SHORT NEWS ITEMS FROM OUR LOCAL SCHOOLHOUSE

102 Register For High School
A critical situation developed last week, preventing a number of the high school students from registering on the appointed days. Only 102 have registered to date, as follows: Twenty-nine Freshmen; 29 Sophomores; 19 Juniors and 25 Seniors.

Appreciation is expressed to those parents and employers who willingly let the students off to register, and to the students who made it a point to be here.

High school students who have not as yet registered are to meet at the school house tonight (Thursday, Sept. 7) at 8:00 o'clock, when a late registration period will be conducted.

School Buildings Ready
The school buildings have been cleaned, and some re-decorating and refinishing has been accomplished, to place them in shape for the school's opening. Among the improvements will be noted the following:

1. Re-decorating of the Southwick gymnasium.
2. Re-decorating of the Goldhill school.
3. Re-decorating the music room at Kendrick on the inside and painting the exterior.
4. Re-decorating portions of the interior in the Kendrick building.
5. Sanding the floors of the halls in the Juliaetta schoolhouse, also painting the interior of the gym, and refinishing and repainting the downstairs hall.
6. Roofing the Juliaetta schoolhouse.
7. Many minor repairs, adjustments and summer routine work has also been accomplished. Much of this latter work has been done by C. G. and Asa Calvert.

School Begins Sept. 11th
After a week's postponement all schools in the district, with the exception of Cedar ridge, will start next Monday, Sept. 11th. Students are asked to be ready to meet the busses early on that morning, so that none may be missed. After a few days, bus schedules should become normal, and arrive at a given place regularly each morning.

All grade pupils will register the morning of the first day (Sept. 11). Book fees for grade pupils are $3.50 each.

Lunch will be served in the cafeterias and school will remain in session all day.

Primary Needs
First graders at Juliaetta will need the following equipment: A rest pad; Kleenex; water colors; paint apron; pencil tablet and eraser, and big lead pencil (No. 666, which can be secured from the teacher); and a "double deck" Crayola outfit.

Pool To Operate This Week
Carl Kinney, lifeguard and swimming instructor at the Area Living War Memorial Swimming Pool in Kendrick, left Wednesday morning of this week for his home in south Idaho, where he will visit with his parents for a few days before entering the Armed Forces.

The pool will continue to be open until this week-end, it being in charge of Bobby McCall and David Crocker, who hold Junior Red Cross Lifesaving cards. It is not known at this time whether the pool will close Saturday or Sunday evening, but in any event weather will be a determining factor.

Mr. Kinney is very popular among the young folks and children, the main patrons of the pool — many of whom have learned to swim under his guidance. He gave two complete courses of lessons in series, beginning with those just entering the water to Senior Red Cross life saving. We believe we are safe in saying, although no concrete figures are yet available, that this was the most successful season the pool has ever seen — perhaps not financially, but from point of use made of it, and in numbers of youngsters receiving instruction and getting healthful recreation, and after all, the pool was never expected to pay its own way, financially — just dividends in good health and fun for any in this area who care to make use of it.

It is our opinion that Mr. Kinney and the Village trustees, L. A. Wallace, Burton Souder, Walter Brocke, Elmo Eldridge and E. A. Deobald are to be highly complimented.

Car Over Brammer Hill
Friday night a car owned and driven by Harry Barkley of Spokane, did a nose dive over the embankment of the Brammer hill just west of town, rolled over, and finally came to rest within a few feet of the railroad track.

The cause of the wreck was attributed to loose gravel. Mr. Barkley was slightly shaken up, but the car was badly damaged.

News Very, Very Scarce
With the harvest rush still on — and our work week shortened by one day — as was that of our correspondents, news is very, very scarce this week.

Locally, most everybody who had the two-day holiday off, spent it fishing, or just plain loafing at home — so there isn't much news!

Sunday School Teachers Meet
There will be a meeting for the Sunday School teachers of the Community church Thursday evening, (tonight) at 7:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Bob Magnuson.

All teachers are urged to be present.

