BUELL-LANGDON NUPTIALS SOLMENIZED AT LEWISTON

At 4:00 o'clock, Tuesday afternoon July 4, Barbara Buell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Meeks of Los Angeles, and Bernard Langdon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Langdon of Lewiston, former American ridge residents, were united in marriage at the Trinity Lutheran church in Lewiston, the Rev. Alfred Bethman reading the beautiful double-ring ceremony.

The church and altar were decorated with a profusion of roses of all colors, interspersed with baby breath. The bride, given in marriage by the groom's grandfather, Ira Foster, chose for her wedding a powder-blue organdie afternoon dress with a white picture hat, and carried a white prayer book. Her corsage was a white gardenia surrounded by pink rosebuds.

The groom wore the conventional dark summer suit with a carnation boutonniere. The bride's matron of honor and attendant was Mrs. Erma Niesheim of Lewiston, a sister of the groom. She wore a fuchsia red taffeta dress and white hat, and her corsage was of white carnations.

Larry Langdon served as his brother's best man, wearing a gray suit with white carnation boutonniere.

Miss Betty Halseh sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because," accompanied at the organ by Miss Mary Sweeney, who also played the wedding music.

The groom's mother chose for her son's wedding a black crepe afternoon dress. Her corsage was a gardenia.

Miss Halseh was dressed in white, with a pink carnation corsage. Miss Sweeney in a green taffeta afternoon dress with white carnation corsage. The ushers were Joe Langdon of Lewiston, a brother of the groom, and George Havens of Kendrick, a life-long friend.

Mrs. Langdon is a graduate of the Van Nuys High school with the class of '50. Mr. Langdon is a graduate of the Kendrick High school and served two years in the army. He also attended the U. of I. as a pre-medical student before going on to the University of California school of Prosthetic Dentistry, and will graduate from that institution in September.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the home of Mrs. Vern Kerby at 334 Sixth street in Lewiston for about thirty guests. A beautiful lace-covered table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, and flanked by bowls of roses. After the traditional first piece was cut by the bride and groom, Mrs. Kerby finished cutting and serving.

Mrs. Joe Langdon and Shirley Garrett presided over the punch bowl, while Joe Langdon served the ice cream.

Mrs. Oscar Torgerson had charge of the guest book.

The happy young couple left immediately following the reception on a week's honeymoon trip to Canada, before returning to Los Angeles, where they will be at home to their many friends at 1948 Butler Ave., L. A., 25, Calif.

Best wishes for a long and happy wedded life go with them from their many friends.

Swimming Pool Use Increasing

As the weather has warmed up, use of the Area Living War Memorial Swimming Pool at Kendrick has been increasing by leaps and bounds, but it is still apparent that many are not taking advantage of the wonderful opportunity being offered, not only from the recreational and health standpoint, but from the point of useful knowledge.

This year free lessons are being given, not only to beginners, but for Junior and Senior lifesaving — and this knowledge might someday be the means of saving a life. If not that of the swimmer's, then that of a friend or companion. For in this day or age, everyone should know how to swim.

Lifeguard Carl Kinney, assisted by a number of his advanced pupils, during their hour show the fourth, clearly demonstrated the fun that can be had in the water.

In the beginners classes he uses the Y. M. C. A. system of lessons, but on the advanced swimmers he uses the American Red Cross system, and can issue certificates for Junior and Senior lifesaving, and these certificates are recognized without question all over the world. The cost of this recreation and education is modest, so see to it that your children, at least, take fullest advantage of this opportunity.

Pure city water is used in the pool. This is tested daily for contamination, and properly chlorinated through a new-type machine just installed this spring. In addition, the dressing rooms are cleaned and chemically sterilized daily — so there is no need to feel you are "walking into a disease trap."

Find Indian Pestal

Last week, while cultivating, Oscar Slind plowed up an oddly shaped smooth black rock in one of the fields of their farm.

Knocking the dirt from it he was amazed to find that the rock was an Indian pestal, or stone used for grinding dried roots in making flour. The stone plainly shows the use to which it had been put, the bulging, rounded lower section, and the narrow handhold leaving no doubt as to its authenticity.

