Brown of Kendrick, became the bride of Milton Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sterling, Lewiston, Aug. 27, at the Presbyterian-Congregational church, with the Rev. Douglas Vance officiating. The church was decorated with baskets of white gladioli and tall tiered white tapers.

Ann Ulen, Coeur d'Alene, sang "Through the Years" and "The Lord's Prayer, accompanied by Pauline Brigham. Mrs. Brigham also played the processional and recessional.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of traditional white slipper satin. It was fashioned with a high neckline, a sheer insert forming an off-shoulder effect, long sleeves and full skirt, with chapel length train. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown of stephanotis.

She wore a three-strand pearl necklace belonging to Mrs. Ed. Holland, Lewiston, and carried a deep purple orchid on a white Bible and a shower of satin ribbons and stephanotis. The gown and veil were worn by Mrs. Thomas H. Brown, Portland, sister-in-law of the bride, at her wedding.

Street Oiling Completed

Oiling operations on the state highway and on Kendrick's streets and alleys were completed Friday evening by McAtee & Heathe, Spokane contractors — and the results appear to be excellent.

Almost all of the village's side streets and alleys were spray coated with oil and then spread with gravel with the exception of the street adjoining the High school and gymnasium. This street had been shaped and prepared for oil — but the supply ran out before this street could be sprayed.

Deep pot-holes on the school house hill were filled with pre-mix, obtained from the state and then rolled, before receiving the oil coat and fine rock. This street was closed for about three days to allow the mixture to "set-up", and it is hoped that drivers will avoid spinning the wheels of their vehicles and excessive speed until it is more firmly packed.

Tuesday morning of this week signs were erected in the center of Main street instructing drivers to park their cars in the middle, to force traffic to drive on the sides, packing the new oil mat there. The speed limit was cut to 10 miles per hour as a safety measure.

U. of I. Registration Up

U. of I. Moscow — Total number of students registered at the University of Idaho for the fall semester was scheduled to pass the 3,000 mark this week.

"After all late registrants and graduate students are accommodated, we expect the number of resident students will be approximately 3,300," said D. D. DuSaut, registrar.

"This is the number that was estimated for the fall term when revisions on predictions were made in June, shortly after the outbreak of the Korean war."

Registration of graduate students will continue through the week until September 23. Advance applications indicate that the number of graduate students will be greater than last year. Enrollment of new women students is up more than 15 percent.

Despite the fact that the university had its biggest graduation class in history last June — almost 1,000 students — and some men students have been called to the armed forces, total enrollment this year is expected to be within 7 percent of that of last year.

Kendrick Girls Pledge Sororities

Three Kendrick young ladies, who will be attending the University of Idaho this coming term, pledged during "Rush Week" to three sororities: Patricia Long, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Dee Dee May, Alpha Chi Omega, and Peggy Cox, Gamma Phi Beta.

Trains Change Time

Slight changes were made in the N. P. passenger train schedule this past week, speeding up the time consumed between points somewhat.

An announcement of the new schedule appeared in last week's paper, and will also be found in this one.

Killed In Logging Accident

Lesco Reece, about 55 years old, woods scaler for the Porter Logging Co., was killed early Tuesday morning, when hit by a section of snag, dislodged by a falling tree, according to reports reaching Kendrick.

It seems that a tree was felled, and as it fell, it struck a snag, a piece of the snag sailed through the air, striking Mr. Reece and killing him instantly.

Mr. Reece is a pioneer of the Teakane-Cavendish area and well known here.

Howard Short, Latah county coroner was notified, and arrived on the scene within two hours after the accident.

Further details are lacking at this time.

CLUB MEETING ATTENDED BY BUT TEN MEMBERS

About the smallest number ever to attend a Kendrick Commercial Club meeting — just ten — sat down to dinner at Burt's Confectionery Wednesday evening of last week, and then went on to the City Hall for a business session.

Following the reading and approval of the Minutes of the previous meeting, committee reports were called for.

Tom Long, reporting for the Highway committee stated that McAtee & Heathe were making good progress on the road and street oiling program, and that work on the rebuilding of the Brady Gulch road was going forward steadily under favorable weather conditions. Every effort was being made, he added, to keep traffic rolling, although at times it might be necessary to close the road.

