Receive Two-Page Write-up

In "Revall Ad-Vantages" for July and August, the official publication of the largest drug concern in the United States, two pages, including one page of pictures, is devoted to the "Parade Day" and Rexall 1c Sale effort of Tom Keene and Dave Clayton at the Red Cross Pharmacy. Included in the page of pictures is one of the Kendrick High School band, two of Rexall floats; one of Tom and Dave with their "sandwich signs and toys" of Ira Foster in his "bum" costume, and one of the store front, lined with customers waiting to get in. Says the writer: "The whole thing got started when it occurred to Tom that the colors of the high school band were his very own — orange and blue. It would, he decided, add a bit of excitement to the occasion if the band marched down the street to his drugstore on the opening day of the sale. The next thing he did was to arrange for the tiny tykes of Kendrick to march in a pet parade behind the band. One thing led to another. Business organizations asked if they could join in the fun. Church groups, Boy Scouts, 4-H clubs had floats in the parade. Adjoining towns sent word they would like to participate, too. "By parade time the line was so big it wouldn't fit on Main street. And despite the fact that farmers were rushing their planting to take advantage of the first good weather in weeks, some 2,000 people (population of Kendrick 400) were on hand to shop and see. "All the businesses in town closed down. Tom and pharmacist Dave Clayton marched in the parade, wearing sandwich signs reading: "I'm your" on the front and "Revall druggist" on the back. When the parade was over, Tom and Dave hurried back to the drugstore to wait on the rush of customers. Our Note: We hope Tom will forgive us for adding this, our "two-tbits worth": No other advertising media than the columns of the Gazette were used by Mr. Keene — who, as you undoubtedly know, believes that advertising pays!

Temperature Really Rising

The song "In The Good Old Summertime" would be very appropriate right now for the past week has seen steadily rising temperatures in this area, a bright sun under cloudless skies "pouring it on." Beginning with Thursday, when an 88 was recorded, each day has seen a couple of degrees climb, with Tuesday topping the list when the column said 100 degrees about 3:00 p. m. Almost all hay is either now in bales or in the barn or stack — and fall wheat is beginning to show the golden color which means that harvest will be with us soon. Local warehousemen estimate that machines will be in the field in a week to ten days — but again issue their annual warning: "Wait until your grain is ripe. Please don't bring us wet, green grain."

Another Young Couple Take Vows

Hazel Mael and James Candler were united in marriage on Thursday, July 13, at Lewiston, in the park, with the Rev. George Hendricks officiating. Hazel Mael is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mael of Deary, and James is a son of Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Candler of Kendrick. Attendants for the ceremony were the bride's mother, Mrs. Harold Mael of Deary; Mrs. Lettie Israel of Clarkston; and Bob Courtney, also of Clarkston, a close friend of the groom. The young couple are now at home to their friends in an apartment at the Raby Hotel, Kendrick. The groom is an employee of the Lewiston Grain Growers.

CARL LARSON, LELAND PIONEER, PASSES JULY 16TH

Carl Levin Larson, well known Leland area farmer, passed away July 16, 1950 at Puyallup, Wash., after a lingering illness of two and a half years. However, he was not bedridden until June 13th of this year, and spent the last two weeks in a hospital at Puyallup, Wash., where he passed away. He had made his home with his daughters, Mrs. Edith Dammarell of that city for about two years, and prior to this time spent four and a half years with another daughter, Mrs. Annie Briggs, Spokane, Wash. Born September 19, 1887, at Eljarlas, Borgstena of Elfborgstan, Sweden, he came to America at the age of 19 years, settling in Connecticut, where he later was joined by his sister Mary Elizabeth Johnson. After living in the east for two years they journeyed westward and settled on the Pacific coast near Seattle, Wash., where he married Clara Rebekah Larson from Segerstork, Sweden, September 2, 1893, who preceded him in death, having passed away August 12, 1926. To this union five children were born, a daughter and son passing away in infancy, and a son, Carl Edwin Larson passing away July 20th, 1948. Two daughters survive, Annie L. Briggs of Spokane, Wash., and Edith V. Dammarell of Puyallup, Wash.; three grandchildren, Rev. Clair Dammarell of Tacoma, Wash., Lynn Dammarell of Puyallup, Wash., Evelyn Lines of Spokane and one great-grandson, Richard Wesley Lines of Spokane — making four generations. Mr. Larson and family and Chas. Johnson and family left the coast in the spring of 1906 for Idaho, locating on a farm at Leland, Idaho, and in this vicinity he farmed for 35 years, retiring about eight years ago. He moved first to Lewiston Orchards, then to Kendrick, Spokane and Puyallup. Mr. Larson was a member of the Lutheran church, and affiliated with the Odd Fellows lodge for 60 years. He made many friends on his journey through life, and was a good neighbor and good father. Mr. Larson is to be commended for his patience and loving kindness to his son Carl, who was a semi-invalid for so many years, taking the place of a mother after the death of his loving wife. Funeral services were held on Thursday afternoon, July 20 from the Leland church, with the Rev. George F. Calvert of Lenore bringing the message. Interment was in the Leland cemetery, Brower-Wann of Lewiston in charge.

