General News

After a couple of months of hard work the annual is finally finished and off to press. We hope to have it back before school is out.

The first baseball game of the season was played at Lewiston last Friday with the Lewiston As. The Tigers lost 6-0. We don't feel bad about that, however, as we have no diamond on which we can practice. The next game will be played Friday, April 7, at Lapwai.

The Junior class members are beginning to hurry around getting ready for the annual Junior-Senior banquet and the Prom. Watch for the date of the Prom.

Saturday, March 25, the Glee club and Band went to Grangeville to the Music Festival. Both units did quite well, and everyone enjoyed it.

Mrs. Ferne Lindquist is working with a group of boys and girls getting ready to put on the spring play. The names of the members of the cast will be announced later.

The I. E. A. Local of District 283 (teachers' association) met at Juliaetta Thursday evening of last week. Following a business meeting Mrs. Lora Albright, state representative from Nez Perce county, gave a very interesting and informative talk on "Educational Legislation" and a comprehensive report on the last session.

Persons driving automobiles by the school houses are cautioned to be especially careful and to drive slowly. When busses are standing in front of a school house, or elsewhere on the highway, the car is to stop, and if the bus is being loaded or unloaded, must remain stopped until signaled to proceed by the driver. If the bus is not being loaded or unloaded the car may then proceed at a rate not in excess of 10 miles per hour until past the bus. Drivers of cars have been careless in a number of instances at the school in Kendrick and Juliaetta, and if extreme care is not taken, accidents may occur.

MORFITT-JONES NUPTIALS SOLEMNIZED MARCH 17TH

On St. Patrick's Day, March 17th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Larson at Leland, Idaho, Miss Shirley Morfitt, daughter of Herb Morfitt and the late Mrs. Morfitt, of Unity, Oregon, and Ray E. Jones, son of Mrs. Alex Larson, Leland, Idaho, were united in marriage at 2:00 p. m. in a double-ring ceremony by the Rev. George D. Calvert. The rooms in the Larson home were appropriately adorned with large bouquets of daffodils and greenery.

The bride was lovely in a grey wool suit, with grey flower hat and black accessories. Her corsage was two lavender orchids with purple throats.

Attendants were the grooms sister, Mrs. Ed. Hinrichs, and best man was his brother, Paul E. Jones of Colton, Wash.

Mrs. Hinrichs wore a light brown suit with matching accessories and a corsage of white gardenias with yellow rose buds. The groom's mother, Mrs. Alex Larson, wore a black wool suit with matching accessories and a corsage of white gardenias, baby orchids and pink carnations.

The groom, best man and the groom's stepfather, Alex Larson, wore the conventional dark suits with buttonaires of white carnations.

A reception was held in the home immediately following the ceremony, with the bride and groom receiving many lovely wedding gifts and best wishes from relatives and friends.

The table was covered with a beautiful pineapple lace tablecloth, centered with a huge three-tier white decorated wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom. After the newly-weds had cut the first "piece, the cake was served by Mrs. Jesse Heffel, assisted by Mrs. Paul Jones of Colton and Mrs. Homer Jones of Bates, Oregon. Mrs. Paul Dagefoerde poured, with Mrs. Harry Smith and Mrs. Jesse Thornton assisting.

Mrs. Jones was reared at Unity, Oregon, and attended high school in Baker, and is a very popular young member of that community. She also spent three years in San Francisco, at Franklin hospital, an employee of the X-ray department, a branch of the University of California.

Mr. Jones was born and reared at Leland. He served three years with the U. S. navy during World War II, and is now employed as a logging truck driver for the Oregon Lumber Co., at Bates, Oregon.

He leaves to mourn their loss his mother, Mrs. Laura Groseclose, Juliaetta; two children, Miss Clarabe Taylor, Pullman and Harry Groseclose of Moses Lake, Wn.; a sister, Macey Nye of Juliaetta; a brother, Robert, of Walla Walla, and two grandchildren.