How many years it might have lain on the Slind ground is a matter of conjecture.

Temperature Up And Down

Summer seems to really be here at last — with Friday the hottest day of the year to date, the thermometer reaching a high of 93 degrees. Saturday saw a high of 88 degrees, which was duplicated on Sunday. Monday hit 86 degrees — but on both Sunday and Monday a light breeze broke the heat and no one could complain in any sense of the word.

This warm weather, following the rains of last week "has been just what the doctor ordered" so far as farmers and gardeners are concerned. Wheat, oats, barley, clover, beans, are really growing, and these crops certainly give promise of being bountiful ones.

It is perfect weather for haying operations, too, and most farmers with this crop are taking fullest advantage of it. The gentle breeze has been perfect for cooling hay workers, as well as quickly curing the new cut.

W. B. DEOBALD, PIONEER, PASSES AWAY SUDDENLY

This community was shocked and saddened Tuesday evening of last week, by the news of the sudden passing of William Bryan Deobald, pioneer farmer and garage operator of Kendrick, death coming as the result of a sudden heart attack, while a patient at St. Luke's hospital in Spokane.

W. B. (Billy) Deobald was born on American Ridge, Kendrick, February 5, 1896, where he grew to young manhood on the family farm, where his mother, Mrs. Mary A. Deobald, still resides. He attended the American ridge school and the Kendrick High school.

During World War I he served in the Armed Forces of the United States, seeing foreign service in France and Germany. At the close of the war he returned to the family farm, remaining there until 1922, when he entered into partnership with his brother Eddie in the operation of the Kendrick Garage, a partnership which continued until 1933, when it was dissolved, due to his poor health.

In 1923 he was united in marriage to Elsie A. Wegner, and to this union three children were born — William Albert, Eloise LaVelle, and Gabriella Mae, all of whom survive. Mr. Deobald continued to make Kendrick his home until April 26, 1950, when he was suddenly taken ill, and treated at the St. Luke's hospital in Spokane for five weeks. Apparently responding nicely to treatment he came home and was here for two weeks, during which time he attended the University of Idaho graduation services, seeing his son, William Albert, and his daughter, Gabriella Mae, graduate from that school. He also visited many of his old friends here in Kendrick, again.

On June 14, he returned to the hospital for further treatment, where he passed away on June 26, 1950, as a result of an acute kidney disorder and heart attack.

He is survived by his wife, Elsie, Kendrick; a son, William A. Moscow; two daughters, Mrs. J. S. Legg, Spokane, and Miss Gay Deobald, Kendrick; his mother, Mrs. Mary A. Deobald, Kendrick; one brother, E. A. Deobald, Kendrick; three sisters, Mrs. Eeva Thompson, San Diego, Calif., Mrs. Elmer Bechtold, Seattle and Mrs. Otto Schupeter, Juliaetta. One granddaughter, Barbara Jo Deobald, also survives, as well as a host of other relatives and friends.

Funeral services were conducted by Dr. J. H. Coulter at the Community church in Kendrick, Thursday afternoon, June 29, with Short's Chapel, Moscow, in charge. Burial was in the Moscow cemetery.

Music was furnished by Mrs. H. C. Schupeter at the organ, she also accompanying Bob Lind, who sang "Oh Love That Will Not Let Me Go." At the graveside services he also sang "Nearer My God To Thee."

Palbearers were Robert Draper, Ernest Roberts, Floyd McGraw, Eugene Lind and Herbert and Ernest Schwarz, all life-long friends of the deceased.

Mr. Deobald was a man who made and kept friends — and enemies he had none. He maintained a keen interest in farming and machinery of all kinds, and precision work at a lathe or with other equipment was always his hobby, at which he whiled away many hours. Something "thrown together" did not particularly interest him, but if it involved precision work it drew his attention immediately.

During the time his health permitted Mr. Deobald also took real interest in civic affairs, having served on the local school board and on the board of Village Trustees, as well as taking an active part in the affairs of the Kendrick Commercial Club.

