On the pavement they melted almost as fast as they fell, but on lawns, particularly on the north slopes, they piled up to almost an inch in depth. By nightfall, however, only a few traces remained.

On the hills the snow is said to have reached a depth of about two inches and some of it still remains.

SIXTEEN PRESENT FOR THE COMMERCIAL CLUB MEETING

Sixteen interested businessmen and farmers were present for the regular 6:30 dinner meeting of the Kendrick Commercial Club last Wednesday evening, the 6:30 dinner being served at the Kendrick Cafe, and the business session at 7:30 in the Firemen's hall.

A. O. Kanikkeberg, president, called for committee reports.

Tom Long, for the Highway committee, stated that where snow had been plowed off, roads were generally in good shape, but where it had been left on, they were very soft, and lead restrictions were stiff. He added that the Dammarell & McKeever crusher was now set up just below the Little Bear ridge bridge, and would begin operations this week.

For the Education committee Ben P. Cook stated that for the past two weeks most schools in this area had been "majoring in tournaments." He added that at Lapwai about $1,800 was taken in in admissions, and at the Lewiston tournament about $9,000. Expenses are deducted from this sum, and the remainder then divided evenly between the competing teams. He explained that at the conclusion of the Lewiston tournament, one team will go to the state tournament in south Idaho.

Mr. Cook added that things were again on an "even keel" in the Kendrick schools, with classes going well and scholastic standings above what might have been expected. Examinations are scheduled for the coming week.

Gerald Ingle, adding to Mr. Cook's report, told of the District Trustee's meetings in Lewiston. One action taken by this organization was the recommendation that in the future school activities be held to the week-end rather than mid-week. He also announced the coming school-district election for levies.

George F. Brocke, Sr., reporting for the Agricultural committee, said that a great deal of snow still lay on the ground in many sections, and that as much of it was pure ice, some wheat killing, by smothering, was expected. However, an estimate of damage must await the snow's melting.

On Civic Improvements Ed. Deobald stated that drilling operations satisfactory flow having been struck, on the new well were now over, a The new well bore pierces two water strata, the shaft giving at least 60 gallons per minute, and with the old well now capable of 55 gallons per minute, a plentiful supply is assured.

He added that the new well was estimated as capable of giving 100 gallons per minute alone.

Tom Keene of the Merchant's committee then brought up the matter of Parade Day, an event which has been held for the past two years, the first time being sponsored by the Red Cross Pharmacy, the last time by the Commercial Club. After a little round-table discussion the Club voted to hold such an affair again this year, and the date was set for Saturday, May 17, as that time will permit the appearance of the High School band. Mr. Keene was named chairman for the day, with power to appoint necessary committees.

The matter of Fish and Game was brought up, and George F. Brocke supplied this report. He said that there were now hundreds of deer in this area, driven down by the deep snow in the back country, and in that deer seen appeared to be in excellent shape. He added that the blue backs in the northern lakes were not biting.

In the absence of Rev. F. C. Schmidt, chairman of the committee, W. L. McCreey brought up the matter of a bronze plaque for the Area Living War Memorial Swim Pool, and after some discussion the committee was instructed to go ahead with the purchase, and endeavor to get it here in time for brief dedication ceremonies during the Parade Day, May 17.

The matter of entertaining the basketball team at dinner was then brought up, and the club voted to entertain the Tigers and Yell Queens at the next regular meeting, with Mr. and Mrs. Herb Millard of Moscow, outstanding U. of I. player, and former Kendrick player, and Coach and Mrs. Dennis Racicot also as honor guests.

Well Problem Believed Solved Monday a pump expert met with members of the Village board, and after discussion with him, the trustees have decided to remove the big pump from the old well, lengthen its staging and add a booster pump, which, installed in the new 10-inch bore well, is calculated to give a gallonage of about 100 per minute.