To Enter Services
Harold and Gerald Halseth, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Halseth, will enter the Service on September 21st.

Re-elected School Trustees

At the Joint District No. 283 school trustee election held Tuesday afternoon, unofficial returns are as follows:

Big Bear and Texas ridge sub-district, Gerald Ingle 74. There were two write-ins.

In the Crescent-Southwick sub-district:
C. A. Cuddy, 60; Arthur Foster, 15. One write-in.

A total of 76 votes were cast. In a district of this size, just 76 patrons voting, shows that more interest is needed — as 200 ballots were provided — and should have been used. Of course, the harvest rush may have had something to do with the matter.

WHAT HAPPENED HERE TWENTY YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Cox of American ridge are the parents of a son, born at Lewiston, Wednesday Aug. 27th.

A building that had formerly been a barn, but that had been transformed into a garage, on the W. A. Perryman property in the west part of town, caught fire from some unknown reason Monday night about 12:30, and was consumed in short order. Only real loss, aside from the building itself, was two booths which he had stored there. They were the same as those in the confectionery.

Marvin Jordan, contractor for the new gym., has returned from Lewiston and with the arrival of brick will push the work on the structure, as rapidly as possible.

The Audian Theater, formerly the New Kendrick, opened Friday evening of last week with the all-talking picture, "Flight," and all three nights good-sized and very satisfactory crowds were in attendance. While there was some acoustic interference when there were only a few in the house, this, Mr. Zell informs us, can and will be overcome by the proper draping of the room. Mr. Zell states that he will do all within his power to give the people of the Kendrick-Juliaetta area and the surrounding territory as good shows as they can see in Lewiston, Moscow or elsewhere.

Preparatory to sending their children to school, several families have rented houses and made arrangements to come to town this winter. Teachers have also come in and taken up residence. The Ruby apartments have been rented to Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Davald, Miss Josephine Deagin and Miss Earline Stump.

Persons — Mrs. Wm. Watts, Mrs. L. J. Herres and Mrs. E. H. Field were Lewiston visitors on Wednesday. Mrs. L. S. LaHatt will arrive Friday afternoon from Puyallup, Wash., to join her husband, who is in the jewelry business here.

Mrs. Wade Keene and sister, Mrs. Hardman, from Peck, took advantage of the excursion rates to Seattle to spend a few days visiting in the Sound city, returning home Tuesday night.

Juliaetta... Nearly as many votes were cast at the school election Tuesday as were cast in the primary election. Arnold Behrens and Walter Cochran were re-elected for the three-year term; Everett Custer for the two-year term and Mrs. Otto Schupfer for a one-year term. Lewiston shoppers on Tuesday included Mesdames Adams, Crutchfield, Gruell, Clark and Cochran.

Southwick Items... Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jones came down from Elk River Friday evening and brought Mrs. George Jones, who had been visiting there, home, and spent the week-end in her home. Mr. and Mrs. Grant Bateman visited in Elk River Saturday and Sunday. Ross Armitage, Russell Baker and Russell Betts went to Moscow Monday to make the necessary arrangements to enter the U. of I. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Travis were Sunday visitors at Agatha. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. King and son Ray, Mrs. Tom King and Mrs. Ray Southwick visited several days in Seattle this week.

N. E. Long & Sons were selling Bradley Sweaters for children at $1.98; children's hosiery at 25c a pair; Crown overalls, sizes 4 to 11, pair $1.00.

Markets — Club, sacked, 61c, bulk, 56c; Red, sacked, 59c; bulk 56c. Beans: Little navy, lb., 4 1/2c; large white, 4 1/2c; red, 3 1/2c.

Crescent Clippings: A threshing machine was in this neighborhood last week. There was very little threshing done in this neighborhood this year. John Darby is hauling grain to Kendrick. Mrs. Jim Farrington and son Everett were Lewiston visitors Wednesday. Lois Fry helped Mrs. John Darby cook for threshers three days last week.

