WHAT HAPPENED HERE TWENTY YEARS AGO

Commercial Club Meeting — Sixty members of the Moscow Chamber of Commerce accompanied by several members of the U. of I. staff, motored to Kendrick Thursday evening of last week, to make a fraternal visit to the local club. The banquet was served by the ladies of the Presbyterian church in the Fraternal Temple and the meeting presided over by R. H. Ramey, president of the local club. A short and humorous address was given by Prosecuting Attorney Abe Goff.

Elk Destroying Crops — Farmers in the vicinity of Deary and Texas ridge are recommending to the Isaac Walton League that someone hire a herder to herd the carload of elk unloaded in the vicinity of Bovill last fall. R. E. Darr, living on Texas ridge drove a band off his place four miles into the mountains and the elk were back almost as soon as he was.

First Wheat To Federal Board — The first shipment of wheat to go out of Kendrick to the Federal Grain Stabilizing Board was sent out on Tuesday when four cars were loaded for Portland from the Vollmer-Clearwater company's warehouse in Kendrick. The Kendrick Roachdale Co. of Kendrick has not taken any action regarding membership in the corporation, rather waiting to see what the general outcome will be before subscribing for stock.

Graduates From Normal — Miss Ida A. Morey was one of the graduates from the Lewiston State Normal this spring, having taken a general course. Her home is on Big Bear ridge.

Personal Mention — Dr. and Mrs. G. W. McKeever drove to Spokane Thursday of last week, the doctor returning Friday, while Mrs. McKeever remained for a longer visit. American Ridge — The men of this community are engaged in rebuilding the cemetery fence. The Sky Weeps — This section, together with most others in the Northwest was visited during the latter part of last week by a heavy rain. Some few have hay down and others are ready to cut — but on the whole crops and beans are looking fine.

More Wild Geese — The cry of the wild geese is echoing more Idaho streamways this spring than in several previous years, waterfowl biologist Robert Salter reports. Grays lake area is the focal point, with 160 nests of honkers reported.

The Snake river, Payette river, and several other streams have large concentrations of the giant fowl. Many tributary streams are being used as goose nesting grounds for the first time in nearly a decade, Salter reported.

Steady Progress On Building

Steady progress is being made on the new state highway department building at the lower end of the ball diamond, with much of the heavy concrete foundation work completed. Bill White is also making slow but steady progress in the construction of the big drain tiles that will carry water from the ball diamond and adjoining homes — his work having speeded up considerably by the addition of a second mold — and progress is limited to the amount of drying that can be accomplished on the newly-poured concrete.

Windy And Chilly

Mostly sunshine has been the rule here this past week, but accompanied by wind a goodly share of the time, and mornings and evening have been so chill that a little fire has been a daily necessity.

Monday a heavy dust storm visited the area, causing housewives to say rather mean things about the weather, as it deposited a thick coating of dust on everything — and early Tuesday morning the thermometer read 40!

THREE LEWISTON STUDENTS MEET DEATH IN CAR CRASH

Death touched Lewiston with a cold hand Thursday night, sweeping away dreams of a joyful commencement program at the Senior High school, canceling a state high school baseball tournament at Nampa, and plunging the city into mourning for three boys who died after an early morning auto crash at lower Tammany.

The dead are Donald McIntyre, 17; Thomas Phillips, 18, and Mick Gruell, 18.

Phillips and Gruell were to have received their diplomas at high school graduation exercises Friday night. McIntyre was a junior.

The three dead youths were members of the championship Lewiston high school baseball team, which was to have left for Nampa after Commencement Exercises, to defend its title.

Lying injured at St. Joseph's hospital are Jack Fairley, 18; James Rowland, 18, and William Taylor, 17, all three graduating seniors.

McIntyre, Phillips and Gruell all died as the result of severe head injuries, physicians said.

Phillips was at the wheel of the 1950 Buick sedan which left the Lewiston-Waha road nine miles south of the city at approximately 1:50 (P.M.) and sped over across a field and sped its passengers over a wide area. The car was part of a caravan returning from Waha where a high school student bear party had been held, officers said.

The car's speed just before the accident was estimated at 100 miles an hour. Another carload of youths driving directly behind the death car told officers they were going 100 and were keeping an even pace with the car ahead. They said Phillips seemed to lose control of the car.

