KENDRICK TIGERS TAKE 2ND TOURNAMENT BERTH

By virtue of a win over Culdesac Wednesday evening, and a loss to Lapwai Thursday evening of last week, the Kendrick Tigers find themselves in the No. 2 spot from the Valley at the Lewiston Tournament March 3, 4, 5, 6, 8 and 8, which will be played at N. I. C. E. gymnasium in Lewiston.

B Class schools taking part in this tournament are Lapwai, Kendrick, Genesee, Cottonwood, Kamiah, Deary, Pierce and Nezperce.

Kendrick Defeats Culdesac

Kendrick edged Culdesac in a defensively tight basketball game at Lapwai Wednesday evening, to secure the second place berth for the Valley at the Lewiston tournament. The loss eliminated Culdesac from further play this season.

Which team would win seemed in almost complete doubt in the minds of many spectators until the final three minutes. The biggest lead for either club was six points, enjoyed by Kendrick, and most of the game saw but three of four tallies separating the two teams.

The winning Tigers jumped into an early lead and ran it to six points before Culdesac found the hoop, and ran their scoring spree to make it 10-9 for Kendrick at the end of the first quarter.

Culdesac led 18-15 at the half and Kendrick was in front 26-24 at the three-quarter mark. The winners had two or three points in their favor the remainder of the game and never lost control of the ball.

Shooting from the foul line kept both teams in the game. Stan Smith, who led Kendrick scoring with 15 points, made 11 of them with 12 attempts from the gift toss line. Steigers of Culdesac connected on eight of ten tries from the foul stripe and led game scoring with 18 points.

Culdesac was somewhat weakened by the loss of K. Broncheau and Dumbauld via the foul route. Broncheau was a starter.

The team totals were unusually low in comparison with scoring in other games this season, but neither club would allow any set shooting and players on both sides were constantly harrassed when they had the ball.

Lapwai Defeats Kendrick

Lapwai defeated Kendrick 66 to 53 Thursday night to win the championship of the Valley Elimination Basketball Tournament. The victors battled out an even-up intermission score to go on to win. Four quick goals by Lapwai at the start of the third quarter gave them a hefty lead that they held the remainder of the way.

Kendrick, paced by Stan Smith's 21 points — high for the evening — took an early lead in the opening moments. But Lapwai had zoomed to a 17-8 advantage at the end of the first quarter. Kendrick came back with a 17-point second quarter and led 26-25 at the half. Then, as the third quarter began, four quick baskets gave Lapwai a 7-point lead, and they continued to build it until the end, The Wildcats leading 46-38 at the three-quarter mark.

Rickett led Lapwai scoring with 20 points.

Kendrick made 17 of 23 tries from the gift toss stripe, and Smith canned seven of the eight he attempted. Eddie Madsen led the Wildcats in this department with four out of six. Lapwai (63) Pos Kendrick (53)

Gets Garden In Early

Tuesday Marvin Long came into the Gazette office and announced that he had just completed the planting of his garden — radishes, spinach, peas, etc., and says that he believes it is the record for being early.

That may well be, for the ground is rather steep, a south slope, and gets lots of sunshine.

It seems that Marvin and Henry Brammer have a "coffee bet" on who will get their garden in the earliest — and to date we haven't heard from Henry, so judge Marvin to be the winner.

Our Note: The above article was put in type for last week's issue, but somehow, in making up, it was pushed aside, and failed to appear. The Tuesday mentioned would be Feb. 26.

Lewis Albert Dahlgren

Lewis Albert Dahlgren, 54, 808 3rd St., Clarkston, died at 2:15 a. m. Sunday at the Asotin County Memorial hospital as the result of a fall. Doctors attributed death to a cerebral hemorrhage. Asotin County Prosecutor Charles T. Sharp said at first it was believed Dahlgren had been the victim of an attack, but investigation disclosed he had fallen on the steps of his home.

Sharp said Dahlgren had visited the Eagles lodge at Lewiston Friday night, leaving about 1:30 a. m. He rode home in a taxicab and evidently fell, striking his head on the steps of his house.

He lay on the steps until 6:00 a. m., when he awoke and made his way to the home of a neighbor, C. W. Cramer, 211 Elm. St. He remained there and was apparently recovering satisfactorily after his hours of exposure. By early afternoon, however, his condition grew worse. A doctor was called and he was taken to the hospital at 9:35 p. m.

Mr. Dahlgren was born Dec. 4th, 1897, at Deary. He came to Lewiston and obtained employment at the Majestic Cafe, 326 Main street, when it opened in 1920. He worked at the cafe several years before returning to his parents home on Texas ridge.

In 1946 the farm home burned and Mr. Dahlgren moved to Clarkston, working again at the Majestic cafe until his death.

