Pool Use Increasing

Use of the Area Living War Memorial Swimming Pool at Kendrick has shown a steady increase in patronage since the Fourth of July — that is until the cool weather of Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Lifeguard Carl Kinney reports a real interest being taken by the youngsters in learning to swim — or in learning to swim better — as there are lessons and classes for four different categories of swimmers — and these lessons are free.

It is still felt, however, that there are many in this territory who are not allowing their children to take advantage of this wonderful opportunity. This knowledge might some day save your child's life, or that of another.

It is realized that to take the car and bring the children to town day after day may be something of a hardship — but in return the child gains a real knowledge of swimming, plus healthful exercise and fun. So take advantage of this golden opportunity. It's never too late to sign up for those lessons — and you, too, can learn to swim, and can enjoy the pool as well as your children.

Saw Cuts Fingers

Jordan Kanikkeberg received a serious and painful injury last Friday while working with a power saw on the Jerry Hegadorn ranch near Moscow.

In reaching over the saw to hold a vibrating piece of material, his left hand didn't clear and the first three fingers were nearly cut off. He was rushed to the hospital, where he underwent surgery in an effort to repair the cut tendons and arteries, spending almost two hours on the table.

He is said to be recovering satisfactorily, and is expected home this week.

MISS BETTY BARBER IS BRIDE OF ROBERT WATTS

The First Methodist Church at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, was the scene of another pretty summer wedding last Thursday evening, July 6, at 8 o'clock, when Miss Betty Barber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Barber of that city became the bride of Robert Watts, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Watts of Kendrick, in the presence of some 100 relatives and friends.

Against the altar, which was decorated with large bouquets of pastel colored gladioli and carnations, and flanked by tiered candelabra, the marriage vows were read by Rev. R. Tibbits, pastor of the church, the double ring ceremony being used.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Horace Barber, was dressed in a pale pink frosted organza dress, and wore a white off-the-face hat and white accessories. Her bouquet was pink rose buds and stephanotis.

Her sister, Patricia Barber, was maid of honor. She was attired in an aqua eyelet embroidered dress with white accessories and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The groom wore the conventional dark suit with white boutonniere, and had as his best man his brother, Joe Watts of Moscow.

Harold Barber sang "Oh Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Burkholz, who also played Loehengrin's Wedding March.

Eugene Lind of Kendrick and Walter McCall, Jr., of Coeur d'Alene, served as ushers.

Both mothers of the young couple were attractively dressed in summer silk print dresses and were complimented with white hats and white accessories. Each wore a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Following the ceremony the guests followed the young couple to the home of her parents, where a reception was held on the spacious lawn at the rear of the home — a lawn fringed in tall pines, which made it a beautiful spot.

After the traditional first piece of cake was cut by the bride and groom, Mrs. Van Kleek finished cutting the cake and the guests were served by Miss Mary Garby and Miss Patricia Barber.

The young couple left immediately after the reception for Seattle, Portland, and other coast points on their honeymoon, and will be at home to their friends in Coeur d'Alene, Bob being employed at Farragut.

Bob was born and reared in Kendrick, and has a host of friends.

He graduated from the Kendrick High school and attended the U. of I. for three and a half years.

Must Register At Eighteen

Boise, Idaho — Provisions of the extended Selective Service Act obligating registration and other obligations of men after they become 18 years old are identical with provisions of the Act before extension, as are other provisions of the Act, with only two exceptions. Obligations under the law are in no way altered by the two new provisions.

The extended Selective Service Law, like the 1948 Act, requires the registration of all young men — with very few exceptions — within five days after their eighteenth birthday.

The registration process is very simple and requires only a short time. The data thus gathered is sent to the local board of the community he terms his home and which has jurisdiction over him.

There is no liability for service under the Act until the age of 19 is reached, but the obligation to register at 18 is emphasized. The law is specific and provides severe penalty for failure to comply. The law is also specific in its requirements concerning obligation of a registrant to keep his local board informed as to any change in his address — where he may be reached by mail, that is — or change in his status under the Act.

Our Note: There are pages of this information, but apparently the chief ones are to "register and keep your local board informed."

The Girl Scouts are extending to all a special "Thank You" for cooperating with us the 4th of July. — Frances Dammarell, G. S. Reporter.

NELLIE FRY BECOMES BRIDE OF JOHN HERBERT MILLARD

Saturday, July 1, at 8:00 p. m. the Cameron Emmanuel Church at Cameron, Idaho, was a very pretty setting for the exchange of marriage vows between Nellie Fry and John Millard, at a candlelight ceremony.