Road Contract Awarded

McAtee & Hethe of Spokane, with $33,706.75, offered the lowest bid opened by the Idaho state highway department Friday for approximately 31 miles of road repairs in Nez Perce, Lewis and Latah counties. The project includes seal coating of 14,608 miles of the Lewis & Clark highway from Greer to Kamiah and constructing a bituminous surface treatment on 3,888 miles and seal coating 12,670 miles of the Arrow-Deary highway between Spalding and the Bear Ridge road junction just east of Kendrick. The engineer's estimate was $35,691.50. The local state highway department crew, Clarence Ferryman and Ed. Brown, assisted by men and trucks from Lewiston, have been busy filling holes and patching the broken surface in preparation for the contractors. This is indeed going to be a welcome improvement to local travelers.

Ball Diamond Tacking Shape

The new ball diamond in the west end of town, which Kendrick and her sport fans have dreamed about for years, is fast taking shape. No longer is it a dream, but a reality for everyone to see. The playing area measures about 300 by 400 yards. The F. H. DeAtley Co., has finished their part, and now remains the final smoothing work, which will be done by the Kendrick Highway District patrol — then rolling and seeding to grass. This latter operation will be done after fall rains set in to assure growth. It is expected, however, to have the football field section ready for use by the time school starts. This spacious athletic field will fulfill Kendrick's long awaited dream and in so doing make it possible for Kendrick to maintain their top position in athletics, with a "top" field on which to practice and play!

Purchases Cargill Property

A deal was consummated Monday whereby Giff Candler became the owner of the Cargill property in the west part of town. Giff says that the first item is to get it cleaned up, then reach a decision on what further action to take.

P. U. C. CONSIDERS RAILWAY PETITION AFTER HEARING

Moscow, July 20 — The Idaho Public Utilities Commission took under consideration this afternoon an application by the Northern Pacific Railway Co. to eliminate one daily round-trip passenger train on the Spokane-Lewiston run. After a public hearing at the Latah county courthouse here, PUC President W. B. Joy, Boise, said he did not know when a decision could be handed down by the commission. The Northern Pacific has asked permission to discontinue train 313 arriving at Lewiston at 2:50 a. m. from Spokane, and train 312 leaving Lewiston at 7:05 a. m. for Spokane. The company would retain trains 311 and 314 on its Spokane-Lewiston run. Railroad officials said the company is operating trains 312 and 313 at a loss of approximately $144 per day. They said the expense far outweighs the inconvenience that would result if the trains were discontinued. Curtailment of the service was protested by individuals from Moscow, Kendrick, Troy and Lewiston, which are among the towns served by the two trains. Protesting witnesses advanced these arguments: 1. Mail and express delivery to the towns affected would be a day late if the trains are discontinued. 2. The poor condition of the Kendrick-Troy road would make mail delivery to those communities by truck difficult in winter and spring. 3. The railroad is making a profit on its overall operation on the Lewiston-Spokane run. Besides testifying that NP is losing money on trains 312 and 313, railroad officials contended passenger patronage is low on these trains. "Carrying the mail is a responsibility of the United States government and not of the railroads," Conrad Olson, St. Paul, NP assistant general counsel, declared. No Lewiston residents appeared to testify at the hearing. Paul Keaton, Lewiston attorney, presented petitions signed by Lewiston residents. The petitions were accepted but were not read into the record. C. E. Dorrfer, Spokane, NP's Idaho division superintendent, exhibited maps to show the NP route is paralleled by Overland-Greyhound buses. Under cross examination by Murray Estes, Moscow attorney, Dorrfer admitted he knew of no public passenger service from Moscow to Juliaetta and Kendrick other than NP. George N. Page, St. Paul, mail, baggage and express traffic manager for NP, said the government has received "several bids" for the trucking of mail along the route from Spokane. He said there has been some increase in mail on trains 312 and 313 recently, but there has been a corresponding decrease in express. W. T. Marineau, Moscow, publisher of the Daily Idahoan, led the fight for the protesters. Holding that a proposed truck service is impractical, Marineau said "the roads are good from Moscow to Troy but it's a country road from Troy to Kendrick, blocked most of the time from December to March." Over the objection of Olson, overruled by Joy, Marineau quoted C. H. Burgess, Seattle NP assistant general manager as saying the Spokane-Lewiston run is "a good paying line" on its overall operation. E. A. Deobald and H. C. Schupfer, representing the Kendrick Commercial Club as well as being heavy users of mail themselves, stated that they did not believe the truck service would be too practical, as heavy snow, plus load limits on soft roads in the spring would seriously hamper operations. The protesters were represented by Estes & Felton, attorneys, Moscow. — Lewiston Tribune.