The needle on the crushed speedometer pointed to 101.

The car roared off the highway 100 feet before a curve. It slipped off the wrong side of the road, skidding sideways for 60 feet and started rolling. Officers were unable to determine how many times the car rolled over. Moving with terrific momentum, it bounced between 20 and 30 feet as it struck the ground after each roll. All six boys were thrown from the car as it bounced crazily across the field for 200 yards.

The car was crushed almost beyond recognition. The top was peeled back as though it had been ripped open with a can opener. The body was pushed down and the interior ripped to shreds.

Tufts of range grass were imbedded on the top and sides of the car. One door was hurled 200 feet from where the car landed. Parts were scattered over a wide area.

Other members of the caravan following the death car were the first on the scene. They found McIntyre lying crushed under the front of the car. The car was lifted off McIntyre after an ambulance arrived from Lewiston.

Gruell was sprawled across a barbed wire fence. The other youths moved him down to the edge of a dirt road which joins the main highway at the accident scene.

Phillips was lying 68 feet from where the car halted.

Rowland was lying under the right rear of the car. Fairley was lying six feet from the right rear of the car. Taylor was 20 feet north of the left rear of the car. All were unconscious.

Law enforcement officers investigating the death of three Lewiston high school students in an automobile accident Thursday said a beer-drinking party preceded the crash. They said they had been unable so far to learn where youngsters attending the party obtained the beer.

The officers said the Waha party was "pre-arranged on Wednesday. All the cars arrived there equipped with beer."

Lt. Love recalled the episode in late May, 1949, when officers broke up a similar party at Waha. Members of the Lewiston high school graduating class were drinking beer, Love said.

"We surrounded the Waha area then," Love said, "and dispersed the senior class. The next day officers were criticized by both parents and students 'for spilling their fun.'"

Mick A. Gruell was born at Lewiston, Oct. 5, 1931, and lived here and at Juliaetta all his life.

Thomas Phillips, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Phillips, 1622 15th Ave., was born Jan. 30, 1932, at Lewiston.

Donald Roy McIntyre was born at Lewiston, May 24, 1933.

No coroner's inquest is planned, officers said. — Lewiston Tribune, Friday, May 26, 1950.

Our Note — We use the above because the three dead and three injured youths were well known to almost all our local high school students, they having met them or seen them in action in various athletic contests.

The one statement that "slaps everyone right in the face" is the one by Lewiston police officers: "No coroner's inquest is planned," and this, despite their admittance that they couldn't find out from 13 surviving youths where the beer was obtained.

Building Front Being Painted

The front of the Kendrick Co-operative Creamery and the Travis Furniture & Electric Supply Co. is receiving a coat of mist gray paint at the hands of Edgar Long, and that, together with the new awnings, will add considerable to the appearance as well as the comfort of the building.

Almost all of that block now carries the "mist gray" front.

TROUT SEASON OPENS JUNE 4 FOR GENERAL SEASON

Sunday, June 4, is trout day in Idaho. Thousands of fishermen are expected to hit Gem state streams and lakes for the 4 a. m. opening of the 1950 general trout season. License sales indicate a record turnout. The season ends October 31.

Fisheries men of the fish and game department report that pre-season surveys indicate a good carry-over of trout through the winter. The weather man was non-committal, promising only exceptionally high water in some areas and a normal run-off in others.

The department reminded anglers that two new regulations are in effect this year on a state-wide basis. Fishing hours from 4 a. m. to 10 p. m. are operative in all but the five northernmost counties. No shipping of game fish from the state will be allowed, but fishermen may take one legal daily bag limit of seven pounds and one fish (not to exceed 20 fish) out of the state with them.

Other regulations banning use of live minnows (except in year-round waters of southwestern Idaho) use of artificial light, snag hooks, set lines, traps or seines; chumming of fishing waters with bait substances; use of any form of explosives, or the transfer of young of any fish from one watershed to another are again effective this year.

Anglers are urged to procure fishing season pamphlets from license vendors before the opening date. Road conditions are poor in many sections and fishermen are advised to check with forest service officials before heading back into forestry fishing waters.

