Hallowe'en Very Quiet
Locally, Hallowe'en Tuesday evening was one of the quietest, in as far as mischief was concerned, that Kendrick has ever seen, although quite "noisy" due to a prolonged blowing of the fire siren, when some prankster shorted across the wires leading to it, and about a five-minute blast ensued.

Early in the evening a "Hob-Goblin" parade was held for the youngsters on Main street, with treats and prizes being awarded at the Community church at its close.

Those receiving prizes were Ila Jones, as princess; Janet Eldridge, as the wicked witch; Billy Blawett as a negro boy, and Lee Brocke as an old man. The little folks, in their weird and eerie "get-ups," were greeted with much enthusiasm and laughter as they marched down the street.

A party was also held for the high school students at the gym, cider and doughnuts being served. This latter was given by the C. C. Y. of the Community church.

Of course there was some "trick or treat" and some window soaping—but it wouldn't be Hallowe'en without that activity.

Southwick 4-H Club News

The Syringa 4-H girls held a meeting at the school lunch room the evening of Oct. 25. Three new members were present—Sonja Holsath, Diane King and Verla Miller. Room Improvement is an additional project for the club this year. The regular Clothing, Cooking and Canning classes will be held. Premium checks were given to nine girls having finished and exhibited work at the County Fair last month. The total amount of the girls' winnings was $58.37. Individual checks ranged from $2.00 to $9.25, showing that club work does pay financially as well as in knowledge and accomplishments. Parents and the community in general can well feel proud of the girls' efforts. The next meeting will be held at Virginia Cuddy's home Nov. 8 at 7:00 p. m. These meetings are always open to parents.

Installing New Water Line

Bill Bamberry, city employee, assisted by Charley McCarthy and Walter Sparber has been busy the past few days installing a new water line to serve the David Clayton and Ed. Gertie homes and will be extended to the new house Walter Sparber is building on the schoolhouse hill.

The previous line was only of 1/2-inch pipe, and inadequate to supply two, not to mention three homes. Pipe is being removed from the old Vollmer spring line and used in this work—as new pipe is unobtainable.

PROPOSED MAIL SERVICE TO THIS AREA UNSATISFACTORY

The Star Route mail service from Spokane to this area, replacing train No. 313 of the N. P., when the latter is taken off December 1st, does not meet with the approval of any area resident—and previously published information does not "exactly jibe" with the call for bids a copy of which was obtained by Cecil Gruell, and which we reproduce below:

"Bid for Temporary Star Route Service. The undersigned hereby agree to perform temporary star route service between Spokane, Washington, Terminal, PTS, and Lewiston, Idaho, via Rosalia, Oakesdale, Garfield, Palouse and Pullman, Washington; Moscow, Troy, Kendrick and Juliaetta, Idaho, a distance of 140.00 miles, serving the offices of Rosalia, Oakesdale, Garfield, Palouse and Pullman, Washington; Moscow, Troy, Kendrick and Juliaetta, Idaho, a distance of 140.00 miles, serving the offices of Rosalia, Oakesdale, Garfield, Palouse and Pullman, Washington, by means of motor vehicle, conveying all classes of mails (except baby chicks) each direction seven times per week, at the rate of dollars per annum, with the understanding that a bid in regular form may be submitted later if an advertisement is issued.

The schedule of service to be as follows: From Spokane, Washington, Terminal, PTS, by Rosalia, Oakesdale, Garfield, Palouse and Pullman, Washington, thence by Moscow, Troy, Kendrick and Juliaetta to Lewiston, Idaho. Returning by the shortest route to Moscow, Idaho, thence by Pullman, Palouse, Garfield, Oakesdale and Rosalia to Spokane, Washington, Terminal, PTS, equal to a distance of 133 miles and back, seven times a week. Box delivery and collection service not required.

"Leave Spokane, Washington, Terminal, PTS, daily, at 10:15 p. m. "Arrive Lewiston, Idaho, by 3:15 a. m.

"Leave Lewiston, Idaho, daily, 30 minutes after arrival. "Arrive Spokane, Washington, Terminal, PTS, by 7:00 a. m."

Our Note: Close reading of the above shows that no morning or "up mail" from Lewiston is under consideration, since the bid calls specifically for "Returning by the shortest route to Moscow, Idaho." This will effectively eliminate any morning mail from the south.