Working On Ball Diamond

The local Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts spent Monday evening working on the local ball diamond — several truck loads of rock being loaded and hauled away. Burton Souders supplied a jeep to pull a drag, and the rocks were then picked up and loaded. Ross Armitage has issued a call for volunteer workers of all categories (big, little, old and young) to come down to the ball diamond tonight (Thursday) between the hours of 6:30 and dark — to help get the field ready to seed. Wear old clothes, bring your gloves, and a shovel or pitchfork.

To Rebuild Brady Gulch

E. T. Long, secretary of the local highway district, received word last week that the Brady Gulch road, a source of trouble and expense ever since its construction, would be rebuilt, the call for bids by the state to be opened on July 28, with the estimated expense around $33,000. Mr. Long says he understands that in all cases where the fill has slid the road will be dug back into the hillside, to give a solid footage. This will mean that it will not be quite as straight as formerly — but who cares? This section was never designed for a speedway anyhow.

Enrolled In Summer School

U. of I., Moscow — Lawrence Wilson, Kendrick, is enrolled in the University of Idaho summer school. Wilson attended a meeting of the association for supervision and curriculum development.

Suffers Broken Leg

Albert Lawrence, 17, of Southwick, received a broken leg Thursday afternoon of last week, while working with a logging crew.

Issues Burning Warning

Elmo Eldridge, local fire chief, wishes to call the attention of everyone to the danger of fire, as the hot sun burns the moisture from long grasses and weeds. He warns that trash burning is only allowable between the hours of 6:00 and 11:00 a. m., and then only in properly covered barrels or incinerators. Great care should also be taken to see that no burning particles escape. Mr. Eldridge asks that an alarm be turned in at the first sign of fire. Don't wait to fight it with a garden hose or other makeshift equipment. Turn in the alarm and then fight the fire till the department arrives.