P-T. A. STUNT NIGHT FUN FOR AUDIENCE AND ACTORS

The annual P-T. A. Stunt night, held Monday evening the Kendrick gym., proved a lot of fun for the participants, as well as the audience.

The women's division, who came first, entertained with a musical "fantasy," or perhaps you might call it a satire on modern music — the "Hit Parade."

For example, to the tune "School-days," played by Minton Moans and orchestra (Mrs. Bob Magnuson on the accordion and Don Miller on the violin) Mrs. Gordon Peters, Mrs. Elmer Peters and Mrs. Lloyd Craig satirized the words in pantomime.

To the tune, "Rockabye Baby," Mrs. Nora Callison wheeled Mrs. Charley Candler (who made an adorable baby) across the stage in a large baby buggy — the whole assisted by Mrs. Candler's partaking from a quart bottle with nipple attached!

To "Lazybones," Mrs. John Darby, attired in "suitable nightwear," slept peacefully, while a busy world went by.

To "Mother," Mrs. Grant Bateman supplied the necessary motions with rolling pin, egg beater, etc.

Mrs. Geo. Brocke, Sr., nautically garbed in a navy uniform, sang and pantomimed a verse of "Bell Bottom Trousers."

Mrs. Howard Hoffman and Mrs. Elmo Eldridge supplied the words and motions for "Missouri Waltz," blackface helping bear out the picture.

The audience, under the leadership of Mrs. E. M. White, Mrs. D. A. Christensen, Mrs. Tom Keene and Mrs. Frank Abrams sang a roundelay, "Three Blind Mice" and "Brother John."

To "La Spagnola," Mrs. Wm. Johnson, attired as "Carmen Miranda" occupied the spotlight.

She was followed by Mrs. Floyd Millard, who sang "Ach du lieber Augustine," appropriately garbed for the part.

"In The Good Old Summertime," was sung and pantomimed by Mrs. Tom Keene, Mrs. Frank Abrams and Mrs. Bill White — and where Mrs. Abrams got that hat is a question that is still plaguing the audience. It was something!

"Don't Cv Joe," was next on the list, with Mrs. E. M. White singing it and providing "background."

"My Wild Irish Rose," pantomimed by Mrs. Gerald Ingle was the next appearance — and the roses were green!

"Aloha Oe," brought forth Mrs. Ross Armitage, tripping and swaying across the stage in a grass skirt and carrying a ukulele.

"Strawberry Blonde," "Down by the Old Mill Stream" and "Sweet Adeline," were expounded for the audience by Mrs. George Brocke, Mrs. E. M. White and Mrs. Floyd Millard.

"Mule Train," with Mrs. Glen Wegner cracking a mean whip over a toy mule and a string of cars brought forth gales of laughter.

Mrs. Walter McCall and Mrs. Geo. Brocke then pantomimed "I've Got a Lovely Bunch of Cocoanuts," winding up their song by throwing coconuts to the audience — an action which caused considerable curiosity among the younger fry.

"I Wuv a Rabbit," was sung by Mrs. Manning Onstott, aided by the orchestra.

"Two Little Girls in Blue" then took the stage — Mrs. Walter Siflow and Mrs. Walter Crawford — with school girl costumes of blue skipped across the stage.

"Peekaboo" was next, with Mrs. Manning Onstott and Mrs. Walter Siflow coyly peeping from behind the curtains at appropriate intervals.

"Beautiful Deamer," was pantomimed by Mrs. W. L. McCreary, in an old fashioned costume with hoop skirt, with Mrs. D. A. Christensen singing.

"Little Old Lady Passing By," was brought to everyone's attention by Mrs. Edgar Long — and did she pass by!

To the tune "Old McDonald Had a Farm," Mrs. Harry Brocke demonstrated she knew what it was all about — producing live chickens, a live goose, hay and eggs, and uniting them all in fun!

During the intermission, Burke Sower, music instructor, sang as a solo, "Apple Blossom Time," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Bob Magnuson.

It was now the men's turn — and they "put out" with a hill-billy wedding that will be remembered for some time.