He had never married. He was a member of the Lewiston Eagles lodge and the Clarkston Moose lodge. Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Emma Triplett, Clarkston, and Mrs. Zelma Miller, Clarkston; two brothers, Oscar W. Dahlgren, Spokane, and August E. Dahlgren, Seattle. Several nieces and nephews also reside in the Lewiston area.

New Draperies Put Up

Burt's Confectionery has added some colorful draperies which give the establishment new "eye appeal."

The design, which carries gaily colored ducks, has brought forth much comment from local sportsmen.

KENDRICK TIGERS DROP OPENER TO GENESSEE

Lewiston — Genesee, the defending champion, Kamiah, Cottonwood and Lapwai grabbed opening victories in the star-studded second district class B high school basketball tournament which opened Monday at Northern Idaho College of Education gym.

Genesee subdued a Kendrick team which wilted in the second half, 41-29. Kamiah thumped Nezperce 48-36. Cottonwood had to hustle to edge Pierce 46-44. Lapwai trampled Deary 70-35.

Kendrick's Tigers did an unexpected fade-away in the second half as Genesee, defending district and state class B champs put on the steam and forged to a 41-29 win.

The battle was on even terms through the first half, although Kendrick led all but 35 seconds and emerged on top 18-17 at the mid-point horn. Bob Bennett, a sophomore guard, then uncorked for a field goal and a gift toss, and Murray Meyers and Don Denner added a field goal apiece to put the Bulldogs into the lead they never relinquished with two minutes gone in the second half. The score at that point was Genesee 24, Kendrick 18.

Jay Nelson, 6-foot Genesee forward, had started scoring after one minute of play, but Stan Smith, Kendrick forward and high scorer for the game with 13 points, quickly countered, and by the middle of the first period Kendrick led 8-4.

Genesee's short and only lead during the first half came up when the Denners teamed up, Dave with a free throw and Don with a field goal, to give the Bulldogs a 16-15 advantage one minute and ten seconds before the first half ended. Smith then dumped in a field goal and Howard Wolff a free throw to put Kendrick into its half-time edge.

Both teams had a 250 field goal shooting average at the half, Kendrick with 7 out of 28, and Genesee with 6 out of 24. Kendrick fell off in the third quarter, making only 2 out of 18 attempts from the floor, and ended the game with a 186. Genesee picked up to a .298 average.

Kendrick Defeats Nezperce

Lewiston, Tues. — Nezperce, which has the least height of any club in the tournament, appeared well on the way toward upsetting favored Kendrick when it held a 30-23 lead near the end of the third quarter.

Kendrick had been quite cool at the basket and despite a 16-point last period attack managed only a 24 percent average from the field in making 17 out of 70 attempts.

Kendrick's Stan Smith began to find the range and he picked up eight points in the final frame to lead his mates to victory. Nezperce, meanwhile, lost its star center, Richie Fuchs, and it picked up only four free throws in the first seven minutes of the last eight. Fuchs suffered an ankle injury and had to leave the game with 5½ minutes remaining to play.

Kendrick made nine points while holding Nezperce scoreless as it began its stretch drive late in the third quarter. Al Clemenhagen of the winning Tigers came two quick goals to start the comeback.

Smith's free throw tied the score at 30 in the final quarter and Kendrick zoomed to a 38-31 advantage which eased Nezperce out of the tournament. Smith's 14 points was high for the game. Richie Fuchs led Nezperce with 12.

Bridal Shower

A bridal shower complimenting Mrs. Leonard Cole (nee Virginia Cuddy) was given Sunday, March 2, at the Ladies' Aid hall at Southwick with Mrs. Rollin Armitage and Mrs. James Holt as co-hostesses.

The gift table, with its original arrangement, was centered with a huge mirror which reflected a tiny bride, surrounded by miniature packages tied with gay ribbons.

The refreshment table was lovely, with a white linen damask cloth, and in its center a three-tier wedding cake which was topped with miniature china bells, that hung from a heart-shaped tower. Candelabra flanked the centerpiece and cast a soft glow over all as the "Mardi Gras" candles flickered.

Several appropriate games were played, after which the bride opened her many lovely gifts and passed them around for display.

Refreshments were then served by the hostesses.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Fred Cole of Lenore; Mrs. David Cuddy, Jean Graves, Mrs. Earl Johnson, Clarkston, and Annabel Cuddy, Lewiston.

The award was made at the final home game of the season last week. This game also marked the last appearance of Millard as a Vandal cager.

The "Ron White Memorial" was established in 1947 in honor of the former Vandal player who was fatally injured in an auto collision while on a university basketball trip. The Sigma Nu fraternity established the award.

Sam Jenkins received the Jay Gano award as the most inspirational player on the squad.

Millard was also named a member of the All Northern-Division team, in itself a high honor.

