Highway Has Priority
The Gazette is in receipt of the following letter from J. J. McCreedy, District Engineer, which is self-explanatory, as follows:

Re: S. R. No. 42
Spalding-Deary
Nez Perce & Latah Counties
Gentlemen:

I noted in the issue of your paper under date of July 13th, 1950, an item regarding the proposed oiling project from Spalding to and through Kendrick to the foot of the Bear Ridge grade on which bids are called for July 21st, 1950.

While a portion of this highway between Kendrick and Juliaetta is not up to the standard for a highway of this importance, it seems very desirable to at least do what we can at this time to abate the dust nuisance which creates a serious traffic hazard.

The uncompleted section between Juliaetta and Kendrick has been given first priority for future improvement in Latah County, but I believe the people of the Juliaetta-Kendrick area will appreciate having a dustless road to travel between these points until this improvement can be made.

New Grain Tube Going Up
Work was begun last week by the Lewiston Grain Growers on the construction of a new 61,000 bushel steel bulk grain tube on land just to the west of their present elevator. The new bin will be connected to their present elevator machinery.

It is set on a concrete slab, with concrete base walls and control tunnel. The warehouse and elevator and scale approaches at their elevator have been surfaced with asphalt, to keep down dust and due away with the slippage as trucks are handled.

On their upper warehouse, in the east part of town, a modernization and repair program has been completed that increased the capacity of the plant by 20,000 bushels. The new machinery installed will also permit much faster handling of grain as well as simplified controls.

Ben Westendahl, local manager for the company says that with the 81,000 bushels of bulk storage space thus gained they expect to be able to handle all grain, despite the big crop in prospect this fall.

Thunder and Rain Storm
A thunder storm, accompanied by a brief heavy rain hit the Kendrick area Wednesday morning.

VERY SMALL NUMBER IN ATTENDANCE AT C. C. MEET

It seemed to be a case of too many ball games, other meetings, or just perhaps the hot weather, but at any rate there were but 12 members present at the meeting of the Kendrick Commercial Club Wednesday evening of last week.

Following the reading and approval of the Minutes of the previous meeting and the allowance of bills, other matters were taken up.

A representative of the Patterson Playground Equipment Co. in California was present, and showed the club models of their products, suggesting that one or more items be installed in the city park. After some discussion, it was decided to consult with the local P. T. A. before making any commitments on the matter.

Tom Long of the Highway committee stated that bids for the oiling of the road from Spalding to the Big Bear ridge junction were now being called for — and that the expected results would be very welcome indeed. He added that there was no new information on the rebuilding of the Brady Gulch road — but hopes were held that it would be done this fall.

Mr. Long said that the measuring of the roads in the Kendrick Highway District (those maintained by the district) was now completed, and showed about 50 miles of surfaced road and 8 to 10 miles of dirt road. A compressor is working on the Little Bear Ridge grade preparatory to widening a portion of that road — and otherwise all roads in the district were in good shape. It seems that under the new set-up highway district maintenance money is all located on a road mileage basis rather than on licenses — so just how this will affect the local district is not known at present.

Gerald Ingle reporting for the Education committee stated that the state school inspector had been a recent visitor here, and recommended that a building engineer give the local school a thorough inspection. This was done, but his report had not as yet been received.

W. L. McCreary, reporting for the Publicity committee stated that the placards and other advertising matter being used for the Area Living War Memorial Swimming Pool was having results, and attendance had shown a good increase — although there apparently were still many not taking advantage of the fine opportunity offered to learn to swim, as well as to have fun in the water.

Reporting for the Agricultural Committee W. A. Watts stated that the hay crop locally was excellent, and that rain damage amounted to but very little. He added that all crops gave promise on an excellent yield, but smut was plentiful.

Dr. D. A. Christensen, reporting for the Civic Improvement committee stated that Kendrick was apparently taking a greater interest than ever in their homes, as lawns were better cared for and house better painted. A kept up than for many years. He also stated that the Kendrick Rochdale Co. and the Lewiston Grain Growers had improved their properties by the addition of surfaced warehouse and scale approaches — a real improvement. He also mentioned that new elevator tubes were being planned by the Lewiston Grain Growers and the work of filling and laying a concrete foundation for them was underway.