To the pump staging a little more than 100 feet will be added, and this, when not required to force the water to the reservoir, will give better than 100 gallons per minute. By the addition of the booster pump, which will put the water up the hill to the reservoir, will give the 100 gallons per minute needed.

The new well has been completely cased to a depth of about 37 feet, which shuts off any surface water that might get into the bore.

Two veins of water were hit during the drilling operations, one at 273 feet, the other at 449. No purity tests have yet been run, as the well must be capped and thoroughly cleaned before the latter is taken, but there is no doubt but what it will answer all requirements, as depth alone would assure that.

You can save yourself a lot of trouble by not borrowing any.

LELAND IS HOST TO JOINT DISTRICT P.-T. A. GROUP

The regular monthly Joint District P.-T. A. meeting was held Monday evening in the Leland Methodist church basement, with Mrs. Elmo Eldridge, president, presiding.

The meeting opened with the group singing of "My Wild Irish Rose," led by Warren Fairbanks, and accompanied by Mrs. Oscar Slind.

The treasurer's report was read by Mrs. Homer Parks, showing a balance of $344.57.

Mrs. Gordon Peters for the Membership committee reported 151 members to date, adding that her report had to go in the next day, and she hoped she would not have to report fewer members than last year, which was 156. Before the evening was over seven more patrons signed up, to swell the total to 158.

Mrs. J. L. Nutting, chairman for the P.-T. A. Musical Revue last week, thanked all for their generous participation in this event, and noted that $120.30 had been taken in.

Mrs. Gerald Ingle then announced April 14 at the date for the next Study Class, inviting the group to meet in her home, and added that Asa Calvert would act as moderator.

The report of the Nominating committee was called for, with Mrs. D. A. Christensen, chairman, submitting the following names: Ross Armitage, president; Mrs. Nora Callison, first vice president; Mrs. Ross Armitage, second vice president; Mrs. A. O. Kanikkeberg, secretary, and Mrs. Gordon Peters, treasurer. There being no other nominations from the floor, the secretary cast a unanimous ballot electing the above group.

Mrs. Bob Magnuson, a Cub Scout Den Mother, gave a brief report on the program of the Cubs, stating that three Cubs had been advanced to Scouts, and eight new members had been added to the ranks. Their project this month is "Kites," with each Cub busy making his own.

Mrs. Magnuson called attention to the fact that the Cubs had been holding their meetings in the Community church basement, and since the P.-T. A. was their sponsor, wondered what the wishes of the group were in regard to taking care of the expense of fuel. Following some discussion Mr. Nutting made a motion that the Cub Master and Den Mothers meet with the church board and arrive at a figure so the P.-T. A. could reimburse the church for fuel.

Next Mr. Calvert announced the Juliaetta school had received books from the Leland library, which eased their immediate need of books, and since the P.-T. A. had taken as their project this year the securing of books for the library's at each school, he asked if the P.-T. A. would be willing for them to use the money which had been planned for their books, for something else. He then explained they needed a movie projector and had almost enough to pay for it now on hand, and with a little help from the P.-T. A., could complete the purchase. The sentiment was unanimous that his wish be granted.

Under new business it was decided by the group to send a delegate to the state conference in Twin Falls. The new president, Ross Armitage, was named.

Mrs. Bob Magnuson spoke briefly on the results of the meeting held regarding the sponsoring of a kindergarten again this year. Interest was keen and a tally showed 25 children eligible to enter school this fall. Mrs. Wm. Johnson and Mrs. Ervin McGeechey were named as a committee to investigate further.

A motion was made and carried the P.-T. A. give $10.00 toward the Crippled Children's fund.

A discussion followed on how the group might assist the Schilling family, who had lost all their possessions by fire that day, near Leland. A committee, including Mrs. Gordon Peters, Mrs. James Holt and Mrs. Jasper Nutting were named to investigate the family's needs. Any one wishing to help is asked to contact any member of the committee.

