To Celebrate Home Week

Women of the Big Bear Ridge Home Demonstration Club invite their neighbors to join with them in celebrating National Home Demonstration Week when the group meets for a potluck dinner at the Community hall, Friday, May 6, at 6:30 p. m.

Announcement of the dinner comes from Mrs. Henry Kortemeier, president of the group, who says they plan to hold a potluck dinner and program that will be of interest to the whole family. This will also mark the official opening of the Community Hall since it was remodeled and is the group's way of thanking all those who helped in its repair.

The program for the evening is based on the theme, "Harmony Around The World." Feeling that peace and harmony can be developed through knowledge and understanding, the group has invited a number of the students from other countries now studying at the University of Idaho, to attend the meeting and tell of their homes and backgrounds. There will be folk songs and other music. It is hoped that many of those who attend will bring as their part of the potluck dinner, some foreign food.

Although homemakers are always invited to participate in Home Demonstration meetings, families from Juliaetta, Kendrick, Deary and other nearby communities are urged to attend this special meeting during National Home Demonstration week.

New Laws Go Into Effect

Boise — Beginning May 3, a lot of Idaho people will be affected by new laws passed by the 30th session of the state legislature last January and February. These are the bills passed and signed into law which did not carry the "emergency clause." Agriculture laws include the new ice cream bill, provision for financing soil conservation districts, requiring licenses and bonds for weighmasters, and providing for warehouse receipts. The new tax on the prune, honey and bean industries will go into effect May 3, to provide money for promoting those industries, similar to the plan used so successfully for many years by the potato growers of Idaho.

Almost every type of business, enterprise and profession has a new law or two to consider after May 3. Changes in the employment security act will go into effect, and both employers and employees will have some new rules. Counties, municipalities and districts of all kinds will find revisions in laws pertaining to them. Some 18 new laws are listed under the general heading of "Education." Food and food products, insurance, motor vehicles, compensation insurance, labor, livestock, dairying, packing, public lands, public assistance, public health, revenue and taxation and other subjects are listed under laws to take effect May 3.

The Snake River commission to study the Wyoming-Idaho claims to water, the interim committees on highways, workmen's compensation, and others, will also be activated.

A Summary of Legislation Enacted by the 30th Session has been prepared by the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce, listing all of the new laws. The pamphlet contains 24 pages. It is available without cost from the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce, 524 Idaho Building, Boise, Idaho.

Tax Drain Is Terrific

Twin Falls — Citizens of Idaho paid 55 times as much federal income taxes in 1948, as they did in 1941, Harry A. Elcock, president of the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce, pointed out to the Idaho Congressional delegation in a strong plea for economy made this week.

In a letter addressed to the senators and representatives at Washington, D. C., Elcock declared that the personal income tax payments by Idaho citizens climbed from $1,100,552 in 1941, to $55,510,000 in 1948.

"The combined individual and corporate income tax payments were nearly 20 times as great in 1948 as in 1941," Elcock continued, comparing federal taxes collected through the office of the collector of internal revenue in Boise for the fiscal years ending June 30, 1941, and 1948.

Total federal tax collections in Idaho for the period ending June 30, 1941, were roughly $8,535,000, and the total for the period ending June 30, 1948, was approximately $85,671,000, Elcock said. This did not include federal taxes paid by Idaho citizens on cigarettes and liquor, and similar taxes collected at the source. This is 9.8 times the size of the 1941 figure, said Elcock.

"We didn't need nearly 10 times as much federal government in 1948 as we needed in 1941," Elcock said. "Second, we are not 10 times as well able to pay the bill for federal government in 1948 as we were in 1941."

Elcock wrote the representatives and senators that he hoped his letter, addressed jointly to the congressmen, "makes you as angry and unhappy as the facts disclosed herein made me."

In conclusion he suggested that "taxes cannot be reduced until government expenditures are drastically cut," and urged Idaho's representatives to consider recommendations of the Hoover Commission for eliminating waste by the federal government.

One Hundred Eggs In "Nest"

More than 100 different bird eggs have found a permanent home in the "nest" John B. Hurley, widely-known collector of Yakima, Wash., helped build.

A quarter-century ago Hurley worked for the contractor building Science hall at the University of Idaho. Ever since, he has had an interest in the building, and recently decided to give an egg collection to the department of biological sciences, which is housed in that building. The collection was formally accepted this week by the Idaho board of regents.