Game department conservation officers report the following stream, and road conditions throughout this area:

Water still high, but fair catches have been made on streams open since April 15. Roads improving steadily. Elk River basin road nearly impassable. Roads in Headquarters area open but deep with mud. North Fork and Little North Fork of Clearwater still running high water. Most high lakes still snowed in. Side roads in poor condition.

Reeds, Alder, Orofino and Browns Creeks in Pierce area high and roily. Road from Pierce to Bungalow now being plowed out. Four to six feet of snow in area. Water too high for good trout fishing, but fair for whitefishing.

A Bean Soup Storm

U. of I., Moscow — When Author Kenneth Crawford recently criticized in the Saturday Evening Post, the bean soup that has been served in the Senate restaurant at Washington since 1891, he really started things stirring in the Home Economics department at the university. Crawford should have known better, for no one criticizes a bean — or potato dish — without causing a rattling of pots and pans by the Idaho home economists. Crawford, innocently, however, said of the soup introduced to senatorial gourmets more than a half-century ago by Senator Fred Dubois of Idaho:

"Through all the years that I have covered the Senate, I have sustained myself in a large part on this soup. It has got neither better nor worse, and still isn't too good, but will, as my continued existence proves, sustain a thin spark of life."

In Idaho, those were fighting words. Prof. Adah Lewis and her foods students, considered them not only a reflection on a former outstanding citizen of the state, but on beans, which are an important product of Idaho. Miss Lewis had her class first prepare soup according to the famed Dubois recipe, and then soups with variations. She reported:

"Mr. Crawford's comments were unjustified. The Dubois recipe as given in the Post makes a fine soup. After sampling, we can understand why it has been served so long in the Senate restaurant. It is a heavy type of soup with high seasonings. Probably most of the congressmen enjoy smoking, and, as this is inclined to dull the sense of taste, the high flavor of the Dubois recipe would be most acceptable."

Very, Very True!

Today, the boy or girl who seeks part-time or vacation employment, or tries to get started in a job with no experience, finds the higher minimum wage a stumbling block. Many an employer used to hire up-and-coming youngsters and start them at a beginning wage while they learned a trade or business. Now, that is the exception rather than the rule. — Emporia, Kansas, Gazette.

The Trust Laws Are Needed

We have aided labor organizations until they now have assumed some of the characteristics of the trusts of the first of this century. They prevent production and make necessary price increases for their own personal welfare. — Sherman County Journal, Moro, Oregon.

SHORT NEWS ITEMS FROM OUR LOCAL SCHOOLHOUSE

Honor Rolls

A final compilation of Honor Rolls shows the following: Highest Honors — Mildred Brammer, James Holt and Charles Christensen.

Attendance Records

Girls beat boys in attendance records for the year. A total of 36 boys and 46 girls were members of the Perfect and Faithful Attendance honor rolls during the past year, according to statistics which were compiled at the school office recently. Students becoming members of the Perfect Attendance Honor roll were neither tardy nor absent during the year. Those on the Faithful Attendance Honor roll were absent three days or less.

While it is seemingly of more honor to be on the Perfect Attendance roll, the children who have been in attendance all but three days or less of the school term are to be especially commended, too. In some instances children who are ill attend school merely to be on the Perfect Attendance Honor roll and to receive the certificate. Teachers and parents should discourage this practice as much as possible. However, it is more frequent that children make major issues out of minor afflictions, and stay out of school when in reality they would be better off in school.

The school officials wish to commend the parents as well as the students listed below for making these records possible:

Perfect Attendance Honor Roll for 1949-1950 — Cedar Ridge, Clem Smith; Gold Hill, Douglas Pederson; Southwick, Vernon Hanks, Sandra Cantril; Leland, Glen Wegner, Elaine Heffel, Paul Dagefoerde; Juliaetta, Richard Weber, Leonard Eldridge, Jean Jones, Bernice Fraser. To Hold West Point Exams

From Congressman Compton I. White comes the following communication, which may prove of interest to some young men:

"Following the usual custom, competitive examinations for the selection of principal and alternates for nomination to the Military Academy at West Point in 1951, will be held at convenient towns in Idaho by the Civil Service Commission on July 17. Applications to take the competitive examinations should be sent to this office immediately, as names must be submitted to the Civil Service commission early in June."

