Firearms Still Needed On Most U. S. Farms

Rifle Is Still Effective Way to Control Varmints

Even though marauding Indians and bad men have disappeared, farmers and ranchers still need their guns almost as much as ever. Where the rifle was once needed to preserve life, the rifle and shotgun today help preserve the livelihood of those who live on the land. To many, firearms are still necsssary agricultural or ranching "tools."

For pest and varmint control, firearms are often far more effective than traps and less dangerous than poison, and in many cases are the only means to destroy certain birds and animals that damage crops, stored grains and produce and kill poultry.

The farm boy with a .22 caliber rifle is probably the world's champion pest exterminator. For rats, sparrows, rabbits, squirrels, gophers, moles and crows and other small pests that can be shot at close range, he uses .22 short cartridges which are adequate and economical, but long rifle cartridges are much better for longer ranges and far more effective.

One of the best low-priced beginner's 22 that's come out in years is a single-shot bolt action with "an automatic safety that never forgets." This Model 47 is so designed that as the bolt is opened to permit loading, it sets the safety which must be moved manually before the rifle can be fired.

Increased Dairy Product Prices Forecast for '51

Milk and dairy products prices in 1951 will be moderately higher than in 1950, most dairy experts believe. A stronger demand will more than offset the effects of large carry-in political subdivisions .... 47,246.69 stocks and probably smaller exports. Farm production of milk in 1951 is likely to be little different from the 120.5 to 121 billion pounds in prospect for this year.

Dominent factor in the 1951 outlook is the prospective sharp increase in demand, stemming from larger defense outlays. Both employment and wages are rising. Disposable incomes will reach a new highnext year.

Many dairymen expect total cash receipts from marketings of all products in 1951 to increase more than expenditures, thereby giving a net increase in farm income. The increased income will probably exceed increases in expenditures.

Three-Winged Chicken

Technicians Rosemary Peplinski (left) and Olive Newton of the University of California medical school are studying one of the three-winged chickens used in skin graft studies, The third wing, transplanted from another chick from egg to egg before birth, is attached to the chicken's breast. U.C.L.A. researchers are trying to determine why a chicken wing can be successfully tranplanted before birth, but not after birth. The answer may be a big help in the progress of surgery. Chicks involved in the experiments grow up to be healthy hens and roosters, except that half of them have three wings and the other half only one.

Labradors, Dog-Detectives,

Get Buckingham Palace Duty Four descendants of some sharpscented, cold-nosed North Americans have taken up guard duty at England's Buckingham palace.

Recent robberies there brought the quick assignment of several canine cops to reinforce a 30-man police unit, charged with the protection of his Britannic majesty's London residence. The new world police dogs are the field-famed Labrador retrievers, who rank among the top sporting dogs of the

The Labradors were found to be natural "detectives" during World War II. They were outstanding in tracking down land mines, reputedly doing the job quicker and better than any other breed. In 1946 six of them were assigned to the London metropolitan police force.

Gentle and friendly by nature, the animals were never trained to attack man but were used solely to pick up the elusive clues of human scent and follow their remarkable noses to the culprits.

For just such skill in detecting, the Labrador retriever has taken more first place honors in the past two decades of United States field trials than all other breeds of hunting dogs put together. It rates among the four most popular dogs bred by the British for export.

In spite of its name, however, the retriever was not first known as a native of Labrador. It was one of two breeds brought to Newfoundland by early traders and was referred to in the last century as the Lesser or St. John's Newfoundland, or as the St. John's Water Dog. The people of the region used the sturdy, thick-haired dog to haul wood and retrieve wild fowl and also fish that became unhooked just prior to being landed.

Offers Four Pointers for Bonuses for Hired Help

If you're thinking of putting your hired man on a wage-plus-bonus plan, here are four points to keep in mind.

J. B. Cunningham, farm management man in the Illinois college of agriculture, says an incentive plan succeeds best if the hired man receives the going wage plus a Second, the incentive payment should be based on gross production or income rather than on net farm income. It might be two to four cents for every bushel of grain produced, eight to 12 per cent of each dairy check, three to seven per cent of gross hog returns and so on.

Cunningham also suggests that on dairy farms the hired man receive his bonus payments during the year as milk checks come in. On grain farms, where payment comes at the end of the year, the hired man should get his proportionate share of the bonus if he has to quit before the end of the year for no reason of his own.

Finally, the wage-plus-bonus agreement should be in writing. You can either write your own, or get a farm manager, attorney or some other person to do the job for you.

ERP Nations Gain Substantial increases in productivity, as measured by output per man-year, have occurred in all countries participating in the European Recovery Program and have played a vital role in their reconstruction and economic progress in the last few years, according to the 1950 report of the Organization for European Economic Co-operation. American aid has been a fundamental factor in making these gains possible. Of the 14 participating nations, six have increased their productivity above the prewar 1938 level. They are France, Ireland, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey, and the United Kingdom. Productivity in Belgium, Denmark, Greece and Norway was rated about the same as in 1938, while the Netherlands was lower. Considerably lower productivity than in 1938 was found in Austria, Italy and Western Germany.