As the bridal party took their places on the stage, Jasper Nutting, darling with "curls," and pink dress, and serving as flower girl, strewed "flowers" (dog fennel, etc.) along their pathway. The groom (Gerald Ingle) was supported from the rear by the late father (Lloyd Ware) who was carrying a shotgun!

The "official bridal party" consisted of the following: Gerald Ingle, groom; Lloyd Ware, father; Jacob Brant, blushing bride; Dave Clayton and Ben Cook, ushers; Manning Onstott, best man; Jasper Nutting, flower girl; Ross Armitage, maid of honor; Asa Calvert, minister; Douglas Browne, bridesmaid; and Gordon Peters, musician. Bill White was the stage manager for the "ceremony."

Jacob Brant, demure bride, brought forth gales of laughter by "scratching" in appropriate places at appropriate times.

Figures are not quite complete — but around $76.00 was cleared for the evening's performance.

Remember — There are no parking meters on Kendrick's streets. Business men and merchants will come you.

APRIL PROCLAIMED AS "CANCER CRUSADE" MONTH

Boise, Ida., March 29 — Governor C. A. Robins today officially designated April as "Cancer Crusade" month, and urged residents throughout the state to generously support the fund raising campaign of the Idaho Division of the American Cancer Society.

The cancer society hopes to raise $90,000 during April to be used for the year-round educational activities, scientific research into the cause and cures of the disease, and service to cancer patients.

"During the past year cancer, one of the oldest diseases of mankind, claimed the lives of 505 residents of Idaho," the chief executive said. "Many of these lives could have been saved had the 'darker signals' of the disease been known."

"Scientific research laboratories and medical schools throughout our nation are now probing into the secrets of the disease and many new measures of control of cancer have been discovered. We have every reason to maintain our hope that some day the disease will be conquered completely."

Governor Robins, in private life a physician, added that the objective of the Idaho Cancer Society is to provide reliable and intelligent information about the disease at all times and to alert residents of the state to the danger of complacency when the disease is indicated.

"As governor of Idaho and with deep concern for the welfare and health of all of the people in the state, I urge that you avail yourself to the information offered by the Idaho Cancer Society and to generously support the fund raising efforts of the organization."

I request that all individuals — for the protection of themselves and their loved ones — learn the essential facts about this disease. #### PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. Vernon Bogar and little son of Moscow came down Monday night to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Millard.

Mrs. C. S. Westendahl came home from Moscow, where she has been visiting her sister.

Mrs. Ruth Cox of Tishamingo, Okla., a sister of Rev. C. G. Crawford, arrived here Monday evening for a visit in his home.

C. G. Arnett received a telegram last Thursday from his son Fred, saying he and Don Brown had arrived safely at Fairbanks, Alaska, just eight days after they left here. They drove night and day, and experienced no difficulty of any kind.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zimmerman will move this week into the Chas. Greenwood home in the west part of town.

Enjoy Youth Legislature

Joretta Holt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Holt, and Benny Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben P. Cook, returned Sunday from their youth legislature session, which was put on by the Idaho Youth and Government committee at Boise. The session was held in Boise, and both of these 'teen agers have expressed the opinion that it was a very nice trip and most educational.

Joretta and Ben, senator and representative respectively, attended the meeting as representatives from the Kendrick high school. They reported at length to the Student body at the school on their activities in their respective houses, as well as on the other activities over the week-end. Bennie was elected the "majority leader" of the House and also chosen chairman of the House Committee on Education. As such he had the honor of meeting Gov. C. A. Robins and introducing him at the banquet given in his honor on Friday evening. Joretta was an active member in the senate and chosen a member of the Senate Committee on Welfare.

The two young folks traveled to Boise by stage, returning in the same manner. About 120 students from various schools throughout Idaho took part in the affair. Joretta and Ben feel very grateful for being able to attend, as it was an affair that all students would have enjoyed and learned a great deal about the government of Idaho. During their stay in Boise they were guests in private homes.