Hobby Pays Off In Beauty

More than a hundred thousand o-H homes will be enhanced with a new outdoor beauty this season because a city woman took up gardening as a hobby 20 years ago. Interest in growing flowers and plants began when she moved to a home in the country and saw the native beauty of many rural homes scarred and neglected. She longed to do something about it. She particularly wanted to do it through the farm boys and girls so they, too, could experience the joys of restoring nature's handiwork and add a bit of their own.

This resourceful woman — who has since become a renowned horticulturist — is Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen of Chicago. She reached these rural young folks with the help of the National Committee on Boys' and Girls Club Work, of which she is now a member. The committee and Extension Service co-operated and a plan was worked out. The result was the National 4-H Home Grounds Beautification program now being conducted by the Extension Service in Idaho and 45 other states. Introduced 13 years ago on a nation-wide scale participation has grown from a few thousand 4-H Club members to nearly 150,000 annually. Activities range from planting a small flower bed to a landscaping program extending over a period of years.

For outstanding accomplishments in the program, Mrs. Walgreen offers awards to county, state and national winners. They are medals, watches and trips to the National 4-H Club Congress for eight top-ranking 4-H'ers. Last year Carol Borgen of Genesee won the state award.

Train Service Half Century

April 29th marked the 50th anniversary of inauguration of service on the North Coast Limited, the Northern Pacific's premier transcontinental passenger train.

The original "North Coast" proudly advertised as "the first electrically lighted train between the middle west and the North Pacific coast, and a "palace on wheels," went into service on April 29, 1900, according to G. W. Bodine, passenger traffic manager.

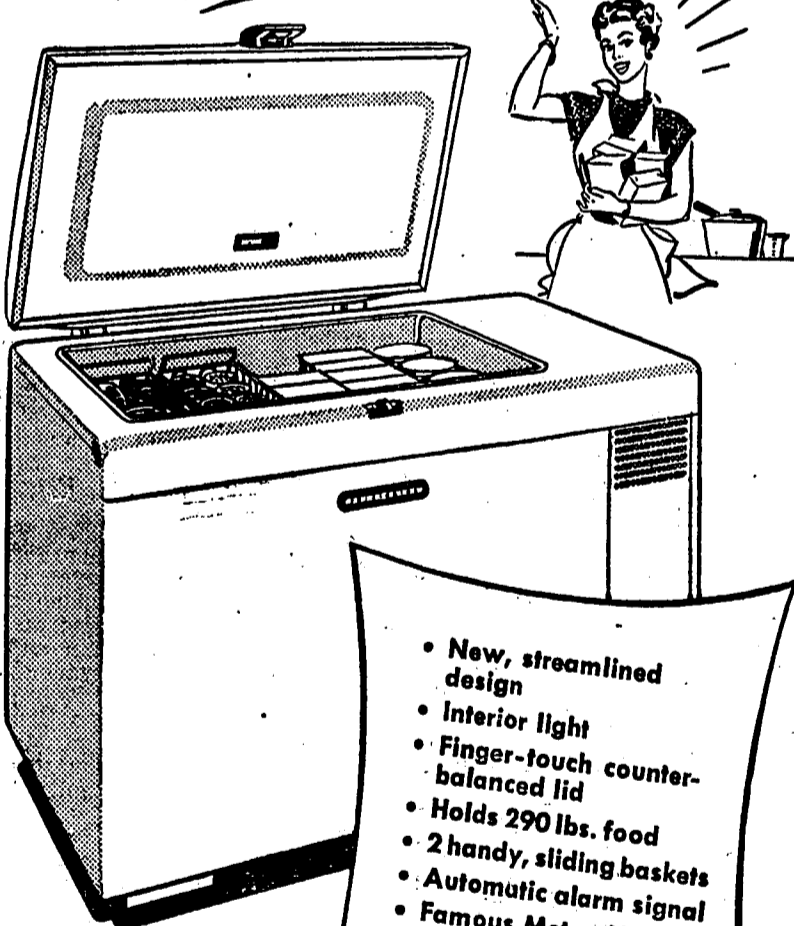

Today's North Coast Limited, recently equipped with lightweight, streamlined cars and diesel power at a cost of $9,500,000 is the last word in travel luxury and comfort.