The church was beautifully decorated with madonna lillies and evergreens, while baskets of colorful snapdragons, peonies, roses and other summer flowers banked the altar.

The Rev. Theo Meske read the impressive double-ring ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fry, pioneer residents of Kendrick, was beautiful in the traditional white satin and lace wedding gown, with full court train.

Her veil was of finger-tip length with coronet of pearls. She carried a white prayer book on which rested a small bouquet of pink and white rosebuds.

Doris Israel, matron of honor, chose a blue satin gown and carried a bouquet of pink carnations, and Louella Fry, bridesmaid, wore rose satin with delicate yellow carnations for her bouquet. The candle lighters, Helen and Dolores Brocke, wore formals in delicate pastel shades.

As Miss Dorothy Meyer played Loehengrin's Wedding March, little Jillian Wegner, the bride's niece, made a very pretty picture dressed in floor-length yellow taffeta, scattering rose petals as she led the bridal party up the aisle.

The groom, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Millard, also pioneer residents of this area, was attended by his brother, Don, acting as best man, and Donald Fry, a brother of the bride.

Reginald Wegner, a nephew, acted as ring bearer. The ushers were Glen Wegner, a brother-in-law, and Norman Fry, a brother of the bride.

Mrs. Theo Meske sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Through the Years," accompanied on the piano by Miss Meyer.

Mrs. Fry, the bride's mother, wore a gray suit with white accessories. Mrs. Millard, the groom's mother, chose to wear a sheer print with pink accessories. Both wore pink rosebud corsages.

One hundred-fifty guests were in attendance. Those from out-of-town were: Mr. and Mrs. Don Johnston and family from Lenore, Idaho; Mrs. Lettie Israel and son Marlin from Clarkston, Mr. and Mrs. William Israel, also from Clarkston; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Buler and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Buler, Culdesac; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Millard and daughter Vickie Jo, Lewiston; Mr. and Mrs. Everett Millard, Portland, Ore.; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Millard, Clarkston; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Millard and son Duane, Ashshika; Mr. and Mrs. Einar Tveit, Clarkston; Mr. and Mrs. Onal Cope, Juliaetta; Mrs. Ozzie Nykankeberg, Orofino; Stan Soderberg, Orofino; Miss June Brown, Milton Snyder and Tom Tuder, Lewiston.

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held in the Ladies Aid hall. The bride and groom cut the first slice of the beautiful four-tier cake, after which Mrs. Robert Buler, the groom's aunt, finished serving. The cake was made by Mrs. Theo Meske and Mrs. Glen Wegner.

Mrs. Don Johnston, a sister of the bride, poured, and Mrs. Gerald Millard presided at the punch bowl. Don Johnston, a brother-in-law, and Wm. Fry, a brother, assisted in the serving of refreshments. Glen Wegner, Jr., and Rhoda Johnston, a nephew and niece of the bride, were in charge of the guest book.

After opening the wedding gifts, the happy young couple made an unexpected escape from their guests. They spent their honeymoon in southern Idaho, and while there, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fry and family.

Both the young people are graduates of the Kendrick High school, where Herb was a member of the all-state basketball team champions in 1947. He has attended the University of Idaho for the past two years and intends to re-enter this fall.

While in school Nellie took part in many activities, and was very popular with all.

The very best wishes of the community go out to this young couple, who are now at home to their friends in Kendrick.

Weather Cools Off Bit

Following the "heat wave" of last week-end, which sent the mercury climbing to as high as 96 degrees, the thundershowers which the weatherman had been predicting for a couple of days, arrived Sunday, soaking picnickers, as well as gardens, hay (most of which was down), and bean and pea fields.

The moisture was welcomed by the bean, pea and clover raisers, but decidedly unwelcome to those who had hay on the ground. However, Monday morning skies cleared, a gentle wind began to blow, and the cooler weather was welcomed by everyone.

MISS LOIS DEOBALD MARRIES JAMES S. LEGG JUNE 14

Miss Lois Deobald, daughter of Mrs. W. B. Deobald, Kendrick, Idaho, and James S. Legg, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Legg, Tacoma, Washington, were united in marriage on June 14, at 4:00 p. m., at the Central Methodist Church in Spokane.