Writes From Texas

San Marcos, Texas, Feb. 19

Dear Bill: Have been trying to squeeze a letter in for some time now, but Uncle has been keeping me pretty busy up until the last few days. I'm so far behind in my writing now I sometimes wonder if I'll ever catch up.

I want to thank you in every way for the paper. To read the happenings of home is welcome any old time, I can assure you. I have been receiving them regularly since the first issue I asked for. I haven't received last week's paper yet, but it will come down from Aberdeen, Md. There sure is a world of difference in climate between the two places.

I've been running around in shirt sleeves here, and at Aberdeen that was impossible. We flew by way of "American Air Lines" here last Friday, leaving Maryland in the morning, stopping at Memphis, Tenn., for lunch and here (San Marcos) for dinner. In other words, "right by the bell."

I will be with the Air Force for a while now, and so far like it much better. I have established residence in town (San Marcos) which is four miles from the base here. As soon as my wife arrives I'll be allowed to live off the base, and it will sure seem good to get out of these barracks for a change.

Well, Bill, not much news here, so will close for now. Thanks again. As ever — Harlan Fey.

Double Trouble

Juliaetta was the scene of two car crack-ups over the week-end.

The first happened Sunday when Pete Ware of Lewiston came up to go squirrel hunting, and parked his car on the hillside on the Juliaetta grade. During his absence the brakes must have given way, and the vehicle took off down the hill, landing quite a ways down the steep slope of the canyon, but without turning over. A wrecker was called Monday to get the car out, and had it almost onto the road, when the cable broke, and the car again rolled down the hill to stop against a pine tree. The wrecker also got into difficulty, sliding off the road. At last reports the wrecker was out, but the car is still leaning against the tree.

Then on Monday, Alfred Boone had crossed the bridge at Juliaetta and started up the hill to his home, when he reached over to close a door which had come open. In doing so, he took his eyes from the road, the car plunged over the bank and turned over a couple of times. Alfred emerged uninjured, but it is said the car is badly damaged.

Game Department Arrests

Violations of fish and game laws resulted in 47 arrests during January, the state game department reported this week.

Heavy fines were assessed in several courts for big game violations. Killing elk cost one Shoshone county resident $300 and illegal possession of elk resulted in one $200 fine. Illegal possession of deer or elk meat brought fines of $100 each to three violators.

Catching trout with a dip net cost one Fremont county man $300, and attempting to snag trout resulted in the court assessing a fine of $150 against another Fremont county resident.

Caribou county led with nine cases. Five were reported from Butte county and four from Bear Lake county. Cases were processed in 22 counties during the month.

You Are Probably "Covered"

"If you work for yourself in almost any kind of trade or business, you are now covered by Federal Social Security," according to Frank J. Cathcart, manager of the Lewiston office of the Social Security Administration.

This means that your 1951 earnings count toward Old-Age and Survivors insurance protection for you and your family. You must report these earnings and pay the tax along with your 1951 income tax return by March 15, 1952. The tax is 2% on net income up to $3,600.

You need a personal social security account card if you have never had one or have lost your card. You should apply for one immediately in order that you will have your number to enter on your tax return.

Self-employment, however, is not covered by social security if net earnings are less than $400.00 a year. In addition, the new social security law does not include earnings from self-employment as a farmer, doctor, lawyer, dentist, architect, osteopath, optometrist, naturopath, veterinarian, chiropractor, Christian Science practitioner, licensed or registered accountant, certified public accountant, full-time practicing accountant, funeral director or professional engineer.

Ready And Able

Switzerland is traditionally a peaceful country in the heart of a continent torn by wars. But the Swiss are no pacifists. In the current Reader's Digest Max Eastman says they are a nation of warriors, fortified, provisioned for a siege, armed to the teeth. They could mobilize in 48 hours an army of 800,000 — twice the size of the army of France!

Chile Produces Some Of World's Best Wool

Three-Fourths of Crop Is Shipped to U. S.

The small American farmer has learned from experience just how profitable a small flock of sheep can be to his general farm program. And in the western part of the country great flocks are maintained by producers.

One of the greatest producers of wool, now selling at a record price, is Chile. The industry is valued at $170,000,000 and employs more than 10,000 people.

Chile's first sheep were brought from Spain by the Spanish conqueror Pedro de Valdivia over 400 years ago. In 1877, 300 head were brought to the Punta Arenas area from the Falkland Islands.

The huge English Marsh Romney will produce 12 kilos of long staple wool, or 30 pounds. This type wool is often called the best in the world.

The industry specializes in the famous English Marsh Romney sheep which produces, according to many experts, the finest long staple wool in the world. Today, Chile has a total sheep population close to 7,000,000 head.

Three quarters of the nation's wool crop — about 15,000 metric tons — goes to the United States. England gets the remainder.