A letter of protest was filed by the Kendrick Commercial Club, reading as follows: "At the last meeting of the Commercial Club, it was unanimously favored that a Star Route be established to carry the mail that heretofore has been carried by the two Northern Pacific trains that will be discontinued December 1st, 1950. We understand that it is proposed that this route will go from Moscow, Troy, Kendrick, Juliaetta and into Lewiston. We believe that for the best interest of everyone concerned, this route should go from Moscow, Troy, Deary, Kendrick, Juliaetta and into Lewiston. This is a much better road and is also a school bus route and would be more dependable getting through in the winter time. We also suggest that the time schedule be set so as to coincide as nearly as possible with the schedule that the two trains used. Leaving Lewiston at the time you have suggested, will be of little or no benefit to us here in Kendrick as it would be so early in the morning that it wouldn't catch the mail going into Spokane. Also want to mention that the plan as herein outlined met with favorable consideration by the Latah County Chamber of Commerce at their meeting at Princeton, Idaho, October 18, 1950. We trust that you will give this your favorable consideration."

"Mr. Roy E. Davis, Secretary Kendrick Commercial Club My Dear Sir: I wish to acknowledge your letter of October 23, 1950, relative to the action taken by the Kendrick Commercial Club concerning the mail service in your area.

It is the prime purpose in the establishment of this route to provide the various post offices upon the route with an early delivery of mails comparable with that now made by Train 313, so that the mails will be available for morning delivery to the patrons of the offices as well as to those served by rural routes.

In the establishment of star routes we are obliged to make the routing over the shortest route, and it is for that reason the routing is made as set out.

The return movement if made via your office on the present train time will not afford us the possibility of making train connections to the east at Spokane.

The office of Deary, Idaho, is being adequately served over the W. I. & M. rail route, and if included in the proposed route would increase the cost of operation.

If after a fair trial it is found that the operation does not function efficiently and to the best interest of the department, changes will be made.—Respectfully yours, J. F. Robinson, District Superintendent."

Our Note: "It should be borne in mind that Mr. Robinson makes no mention whatsoever of Train No. 314, or the morning train up from Lewiston, carrying mail from the south. When this omission was found, the aid of the Lewiston and Moscow Chambers of Commerce and their newspapers was requested by the Kendrick Commercial Club. A call was put in to Mr. Robinson in protest from Lewiston, and he had the following to say (as quoted by the Lewiston Tribune): "If it doesn't work out we'll entertain changes, but how much volume is there in those

Skies Weep Saturday-Sunday

Local skies sent rain falling in sheets a good part of Saturday, and most of Sunday, although Sunday afternoon the sun broke through and warmed the soggy earth—for the thermometer remained well up in the column until late Monday morning, when it dipped to a low of 32 degrees here in the canyon, and glazed some roofs and water puddles with an icy rim.

Tuesday night was under cloudless skies, the thermometer still lower, bringing a heavy white frost that finished off the remaining leaves on trees.

Local colorings this fall have been as beautiful as anyone could wish—gold, brown, bright yellow, red and orange leaves may be seen in many places still.

SHORT NEWS ITEMS FROM OUR LOCAL SCHOOLHOUSE

Attend Legislative Conference
Audrey Beck and Edward Pederson left Kendrick last Friday at 9:18 a. m. for a pre-legislative youth conference at Pullman, sponsored by the Y. M. C. A., arriving there about 11:00. The reason for this trip was to organize for the Youth Legislators at Boise and Olympia. It was held in Pullman, instead of Moscow, as in previous years.

At 5:30 p. m. they attended a banquet at the Stadium Commons. Mrs. Compton, the wife of the college president, was the guest speaker of the evening. Later there was a recreation period at the Y. M. C. A.

Saturday morning at 8:00 three youth speakers discussed the problems of schools, mental institutions, and roads, in Idaho and Washington. Next they divided into five smaller groups, discussed these problems, and decided on which would be the most important issue, and why.

Saturday afternoon, after lunch, all attended the football game between W. S. C. and the U. of I.

Monday morning, J. V. Root, a delegate of the Y. M. C. A., came to speak to the student body, student council and the American History class, about the part that youth must play in future government activities.

