Tigers Defeat Kendrick

Friday afternoon the Kendrick Tigers journeyed to Genesee, where they took the measure of the Bulldogs, 11 to 2.

It was Kendrick all the way, with the Tigers crossing the plate with runs five times in the first inning. Genesee used three hurlers the first three innings in an effort to stem the Tiger tide — finally falling back on their starter, Tom Oachs — but Kendrick went on to win just the same.

So far Kendrick has lost but one game — that to the Lewiston Bengal A squad — and they have won them with almost no practice — having no local diamond!

To Present Play

Tonight (Thursday) the College Theater players from N. I. C. E. will present "The Importance of Being Earnest," by Oscar Wilde.

The play, under the direction of Miss Carolyn Silverthorne, is under the auspices of the Associated Students. Curtain time is 8:00 p. m.

Music Students To Lewiston

Today (Thursday) the K. H. S. band will go to Lewiston to enter the North Idaho Competitive Festival — returning that evening.

Friday they will return to the competition, but will be accompanied by the Girls' Chorus — High School and Junior High.

Saturday the entire group will return to Lewiston, but accompanied this time by the Boys' Chorus.

On Saturday at 1:15 there will be a parade on Lewiston Main street of all taking part. After the parade the afternoon will be spent in practice.

Saturday evening at 7:30 there will be the massed concert in the Lewiston Senior High auditorium. There is no admission charge.

Burke Sower, music director for our district is in charge of all the Kendrick groups — and we're proud of what he has accomplished this year.

Birthday Anniversary

Mrs. Kenneth Brocke entertained 10 little girls last Wednesday afternoon in the church basement, honoring her little daughter, Julie's seventh birthday anniversary.

The afternoon was spent playing games, after which birthday cake and ice cream were served.

Those present were Marilyn Lackey, Patsy McNeil, Donna Watson, Barbara Dunham, Janice Heimgartner, Cheryl Westendahl, Karen Louder, Ruth Ann Crawford, Bonnie Kay Dowdy and the honor guest, Julie Brocke.

Birthday Party

Thursday of last week the Ray Cuddy home was the scene of a marshmallow roast honoring little Carolyn Holt's fifth birthday anniversary.

Those present were Mrs. Wm. Cuddy and Lil Pierre, Mrs. Rollin Armitage, Judy, Rona, Doug and Dave, and Mrs. James Holt and Eileen. Many lovely gifts were received by the guest of honor. Cake and ice cream were served at the close of the afternoon.

To Construct Garage

Clarence Perryman states that he has received word from the state highway department that bids are to be called for very soon for the construction of a combination garage and warehouse to be used to house the state highway equipment and tools. The building is to be of concrete block construction, and will be built near the mouth of Brady Gulch, far enough away so that it will not interfere with the planned local ball diamond.

Clarence says it will be a most welcome item — for at present carrying for equipment is quite difficult.

Grange Meet On May 2

The next meeting of the Kendrick Grange will be held on Tuesday, May 2 at the Grange hall.

Geraldine Onstoft will read her essay on "Soil Fertility and the Nation's Future," which she will enter in the national contest sponsored by Grangers for high school students.

A program will be presented by the Junior and Senior High school students following the business session. This program will be open to the public and all are cordially invited to come and hear our young people.

Bridge Club Meets

Members of the Bridge Club met last Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deobald with four tables in play.

Invited guests were Mrs. Joe Watts of Moscow and Rilla Davidson.

High scores for the evening were awarded Mrs. R. L. Blewett and Dr. D. A. Christensen. Lows went to Mrs. W. A. Watts and W. L. McCreary.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of play.

Weather Chill But Dry

Local weather the past week reminds one more of early March than late April, for the air has been chill, and the winds cold — and Sunday morning local residents awoke to a thermometer reading of 34 degrees — a thick white frost covering everything! Later Sunday morning the valley was visited with a miniature blizzard. So thick and fast did the snow fall that it was impossible to see across the canyon. However, the storm lasted but a few minutes, and the flakes melted as quick as they hit the ground.

Farmers are beginning spring work in earnest now, some plowing, some discing and harrowing, but in most localities it still remains a little too wet for proper working of the soil.

PARADE SPONSORED BY RED CROSS PHARMACY SUCCESS

For the first time in the history of Kendrick, and probably in the history of most small towns, a parade was very successfully sponsored by our local drug store, the Red Cross Pharmacy — some 55 entries appearing!