As an indication of the high regard in which he was held, the Community church was packed to capacity, many being seated in the basement, and crowding the entryway. The whole front of the church was a solid mat of flowers, which even overflowed onto the floor.

It is with deepest regret that all see him leave our midst.

Commercial Club Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Kendrick Commercial Club will be held next Wednesday evening, July 12, with the 6:30 dinner to be served at Bur's Confectionery, since the Kendrick Cafe, whose turn it was, is closed.

The business meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m., either in the city hall or in the city park.

United In Marriage

We regret that further details are not available at this time.

Kendrick Cafe Closes

Local residents were greatly surprised Saturday morning to find a sign on the door of the Kendrick Cafe and Tavern reading "Closed Until Further Notice."

The cafe had been operated for about the past two years by Forrest D. Wetterow, he having purchased it from E. M. White.

Further details are lacking at this time.

Road Not Yet Finished

Local residents are getting pretty tired of trying to answer the question "When are they going to have the road between Kendrick and Juliaetta done?" — For, so far as they are concerned, it is the "$64 question," they too would like to know the answer.

Unless our memory fails us, this contract was let last August, and for less than a mile of road. All of last winter local cars plowed through, tearing off the provided detour, pans and clutch housings, and otherwise damaging their vehicles, and then the weather was the excuse.

Today, surfacing operations are still not complete — but we don't know what the excuse may be.

Clarence Perryman, of the state maintenance department, says that it is his understanding oiling operations are to begin soon from Arrow to Kendrick, so we presume somebody will have to get busy and finish the road, or perhaps they will just leave that 200 or 300 yards unfinished.

SUNNY SKIES GREET FOURTH PICNICKERS AT KENDRICK

Sunny skies, but with a breeze that rippled the flags along Kendrick's Main street greeted the goodly crowd of picnickers in Kendrick's city park the Fourth — a crowd that grew to goodly proportions to hear the address of the day by Dr. C. J. Brosnan, University of Idaho, who chose as his topic "Some Idaho Patriotic Yesterdays."

The afternoon program opened with group singing led by Burke Sower, "The Star Spangled Banner." This was followed by the reading of two verses of scripture and a prayer by Rev. Ireland, then the group singing of "America."

Next came the address of the day by Dr. C. J. Brosnan, which dealt with the history of this particular area from the days of the Lewis and Clark expedition, the discovery of gold by Capt. Pierce at Pierce, City and Orofino, right up to our present time.

The address was followed by "Idaho," sung by the children of the Foster and Rowden families.

Harlan Fey and Gerald Halseh then sang and played "Tennessee Waltz," and an encore which was demanded by the audience.

Patty Corlick then tap danced two numbers, which were thoroughly enjoyed.

Next came two numbers by A. G. Peters and Commy Perry, the former playing the violin and Commy the piano.

Mrs. Bob Magnuson then favored the audience with two accordion solos.

Burke Sower, on the saxophone, played a medley of numbers, accompanied by Mrs. Bob Magnuson.

Roy Glenn, master of ceremonies, who also introduced the speaker, called for the oldest person present — and after beginning the hunt in the early '80s, Thor Meland of Southwick admitted to a mere 89 — and was roundly cheered by the crowd. Mr. Meland is hale and hearty. He came to this section in 1892.

"Slim Dossey" and Johnny Carter then entertained with two guitars and songs for a short time.

At the conclusion of the main park program, a series of races and exhibitions was given in the swimming pool.

Of all the races and contests, we learned the names of but two winners, Ernie Heimgartner, Jr., who captured the first of two live gold fish dumped into the water by Mr. Kinney, and Ira Havens, who caught the second one.

Other contests consisted of a pajama race between mixed teams of girls and boys. In this event the contestant dove into the water, clad in pajamas, swam across, peeled off the soggy pajamas, which were done by another contestant, who was met on the other side — and so it went, amidst gales of laughter from the on-lookers, until a winner was declared.

Next came an "egg race" in which two teams of four boys were each given a spoon, and each team a ping-pong ball. The idea was to swim across with the ball on a spoon, transfer it to your partner's spoon, etc., till one team had successfully made four crossings of the pool.

