JUST EXACTLY WHAT AILS THE U. S. POSTAL SYSTEM?

A revealing article on the weird be held next Wednesday evening, workings of bureaucracy appeared in August 8, with the 6:30 dinner to a recent issue of Harper's Magazine. Written by C. Lester Walker, it deals with the amazing case of the United ticularly the newly elected directors, States Postal Service.

The post office is big business, with a capital B. It also enjoys a items to come before the group, intotal monopoly in its field, which is cluding roads. true of no other business, big or The business session to follow will little. Its annual revenues run around be at 7:30 in the Firemen's Hall. $1,670,000,000. It has 500,000 employees, 42,000 branch offices, and 10,000 vehicles. Yet some months ago people in various parts of the country complained of sharp declines in the standards of postal service. All kinds of mail — air first-class kinds of mail — air, first-class, special delivery, parcel post — was taking longer and longer to reach its destination. In some instances the delays seemed incredible - Mr. Walker writes: 'Mail from London, England, was being received in Radio City as soon as mail posted at the some date and hour in the 1950. And the reason for the cuts, according to the Postmaster General, tic had to be done.

Is it necessary for the post office to lose money — and huge sums of money at that? Mr. Walker doesn't 1:00 p. m. to 9:00 p. m. think so. The British Post Office has On August 10th from 10:00 a. m made a profit almost every year to 6:00 p.m. since 1711. The Canadian Post Office Not only is this service for the is also a profit-making enterprise. What, then, is the trouble with the U. S. Postal Service.

Mr. Walker quotes a telling sentence from a Hoover Commission Report which said the department has a "creaky, over-centralized or-ganizational structure; outmoded methods and equipment; cumbersome budgeting and accounting systems; a maze of tangled regulations and on the north bank of the Clearwater restrictions." One of these faults, river near the Peck railroad station, excessive centralization, may be the worst of all. Fire In Callison Canyon

A fire alarm was turned in to residents of American ridge and to the local state forestry office about 0:30 a. m. Wednesday - when a olg blaze was discovered in the canyon at the rear of the Norla Callion, Harley Eichner and Walter Benscoter ranches.

A truck responded from Kendrick, and farmers from that ridge turned out en-masse with tractors, plows, shovels, sacks, etc., to quell the flames. At this time the cause of he blaze is unknown.

HELLO, THERE, FOLKS -How Could Man Exist

Pray tell me how would man exist without the cow?

No milk or cream; nor any cheese; No butter for the spuds or peas; No chocolate sundaes or parfaits; No fish or fowl with Hollandaise.

No easy source of calcium To build the bones and please the tum; No ice cream cones or baked fondue, And no Weish rabbit, pas de tout!

No dishes loved by Aristotle; No baby's formula or bottle; No steaming stews with oysters swimmin',

No big strong men or lissome women! Pray tell me how would man exist without the cow?

Are you one of those who are stewing and sweating over hot kettles with canning? If so, why? Why not freeze that fruit? We have locker boxes to fit most any need or purse!

Man (to porter on train): "Have I got time to say goodbye to my wife," Porter: "I don't know, suh how long you been married?"

Care of cream in hot weather is most important. Keep it cool, clean, and bring it in as often as possible. We return a steam-sterilized can — ready to use!

Fan Dancer: "Doctor, I want you to vaccinate me where it won't show." Doctor: "O. K. Stick out your tongue!"

Milk is a vital food for young and old. Are you drinking all you should these days? If not, why not? And be sure it's Pot-latch Chief brand milk. Good pure - pasteurized.