"The eggs form a highly valuable addition to our bird specimens," Dr. H. Walter Steffens, head of that department, said.

Many of the eggs were personally found by Hurley, and others were obtained by swapping with collectors around the world. Some of the eggs are from Texas, but they are not the biggest. Largest in the collection is that of a razorbill auk from Lundy Island, North Devon, England. About the size of a double-yolked chicken's egg, it is pale blue with black spots. Smallest is a bush-tit egg from Seattle. It is about the size of a Palouse pea and chalk-white in color.

Fresh frozen fruits, berries, juices, vegetables, fish and poultry are obtainable, at Blewett's Grocery-Market. Remember: "For a Better Buy, Buy Bird's Eye." 1-adv.

Soil 'Bank Account' Determines Returns

Check Up on Solvency To Assure Prosperity

Check up on your soil fertility "bank account." It's more important to you than the number of dollars you have in your commercial account.

Your present and future prosperity depends on your soil's crop producing ability. Crop producing ability, in turn, depends on the size of your soil fertility bank account—how you match deposits and withdrawals.

Every crop you sell carries with it nitrogen, phosphate, potash and other plant nutrients. Unless you balance these withdrawals with good management "deposits" that replace nutrients, rebuild organic matter and repair damaged soil structure, your soil bank account will be overdrawn.

Among steps recommended for keeping your soil bank solvent are: Use deep-rooted legumes regularly in the rotation. Apply lime on the basis of soil tests. Use commercial fertilizer containing phosphate and potash as needed. Return manure, corn stalks, straw and other crop aftermath to the soil. Use contour cultivation and other conservation methods where necessary.

Just as you will get a notice if your checking account is overdrawn, lower per acre yield and higher per bushel costs will notify you if your soil bank account is being overdrawn.

Farm Bulldozer Blade

This bulldozer blade can be attached or removed from a tractor in three minutes. The blade was salvaged from an old road scraper and the pushers are old 1 1/2 inch galvanized irrigation pipe. The U-clips which attach the pushers to the tractor are 1/4 or 1/2 inch flat iron which was bent into shape and welded to the frame are 1 1/4 inch pipe.

Hampshire Sow Sets New Production Mark

Ringold Lady Dora, 753,056, with the litter with which she established a new production record for the Hampshire breed. This sow is the first to have made a "Six Star" record in the Hampshire registry. She is five years old and has raised 75 pigs in eight litters. In her six star litters she has raised 62 pigs, an average of 10.3. These pigs weighed a total of 418 pounds, 56 days after farrowing. She is owned by William C. Goodheart Jr., Eaton, Ohio. She was fed corn, oats, alfalfa and pelletized milk by-products prior to farrowing. Her pigs were raised on a ration of seven parts corn and three parts oats with 8 per cent milk by-products added.

Tests Disclose Silage Increases Hay Tonnage

Tests of haymaking methods show that considerably more tonnage of feed will be obtained from a meadow crop when it is put in a silo than can be procured by any other method of storing.

Analysis of field cured and mow cured hay and of grass silage show a larger percentage of protein in grass than in similar forage cured either in the field or in the mow.

Wheat Yield Boosted Through Fertilization

Gains in Indiana Tests Exceed Seven Bushels

Fertilizing wheat paid dividends in crop increases averaging seven to nine and one-half bushels per acre, Purdue university researchers revealed in announcing results of 1947 studies conducted in 15 Indiana counties.

Wheat yields increased seven bushels per acre when fertilizer applications averaged from 150 to 200 pounds per acre. When the plant food treatment was boosted to 300 to 400 pounds per acre, average production gains of nine and one-half bushels were obtained.

Demonstrations with wheat started on various soil types last fall showed somewhat similar results, according to the Purdue research men.

When 165 pounds of 0-12-12 was applied on six southern Indiana upland soils, increases of five bushels per acre resulted. When the application was doubled, yield increases averaged seven bushels per acre. "Applications of 300 to 350 pounds of 3-12-12 are being recommended for wheat on practically all upland silt or clay loam soils and for sandy loams," says a statement by the Purdue agronomy department. "If the 3-12-12 cannot be obtained, then 2-12-6 is a good substitute for the wheat crop itself. The additional potash in the 3-12-12, however, is especially important for the clover and corn crops following the small grain."

Machinery Is Revamping Farming in Cotton Belt

Nearly a million tractors today are in action on farms in the 18 cotton-producing states, saving time and labor in nearly every phase of cotton production. The invasion of machinery into the South's white cotton fields is eliminating the back-breaking task of producing the cotton crop.