The setting for the ceremony was formed with baskets of pink and white peonies and candleabras of pink candles. The candle-lighters, Miss Alicia Ann Legg, a sister of the groom, and Dolores Horn, friend of the bride, wore aqua taffeta gowns of the same design and wristlet corsages of pink roses.

The groom's mother was ushered in by Albert Christensen. She was dressed in a silk afternoon dress of a floral print on navy, complimented with white accessories and a corsage of deep pink carnations.

The bride's mother wore a navy sheen afternoon dress with pink and navy accessories. Her corsage was of deep pink carnations. Warren Durham seated her just before the ceremony.

From the balcony of the sanctuary came the strains of "I Love You Truly." This was sung by the fourteen-voiced girls' choir from the Whitman Grade School, where the bride teaches.

Miss Frances Arimond sang the Beethoven "Ich Liebe Dich" in German. At the organ was Gilbert Philco.

The groom and his best man, Merle A. Legg, Jr., a brother, entered, dressed in summer tuxedos.

Leading the bridal procession was the maid of honor, Miss Gay Deobald, the bride's sister. Her gown was pale pink French organza embroidered with matching gauntlets, a pink and white lace headpiece and a bouquet of pink roses.

To the traditional strains of Loehengrin's "Bridal Chorus," the bride entered on the arm of her brother, W. A. Deobald. Her gown was fashioned of white nylon marquette and lace in colonial style with bassue waist and hoop skirt. A round neck yoke, long sleeves tapering to a point over the hand and the full skirt flowing into a long train complemented the design of the dress. Her finger-tip veil was crowned with an orange blossom tins. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Theron B. Maxson, Dean of Mean of Whitworth College, assisted by Rev. Noel C. LeRoque, pastor of the Central Methodist church.

Following the Lord's Prayer, the girl's chorus sang the prayer-hymn "O Perfect Love."

After the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors.

The couple left on their wedding trip to Berkeley, California, where Mr. Legg is attending summer school at the University of California. In the fall they will return to Spokane. Mrs. Legg teaches music in the city public schools, and Mr. Legg is assistant professor of biology at Whitworth College.

Smut Meeting On Bear Ridge
Dwarf smut infestation in various varieties of winter wheat and identification and control of clover seed insects will be the subjects of the field day at the Community Hall on Big Bear Ridge, Monday morning, July 17. This meeting will start at 10:00 o'clock.

The dwarf smut infestations will show the degrees of resistance of several varieties. Included are Golden, Elgin, Elmar, Hymar, Rex, Orfed and Triplett. These varieties are in a test plot on the farm of Gerald Ingle. It was established through the cooperation of Mr. Ingle, W. K. Pope of the University of Idaho Agronomy department, and the Latah county agent's office.

H. C. Manis of the Entomology department of the university of Idaho will assist those present with the identification of clover insects and will discuss recommendations for their control.

Family Reunion Held
A family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Downing, Post Falls, Ida., July 4th. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Hupp and family of Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hupp and daughter, Cora Lee of Sandpoint; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Rinicking, San Diego, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Downing and children of Philadelphia, Penn.; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Ingle and children, Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Ingle, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Galloway, all of Kendrick; Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Israel and son Bobby and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Nethkin, Clarkston.

A picnic dinner was enjoyed, and the afternoon spent in visiting. Almost all of those present were or are Kendrick area residents.

Picnics Rained Out
Two area picnics held last Sunday, one at Spalding Park, the other at Slind's Grove, were "rained out" last Sunday.

The Kendrick Masonic Lodge was picnicking at the Spalding Park, and the Big Bear Lutheran church and their friends in Slind's Grove.

However, plates were filled somehow, and the "eats" consumed in cars.

Following the Big Bear ridge picnic church services were held in the church, special music being furnished by four members of the St. Olaf's Choir from St. Olaf's College at Northfield, Minnesota — who are in this area working in the blister rust near Potlatch.

Bids Are Called For
In this week's issue of the Gazette will be found the official state call for bids for the oiling of the road from Spalding to and through Kendrick — and this publication puts to rest all the rumors that have been flying the past months such as "Bet they'll never do it, we've heard that stuff before."

Although the legal terminology is given, exact points as we know them are not — but Clarence Perryman says it is his understanding that the oil mat is to extend to the Deary-Orofino road junction at the foot of Big Bear ridge.

Family Reunion Held
A family reunion and picnic dinner was enjoyed Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Gentry.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Holt and family of Sacramento, Calif., and Mrs. Gentry's sister, Velma Norris, also of Sacramento; Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Holt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Holt and family and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hall and family.