About Our Detour

Complaints are heard on every hand about the condition of the so-called "detour" on the mile of new construction between Kendrick and Juliaetta, and after a trip over that section anyone will agree that they are indeed justified.

Said one recent visitor to Kendrick: "After I got into town my car howled like a banshee, and on taking it to a garage, discovered that when I 'drug' coming through I smashed my flywheel housing. The straightening out cost me a couple of bucks. Such things make me sore, especially when I see a big rock crusher operating within a quarter of a mile of that terrible section — and a patrol and road roller sitting there doing nothing!"

Yes, we agree, a few loads of rock and a few swipes with either piece of equipment could save many dollars worth of damage to vehicles forced to travel that section.

Why is nothing done? Frankly, we don't know the answer to that one!

Girl Scout News

The Kendrick Girl Scouts have finished their Second class rank work, the following girls having completed the tests: Donna and Ann Kanikkeberg, Joyce Armitage, Nancy Callison, Frances Dammarell and Kay Abrams.

Nancy Callison has completed the following three badges: "My Country," "Cooking" and "Musician."

Hobo Day will be April 1st — so we'll be around. In addition, we are collecting cotton rags for sale. If you have any you wish to give us they will be greatly appreciated. — Frances Dammarell, reporter.

Improvements About Town

Walter Sparber and Louis Thurber have been busy the past few days redecorating the interior of Thurber's store. The ceiling is being done in "sunshine yellow" and the walls in white.

The Jewelry and Gift store is receiving some new fixtures and a coat of paint.

The Antelope Inn has also installed new upholstered chrome and yellow plastic bar stools.

The interior of these establishments presents a much improved appearance.

Firemen Give Banquet

A 6:30 banquet was served last Wednesday evening to the Kendrick Volunteer Firemen and their wives, and to the "village fathers" and their wives, in the banquet room of Fraternal Temple. Thirty-six were present, and spent a really enjoyable evening.

Mrs. Chas. Candler cooked and served the dinner, assisted by Pat Brocke, Judy White and Pat Long.

Bridge Club Meets

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ramey were host and hostess to the Bridge club last Wednesday evening in their home, three tables being in play.

High scores for the evening were awarded Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Watts. The hostess served delicious refreshments at the close of play.

Boy Scouts Take Hike

Ten Boy Scouts left Sunday morning at 9:00 for a hike of three and a half miles up the railroad track — and they cooked dinner between showers. The trip was made for the purpose of passing Second class rank tests.

The boys were accompanied by Jud Lee, Scoutmaster, and Henry Jones, Assistant Scoutmaster.

To Present Play

The Teakenn Community Players will present a "Gay '90s Review," including "Melier Dramers," the Flora Dora Scitette and male quartette on Saturday evening, April 1, at 8:00 o'clock in the Teakenn Grange hall. Square dancing will follow, and supper be served.

Licenses Out On Time
They're going to be out on time this year. The 1950 fishing and hunting licenses will be mailed to vendors throughout Idaho on March 24, Fay Whitson, license clerk, reports.
New licenses will sell for the same price as 1949 permits. Residents may buy a $3.00 combined hunting and fishing license, or separate $2.00 hunting or fishing licenses. Last year's license expires March 31.

Synopsis of 1950 fishing regulations are being sent to vendors this week. Mrs. Whitson said each vendor will receive an Idaho code book containing fish and game laws.

The Plan For Super-Government
Before the people are fully aware of the danger, a determined campaign is underway to place the entire United States under a series of "authorities" which would be beyond the control of the 150,000,000 American people.

At the moment, the Columbia Valley "Authority," redesignated "Administration," is the one which is holding the headlines, for the reason that a concerted effort is being made to jam it through a reluctant Congress this year. But this, according to the plan, is only the beginning. Omnibus authority bills have been repeatedly introduced in Congress. One of them, which is typical, would create, besides the Columbia Valley Administration and the existing Tennessee Valley Authority, the following: California Authority, Southwestern Authority, Arkansas Valley Authority, Missouri Valley Authority, Ohio Valley Authority and an Atlantic Seaboard Authority. In addition, the area it would give to the TVA would be about three times its present size.