Man's mechanical helpers achieve in a few hours what formerly took days of costly human labor. For example, the flame cultivator, attached to a tractor, removes grass and weeds from the field at one-tenth the former cost.

An experiment in the coastal plains area of North Carolina showed that while 118 man hours are required to produce an acre of cotton by the old man-mule methods, use of two-row tractor equipment, mechanical choppers, flame cultivators and machine pickers cuts the man-hour requirements to 19.7 per acre.

Machines capable of harvesting a bale of cotton in slightly more than an hour are now a reality instead of a remote possibility. While the average hand-picker gathers about 15 pounds of seed cotton an hour, a single mechanical picker in the same field harvests about 1,500 pounds in 2 hours, 20 minutes. Thus, the mechanical harvester accomplishes the work of 40 to 50 human pickers.

Internal Parasites Loot Farmers of Huge Toll

Few criminals ever dream of committing a 125 million dollar robbery. But that's the amount internal parasites steal from the U. S. livestock industry every year. Because the parasites are hidden, the farmer never will see the thieves at work. However, they keep right on causing losses day and night.

Parasites cause diseased animals and poultry to eat more grain and other feeds than healthy stock eat. They stunt the growth of young animals and sometimes kill them. Affected animals generally bring lower prices when shipped to market.

Internal parasites can be controlled. Phenothiazine, carbon tetrachloride, hexachlorethane, sodium fluoride and carbon disulfide are used to fight certain types of parasites. The advice of a local veterinarian should be secured to determine the proper method of treatment.

Spoilage of Stored Grain Hinges on Bin's Condition

Grain can be stored almost indefinitely with little deterioration in farm-type bins — those that hold 1,000 to 3,000 bushels—if the bins are kept dry, cool, clean and free of insects, according to the USDA. For control of insect infestation, chief reliance must be placed on fumigation. Shelled corn has been stored for several years with a loss of less than 1 per cent, according to official reports.

Concrete Floors Increase Profits

Faster Gains and Feed Savings Prove Results

By W. J. DRYDEN

Faster gains and the saving of feed are the aims of every hog raiser. Among the most essential farm improvements that may bring these results are concrete feeding floors. Such floors help produce more pork and save feed from being lost in the mud.

Each hog should have 10 square feet of floor space. To build 100 square feet of floor, 4 inches thick, it will take 7½ sacks of portland cement, ¾ cubic yard of sand and 1 cubic yard of gravel or crushed rock.

If the area to be paved is poorly drained, it is best to place the concrete slab on a well-tamped fill of about six inches. If the concrete is to be driven over, it should be six inches thick.

New concrete should be properly cured by covering with earth or straw as soon as it has hardened enough not to be marred, and then kept moist for at least five days by frequent sprinkling.

KNOW YOUR BREED

Morocco Spotted Horse

By W. J. DRYDEN

The Morocco horse originated in the crossbreeding of the Morocco Barb and the English Hackney and the French coach horse.

The conformation of the Morocco Barb is somewhat similar to the Arabian horse.

In size the Morocco varies from 1,050 to 1,400 pounds. It is a general purpose horse, bred for work as well as pleasure. The working team is fast and steady, and has considerable stamina. They have the power to reproduce themselves true to type and color even when used with other colors and breeds.

To be registered they must stand 14.2 hands high. Type must be clean and neat with ample legs to be suitable for either saddle or harness.

Telling Sheep Age By Teeth Diagrams

The age of sheep up to four years can be determined easily by examining the teeth. The mouths of sheep are equipped with a full set of 24 molar teeth on both upper and lower jaws. In addition to these eight incisor teeth are provided along the front of the lower jaw.

The chart designed by University of Alberta should prove an accurate guide in determining or estimating the age of sheep.

Alfalfa Seed Yield Increased With DDT

Alfalfa seed plots at the Utah station dusted with DDT to control lygus bugs produced 400 pounds of seed per acre—fields not dusted produced less than 100 pounds.

Until DDT became available, no insecticide had been found that would control these insects at a cost that was economically feasible. The tests proved that DDT offers promise of greatly increasing seed production by control of lygus bugs.

British Wreckers Speeded In Search for Hidden Coin

North Shields, Northumberland, England, is a seafaring town which recently was the scene of an intensive search for buried treasure. In pursuance of that search, workmen demolished ancient Chirton cottage.

