Iraq's Past Serves As Blueprint for Her Future

The cradle of western civilization is slowly beginning to rock again.

The land of Iraq-whose ancient cultures embraced democracy, lawmaking, letters, literature, philosophy, rich arts and mathematics -is now pushing ambitious plans for development; plans which are designed to improve greatly the impoverished lot of a people whose nation enjoyed a high standard of living some 5,000 years ago.

From that distant day until the present one, the life, fortunes and advancement of this Middle East region have depended largely on the proper management of its two famous but capricious rivers, the Tigris and Euphrates. Their waters, controlled and channeled into irrigation canals, oonce turned the hot, dry lands into gardens when Iraq was known as Babylonia, Assyria, Mesopotamia.

Today, the record of the past is Iraq's dream of the future. To harness the rivers for irrigation, flood control and electricity, Iraq has as-signed by law the whole of its sizeable oil income, scheduled to reach an annual 55 million dollars by 1955. Additional aid for the program has come from the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development in a $12,800,000 loan.

Paradoxically, Iraq is at once both immensely rich and tragically poor. Its four and a half million people are estimated to have a lower per capita income than any of the neighboring Arab lands. Without proper irrigation they have been able to cultivate only onefifth of their country's 116,000 square miles, and without flood control they have seen much of their ripening crops yearly devastated by floods

Rising Demand for Wool Urges Sheep Management

With the farm-sized sheep flock making a "comeback" in many parts of the nation because of a rising demand for wool, authorities here today reminded farmers that sheep require more careful management than most farm animals, if the owners expect to make a profit.

Parasites are one of the most serious obstacles to profitable sheep raising. Correct nutrition also is highly important in maintaining an efficientn flock.

Here are four pointers:

(1) Have all sheep treated against parasites in the fall and in the spring. Newly purchased animals should be treated before allowing them to mingle with the herd.

(2) Practice pasture rotation; this helps hold down heavy parasitic in-

Old Timer Writes About Trains The Gazette is in receipt of an interesting letter from Dr. E. C. Hall, former Kendrick resident now of Laurel, Mont., regarding our train service, as follows: "It seems that the controversy has about ended regarding the recent curtailment of passenger train ser-vice to Kendrick, but there is one interesting thing about it that I don't believe has been realized by the people of your community. "It is generally known that the Spokane-Lewiston branch was the Spokane-Lewiston branch was the last strictly branch line on the Northern Pacific railway to have two passenger trains a day each way? Furthermore, it appears that this situation had existed for many years. There are other parts of the railroad classed as brach lines, such as the Spattled Portland herench, that as the Seattle-Portland branch, that have more trains but in reality they are not branches at all, but parts of the main line itself. I believe that the removal of that train really marked the end of an epoch in the history of branch line passenger ser-vice on the Northern Pacific railway.

"Don't feel too bad about losing that train. There are many branch railroad lines nowadays that haven't seen a passenger train in years. We know around here. Two branch lines out of our town get one freight train a week and nothing more.

"In fact, two passenger trains a day each way are all most of the main line gets and one of these is a limited train stopping only at county seat towns. And worse yet, the main line of the Burlington from Denver to Billings, Mont., has only one passenger train a day each way.

"As everyone knows the passengers travel by public highway now. Why can't Kendrick get a good, modern road into town that will be a pleas-ure to drive over?" — Very truly yours, E. C. Hall." *Our Note: It was admitted to us personally, right here in the Gazette office by four officials of the North-office, by four officials of the Northern Pacific railway that this branch was one of the best paying, if not the best paying, in the entire N. P. system — but the trains removed were not showing a profit — so off they came! Of course, we miss the passenger service, but worst of all passenger service, but worst of all is the loss in mail service — as there are no stages into Kendrick to com-pensate in any way for the loss. We now have that modern road you mention, but only between Kendrick and points south. It ends at Ken-drick drick

(4) Avoid letting manure accumulate in lots and sheds during the winter. When spread it should go onto fields where animals will not be pastured.

No one drug is suitable for use against all parasites of sheep. Sheep raisers should get veterinary assistance in planning control measures and in selection of anti-parasitic chemicals.

Treating Hotbed Lumber

A preservative used to lengthen the life of wood has ben found safe for coldframes and hotbed lumber. John Bagby, Alabama Polytechnic Institute extension service horticulturist, reveals that after wood is soaked in pentachorophenol and permitted to dry, no fumes harmful to plants will escape. Experiments show that leaves directly touching the wood might be burned, but there is no danger of this damage extending to other parts of the plant. Since pentachlorophenol offers a cheap and easy way to add years to the life of coldframes and hotbeds, Bagby believes that many farmers will want to try it.

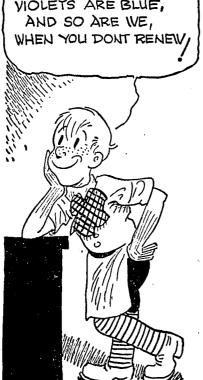

Blames Eyes for Headaches

Eyes are a cause of headaches in 25 per cent of patients, a Detroit ophthalmologist states. "More patients consult medical clinics because of headaches than for any other single complaint, and for the same reason they most frequently consult an oculist," says Dr. Albert D. Ruedemann, professor of ophthalmology at Wayne University school of medicine.