Football News
Last Friday afternoon, Oct. 27, the Kendrick Tigers played host to the Potlatch Loggers on a wet, soggy field, losing to the Loggers by a score of 25 to 6. Potlatch seemed able to surprise the Tigers during the first half with several long runs which proved to either set-up or make touchdowns for them, and the half-time score ended 19 to 0 in favor of Potlatch.

Half-time entertainment was furnished by the Kendrick High School band and the Majorettes.

In the second half Potlatch scored again, but the Tigers wouldn't give up—and took to the air. After a series of passes they scored, making the second half much more interesting.

Play Is Scheduled
The fall play, "The Fighting Littles," by Caroline Francke, adapted from the novel of the same name by Booth Tarkington, is a retake on the one given here seven years ago. It is the story of the Little's family troubles. In learning to understand each other they go through a series of ridiculous situations and differences in viewpoint without realizing how funny they really are.

The play will be presented Tuesday, November 21, at 8:00 p. m. in the High School gym. You will miss a lot of laughs if you fail to see it.

The cast is as follows: Almatina, Kathleen Crawford; Alita, Marlene Wilken; Filmer, Teddy Meyer; Mr. Little, Clifford Cook; Ham Ellers, Roger Jones; Mrs. Little, De Ann Mielke; Goody, Mildred Brammer; Antoinette, Nancy Callison; Cuckoo, Jo Darby; Snowball, Oreta Holt; Henrietta, Judy White; Norman Peed, Ronald Benjamin; Dicky Hardpeddle, James Holt; Mrs. Hardpeddle, Maxine Slind; Miss Pologa, Sonja Holsath.

Creamery Offered For Sale
A meeting of the stockholders of the Kendrick Co-operative Creamery was held in the basement of the Kendrick Community church on Wednesday evening of last week, at which time, following the reading of portions of the auditor's report and financial statement, members present voted to sell building and business, there being two interested buyers at the time.

It was the consensus of opinion, however, that it should be sold to someone interested in maintaining and operating it as a going concern, for the good of the territory as a whole—and not just to be closed up and operated as a cold storage unit and milk dispensing plant.

The matter of the sale was placed in the hands of the directors, following a discussion of the sale price.

A brand new Diesel and Gasoline Motor Oil combining General Petroleum's New RN 126 Series Heavy Duty Lubricating Oil.
What General Petroleum's RN 126 Lubricating Oil can do for you:

1. It has been proven that RN 126 lubricating oil will reduce liner wear as much as 90%.
2. It will keep the pistons free of deposits and maintain the pistons and valves in a free working condition.
3. It will prevent harmful deposits from forming in the engine, which might result in plugged oil lines.
4. It will protect the bearings, gears and other wearing surfaces.

RN Oil Can Do This Because:

1. RN 126 contains a large amount of a very powerful detergent additive. This additive has the unique property of counteracting the acidic compounds formed in combustion.
2. RN 126 is made from high-grade, solvent refined lubricating stock which will not leave hard carbon deposits under the most severe temperature conditions.
3. RN 126 is fortified with a powerful anti-foam agent, thus insuring positive oil-pump operation and full flow of oil to bearings.
4. RN 126 is further fortified with a special additive which prevents the corrosion of hard-alloy bearings.

You may expect the following benefits when using General Petroleum RN 126 Lubricating Oil:

1. Lower maintenance costs.
2. Longer periods between engine overhauls.
3. Higher average engine power output and efficiency.
4. Simplified oil stock problem: (You don't have to have two different kinds of oil for your Diesel and Gas motors) since this lubricant is also recommended for use in gasoline powered equipment.

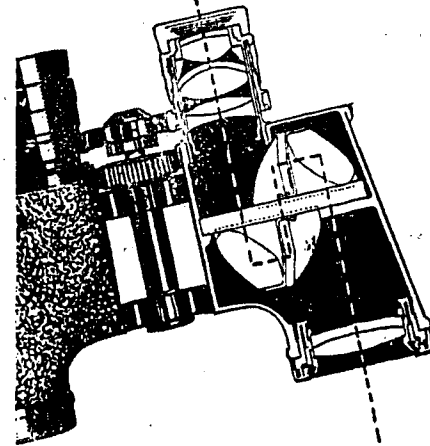

So — If you want to increase the length of time between major overhauls, reduce cylinder-liner and piston ring wear, improve engine cleanliness, minimize piston ring and valve sticking, maintain peak power and efficiency for longer periods, change to new RN 126 Lubricating Oil Now!