These authorities, judging by TVA and the proposed CVA, would each be run by three men, all of whom would be appointed by the President, and none of whom would be elected by the voters. In other words, 27 men and the President would constitute a super-government, with the whole United States as their subjects. Whether the 27 would be good officials or bad is beside the point — for a pattern of a kind which has led to dictatorships in many unhappy lands would have been established, and the stage would be all set for destroying representative government as we know it.

If this seems an extreme statement, read the CVA bill which is now in the Congressional hopper. Under it, the three directors would be virtually beyond effective control even by Congress. They would have a huge sum of money to use in almost any way they desired. They would dominate the electric power and the water resources of the region. They would have vague and sweeping powers over vast land acreage, and over agriculture. They would be given, directly and indirectly, the right to go into any kind of business in competition with our citizens, and their projects would not be subject to any taxes other than "contributions they might care to make." Of course, taxpayers would put up the money to finance their undertakings.

It is unlikely that the proponents of these schemes will press an omnibus bill to create all the authorities at once. They know that would cause a storm of protest all over the country which they could not hope to weather. So they are seeking to take one step at a time — to fasten socialism on us on a piecemeal basis. If that happens, the end of basic American freedoms will be in sight!

A Bit Of Idaho History
One of the most famous court cases in Idaho's early days came to trial at Ruby City, county seat of Owyhee county, but due to an interruption by Indians, was never decided in court.

The disputed Poorman Mine was claimed by the New York & Owyhee Gold & Silver Mining Company, but the title was contested by Put Bradford and Associates of Portland. In due time the court at Ruby City took up the case. The trial was being argued at length when a messenger rode into the town stating that a man by the name of Jennings and his party of Indian fighters were surrounded by an overwhelming force and would be wiped out unless help reached them.

The Jennings party of about 35 were surrounded in a natural fort in the lava rocks some 60 or 70 miles from Silver City, the scout reported. Immediately all the whistles of the quartz mills at Silver City and Ruby City sounded a general alarm. It was reported that 500 Indians were ready to attack the besieged Jennings and his band. The leader sent a note out by a scout who crawled among the lava rocks at night and hid during the day to avoid discovery by the Indians.

Captain Jennings wrote that unless relief was sent as quickly as possible, not a man would be left to tell the story.

The presiding judge at the Poorman trial announced when court convened that morning that he would adjourn for ten days to permit members of the bar, the attaches of the court and the litigants themselves to go out and fight Indians.

Thus the opposing principals in the Poorman case went out together and assisted in rescuing the beleaguered Jennings by attacking and driving the Indians away.

Given this opportunity to reason among themselves the litigants decided to compromise the matter out of court.

When lawyers and Indian fighters returned, the famous Poorman case was settled, each of the claimants receiving and retaining an interest in the disputed property, which afterwards produced millions in wealth for all concerned.

New Handbook Distributed
U. of I., Moscow — Now being distributed to foresters and fieldmen with private lumber companies throughout the Inland Empire's white pine belt is a handbook on "pole blight" symptoms.

Pole blight is the newest disease to threaten the region's big white pine industry. Although its cause is unknown, pole blight already has damaged the middle-aged pine trees on an estimated 100,000 acres in northern Idaho, western Montana and northeastern Washington.

Forest workers who find white pine stands they believe are infected with pole blight are urged to report the information to the nearest forester or forestry office.

Do lights dim when you turn on your washer?	_____	_____
Can you move furniture about without a maze of extension cords?	_____	_____
Do fuses blow when your appliances are busiest?	_____	_____
Do you really have sufficient outlets?	_____	_____
Do you search in the dark for switches?	_____	_____
Do you trip over extension cords?	_____	_____

Now score yourself . . . but be honest. If any of your responses to these questions are unfavorable, your wiring system needs modernization. A talk with your favorite qualified electrical contractor will reveal to you just how economically you, too, can have "Adequate Wiring" in your home. Call him right away.