Farm Worker Crop Output Triples in Fifty Years

Fifty years ago a farm worker produced enough food for himself and five other persons. Today the crops raised by a single worker are sufficient for 15 persons.

Although machinery has had much to do with this spectacular productivity record, a major factor is the expanded use of fertilizers. The nation's farms last year consumed 18,346,132 tons of soil food—six times as much as in 1901—at a cost of $744,000,000.

At the turn of the century 265 million acres of crop land, tilled by 13 million farm workers, were needed to supply the crops required by a population of 76 million. Now 10 million workers produce from 345 million acres of land the food required by twice as many Americans, as well as thousands of persons in other countries.

Agricultural authorities say that the use of fertilizer is responsible for roughly one-fourth of the volume of all crops.

The use of fertilizer is expected to continue upward for an indefinite period.

Seed Beds

It is a long time from planting seed beds, but gardeners and farmers might spend some of their spare time during the winter months making one. Seed beds with plastic covers are hailproof, shatter-proof and light in weight. A plastic-coated wire mesh, weighing less than glass, passes on to the plants most of the sun's ultraviolet and infrared rays. This material is available at most farm equipment dealers and hardware stores.

Poultry and Egg Eating Increases, Experts Say

Poultry experts report the American family is consuming more poultry and eggs and predicts the increase will continue during the rest of 1951. Forecasts indicate the average American will have eaten 30 pounds of chicken by the end of 1951, 10 per cent more than last year; 406 eggs, slightly more than in 1950; and about five pounds of turkey meat, approximately the same as last year.

College Displays Wealth Of Prehistoric Illinoisan

Wealth buried by a prehistoric Illinois resident who may have lived several centuries before Christ now is at the University of Illinois. It consists of 55 pieces of flint, ranging from raw blocks to expertly-fashioned big spear points as finely-formed as any ever found.

The cache was uncovered last year at the Selmer farm near Batchtown in Calhoun county between the Mississippi and Illinois rivers northwest of St. Louis. In this area are many remains of the prehistoric Hopewell or "mound-builder" Indians, whose culture recent radiocarbon research has tentatively dated at 200 to 600 B.C.

The flint was obtained for the university's archeological collections from W. L. Wadlow, amateur archeologist of Dow, Ill., by the Illini Achievement Fund of the University of Illinois Foundation. Through his cooperation, the collection is being kept for research and teaching use in the state where it was found.

Prof John C. McGregor, University of Illinois archeologist, says that the find undoubtedly represents the wealth of an individual. He explains that the blade spear points, several inches long, are far too finely-made to have used for hunting or war, and were more likely a medium of exchange — the "money" of their day.

He suggests that the cache was the treasure of one of the prehistoric Illinois residents of the highly-civilized Hopewells, who left their important dead buried in mounds from the Great Lakes to the Gulf, and from Ohio to Kansas, and of whom much is still to be learned.

Uses Sought for 'Freak' Liquid Metal Gallium

Anyone who wants to try to find a use for gallium, a metal which the average layman would classify as a "freak" because it is liquid at normal temperature, can buy it at a special "research" price, according to Dr. Ernest L. Bickerdike, associate professor of chemistry at Santa Barbara College of the University of California.

Despite its unusual characteristics, no specific use has been found for gallium, although its presence has been known since discovery by a Frenchman in 1875.

On a recent sabbatical leave at the University of Michigan, Dr. Bickerdike engaged in research on this metal under the direction of the eminent analytical chemist, Prof. H. H. Willard. Although he believed he was on the track of finding a new reagent for use in working with the contradictory metal, his research did not come up with an answer to that question: "What is gallium good for?"

Found in small quantities in some zinc ores and some aluminum ores, the Aluminum Co. of America (Alco) offers it for research purposes at $3.25 a gram, as compared to the normal price of $4.50 a gram. This would make an amount the size of a nickel come at the "bargain" price of $16.

Anemia in Pigs

Blood studies in horses, which revealed the cause of a fatal type of jaundice in foals, offer a new clue to the prevention of baby pig losses.

Horses belong to blood groups, much as people do, and the mare and the stallion to which she is mated may be of conflicting blood groups. When this happens, the two kinds of blood do not mix as they should during the fetal development of the foal. Anemia and jaundice develop after the newborn foal consumes its dam's milk, which contains the conflicting properties, and death often follows in a few days unless the foal is transferred to a nurse-mare.

It is highly probable that certain types of anemia seen in baby pigs are caused by blood factors which operate in a manner similar to those found in horses.

Where We Get Pepper

Pepper is native to the East Indies. We import most of ours from India and Indonesia, with lesser amounts from various ports all within a 1000-mile radius of Singapore. Pepper vines are trained to climb poles or other supports like a grape vine. Berries appear within two or three years of planting, although the vine does not attain maturity until the age of seven or eight years. When ready for harvesting, the berries look like clusters of red currants. While spread out for drying they change color and shrivel, finally becoming the black wrinkled berry with which we are familiar.