three little burgs?"
Mr. Robinson seems to have missed the point. We thought mail service was for the benefit of all — witness a RFD — how much volume is there there? Then too, consider that one RFD, serving a wide area, leaves Juliaetta; two rural routes and one star route leave Kendrick, and three rural routes leave Troy.
The Star Route out of Kendrick serves two other postoffices, Cameron and Southwick, and at the latter point, it too serves two rural routes, covering a very large territory. On one of these out of Southwick, a winter schedule of three trips per week is used — so if there were a morning mail it could well be possible for letters to be there to four days getting from Walla Walla or Lewiston to a boxholder on the Southwick-Park route.
It would seem to us that as roads and transportation systems have improved, mail service is going backward. Surely Mr. Robinson doesn't want this.
Protests are on file with Mr. Robinson by the Lewiston Chamber of Commerce and the Moscow Chamber of Commerce, as well as the Kendrick Commercial Club.
As we go to press, no further information is available.

How Much Control?

While any positive statement related to the present economic and military turmoil is extremely hazardous, it can probably be said with safe assurance that the subject of "controls" is the most badly mixed up of all.
It is time for some review of the situation. We find evidence that the first wave of scare buying is subsiding as the public finds it can buy anything today that it could buy the day before Easter.
Demand was rising even before the Korean kettle boiled over and last week steel mills in the Pittsburgh area were producing at 102 percent of capacity; automobile makers two weeks ago turned out 185,000 cars and trucks to set a mark 35 percent above that of a year ago, and television set manufacturers made almost as many sets in the first half of this year as in all of 1949, by turning out 3,100,000 units.
Wholesalers sold $5,751 million of merchandise during June, which was 15 percent above June of 1949, and only 5 percent above May of this year. Dollar volume of department store sales was 46 percent above the preceding year for the week ending July 22, while for the week ending July 29, it was 42 percent above the 1949 total.
Much of the uncertainty in Washington comes from the fact that congress is being pushed by the public to "control" something; the executive departments are reluctant to accept the job of "controlling" and actually the demands of the military for goods and the sinews of war, while large by comparison with recent expenditures, are as $10 billion to $15 billion compared with our national economy which is now at about the $265 billion level. — Idaho State Chamber of Commerce

Cigarette Use Tapers Off After Long Upward Trend

Although U.S. smokers used three and one-half billion more cigarettes in 1949 than in 1948 there was a decrease of about one package of cigarettes per capita says the U.S. department of agriculture. The bureau of agricultural economics reports suggests that the demand for cigarettes may now be leveling off after a series of record breaking years.

Last year, the BAE reports, that the increase of three and one-half billion in use of cigarettes was about 1 per cent, bringing the total for the year to 352 billion. But population increased more than 1 per cent. The increase in cigarettes for the first half of the year was about 2 per cent, and for the last half was just about even with the 1948 consumption for those months. With an estimated population increase of more than two and one-half million, this figures to a per capita supply of 2,435 cigarettes in 1949 as compared with 2,455 in 1948.

The steady and sometimes sharp upward trend in cigarette consumption in the United States has been under way for many years, the BAE records show. Only one drop in civilian consumption has been noted. In 1944 the civilian use ran below the 1943 record. But the bureau says that "when allowance is made for the great volume consumed by large numbers in the armed forces and overseas personnel, total consumption in 1944 substantially exceeded that of 1943."

During and since the war, cigarette smoking has continued to gain. The figures for the last half of 1949 are the first indication of a break in the climb.

Eniwetok Atoll Ranks High Among Battered Land Spots

When the history of the 1941-1950 decade is written, Eniwetok Atoll will take top rank among the most bludgeoned of Pacific land spots. Typhoons, World War II bombs, and atomic weapon tests will have pooled their awesome power to put it there.

Eniwetok, soon again to feel atom blasts in its role as proving ground for the Atomic Energy commission, has already been battered by all three of these forces in the now waning decade.

This northwest outpost of the scattered Marshall Islands, 2,725 miles southwest of Honolulu and about the same distance southeast of Tokyo, was home to 138 island natives two years ago when its destiny in the atomic program was announced. The inhabitants were moved to Ujelang, 150 miles southwest of Eniwetok, a few weeks before the first secret atomic tests at Eniwetok in the spring of 1948.