The event, which was born in the mind of Lewis B. (Tom) Keene, owner of the local pharmacy, first took shape as an animal or pet parade, in honor of the business anniversary of the firm, and also of their annual Rexall 1c Sale — but as time went on, Tom threw more and more effort into it, and general (float and other) entries became numerous. As a result he offered $10.00 for the best animal entry and $25.00 for the best general entry. In order to do away with any hint of favoritism in the awarding of the prizes, two "outside" judges were chosen, Edward Bond, Portland, Ore., district manager of the Rexall Drug Co. in the western territory; and Clark Kelliher, Spokane, Wash., Rexall Drug Co. salesman representative of the Spokane district. These two men chose the entry of the Kendrick Bakery, a burro, ridden by Howard Holt, with saddle bags bulging with loaves of bread, and carrying a huge loaf, as the best animal entry.

For the best general entry, the prize money was split between the Leland 4-H Club, led by Leonard Wolff, and the Boy Scout troop entry, the Scouts led by Jud Lee and Henry Jones.

The Leland 4-H Club entry was a nicely decorated truck, with appropriate signs, and loaded with as fine a group of farm animals as anyone could wish to see.

The Boy Scout float was a truck covered with evergreens, complete with tent, lookout and camping outfit, even to a fire and flapjack gridle!

There were many other entries worthy of real mention, chief of which was that of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church at Cameron, a thing of beauty in pale green and white and pastels.

Another was that of the Girl Scouts, a truck displaying their activities and handiwork.

To mention them all would be impossible, and we regret to say that the list of entries was somewhat misplaced, so to name even a part from memory would be difficult, and unfair to other entries.

Tom was assisted in the organizing for the march by J. G. Travis and Dr. D. A. Christensen, the latter leading the parade on a registered palomino saddle horse.

There are, of course, those who think the judges wrong, and that this or that entry should have had the prize, but as Tom says: "I chose 'outside' judges, who knew no one in Kendrick, for that very reason, I wanted to be fair."

Almost without exception every business house in Kendrick had at least one entry, some two or more, and three out-of-town car and truck firms also showed off their new vehicles.

The crowd watching was estimated at from 1,500 to 2,000 — and parking space was at an absolute premium. Business houses enjoyed a splendid trade — and all feel that Tom is to be congratulated on his organizing ability and "drive" in staging such a successful event.

We might add that the Kendrick Co-operative Creamery entry carried this wording on its sides: "Kids — Free Ice Cream Cones After the Parade" — and talk about bees in a clover field — the kids really swarmed!

Souvenirs From Honolulu

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Goss received a package from their son, Dale, who is stationed in Honolulu, Wednesday afternoon, and when opened, there appeared some very beautiful articles.

Included for his sister, Betty, was a musical jewel box, completely covered with inlaid mother of pearl. Inside was a matching ring, brooch and bracelet set of exquisite silver and mother of pearl inlay work — all of hand artistry. To describe the delicate shaping, carving and inlaying work would be impossible — but their beauty is outstanding.

Among the articles received by Mr. and Mrs. Goss was a quilted satin smoking jacket.

On Monday another shipment arrived from their son, two sandlewood chests, hand carved and polished to a gleaming perfection. One of these is about five cubic foot capacity, the other slightly smaller.

Entomologist Visits

R. W. Portman of Moscow, extension entomologist from the University of Idaho, was in this territory Tuesday examining fields for clover leaf weevil — and said that he had no difficulty in finding plenty of them. Normally, he added, these weevils cause no trouble, but this year appear abundant. Not only do they edge the clover plant leaves, but when abundant, eat into the crown of the plants, even taking whole fields.

Mr. Portman says that where a farmer is in doubt, as well as certain, a thorough application of DDT should be made as follows: Apply 5 percent DDT dust at the rate of 20 pounds per acre. The dust should be applied when the air is calm, and the duster should have a canvas drag or "tail" about 20 feet long to force the dust down and at the same time roll the clover plant leaves for under and over application. He added that it is the same apparatus used for dusting the pea weevil.

If in doubt about what "bugs" are bothering your clover, he recommends the purchase and use of an insect net — and send the catch to him at the University of Idaho.

Those who had trouble last year with bud weevil should and must dust this year if they expect a crop. This year. Application for this pest should be made just as the field is coming into bloom, using the same apparatus and DDT as for the leaf weevil. Mr. Portman pointed out that proper timing is very important in this latter operation — as it means proper control of the weevil and the saving of the seed crop.