Reporting for the Education committee Gerald Ingle stated that the school election just over had returned the same Board of Directors — and that A. O. Kamikkeberg was a member of the County Board of Education. Mr. Ingle added that school bus routes seemed to be working out very nicely — one less bus being needed than last year.

L. S. Thurber then brought up the matter of the Annual Sales Day, and after some discussion the date was tentatively set for the second Saturday in October (Oct. 14), although this may be changed, so that a football game may be held on the local diamond, or due to other conditions.

Reporting for the Fish and Game committee W. L. McCreary stated that 600 Chinese pheasants had been released on Little Bear, Big Bear and Texas ridges, according to reports by Hal Ebling, state game conservation officer.

Gerald Ingle then announced the Latah County Fair — scheduled for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 21, 22 and 23. He added that three, and possibly four local exhibits would be shown — Joint District No. 283 P-T. A., Kendrick Grange, the Big Bear 4-H Club and Dr. D. A. Christensen.

Reporting for the Civic Improvement committee Walter Brocke said that Walter Sparker was installing a new roof on the city fire hall, and making other repairs about the building.

The matter of exhibits for local 4-H Clubs at Sales Day, was also discussed, and met with the favor of all — although this matter will necessarily have to be in the hands of the committee in charge.

There being no further business to come before the group, on motion it adjourned.

Ideal Weather Continues

Ideal weather for the conclusion of bean, barley and late oat harvesting has been the rule for the past week, although a heavy frost last Wednesday night played havoc with many gardens a-ton the ridge, but did no damage in Kendrick, despite the fact that roofs were white with it — looking, in the early morning, as though snow had fallen.

Gus Kruger, residing at the top of the Wauncher Gulch grade near Cameron, reported that a scum of ice formed on some water puddles near his home — and that his garden was a "total loss."

Trucks loaded with beans are seen regularly — and some loaded with wheat, oats and barley — being delivered as warehouses obtain a little room, due to shipping out.

The quality of beans this year is reported as "excellent," the best in many years, due to the ideal harvest conditions, and plenty of early moisture.

Grouse Season To Open

Blue, ruffed and franklin grouse seasons will open in some Idaho counties at noon Sept. 23, and all day the 24th, the state game department reported this week.

Nez Perce, Clearwater, Latah, Lewis and that portion of the Idaho county north of the Salmon river, Sept. 23 (12 noon) 24 and 25.

The department reminded hunters that all upland bird seasons open at 12:00 o'clock noon on the first day of the season. There is no open season on Chukar partridges and closures are in effect upon state game preserves, bird refuges, preserves and sanctuaries unless specified. It is unlawful to hunt, shoot at or kill game birds while in a boat, automobile or other vehicle propelled by mechanical power or to shoot at, hunt or kill any game bird with a rifle or pistol of any kind.

The game commission has prohibited the sale, issuance or use of shipping permits for the shipment of any upland game bird or birds by public carrier to points outside the state. The holder of a proper hunting license can personally carry one legal limit from the state.

City Workers Appointed

Following the resignation of E. M. White, village marshal and "man of all work," shortly after September 1, Wm. Bamberg was appointed by the trustees, as "man of all work," but would not accept the Star.

Monday of this week, after considerable "pressure" had been applied, Ward Helton agreed to accept the Marshal appointment — so Kendrick again has an officer.

Honored At Family Gathering

Phil Hoisington, a Marine Corps reserve, was honored Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cletis Hoisington, when about 80 friends gathered to wish him well.

He is being called to active duty.

WHEAT MARKETS STEADY, BUT MOST FEED GRAIN UP

Grain markets continued rather unsettled during the past week according to the Market News Service of the Department of Agriculture. Wheat prices held barely steady with the strengthening influence of frost damage in Canada and lack of cars to move the domestic spring wheat crop offset by a slow export demand and continued plentiful offerings. Trading in North Pacific Coast Wheat Crop Futures opened on the floor of the Chicago Board of Trade during the week. While trading was moderate. Quotations at the close were firm to slightly higher. Pacific Northwest cash wheat markets maintained a firm tone with prices on ordinary export types advancing about 1 cent compared with last week, largely reflecting the continued slow country selling. Oats markets were independently firm under a fairly active demand. Barley was also steady.