ARCHIE A. MAY, LELAND PIONEER RESIDENT, PASSES

Moscow, July 21 — Archie A. May, 71, died today at the Gritman Memorial hospital at 1:00 p. m., following an illness of about a month, he having undergone surgery at a Seattle hospital some four weeks ago, and was brought to the Moscow hospital Monday evening by his son, Walter May. Archie A. May was born October 23, 1879, in Moscow. When a young man he came to the Leland section, to farm and had been a resident there since 1904. He was a member of the Masonic lodge, the Shriner, the I. O. O. F. lodge, the Lewiston Elks lodge, the Grange, and the Kendrick Commercial Club. Until his final illness Mr. May seldom missed a meeting of the latter organization. Survivors include his wife, Elfrida May; a son, Walter and a brother, Warner, all of Kendrick; a sister, Mrs. Dora Taylor of Moscow and three grandchildren, Walter Bruce, Dora Dean and Sandra Sue May, all of Kendrick. Mr. May was termed by many "the advance guard of promptness." He led it to be known that his desire to lead was not in the spirit of seeking publicity, but that it was a hobby, to young manhood. For possibly four decades he was always first to liquidate his tax at the county treasurer's office in Lewiston. When the first day for payment rolled around Mr. May's check was always the first handed the treasurer and his name appeared at the top of the ledger page. School district taxes, assessments for road and highway purposes — these were met with the same promptness. When the agricultural adjustment administration came into being he was the first man to receive the benefits of aid to the farmers for compliance with government regulations in this area. He was the first to take out his automobile license; first in payment of his bills; first to vote in his precinct. He was the first farmer in Nez Perce county to receive a government warrant for compliance with all of the AAA regulations. He had many other firsts to his credit. Mr. May also had another hobby; that of hunting and fishing. There was hardly a packer and guide in the Lochsa-Selway or Lolo Pass area that Mr. May did not know, he having made trips with most of them in search of elk and deer, or the finny denizens of the mountain lakes. For the past several years he had chosen to hunt moose and fish in Canada, and delighted in distributing packages of moose meat or big Canadian trout to his friends. His winter hobby was the trapping of hawks, owls, coyotes and other predatory animals in the section around his farm — and the feeding of game birds. Hungarian partridges and quail being his particular pets. During his life Mr. May took an active part in community affairs, serving on school boards, highway district boards, and working unstintingly for improvements in all of these all the time. Mr. May was a man who made and kept friends, and his passing will leave a vacant spot in the community that time alone can heal. Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock from Short's Chapel, Moscow, with the graveside services in charge of the Masonic lodge. Interment was in the Moscow cemetery.

Still Time To Take Lessons

The last swimming classes of the season will begin on Tuesday, August 1st — so if you have not been bringing your children in or coming yourself for the free lessons — there is still time. However, you are asked to register at the pool as soon as possible. The time schedule is as follows: Junior Lifesaving at 9:30 a. m. Beginners at 10:30 a. m. Intermediate at 11:00 a. m. Adult swimming lessons are from 8:30 p. m. until 9:00 p. m. All children over the age of six are acceptable for lessons. With approximately half of the 1950 season yet to go, Carl Kinney, lifeguard, gives us the following data on admissions: For 1949: Adult, single 347 Child, single 862 Adult, season 25 Child, season 52 1950 — to date: Adult, single 325 Child, single 536 Adult, season 32 Child, season 59 Don't deprive yourself or your children of the opportunity of learning to swim. Take advantage of the free lessons. You postively can't learn any younger!

CITIZENS AND OUR IDAHO GOVERNMENTAL DUTIES

As the time for Primary and General Elections draws nearer, the future of a great many Idaho individuals and business institutions may be determined within the next few weeks. Furthermore, as individuals they may be helpless to avoid this fate that is in store for them. What we are trying to emphasize is that the actors are taking their places on the political stage for the contests that will be held in August and November and as usual, too many individuals with high stakes involved, are doing relatively nothing about encouraging properly equipped candidates to make the race. Government has become such an important factor in our everyday life that it is literally true that a state legislature substantially controls the economy of the population of any state. Have we become to punch-drunk that we can no longer measure the growing power of government? Have we completely forgotten that the power to tax is the power to destroy? Still we find many a prominent Idaho citizen making the statement: "I can't afford to spend my time in the Legislature. What is more, I would have too many enemies with my ideas of economy that I wouldn't have any business left to come back to when the session was over." Certainly we have fine, courageous and sincere men and women in the Idaho Legislature, but think what those statements imply. If everybody felt, as those men do, it is obvious that we would have a legislature made up of those who had absolutely nothing to lose by running for office. Is that the kind of government we want? Everybody has some stake in the Idaho Legislature and each man and woman knows best the measure of his personal interest. The day has passed when any individual can shrug off his responsibility to take part in determining who shall make the laws that regulate in minute detail how he shall live his daily life and what he may lay up against the time when he can no longer earn his daily bread. There are groups that recognize the power that is vested in the state legislature. They recognize that the executive, and the judicial branches of government occupy places in the wake of the legislative branch. They will devote their major efforts to seeing that legislators who "understand" their problems and their wishes are nominated and if possible, elected. Is it either wrong or hopeless to cherish the thought that somebody will do something about encouraging men and women to file for nomination and election, under the banners of both political parties, who have as their compelling interest the good of the entire state of Idaho and of all its people? The growing of crops, the conversion of natural resources into new wealth, the providing of goods and services — all of these and many more basic activities are the foundation upon which the taxable wealth of the state of Idaho rests. These broad, general interests of the state must receive first consideration by our legislators and to accomplish this, we, the people, must nominate and elect legislators who by training, experience, and success in their own affairs, are capable of that standard of performance. Can any individual deny his share of the responsibility?