L. S. Thurber, reporting for the Merchants committee stated that business was about average for this time of the year — but what effect the present war news might have was hard to say.

No member of the Program or Entertainment committees was present, but the club extended them a vote of thanks for their work the 4th — believing it one of the best, if not the best program, presented in many years. The dance, finance, and other committees participating were also thanked.

E. A. Deobald, reporting for the Fish and Game committee stated that as usual, fishing in this area was very poor. In regard to Chinese pheasants, old birds apparently wintered well, despite the snow and cold, but it was feared the heavy rains of last month had drowned and killed many of the spring hatch, as but very few young birds are being seen.

Adding to the report Dr. Christensen said that quail had wintered very well, at least here in the canyon, and that many young were to be seen.

Reporting for the Boy Scout committee Dr. Christensen stated that quite a number of the local Scouts were enjoying a week at Camp Grizzly, Laird Park, near Potlatch. He added that it was the first time local boys had been able to take part in such an event — and it was a very fine vacation for them.

There followed a round-table discussion of ways and means to increase attendance at the meetings — a matter which will be discussed at future gatherings.

Losers Fingers At Mill
Al Pederson of Linden, who was operating the edger saw at the Lewis Sawmill, Kendrick, lost the first joints from the second and third fingers of his left hand Thursday morning of last week, when they were caught in the saw.

He also lost the tip of his little finger, and tore considerable skin from the inside of his first finger.

First aid was applied and he was then rushed to Orofino, where he entered a hospital there, and where he received treatment.

Big Crowd At 4 H Picnic

The annual Nez Perce County 4-H and Home Demonstration Clubs annual picnic was held in the Kendrick park Sunday, for the second year — and a crowd estimated to number 400 were present. Of this total 185 took advantage of the Area Living War Memorial Swimming Pool for a cooling dip. In fact, many were hardly out of the water long enough to allow their bountiful picnic lunch to settle.

Clubs were present from Lewiston, Lapwai, Reubens, Culdesac, Gifford, Leland and Southwick, there being 22 different organizations registered — and all reported a wonderful time.

The clubs and their leaders sincerely appreciate the Kendrick hospitality, and wish to thank the Kendrick Commercial Club, the Village, the lifeguards, the Kendrick Co-operative Creamery, and all others for their hospitality and donations.

HELP IN CHOOSING COURSE AVAILABLE AT U. OF IDAHO

U. of I. Moscow — "How do I know whether I want to be a doctor, a lawyer or an engineer?" Many high school student graduates are asking themselves that question during the summer before attending their state universities and colleges.

Old alums will remember when they had doubts of their own futures. But at the University of Idaho such doubts are well on their way to extinction — along with the coonskin coat.

Playing a leading role in the extinction process is the University of Idaho's Student Counseling Service. Organized in the fall of 1945, it has advised hundreds of students in the direction of fields of study where they have the highest interests and best chances for success.

Before entering the university, many high school students have doubts as to the field of study to enter. Old college students often switch from one field of training to another, attempting to find a successful place. The student counseling service helps them both.

The Veterans' Administration saw such problems arising in 1945, when the first flood of veterans reached the University of Idaho campus. The service was set up on a one-man basis with C. H. Bond acting as veteran's counselor. Now, five years later, the service has been extended to take in any student desiring guidance, and Bond, C. O. Decker, a specialist in student guidance, and C. L. Woodward, university psychologist, devote full time to the program.

How does student counseling work? Take the case of Jim Jackson, an 18-year-old, enrolling at the university for the first time. Jim knows his interest but does not know how they can be woven into plans for his life's work. He applies for counseling at the University of Idaho service.

During a two-hour interview with Decker, he reveals his high school and childhood interests and experiences. Decker, with his specialized training, begins to get an idea of Jim's potentialities which can be further explored by objective examination. During the next few days, a battery of tests, administered by Woodward, are taken and the results tabulated. Let's look in on the return interview with Decker.