Prospects at the first of September were for a wheat crop of approximately 1,012 million bushels, which would be an increase of about 15 million bushels over the previous forecast but would fall about 135 million bushels short of the 1949 production. The September 1 forecast for the Canadian wheat crop was a little over 490 million bushels, or a drop of more than 50 million bushels from the first estimate. North American supplies this season, however, on the current estimates are nearly 110 million bushels larger than last season as a result of larger carry-overs and amount to approximately 2,032 million bushels.

Supplies of wheat remaining in the U. S. on Sept. 1, for milling, export or carry-over total about 1,064 million bushels compared with 1,076 million bushels a year earlier. Millings of wheat, July and August, this year, at 92.2 million bushels were slightly above those same months last year, but exports of grain at 30.3 million bushels were nearly 23 million bushels below those of last year.

Marketings of wheat increased somewhat during the week despite the shortage of cars for moving spring wheat and arrivals at the primary markets totaled a little over 10.5 million bushels. A good milling demand prevailed for better types of wheat and prices were steady to slightly higher as a result. Export demand, however, continued slow. Inspected wheat for export during the first part of the month amounted to only 4.1 million bushels.

Pacific Northwestern wheat markets closed firm to slightly higher. Trading in futures was moderate and December traded at $2.16 per bushel and the March at $2.19 on the opening day. Trading in the cash market was limited, reflecting a continued dull export trade and a rather slow request from millers. Despite the limited demand, prices were slightly higher compared with a week ago, largely as a result of a continued strong holding policy by growers. Current market prices at Portland are around 7c per bushel under the support price in that market for No. 1 soft white wheat, and producers were reported as placing substantial quantities of wheat under loans and purchase agreements.

Harvesting of the Pacific Northwest wheat crop was nearing completion and reports indicated that between 6 and 7 million bushels of wheat are piled on the ground. Receipts of wheat at principal Pacific Northwest terminals totaled 1,034 cars during the past week. Inspected wheat for export during the same period amounted to about 1.2 million bushels from Pacific Northwest ports. The CCC were offering No. 1 soft white wheat at $2.20½ per bushel, FOB ship, and No. 1 hard red winter at $2.22½ to exporters. Sales reported by the CCC during the week amounted to 185,000 bushels compared with 324,667 bushels the previous week. Bid prices at Portland on white wheats at the close of the market were at $2.14, while ordinary hard red winter was bid at $2.16, basis No. 1 grade, 15-day shipment, delivered coast.

In the Pacific Northwest all prices held steady compared with last week, influenced by the continued light marketings. At the same time, terminal buying interest remained light.

Meet in New York

Mrs. W. E. Deobald received a letter from her daughter, Gay, who is taking her internship as a dietitian at New York hospital, saying she had received the surprise of her life while visiting Times Square.

Gay, with some friends, had just finished lunch and were standing in front of the New York Times building, watching the news flashes that appeared and rotated around the face of the building, when she heard someone behind her say: "No, it can't be — but it is her," and as she turned she came face to face with a group of students from the U. of I., with whom she had attended school and were there sight seeing among them being Jordan Kanikkeberg and Dean Moser.

After reminiscing they all agreed that if you stood in Times Square long enough you'd be sure to meet someone you knew.

Will you leave these to your children?

Men have died to leave you these 4 symbols of freedom:

A door key — your right to lock your door against illegal government force and prying.

(Fourth Amendment, U. S. Constitution)

A Holy Bible — symbol of your right to worship as you wish.

(First Amendment, U. S. Constitution)

A pencil — freedom to speak or write what you think, whether you agree with the government or not.

(First Amendment, U. S. Constitution)

And a free ballot — your right to choose the kind of government you want — your protection against government tyranny.