Surprise Party Sunday

A surprise party was given Sunday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Axel Swanson — the evening being spent in singing. Those going to the Swanson home in Juliaetta from Kendrick were: Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Ireland and family, Mrs. Bob Clemenhagen and daughter Lorraine, Mrs. Harry Baker, Mrs. Wallace Emmett, Mr. and Mrs. Layle Ireland and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. McDonald, Mrs. Fred Glad, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Babcock, Kathryn Brown, Rita Cain, Susie Candler and Pearl Groseclose.

Temperature Up And Down

Beginning last Wednesday the mercury column in local thermometers decided to "have a peek at the upper levels" and climbed to a high of 95 degrees Wednesday; 96 on Thursday; 98 on Friday, and Saturday topped it off with a high reading of 104 degrees (down town 102) seemed the limit.

Saturday was a bit more reasonable, a mere 99 being recorded; with the same reading on Sunday, and on Monday a mere 96 was tops, but with the coming of evening clouds covered the sun and the temperature dropped quite rapidly.

Monday night a terrific thunder and lightning storm hit the area, bringing with it cooling rain, which delayed harvesting operations until noon on Tuesday.

Kills Black Bear

Ervin Swenson brought the first big game to Kendrick this season — he killing a fat, young black bear in the Boulder creek canyon last Friday, Sept. 1 — first day of the open season.

Ervin says he doesn't know which was the most surprised at the meeting, he or the bear. He was driving along the road, when he saw Mr. Ervin cross the road and enter the heavy brush on the hillside. Ervin piled out, extracted his brand new gun from its place behind the seat, "fumbled out a box of shells, got one into the gun, and downed the bear the first shot."

Chief matter to come before the group is the Annual Sales Day, the latter to be taken up at the 7:30 business session which will be held in the city hall.

All members are urged to be present and to bring a friend.

The harvest rush is over — so come out and take part in these meetings. It doesn't matter whether or not you are a member.

GRAIN TRUCK "PARADE" IN KENDRICK MAKES HISTORY

Thursday evening saw the completion of the new 61,000 bushel capacity steel storage tube at the Lewiston Grain Growers elevator — and as the word spread, farmers from far and near began heading toward Kendrick to dispose of those truck-loads of wheat and barley which had piled up on the farms from lack of storage space.

Grain was taken from the old tubes to fill the new — and then the rush was really on — Ben Westendahl, local manager for the firm, reports that the trucks started piling up Thursday evening, and by 6:00 a. m. Friday there were 46 trucks lined up awaiting their turn.

They stretched from the H. C. Schupfer home on the west to the Wallace Emmett home on the east — and they kept coming, at one time a count showing 93 trucks waiting to dump their loads.

Farmers came prepared to "sit it out", bringing sleeping bags and lunches, some sleeping in the truck cabs, others in the Lewiston Grain Growers' office.

Ben Westendahl worked all night Thursday night preparing for the in-coming grain, and says he feels the "big rush at the time of the Cherokee Strip" had nothing on the rush in Kendrick Friday.

Some might think that there would be hard words, quarrels and crowding as farmers awaited their turns — but nothing of the sort happened. All was taken good-naturally, neighbors and friends moving each other's trucks up a notch at a time, during the other's absence in search of food or drink, or "just visiting."

At one time the line reached as far to the east as the Marvin Long home at the foot of the schoolhouse hill — and Ben reports 26,000 bushels of grain were taken in on the one dump that day!

About Fish And Game

The Idaho fish and game department reminded fishermen this week that certain waters closed to fishing on September 1. Included in the closure was Soldier Meadow reservoir in Nez Perce county. The general trout season in Idaho ends on October 31.

Idaho big game tags have been changed from the former knob style to a flat type lock this year. The new tags are now being mailed to over 500 license vendors over the state. Approximately 160,000 deer and elk tags were purchased by the department, about the same number as last year.

Tags must be securely attached and locked to the animal as soon as kill is made. To lock tags, the shackle must be inserted into the head, then pulled out, firmly until the hole in the shackle shows about one-fourth inch.