They left with little regret, since the main islets containing Japanese installations had been razed to their coral bases and denuded of trees by heavy bombardment in mid-February, 1944. That attack culminated in a quick conquest of Eniwetok by U. S. amphibious forces.

Something About Cats

Cats can be trained easily to be neat in houses and apartments. The mere provision of toys for their personal entertainment, plus a little discipline, will keep them from damaging curtains and other household items. They are slaves to habits, such as eating, and are homebodies in that they seem to become more attached to their homes than to people. When a cat fails to respond to its master's orders, it isn't necessarily being ornery. More likely, it fails to comply because it sees no sound reason for doing so. Cats may breed at any time of the year, although January and February are their preferred months. A cat "in heat" may wriggle along the floor and cry as if she had a severe stomach ache. "People unfamiliar with this symptom are apt to think that the animal is critically ill," he said.

High School Students

High school students who earn the best grades follow specific study procedures, a northwestern university professor discovered in analyzing the study habits of more than 1000 secondary school pupils. Dr. William G. Brink, a professor in Northwestern's school of education, made the study to provide data for high schools considering changes in curricula to produce higher scholastic achievement. As the result of his investigations, Dr. Brink recommends that "guidance in the improvement of study habits should be integrated with instructional activities." The study habits of their classes followed similar patterns, the educator found.

Sea Anemone

A strange partnership of the tropical coral reefs exists between the sea anemone, which paralyzes its prey with its stinging cells, and the small anemone fish, somehow immune to the sting of its companion. The fish lurks among the tentacles of the anemone until the prey passes within reach. Deftly it maneuvers the prey, usually another small fish, within range of the stingers and holds it there until paralyzed. Then anemone and partner share the meal.

Farallons, Bird Refuge, Now Closed to Civilians

California's Farallon islands, whose 1950 U.S. census count of an even 30 inhabitants was reported complete before the April 1 official census started, found human traffic there far greater in the 19th century than it has been in the first half of the 20th.

Russian sealers occupied the bleak group, 26 miles west of San Francisco's Golden Gate, from 1812 to 1833, notes the National Geographic society. Drafting Indians and Aleuts as labor, they reduced seals from abundance to scarcity, taking close to 200,000 skins for the China trade. Sir Francis Drake had restocked his vessel with seal meat at the Farallons in 1579.

During the 1849 gold rush in California, food was scarce in San Francisco. Egg-gathering from the nests of gulls and murres on the Farallons became profitable and well organized, and the traffic continued for many years. Finally, bird lovers stepped in, and the islands are now a bird refuge, closed to civilians from April to August.

The Farallons, known but little even to mainland Californians, consist of three pinpoint groups of rocky islets spreading over seven miles of the Pacific ocean on air and water lanes of trans-Pacific travel. Paradoxically, although they are officially part of the City of San Francisco, the mayor and other city officials may not set foot on them without special permission.

The permission must come from the 12th coast guard district based in San Francisco. It provides the personnel that maintains the powerful beacon 358 feet above sea level atop Southeast Farallon, the only inhabited island of the group.

The lighthouse-keeping families live in neat, white houses at the foot of the high beacon cliff. A radar station and an automatic fog-signal horn complete the island's important navigation aid equipment.

Human Regard for Criminal Modern Idea, Says Educator

The idea that the legal offender shares a common humanity with his nonoffender brother is a relatively novel conception and regards the criminal as a human being and not subhuman, specialhuman, superhuman, inhuman, robotohuman, or extrahuman. Dr. Robert Lindner, clinical psychologist at Haarlem Lodge, Catonsville, Maryland, told the first session of the third annual institute on crime and delinquency which University of California extension held in Los Angeles recently.

Declaring that "Offenders, too, are human," Dr. Lindner pointed out that the modern view of the criminal historically succeeds the primitive, theological, philosophical, mechanical, and psychiatric views.

"The modern view is based on a total approach to the offender, including the whole person and his history in the world; it is based upon scientific knowledge that is reaching a level of maturity; its sources are biological, anthropological, sociological, and psychological. Among these, the psychoanalytical appears to be the most fruitful and comprehensive."

Study Hydrogen Bonds

While other scientists the nation over concern themselves with hydrogen bombs, Dr. Joseph W. Ellis and Dr. Leonard Glatt of the physics department of the University of California are busy with hydrogen bonds—a study more closely related to everyday life. Hydrogen bonds are links which assist in holding together the long molecular chains found in many of the substances we use in our daily life. These links are formed by the sharing of a proton (hydrogen nucleus) between two units of the same or different molecules. Examples of substances they bind together are liquid water, proteins, and many plastics, including nylon.