There is probably more medicine sold for headaches than for any other condition.

Worn Measuring Tapes

Many women's measuring tapes need to be replaced. When tapes have lost their stiffening, they become stretched, give inaccurate measurements, and are hard to use. Select a new one that is made of stiff material and that has large clear markings. Be sure to get one with a number "one" at each end on opposite sides. A small metal end on the tape will prevent fraying and resulting poor measurements. A four-inch metal measuring gauge is another treasure for the busy seanistress. You can buy one at a notions counter. It has clear numbers and lines and is really "tops" for measuring and marking hems, seams and pleats.

Years ago new wells were allowed to erupt. But oil men found ways to stop this waste. And now they extract three new fuels from the gas mixture.

Latest techniques help us in warring on waste. Standard uses a new "electronic brain' to compute best way to drill oil fields for greatest yield 25 years or more into the future.

tapping oil pools which used to be out of reach. Through research into drilling techniques we make holes curve, under mountains, for example.

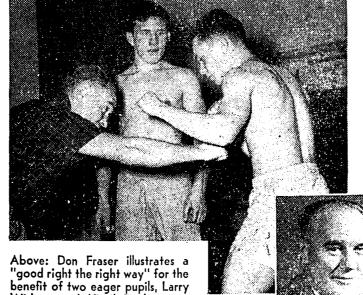

Natural gas, a by-product of oil production, was once merely wasted. But oil companies long ago learned how to capture it, put this energy to work, and conserve natural oil resources.

pressure lifted oil to the surface. Wells often "went flat." We now use huge systems to pump pressure back in, recovering much oil formerly lost.

And research in refining helps. In 1920, Western refineries were getting less than 7 gallons of gasoline from each barrel of crude. They now get 20 gallons of far better gas.

Time of Planting Loss Curb Factor Earworm, Other Damage

To Crops Avoidable

Earworm damage to field and sweet corn and to other vegetation can be reduced by the time of planting. Early tomatoes and string beans and alfalfa foliage, particularly in the late summer, are also damaged by earworms.

In this research it was soon observed that damage to early plantings by the earworm was related to the time of planting. This led to a series of studies on different varieties of field and sweet corn to determine the optimum time of planting for least injury by the insect.

Recent observations have shown that the critical stage of injury is the silking date. It was learned that three-fourths of the earworm eggs laid on corn silks were deposited on fresh silks before the silks started to wilt.

Dates of planting field corn in the midwest that are recommended as a result of this research are May 1 for field corn; May 1 for sweet corn varieties requiring long growing seasons; May 15-18 for varieties of sweet corn needing Spring is the season when most of the important types of tree care are administered.

Take out "hangers"—the dangling branches left by winter storms. Prune out dead or unsightly limbs. Branch space choice trees by selec-tive thinning to thwart wind break-age. If a tree shaded the house too much last summer, have it properly pruned now. Remember that character pruning adds gracious touches to trees—bringing out their branching habits and lending har-mony to your landscape.

If you have elms, be certain to prune out and burn all dead and diseased branches by May 1. This will destroy any overwintering bark beetles which may wing their way to healthy trees and transmit the dread Dutch elm disease.

Paint over cuts that have been made on trees after the wounds have dried. Use a standard wound dressing.

Early spring is the best time to adjust braces and cables and other tree supports. A few years of normal growth may cause a cable to become a drawback on the continued healthy progress of a tree.

Cut out fire blight cankers on apple, pear, flowering crab, hawthorn and mountain ash. Prune below the point of infection, using sterilized instruments. A Bordeaux spray at time of bloom of these trees is effective if combined with sanitary pruning to stamp out fire blight.

Prune out black knot of cherry and plum the same way.

If you haven't fed your trees, do so as soon as possible. And pre-pare to give them a delayed dormant spray just before the buds open. Trees are friends. Treat them well and care for them properly They will repay you richly in com-panionship and beauty.

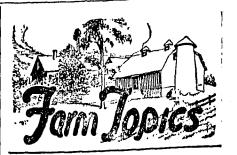

Teen-Age Workers Injured More Often in Work Mishaps

Teen-age drivers have come in for their share of criticism, but how about teen-age workers?

Well, the National Safety Council says the picture isn't very rosy there, either.

The U.S. department of labo found that workers under 18 years of age are injured more frequent. ly in industrial accidents in manufacturing plants than are workers 18 years of age or older, performing the same type of work.

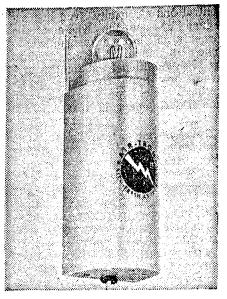

Workers 18 or older had an average injury frequency rate of 15.7 age injury frequency rate of 15.7 But Milk Supply Grows (disabling injuries per 1,000,000)

IPC, New Weed Killer, Showing High Promise

The new alphabetical weed killer, IPC, that was humorously hailed as the eventual successor to the lawnmower in press releases because of its grass growth control possibilities, is in reality showing a tremendous promise as a selective grass killer in a variety of crops.