Mrs. Gerald Ingle brought word from Dr. Lohr of Moscow, who is conducting the Blood drive, saying response was very poor and urged every able-bodied person to do his duty and give a pint of blood. Our boys are giving their lives, and what a heartbreaking fact to admit — that the folks back home are failing them when they refuse to do their bit. The need is great, don't delay.

The meeting was then turned over to Gerald Ingle, program chairman, who called on Warren Fairbanks. Mr. Fairbanks sang two Irish songs, accompanied by Mrs. Oscar Slind on the organ.

The subject: "The Child and His Emotions" was ably and very interestingly handled in a panel discussion with Gerald Ingle as moderator. Others taking part in the panel were Ben P. Cook, Mrs. Ross Armitage, Asa Calvert, Mrs. E. O. McAllister and Mrs. Rollin Armitage.

Following the program the Leland ladies served delicious refreshments

New Arrival Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Greene of Richmond, Calif., are the happy parents of a baby boy, born to them Mar. 2. Mrs. Greene will be remembered here as Ethel Fraser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Fraser.

Ill At Home Mrs. Roy Ramey is ill at her home, and for the time being is confined to her bed.

Freak Carrot And Bone Monday Morning Mrs. Marvin Vincent of Leland brought to the Gazette office a freak carrot-and-bone combination that is almost "one for Ripley."

The carrot, dug from their garden at Leland, had grown through the center of a bone from a piece of roast steak, pinching it down where it passed through the bone, but once through, the carrot again expanded to normal size.

The freak may be seen at the Gazette office.

On Sunday, instead of the regular message brought by Rev. Norbo to the Gold Hill church, a picture, "The Missing Christians" was shown by "Sunday School" Johnson. It is a really worth while picture with a definite message, and will be shown again on Friday evening for the benefit of those who did not have the opportunity to see it on Sunday, and those who wish to see it again. A free-will offering will be taken to help pay the expense of the production.

Home Burns To Ground

Fire broke out Monday morning about 9:30 in the Julia Fleschman house, which has been occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Shilling and six children for the past year — and laid it to waste and ashes before anything but a washing machine could be salvaged.

Mr. and Mrs. Shilling were out in the woods above Southwick sawing logs at the time of the fire. However, a 17-year-old daughter and a 15-year-old son were home with the two youngest children. When the blaze was discovered it had gained such roaring headway upstairs that no time was left to save anything but the washing machine.

Neighbors have rallied around, taking the children temporarily, and rustling clothes, as everything was lost with the exception of what they were wearing.

Fire Takes Farm Home

Fire of unknown origin wiped out the Fix ridge farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Denner and four children Monday afternoon around 2:00 o'clock, while the family was away.

Mrs. Denner and her children had driven to Lewiston to spend the day and Mr. Denner had gone to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Denner, when the fire broke out. The blaze was discovered by a friend who had driven up from Lewiston to see Mr. Denner. When he drove into the yard he noticed smoke pouring out of the roof — he could raise no one, so dashed off in his car to the nearest house, which was the Adolph Denner home.

The men returned in haste, but were too late to salvage much — some canned fruit and a little furniture, some of which was fire damaged. It is understood the house was covered by insurance.

Kendrick Old-Timer Passes

Word was received here last week of the death in California on March 7, of Mrs. Florence Rowland, a former resident of this community. Old timers will remember her as the wife of Dave Rowland, who was in the furniture business here in the early 1900's. Mr. Rowland died several years ago.

Mrs. Rowland was a sister of Mrs. Ramsey Walker and Mrs. Jean Crocker, who are also former residents of Kendrick. Besides the sisters she is survived by a son in Hawaii; a daughter in California, and several grandchildren.

Snow Brings Robins

It almost looked like it was snowing robins Tuesday during the heavy snow storm, when a large flock arrived on the school house hill simultaneously with the big snow flakes.

It was evident they were upset by their chilly reception for their intended "spring song" carried a sour note. So big was the flock that they dotted the lawns and road, while the trees fairly dripped with the big red-breasted birds and the air was filled with raucous cries of protest against Mother Nature's "spring weather."

