Most of Packers' Sale Dollar Goes to Farmer

Industry Expects Near Record Production in '51

The meat industry—from farmer to consumer—is an important part of this country's economy. Of every dollar exchanging hands in the industry, 78 cents goes to the country's farmers.

Profits in 1949, as reported by companies producing the bulk of the nation's meat supply, averaged 7/10 cents out of each dollar of sales, or about 1/3 of a cent per pound of meat sold.

As shown by the above chart, payrolls got next to the largest share of

Of every packer's sales dollar, 78 cents goes to the country's farmers.

The packer's dollar—10.7 cents; other expenses totaled 9.6 cents and taxes got 1 cent of the dollar.

Profits included those made on the sale of meat and all other products, including by-products and non-meat items, such as soap, cleansers, medicinal glands, and dairy and poultry products.

The meat industry expects a near record production during 1951. Consumption will remain high due to defense buying and record employment, industry spokesmen believe.

Egg Production Depends On Well Balanced Ration

Poultry experts report it requires about one pound of balanced feed for every seven eggs produced. To make a well balanced ration the vocational agricultural service of the University of Illinois advises:

Use at least three feeds from the cereal grains and by-products to make up 75 to 90 per cent of the ration.

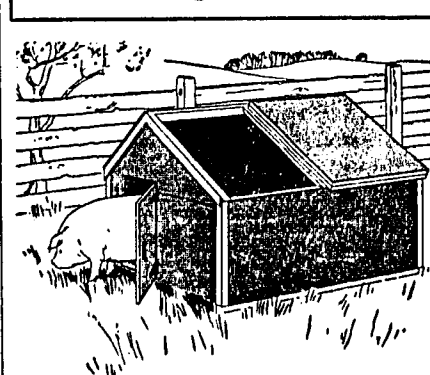

Five to 10 per cent of the ration should comprise an animal-protein feed.

Use one or more plant-protein feeds, if available at reasonable cost. Not more than 15 per cent of the ration should come from this group.

Include at least one legume roughage, to make up 5 to 10 per cent. Some carrier of calcium should be included if the ration contains no meat scrap, fishmeal or tannage.

One pound of common salt should be added for each 100 pounds of total ration.

Hog House

Scientific hog raising for highest profits calls for warm, dry, inexpensive housing. The sunlit hog house above is simply constructed. Its dimensions are 7 feet by 6 feet, and 4 feet 10 inches high. Built on skids, it has a one inch rough floor laid on 2 by 4-inch sills. Studding of 2 by three inch lumber supports the masonite quarter-inch tempered hardboard used for siding and roof. This material is durable and weather resistant. Four-inch light strap hinges are used for turning back the roof door. Plans are available by writing Farm Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill. The plan number is AFB-196 and are free.

Plan Hog Pasture—Farmers planning next year's crops should include an alfalfa pasture for hogs to save grain and protein feeds.

U. S. Crop Production Up During Last Ten Years

Agriculture during the last decade has increased production from 10 to 14 per cent although its manpower had declined and the nation's population has increased, agriculture leaders point out.

The increase was due in great part to agricultural colleges with their branches of extension, research, and resident-teaching. Mechanization also played an important part in the increase.

Alcoholism Can Be Checked By Nutritional Treatment

Alcoholism can often be traced to the diet and overcome by nutritional treatment, Professor Roger J. Williams, nationally known biochemist of the University of Texas, declared at the sixth southwest regional meeting of the American Chemical Society held at San Antonio, Texas.

Describing a recent series of experiments on rats, in which the animals were studied as individuals rather than as types, Professor Williams said that rats were found to differ widely in their tendencies to drink alcohol—some becoming drunkards, some moderate drinkers, and some remaining teetotalers.

"When on an ordinary stock diet," he reported, "some drank heavily from the first. Some started in easy and built up their liquor consumption during a period of weeks or months. Some drank spasmodically and some drank moderately over a long period of time. Some were teetotalers and would not drink at all in spite of the fact that they were forced to make a deliberate choice."

The investigators found that these differences "have a genetic basis, but that they also have a nutritional basis," according to Professor Williams, who said:

"Rats can be made to drink or be abstainers, depending on their diet." Recommending that the same approach be applied to the study of human alcoholism, he said:

"Man doesn't become alcoholic—only certain individuals. The cause for the alcoholism has, as we believe, genetic roots and nutritional roots, and very fortunately we are convinced that in many cases it can be treated nutritionally so that the tremendous urge is abolished."

Suet Hung From A Branch Will Keep Birds All Winter

Use the shade trees in your yard as a cafeteria for birds this winter.

Hang suet from a branch or erect a simple little feeding station beneath a tree. That will bring many winter birds to your door for breakfast, lunch and dinner. And they may remain until spring returns.

Nourishing food may mean the difference between life and death for a bird in the stormy cold. The birds will repay you in the joyous sight of watching them feed and cultivating their friendship. But, more than that, they are beneficial to your trees and garden, eating overwintering insect eggs and, like the woodpeckers, devouring harmful bark insect pests.

