a diesel. They occupy a clean, comfortable cab at the front. The engineer handles the throttle. The fireman sits and watches the track ahead. With no coal to shovel, he has practically nothing else to do.

No Benefit To You

Now the leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen want to use the diesel locomotive as a means of forcing a feather-bedding scheme on the railroads. The extra men they propose to add to the diesel crews are not needed. There is no work for them.

The union leaders are fighting among themselves about which union should furnish these extra, needless men. The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers have even threatened a strike. You may not be interested in this dispute of these two unions, but you would be vitally concerned if these groups succeed in putting through this feather-bedding scheme, because it would mean a slowing up of the improvement program of the railroads-of which the diesel is the outstanding symbol.

Diesel crews are among the highest paid railroad employes—real aristocrats of labor! tracks and stations, on new passenger and Granting of these demands, therefore, would mean that the railroads would be paying out millions in unearned wages to those in the very highest pay brackets.

We'd Like To Spend This Money On You

You know how much the diesel has meant to you in increased speed, comfort and convenience. The railroads have many more of them on order for even greater improvement in service to you. But needless drains of money, such as this present demand of the unions for needless men on diesels, reduce the ability of the railroads to spend money on better service for you.

Proud as the railroads are of the diesel, it is only a small part of their improvement program. Since the War, literally billions of dollars have been spent on improvement of freight cars, as well as on diesel locomotives. and on the many other less conspicuous details of railroading that contribute to improved service.

Feather-Bedding Means Less Service To You But brazen feather-bedding schemes like the one now proposed would, if successful, divert large sums of money from our present improvement programs. Even worse, they make improvements like the diesel worthless, by making the cost of their operation prohibitive. These demands are against your interests —as well as those of the railroads. They are schemes to "make work". Neither you nor the railroads should be forced to pay such a penalty for progress. That's why the railroads are resisting these "make work" demands to the last ditch—and why they are telling you about them.

"An organized group in the Northwest is attempting to wipe out all private business management in the electric industry.

"I oppose this program because it leads to State Socialism. The PUD law gives its PUD commissioners almost unlimited authority. They are not subject to state regulatory bodies. They have power to tax and spend. There is no way to get out of a PUD once you are in it. Already PUD's in the State of Washington have cost the taxpayers over $3,033,705.

WHAT OTHERS SAY: -{From an editorial in the Odessa Record}

"If public ownership is good in the power industry to save the average family a few pennies a month, to be consistent, the Grange should be willing to support a bond issue to provide government owned farms to get food at cost. Certainly this is more important than furnishing electricity at cost. . . . If we are going to have Socialism, let's start at the bread basket, not the cookstove."

I know, for I inspected the buildings from cellars to garrets, and inadequate and antiquated are two words that very well describe some of them.

Most people go in the front door and out the back, but I did the reverse. I entered through a kitchen that has not passed a health inspection for many years. This is on record at the state health department in Boise.

patients there are only three toilet stools and one bathtub. There is no place to put any more. Compare this with a five or six family household with one bath, and the demands made upon its use.

The prevailing conditions are not the fault of the management, as can be told at a glance, though I took more than one glance. The time consumed to make this inspection was one day. The great worry of the superintendent, when a call comes in regarding a new committenent is, "where will we put another bed?" This is true especially in the women's ward. women's ward. Dr. E. L. Berry, superintendent, as well as being the hospital's chief physician, believes that if patients are given plenty of rest, good food, and if time is spent talking to them —or in other words, if they are treated like normal human beings where six inmates have sleeping quarters, there is no exit except a crude stairway which could easily be shut off by fire, plus a fire escape which is nothing more than a platform with a narrow straight steel ladder very difficult for use of the patients seem to like or and if time is spent talking to them—or in other words, if they are treated like normal human beings—that much can be done toward their rehabilitation. It was noticeable, as we went through the wards, that most of the patients seem to like or of the patients of the patie Dr. Berry, and he was greeted familiarly with: "Hi, Doc!"

The hospital at Orofino shines throughout with cleanliness, and in all my discussions with persons not connected with the institution, there connected with the institution, there is praise for this part of the program. The linens are snowy white, and as we went through on bed airing day in some of the wards, the mattresses were rolled back and the bedding was being freshened.

Dr. Berry is assisted by Dr. H. E. St. Antoine, psychiatrist, and Mrs. Gail Smith, the only trained nurse employed. These three must furnish employed. These three must furnish the medical care for the 436 patients.

To Participate In Contest The Kendrick High school art department was furnished material this month to enable them to participate in a state-wide Easter Seal poster design contest sponsored by the Idaho chapter of the National Society for Crippled Children. Winner of the state contest will participate in national competition to select the design of the 1951 Easter Seal. The national winner will receive a $500 art scholarship.

The contest for Idaho high and secondary school pupils is already underway in the schools which maintain regular art departments. Art students are preparing designs to be judged in the state contest in Boise on April 1. First place design in Idaho will receive a $25.00 award with $15.00 and $10.00 going to the second and third place winners. Two honorable mentions will also be given in Idaho, and the five winning designs will be displayed in the Boise Gallery of Art from April 1 to 6. They will then be forwarded to Chicago for the national competition.

Winners of last year's Idaho contest were Max Rich and Shirley Nelson of Pocatello, and Karolyn Kerlce, Rigby.

MILK . .

Eat It Or Drink It . . . Adults Need Three Glasses a Day Adults who enjoy two glasses of milk a day feel that they do well by themselves. But now food chemists find that this isn't enough for best health. According to new National Research Council Standards, average adults should have five quarts of milk a week or the equivalent in dairy foods. Mothers-to-be and the aged, as well as children, need even more. Since not everyone wants to drink this much milk, as such, cheese, ice cream and foods made with milk, can supplement. SO FOLKS