"First of all, Jim," Decker is saying, "interest scores do not measure ability. They merely suggest possible areas which you should explore. Ability and specific aptitude to go along with interests is important. Motivation plus efficient, effective and adequate study play a big part."

"Our tests show us, however, that you appear to have high ability along creative lines. Indications show that you would do well in a profession where you could work with people and still be creative. Journalism, advertising or perhaps architecture are along the lines we suggest you study."

Jim took the advice of the counselor and enrolled in journalism and advertising. He now works on the advertising staff of the university newspaper and plans to go into the field for a career.

The same procedure is used for students who wish to change their course of study. Most schools and colleges of the University of Idaho advise that students go through counseling before changing their study plans. For veteran students, studying on the GI Bill, it is a must. The university makes no charge for the service, either to prospective students or old students.

"The record of the guidance service speaks for itself," says Decker. "Any traveler moves faster when he is on the right road."

The little 10-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Spencer of Juliaetta is ill with spinal meningitis, becoming ill Monday.

GRAIN MARKETS FIRMER DUE MOSTLY TO WAR NEWS

Grain markets were firm during the past week, with war conditions the principal strengthening factor, according to reports to the Market News Service of the Department of Agriculture. Prices made moderate gains, except on oats and flaxseed, which turned downward toward a new crop basis. Demand became more active both for grain and grain products with buyers more inclined to accumulate stocks because of the unsettled conditions created by the war in Korea. Crop prospects were more favorable at the first of the month than a month earlier and a larger production of wheat, corn and oats was indicated than on June 1.

Prospects for wheat improved in June and at the first of July indications were for a U. S. crop of about 721 million bushels of winter wheat and 236 million bushels of spring wheat, making a total of about 957 million bushels against last year's production of 1,146 million bushels. Prospects have improved in Canada and almost ideal conditions prevail in Manitoba. Conditions are also favorable in Saskatchewan but more rain will be required to maintain present prospects. Good wheat crops are indicated in most European countries.

Marketings of wheat continued to increase during the week and over 17,500,000 bushels were received at the principal terminals. Domestic demand was active and current offerings were readily taken at advancing prices. Some export business was reported but exports from the 1949 crop were much smaller than during the previous season. Sales of wheat and flour under the International Wheat Agreement from the first of August, 1949, through July 4, 1950, amounted to only 156,000,000 bushels, which left about 80,000,000 bushels yet to be sold before the first of August. Total exports of wheat and flour during the 1949-1950 season, ended June 30, were a little under 295 million bushels against 503 million bushels for the previous season.

Prices of wheat advanced 3c to 5c per bushel in most markets, but winter wheat was still selling at 5c to 10c below loan values. At the close of the market ordinary protein No. 2 hard winter was quoted at $2.23 at Chicago; $2.19 at Kansas City and $2.39 at Fort Worth.

In the Pacific Northwest (Oregon, Washington and northern Idaho) the 1950 all wheat crop made favorable progress in June and on July 1 production was estimated at 98,641,000 bushels by the Crop Reporting Service. This compares with the 1949 production of 91,625,000 bushels and the average of 90,760,000 bushels. July 1 estimates in this area were increased over 6,000,000 bushels from the June 1 forecast — the result of timely rains. Harvesting in some areas began early in the week and according to trade reports cutting will become fairly general next week. There has been no carload arrivals at the principal markets as yet, but reports indicate that samples from the early fields have graded No. 2 on account of a test weight around 59 pounds per bushel.

There was increased activity in the cash wheat markets of the Pacific Northwest during the past week. Export sales were reported covering around 17,500 tons and included one cargo of old crop red wheat to Peru and the remainder of new crop red wheat to Italy, Norway and Belgium. Demand from millers remained moderately active particularly for nearby shipment supplies, to cover domestic flour sales and a fair export business to the Philippine Islands. Offerings of new crop wheat were small at current bids, which were 4c to 5c under the loan rate and old crop supplies were limited. The CCC offered No. 1 soft white wheat to millers at $2.20, and ordinary protein hard red winter at $2.25 per bushel, track basis. The same grades were offered exports at 3 1/2c per bushel more, 2 c. b. ship. Sales by the CCC during the week totaled 428,385 bushels and brought the total sales since May 1 to 2,176,946 bushels. Cash bids at Portland at the week's close were $2.16 1/2c per bushel for No. 1 soft white and hard red wheat. This represented an advance of 1 1/2c for the week. Cash sales on No. 1 soft white at the close of the week were light and generally ranged from $2.16 to $2.17 per bushel.