Jobs are born

Money spreads and people prosper

Three things happen when earnings go to work

There has been a growing need in the West for wax... the kind used on milk cartons, bread wrappers and containers of other foods and drugs you buy.

To fill this need, Standard of California recently completed a plant which refines excellent wax from petroleum. The plant cost $3,500,000; the money came out of earnings—or profits—and here's what it meant to you:

Better protected and packaged products, of course. More jobs for construction workers in building the plant; steady employment for the men who work in it today. More sales for small businesses because the money paid to the workers involved has naturally spread to the grocer, the department store, the doctor and every other business and profession.

This is one example—a 3½ million dollar example—of how earnings are put to work and keep our economy running. There are many others, for Standard of California has spent more than $500,000,000 just since the war for plants and facilities to serve you better.

How to Avoid Accidents While Preparing Meals

Home accidents are on the increase. Many of them have to do with the everyday job of preparing meals for the family. Most of them result from careless practices and work habits.

Undue hurry and fatigue are responsible for many of the injuries. Miss Gladys Ward, home management specialist, University of Illinois college of agriculture, suggests that we analyze work schedules. Allow enough time to take care of meal preparation and to do it safely. Then study habits and practices and work for improvement.

Take time to cover your hand with a dry cloth before opening a steaming kettle or roaster. Remove the cover away from you to permit the steam to escape away from your face and body. Make it a rule to use a dry padded cloth to lift any hot dish or utensil.

To avoid burns from deep-fat frying, thoroughly dry the food to be cooked. Water causes the grease to spatter, presenting a fire hazard. In addition it may cause a painful burn. Keep the handles of all pans and pots turned toward the back of the range.

Take time and care in using grinders, beaters, slicers and other power-driven appliances. Be sure the extension cord is of approved make and in good condition. Turn off or remove the plug before changing the location of a fan or heater. Check the outlet from time to time and have repairs made promptly.

Use a can opener—not a knife—to open cans. When using a knife cut away from your body.

End of Livestock Plague Seen in Drug Discovery

Several millions of square miles of disease-ridden country in Africa and other tropical regions may be made more livable for domestic animals through a new drug, called, antrycide, discovered by British scientists.

A single injection of this drug is said to protect cattle, swine, horses, pigs, camels and dogs for several months against certain forms of trypanosomiasis, or sleeping sickness, a deadly blood-parasite disease spread by tsetse flies. The drug also helps to cure animals already suffering from this malady.

Large-scale tests of antrycide are now being made by veterinary research men in a settlement on the Nairobi-Mombasa road in Kenya.

If the tests confirm the reported value of the drug, it should be possible to make a much-needed expansion in meat and milk production throughout the plagued area. This could be done by importing high-producing breeds of cattle which have been unable to survive in bush country because of their susceptibility to sleeping sickness. Cattle now raised there are native dwarf breeds which are unproductive though relatively resistant to this disease.

Experiments with Color

In their continual search for new ways to improve production methods and working conditions for their employees, automobile firms are experimenting with the color and finishes used in their plants. In one plant, machinery and walls were painted a restful green, the ceilings, white. Switches, pipes, aisles and other items were coated in blue, red, yellow and aluminum. This colorful interior, with its vast array of automatic equipment, is now so clean that many employees wear office job clothing. In a quiet experiment, the firm left one corner of the plant and its machinery unpainted. Where workers in the rest of the plant began wearing good clothes and kept their work places spotless, those in the unpainted section wore coveralls or other work clothing, and needed constant urging to keep their work areas clean.

Phytosaur at Smithsonian

An almost complete skeleton of a phytosaur, crocodilelike reptile of 150,000,000 years ago which was a remote relative of the dinosaurs and still more remotely akin to present-day crocodiles and alligators, has been received by the Smithsonian institution. The fossil was discovered by geological survey workers in Arizona. It is one of the most complete known, especially in the United States. The phytosaur was a flesh-eating monster with a long snout, nostrils almost on top of its flat head, and rows of viciously sharp teeth. It reached a length of about 15 feet. The creature lived in warm swamps of the Upper Triassic geological period over much of central North America.

