GRAIN MARKETS DECLINE AS DEMAND SLACKENS

Grain markets turned weaker and lost some of their recent gains during the past week, according to the Market News Service of the Department of Agriculture. In the Pacific Northwest, however, an active export business in wheat and barley resulted in an independently firm tone to the market for these grains. Generally, market offerings were plentiful and in some instances were in excess of current trade needs. Millers and other processors were reported to have accumulated adequate supplies for current requirements and were awaiting government action on price, or other controls. At central western markets, wheat declined 2c to 3c per bushel while oats and barley were down about 3c per bushel compared with a week earlier. At Portland export types of wheat were advanced 1c per bushel, but milling grades were unchanged to 2c lower. Barley prices gained $1.50 and oats $1.00 per ton.

The Argentine wheat crop is now officially estimated at about 222 million bushels, which, with the carry-over of 7,000,000 bushels, will give a total supply of 229,000,000 bushels compared with about 233,000,000 bushels last season, from which about 100,000,000 bushels were exported. The basic price paid Argentine farmers for wheat has been increased to the equivalent of $1.66 per bushel.

Marketings of wheat dropped off slightly, but receipts at the principal terminals totaled nearly 6,000,000 bushels. Milling demand was only moderately active and the market turned weaker. Current arrivals, however, were absorbed and market stocks were reduced slightly and totaled only about 242 million bushels at the close of the week. This compares with about 214 million bushels in commercial stocks a year ago. Purchases by the Commodity Credit Corporation under the International wheat agreement were quite large and totaled slightly over 19 million bushels, which brought the total to a little over 485 million bushels, and left about $5 million yet to be purchased. A year ago about 69 million bushels had been purchased under the agreement. The Department of Agriculture bought flour for export to Germany to the equivalent of nearly 957,000 bushels of wheat. The CCC was paying a subsidy of 74 cents per bushel on wheat for shipment from the gulf coast to European ports; 71 cents to the West Indies and Latin America. The subsidy from the east coast to all destinations was 74 cents, and from the west coast 85 cents per bushel.

Cash wheat markets turned weaker with futures and prices declined 2c to 3c per bushel at most markets. At the close of the week No. 2 hard winter was quoted at Chicago at $2.42; Kansas City $2.34 and Fort Worth $2.53 per bushel.

Wheat markets in the Pacific Northwest were independently strong and reflected large sales for export to Japan. Futures contracts at Chicago were all quoted at $2.28 per bushel, or about 1c higher than a week ago. In the cash market prices at Portland were fully 1c higher on export types of wheat, but milling qualities were generally quoted unchanged to 2 cents lower, influenced by a slower buying interest on the part of local mills. Offerings were fairly adequate with current values at Portland 7c to 9c per bushel over the loan price, which permitted producers to redeem wheat under loan and realize a small profit in most sections. At the same time an increasing shortage in rail cars restricted selling to some extent and receipts at the principal Pacific Northwest terminals during the week dropped to 868 cars compared with 974 a week earlier. A total of 80,000 tons of wheat was reported to have been sold to Japan. It is also reported, by trade sources, that the Japanese are inquiring for additional quantities of wheat, estimated at upward of 200,000 tons.

Cash wheat bids at Portland were $2.28 for soft white and white club, and $2.30 for ordinary hard red winter, basis delivered coast, 15-day shipment.

Through December 31, Oregon wheat producers had placed 1,388,688 bushels of 1950 crop wheat under the support program; Washington growers 31,734,461 bushels, and Idaho farmers had 11,050,535 bushels under the program.

In the Pacific Northwest, oats continued to show strength, influenced by continued light marketings and a good demand. Dealer bids at Portland for No. 2 white oats, 38-lb. basis, advanced $1.00 per ton during the week to $61.50 for coast delivery, 15-day shipment. Cash trading was reported at around $63.00 per ton for this grade of oats.

In the Pacific Northwest, barley prices continued on a slight upward trend, influenced by an active demand. Exporters reportedly sold 20,000 to 30,000 tons of feed barley to Japan. Offerings were of fair volume, but somewhat restricted by a lack of available box cars. Receipts during the week at the principal terminals totaled 48 cars. Bids to the country on January 18, were posted at $59.50 per ton, 45-lb. basis, delivered coast, 15-day shipment.

Pickup Does Flip-Flop

Last Saturday, while J. G. Travis was on his way to the Lewiston Livestock Auction yards, with a cow in the back of his pickup, when the vehicle began to "shimmy" between Arrow and Spalding Junction. Jack says that "before he knew what was happening" the machine had done a flip-flop on the road, landing at the edge of the ditch. Jack came out with a couple of bumps, and the cow was unhurt — but the pickup did not get off so lightly. It suffered damages to the top, front fenders, headlights and stock rack.

Tigers Trim Panthers
Last Friday evening the Kendrick Tigers traveled to Asotin, to return with two more wins in that column. In the main event, the Tigers battled a "zone" defense throughout the game being prepared for it, the Tigers "passed their way" for a 10-5 lead ending the first period. Starting from a 21-16 lead at half-time, the local boys built and maintained a ten-point margin the remainder of the game, the final horn sounding with Kendrick in the lead 46-34.