Receipts of wheat at the principal Pacific Northwest terminals amounted to around 521 cars compared with 348 a week ago. There was some indication of a box car shortage as the week closed. Inspected wheat for export from Pacific Northwest ports totaled 354,666 bushels during the first week of the 1950-51 crop season.

The 1950 crop of oats in the Pacific Northwest was estimated to be about 5 percent larger than a year ago. The forecast on July 1 placed the crop in Oregon, Washington and northern Idaho at around 26,700,000 bushels. In the cash market oats prices strengthened, reflecting depleted stocks of old crop oats available for marketing. There were no new crop quotations available.

In the Pacific Northwest the 1950 barley crop was estimated at 38,138,000 bushels, an increase of 38 percent over last year's production. At Portland cash barley prices declined materially in an adjustment toward a new crop basis. Good feed barley, comparable to No. 2 western, testing 45 pounds, was being bid at $48.50 per ton. Trading was reported as quite light, but a few sales were recorded.

Mr. and Mrs. Jud Lee drove to Orofino Tuesday evening to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ozzie Kanikkeberg.

Jordan Kanikkeberg is making trips to Moscow every other day to receive treatment on his left hand, injured a week ago in a power saw accident. Improvement seems quite slow.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. White attended the funeral of Lin Parkins, Lewiston, Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Elma Scott of Seattle arrived here Tuesday for a visit in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Everett Fraser and family.

Mrs. Elsie Deobald and daughter Gay were Moscow visitors Tuesday.

Writes Of England Today

Mr. and Mrs. Gifford Candler are in receipt of an interesting letter from their son T/Sgt. Archie Candler, and have kindly allowed us to use it.

23 June 1950

Dear Mother:

I finally got the urge to write to you. Was going to do it sooner but kept putting it off. We have been over here a month now — seems like a year. Got 60 more days to put in over here, then back to the U. S. A. We left Shreveport (La.) on the 25th of May by troop carrier. Left at 8:30 and arrived at Westover Field, Mass., at 3:00 p. m. We stayed there two days then left Tuesday morning by civilian aircraft (Transoceanic Air Lines). We stopped at Gander Field, Newfoundland two hours and had dinner there, then the next step was Keflavik, Iceland. Were there 2½ hours and landed here at Scullthorpe. Took about 19½ hours flying time from Westover Field to get here.

England is a lot different than I thought it would be, and I guess the whole country is full of Candler's. Every telephone book I've looked at has from five to ten Candler's in it. Guess I should look some of them up, but haven't got around to it yet.

Things are very cheap over here, except gas. A meal costs about 35 cents and you can travel on a bus 55 miles for 35 cents. I had an overcoat made here for $34.50 that would cost $125.00 in Shreveport (Harris Tweed). Haven't got around any yet except I went to Norwich one Saturday afternoon and looked around a castle through an old castle that was built in 1300. I didn't make all of it and I figure on going back one of these days.

Most everybody here rides bicycles. A lot better bikes than they make in the States.

We have been having good weather here so far except for this week. It's rained most every day. We have a fire at night and I wear a coat in the daytime. Whiskey is $2.15 a bottle and beer is 14 cents a pint, but it doesn't taste good to me.

They have some good crops here — cabbage, wheat, barley, etc. Gas went off rationing about the first of June and you should have seen the cars come out. Gas costs about 40c a gallon and the average Englishman makes about $15.00 per week (5 pounds).

We are about 100 miles north of London and I figure I'll go down there about the last of July for a couple of days. We have been pretty busy since we've been here, working every day and half the nights, except Sunday.