Road Now Being Oiled

Last Saturday equipment of McAttee & Heath, who hold the oiling contract from the Bear ridge road junction to Spalding bridge, put in its appearance at Kendrick — and Tuesday morning their trucks, water and oil spreaders, patrols and rollers began work from both edges of town — heading east and west — and by Tuesday night quite a good showing had been made.

This oiling will be most welcome to residents at the edge of town, as they have been "dust coated" by the heavy traffic for many weeks.

We understand that the school house hill, as a bus route, is to be re-oiled as a part of the program.

Among The Sick

Ida Schupfer, who has been in St. Joseph's hospital, Lewiston, the past two weeks, was brought home last Thursday, and shows steady improvement.

Dave Gentry, who underwent a goiter operation about three weeks ago, is reported as showing steady improvement, and is up and about again.

Frank Dammarell was an Orofino visitor last week, hoping to be taken from the heavy cast he has worn for the past several weeks — but is still wearing it.

Big Game Seasons "Tricky"

Big game season for Idaho have now been announced, but it is suggested that before you do any hunting, or too much panning, that you get a "big game map" at your license vendor's, and study it. Some sections open October 1; some October 5; some October 15, and some November 1.

Better know your territory and be familiar with the law — it will make a much pleasanter trip.

To Resume Meetings

Canyon Chapter No. 67, O. E. S., are opening their fall meetings with a "Friendship Night" Tuesday evening, Sept. 12, at 8:00 o'clock, in the Fraternal Temple. All members and sojourning members are urged to attend.

MRS. "TINA" BIGHAM, AREA PIONEER DIES THURSDAY

Christine Anna Kouni Bigham, 85, a resident of American ridge for the past 63 years, and probably the oldest pioneer resident there, passed away in her sleep Thursday morning, Aug. 31, at about 5:00 a. m., at the home of her son Walter. Death was attributed to heart failure, she having been ill for only a short time, in fact, she was a Kendrick visitor this week.

Mrs. Bigham was a native of Switzerland, having been born there on July 1, 1865. With her parents and two brothers she came to the United States in 1866, living in Peru, Illinois and Marysville, Kansas, before coming west.

Her marriage to Samuel H. Bigham took place on Jan. 29, 1887, and in 1889 they came to Idaho, locating on American ridge, and where she has lived ever since. Her husband passed away Dec. 15, 1929.

Mr. Bigham homesteaded the ranch where Walter now lives in 1881.

Mrs. Bigham was confirmed in the Lutheran faith on April 24, 1881.

Survivors include one son, Walter, at the family home; a daughter, Mrs. Zella Fox of San Francisco; one granddaughter, Mrs. Jean Fuller, and three great-grandchildren, of Menlo Park, Calif. One sister also survives.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, Sept. 5, at 2:00 o'clock, at the Brower-Wann Chapel in Lewiston. Officiating was the Rev. Theo Meske of Cameron. Organist was Pauline Brigham and the hymns, "Abide With Me" and "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Lead Kindly Light" were sung by Mrs. Ina Reinmuth.

Pallbearers were all old time friends of the deceased — Clarence Dougharty, William A. Watts, Harry Benschoter, E. A. Deobald, George Havens and Frank Benschoter. Interment was in Normal Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Bigham was a true pioneer. She had seen American ridge grow from the "bunch grass and prairie chicken" stage to the present, with modern telephones, electric lights, cars, radios, etc., and during all this time she always had a friendly word for all, and was always willing to lend a helping hand to a neighbor. Her passing will leave a gap in the community that will be hard to fill. The gorgeous floral offerings and well-filled chapel gave mute testimony to this regard.

Plywood Economical In Many Farm Uses

Brooder Houses Prove Utility of Material

Farmers are finding that the high strength and light weight of plywood makes it an economical and efficient material to use in portable farm buildings such as brooder houses, hog shelters, and range sheds.

A brooder house, a building magazine reports, should be of adequate size, warm and dry, and properly lighted and ventilated. To be economical, it should be relatively low in first cost, and yet be strongly built to give long life without expensive and troublesome upkeep. For convenience, it must be easy to clean and move.