From Everywhere

The ingredients of paint products literally come from the world's four corners. Take, for example, a quarter pint can of varnish stain. It's packed in a shipping case made from fibre that may have come from Norway. The paper for the label may have come from the same place. The tin for the can probably came from either Bolivia or Malaya. The contents may consist of linseed oil that came from Argentina, the drier from Asia, tung oil from China, resin from Africa and dyes from England. Skillfully combined by American know-how, the user benefits from world-wide activity which he seldom realizes.

Making Good Soils

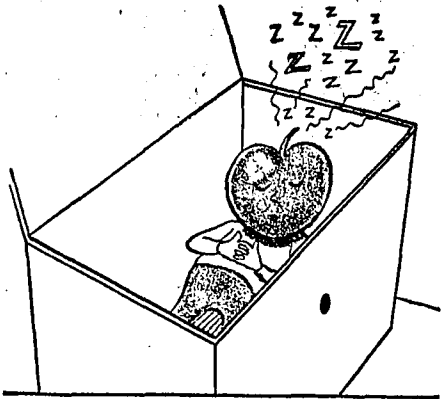

"Somehow the notion gets around," says Dr. Charles E. Kellogg of the U. S. department of agriculture, "that originally our farm soils were highly productive; that is, productive when first plowed. Many of them were, like the black lands in our Middle West and in central Eurasia, for example, and in some of the great deltas and alluvial valleys. But most soils are not. It is through liming and fertilization, drainage, irrigation, the introduction of legumes, and a host of other practices, that farmers have made their soils productive," explains Dr. Kellogg.

Controlled Storage Keeps Apples Prime Regulated Atmosphere System Is Recommended

The answer to whether apples will taste as good in May as they do in September is "yes"—if they are apples from specially constructed controlled-atmosphere storage. That is the opinion of Prof. R.M. Smock, of Cornell university's agricultural experiment station.

More than 100,000 bushels of apples are in 15 such storages in New York state, the first of their kind in the country. "When they come out in April or May or June," Smock says, "the apples are expected to be of prime quality."

It sort of puts the apple to sleep and it never awakens until brought out into store temperature.

Results of 10 years of experiments show that controlled-atmosphere storage will double the ordinary storage life of McIntosh, provided the rooms are properly constructed and operated. Good results also were obtained with Delicious and Northern Spy when the varieties were stored separately.

Sweet Potatoes Make Valuable Farm Crop

Many North Carolina farmers who have never planted sweet potatoes for market should be able to increase their farm income this year through the cultivation and sale of this root crop, according to H. M. Covington, extension horticulture specialist for the state college extension service.

The U.S. department of agriculture has requested farmers to increase their production of sweet potatoes by 12 per cent. Even if such an increase is planted, production would still be about 10 per cent under the 1937-46 annual average.

Farmers who plan to increase their sweet potato acreage this year to have some for sale, should consider market outlets before planting, Covington states.

Automatic Defroster

A household device which automatically defrosts the refrigerator and is a fine electric clock has been put on the market.

The defroster, the company stated, eliminates the housewife's periodic, usually messy defrosting chores which are so often put off until she finds time and a thick, insulating coat of frost has accumulated on the freezing unit.

Automatically, the defroster turns the refrigerator off at 1 a.m. each day, and then, again automatically, switches it back on after the thin skin of frost is removed from the unit.

During the shut-off periods, moisture created by the melting film is circulated through the box.

With the defroster, which is a precision timing instrument, any electric refrigerator, old or new, easily can be made self-defrosting.

Chlordane Is Effective Ant, Cockroach Killer

The newest and most effective insecticide against cockroaches and certain kinds of ants is "chlordane."

Two-per cent chlordane sprays, with oil or water base, now are for sale in many department, drug and hardware stores.

These sprays leave an invisible, odorless film on surfaces to kill pests which come in contact with it.

Darwin W. Thomas is 56 years old and has practiced law in Idaho since graduation from the University of Idaho in 1925. He was prosecuting attorney in Oneida County for six years, City Attorney of Malad for four, Assistant Attorney General for five, and has practiced law continuously in Boise the past nine. He has what attorneys refer to as a "judicial mind" which is as important on the Bench as the knowledge of law which Mr. Thomas most certainly has. He is highly recommended by attorneys and laymen throughout Idaho.