Watch For Dangerous Bloat

Bloat in cattle and sheep causes one of the largest death losses of these animals. Bloat losses may determine the difference between profit and loss in a cattle or sheep operation. The degree to which it can be prevented may also determine whether or not a farmer enters into or maintains this type of a livestock enterprise.

Here in the Palouse country where there is a real need for increased numbers of livestock, information concerning the best methods of bloat prevention are, therefore, most important. Livestock specialists and experienced operators generally agree that the following practices are beneficial in the prevention of bloat:

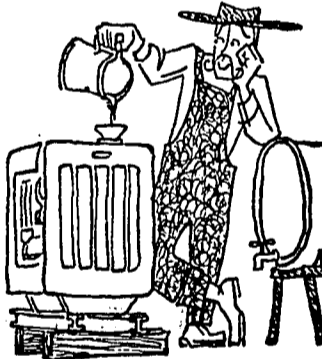

1. Permanent pastures should be sown to a rather high percentage of grasses.
2. Legume pastures — alfalfa, sweet clover, etc., should be as mature as possible before turning the stock in on them.
3. The stock should have a fill of dry feed before being turned on legume or legume-mixed pastures.
4. Have a supply of dry roughage (hay or straw) readily available to the stock at all times.
5. Water and salt should also be readily available.
6. Shade may encourage animals to become too empty. Many farmers do not supply it.
7. Handle the stock quietly at all times. Excitement encourages bloat.
8. After the stock is in the pasture — leave them in.
9. Get the recommended emergency medicines and instruments from your veterinarian before the pasture season and learn how to administer or use them.
10. Watch your animals closely — inspect two or three times a day.

11. When an animal becomes a chronic bloater, take it off bloat producing feed — and leave it off.

Potlatch Chief Sez

PUBLISHED BY THE KENDRICK CO-OPERATIVE CREAMERY

DELICIOUS PICNIC ITEMS —

As the weather warms up, more and more of us think about picnics — and their accompanying food, as we rightly should.

Let us suggest taking a pint or two of "Potlatch Chief" Cottage Cheese — it's delicious served as it comes from the package, or with fruit — and it's so quick and easy!

Then, for dessert, you just can't beat "Potlatch Chief" Ice Cream, with all its delicious taste and smoothness. Packed in one of our Jiffy Bags (which we loan you) it will keep firm for hours — and it, too, is quick and easy.

ABOUT MILK:

As the temperature climbs, don't forget to keep on drinking "Potlatch Chief" pasteurized milk. It's a true "calcium food" and a daily necessity for old and young alike.

LINDEN ITEMS

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McAlister and family and Mr. and Mrs. Al Pederson and family took their dinner to the Lester Weaver home to help Mrs. Weaver celebrate her birthday anniversary. Rev. Norbo also was a guest. Callers in the afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clemenhagen and son.

The McAlister and Pederson families went on a fishing and outing trip Saturday to Atwater lake. They report fishing poor, but a fine time, nevertheless.

Herbie Pederson spent Sunday night with Billy Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. George Brocke, Sr., and son Darrell were visitors at the C. A. McAlister home Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Mertie Stone of Lewiston; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pace of Lewiston and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Riggers and daughter of Lapwai, helped Mrs. Pearl Alexander celebrate her 65th birthday anniversary at her home. Callers in the afternoon were Mrs. F. C. Lyons, Mrs. Al Pederson and Mrs. George Lyons.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Bahr and Wayne Arnett visited with Robert Kuhn and children at Genesee, Sunday.

Mrs. Al Pederson called on Mrs. Chas. Keeler Tuesday afternoon.

The new home of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Craig is nearing completion, and from all reports is indeed a very nice one. We know the Craig family will enjoy it to the utmost. "Grandma Keeler" is a great-grandmother again — and, confidentially, is enjoying it — Mr. and Mrs. Gene Mattoon of Lewiston being the parents of a baby daughter, born at St. Joseph' hospital at 3:21 a. m., Tuesday, May 23. All are doing nicely except "Grandma Keeler."