Portability, of course, is of prime importance. Some portable buildings, built by conventional methods, weigh as much as 2 to 3 thousand pounds. Farmers naturally hesitate to move a heavy structure frequently, and so invite exposure to disease. If moved often, particularly over rough ground, heavy buildings soon are loosened at the joints.

Ends Poultry Chore

Another poultry chore has been electrified and placed on an automatic basis as shown above. This time it is a feeding job which normally requires considerable time and personal attention.

It is being accomplished on an increasing number of electrified farms by mechanical feeders operated by small motors. The device illustrated here is fairly common in a number of larger poultry houses. Feed and supplements are placed in the top of the metal cylinder and then mixed by the rotating central shaft which has small paddles attached at the lower end. The shaft is lowered as the feed is ejected from the bottom of the cylinder by the spinning paddles.

Chemical Caponization Held of Limited Value

The question of whether chemical caponization is practical is one which poultry raisers ask most frequently. Many county extension services also receive numerous questions on the subject.

In experimental work, the treatment stopped fighting and crowing among the cockerels.

"All things considered, it would appear that chemical caponization has very limited value at present."

Massachusetts Collegian Is Agricultural Winner

A 20-year-old Massachusetts college student whose two and one-half acre plot of potatoes grossed him $1,300, has been named champion farmer-businessman of the country in competition with thousands of farm youths from more than 40 states.

He is Russell L. Sears, Jr., of Cummington, Mass., who was declared winner of the ninth annual production-marketing contest.

School And Induction Calls

U. of I., Moscow — "Greetings from the President" do not necessarily mean immediate induction into the armed forces if the person is a university student, Dean H. E. Lattig, U. of I. coordinator for the Armed Services, said this week.

"University freshmen, who have never before enrolled, may have their call to active duty postponed until the end of the academic year, if they receive the call after they have registered for the fall term," Lattig added. "This ruling applies even though the student may have reported for physical examination before enrolling at the university."

University sophomores, juniors and seniors who receive a call to active duty prior to the opening of school may have the call postponed until the end of the academic year, if they meet the following requirements:

(1) The student must have completed at least one academic year of full-time instruction at a university, college or similar institution of learning.

(2) The university or college must certify that the student was scholastically in the upper half of his class during his last year of school.

(3) The local draft board must be satisfied that the student had intended to enroll and made the normal arrangements prior to August 1, 1950.

Registration for the fall term at the University of Idaho begins on September 14.

Sunday School Will Start

The Kendrick Community Church Sunday School will start at 10:00 a. m. Sunday, following a five-week vacation.

Two-Year Study of Polio Throws Light on 'Carriers'

Research has added evidence that entire family groups rapidly become "carriers" of polio virus when one member contracts the disease, according to a University of Michigan doctor.

However, "carriers" were also found to develop immunizing agents very quickly to the particular virus affecting the family, Dr. Gordon C. Brown, associate professor of epidemiology in the university's school of public health, declared.

Dr. Brown reported the results of a two-year study on poliomyelitis virus to the 34th annual meeting of the American association of immunologists.

In a study of three families in which cases of polio occurred in 1948, Dr. Brown found 13 "carriers" of polio virus among 22 individuals. Five clinical cases of the disease were found among the group of eight adults and 14 children. Two grandmothers were included in the adults.

With only two exceptions, the virus was found in persons under 12 years old, he pointed out: The individuals from whom virus was not recovered were all over the age of 15 years.

Of nine individuals with no polio virus in their body discharge, Dr. Brown found evidence in their blood serum of immunizing agents of the Lansing type, (one of the two common types of polio virus), indicating they had had previous exposure to polio virus of the Lansing type but had successfully escaped contracting the disease.

He reported that three people carrying non-Lansing type virus in their body discharge were also found to have some of the Lansing antibodies (immunizing agents) in their blood serum. Two of these individuals had clinical cases of the disease, indicating that although they have been exposed to Lansing type virus and had developed Lansing antibodies, they were not able to combat the non-Lansing type virus.