Lions, Too, Never Forget Elephants are not the only beasts that never forget. If you don't believe it, try operating on a lion's ingrown toenail sometime without an anesthetic, challenges Dr. J. A. Campbell of Toronto, Ont. You'll be viciously remembered for years, he warns. Writing in Canada's national journial of veterinary medicine, Dr. Campbell says that skilled use of anesthetics has made life easier and safer for zoo veterinarians as well as the animals, because the patients have no revenge-inspiring memodry of what happened. He reported that it takes about four pounds of chloroform to prepare a lion for surgery.

If you feed a 20 per cent protein mash, your hens should get about one pound of grain for every pound of mash you feed. This will figure of mash you feed. This will figure out about a 15 per cent protein grew 2,131 bushels of sweet potathe cold.

Wood Ford Farm Builds Dairy Barn Famous Ayrshire Herd Has 6-Year Milk Record

One of the finest and most modern dairy barns in the United States, using the newest building materials and developments to safeguard against fire, was completed re-cently on the Wood Ford Farm at Avon, Conn.

Forty feet wide and 267 feet long, the barn houses 100 milking cows. It includes also a large feed room, box stalls, an office, a room for employees, and a well-equipped milk room.

Fire destroyed the old dairy barn last summer. None of the farm's famous ayrshire herd was harmed because it had been put out to night pasture.

In making the barn fireproof concrete was used for the floor, cinder

The barn features an effectiveventilating system, which brings air through intakes at the peak of the roof. Stale air is picked up by thermostatically controlled fans from a point near the floor.

The Wood Ford Farm herd has been the highest producing ayrshire herd in the United States for the past six years.

New Burley Strains Are Almost Free of Wildfire

New strains of burley tobacco that are almost immune to wildfire, one of the most destructive diseases of the crop, have been created by an agriculture department plant scien-

The man who originated the new strains is Dr. E. E. Clayton. He developed the wildfire resistance in the new lines from a wild species. The new line was developed after a systematic study of several hundred wild species during the last 15

Protect Bags

To keep empty feed sacks from being damaged by mice or rats, take a piece of iron pipe slightly longer than the width of the sacks and suspend it from the ceiling with two lengths of wire. Mice and rats are unable to get down the wire to the sacks. The average farmer will save considerable money in a period of a year by following such a practice.

Machinery Life Cut To Half by Exposure Storage Building Will Reduce Farm Overhead

Since farmers reduce by half the life of machinery left exposed to the weather through the winter months, according to a recent university survey, they will find it in their interest financially to replace old, inadequate and inefficient sheds with modern, well-planned struc-

The survey showed the life of equipment, housed and unhoused, as follows: Walking plows, 20 years or 15; cultivators 20 or eight; gang plows, 20 or 10; mowers, 12 or seven; corn planter, eight or four; binder, 12 or five; wagon, 24 or 19; and disc harrow, 15 or eight.

ing, it is always cheaper than machinery," an agricultural engineer reports. "No building on the farm will pay better dividends than the machinery, shed."

Typical of the modern type machinery building being used on many farms is the one pictured above. It is located on the Vincent Lilly farm near Rochester, Minn. Its dimensions, 24 by 48 feet, and the absence of inside posts due to the arched roof construction, provide ample room for the farmer's machinery.

City People With Money Inflate Farm-Land Market

The agriculture department reports that city folks with moneyand worries about possible further shrinkage in its buying power—are helping to inflate the farm-land

Many buyers are businessmen and investors who are seeking good against inflation. As a result farm prices increased on a national average basis 3 per cent between July and November of last year. They now are 5 per cent above the record set in March, 1920.

The department said land values advanced in all states. The east north central states showed the largest average gain for any region -6 per cent—but the west north central, west south central and pacific regions were up 5 per cent.

Average prices are higher than a year ago in all but three states. Florida showed the largest gain-19 per cent—largely because of favorable returns from citrus fruits and pasture lands.

Bad Utensils Can Hurt Quality of Milk, Cream

Milk pails, milking machine containers, strainers or milk and cream cans often are the cause of poor quality milk and cream, according to dairy marketing specialists.

Dairy utensils with open seams, rusty spots or rough surfaces caused by dents, rough solder or milkstone cannot be properly cleaned. Bacteria thrive in these places because small portions of milk or cream lodge in the crevices.

For example, Idaho took top honors in the nation in the yield of wheat per acre with an average of 27.8 bushels in 1950.

The state retained its fourth place position in the nation in average yield per acre for oats and hay, but did greatly increase the yield last year over the 10-year average for each crop. The 10-year average for oats was 41.2 bushels per acre, which has now been raised to 45 bushels and the former average of 2.09 tons per acre for hay has been increased to 2.12 tons per acre.

Good Pasture Is Important

Reports by county agent at grasslands conferences in several parts of Idaho have demonstrated the value of good pasture mixes, adequate management, and rotation of crops.