Cabbage Production

In the United States, New York leads in the production of cabbage for both fresh and sauerkraut markets. Texas and Florida, with winter crops are close competitors in the fresh market. Wisconsin rates second in the output for sauerkraut. Cabbage—whose name is an Anglicized form of the French word "caboché" (head)—is a member of the Brassica family which includes such diversified types as Brussels sprouts, cauliflower, kale, broccoli, turnip and rutabaga. It is generally classified in terms of head shape and comes in three colors—green, white and red (magenta to purplish).

Step-Ramp Loading Chutes Are Safest

Many Livestock Yards Are Remodeling Ramps

Livestock markets across the nation are continuing in their program of modernization and the installation of step-ramp chutes to replace old wooden chutes that cause great damage to animals.

Cattle prefer steps to the old-style cleats. Many animals are injured and much meat lost from bruising due to the constant prodding necessary to get the animals up and down the old ramps, cattlemen have reported.

The Chicago stock yards recently opened 12 of the modern step-ramp chutes. Of concrete and steel construction, the new chutes are designed to ease the task of unloading stock, and insure safe and efficient operations. Galvanized steel fencing and grates add to the safety features of the dock area. Waffle-grid concrete floorings provide safe footing for animals during the penning process.

The first truck to unload over the ramps brought 24 head of Hereford and Angus steers shipped by Carroll Snola of Onslow, Ia.

Cracked Corn Found Best Feed for Suckling Lambs

Tests made at the University of Kentucky experiment station indicate cracked yellow shelled corn is the cheapest and best ration for the creep-feeding of suckling lambs.

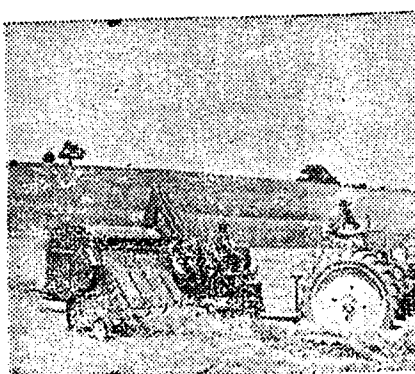

Experiments carried on over a period of nine years compared cracked yellow corn with mixtures of feeds. These included cracked corn, crushed oats and pea-sized linseed oilmeal; cracked corn and commercial milk substitute, and a third ration composed of "sweet feed" made of corn, oats, bran, linseed oilmeal, molasses and salt.

The experiment was conducted under the most controlled conditions possible, Kentucky educators reported.

The conclusion of the experimenters: "None of the three more costly mixtures showed any consistent or significant superiority to corn alone in rate of gain, efficiency of gain or market finish of the lambs."

The experiments were not designed to answer the question of whether creep-feeding pays, but rather to determine what rations are best for creep-feeding under Kentucky conditions.

Baler

This automatic baler is a good example of how machinery is saving manhours on the farm. The baler can package a ton of hay in less than half the time needed by hand methods. With only the tractor driver in the field, this machine automatically picks up hay, slices it, presses it into compact packages and then ties the bale with two strands of twine. Further information is available at local machinery dealers or in the local hardware stores.

Rice Is Most Important Food in the World Today

Although most Americans believe the statement exaggerated, rice is the most important food crop in the world today. It is the basic food of more than half of the world's population. In recent years the cultivation of rice has increased in this country, but in Asia it is the important crop because it is virtually the only food millions of people have—their means of sustaining life.

Blueback Limit Established

North Idaho fishermen were reminded this week by the game department that a daily bag limit has been ordered on blueback caught from the waters of Pend Oreille and Priest Lakes. The order became effective February 1.

The Idaho Fish and Game commission established the limit during their January session after determining that completion of Cabinet Gorge and Albeni Falls dams in the near future might have a detrimental effect upon blueback spawning and reproduction by changing water levels during the spawning and hatching season.

A daily bag limit of 50 blueback has been set for sport fishermen with a daily limit not to exceed 200 allowed commercial fishermen.

The department added that this is the first time a limit has been set on this species in a number of years.

Hot Lunch Big Service

A visit to the Hot Lunch room at the Kendrick High school during the lunch hour will prove most interesting and enlightening to anyone.

The thought of feeding 130 to 145 youngsters in an hour sounds like a major operation, but through planning and a strict observance of schedule, everything moves like clockwork. Mrs. E. M. White, who has charge of the kitchen, planning the menus and doing the cooking, says she has become very fond of her big family and takes great pride in seeing that they get a hot lunch which is high in nutrition, and which also proves to be a moral builder.