To Open Appliance Center

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fisher of Grangeville are expected to arrive here Wednesday to take over the business location formerly occupied by Jack's Trading Post. Mr. Fisher plans to put in an electrical service and appliance shop in that location.

The Kendrick Grange met for their regular session Tuesday evening, with 29 present. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Archie Garner were given the 4th Degree work. It was announced that the P. M. A. would meet in Kendrick March 26th, with the Grange ladies serving the lunch.

The local Grangers also plan a visit to the Lapwai Grange in the very near future, and at that time will put on the program for the evening.

Grangers also extended a vote of thanks to the Kendrick Commercial Club for their sponsorship of the Farmers Institute Day last Thursday, and for the lunch.

The evening closed with delicious refreshments served in St. Patrick's Day style.

Choir Practice

The Community Church choir will meet at the church Thursday evening at 7:00 o'clock for regular practice.

Arrests Many In February

The state fish and game department reported 30 arrests by Idaho conservation officers during February.

The department said that a total of $1,552 had been assessed against violators by Idaho courts during the month. Several large fines were levied for killing or possession of game animals. One Los Angeles man paid $300 for killing a cow and calf moose, and three fines of $200 each were ordered by the courts for killing moose and unlawful possession of elk and deer.

The department said that arrests were reported from 16 of the 44 counties. Bannock county led with eight cases, with Jefferson reporting four.

Sure, It's The Truth

When his doctor advised a change of climate, the eastern city-dweller went looking for a healthful place to live in the southwest. In a small Arizona town he approached an old-timer sitting on the steps of the general store. "Say," he asked, "what's the death rate around here?" "Same as back East, bub," came the reply, "one to a person."

POWER-CURVE TRACTOR TIRES

Power-Curve cleats dig into any kind of soil and hold firm. That's why these king-size cleats give you maximum traction — not only in forward gear, but in reverse, too. You get added pulling power—even in muddy going—because Power-Curve cleats are curved to stand rigid.

The famous BFG open-center tread flexes as the tire rolls. Dirt drops out, leaving each arrowhead nose clean to bite the soil better. And Power-Curve cleats dig deeper and wear longer because they're higher in the center than those of the other two leading makes. For more power in your tractor work, get the B.F. Goodrich Power-Curve tire!

Ethiopia's Imperial Guard Fighting War In Korea

The first Ethiopian combat force to fight outside Africa in 12 centuries is in action in Korea. Under the green, yellow and red flag of one of the oldest Christian nations on earth, black-skinned riflemen from the elite Swedish-trained bodyguard of Emperor Haile Selassie—King of Kings of Ethiopia, Conquering Lion of the Tribe of Judah, by legend the descendant of Solomon and the Queen of Sheba—are now in the U.N. fighting line.

In battalion strength, Ethiopia's volunteers landed at Pusan only this month. The date, May 6, must have meant much to men charged by their king "to pay a debt of honor for your homeland," the National Geographic Society notes.

It was 15 years and a day after Mussolini's mechanized legions rolled into Addis Ababa to found an abortive African empire, ten years and a day after the capital was retaken by British and Ethiopian liberation forces in 1941.

Not since before the rise of Islam, however, have Ethiopians fought beyond their own continent. Italy's conquest was the only break in the continuity of a sovereign African kingdom more than 2,000 years old.

Once the masters of Yemen (southern Arabia) across the Red Sea, Ethiopia's early Christian kings built a fabulous empire and a rich, Greek-founded culture. Their traders roved all the way to the shores of the Persian Gulf. Their Coptic Church, linked to Orthodox Catholicism through the Patriarch of Alexandria, laid the foundations of a faith which has held Ethiopia together as an independent nation ever since.