Pool Attracts Many

The Area Living War Memorial Pool is proving a very popular place to meet your friends these hot days. Sunday, one of our warmest days, saw swimming enthusiasts, both old and young, taking a refreshing dip. The "small fry" of the community as well as the outlying ridges, are making a splendid showing following their swimming lessons of the past few weeks, for now, instead of splashing in the shallow end, they are swimming and diving with assurance along with the oldsters — just like veterans. Kendrick feels a great pride in its shady green park, and this territory in its swimming pool, and all are welcome to come — knowing that they have provided an opportunity for the youth to learn to swim — one of the greatest and most useful sports of all time.

Pinochle Club Party

Members of the Pinochle Club drove to Walks' Inn last Thursday evening where a chicken dinner was served on a "wagnigan" anchored in the Clearwater river adjoining the pier to the inn. The dinner was a surprise to the "lows" who were being entertained by the "highs" with a return party. Following dinner, dancing was enjoyed.

Sunday School Picnic

Members of the Community Church, their families and friends are invited to the annual Sunday School picnic to be held Sunday at Spalding park, following Sunday School. Lunch will be served at noon. Everybody come — with a well-filled basket.

Birthday Anniversary Dinner

A community birthday anniversary dinner will be given next Sunday, July 30, in the basement of the Leland Methodist church, honoring the persons of that community whose birthday anniversaries come in July. Everyone is welcome. Ladies are asked to bring a covered dish.

What Is It?

Last Thursday, Dorothy Kruger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Kruger, Cameron, spied a big mormon cricket in the yard of their home, and stepped on it. Out popped what looked like a slim brown snake, about a foot long, and not as big around as a match.

Gus gathered up the "snake" and put it in a pop bottle and brought it town, where he showed it to several, including Dr. Christensen. None could identify it, so it was turned over to Manning Onstott of the Soil Conservation Service to be sent for examination.

Training School Held
 Chapter chairmen and women's committee chairmen from Idaho's forty-four counties attended an Idaho State Polio Preparedness meeting at Boise on July 14 and 15. The meeting was the first of its kind to be held in Idaho since 1947. The conference was primarily designed to increase the effectiveness of local volunteer chapter organizations in the event of future polio epidemics and in the year-round operation of the local chapters. "A well organized and informed chapter in every county is of prime importance if the year-round program of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, supported by the March of Dimes, is to successfully continue its vital service to Idaho's people," stated David F. Weeks, Idaho Representative for the National Foundation. Speakers for the preparedness meeting included Doctor Hart Van Ripper, a former Idahoan, who is now medical director for the National Foundation; Mrs. J. C. Jeppson, volunteer state advisor on women's activities, and L. J. Peterson, director of the Idaho department of public health.

Idaho In Billion Dollar Class
Boise — In 1948 and 1949, Idaho went into the billion-dollar class in wholesale and retail business, the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce pointed out this week, basing its computations on the latest business census report. A tremendous increase in business volume was noted in the 10 years, 1939 to 1948, including. The report shows that retail sales in Idaho during 1948 totaled $582,000,000, an increase of 231 percent over the $175,900,000 retail sales level in 1939. In wholesale volume, the census showed a dollar volume of $422,100,000 in 1948, compared to $105,000,000 in 1939, or over 300 percent increase. The total wholesale and retail business in 1948 in Idaho amounted to $1,004,100,000 compared to $281,400,000 in 1939. Employment figures in the retail and wholesale trades also showed increases from 1939 to 1948, but the percentage was not great, the state chamber said.

Shepherders go to school in Idaho. Three classes early in March have been arranged for beginners and experienced men by the University of Idaho and the Idaho Wool Growers association.

To help keep planes safe—a "Peak Temperature Indicator." This device, attached to motors, tells pilots instantly if any cylinder begins to heat up dangerously.

To help save the West's water—an inexpensive irrigation ditch lining. It's made by coating paper or aluminum foil with asphalt and keeps water from being lost into the ground.

To help protect diesel locomotives—a special detector and alarm which warns engineers if water leaks into the lubricating oil. Engines can be shut down quickly before expensive damage occurs.

Three new developments in Standard's laboratories

We picked these three developments to tell you about because they will probably never be manufactured by Standard of California.