The seventh and eighth graders (Junior High) form a line at 11:20 and are fed and out of the way before the high school students arrive. The spirit of good citizenship and fair play is noticeable as they wait their turn in line. Mrs. White says there are always a few gripes (which is human and a sign of good moral) but on the whole all appear satisfied.

The school hot lunch program is indeed a service to the rural students as well as the children from town, if just considered for convenience alone. But there are several other factors that enter in, such as nutrition, and the low cost per lunch. Then, too, the variety introduced in the menus sharpens the appetite and all agree they would hate to go back to the cold lunch carried in the "little tin pail."

The lunch room is light and cheerful, with gay ruffled curtains, clean tables and comfortable chairs, and proves a pleasant spot in which to spend the lunch hour.

Sanitation is another item that receives priority in the program. The food is prepared by Mrs. White and Mrs. Edgar Dammarell with strict adherence to cleanliness, the lunch itself being served on stainless steel trays, the milk in original containers (bottles) and drinking straws are furnished. If hot soup is served, bowls are used as well as the trays.

The program has grown up. Most will remember the first hot lunch served in the school some 15 years ago, sponsored by the P.-T. A. Mothers took turns furnishing and serving soup or cocoa, which supplemented the sandwiches the children carried.

Now the mothers get to work in the summer, canning surplus commodities, which are used during the winter to supplement government surplus commodities and items purchased outright.

Mrs. White and Mrs. Dammarell are assisted during the clean-up period by several high school girls, who wash dishes and clean up.

Mrs. White extends an invitation to all parents to join the children at the lunch hour and see for yourselves.

Bird's Eye Fresh Frozen Foods of many varieties are obtainable at Blewett's Grocery-Market in Kendrick — and they're good. 1-adv.

Poetry From Korea

In a letter from North Korea, under date of Feb. 18, Leonard Weber writes:

Hello, Everyone — I have a few minutes today, so thought I would drop you a few lines and thank you for the paper.

I am now in Korea with the 40th Division, but it isn't too bad. The country here sure is rough terrain. The hills go straight up, and boys are they high. I am enclosing a poem that is making the rounds, and you may use it if you like.

The Story Of Korea
Up in the mountain of Korea,
Kumsong is the spot,
Battling the terrific weather
In the land that God forgot.

Out in the cold with a rifle
Or down in a ditch with a pick,
Doing the work of a convict
But too damn tired to kick.

Here with the bears and tigers,
Where a G. I. is always blue,
Right in the middle of nowhere,
Seven thousand miles from you.

Where a soldier in the army
Earning a meager pay
Guarding the folks by the millions
For a measly three-sixty a day.

Nobody knows we are living,
Nobody gives a damn,
Back home we are forgotten,
We belong to Uncle Sam.

We are living in our memories
Of our folks back home and our gals,
We hope when we return,
They aren't married to our pals!

We left the good times behind us,
Three years of our life we'll miss
It's sure tough to be drafted,
But it's a hell of a lot worse to enlist.

When we hold that formation
On the big drill field upstairs,
We will fall in at attention,
And march by the stands in pairs

Then St. Peter will greet us,
And you will hear his yell —
Come in you boys from Korea,
You've done your time in hell!

Thanks again for the paper, and I would certainly like to see more letters from the fellows in the service. Why can't we all run a column like there was in World War II? As ever — Leonard.

Watch Your Step

If you buy a fur coat before August 9th, be wary, counsels Robert Wallace in the March Reader's Digest. After that date the label must state the true English name of the fur. Until then, the terms Artic seal, Baltic leopard, Belgian beaver, black lynx, Chinchillotte, Erminette, coney and lapin will continue to be synonyms for plain rabbit.

Water Supply Vital In Farm Fire Control Annual Damage Amounts To Over $100 Million

Recently a New Jersey farmer's barn was set afire by lightning, and despite the efforts of three fire departments from nearby villages, the barn was a complete loss.

Two factors combined to defeat the firemen. There was a delay in notifying the fire department because the fire wasn't immediately noticed. There wasn't a good supply of water near the barn from which the pumpers could draw.

These conditions are common to most properties in rural or small town areas. If rural residents can find means to correct them, they will go a long way toward reducing the large number of "total losses" that occur on farm properties, causing damage amounting to $100,000,000 a year and taking the lives of 3,500 farm residents.

No water. There is not much these firemen could do to save the barn without an adequate water supply.

In spite of efforts on the part of county agents, farm groups, insurance men, and volunteer fire departments to encourage the building of farm ponds, there still are thousands of farms in all parts of the country with inadequate water supplies.

The easiest way to provide adequate water is to dam a brook, or deepen an existing marsh or water hole near the barn. Or a farmer may be able to bulldoze a suitable pond near his buildings. For proper drainage, the pond should be laid out with surveying instruments.