Mrs. Mertie Stone has returned to her home in Lewiston, after visiting for a few days with her brother, Louis Alexander and family. Mr. and Mrs. McAlister and Mrs. Al Pederson were Lewiston visitors on Thursday.

Mrs. Keeler visited briefly in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ted Vaughan and family on Thursday. Mrs. Vaughan has been caring for a small nephew, Douglas William Mattoon for a few days, but will leave today (Thursday) to get acquainted with a baby sister, Rebekah Helen, the great-granddaughter previously mentioned.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Garner and children left for their home in Arco, Idaho, after spending several days with his mother, Mrs. Arley Allen. On Sunday all of Mrs. Allen's children (with the exception of Marvin) were home — Melvin and family, Thelma and family, Maxine and family and Eileen and husband gathered for a picnic lunch at Spalding park and a wonderful time was reported.

The apple trees on the Keeler farm are pink with bloom — which should mean plenty of apple sauce this fall — even though peaches will be very scarce.

Arley Allen attended church services in Lewiston on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Lester Weaver and Mary Ellen were Sunday callers in the Keeler home.

Clement Israel was a business caller at the Keeler farm Monday.

GOLDEN RULE

Mrs. Irene Tarbert and children spent the first of the week with her father, Roy Martin. Her husband came up Thursday evening and took them back to Lewiston.

Mrs. Nick Deamo of Lapwai spent the past week with her daughter, Mrs. Oscar Lawrence and family and attended the Commencement Exercises of her granddaughter, Evelyn Kazda, at Kendrick. Lewis Kazda also was home for the ceremonies.

Mrs. Bessie Cowger, Ernest Cowger and children visited at the Glen Betts home Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Ernest Cowger, who has spent several weeks in the Cottonwood hospital has returned to her home. She is still to spend lots of time in bed and guard her health for a year.

Mrs. Carl Finke and children recently called on Mrs. Russell Rodgers.

The D. V. Kuykendall family were Sunday dinner guests at the Carl Finke home. In the afternoon they all made a business call to the Ben Smith home at Park.

John Ziemann of Moscow spent Saturday night with George Finke, Jr. They visited at the Don Christensen home Saturday evening and enjoyed Sunday dinner at the Glen Betts home, where Mrs. Bessie Cowger was also a guest.

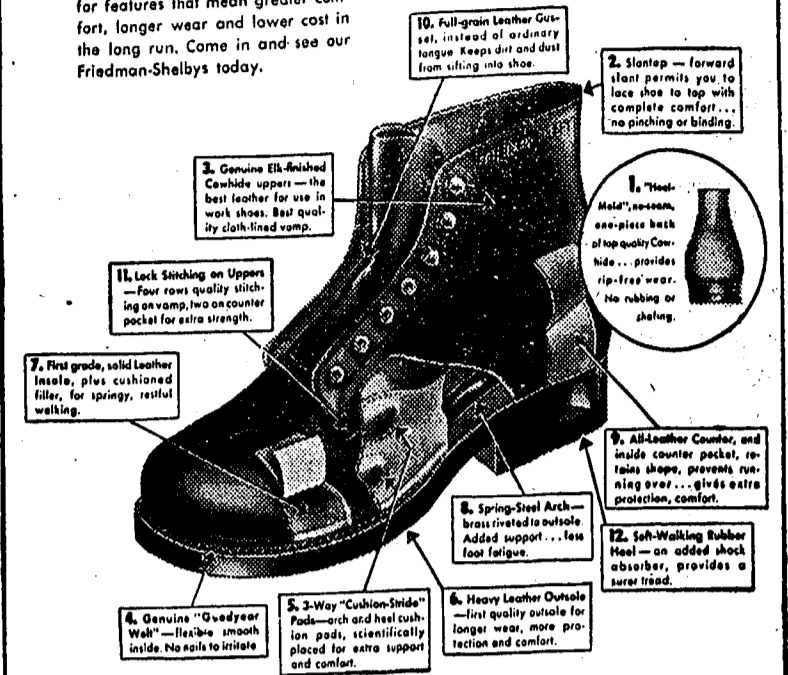

Mr. and Mrs. Don Christensen and family were Lewiston visitors Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lawrence took Mrs. Nick Deamo to her home in Lapwai, Sunday.