Wins Beauty Contest

Lovely Blanch Diehl, SES major, was voted "Miss Air Force of 1950" in impressive ceremonies held Sunday, June 25, in the "Patio Gardens of Hotel Chase in Santa Monica.

Seventy other beauties from all over the U. S. provided keen competition in the V. F. W. sponsored contest. Hollywood celebrities and Air Force men awarded the crown to Blanche on the basis of beauty, poise and personality.

Girls from every state in the union participated in the contest to represent each branch of the Armed Forces. The contest was sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, who are convening in Los Angeles for their annual state convention. Of the 70 contestants participating, glamorous eighteen-year old Blanche won the hearts of the Air Force boys who selected her to represent the flying arm of the United States.

Officers of the Air Force and leading dance directors and producers from the motion picture capital served as judges in the difficult task of picking the winner. Ernie Westmore, famed make-up artist presented Blanche with an autographed book on Poise, Beauty and Personality. She also received a blouse by Hollywood Creations.

Climaxing the contest, "Miss Air Force of 1950" was presented with a gold trophy crowned with a replica of a Winged Goddess. Blanche, whose poise, charm and personality won out over the other contestants, graciously accepted the honors. — Santa Monica Newspaper.

Note: Miss Diehl is a granddaughter of Frank Wilken, and well known here in Kendrick, having visited often in his home the past several years. Her home is now at Hermosa Beach, Calif.

Cigarette Believed Fire Cause
A cigarette thrown from a passing car was said to be the probable cause of a grass fire which burned over about a quarter-acre of land near Arrow Junction on the Spalding-Kendrick highway Saturday.

Henry Jones, district fire warden, said the fire was probably started from a cigarette. About 200 piled fence posts were destroyed and farm buildings were threatened on land owned by Ned Wilson.

Jones and Deputy Tommy Long extinguished the blaze, using a power pump and tank mounted on the back of one of the pick-up trucks.

Henry reminds all drivers to use extreme caution with burning material of any kind during the fire season. He warned that any driver found throwing burning materials from a car or truck will be arrested and prosecuted. He also warned that no burning, except on extreme emergencies, and then only on a permit, will be allowed.

This area's record of low fire losses last year was one to be proud of, and a real effort is going to be made to keep it that way this season.

Ball Diamond Work Going
At "long-last" Kendrick is again to have a ball diamond, work on the field now being in progress. It is being done by the F. H. DeAtley Construction Co. of Lewiston.

A new, 18-inch drain tile has been installed across the field, and covered, which will add to the playing area. The work is under the direction of Dave Jones, state engineer.

When leveling and sloping is completed, (a joint project of the Kendrick School district and the Village of Kendrick) it is planned to install lights for night baseball, enough of these now being on hand for softball — but more will be added.

This fall it is planned to seed the diamond, so Kendrick should have the best playing field it has ever seen.

Community Bible School
The Community Church is sponsoring a Bible School for children of the community, beginning Monday, July 17, at 9:30 a. m., in the church basement — and will last two weeks.

Five classes will be offered, beginning with the Nursery class through the 9th grade. Bible lessons, special music, hand work, recreation and refreshments have been planned to make the two weeks worth while and interesting. All children of the community are cordially invited to attend.

The following staff of teachers are in charge:

Mrs. John Darby, director; Mrs. Bob Magnuson, Mrs. George Brocke, Jr., Mrs. Hiram Galloway, Mrs. Howard Hoffman and Mrs. Kenneth Brocke.

P-T. A. Canning Committee
Mrs. Elmo Eldridge, chairman for the P-T. A. Canning committee asks that all patrons within the district with surplus berries, fruit or vegetables please contact their local chairman, so that arrangements can be made to take care of them.

In the event you do not know the local chairman, call Mrs. Eldridge.

Shower
Mrs. Albert Trenkle was complimented at a pink and blue shower June 29, in the home of Mrs. Walter McCall, assisted by Mrs. Ronald Jones, Mrs. Dick McCall, Mrs. Norman Fry and Gwen Cook.

Following the opening of her many lovely and useful gifts, delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

New Arrival
Mr. and Mrs. Albert Trenkle are the proud parents of an eight pound baby daughter, born to them July 7 at the home of her mother, Mrs. Ida Pemberton. The little lady has been named Marla Faye.

Measuring Roads
Monday and Tuesday Hiram Galloway and Tom Long spent the time measuring the roads maintained by the Kendrick Highway district, and preparing a report thereon — as required for the distribution of state money under the lately amended law.