Kaesong Has Been Important Korean Commercial City

Commercially, Kaesong ex-truce talks site in Korea has been important for the weaving of coarse cotton cloth, as well as for the making of crude pottery and earthenware. The city, which is just south of the 38th parallel, about 50 road miles northwest of Seoul, is also in normal times a popular market place for produce of near-by fertile valleys.

One of Kaesong's principal offerings has been the medicinal herb ginseng, prized in the Orient for magical strengthening and curative powers. Carefully cultivated, this crop has had a value estimated at times close to $1,000,000 a year.

In 1930, Kaesong's population was registered at 49,520, and in 1940, at 72,062. While this represented an increase of about 45 per cent, it is far less than that counted for other Korean cities, such as Seoul, 137 per cent rise, and Chongjin, 450 per cent.

Kaesong is situated about a third of the way along the railroad that runs between Seoul and the North Korean capital of Pyongyang. It is surrounded by granite hills which supplied much of the stone for necessary railway tunnels. Villages dot the neighboring valleys, splashed in season with colorful wild iris.

'Tree Of Water'

The Aztec word "ahuehuete" (pronounced "ah-we-we-te") and meaning "tree of water" is the Mexican name for the cypress species of which El Tule is far-and-away the mightiest individual. Twelve feet above the ground, the Tule cypress bears a wooden plaque, largely overgrown. Spanish words carved on it still are partially decipherable. The board reportedly was placed in the trunk in 1803 by the famous German geographer and traveler, Alexander von Humboldt. An earlier Spanish explorer, Juan Bautista de Anza, suggested that the Tule cypress was not a single tree but a fusion of three separate trunks. Some botanists feel this must be so, since the tree is a freak, with no other competitor in size among survivors of its kind.

Civilian Uses

The farm implement known as the flame cultivator, which traces its development to the Army Chemical Corps' World War II flame thrower, originally was designed to weed cotton but was adapted for other types of row-planted vegetation. Other civilian uses of the flame thrower are clearing weeds from highway shoulders and railway beds as well as destroying alligator grass and water hyacinths which impede river navigation.

Distant Star

No one can say which is the most distant star. With the new 200-inch Hale telescope at Mt. Palomar Observatory in California it is possible to see great clusters of stars, called "galaxies," that are so distant that their light takes about a billion years to reach us, so they are said to be a billion light years away. This distance would be about six sextillion (six followed by 21 zeros) miles. No doubt there are other galaxies at still greater distances, which will become visible when more powerful telescopes are built. Of the brightest (first magnitude) stars, the most distant is Deneb, in Cygnus the swan, about 650 light years away. A faint star just visible to the naked eye on a dark night might be at a distance as great as several thousand light years.

Shorthorn Breeders Conduct Experiment 102 Bulls Put Through First U. S. Program

Shorthorn breeders recently put 102 bulls through an obstacle course in the Nebraska range country with a view to toughening them up for a unique show and sale held at Broken Bow, Nebr., last month. Converting farm bulls from mid-western herds to rugged range bulls for service in large commercial herds of the west, the program was called the Range Bull project. The bulls were judged in groups of two and three, in the manner of "Camp Showings" in Argentina, and then sold to western cattlemen who wanted them for regular herd sires or for cross-breeding programs. It was the first such program in the United States.

The drove of Shorthorn bulls above were part of the Broken Bow experiment to toughen up 102 animals to be used in cross-breeding programs in large commercial herds. The project was sponsored by the American Shorthorn Breeders Association.

The animals were consigned by 48 breeders in the midwest and east and were turned out to range on July 1.

Gasoline on the Farm Is 'Liquid Dynamite'

Gasoline on a farm is "liquid dynamite" and must be handled with extreme care to prevent explosions and fires. It is estimated that annual farm losses from gasoline fires amount to more than $7,000,000.