Your son — Archie.

Now In Moscow Hospital

A. A. May, who underwent surgery at a Seattle hospital about a month ago, was brought to the Gritman hospital at Moscow Monday evening, and is now receiving treatment there. His condition is described as "grave." Mrs. May, and his sister, Mrs. Dora Taylor are at Moscow with him.

Community Bible School

The Community Church Bible School opened Monday morning to a goodly group of children, there being 36 registered.

Mrs. Marvin Long has been added to the staff of teachers.

Repairing Roadway

The state highway department crew has been busy here the past few days patching holes in the oiled road and otherwise getting it ready for the final surface treatment, due to be applied next month.

Don't forget — Building Supplies of all kinds are available at the Kirkpatrick Lumber Co., in Julietta. 1-adv.

Weiner Roast Enjoyed

Cub Scouts of Dens No. 1 and 2, with their Den mothers, Mrs. Kenneth Brocke and Mrs. Wm. Johnson, entertained their parents at a weiner roast at the Cub Scout "Jungle camp" among the elephant ears on the vacant lot across the street from the Kenneth Brocke home last Thursday evening.

Cub Master Ross Armitage had the boys go through their achievement tests, which included the climbing of a 12-foot rope; walking a narrow plank, jumping a barrier 30 inches high, etc.

Everyone enjoyed the evening and were very pleased at the progress the boys are making.

Attendance Low At Grange

It was too much haying, bean cultivating, or "what not," but at any rate there were only 18 Grangers present at the regular meeting Tuesday evening. Included among the absentees were 10 officers.

Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy and daughter and Mr. Owens, all of Lewiston, and Dr. D. A. Christensen were present to explain the new medical insurance being offered to Grangers and their families.

At the conclusion of the brief meeting delicious refreshments were served in the banquet room.

To Regulate Trout Shipping
Shipping of trout out of the state of Idaho will come up for further consideration at the April meeting of the Idaho fish and game commission, John Dahlstrom, chairman, reports.

Dahlstrom said the commission realizes that a definite problem does exist under the present regulations which allow shipment of a day's legal limit each day during the fishing season. He explained that the commission is desirous of working out a control plan which will be equitable and curb many of the abuses of shipping privileges. Public hearings will be held throughout the state prior to the commission meeting.

Idaho's Debt Nation's Lowest
Boise — Although the Tax Institute of New York City reports that total state debt in 1949 established an all-time record of $4,000,000,000, the little western state of Idaho continued to stay out of debt except for a few outstanding bonds not yet due, the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce pointed out this week.

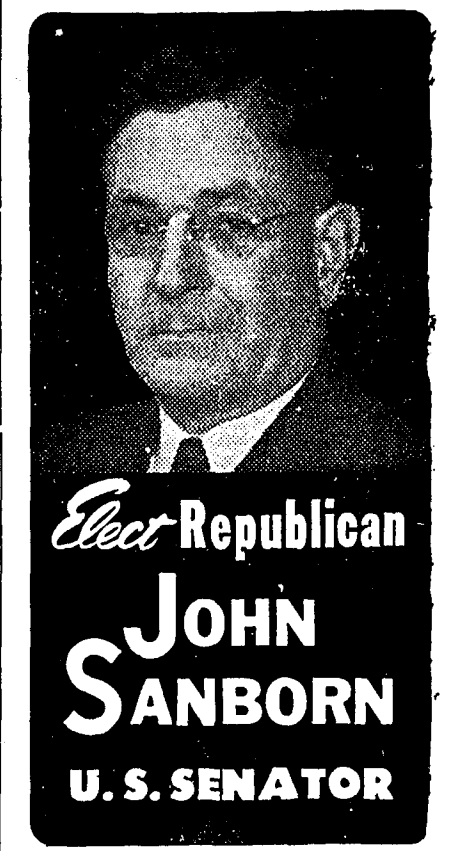

In 1948 the per capita state debt in Idaho was 62 cents, and in 1949 that was reduced to 53 cents per person, the lowest in the nation. Other state government debts ranged from 58 cents per capita in Nebraska to $155.04 per capita in Delaware. New York's state debt totals $926,570,000, the highest in the nation, while Idaho owes only $313,000 — and has plenty of cash on hand to pay it when it comes due.