It was quite a job — for guesswork wouldn't do. The figures had to be accurate.

The Power PUD Doesn't Need

On the face of it, the Chelan county, Washington, PUD has about as much need for the Pacific Power & Light Co.'s Merwin dam and power plant as a car needs a fifth wheel. Less, in fact. On the other hand southwest Washington and northwest Oregon consumers need every kilowatt Merwin can produce, and more. You see, the Chelan PUD, with headquarters in Wenatchee, has already filed a condemnation suit against the Washington Water Power company for acquisition of its 48,000-kilowatt plant at the foot of Chelan lake.

If its more recent condemnation suit to acquire the Merwin plant with its 80,000-kilowatt capacity were successful, the PUD would have 138,000 kilowatts at its disposal in these two plants. And its peak demand for 1949 was only 26,000 kilowatts. Thus it would have more than four times the power capacity it needs.

There is this further factor. Chelan PUD now buys most of its power from the Bonneville power administration at less than 3 mills. It generates a small amount of power at a cost of more than 3 mills. Thus it has an assured power supply at a low rate. If it were to acquire the Merwin plant (which cost approximately $12,000,000) and build a transmission line from Merwin to Wenatchee, about 150 air miles away, it would have a high-priced system and no immediate market for three-fourths of its production. Rates would be bound to rise.

One can only assume that this is another one of those fantastic deals cooked up by Guy C. Myers, the public power promoter. He teamed up with Howard L. Aller, president of American Power & Light, recently in an effort to make a quick buck out of the Pacific Power & Light common stock, only to be cut down by SEC.

Myers, who is said to have tried without success to interest the Cowlitz, Clark and Klickitat PUDs in the Merwin property, doesn't need to worry about how much Chelan

PUD might have to pay for the Merwin plant or severance damages the court would have to award.

Nor does he have to worry about one power area's invasion of another power area, to the detriment of the consumers of both.

All he has to worry about is his commission, and the higher the price the fatter his commission. — Portland, Tre., Journal.

Milk And Egg Production Up

U. of I., Moscow — Cows and hens in Idaho are right up with the busy bee this spring.

Figures received by the University of Idaho extension service show that dairy stock and poultry have been hitting the ball at a brisk clip. April production of milk was estimated at 105 million pounds, two million pounds more than in 1949. Figures for May are expected to be even higher and the production in June, national dairy month, is likely to hit a seasonal peak higher than last year. Idaho was one of several eastern states where pastures have been delayed by cool weather.

Idaho's 1,800,000 hens laid about 33,000,000 eggs during the month, according to the crop reporting board of the department of agriculture. That's a jump of 3,000,000 over April of 1949. There were 200,000 more hens on the job this year than last, and from January 1st to May 1st (latest figures) nearly 118,000,000 eggs were laid in Idaho.

Counties Vary Greatly In Size

Idaho's largest county, Idaho county, is 26 times the size of the smallest county, which is Payette. Idaho county has 8,539 square miles while Payette county has only 414 square miles. Owyhee county with 7,956 square miles is second in size to Idaho county, and Teton county is only a little larger than Payette. Teton county has 463 square miles.

Size of the county is not indicative of its wealth or population, the figures show. Such counties as Madison, Franklin, Gem, Jerome, Canyon, Gooding and others, are among the smallest in the state in size.

To Count Moose

Idaho's moose population will have little privacy this week. P. J. McDermott, big game supervisor, reports. The fish and game department's aerial moose census is under way over the snowy hills of far eastern Idaho.

Special cameras will photograph the big animals, now concentrated in open juniper areas near Ashton, and the census will be made from prints. Idaho's moose population was about 1,200 animals in 1949. Joe Monaghan, pilot and Wesley Shaw, conservation officer, St. Anthony, will conduct the census.

Farm life in the Inland Empire is more pleasant and profitable now that low-cost electricity is available to nearly all farms. The beautiful electric kitchen at the left and the efficient hay-drier at the right are just two examples of many ways electricity is used for better farm living and better farming.

Life Is Electric on Pacific Northwest Farms Area Now Leads Nation In Rural Electrification

The Pacific Northwest was settled by families of pioneer stock, with an instinct to discover new and better ways to work and to live. So it is natural that use of electricity on the farm appeared early in this area. In 1942, The Washington Water Power Company showed leadership among private electric companies by transferring Bonneville Power to REAs over Company transmission lines, thus helping to give REA customers the benefit of electricity. At present some 6,000,000 kilowatt hours are transferred each month to REAs over Company lines.