White Light for Laundry

Daylight bulbs for the electric fixtures that supply light for the home laundry center are recommended by home management specialists. They explain that these bulbs are made with a blue glass which gives off white light like natural daylight instead of the yellowish light given off by ordinary bulbs. Daylight bulbs make it easier to detect spots and stains when laundering or ironing clothes. It also saves scorching during ironing because the first yellow tinge of scorch shows up more clearly.

New Plastic Foam Used in Insulation

Material Is Called Lightest of Solids

The world's lightest solid an amazing plastic foam that swells up when baked like a cake to 100 times its original volume—has been developed by Westinghouse scientist for use as a new insulating material.

The new product is expected to find its way into many uses in appliances used in farm homes and about the farm.

Even lighter than some gases, the new material weighs from 10 to 20 times less than the fluffy meringue on a well-baked pie.

Robert F. Sterling, 29-year-old chemist, and the man chiefly responsible for the new product, said

Shown here is a refrigerator completely insulated with the new plastic-foam insulation material. This is the way the refrigerator looked after the insulation job was done, but before door liner and other parts were put back in place.

It is the result of a three-year search for an effective insulating material that will fill large areas, yet weigh "next to nothing."

The foam is made by heating a molasses-like synthetic resin at about 350 degrees Fahrenheit until it expands to 100 times its original volume, then solidifies. Thousands of gas bubbles entrapped in the foam "buoy" it up and give the plastic its lightness.

Foamed into pre-fabricated metal wall sections, a two-inch thick layer weighing only 300 pounds would be enough to insulate a complete six-room house, Sterling said.

Resistant to fire, moisture, fungus growth and insects, the foam is low enough in cost to be practical for many applications and uses, the scientist said.

Not only do imprisoned air bubbles give the new plastic great lightness, but they also provide it with its excellent insulating qualities. So-called "dead air" is one of the best insulators known among commonly available materials, Sterling said.

Cover That Cough

"Cover that cough, smother that sneeze" is not only good advice for people in public places. It has practical meaning in the cow barn, too.

Danger that coughing cattle may spread respiratory infections to their stablemates is highlighted in a research report from the American Veterinary Medical association.

The report describes an unusual case of tuberculosis of the eye in a heifer. A tuberculosis cow with a bad cough, stanchioned next to the heifer, is believed to have spread the disease.

AVMA points out that this case occurred in England, where bovine tuberculosis is widespread. Although tuberculosis has been reported to a minimum in United States herds, coughers and sneezers are nevertheless a menace because they may spread all kinds of respiratory infections. Isolation of any animal showing respiratory symptoms is urged, therefore, to protect the rest of the herd.

Field Mice Destructive To Melon Crops, Seed

Untold damage is done each year to cucumber, cantaloupe and watermelon fields by mice destroying the seed which are planted and also the plants which are up and bearing fruit. H. A. Bowers, Clemson college crop specialist, says, "Bowers explained that the meadow mouse destroys the seed after they are planted, and the pine mouse cuts off the plants at the ground."

Veterinarian Describes Tension in Cattle Bloat

Modern "soapless" washing powders make mountains of suds for the same reason that pastures sometimes give a cow a mammoth stomach-ache.

It's largely a matter of "surface tension," the American Veterinary Medical association was told at its national convention in Detroit by Dr. A. H. Quin, a veterinarian of Kansas City, Mo.

Dr. Quin explained it this way: "If you toss some of the new detergent washing powders into water and agitate it, a great mass of foam develops because the powder decreases the surface tension of the water and the air is then entrapped by films of the detergent."

"A like reaction occurs when a cow eats heavily on high-moisture legumes and grasses containing saponins. Surface tension of the stomach contents is reduced, and muscular agitation of the stomach walls then creates a foam of carbon dioxide, methane, hydrogen sulfide and other gases."