News Plenty Scarce
This week seems to be another one of those times when news is just naturally scarce. Farmers are busy in the hay and bean fields — or perhaps just resting up following the long week-end that included the Fourth — but at any rate news seems to be very scarce.

Bear with us, and with our correspondents — times will pick up again.

NEW HEARING AID BATTERY CHARGER CUTS HEARING COSTS
The new Mercury battery devised for the armed services, and constantly improved during the last four years, is now safe to charge. The RM 1 is the smallest battery ever made for a hearing aid, being less than a thumb in size, and the charger cuts the cost of operation to a new low. The Mercury battery differs from the carbon type by giving a full level tone from the time you start using it, until it is finished. It can be charged from 2 to 8 times. RAY FARNELL & ASSOCIATES, W. 335 Sprague Ave., Spokane, Wash., distributors of the famous "BELTONE HEARING AID" are pleased to bring you better hearing at a lower cost. For full information FREE, write Ray Farnell today. Also show this important news to a friend who may be hard of hearing. Do it now! (Adv.)

Faith Is Forged At Home

As the blacksmith with his heavy tools makes metals strong enough to stand trial by fire — so your community, your schools and churches moulds your faith in God, country and fellow man into shining armor, that helps you come through trials and tribulations unscathed.

The tools of faith are honesty, fair dealing, and in the schools and churches the presentation of knowledge of the great of the world and of God.

As we stand today, at the possible brink of another great conflict — put your faith in God, and country, and look to Kendrick, the old home town, for fair dealing and honesty during hectic, trying days.

We are prompted to sponsor the above advertisement through our desire to serve the best interests of our community in every way possible.

Supplying Salt By Air

The aerial portion of Idaho's annual big game salting operation has been completed throughout the state, big game supervisor F. J. McDermott reports. The department is distributing 172 tons of block salt this year, 12 tons more than last season. A total of 75 tons were dropped by plane. The remaining 87 tons will be packed into game areas by mule train during early summer months. Aerial salting is used to draw game animals out of winter range and to disperse concentrations. McDermott said the air drop was hampered by inclement weather and was completed this year later than usual. Late snows held game animals on the edge of winter range later in the spring this year than usual. Fifty-four tons of salt were dropped as a federal aid project, and the remainder was financed by the game department.

They Enjoy It Too

Arriving at the Washington Zoo one afternoon just as the monkey house was being closed for the day, we were startled by the walls and shrieks coming from the building. When we questioned a keeper, he grinned and explained, "The monkeys always act like that when we shut out the visitors — they get so much fun out of watching the people. — Reader's Digest."

Ancient Booklet Appears

Mrs. Harry Baker brought to the Gazette office Tuesday afternoon a copy of an old booster booklet put out by the Kendrick Gazette for the Kendrick Commercial Club, with illustrations and descriptions of local business firms and a number of ranches.

On the cover is a colored illustration of Kendrick's Main street in 1908. Inside the cover is a picture of the old Kendrick State Bank, listing its resources at $156,710.46.

There is a picture of the Potlatch river; of the Barnum Lumber and Construction Co.; of the Kendrick Roller Mills, Kendrick Tramway, Marr Mercantile Co., Beckwith Store, McCrea Hardware, Barnum Theater, Lewis Jewelry, Success Restaurant, Kendrick Flour Mills, Lauterbach Bros., Lincoln Hardware, etc.

Farm scenes were from the ranches of Mrs. Wilcox on American ridge, the D. F. Waltz ranch near Kendrick, the Jos. Schultz ranch near Kendrick.

Homes shown were the residence of N. B. Long, Kendrick; Mrs. S. C. Darby, Crescent; J. P. Alexander, Linden and A. W. Lee of Potlatch ridge.

Mrs. Baker saved the booklet over the years because, on the inside of the back cover is a picture of a large strawberry patch on Texas ridge, showing workers picking the berries. In the picture appears her father and herself.