Orville Halseth, Tiger center, scored 20 points to lead both teams, while Tetwiler dropped in ten points for the Asotin Panthers. Starters for the Tiger squad were David Crocker, Keith Thornton, Stanley Smith, Albert Clemenhagen and Orville Halseth.
In the preliminary tilt the Kendrick B squad won its eighth straight game by defeating the Asotin B's 30-24. Kendrick led at the half-way mark 16-9. Ira Havens led game scoring with 9 points. Griffen accounted for 8 to lead Asotin scoring.

Kendrick Invades Reubens
Last Saturday evening three Kendrick basketball teams traveled to Reubens, each team winning its respective game — and returning with great big smiles on the players' faces.
The Kendrick grade school trounced the Reubens graders 38-8. Mr. Reiman, their coach, played every member in the team, but Kendrick continued to roll on to a decisive victory. The Reubens boys were held without a score throughout the third period. Kendrick led at the half-time 24-4. Dick Lohman led the Kendrick boys with 8 points. Fred O'Brien dumped in two field goals to top all scoring for Reubens.

The most exciting game of the three came when the Kendrick High school Tigerettes squeezed past the Reubens girls 39-36. The Tigerettes led most of the game until the Reubens girls slowly moved up on them in the final frame. Both teams took turns at the lead in the last six minutes of play. The Tigerettes held but a one-point lead until the final minute, when Dorothy Glenn dumped in a field goal, to assure the local girls of victory. The Tigerettes led at half-time 18-16.

Bernadine Glenn scored 16 points to lead Kendrick, and Seelton scored 27 points to lead Reubens. Scoring for the Tigerettes were: B. Glenn, 16; A. Kamikkeberg, 10; D. Glenn, 10; J. Christensen, 2; D. Mielke, 1; J. Armitage, N. Lohman and Mary Ann Glenn.

Junior Varsity Wins
In the final game of the Reubens series the Kendrick "JVS" dumped the Reubens "A" team in a fast and clean game 33-29. Coach Dennis Racicot substituted freely and gave every man on the team a chance to play. The local boys got "hot" in the second period and scored 22 points — giving them a 27-14 lead at the half-way mark. The game remained on more or less even terms from that point on, but the Tigers moved the score to 33-29 at the whistle.

Charles Parks led Kendrick with 8 points, and Chuck Wood scored 12 for the Reubens. Damons scored for the Tigers were: C Parks 8; Fairfield 7; H. Wolff 6; C. Brown 6; B. Souders 4; Riley 4; McCall 3; H. Pederson, E. Pederson, J. Erlwine and E. Clemenhagen.

New Barley To Appear
U. of I. Moscow — Idaho Club, a new maturing barley with a high yielding ability, will make its appearance for the first time in Idaho fields next spring. Karl H. Klages, head of the university's department of agronomy, revealed here today that his department has released 18,000 pounds of Idaho Club seed to selected growers throughout the state this past fall.
Klages' record show that work on the barley's development began in 1938 with demands for a winter barley that would fit the needs of Northwest's maltsters. Idaho Club is a descendent of White Winter Club and is the later development of two strains originally selected.

The new barley is described as having a dense head with six distinct rows of kernels. It has a heavy, rough beard that might have made it slightly unpopular before the days of the combine. Yields will run from 40 to 60 bushels per acre in the northern sections of the state where it is expected to be most popular. Heavier yields will undoubtedly come in irrigated sections that produce it.

Many Pheasants Released
A total of 30,282 pheasants were released throughout Idaho during 1950. Alvard Kiler, state fish and game biologist said this week.
Some 2,242 brood stock birds were released in districts two, four and five, while spring releases in all parts of the state totaled 7,090 adult birds.
Young pheasants released throughout the state during the year totaled 20,960, the largest releases being made in districts one and two in the northern section.
Boy Scout, 4-H and sportsmen's camps throughout the state adopted 16,715 day-old chicks, raising them until they were ten weeks old before releasing them. Kiler noted. He said 12,582 of the chicks were turned over to Boy Scout and 4-H groups in the state's five districts. 7,423 of them being raised for an average of 59 percent return.

MORE SCHOOL NOTES

26-all at the end of the first half. The teams played on fairly even terms throughout the third period, but the Tigers led the Wolves 35-32 going into the final quarter. The game grew to be very exciting in the final period — the lead changing two or three times in the final three minutes. When the smoke of battle cleared, Kendrick was in the lead 49 to 47. Hammond led all scoring with 20 points for the Culesac team and Max Clemenhagen followed very closely with 19 points for the Tigers. Clemenhagen held Wayne Parris, a high scoring Culesac player, to three tallies for the game. The game was fast and clean from start to finish.

The undefeated Kendrick "B" squad shot its way to a 49-34 victory over the fast Culesac "B" team — winning its ninth straight game of the season. Ira Havens netted 15 points for Kendrick, while Spencer, Allen and Dumbauld dropped in 7 points apiece for Culesac.