Pioneering Done by Private Enterprise Companies

It is believed that the first line extension intended exclusively for farm customers was built near Bellingham,

Nearly fifty years ago, when electricity was unattainable to most farm people, Washington Water Power began extending its lines to farms. Now linemen from both REAs and the Company are finishing jobs in an area which leads nearly all the nation in percentage of farms electrified.

Washington, in 1906—but the Washington Water Power Company extended its service to Medical Lake in 1905, and to Colfax, Palouse, and Cheney shortly afterward. These extensions were the healthy roots from which grew the present Washington Water Power rural line system, serving much of eastern Washington and northern Idaho. Washington State, itself, is 96.6 per cent electrified; Idaho is 97.6 per cent electrified.

REA Aids Growth of Rural Electrification

In 1935 REA was created by executive order, and its efforts were effective in complementing those of private enterprise systems. By 1939, 52 per cent of Idaho's farms were electrified, 54 per cent of Oregon's farms had electric service, and Washington's farms were 64 per cent electrified. In Idaho four years after the REA was organized, private enterprise systems were serving nearly 20,000 rural customers and the REA 1,500; in Oregon, private and municipal systems served some 42,500 farms and the REA 736, in Washington, farms served by private utilities and scattered municipalities numbered 49,000 and those served by REA 2,444.

Use Varied and Valuable

Today electricity is low in cost and high in use on Pacific Northwest farms, compared with any other large region in the nation. The farm is rare in this area that doesn't use electricity for power in many ways—in addition to its use for adequate, safe light in farm home and other buildings. Electric pumping of water for every possible need is almost universal—and electricity powers farm machine shop equipment, sprayers, hay-lifting devices, feed choppers, and many other tools of modern agriculture.

Farm Electrification Figures in Area Impressive

By the end of 1949, Washington had 96.6 per cent of its farms electrified, compared with a national average of 78.2 per cent. The Washington Water Power Company alone was serving 16,007 farm customers, with an average customer use of 6,256 kilowatt hours annually, while the national average farm use of electricity was only 2,596 kwh a year.

Foresee Billion Barrels Jet Fuel from Oil Shale

Jet engine fuel by the billions of barrels can be produced from the Green river oil shale formation in northwestern Colorado, Dr. J. D. Lankford, acting chief, of the United States bureau of mines oil-shale demonstration plant in Rifle, Colo., reports.

Low cost oil shale mining already has been found feasible, Dr. Lankford says, and he predicts that the present trickle of 100 to 300 barrels of gasoline and Diesel fuel from the formation will become a mighty torrent as techniques improve.

"It is estimated that 88 volume per cent of the crude shale oil could be converted into a hydrogenated product containing a premium Diesel oil and a high-quality jet fuel practically free of sulfur, oxygen and nitrogen compounds," Dr. Lankford stated. "If desired, the hydrogenated material could be converted easily to gasoline by standard petroleum refining processes."

"The United States bureau of mines oil-shale demonstration plant at Rifle, Colo., is engaged in an integrated research and experimental program to point the way toward the development of a tremendous natural resource, oil shale, for possible wartime emergency and for the ultimate peacetime production of liquid fuels by private industry."

"Billions of barrels of liquid fuels are potentially available from the oil shale of the Green river formation of northwestern Colorado. Research and development work will be necessary over an extended period of time to bring this great natural resource to the stage where utilization will be possible."

Again Linden Correspondent
Following the resignation of Mrs. Chas. Keeler as our Linden correspondent, Mrs. Al. Pederson has consented to write for us, temporarily — and in the mean time we are asking that residents of that area help her out by phoning in or sending her their items. All such help will be greatly appreciated.

Card Of Thanks
The people of the Assembly of God Church wish to express our appreciation and thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wright for the use of their bakery on July 4th — also thanks to everyone for your patronage.

You cannot raise beef, produce milk and grow wheat and potatoes in the same field. The farmer's must build fences. Now take barbed wire. We used to buy an 80-rod spool of a standard galvanized barbed wire for less than $3.00 a roll. Today, we have to pay from $8.50 to $9.50 a roll for the same wire. So it is with everything the farmers must buy. You cannot take away the farmers' purchasing power and keep the people that work in factories employed. If we are to have a stable national economy and general prosperity, we must have support prices for agricultural products.