Some 99 guineas (worth $3,780) were reported hidden under a "young sycamore tree" in the rear of the house. Nor was this all legend. For the workmen found a piece of parchment, dated May 22, 1653, under the basement stairs which described the treasure and the tree behind the house. There was even a sketch attached to the document which purported to show the position of the buried treasure.

The main trouble was, things have changed in the last 294 years and no one seemed to know which tree was referred to or whether it had been cut down.

The document, written in red ink and signed by one John Dow told of a day of terror and imprisonment. "My master," it read, "bade me hide some 900 guineas in safety until his return. This I have done and they are hid beneath the young sycamore to the rear of the house. . . . I have drawn a crude map showing the position of the money."

Freedom Garden Program Sets High Goals for 1948

National leaders have set a goal of 20 million freedom gardens for 1948, pointing out that they will encourage world friendship and will make all men partners in the common struggle for peace, freedom and enough to eat.

The national garden program calls for 14 million town and suburban gardens large enough to produce good supplies of vegetables; six million bigger and better farm gardens; perennial vegetables and fruits wherever space and growing conditions permit, and farm, rural suburban and town families to can or otherwise preserve adequate supplies of vegetables and fruits, buying these in the open markets whenever necessary.

The produce from 20 million home gardens can take the place of, or supplement, many foods vitally needed for export. A home garden also will aid the family budget and assure the family of an adequate, well-balanced diet, it is pointed out.

Mount Vernon Is Mecca For Millions of Visitors

The 500-acre estate of Mount Vernon is one of America's swankiest historic spots — a spot which has been visited by millions of people and all of the U. S. Presidents in the past 90 years.

In the 1850's the estate was placed on the market for $200,000. Both the state of Virginia and the United States government turned the offer down.

Determined to save the home of the "father of his country" for posterity, Miss Ann Pamela Cunningham of South Carolina organized the Mount Vernon Ladies association and called upon the women of the nation to help her. The money was raised, Mount Vernon was purchased and has been maintained ever since by this association. Miss Cunningham served as regent of the association from 1853 to 1874.

For the past 18 years Charles C. Wall has been superintendent of the estate, which has 75 permanent employees.

Mount Vernon was visited many times by Franklin D. Roosevelt while he was president. Winston Churchill also has paid it a visit. President Theodore Roosevelt rode out on horseback. President Truman has visited this national shrine many times. He usually brings his family and some friends.

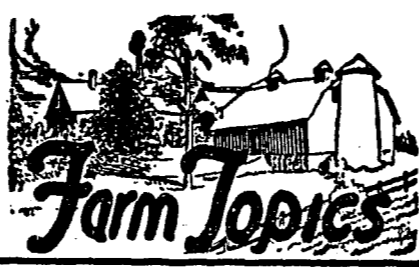

Picture-taking is permitted, and people take pictures of the famous spot by the thousands.

GI's Train "On the Job"

Many veterans are learning improved farming practices under the G. I. bill "on the farm" training program. The farmer-vet is required to put in a minimum of 200 hours a year of class work. Four hours a month are taken up with trainer's visit to the farm, where very specific questions are answered in the field and in the barn. Among the many phases of agriculture that are covered by the course are dairy herd management, herd production records, dairy feeding rations, livestock judging and selection, farm machinery repair, farm records and accounting, and weed and insect control.

Helicopter for Farmers

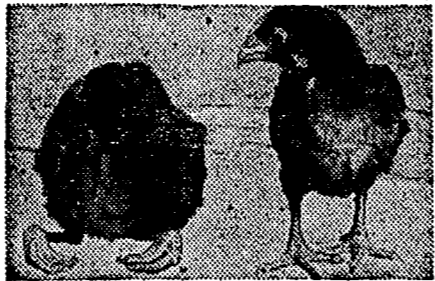

Agricultural use of the helicopter is gaining from year to year. Since delivery of the first duster, May 8, 1947, to the National Cranberry association, tens of thousands of acres of field crops and orchards have been dusted and sprayed by more than 30 customer-operated, commercially licensed helicopters during more than 2,100 hours of flight. It was not until 1939 that America's first practicable helicopter made its initial flight. During the summer of 1946 a helicopter was shipped to Washington where, during a three-month period, it dusted 10 different crops, ranging from apples to hops.