Here are eight safety rules the farmer should follow:

1. Gasoline should be stored in steel drums in underground tanks at least 75 feet from any building.
  2. Gasoline or kerosene should never be left in open containers in any building.
  3. Gasoline or kerosene should never be handled in the presence of an open flame or other source of possible ignition.
  4. In pouring gasoline, make sure the pouring and receiving receptacles are grounded, to avoid static sparks.
  5. Never use gasoline, benzene, or other flammable material for dry cleaning.
  6. Never use gasoline or kerosene to start a fire in a stove or elsewhere.
  7. Make sure cans or tanks used in storage of gasoline or kerosene are painted red, marked plainly and in large letters.
  8. Never forget that gasoline or related petroleum products are the most potentially dangerous things you have on your farm.
- Observance of these rules will cut down farm fire losses.

Rat Control

The farmer who has 20 rats on his farm is feeding them at a cost of $40 a year. In other words, it costs farmers $2 a year to keep one rat. Three rats eat and destroy as much feed as two laying hens require in a year's time. This is sufficient reason for every farmer to execute a rat-killing and control program.

Poultrymen Are Advised To House Best Pullets

House only the best pullets that probably will produce well for the entire laying year, poultry experts advise. Those chickens that are under-developed, or generally unthrifty looking, will seldom produce well and should be marketed. And when housing pullets, it is generally wise to keep together those of the same age and stage of development. Smaller birds have a better chance this way.

Our Greatest Danger
Herbert Hoover's most recent major address dealt with the subject of honor in public life. In the course of it, the ex-President said this: "Dishonor in public life has a double poison. When people are dishonorable in private business, they deal only those with whom they deal or their own chances in the next world. But when there is a lack of honor in government, the morals of the whole people are poisoned. . . . Our strength is not in politics, prices, or production, or price control. Our strength lies in spiritual concepts. It lies in public sensitivity to evil. . . . The issue is decency in public life against indecency. . . . Our greatest danger is not from invasion by foreign armies. Our dangers are that we may commit suicide from within by complaisance with evil. Or by public tolerance of scandalous behavior. Or by cynical acceptance of dishonor. These evils have defeated nations many times in human history. "The redemption of mankind by America will depend upon our ability to cope with these evils right here at home." Remember that next time you read of five-percenters, mink coats and deep-freeze "gifts" to government officials and employees, sordid tie-ups between politicians and gamblers and morally indefensible activities within the RFC and other government agencies. These things are terrible symbols of moral decay. As Mr. Hoover has eloquently warned, that decay could destroy us more surely than any foreign enemy. — Industrial News Review.

Finding Tuberculosis Early
"Latest figures on Idaho's mobile chest x-ray program indicate that we are reaching our objective of finding tuberculosis early," Miss Frances Goodwin, executive director of the Idaho Tuberculosis Association, announced this week.