Junior Prom Enjoyed

The annual Junior Prom, held on Friday evening of last week, was thoroughly enjoyed by a goodly crowd — all conditions joining to make a most pleasant evening.

The interior of the big gymnasium was decorated in accordance with the theme selected, "Ball Ha!" and we must say that it was beautiful, with its soft lights, flowers and palm trees, and little tables with lighted candles. Frankly, we believe it to be one of the most beautiful, if not the most beautiful jobs of decorating that we have ever seen in Kendrick. The Juniors, and their class advisor, Mrs. W. E. Deobald, are indeed to be complimented.

Patrons and patronesses for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Ross Armitage, Mr. and Mrs. Norla Callison and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Colwell.

Shot Is Satisfactory

Tuesday morning about 9:15, the big blast on the bluff below Juliaetta was set off — some 18 tons of powder being used in the one shot.

A "coyote" had been dug 100 feet into the hill and a side coyote, also 100 feet long. These were packed with powder by the Tertling & Sons workers Monday night.

The rock, which was simply raised up and then set down again, will be used in blasting the N. P. tracks from Arrow to Kendrick after going through a crusher plant — larger sections being used as rip-rap.

The bluff is on the Wm. Carlton place.

LEWISTON DECIDES NOT TO PROTEST TRAIN REMOVAL

The Northern Pacific Railway company's proposal for eliminating night mail service and one day service to Lewiston was in effect approved yesterday (Friday) by committee heads of the Lewiston Chamber of Commerce and members of the chamber's industrial committee.

In a resolution unanimously approved by the group, it was recommended that the chamber board of directors follow the NP's request that the proposed cut in service not be contested.

The resolution also asked the directors to investigate possible substitute mail runs which would give approximately the same service. (Bus, motor freight and connections with other lines have been suggested.) The chamber board of directors is expected to act on the resolution at its Monday meeting.

Railway officials here last week announced the proposal for abandoning one of its round-trip runs between Spokane and Lewiston. Involved are No. 313, leaving Spokane at 9:45 p. m. and arriving at Lewiston at 2:50 a. m., and No. 312, leaving Lewiston at 8:05 a. m. and arriving at Spokane at 1:00 p. m. Morning mail and express arrive here on the incoming train.

Postmaster Tish Erb reported that the heaviest volume of mail at Lewiston is now received on the train, the railroad proposes to eliminate Mrs. Erb, however, said she is confident the postoffice department will find a suitable substitute for handling the mail if the cut in train service is approved. — Lewiston Tribune (April 22).

Moscow Fights Discontinuance

Moscow, April 24 — The Chamber of Commerce today was informed by the Idaho Public Utilities Commission that it has not received application of the Northern Pacific railway to eliminate one of the road's two daily round-trip Spokane-Lewiston runs through Moscow.

The letter said the local chamber would be notified of a hearing if such an application is made.

The group here protested against any reduction in present mail express or passenger service.

NP officials two weeks ago informed local business men it contemplated such a reduction in its train service over the branch line.

Meantime the chamber sent letters to other towns along the railroad line informing them of the local stand and asking for an expressed opinion. — Spokesman-Review (April 25).

Our Note: Perhaps some other system can be worked out for mail and express to Lewiston, or perhaps Moscow, being on through stage and auto freight lines — but the Juliaetta-Kendrick-Troy situations would not be so good — and we believe this service should be given real consideration by the ICC or any other organization.

Chambers of Commerce Meet

The regular monthly meeting of the Latah County Chambers of Commerce was held at Bovill Wednesday evening of last week, with the 6:30 turkey dinner (and all the trimmings) being served at the P. F. I. mess hall — to 120.

Those attending from Kendrick were Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schupfer, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schupfer, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Watts, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Brocke, Sr. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McCreary, A. O. Kanikkeberg, E. A. Deobald, E. T. Long, Emulus Brown, K. D. Ingle and Gerald Ingle.

The program, following piano selections by two high school girls, was presented by the Idaho Fish and Game department.

Tim Vaughan, district fish biologist, explained the uses of the "creel census," and how it indicated fish population, especially when used in conjunction with water temperature and food conditions. He stated that Elk River, upon completion of the new dam and rearing pond, was to be one of their test ponds.

Mike Throckmorton, of the state game farm at Lapwai, talked briefly on game birds and their relative problems. He told of 30-day survival tests made last winter at the farm on various kinds of feeds — and without feed.