(Article I, U. S. Constitution)

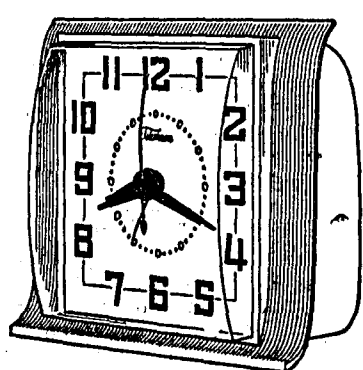

These symbols have no meaning in countries where government controls everything — for there the individual man or woman has no freedoms.

But there are people who are trying to give the U. S. government more and more control over American life. "Let the government start," they say, "by taking over certain industries and services — the doctors, the railroads, the electric light and power companies."

Most of these people — like most Americans — don't want a socialistic U. S. A. They have other reasons for government control. But when government, moving step by step, controls enough things, you have a socialist government, whether you want it or not. You'll be controlled, too. Then what freedoms will you be able to pass on to your children?

Medical Scientists Trace Radioactivity to Lone Cell

The first photograph of the track of an invisible beta particle speeding from a single body cell has been made by medical scientists. The achievement was announced by scientists at the atomic energy project of the University of Rochester school of medicine.

It means that scientists studying growth and deterioration of tissue may now accurately locate single body cells which have absorbed a radioactive isotope.

The process is called autoradiography. The new photographic technique is made possible through use of special highly sensitive photographic plates produced by Kodak research laboratories.

The tiny nuclear particle which leaves its signature in this new process is called a beta particle. It is an electron thrown out of a radioactive atom after being placed in a cell or tissue section by scientists.

The achievement is expected to widen the scope of radioactive tracer research in biology and medicine. Radioactive tracers enable scientists to learn more about the processes of the human body. They have been made plentiful and inexpensive through the development of atomic energy.

Autoradiography itself is not new. The process was first discovered in 1896 when a French scientist laid a specimen of uranium sulfate on a pack of photographic plates. When developed, the plates showed a blackened area which later proved to have been produced by radiation from the uranium. This blackened photographic plate was the first autoradiograph.

When Does Child Reach Safe Age to Own Bike?

The Safe age for bicycle use depends upon two things:

The Child—How thorough has his safety training been? Has he had safety instruction at school and at home? Have you taught him good pedestrian habits? Has he proved that he is aware of the dangers of street traffic? Does he obey your instructions in other things?

The Place—Do you live on a quiet street, with little traffic, or on a busy thoroughfare? Do you live in the city or a small town? Is police traffic control good and are drivers generally careful and observant? Will you limit the bike to off-the-street use until you are confident of your child's ability and attitude?

Once the decision is made to permit a bicycle, parents should make sure that the one purchased is the proper size, the council says. Then set down your rules of conduct and enforce them strictly.

Depending upon the nature of the child and the place of residence, this is the council's general guide for parents in buying a bicycle:

5-7 Years—The 20-inch bike. Residential off-the-street use only. Teach the child to dismount and walk the bike across streets.

8-10 Years—The 24-inch bike. Limited riding on quiet residential streets.

11 Years and Older—The 26-inch bike. Full freedom except on heavily-traveled arterial streets.

Vanishing "Flat Foot"

Flat feet as an occupational hazard for cops may soon go the way of the horse and buggy. So says the International City Managers' association, citing data gathered for the 1950 Municipal Year Book showing the extent of motorization of city police forces. Thirty four cities reported that they do all their police patrol work with motor vehicles and no city reported having only foot patrols. All others use both foot and motor patrol. In relation to the number of police employees, cities of less than 500,000 population are more highly motorized than are the big cities. The number of police patrol cars per 100 policemen in the small cities is more than double that of the large cities. In cities of 10,000 to 25,000 population, motor vehicles average 13 patrol cars to every 100 employees while in the major cities the average is 5.2.

First White House Architect

President George Washington approved the selection of the site for the President's house—the White House—which had been selected by Major Pierre L'Enfant, a French engineer. The site was on the farm of David Burns, whose land extended southward to the Potomac river. A prize of $500 was offered for the best design for the building. Several were submitted but that of James Hoban, an architect from Dublin, Ireland, who was then residing in Charleston, South Carolina, won the award. He thus became the first architect of the White House. The design is said to have been based on that of the Duke of Leinster's palace in Dublin.