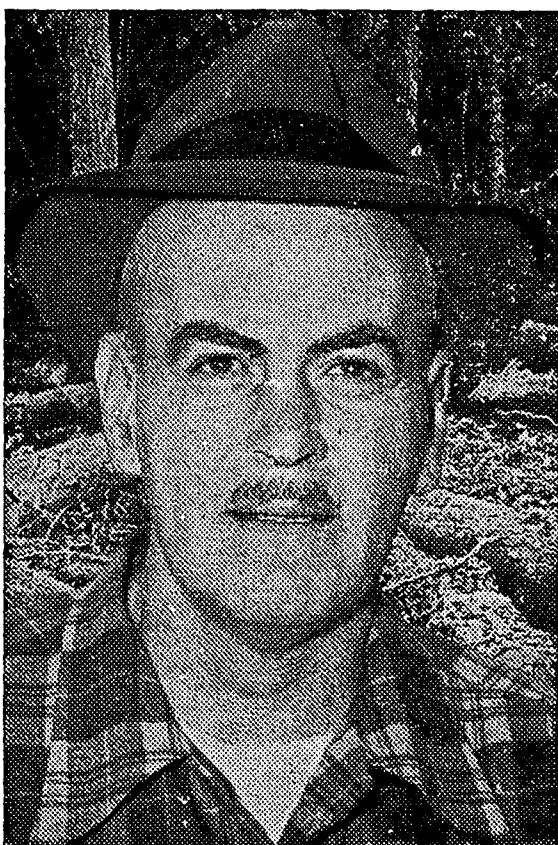

"Of 64 cases of tuberculosis, previously unknown, only four cases were far advanced. Twenty-three cases were inactive and 37 were in the early stages. These figures are especially significant when it is realized that none of the early cases suspected anything wrong," Miss Goodwin said. "They represent only those cases which have been definitely diagnosed by physicians as having tuberculosis and constitute only a portion of the 673 'suspects' found among the 75,283 films taken. "But tuberculosis represents only a little over one-third of the abnormalities discovered. The percentage of cardiac abnormalities and other miscellaneous lung conditions such as silicosis, bronchitis, tumors and lung cancer is almost as great as that of tuberculosis. The Idaho Tuberculosis Association is jointly sponsored by the Idaho Tuberculosis Association and the Idaho Department of Public Health.

"What's wrong about integration? It's the way I operate, too!"

Many businessmen have made comments like this: "The way I figure it out, this 'integration' you big companies are attacked for is just a matter of doing more than one part of a job. So what's wrong about that? It's the way I operate, too!"

In answering this question let's consider first what the word means. "Integration" means simply carrying a job through several steps. Integration can't make a good company bad. It's a method any business may use as it competes for your patronage, increasing its efficiency and benefiting you by keeping prices down. Let's look at the similarity between our operation and that of another integrated fuel-producer whose system is centuries old:

A woodcutter goes into a forest and fells trees. Standard drills into the ground and brings up oil. If the woodcutter sells the logs then and there . . . and if Standard sells the crude oil to some buyer at the well . . . there's no integration. Each has performed only one part of the job.

Now if the woodcutter takes the next step and cuts the logs into fire-places size, he has become an integrated business. Like him, Standard works to turn the product into the forms you use. We refine our crude oil into gasoline, lubricants, fuel oil, and other products. So we're integrated, too.

When the woodcutter hauls a load of firewood he extends his integration. He's now in the transportation business . . . as is Standard when we use our tankers and pipelines to transport oil from well to refinery, and the refined products from there to areas where they'll be used.

And if the woodcutter finally sells the firewood to you, his operation is fully integrated. Ours is, too, when we sell you fuel oil . . . or sell you gasoline at Company-owned service stations. So is integration wrong? Not at all. And we make best use of it to bring you better products at low cost.

W.W.P. CREWMEN DARE WINTER DANGERS TO PUSH "LINE" FORWARD

Against Odds, in Spite of Snow and Ice, "Reddy" Workers Race with Time

In the rugged northern Idaho mountains east of Pend Oreille lake, men and machinery of contractor crews fought a continual battle with winter snows and ever-treacherous terrain this winter, as they pushed construction of the 230,000-volt transmission line from Cabinet Gorge to Spokane. This is country so primitive as to be next to impassable even in dry summer months, and this winter it cost many man-hours in snow-clearing operations to enable men and machinery to pass. More than seven feet of snow hampered construction of the power line, and in many places drifts piled more than twice that high.

In spite of perils and difficulties, the work went on—so that the urgent need for additional electric power for national defense, and for the farms and homes and industries of the Inland Empire, could be met quickly.

Construction of this line was planned to begin the middle of the summer, 1951, adjacent to the proposed Bonneville line that would carry power from Hungry Horse. Construction work required joint use of Bonneville's access roads in several places, and permission was given by Bonneville to use its roads starting in October, with operations to cease by April 1, 1952.

It's been a long, cold winter for these contractor crewmen. There have been times when the next move seemed impossible, seemingly blocked on every hand, but they are making progress, and in typical private enterprise fashion, will deliver more power to Inland Empire homes, farms and industry this year!