Mr. Throckmorton also explained their new chick raising program, and said that requests for day-old chicks to be raised and then sold back to the state, had been over-subscribed. He described this phase of the work as highly successful.

A film on the trapping of antelope in southern Idaho, and another on Big Horn Sheep was shown, the latter proving especially interesting.

It was matter of great disappointment to many sportsmen present that the meeting was not thrown open for discussion and questioning of members of the game department present.

ARE YOUR APPLIANCES LOAFING?

When you set out to invest in equipment of any kind, your first consideration is balance. The best four-bottom plow in the world is no good behind a two-plow tractor!

The same reasoning applies to your electrical installation. A wiring job originally designed for just lights and maybe a few outlets is entirely inadequate to accommodate all of the time, labor and food saving, food preserving, and cooking appliances now available!

Present day kitchen and laundry equipment requires wiring installations unheard of a few years ago.

We are prepared to make any changes or additions that may be necessary to enable you to get full usage of all appliances you may wish to install.

Cancer Drive Still On

During 1949 cancer deaths were reported from all but two of the counties in Idaho, Woodrow W. Benson, registrar of vital statistics, Idaho department of public health, said this week.

The two counties not reporting any deaths from the disease were Butte and Clark.

During the year a total of 505 deaths were reported in comparison with 532 in 1948.

On a county basis, Ada lead all others with 65 deaths, followed by Canyon with 53. Twin Falls was third with 33; Bannock 30, and Kootenai, 28.

Other cancer deaths by counties are as follows: Nez Perce, 26; Bonneville, 24; Bingham, 20; Latah, 19; Idaho and Shoshone, 14 each; Bonner 12; Elmore, Fremont and Gem, 10 each; Payette and Jefferson, 9 each; Clearwater, Gooding and Washington, 8 each; Cassia, Madison, Minidoka and Owyhee, 7 each; Jerome and Lemhi, 6 each; Benewah, Boundary, Franklin, Lincoln and Oneida, 5 each; Bear Lake, Boise, Lewis and Valley, 4 each; Caribou and Power, 3 each; Adams, Blaine and Teton, 2 each; Camas and Custer, 1 each.

Grading Work About Town

More street improvements have been made about town, chief of which is the cutting of a good roadway into the bank in front of the W. B. Deobald, Kenneth Brocke and Hugh McDowell homes. This roadway provides parking space for these car owners, something they have been lacking in the past, as the road there was too narrow to permit safe passing when a car was parked there.

Grangers Have Fun

A goodly crowd enjoyed the old time square dance put on by the Kendrick Grange Saturday evening, and the sum of about $45.00 was added to their building fund.

At the conclusion of the evening the afghan, made by Mrs. Grant Bateman was awarded, Roy White taking it home.

To Survey Blue Grouse
U. of I., Moscow — Around 80,000 acres of logging and grazing land on Craig mountain, in southern Nez Perce county, will be the focal point of a blue grouse study, announces Dr. Paul D. Dalke, leader of the cooperative wildlife research unit at the University of Idaho. The study will cover the life history and ecology of this important game bird, widely distributed throughout the northern Rocky mountains.

"Blue grouse population trends on logged-off and grazed areas will be compared to those in virgin forests," Dr. Dalke explained. "The purpose is to bring out management principles which, put into operation on a big scale, will result in more blue grouse."

Co-operators in the project will be Ross Howard, Lewiston cattleman, who owns much of the land in the study area; Potlatch Forests, Inc., which has been logging on Craig mountain; the U. S. Forestry Service, and the Idaho fish and game department. These latter agencies are co-operating in providing information on the state-wide blue grouse situation.

"Maps of the area have been furnished by Clare Wellman of Potlatch Forests, also a member of the state fish and game commission," Dr. Dalke reports. "It is planned to take advantage of the conservation officers' big game inventory and go into the area with a snow tractor to check winter numbers and points of concentration."

Data on the distribution of blue grouse according to forest types and observations on broods will be supplied the wildlife research unit by the forest service. Information on northern and central Idaho will come from region one headquarters at Missoula, Mont. Region four headquarters at Ogden, Utah, will provide the material for southern Idaho.

Our Note: Mr. Wellman resigned his fish and game commission position some time ago, in protest over their policies, particularly the unequal distribution of game fish.