It is a memento well worth keeping.

McConnell New Commissioner

Newest member of the Idaho Fish and Game Commission is Oliver W. McConnell, of Grangeville, who was appointed last December by Gov. Robins to fill out the unexpired term of Clare Weisman, Lewiston. Mr. Weisman resigned early in December in protest of fish distribution.

District No. 2 representation on the commission will be enhanced by McConnell's experience and familiarity with game, bird and fish problems. The new commissioner grew up in the Grangeville area, and has been active in wildlife groups for many years.

Write in Candidate for the
six-year term.

WHY HE FAILED IN GETTING HIS NAME ON OFFICIAL BALLOT

First I wish to thank the 167 who signed my petitions in the eight counties where my friends circulated them.
In three counties I had to depend on party workers whose efforts were nil. Enough said.

MY PLATFORM

The most vital issue confronting the people of the United States and the world today, and for the future, is war. A people's peace is the only solution for world peace. When we compel (by law) these few 50, 60, and 70 year old war instigators (by registered vote) to back their convictions with THEIR OWN LIVES, WE WILL HAVE PEACE, BUT NOT UNTIL.

I am appealing to the rank and file of both political parties for write in support in the Republican primary, six-year term. Especially you mothers, whose innocent sons, regardless of political affiliation have to do the dying and have nothing to say about it under the present regime.
Awake you parents and grandparents, and realize what is being done to your offspring under the guise of patriotism. I believe in being patriotic but not idiotic.
Is your innocent son's destiny worth this effort, for this write in vote?
I believe in putting honest Abe's phrasing — government, of the people, by the people, for the people, into reality.

WE NEED BOTTLES —

Yes, Folks, we need bottles — and we don't mean empty beer or pop bottles — we mean milk bottles.

It seems as if our supply of milk bottles has just "evaporated" since we removed the deposit fee. Now we don't want to put that fee back on. It's a nuisance to you and to us — so won't you help us out by digging out those empty milk bottles from the back porch, the basement, the storage room — or wherever they happen to be, and bring or send them back to us? We sure need 'em.

If in town, just put them out where our deliveryman can pick them up. If out in the country, please bring or send them back as soon as possible.

Jiffy Packing Bags:

We're short a lot of these too. So if you have one, please send or bring it home.

Watch Farm Accidents

National Farm Safety Week, July 23 to 29, will accomplish just as much or just as little as the people who can benefit from fewer accidents will cooperate in its observance.

That is the statement made this week by J. W. Barber, county agent leader for the University of Idaho extension service and 1950 chairman of the Idaho National Safety Week campaign.

"We don't have to look farther than the 1948 accident toll records to see why farmers of every state ought to stop, look and listen to the warnings about farm accidents," Barber declared.

"That year we had more than 1,500,000 farm accidents that killed and maimed our farm folks. We are the third most dangerous occupation in the entire nation. In 1948 we killed 55 out of every 100,000 farm workers over the U. S. and we aren't getting better as we go along. The toll is too high. Unless we can educate our farm people to take the time to be safe all the time, we may move to the top of the black list of accidents, even higher than construction work and mining and quarrying, the two occupations that are above us at present."

Barber said he would not expect one week out of the year to make much difference in the number of accidents unless farm people will get a little enthusiastic about their own welfare.

"If we could just draw the attention of our farm folks to the fact that theirs is a dangerous occupation we might save the lives of some mighty fine men, women and children over the next 12-month period," he pointed out.

"This is just seven short days in which we are going to ask people to learn a few facts and remove a few of the hazards that may cost them their lives if left to materialize in greater and greater dangers."

Weather Warming Up

The weather this past week could be described as ideal from almost any point of view. The thermometer has reached a daily high of about 86 to 88 degrees, with bright sunshine — and the hay workers are more than pleased. Tomatoes, beans and garden produce in general is doing well. Field crops, too, are thriving, and in some areas wheat is beginning to show a golden color — which means it won't be long until the procession of harvest trucks will begin rolling.

A rain a little later on would be ideal for field beans — but they are doing splendidly at present.