As might be guessed, gales of merriment followed the contestants, as they huffed and puffed and "swam high in the water" in an effort to be successful.

Carl Kinney, lifeguard, assisted by Parker McCreary, then put on series of comic dives, ranging from "the mechanical man" and the "drunk," to the "rusty jackknife" and "baby swan and papa swan." Mr. Kinney also gave imitations of a seal in the water — fat man, slim man and dwarf.

All in all, it might be said we've seen lots bigger crowds in Kendrick, but we don't believe we ever saw one that seemed to enjoy itself more than that of today.

Attendance at the dance the evening of the Third was fair, but a very good crowd was present the evening of the Fourth.

We're sorry we didn't learn the names of all those taking part in the various events, the winners, and the five little song birds of "Idaho," but in the rush attendant with such a day, they escaped us.

Still Gravely Ill

Latest report from the bedside of Archie A. May, gravely ill in a Seattle hospital, is that "he is felling a little better."

Mrs. May and his sister, Mrs. Dora Taylor of Moscow, are at his bedside.

GRAIN MARKETS SHOW VERY SLIGHT UPWARD TENDENCY

Grain markets showed a slight upward trend during the past week, according to reports to the Department of Agriculture. Cash wheat prices ranged from unchanged for winter wheat to 2c per bushel higher for some spring grains. New crop futures reached a new high for the season when the Chicago July delivery advanced to $2.15½c. The market for feed grains made further gains despite large remaining supplies. Corn advanced 3c to 4c per bushel and reached the support level in the main belt. Oats gained 2c to 3c per bushel at the leading markets while barley sold at about the same price as a week ago.

On April 25 the Production and Marketing Administration announced that all unredeemed commodities covered by Farmers' warehouse storage loans maturing on April 30, 1950, will be purchased by the CCC on May 1 of 1950 at the loan value plus interest and charges, or at the market value as of the close of the market on May 1, 1950, which ever is the higher. In the event that market values are in excess of loan price plus interest and charges, the excess will be paid to the producer by the appropriate PMA commodity office.

Producers who had warehouse storage loans and did not pay off the loan, the product came into the possession of the CCC.

Stocks of wheat remaining in the U. S. on April 1 totaled nearly 663,000,000 bushels compared with 586,000,000 a year ago. North American wheat supplies on this date amounted to about 913,000,000 bushels, or about 35,000,000 more than on April 1 a year ago. Supplies at the beginning of the season were 186,000,000 bushels less than a year earlier, but exports of U. S. and Canadian wheat, including flour, to April 1 this season, were 150,000,000 bushels short of those of a year ago and totaled approximately 379,000,000 bushels. The decrease in North American exports was entirely in U. S. wheat, since Canadian exports were about 8,000,000 bushels larger than last season. Domestic disappearance of wheat in the U. S. and Canada at April 1 was 34,000,000 bushels larger than last season and amounted to nearly 632,000,000 bushels.

Marketings of wheat increased slightly during the week despite the smaller movement in the spring wheat area and arrivals at terminals totaled a little over 4,250,000 bushels. The continued unfavorable crop prospects in the southwestern sections of the winter wheat belt, together with late seeding of spring wheat were strengthening features in the wheat market during the past week. At Minneapolis No. 1 dark northern spring, advanced 2c per bushel and was quoted at $2.31. No. 2 red winter at Chicago advanced to $2.32 and at St. Louis to $2.35 per bushel. Winter wheat prices did not follow the advance in spring wheat, influenced in part by a slow milling demand for all but the most desirable types.