The Evils Of Drink
Having heard of an old man who had attained the age of a hundred and had never touched strong drink, a temperance committee was rushed to his home to get a sworn statement to that effect.

Propping him up in bed, they guided the feeble, trembling old hand along the dotted line.

They were disturbed and startled, however, by a violent disturbance in the next room — scuffling, falling of heavy furniture and breaking of crockery.

"Good Heavens, what's that?" gasped a committee man.

"Oh," whispered the old man, as he sat back exhausted after the effort, "that's Dad. He's drunk again."

Want Your Soil Tested?
 What's the latest dirt?
 County agents have been picking up a chunk here and there, and they are in the market for a lot more samples. They test them to see what, if anything, is wrong with the soil. If it's sick they recommend a treatment.
 Idaho farmers who want a diagnosis were urged this week by the University of Idaho extension service to deliver samples this fall before heavy frost strikes.
 The testing is done by county agents with equipment provided in nearly all of their offices. If a particularly tough problem develops, the dirt is given the complete works at a laboratory in Moscow, and all its secrets are exposed. In case there is a shortage of some element, the farmer is advised what fertilizer to apply and how much. Smith said it is likely more than 3,000 samples will be tested this year.

 Before taking the soil sample remove straw, plant residue, etc., from the spot, being careful not to remove any of the soil. Dig a V-shape to a depth of six or seven inches with a shovel. Cut a smooth slice from one side and put in a pail. Take similar samples from eight or ten spots in the area to be tested. Then thoroughly mix the samples. If the soil is wet, it should be air-dried without application of artificial heat. Envelopes for soil samples are provided by county agents.

RED CROSS FIELD DIRECTORS SOLVE SERVICEMEN'S PROBLEMS

Red Cross services to the armed forces are available wherever U. S. servicemen are stationed. Here a Red Cross field director goes right to a young sailor at work on his ship for the facts he needs to help solve a problem.

The sailor was young. He had finished his home leave in a southern coastal city and was heading back to his California base.
 He said goodbye to his parents and to an older brother, a marine veteran just returned from service. Then he left by bus.
 A few hours later the older brother was killed in an automobile accident. The family appealed to the Red Cross to locate the younger son so he could return home.
 Within a short while a Red Cross chapter secretary along the route intercepted the bus, broke the news, and helped the lad get started back home. There the chapter got in touch with the field director at the west coast base and verified the facts for the commanding officer who was being asked to extend the sailor's leave.
 Once or more every minute, around the clock last year, the Red Cross performed some service for members of the military forces and their families. Among the nearly three quarters of a million cases handled, a large percentage involved supplying verified information concerning home conditions requiring emergency leave or extension of leave. While the Red Cross cannot grant leave to a serviceman, military authorities depend upon its post field directors and the network of chapters for reports of conditions underlying such leave requests.

 Field directors in 364 military installations and hospitals and 1,059 itinerant and sub-stations in this country and abroad aid servicemen with personal problems that range from babies and budgets to helping straighten out delays that hold up pay or family allowances.
 The serviceman has his family problems, marital difficulties, financial strains, and family illnesses—all disturbing to morale.
 Field directors, providing 24-hour service at military installations, are pretty much in the same situation as the family doctor. They are routed out of bed at all hours to face any one of a hundred complicated problems. Sometimes it may be to get a report on the condition of a critically ill member of a soldier's family, or to lend him money for an emergency trip home, or to find housing for a family unexpectedly arriving at the post.
 Whatever the problem, the serviceman feels free to turn to the Red Cross for help, knowing that he will find a sympathetic friend in the man wearing the Red Cross uniform.

Moley And The CVA
 The young Republican organization at a meeting held in Pendleton the other day came out strongly against the CVA. It must be pretty bad when a real liberal like Raymond Moley takes a crack at it like he did in Newsweek. Here are his conclusions in brief as published in the Readers Digest:
 Senate Bill 1645, which is actively being pressed by the Interior Department, applies not only to the immense Columbia watershed but to almost everything else in Washington and Oregon. Moley states, "More autocratic and much larger than the Tennessee Valley Authority, the proposal would set up a monopolistic government corporation, well protected from the state governments of Washington, Oregon, Montana and Idaho."
 CVA's three directors would be utterly free from local control and could "only with great difficulty" be removed by a new President. The magnitude of the administration, Moley contends, would ultimately bring a vast horde of employees to the region, with full voting rights and under the control of the directors.
 Since the Columbia Valley is dependent on waters for power, irrigation, navigation and lumbering, the autocracy of the CVA would mean power of life or death for every economic and political activity. It could at will rearrange highways, bridges, mills and electric-light plants, publicly or privately owned. With its huge properties removed from state and local taxing authorities, those agencies, thus impoverished, "would become mendicants dependent upon the CVA for doles."
 "It is not only private enterprise that is prescribed in the CVA — it is the public's control of its own government," Moley states. "We would have to go back a 100 years to find a parallel to such serfdom."