'Sound of Corn Growing' Recorded by Professor

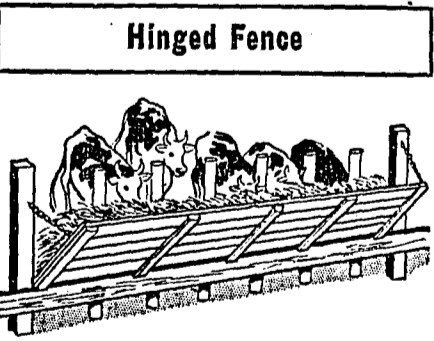

Probably every farmer in the United States at one time or another has heard the old saw "it's so hot you can almost hear the corn growing." Now, seven men, including three University of Wisconsin experts, have joined the ranks of believers.

They have a tape recording of what they describe as corn growing. Herbert Jacobs, telegraph and farm news editor of the Madison Capital Times, thought up the idea. With the aid of Wisconsin U. experts the experiment was conducted in a 100-acre stand of university raised corn.

Recording equipment was carried 500 feet into the field. Microphones were carried deep into the corn rows. There was no wind or other noises to complicate the recording, the experimenter reported.

When the experiment was over and the recording played, Verner E. Suomi, associate professor of meteorology at the school, said, "When background noises subsided, you could hear that corn growing."

Farm experts report corn makes 80 per cent of its growth during night-time and will grow as much as two to five inches in one night.

Hinged Fence

Here is an idea a number of midwest farmers might use in their feed lots. Hinged at the bottom and held in position by chains, a section of fence is lowered to form a manger. It can be raised when not in use to become again part of the fence. Posts should be set along the length of the manger as illustrated.

Farm Land Prices Up Sharply in Nebraska

Farm land dollar values in Nebraska have increased 124 per cent since 1939, according to figures of the bureau of agricultural economics. In the west north central region of the country, of which Nebraska is a part, prices have increased 3 per cent during the four months ending in July. This despite the usual seasonal reduction in farm real estate activity and a downturn in farm products.

Wacs Work Overtime in Japan; Aid Army in Korean Conflict

Approximately 1,500 members of the Women's Army Corps are filling important jobs in Japan and in their off-duty moments are enjoying life in the Orient.

The excitement of an important Army job, the fun of a tour through an oriental city, and the chance to help soldiers wounded in Korea have all become part of a day's routine for members of the WAC serving in Japan.

In answer to an urgent request, the Army sent large numbers of its women to the Far East Command shortly after the outbreak of the Korean war. Many of them replaced men who were sent to the battle zone while others aided the 625 Wacs already there. The women soon earned well-deserved recognition from their superiors.

Upon arriving at their new post, the Wacs were assigned to important tasks utilizing their special skills. Included in the long list of job assignments were positions as technicians in the Army Medical and Signal Corps and military intelligence duties.

The women settled down in their strange surroundings, comfortably combining the customs and language of the country with their own. They enthusiastically tackled the jobs given them, frequently putting in long, tedious hours to finish special assignments. But whatever the task—it was always done well — so well that General Matthew B. Ridgway complimented them on their splendid performance.

"Your loyalty, integrity and devotion to duty have again been generously displayed during these many trying and anxious months," he said. "The outstanding manner in which you have performed your mission in support of the United Nations troops fighting in Korea adds another fine chapter to the history of the Women's Army Corps."

'Chemical Eye' Reproduces Reactions of Human Eye

A group of scientists has recently created a "chemical eye" in a test tube, in which certain chemicals reproduce all the chemical reactions that take place in the human eye when it sees in dim light. These scientists, headed by Dr. George Wald of Harvard University, have also produced in the test tube electrical changes such as occur in vision.

The retina or back-screen of the eye contains two types of nerve ends—the cones, which are used for daylight seeing, and the rods, which are used in near-darkness. The rods contain a rosy, light-sensitive substance called rhodopsin which is necessary for vision in dim light. Rhodopsin is made directly from Vitamin A, and this is normally present in high concentration in the retina. An inadequate supply of Vitamin A causes night blindness.

Bright light bleaches rhodopsin, so that the eye loses its ability to see in dim light. But darkness reforms the rhodopsin, and sensitivity is regained. The "chemical eye" demonstrated how this continuous cycle works: In the dark Vitamin A is converted into retinene, which combines with a substance called opsin to form rhodopsin. In the light, rhodopsin bleaches back to retinene and opsin, and the retinene again becomes Vitamin A.

The "chemical eye" studies are expected to bring about a better understanding of how vision works, and consequently better means of preserving it. They include experiments which seek to solve the mystery of how the bleaching of rhodopsin stimulates the retina's nerve cells electrically so that vision is transmitted to the brain by way of the optic nerve.