Baby Chick Need of Riboflavin Is Great

Curled Toe Paralysis Caused by Deficiency

Riboflavin, a crystalline yellow vitamin containing nitrogen and ribose, has proven necessary for growth of poultry. It is also important in connection with the formation of an enzyme responsible for utilization of feed within the cells of the body.

Riboflavin is widely distributed in feeding materials. It is present in greatest amounts in milk products, yeast, live meal, alfalfa, cereal grasses and byproducts of the fermenting and distilling industry. Only a few grams are required per ton of mixed feeds.

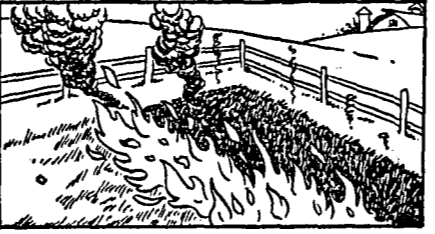

Many poultry authorities have stated there is an advantage in using natural riboflavin concentrates in preference to synthetic riboflavin. The natural concentrate generally supplies other important nutrients aside from riboflavin.

When chicks are fed a ration low in riboflavin, they start squatting and develop a condition known as curled toe paralysis.

In the past the lack of riboflavin in feed ingredients has caused considerable economic loss. Baby chicks require greater quantities than older birds. Deficiency in laying flocks lowers egg production and results in inferior eggs or poor hatchability.

BURNING DESTROYS SOIL

When you burn straw, cornstalks and other crop residues on the field you lose valuable nitrogen and destroy organic matter vital to soil rebuilding and crop production. If the stalks of a 100-bushel corn crop go up in smoke 6,500 pounds of organic matter and 55 pounds of nitrogen are lost. When you light a match to a mature sweet clover crop, you lose about 150 pounds of nitrogen and three to four tons of organic matter. It takes more effort to plow these materials under than it does to burn them, but an extra 10 to 20 bushels of corn per acre and a more fertile soil should be worth the extra trouble.

New Disease of Sweet Potatoes in the South

A new and distinctive disease of sweet potatoes known as "internal cork" has been the subject of intensive studies by Dr. C. J. Nussbaum, South Carolina experiment station. Sweet potatoes affected with the disease are characterized by the occurrence of dark brown, corky spots of irregular shape and size. There are indications that it may be possible to develop resistant strains. The disease is caused by a virus but little else is known about it.

Farmers' Money Not All Increased Earnings

"What farmers do now with their liquid assets and credit will determine their financial position for the next two decades. It is imperative for farmers to recognize that much of their present money in fact is not increased profits. It represents the soil fertility sold off the farm, depreciation of buildings, fences and equipment. The money farmers now have, in large part, belongs back on their land—to restore soil—to modernize—" The Land.

Trapping Is Good Way To Control Moles

In the spring the activities of the common mole appear to be more noticeable. Unlike rodents, such as rats and mice, moles live chiefly on earthworms and insects. The mole is unpopular with farmers because his tell tale ridges and mounds disfigure the fields, ruin new seedbeds and damage gardens and lawns. Trapping appears to be the most satisfactory way yet found to control the mole.

Boise - Maybe the Greeks had a word for it, and certainly Americans say: "Drive Slow" or "Slow Down." But the English express it a little differently. Earl W. PUBLISHED BY THE KENDRICK CO-OPERATIVE CREAMERY

HELLO, THERE FOLKS:

About Your Cream:

You know, we've been talking for so many weeks about baby chicks that we rather feel we have neglected the cream part of this business — which may be the one in which you are most interested.

We are, as you know, always in the market to buy your cream, with no quantity too large or too small. There is a distinct advantage in selling to us, for not only do you receive the full market price — but also a dividend, for when you sell to us, you sell co-operatively. If you are not familiar with this type of operation, come in and let us explain it to you.

Take advantage of selling co-operatively — get the most for your cream.

Milk For Health:

Now that spring is really here, don't feel that you no longer need milk — for milk contains the minerals, vitamins and proteins needed to help ward off that spring cold (the most miserable of all) as well as furnishing the necessary food for that growing youngster! Remember: "Potlatch Chief" brand milk is pasteurized! It's safe!

Long suffering train conductor: "Madam, traveling with five brats like yours is no fun for you, me, or about 200 other passengers. Why didn't you leave half of your family at home?"
Mother (morosely): "I did!"

Reformer: "Young man, do you realize that you will never get anywhere by drinking?"
Stewed: "Ain't it the truth? I started home from this corner five times already!"

The name "Potlatch Chief" is your assurance of quality.