Feather-bedding scheme of Firemen's Union to put an additional fireman on diesel locomotives has been CONSIDERED TWICE!

Fact Finding Boards appointed by Presidents Roosevelt and Truman have said these demands were "devoid of merit" and they were REJECTED TWICE!

Now the Firemen's leaders seek to paralyze railroad transportation to compel the railroads to employ a wholly unnecessary additional fireman to ride on diesel locomotives. This scheme is plain

FEATHER-BEDDING!

LEADERS of the Firemen's union have called a nationwide strike starting with four great railroads on April 26. These railroads are the New York Central, Pennsylvania, Santa Fe, and Southern.

The union claim that a second fireman is needed on grounds of safety is sheer hypocrisy. Safety has been dragged into this dispute only in an unsuccessful effort to give a cloak of respectability to vicious feather-bedding demands.

After a careful study of the first demands of this union, a Presidential Fact Finding Board on May 21, 1949, reported to President Roosevelt that there was no need for an extra fireman on diesel locomotives.

Again, on September 19, 1949, after a second hearing on the union leaders' demands, a second Board reported to President Truman that: "there presently exists no need for an additional fireman... upon either the ground of safety or that of efficiency and economy of operation."

Safety Record of Diesels is Outstandingly Good

Although the railroads accepted the Board findings, the union leaders have brazenly rejected them. They represent that an extra fireman is needed for "safety" reasons. Here's what the Board had to say on that point:

"The safety and on-time performance of diesel electric locomotives operated under current rules have been notably good..."

"Upon careful analysis of the data submitted on safety, we have concluded that no valid reasons have been shown as a support for the Brotherhood proposal under which a fireman would be required to be at all times continuously in the cab of road diesels. The proposal must be rejected."

The real reason behind these demands is that the union leaders are trying to make jobs where there is no work. In other words, a plain case of "feather-bedding."

The railroads have no intention of yielding to these wasteful make-work demands.

"The Safety Record of Diesels is Outstandingly Good..."

PRESIDENTIAL FACT FINDING BOARD REPORT
 Read these excerpts from official reports of Presidential Fact Finding Boards:

"The safety record of Diesels is outstandingly good, and it follows that the safety rules now applicable have produced good results."

"The safety and on-time performance of Diesel-electric locomotives operated under current rules indicate that Diesel-electric operation has been safer than steam locomotive operation..."

Remember! These are not statements of the railroads. They are just a few of the many similar conclusions reached by President Truman's Fact Finding Board which spent months investigating the claims of the union leaders.

We are publishing this and other advertisements to talk to you at first hand about matters which are important to everybody.

Badger Captured
 Wendell — A live, ferocious badger, the biggest ever seen in this area, is on display in Wendell. Attracted by the barking of his dogs, Forest Weaver discovered the animal and flooded it out of its hole in a vacant lot. A wire noose, made from a length of copper wire and a piece of half-inch pipe was slipped over the animal's head, and he was immediately lifted into a box with a wire netting top. U. of I. Dept. of Journalism, Moscow.

Our Note: We suggest that the "ferocious" description be eliminated. Mrs. Louis Porter of Cedar Creek, has long had a badger as a pet, it coming to their logging camp when full grown, and she finds nothing "ferocious" about it.

PUBLISHED BY THE KENDRICK CO-OPERATIVE CREAMERY

HELLO, THERE, FOLKS:

Now that Tom's Parade Day is over, and field work is beginning — it's time to think again about that quick dessert — and where else can you find anything as delicious, as nourishing, tasty and quick as that fine "Potlatch Chief" Ice Cream!

Lots of you bought it and took it home with you parade day — and lots of the youngsters sampled it that day. Ask anyone who has tried it, if they didn't think it good — the answer always is, "You bet. Delicious."

If you haven't tried our Chocolate Marble, then you've really missed the taste treat of a lifetime!

BY THE WAY:

Remember, we are always in the market to buy your cream! Never pass us by.