Soap suds are fine, but a case of bovine bloat can be serious. So, Dr. Quin said, veterinary medical scientists have developed new chemical agents to increase surface tension, and these agents are being used effectively in treatment of bloat.

"One of the most efficient types of these new chemicals is called methyl silicone," Dr. Quin said. "Tablets and liquid suspensions of methyl silicones were supplied to veterinarians. Reports on treatment of 175 cases of cattle bloat show 133 successful recoveries—a quite outstanding record."

Over 2000 Frog Species Are Scattered Over World

"Disinflation" has hit the frog. The London zoo, in its annual inventory, now rates the specimens in its frog and toad collection at three pence each (five cents), compared with the sixpence of last year's tally.

At either three or six, the low price indicates how common the common frog is, the National Geographic society observes. The enterprising small boy can assemble this amateur zoo of neighborhood types almost as easily as the biggest collectors.

There are about 2,000 different species of the frog and toad family known as tailless amphibians—that is, adapted to both water and land. They are scattered over the tropical and temperate world except in spots where it is too dry.

Of the dozens of frog species in the United States, the spotted leopard-frog, so widely used in biology classes, is the most common east of the Rockies. The deep-voiced bullfrog, the piping spring-peeper, the brilliant green frog, and the colorful wood-frog are among other pop-eyed denizens of American streams and marshes whose curious change from the streamlined swimming tadpole into the hopping, singing frog is one of nature's most fascinating processes.

How Seismograph Operates

A seismograph detects earthquakes in this way. If you put a coin on a sheet of paper on a table and suddenly pull the paper away, the coin will not move with it but will drop to the table. The main part of a seismograph is a massive pendulum which similarly resists movement, even though the ground may move under it, according to G.E. research scientists. This relative motion between ground and pendulum is magnified (in modern instruments by electrical and optical means) and recorded on photographic paper. The seismograph may be tuned so that it will respond to the relatively slow waves in the earth, with periods of several seconds, that come from distant earthquakes, but not to the larger and more rapid vibrations from local traffic or nearby explosion.

Heated Highways

Heated highways have been tried successfully in several sections of the country. In Oregon, a highway underpass, which would be particularly dangerous under icy conditions, was equipped with pipes laid under the pavement through which an anti-freeze solution heated by hot springs in the vicinity was circulated. Near Detroit, the Michigan highway department installed electric heating units each 18 inches wide, under the tire tracks of a six lane highway for a distance of 500 feet. Initial experiments showed the per hour cost of the de-icing operation to be about $1 per hour.

Light Reflectance of Colors

When selecting paint for the walls or ceiling of a room, it is wise to take the light reflecting powers of various colors into consideration. White reflects 70-90 per cent of the light that falls upon it; black, only 1 to 4 per cent. In between come the ivories and creams, with a reflectance of 50-70 per cent, the light yellows with 65-70 per cent, the light buffs with 40-55 per cent, the light greens with 40-50 per cent. The medium blues come next with 15-20 per cent, while the dark blues follow with 5-10 per cent. The reds, maroons, medium and dark browns reflect only 3-18 per cent of the light that falls upon them.

ALL THAT EXTRA WHY COMFORT AND WEAR? THAT'S EASY TO FIGURE OUT!

EXTRA WEAR because BOTH soles and uppers are of inner-shell horsehide. The center layer is on the end of the fibers—like the wood in a butcher's meat block.

EXTRA COMFORT because Wolverine's exclusive triple-tanning process tans this super-tough 3-ply hide so it is buckskin-soft—dries out soft—yet retains all its remarkable strength and wear.

WOLVERINE SHELL HORSEHIDES

ONLY Wolverine SHELL Horsehides have this stronger, tougher inner-shell leather in BOTH soles and uppers—this 3-ply leather that wears and wears—that costs less to wear month by month on any work shoe job. No other work shoes in the world of leather tanned like Wolverine Shell Horsehides. Come in and try on a pair... no obligation.