Coaxial Cables

Coaxial cables make it possible to transmit as many as 400 words a minute (2,400 letters) by intricate teletypewriters and relay equipment. Scores of messages are sent simultaneously, in both directions, over a single line. Many cables, however, are 30 or more years old, and can handle only about 50 words per minute. Undersea "repeaters,"—vacuum-tube amplifiers—are now being installed in older lines to boost their capacity. Submarine cable is thin, usually less than an inch in diameter in deep water. It thickens to three or four inches near shore where there are hazards from chafing, trawling or ships' anchors. Standard 3.15-inch cable weighs 19 tons to the mile in water. Twenty miles or more of such line may be suspended in the sea while it is being laid, but once down, the cable hugs the ocean floor.

Nation's Timber

Biggest timber producer of all, the United States is one-third forest covered. Its woodlands yielded some 37 billion board feet of lumber in 1950. Notably wasteful in the past, the nation's forest industries have increased their replanting and conserving activities steadily in recent years. Wood chemistry provides uses for previously wasted parts of trees. In 1950, some 600 square miles of U.S. forest land were planted in trees for future commercial use. Only a beginning, it nevertheless represented a 50-per-cent increase over the area planted in 1949.

March Comes In Like Lion
 If the old saying "Comes in like a lion, goes out like a lamb" holds true, this area should certainly be enjoying wonderful weather the latter part of this month, for March has certainly "come in like a lion."
 We have had chill winds, and brief spits of snow since Thursday of last week, but Monday night the weather man decided to step things up a bit, and a chill rain began falling in the canyon, but on top the hills it was snow — and when the storm quit early Tuesday morning, about four inches of fresh, white, fluffy stuff lay on most of the surrounding ridges, hampering traffic and coating the deep drifts on north slopes that much more.
 Tuesday was chill and damp.

New Farm Truck Decals
 E. Dan Pederson, county assessor announces that he now has a stock of the new decals used in designating farm trucks (only) for reciprocity travel in Oregon. These special decals designate a truck in farm use only, and must be obtained if that farmer wishes to use the truck in Oregon at this time. However, Mr. Pederson states that Washington or other bordering states may later require such a designation.
 In order to obtain one of these the farmer must bring his registration papers to the assessor's office and sign a special affidavit.

Truck Law To Be Enforced
 Over-width and over-weight trucks running on Idaho highways are creating a serious hazard, the State Highway department said today.

The department warned that this is particularly hazardous during the annual spring break-up on highways.

A spokesman said it is known that trucks with over-width bumpers are operating on roads, leaving less than one-half the road width for vehicles meeting or passing.

It is easy to see, the department said, that an extremely dangerous situation is caused when a truck with such a width meets a bus, for example, or another truck.

The board pointed out that it is against the law to operate with over-width bumpers and that such will not be tolerated, regardless of the weight postings.

Idaho roads are currently being posted for the spring break-up, and violators will be prosecuted.

HELLO, THERE, FOLKS —

Yes, it's a fact, we are adding new equipment in order to serve you better. A new milk pasteurizer will be installed as quickly as possible, a new homogenizer, for the production of still better ice cream, plus the better service we will be able to offer you.

It's all in the line of improvement to warrant your patronage, not only at retail, but at whole-sale — and not only in selling, but in buying. We're proud of the name "Potlatch Chief" and we want you to be proud, all the time as well.

Try us with that next can of cream. You'll like our money, and the steam-sterilized, ready-to-use can we will return to you. Try us, won't you?

St. Peter: "Where you from, son?"
Truck Driver: "Texas."
St. Peter: "Well, come on in,

but you ain't gonna like it!"

Are you enjoying ice cream to the fullest extent? If not, why not? Chances are you aren't using Potlatch Chief. That's the home brand that's chock full of fine flavor and delightful smoothness. Be sure to take home a gallon the next time you're in town. Keep it on hand, always, for those "snacks" or for that quick dessert that is so often called for.

A couple of farmers in Iowa were discussing a severe drought. One had some wheat which he had managed to harvest. "The drought sure has made the wheat crop short this year."

Other Farmer: "Short? Say, I had to lather mine to mow it!"

Remember: Always ask for "Potlatch Chief" Dairy Products by name. It is your assurance of quality.

Clarence Alexander was a caller in the Erlewine home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Souders were host and hostess at a pinochle party on Saturday evening. There were three tables in play despite the icy condition of the Lepo canyon road, which called for chains on most of the cars. High score prizes were won by Mrs. Marion Rowden and Dick Parsley. Low awards went to Mrs. Parsley and Marion Rowden. The "goose" went home with Mrs. Clement Israel.

The Friendly Neighbor Club meeting has been postponed until March 21, rather than being held the 5th as originally scheduled. Mrs. Hunter will then be able to attend and bring us a lesson on "Color in the Home." This month two of our members will have attended a "leaders' course" in Moscow, on "Simplified Entertaining."