Cash wheat trading at Portland continued rather quiet and prices were mostly unchanged compared with a week ago. Export trade remained very small and milling demand was light, which was chiefly responsible for the inactivity in the local market. Offerings of wheat by growers continued quite light at current market values since most remaining supplies are under the government support program and at present market levels producers can not repay loans, plus interest and charges. Exporters reported parcel sales of white wheat to Belgium, amounting to a little less than 2,000 tons during the week. Inspected wheat for export from Pacific Northwest ports during the past week amounted to around 2,100,000 bushels, bringing the total since July 1, 1949, to slightly over 51,000,000 bushels. April 1, 1950, wheat stocks in all positions in Oregon, Washington and northern Idaho were estimated at about 50,000,000 bushels compared with about 54,000,000 on hand April 1, 1949, according to the crop reporting service. Disappearance during the January-March quarter amounted to around 19,100,000 bushels compared with 26,400,000 the same quarter last year. Stocks of wheat included 7,100,000 bushels on farms, 32,600,000 in interior mills, elevators and warehouses, and about 5,000,000 bushels in merchant mills, while that in all other positions amounted to about 5,300,000 bushels. Receipts of wheat at Columbia river and Puget Sound terminals totaled about 819 cars during the week compared with 760 a week earlier. At the close of the market ordinary white or red wheat was quoted at $2.23 per bushel, red winter at $2.26 and hard white at $2.30 per bushel, basis No. 1 grade, coast delivery, 15 day shipment. Export types were unchanged from a week earlier.

Demand for good feed barley at Portland continued rather light but relatively light offerings made for steadiness in the market for this grain and values were generally unchanged to 50c higher than a week ago. Supplies locally were reported as mostly under the government support program or being firmly held by growers for higher prices.

Prices of oats held about steady at Portland during the week as the growers were inclined to hold supplies for higher values and buying interest was quite slow from terminal producers. There was some trading of Willamette valley oats to move to California feeding areas and terminal demand locally continued to be satisfied with a small but steady truck movement.

Might Be Interesting

A scrawny Miss with a brace on her teeth hung around the desk of the librarian diffidently until the latter asked: "Is there any particular book you're trying to make up your mind to ask for?" The scrawny one blushed and whispered, "Do you think I could borrow 'Scouting for Boys'?" — The Reader's Digest.

"Flying Saucers" Good News

The flying saucers are real; they are not made in Russia or in Mars but in the United States; and when the U. S. Air Force sees fit to release information on them it will be good news for Americans. So declares Henry J. Taylor, well known journalist and radio commentator, in the July Reader's Digest. The article is condensed from a broadcast.

The saucers vary in size, Taylor says, from small white disks 20 inches wide to big ones 250 feet across. Nearly all are round; some are flat and edged up like saucers, others are raised in the center like a pie. Some are guided, others are not. They emit no stream of light or smoke, have no indication of a propelling mechanism, and no sound. They can stand stationary in the air, then dash off to right or left with increasing speed. Their function is an important military secret.

Nine out of ten reports of flying saucers are due to imagination or confusion, Taylor states. But several have been substantiated. Nine flying disks, sighted over the west coast by United Airlines Captain E. J. Smith, were real. Five seen over the Cascade mountains of Oregon were real. So were a hundred-foot saucer observed over New Mexico in April, 1949, and a 250-footer sighted over Madisonville, Ky., on January 7, 1948.

The saucer development is "a big and expanding experimental project which has been progressing in the United States for three years," Taylor says. It has gone through three stages, reaching peaks in public observation in July, 1947, January, 1948, and April, 1950. The saucers have grown bigger with each phase.

A "flaming, cigar-shaped object about a hundred feet long," reported over Montgomery, Ala., by two reliable Eastern Airlines pilots, was real, too, the author states. But it was not cigar-shaped, nor was it a "Flying Saucer." It was a U. S. Navy experimental fighter, "a great jet airplane of incredible speed." Though nearly round, its extremely fast flight (another military secret) made it appear elongated and cigar shaped to the human eye.

Chances of finding a flying saucer are slight, because most are made of material which disintegrates in the air. If you should find one, however, you will read the following message stenciled on it:

"Military secret of the United States of America (and a number). Anyone damaging or revealing description or whereabouts of this missile is subject to prosecution by the United States Government. Call collect at once. (Telephone number and address of a U. S. air base). Non-explosive."

Real Substitution

In Quito, Ecuador, a young teacher substituted for a friend who was taking a week's honeymoon. A month later at a party someone started to introduce the groom to her.

"Oh," he answered brightly. "I know Miss R--- very well indeed. She substituted for my wife on our honeymoon." — Reader's Digest.