Both Kendrick teams will meet the Genesee Bulldogs Friday evening of this week at 7:00 in the local gym. This game is expected to be one of the most spectacular of the season.

RURAL ELECTRIFICATION

NEARS COMPLETION

Rapid extension of electric lines in rural areas during 1949 and 1950 has brought the goal of complete rural electrification close to realization, according to figures compiled by the Edison Electric Institute.

By the end of 1950, an estimated 90% of farm dwellings of the nation had been electrified, and 95% of rural non-farm dwellings had electric service available (the rural non-farm classification includes dwellings in communities of less than 2500 population). The total percentage of both farm and non-farm rural dwellings wired for electricity had increased from 86% at the end of 1948 to an estimated 93% on December 30, 1950. The small group of rural dwellings (only 7%) not yet reached by electric lines is just about the same in number as that to which electricity was made available in the past two years. Largely, the remaining non-electrified rural dwellings are in very sparsely populated areas geographically isolated from sources of power.

Pacific Northwest Ranks High in Rural Electrification

The state of Washington had more than 96% of its rural dwellings electrified by the end of 1949, and Idaho had completed electrification of nearly 98%. Additional rural line extensions were made during 1950 in both states, bringing rural electrification very close to 100%.

Business Managed Electric Companies Serve Vast Majority

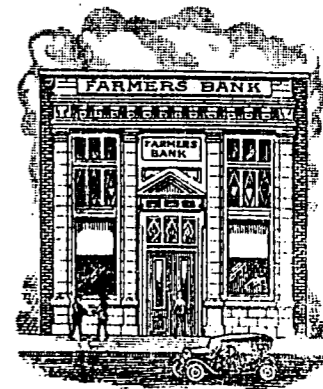

Latest authoritative figures indicate that business managed electric companies serve some 80% of electrified rural dwellings, REA cooperatives 18%, and various municipal and other governmental agencies about 2%.

W.W.P. a Pioneer in Rural Field and Continues Line Extensions

Shortly after the turn of the century, the Washington Water Power Company extended service to several inland Empire rural communities, and has continued extensions of rural lines ever since. During the two-year period 1949-50, W.W.P. completed lines into remote mountain country in northern Idaho. Only a small fraction of the rural population in the W.W.P. service area remains without the facilities for modern living at low cost made possible by electricity.

Clear And Precise

Said a flying instructor in a recent talk: "My job of giving cadets flying instruction is interesting but tiring, and my wife tries to have a little treat ready for me when I am late. The other night I got home about 11:30 after a night navigation flight and found the following note in the kitchen: 'Popcorn in the oven; beer in the refrigerator; I'm in bed.'"

Grazing Fees To Increase

Oscar L. Chapman, secretary of the interior announced this week that effective May 1, 1951, grazing fees for the 58 grazing districts in the ten western states will be increased from 6c to 10c per animal unit month. The present range improvement fee of 2c per animal unit month remains unchanged as an additional charge to the grazing fee.

The increased grazing fee, Sec. Chapman explains, is based on recent recommendations made by the National Advisory Board Council, the state Advisory Boards, and a majority of the district Advisory boards, representing the range users in all of the grazing districts.

According to Sec. Chapman, the action is unique in the history of federal range administration in that the stockmen using the range recommended the increase in grazing fees. Ranchers of the west have recognized the need for conservation and improvement of the public ranges," he said, "and are willing to pay their share of the costs. It is gratifying to encounter their far-sighted and constructive attitude in this regard."

Present grazing and range improvement fees have been in effect since August 6, 1947. In addition to the fees paid, range users have been voluntarily contributing to range improvement and conservation work an amount equivalent to 8c per animal unit month. These contributions are evidence of the growing interest of livestock operators in conservation of the range.

Potlatch Chief Sez

Published by the Kendrick Creamery

HELLO, THERE, FOLK:

Well, now that we have another little touch of winter — just to remind us that such things still occur, and chains are still popular items for cars and trucks — let's talk about your income.

We'll admit that the price of eggs is down, but even so, that's no reason to neglect your chickens, for whatever income they bring you, you are just that much to the good — and the price won't stay down forever!

Police Sgt.: "Did you give the prisoner the third degree?"
Constable: "Yes. We browbeat him, badgered him, and asked him every question we could think of."

"And what did he do?"
"He merely dozed off, and said: 'Yes, dear, you are perfectly right, dear!'"

Have you tried "Potlatch Chief" Brand Ice Cream lately? You'll like its delicious, mellow smoothness. Not only will you like it, but it will go well with any meal for dessert — or is just right for those "pick-me-ups" that you can enjoy just any time.

Botts had occasion to reprimand his wife "I think, dear," he said soothingly, "that you fib a little occasionally."

"Well," she replied pointedly, "I think it's a wife's duty to speak well of her husband occasionally."

Like hotcakes? If you do, remember they always taste better with "Potlatch Chief" brand butter. It's pure. Made from pasteurized cream!

A sweater is a good investment for a girl — she gets out of it, what she puts into it, and draws considerable interest, too.