Dairying in Puerto Rico

Dairy farmers in Puerto Rico have a good chance of doubling their milk production within the next 10 years. Artificial breeding offers special problems in Puerto Rico because of the comparative scarcity of telephones. This handicap prevents many farmers from calling insemination headquarters when a cow is ready to be bred.

Idaho Football Practice On

U. of I., Moscow — On September 23 the Idaho Vandals play their opening game of the season against Utah, a gridiron rival of long standing, at the new Boise stadium. In August Head Coach Dixie Howell sent out word to some 40 Idaho hopefuls, telling them to report for the first day's effort on the turf the morning of September 1st — and several weeks before that he mailed them a request to start getting in top physical condition for the nine-game Idaho schedule.

With only 20 days to prepare for a tough foe, Howell instituted twice-a-day sessions as soon as the squad had worked out the first stiffness. He states he is worried at the Utah offense and defense under their new mentor, Jack Curtice. Idaho and Utah did not meet last fall.

The Vandals have 19 returning lettermen to form the background of the 1950 team. These will be backed up by more than 20 sophomores from the successful 1949 freshman squad. The Vandals lost 12 veterans from the 1949 varsity.

It is pleasing to Idaho athletic officials to open the season with the annual game in south Idaho, especially since Boise fans have been instrumental in securing a new playing site.

The question of Idaho's 1950 team will largely have to remain unanswered until game time. The 19 veterans give Coach Howell a starting lineup of players with two years of varsity experience. The starters are backed up by players with one year of experience, and then come the sophomores.

Little is known of Utah's strength, of their type of offense, except that Curtice is noted for his razzle-dazzle, spread type of play. Idaho will use for the most part the Notre Dame box, mixed in with a T-formation effort now and then to keep the defense on the job.

Apples Were High Alright

A woman in a grocery store was shocked by the high price of apples. "They're high all right ma'am," said the clerk. "But that's because they're so scarce."

"Why," protested the woman, "Just this morning I read in the paper that there was such a bumper crop of apples that they're rotting on the trees."

"That's just it, ma'am," the clerk replied. "That's why they're scarce. It doesn't pay to pick them." — Reader's Digest.

Education Campaign Upped
Boise, (Special) — Inauguration of a greatly enhanced program of public education throughout Idaho for the forthcoming year was announced this week by Leo J. Falk of Boise, president of the Idaho division of the American Cancer Society.

1946 assistant superintendent of St. Luke's hospital in Boise, has been appointed to the newly created post of associate state commander of the society and state headquarters have been moved to larger quarters in the Continental State Bank building.

"Response to the recent educational campaign and annual fund solicitation has made it possible for the society to do a better job during the forthcoming year," Falk added. "We are very fortunate in securing the services of Mrs. Richardson, who for several years has been associated with the society as a volunteer leader in the program."

RED CROSS HAS RECORD NUMBER SERVING U. S. MILITARY FORCES

With U. S. military forces at five times their prewar strength, a record number of American Red Cross workers are serving them throughout the world.

The Red Cross man at Hickam Air Force Base, Hawaii, lends a helping hand to a young marine, enroute from Kwajalein to his Maine home on emergency leave.

More than 2,000 Red Cross representatives today are stationed at 1,300 military installations and 123 hospitals here and overseas. About 1,400 staff workers are serving troops in this country. The others are working at occupation and defense posts abroad. Only during the peak years of World War II were a larger number on duty.

The duties of these Red Cross workers are as varied as the locale in which they work, involving a wide range of welfare services that contribute to military morale. They may include tiding over a soldier's wife with grocery and rent money until her family allowance check comes through, or getting a welfare report on an Eskimo serviceman's mother via weather bureau radio. Sometimes it means getting word of a family emergency to a sailor with the fleet in the Mediterranean.

Service of the Red Cross worker in a military hospital may be helping a man through the difficult hour when he learns that he will never be well again or removing the worry that often stands in the way of his recovery.

The Red Cross has a field worker on the spot or nearby who can help try to solve it.