In the interest of non-partisan fairness and efficiency in the Supreme Court of Idaho, the Clearwater Bar Association . . . composed of all attorneys in Clearwater, Latah, Idaho, Lewis and Nez Perce Counties . . . has officially endorsed and recommends the election of these—

Supreme Court
(Non-Partisan Judicial Ballot)

Justice C. J. TAYLOR

Justice C. J. Taylor was appointed to the Supreme Court April 12, 1949, upon recommendation of the lawyers of Idaho. He was District Judge at Idaho Falls for 22 years, subsequent to several years of private practice and graduation from University of Idaho in 1919. He has served admirably and fairly on the Supreme Court bench and his election will assure the continuation of the highest type of judicial consideration.

The lawyers of the State of Idaho recommended his appointment in 1949. That is still a strong endorsement today.

Sit-Down Dentist's Career Is Longer, Professor Says

Several years of service will be added to the life of the average dentist if he sits down part of the time while he works.

This is the belief of Edgar W. Swanson, D.D.S., M.S.D., professor of operative dentistry at Northwestern university dental school, who recommends that dentists use operative stools at least 50 per cent of the time.

Dr. Swanson said students in the operative technique laboratory at the Northwestern dental school use operative stools about 60 per cent of the time. Students in the clinics use the stools from 10 to 90 per cent per operation.

Northwestern, convinced that operative stools will be used more widely by dentists to eliminate fatigue and extend their years of service, trains students in the use of the stools.

To obtain more accurate information on the reaction of students to the stools, the school recently sent a questionnaire to every member of its senior class.

The first question was: "Do you feel as tired at the end of the day when you have used an operating stool as you do when you have operated from the conventional standing position?" All but three answered "no." Two of those answering "yes" said it may have been due to their limited experience with the use of a stool.

The second question was: "Do you like the idea of sitting while operating?" All answered "yes." To the question, "Would you do more operating from a sitting position if more stools were available?" All senior students answered "yes."

Dr. Swanson points out that the operative stool enables a dentist to change his position during the day, which is extremely important in preventing fatigue.

Sugar-Graving Animals Lured by Poison Plants

There may be danger ahead when livestock pass up lush pastures in favor of weeds and tough plants.

The attraction may be a poisonous spray or other chemical that gives ordinary unpalatable weeds and plants a special taste-appeal.

A bulletin issued by the American Veterinary medical association explains it this way: Certain chemicals used in farming, such as sodium chlorate, turn plant starches to sugar, and animals with a "sweet tooth" readily eat the sprayed plants.

Not all the chemicals used for spraying crops and treating soil are poisonous to animals, the AVMA emphasizes, but many of them are. The severity of poisoning varies directly with the kind of chemical and the amount of treated plants the animals consume.

Experiments are still being made to test the safety of various new chemicals on the market, and until all the facts are known, livestock farmers are advised to use only those proved to be safe and to follow manufacturers' instructions.

Resistant Plants

Plant diseases are no respecters of experimental plots. As a result scientists have sometimes acquired valuable information in the nick of time. So it was in the case of Victoria blight of oats, which invaded breeding plots and demonstrated to plant breeders of the U. S. department of agriculture and some of the middle west state experiment stations a type of disease resistance soon to be needed on a large scale. Clinton—and some of the other new varieties of oats derived from the Bond variety—in that way became known as resistant to a disease soon to be rampant in the Mississippi valley. This disease attacked the widely-grown oat varieties derived from the Victoria oat brought in from South America.

Vanishing Wildlife

Gone from the British Isles since World War II is the great bustard, Europe's largest land bird. Going or gone from haunts in Florida and vicinity is the ivory-billed woodpecker, largest of its clan. Deserting the Bahamas in alarming fashion is the tall, scarlet, hued flamingo, whose one United States haven is at Hialeah park, Miami, Florida. Whales, vital food source for many Europeans, long have been reduced to scarcity in northern hemisphere waters. Blue whales, biggest of all, currently show signs of sharp depletion in Antarctic whaling grounds. A new international treaty shortens the hunting season as a whale conservation measure.