It Happened Before In Idaho
Gov. C. A. Robins is not the first physician to be governor of Idaho, nor is he the first one to serve a four-year term. McConnell's "Early History of Idaho" relates the following:

"On April 10, 1866, David W. Ballard of Lebanon, Linn county, Oregon, was appointed governor to succeed Governor Lyon.
"Governor Ballard was a physician by profession and came to his duties well recommended. He filled the office of chief executive of the Territory for four years, and at the close of his service he returned to his former home, respected by everyone. He was a man of tranquil temperament, with a clear conception of duty, and a fixed determination to do whatever he conceived to be right."

CUTS HEARING COSTS

The new Mercury battery devised for the armed services, and constantly improved during the last four years, is now safe to charge. The RM 1 is the smallest battery ever made for a hearing aid, being less than a thimble in size, and the charger cuts the cost of operation to a new low. The Mercury battery differs from the carbon type by giving a full level tone from the time you start using it, until it is finished. It can be charged from 2 to 8 times. RAY FARNELL & ASSOCIATES, W. 385 Sprague Ave., Spokane, Wash., distributors of the famous "BELTONE HEARING AID" are pleased to bring you better hearing at a lower cost. SUGGESTS THAT GOVERNMENT ECONOMY IS NEEDED

New defense demand occasioned by the situation in Korea, make it imperative that the senate exercise the strictest economy in its prospective action on the Consolidated Appropriations Bill in the next few weeks, it was asserted this week by The Associated Taxpayers of Idaho. "As the cold war becomes hotter, it should be clear to all Americans that we can't afford the kind of waste that has been shown up in the federal government by the Hoover Commission," said Presley F. Horne, president of the association. "Neither can we afford a handout for everyone who wants one. If we try to combine growing defense expenditures with a growing program of domestic handouts, the net result can only be national insolvency."

The $30 billion measure to pay most of the cost of the federal government in the fiscal year 1951, beginning July 1 this year, is now being prepared by the Senate Appropriations committee for senate action. The House on May 11 passed the present measure, reducing budget requests by an estimated $1.7 billion.

Horne pointed out that despite the $1.7 billion reduction effected in the administration's $42.4 billion budget by the house, the federal government still anticipates a deficit of several billion dollars for the fiscal year 1951.

"If we can't balance the budget now in this period of prosperity, we shall never be able to balance it," said Horne. "The inability of the government to live within its means is especially dangerous at a time like this when we need all the strength of a sound national economy to meet international threats."

It is pointed out that the present tax bill, which would reduce excise and raise corporate tax rates, does not reduce the pressure on the consumer at all because the present high rates force corporations to pass taxes on to buyers of their products through higher prices.

"The solution of the federal fiscal problem is not to raise already excessive taxes, but to cut down waste and unnecessary spending in the federal government," said Horne. "As a Hoover Commission task force pointed out, our national security itself may well depend on economy now. The Associated Taxpayers of Idaho urge every thinking citizen to let Idaho senators know how they feel about the present financial crisis."

License Sales Are Up
Fishing and hunting license sales for May and June have shown some variation with sales of last year, Fay Whitson, Idaho game department clerk, reported this week.

Vendors have submitted reports on sales of 62,261 resident combination fishing and hunting licenses for the two months, and 15,156 resident fish permits. Comparison with the same period last year shows a decrease of 895 on combination and an increase of 421 for resident fish tickets.

Non-residents have purchased 3,981 $10.00 season licenses during the same period and 2,954 five-day tourist licenses. This is an increase of 241 over last year on season permits and a decrease for the five-day non-resident licenses.

License sales were slow this spring because of bad weather conditions that slowed travel and delayed improvement of fishing conditions, particularly back-country dirt roads.

Loyalty Oaths Not New
A great deal is being heard today about loyalty oaths, but such a requirement is not new, for it was demanded in Idaho as long ago as 1866.

The first session of the Idaho Territorial Legislature passed an act requiring attorneys and counselors at law to take an oath of allegiance to the U. S. government. Following the Civil War, the taking of such an oath was considered a great hardship.