In this country 361 field directors and their assistants cover 148 base stations, 31 substations, and 923 itinerant stations. During the last year field directors at camps handled more than 672,000 cases. Health and welfare reports requested by servicemen or their families were the most common type of help asked for. More than 179,000 such cases were recorded. The next most frequent type of request was that involving leave or extension of leave. The Red Cross cannot grant leave, but military authorities depend upon the organization for reports of conditions underlying leave requests. These cases run into many thousands each year.

Under federal statute and regulations of the Army, the Navy, and the Air Force, the American Red Cross furnishes volunteer aid to the sick and wounded of the armed forces and acts in matters of voluntary relief and as a medium of communication between the people of the United States and their armed forces.

Abroad, Red Cross coverage is almost as complete as in this country. In Japan alone, 159 men and women are serving occupation troops at 31 military installations and 14 hospitals. Other parts of the Far East are equally well staffed.

In the last year Red Cross staff members handled more than 102,000 welfare cases in military hospitals. More than 500 professional Red Cross workers are stationed at 40 army hospitals, 26 navy hospitals, and 14 air force hospitals.

In Europe, 248 Red Cross workers serve military personnel and their dependents at 51 military installations, and 15 hospitals, most of them in occupied Germany. Coverage is also given in England and to miscellaneous units still in France.

For the able-bodied, too, whatever the problem or wherever the serviceman is stationed, the chances are that cause clean-cultivated row crops during those months provide only a small amount of protection.

High intensity summer rains cause soil losses in two ways, the Ohio research men say. Large-sized drops strike the earth with such force they break the surface soil into small particles that quickly fill all surface pores. This seals the soil surface into a hard crust that water cannot penetrate. Excessive runoff and erosion losses are the result. Also, high intensity rain beats down so fast that even unsealed earth cannot take it as rapidly as it comes.
Thick stands of deep-rooted legumes and grasses will provide a soil-protecting cover that will enable the land to take high intensity rains in stride. To produce dense, leafy stands, the legumes must be well fed. That means liming, where needed.

Five-Point Program
A five-point program to "balance the soil's needs" and obtain maximum crop yields per acre at lowest production costs, was outlined by O. T. Coleman, Missouri university extension soils specialist.
Here are the steps Coleman suggests:
1—Provide plenty of plant food in available form for growing crops.
2—Have soil tests made to find out whether the plant food supply is in balance. Growing crops need a balanced ration the same as do humans and livestock. A soil test will be a guide in adding the kind and amount of plant nutrients the soil needs.
3—Get the soil in condition so crops can use the plant foods. This means building up the organic matter supply. Organic matter can be added and soil tilth improved by growing well-fed deep-rooted legumes such as alfalfa or sweet clover in the rotation. When the soil is well stocked with plant nutrients and organic matter, minerals are released so that plant roots can more efficiently use them.
4—Keep water, plant nutrients and soil at home by conservation methods. Where needed, these may include terracing and contouring to reduce runoff and erosion losses on upland soils.
5—Follow a well-balanced cropping system. Rotate pasture and green manure crops regularly with grains. Livestock is a "must" to properly make use of pasture and roughage crops. Tests have shown that where a crop is pastured off, about 75 per cent of the organic matter is returned to the soil through manure.

Summer Rains Can Be Serious Soil Robbers
88 Per Cent of Loss Occurs During Season

Summer rains can be "soil robbers" that cause serious erosion losses unless farm land is protected by good conservation safeguards, Ohio State University soils research men point out.
A 10-year study of erosion damage at the Zanesville, Ohio experiment station, showed that more than 88 per cent of the soil loss due to rainfall occurred in the six summer months. Farm soil is most vulnerable in summer because clean-cultivated row crops during those months provide only a small amount of protection.

Remodeled Farm Kitchen Saves 45 Miles Yearly
Mrs. George C. Wheatcroft of Warren county, Kentucky, recently had a farm kitchen remodeled into a u-shape, saving an estimated 45 miles of walking a year.
She says: "I can now prepare three meals and take only 250 to 300 steps where it did take 300 to 500, and that means a saving of 45 miles a year. Besides saving miles it saves time and is much more attractive."