First Tank Car

On November 1, 1865, about six years after the world's first oil well was opened at Titusville, Pennsylvania, the first tank car was loaded in that city. It was a flat car fitted with two wooden tanks shaped like inverted tubs. Many of these "rotary" oil cars, as they were called, were used for transporting oil from the Pennsylvania wells, until replaced by the present type of horizontal cylindrical tank, fitted with a dome which allows the oil to expand without injury to the tank. The first of this type was introduced in 1868.

Then there was the picket who walked up and down the street for hours with a blank sign, looking for a sponsor.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS
(H. J. R. No. 8)

"Shall Section 3 of Article VI of the Constitution of the State of Idaho be amended so as to permit Indians to vote, serve as jurors, and hold civil office?"

Attorney General's Explanation of Purpose: "As presently written, Art. VI, Sec. 3 of our Idaho Constitution does not permit Indians who live on reservations and have not severed their tribal relations to vote, hold public office or serve as jurors."

"The purpose of the proposed amendment is to allow 'Indians to vote, hold public office and serve as jurors even though they have not severed their tribal relations and live on reservations. By this amendment the qualifications for an Indian to vote, serve on a jury or hold public office would be identical with the requirements for a person not under this disqualification."

(H. J. R. No. 9)

"Shall Section 3 of Article VIII of the Constitution of the State of Idaho be amended so as to permit cities and village to purchase and own water systems and sewage collection systems, and water treatment plants and sewage treatment plants, and off street parking facilities, and to levy such rates and charges for the use of same as may be deemed necessary, and to issue, without limitation, revenue bonds to pay for the same, the principal and interest of which to be paid from revenue derived from rates and charges for the use of and for the service rendered by such systems and plants and facilities."

Attorney General's Explanation of Purpose: "The purpose of the proposed amendment is to allow municipalities to issue bonds and other securities without limitation as to amount for the purpose of purchasing or constructing water systems, sewage systems, water and sewage treatment plants and off-street parking facilities. The bonds and securities would be retired exclusively from the revenues derived from the charges for the use of such facilities and will not be considered general obligations of the municipalities issuing them."

WHICH ELECTION SHALL BE OPEN AT EIGHT O'CLOCK IN THE MORNING AND WILL CONTINUE UNTIL SEVEN O'CLOCK IN THE EVENING OF THE SAME DAY.

Dated at Moscow, Idaho, this 14th day of September, 1950.

BESSIE BABCOCK,
Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners in and for Latah County, Idaho

Pictured above are Idaho State Representative Elvon Hampton and his wife, whose family and Palouse country farm in Latah County are featured in the November issue of Country Gentleman in the latest of the national farm magazine's "Good Farming—Good Living" series, designed to illustrate what the well-managed farm offers for modern, comfortable living.

Idaho To Produce Many Beans
U. of I., Moscow — Idaho will ship more than 2,000,000 bags of dry beans this fall, according to predictions coming from the bureau of agricultural economics to Karl Klages, head agronomist at the University of Idaho. The state's share is about 12½ percent of the nation's total.

In comparing bean production with the 41,000,000 bushels of Idaho potatoes predicted for this fall's harvest, Klages said the bean crop looks small but is not so in actual value or importance to the farmer. Beans are a major part of farm production in many southern Idaho counties.

Nor do bean farmers have the many problems of harvesting and storage that confront the potato grower, the agronomist pointed out. It is true that a good percentage of beans can be lost during harvesting and threshing operations, but operators who set their machinery to do efficient work can save much of this loss.

It is in the storage problem, however, that the bean grower has the advantage over the man who raises potatoes. It is not unusual to find a farmer who may have warehouse receipts for three crops of beans, Klages said. Being a dry product, the beans deteriorate little during long storage periods, something the potato cannot stand. Rough handling, which often reduces potatoes in grade and value, has little effect on beans.

Beans and potatoes have one thing in common, however, harvesting time and weather must be just right for efficient recovery.

RPM MOTOR OIL

Doubles Engine Life
in the toughest test a motor gets!

Using a new atomic research tool, Standard Oil Company of California scientists for the first time in history measured wear as it happened! They developed an oil so superior that it doubles the life of average auto engines between major overhauls due to lubrication. Compared to conventional "Premium Type" oils as designated by the American Petroleum Institute, New "RPM" cuts in half the wear-rate of critical engine parts in stop-and-go driving—the toughest test a motor gets!