Although we developed them, looking for ways to help some of our customers meet special problems, we expect to turn them over to other companies to produce. And this illustrates a point...

Everything we discover that can possibly benefit you is brought to you in some way... even when the development leads us far outside our own field. And when we turn up a practical way to improve a petroleum product, we make prompt use of it and, in many cases, make it available to other companies under license.

Research at Standard is a vital, progressive force. It has called for an investment of more than $35,000,000 in the last ten years, but its results have been immeasurable... not only in terms of better products but in the creation of new jobs and greater opportunity for our own people and those in many other industries.

Board Feet Bring Dollars

Missoula, Mont. — "A board foot is a piece of wood one inch thick and twelve inches square. A dollar is somewhat more variable but the two are closely related in national timber sale business, because a board foot is the unit of measurement when publicly owned timber is sold to private operators for a stated price per thousand board feet," Axel Lindh, assistant regional forester at Missoula, says.

"For example, the timber cut from the 17 national forests of the Northern Region from July 1, 1949, to June 30, 1950, amounted to 285, 272 board feet, bringing a stumpage return of $1,596,163 to the U. S. treasury. The Montana, northern Idaho and northwestern Washington counties containing national forest land will split 25 percent of the total, $399,000 as their share of the timber payments. The county money is divided on the basis of local national forest acreage and is used for schools. Another 10 percent is made available for road and trail work within the national forests," added Mr. Lindh.

"The five northern Idaho forests turned out 133,291 board feet, producing $943,250. The Coeur d'Alene led with receipts of $4,787,4 for 60,178 board feet of timber. The Clearwater Forest at Orofino cut 27,037 thousand board feet for a $208,099 revenue."

Build Tile Making Machine

As work on the new road progresses it became necessary to meet the drainage problem in the west part of town, around homes and the ball diamond, as the present drain ditch would be closed up. An investigation of the cost of 18-inch interior diameter tile was made, and the cost found to be "sky-high," so E. A.
 Deobald, Walter Brocke and E. M.
 White put their heads together and began construction of a machine or portable steel mold to build such tile. The mold is of heavy sheet steel, and is hinged and jointed to permit quick and easy removal from each cast.

The tile to be built will be three feet long with an outside diameter of 24 inches, and each will be reinforced with heavy stucco wire.

Bull Snake Attacks Rabbit
Ray Onstott, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Manning Onstott received a shock Tuesday morning when he went to look after his little 10-day old rabbits — and found a bull snake about 4 feet long coiling itself around one of the bunnies. His cries brought his mother, and together they beat and harried the snake with a hoe and sticks until it decided to leave.

Thinking all was safe they left, only to see Mr. Snake returning to repeat the performance. So again they took up the battle and this time the snake left in a hurry. The little rabbit seemed none the worse for the experience, but Ray said he thought sure it would be "squeezed to death."

The rabbit hutch was then moved to the lawn, where close watch could be kept on the rabbits.

Strawberries For Hot Lunch

The Hot Lunch canning program got underway Saturday when a group of women left town at 3:30 a. m. for Drury's berry farm on Texas ridge. There they picked 12 crates of strawberries, returning to the schoolhouse kitchen, where Mrs. Hiram Galloway and Mrs. Ed Dammarell had jars washed and then assisted the crew in preparing berries for the locker — 129 quarts being the yield.

Those making the trip were Mrs. Elmo Eldridge, Mrs. Tom Long, Mrs. Geo. Brocke, Sr., Mrs. E. M. White, Mrs. Bob Magnuson, Mrs. Ross Armittage, Mrs. Bill Johnson and Helen Mattoon.

Fire Alarm Sounds

Monday evening about 7:00 o'clock the fire siren sounded twice, which meant a fire in the east part of town. In a matter of seconds the new fire engine had dropped off a man at the fire hydrant at the Kendrick Garage and sped on around the building and through the alley to the rear of the Raby Hotel, where a trash burning barrel, presided over by Elton Wilson, was burning briskly.

The alarm and run were for practice, but were smartly executed and a hose laid and water running in a very short time.

Card Of Thanks

We desire to thank our friends for their kindness, words of sympathy and floral offerings in our recent bereavement. — Mr. and Mrs. Earl Briggs and Family; Mr. and Mrs. John Dammarell and Family.