Mystery in Drop of Oil Explained by Scientists

Oil is black, but shows many colors when dropped on a wet pavement. Many wonder why it does so.

A large quantity of oil looks black, because light cannot get through it, but is absorbed. In a thin film, it is transparent. Such a film, which may be formed on a wet pavement, shows "interference" colors. Some light falling on such a film is reflected from the top surface. Some goes into the oil, and is reflected from the lower surface where water and oil are in contact.

When the light from the bottom gets back to the top, its waves may interfere with those reflected from the upper surface. If the two sets of light waves are in step, they help each other, but if out of step one cancels the other, and there is darkness.

Light waves vary in length; those of violet color are shortest; about 70,000 to the inch, while those of red light are longest, some 40,000 to the inch. Thus, a film the right thickness to cancel out one color may reinforce another. As the film varies in thickness, different colors are produced.

Fill Cracks Before Painting

Before repainting a wall or ceiling, make sure that the plaster is smooth and free from cracks. Small hair-line cracks can be filled with the aid of a putty knife and patching plaster. Sizeable cracks should have more careful treatment. With the aid of a putty knife, cut out a wedge-shaped area along the path of the crack. The wedge should be wider below the surface than at the surface so that the patching plaster will stay in place. After the patching plaster is inserted, the surface should be tooled smooth, then primed before the final coating is applied.

Swine Influenza

Swine influenza has been causing trouble the year around in some hog-growing areas, according to the Journal of the American Veterinary Medical Association. Several farmers, accustomed to seeing this disease from late fall through spring only, have been caught flat-footed by outbreaks in the summer months. The AVMA journal says that veterinarians have reported cases of summer influenza that appear to be identical to the "flu" seen in swine during cold weather. The only difference is that summer death losses have been higher—up to 15 or 20 per cent—mainly due to complications of acute pneumonia.

Radio Reception

Radio reception near a high-tension power line can be improved, although it is a difficult problem. It would probably help to erect a good antenna, as high as possible as far away from the high-tension lines as you can get, using a shielded lead-in to connect it on the set. The antenna should be pointed toward the station you want to hear, and away from the power line. A good ground connection on the receiver is also desirable. Some receivers are affected by such interference more than others, depending on the circuit used, the number of tubes, and other factors.

How To Get More Eggs

Fewer eggs, lack of pep, and loss of feathers are just some of the signs that hens may be infested with lice and mites. It's a losing battle too, and one which makes poor producers or culls out of what would otherwise be good laying hens.

"Lice generally spend their entire life cycle on the bird, either in the fluff or around the vent," says H. C. Manis, entomologist at the University of Idaho. "Putting nicotine sulphate on perches, either by painting or pouring a fine line from the can just before roosting time will eliminate these bothersome pests. Make the same application two weeks later to kill the newly hatched lice."

The entomologist points out that if the outbreak is bad, treat the birds individually. Dusting all fowl with 5 percent DDT dust will control all species of lice. Put the dust on the bird by first holding the chicken over a shallow pan. Then sift the powder through the feathers and over all parts of the head and body.

"The common red mite operates a little differently. This troublesome parasite houses itself in cracks and crevices in and around the roosts. When the bird is resting, generally at night, mites crawl onto the chicken and get a free meal at the expense of the bird."

Control of mites begins by first thoroughly cleaning the poultry house. Then spray the chicken coop and chicken house with 8 pounds of 50 percent DDT wettable powder in 100 gallons of water. One such treatment each year will control these pests.

National Defense

"If either one of the World Wars taught us anything it is that the extraordinary strength of our people, both as combatants and suppliers of munitions, lies in initiative and resourcefulness, backed up by faith in the institutions of liberty. In the next war, if and when it comes, we shall be without prime essentials of defense if we have lost the initiative and resourcefulness and the devotion that comes from living within the framework of freedom. That means we should maintain an economy which is not tax-ridden and discouraged; and, above all else, retain a population that has not been taught to look to government for its ideas, its faith, or even for the material things of life. This is a defense to be prized above all else."
 — Carroll B. Huttress.