Virgil Freed, associate agronomist for the Oregon state college agriculture experiment station, reports this to be the case after experiments with the weed killer.

Conceding that work with IPC as a lawn grass growth regulator is still in its earliest experimental stages, Freed points out that IPC's uses as a weedy grass killer in legumes, seed crops, vegetable crops, strawberries, orchards and perennial grasses are advanced enough to tab the chemical nearly as valuable as 2,4-D.

How much you get for a dollar you spend today as compared with what you could have got back in 1926, depends on what you buy with that dollar. U.S. bureau of labor statistics show that building materials that could have been bought for $1 back in 1926, cost $1.89 today. Food that would have cost $1 back in those days, now costs you $1.51. A dollar's worth of textile at 1926 price levels, today costs $1.37. Fuel and lighting materials cost $1.30.

Remote-Control Switch Convenient for Farmers

Farmers now can turn their farm yard light off and on from a half-dozen places with a new, re-mote-control multiple switch.

A farm electrification specialist explains that the heart of this new control is a magnetic relay which will turn the light on or off from as many points as desired by means of simple push-button switches. It is said the unit is very economical to operate and easy to install, man-hours worked). But the rate for the younger workers was 22.9.

The frequency of permanently disabling, injuries such as finger amputations, was nearly twice as high for workers under 18 as for the older group.

The council says that the same characteristics of youth which gave teen-agers a higher traffic accident rate apparently apply also to work habits-lack of experience, impulsiveness, daring, and the desire to show off.

Solve Felting Problem

Laundries have solved the felt ing problem by the installation of washers which gently squeeze soapy water through the fabric with squeeze rolls under little or no pressure. Or they may use a type of washing equipment that uses only a circulation of the soap solution through the fabric to do the washing. Another type of machine has a very slow-moving cylinder (about 8 to 10 revolutions per minute.) Some plants employ no friction at all in the washing of wools. They use a machine with a cylinder divided into three pockets. The wool fabrics or blankets are merely dipped into the soap solution and then allowed to drain as the cylinder revolves.

Figure Slimmers

How you do your housework may make a great deal of difference in whether you keep the waistline down, according to William Shaw of Chicago. He suggests these techniques. When you pick up the children's toys, Sunday's newspapers, or the snippings of cloth in your sewing room-bend squarely from the waist with legs stiff and straight. Occasionally, squat with back vertical and head held erect. Keep the posture erect when you go up and down stairs. And when you use the vacuum cleaner on draperies and walls, give your midsection a good stretch. Move arms freely and easily and clear into the shoulders.

Rayon Output

In 1949, for the first time in 11 years, rayon production declined. Specifically, a decline of 12 per cent is reported-a total of 993,800,000 pounds, compared to 1,124,300,000 in 1948. Viscose high tenacity yarn was the only category of rayon produced in the U.S. showing an increase. A total of 289,000,000 pounds was purchased in 1949, compared with 263,100,000 pounds in 1948, a 10 per cent increase. Production of acetate filament yarn dropped 12 per cent; viscose-cupra textile filament yarn, 15 per cent; acetate staple, 23 per cent; and viscose staple, 30 per cent.

In the past two decades, milk production on United States farms has increased by 20 billion pounds, or one-fifth while the number of milking herds has declined. In some of the individual dairy states, changes have been even more spectacular. In New York, for instance, one-half more milk is marketed by 15 per cent fewer farmers than in 1929

Milk is produced on about 41/2 million of the six million farms in the United States. On about two million of these, the milk is produced solely for home use. Most of these farms have only one or two cows. but their milk provides an important part of the food of some nine million farm people.

On the other 21/2 million farms that have milk cows, some milk, cream, or farm-churned butter is sold. These sales range from a few pounds of farm-churned butter per year up to thousands of pounds of milk per day.

World's Record

A new world's record for a purebred beef animal was set recently when Hillcrest Larry 4, was purchased by Henry Sears, owner of the Chino Farms in Church Hill, Md., for $70,500 at the Hillcrest Farms sale. Surrounding the highpriced hereford are (left to right) Jim McClelland, manager of the Turner Ranch in Sulphur, Okla.; C. A. Smith, owner of Hillcrest Farms; Henry Sears, the purchaser, and his wife; and Arnold Olson at the halter.

Keep Garden Seeds-Many left-over vegetable seeds may be kept for planting next spring, but should be stored at about 50 degrees.

Strawberries Need Good Protection From Cold

Strawberries n e e d protection against cold by means of mulching with straw, leaves or sawdust, fruit specialists warned farmers.

Wheat straw, oat straw and rye straw have all been successfully used as strawberry mulches. Fairly heavy coverings are suggested in order to avoid heaving from frost and consequent root damage. Ordinary leaves give good results on home plantings.