Woodpeckers, nuthatches, chickadees, brown creepers and jays are meateaters. They like "meat" such as suet or any kind of fat in their diet. Peanut butter because of its oil is a good substitute.

The vegetable eaters are the finches, cardinals, song sparrows, tree sparrows, juncos, chickadees, jays and nuthatches like sunflower seeds.

A feeding shelf or station may be a flat board a foot or more square hung from a tree or held by a pole. If it is surrounded by a coping an inch or two high, there will be less likelihood of food being scratched away. The shelf may have a simple roof, but enclosures on the side will scare away birds.

Suede-Like Flock

The "wooly" lamb of the greeting card or in a child's book is made possible by a "flock" finish. This is produced by spraying or sifting fibers of such materials as rayon, cotton, silk or wool upon an undercoat of special finish while this finish is still wet and sticky. In addition to being employed for decorative and novelty use, these finishes are applied to the bottoms of lamps, ash trays, and other articles to prevent scratches on furniture. They are also utilized in lining boxes, drawers and jewelry cases. Still other uses include card tables, phonograph turntables, toys and backgrounds for advertising displays. Flock finishes resemble suede and are made in many colors.

Sugar Beet Tops

Feeding of sugar beet tops that have been exposed to frost, wilting, drying, and other damaging conditions has been responsible for cattle deaths, the American Veterinary Medical association reports. The poisonous factor is an accumulation of nitrate in the leaves. In one Canadian herd of 70 cattle, 41 sickened and 19 of them died from this cause last year. Under ordinary conditions, beet tops can be fed without harm to livestock, the AVMA points out. But caution is in order if wilting and drying have occurred, as these conditions favor the accumulation of nitrate.

Three Most Popular Birds

The American cardinal, the western meadowlark and the mockingbird are the most popular birds in the nation. They can cite the lawbooks to prove it. Of the 33 states that have adopted an official bird by legislation, seven have picked the cardinal. Virginia, acting early this year, made the latest addition to the cardinal camp which now includes Kentucky, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia and North Carolina. Kentucky, first state to vote an official bird, started the cardinal parade back in 1923.

Wood Ford Farm Builds Dairy Barn Famous Ayrshire Herd Has 6-Year Milk Record

One of the finest and most modern dairy barns in the United States, using the newest building materials and developments to safeguard against fire, was completed recently on the Wood Ford Farm at Avon, Conn.

Forty feet wide and 267 feet long, the barn houses 100 milking cows. It includes also a large feed room, box stalls, an office, a room for employees, and a well-equipped milk room.

Fire destroyed the old dairy barn last summer. None of the farm's famous ayrshire herd was harmed because it had been put out to night pasture.

In making the barn fireproof concrete was used for the floor, cinder block walls were filled with vermiculite. The roof has asbestos shingles laid on asphalt felt to make the barn almost 100 per cent fire safe.

The barn features an effective ventilating system, which brings air through intakes at the peak of the roof. Stale air is picked up by thermostatically controlled fans from a point near the floor.

The Wood Ford Farm herd has been the highest producing ayrshire herd in the United States for the past six years.

New Burley Strains Are Almost Free of Wildfire

New strains of burley tobacco that are almost immune to wildfire, one of the most destructive diseases of the crop, have been created by an agriculture department plant scientist.

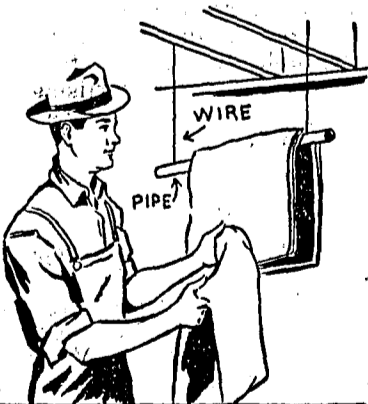

The strains also have a lower nicotine content. This, too, is a major advance, because nicotine in present day burley—used principally in blended cigarettes—is higher than is desired.

A third point about the new plants is that they seem to be a little more vigorous in growth than other lines.

But it will be two or three years before growers have these plants, because they must be improved and selected for local conditions before they are released.

The man who originated the new strains is Dr. E. E. Clayton. He developed the wildfire resistance in the new lines from a wild species. The new line was developed after a systematic study of several hundred wild species during the last 15 years.

Protect Bags

To keep empty feed sacks from being damaged by mice or rats, take a piece of iron pipe slightly longer than the width of the sacks and suspend it from the ceiling with two lengths of wire. Mice and rats are unable to get down the wire to the sacks. The average farmer will save considerable money in a period of a year by following such a practice.

Sweet Potato Crop Nets N. C. Youth $2,927.29

Dickie Batten of Selma, N. C. grew 2,131 bushels of sweet potatoes, of which 1,431 bushels were field graded U. S. No. 1, on a 4 3/10 acre plot. The 16-year-old youth grossed $3,652 on his 4-H club project. After deducting his production and marketing expenses of $724.71, he had a profit of $2,927.29, or $680.76 per acre. He was winner of the state 4-H club sweet potato contest for 1950.

GRAIN MARKETS DECLINE BUT FEED GRAINS HIGHER

Grain markets were unsettled during the past week, with wheat prices showing slight declines and most feed grains higher, according to reports to the Market News Service by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Wheat prices were 2c to 4c per bushel lower at most markets, reflecting a less active demand. Oats advanced about 1c and barley 2c to 3c, continuing the upward trend of recent week.

The 1951-52 wheat crop in both Argentina and Australia will be sharply below average, according to current reports. The Australian crop to be harvested this winter is forecast at only 160,000,000 bushels. This is the smallest since 1946-47, and compares with last year's crop of 183 million bushels and the 1949-50 crop of 213 million bushels. Wheat acreage in Argentina is sharply reduced and placed at only about 11 million acres, 5 million below last year and 7 million below the pre-war level. Latest prospects indicate relatively poor yields because of dry weather and some frost damage. Even with normal yields, present prospects point to a maximum output of about 145 million bushels. This compares with last year's crop of 213 million bushels and the 1940-44 average of 235 million bushels.

Marketings of wheat increased a little with arrivals at terminals totaling around 10,250,000 bushels. Domestic inquiry was less active but export demand continued good with sales under the International Wheat Agreement, amounting to over 114 million bushels, bringing the total to about 126 million bushels.

Cash wheat prices declined 2c to 4c per bushel, reflecting in part a falling off in domestic flour demand and improved weather conditions in the winter wheat belt and in Canada. No. 2 winter wheat, following the decline was quoted at $2.47 at Chicago; $2.63 at Fort Worth and $2.43 at Kansas City.

Pacific Northwest wheat markets displayed an easier tone throughout the week, influenced by weakness in other markets and a slackening in local export business. Export sales, however, totaled about four cargoes of white wheat to Indian early in the week while confirmation of sales of 10 cargoes of white wheat to the Japanese Food Ministry was announced. Exporters were reportedly well covered in the sales to Japan, the wheat having been purchased at an earlier date with some indications that the volume accepted by the Food Ministry was somewhat smaller than anticipated.

Receipts of wheat at Pacific Northwest terminals continued of good volume and totaled 947 cars during the week, compared with 980 a week ago and 808 a year earlier. Supplies were more plentiful, reflecting increased country marketings earlier in the week, together with the reduction in export demand. Prices declined 1c to 2c per bushel compared with a week ago, with the greatest decline in export classes. Mills provided a steady buying outlet for special protein lots. At the close of the market No. 1 soft white and white club were quoted at $2.40 per bushel, No. 1 hard red winter at $2.40 and No. 1 hard white at $2.45 per bushel, all track basis, at Portland. Inspected wheat for export from Pacific Northwest ports totaled 2,500,000 bushels for the week, bringing the total for the season, to date, to around 35 million bushels.

Pacific Northwest oats markets continued strong, reflecting and good inquiry. Stocks of oats in Oregon, Washington and Idaho were placed at around 18,400,000 bushels compared with 24,300,000 a year ago. Offerings were extremely scarce and special quality No. 2 bright white oats, 38 pounds or better, brought $70.00 per ton at Portland. Receipts totaled 24 cars this week, compared with 27 last week and 38 a year ago.

Pacific Northwest Barley markets strengthened further and prices of feed types advanced $1.50 per ton, with No. 2 western barley, 45-lb. test selling at $66.50 to $67.00 per ton at Portland coast delivery. Dealer bids for some grades were at $66.00 per ton, basis coast, 15-day shipment. Demand was good and exceeded offerings as producers held stocks firmly.

The first formal flag raising, in what is now Idaho, was held at old Fort Hall, near Pocatello, in 1834.

Fruit juices of many kinds, canned or fresh-frozen are available at Blewett's Grocery-Market. 1-adv.

Potlatch Chief Sez

Published by the Kendrick Creamery

HELLO, THERE, FOLKS —
Well, now that the hub-bub of Thanksgiving is over, and Christmas not yet at the "worry" point, let's talk a little about income. You know those cows of yours are capable of bringing in a nice little sum every month if you'll just give them a bit of extra care — and care that costs little. Here's a few suggestions: A good warm place in which to sleep, plenty of salt always available, plus plenty of good water — and, of course, see to it that they get their daily ration of hay and grain. Try it for yourself. Keep track. You'll be surprised how many dollars they'll bring in.

A rich old aunt was paying her nephew's college expense and her visitor asked her if it was expensive.
"Well," said the aunt, "language runs pretty high. My check this month covered $10 for English, $20 for Latin and $110 for Scotch."

Isn't it time to stock up again with Potlatch Chief Ice Cream? We'll bet the holidays have run your supply pretty low. Check over your needs and re-stock at the creamery next trip to town. Always just right for that unexpected visitor's treat.

A disgusted parent wrote a note of complaint to the teacher and wound it up with: "If all my Herbert learns in school is to swear, I'll keep him at home and teach him myself."

Always ask for "Potlatch Chief" brand butter by name. The name is your assurance of purity and fine flavor. It's made from pasteurized cream — always!

Need a locker box? We have them to rent. Ask to see them.