Medina Mosque Is Younger Building than White House

According to tradition, Mohammed journeyed north from Mecca to the region of Yathrib's oasis, where he loosed his camel to wander unguided until it stopped and knelt. There the mosque was built. Disciples renamed Yathrib Madinat-al-Nabi, meaning City of the Prophet, now varied to Medina.

The original house of worship has been rebuilt several times. No existing relics of previous structures bear proof of use earlier than 1306. The present Great Mosque is actually newer than the White House in Washington and replaces an earlier mosque which was destroyed by fire only a century ago.

Though somewhat crowded by other buildings on its south side, the mosque stands out gracefully from most angles of approach. Its minarets are shapely, its dome a restful, dull green. Dominant construction material is a locally quarried crystalline rock of pinkish hue, with occasional elaborate inlay and faience decoration.

Pilgrim trade is easily the chief business of Mecca, Medina, and Jidda, the Red Sea port by way of which nine-tenths of the worshipping tourists now travel. The two shrine cities each have sacred areas where unbelievers are not welcome and subject to trespassing fines or jail terms.

The growing is the second industry around Medina's oasis, which is larger than Mecca's and can support more population. Under Turkish rule prior to World War I, Medina counted 80,000 people and was the southern terminus of a railroad from the cities of present Jordan, Syria, Turkey, and Iraq to the north.

Not until Mohammed moved from Mecca to Medina, did his creed begin the expansion that now encompasses 250,000,000 followers.

Drug Given By Mouth Said To Relieve Pain in Cancer

A chemical compound which can be given by mouth is reported by seven New York doctors to be useful in bringing temporary relief to patients suffering from fatal cancer-like diseases of the white blood cells and tissues.

The oral use of triethylene melamine on 58 patients is described by Drs. David A. Karnofsky, J. H. Burchenal, George C. Armistead, Jr., Chester M. Southam, J. L. Bernstein, L. F. Craver, and Cornelius P. Rhoads. The doctors are all associated with the Memorial Center for Cancer and Allied Diseases, New York.

Triethylene melamine is a valuable addition to the small group of drugs now known to be effective in relieving pain in these types of disease, according to the doctors. This is due primarily to the fact that it can be given by mouth, releasing the patient from his dependence on a doctor for administration of the drug. All the other drugs, they point out, have to be injected intravenously, which almost always makes hospitalization necessary.

Clinical trials with the drug are now being widened to include a greater variety of tumorous conditions, they said.

Cleaning Up

In the Smithsonian Institution's laboratory of vertebrate paleontology, six tons of fossil bones belonging to the extinct gigantic ground sloth, Megatherium, are being cleaned and repaired. The skeletal remains of this grotesque animal were collected in western Panama by Dr. C. Lewis Gazin, curator of vertebrate paleontology of the U. S. National Museum, assisted by Dr. Theodore E. White, paleontologist of the Smithsonian's River Basin Surveys. The Smithsonian Institution paleontologists will attempt to reconstruct for exhibition in Washington a complete skeleton of the giant sloth. A large part of the collection will be returned to Panama for exhibition there.

Forming Pearls

Although some pearls are formed in fresh-water clams and oysters, the most valuable come from the marine pearl oysters of eastern Asia. They occur when some foreign object—perhaps a tiny grain of sand—gets between the shell and the body. The animal then secretes around the object successive layers of a material called nacre, which consists of calcium carbonate. This is the same material as the "mother of pearl" lining of the shell. The Japanese make "culture" pearls by deliberately introducing small particles of graphite into the oyster and keeping it for several years as the pearl is formed.

Infrared Rays

Infrared rays are similar to rays of visible light, except that the length of their waves is greater than those of red light, which are about 1/40,000th of an inch and are the longest that the eye can detect. The longest infrared waves are about 1/65th of an inch long. Any hot object—the Sun, an open fire, a red hot poker, a warm radiator, an electric lamp, etc.—sends out infrared radiation, often with visible rays as well. Special electric lamps to generate these rays, used for applying heat, have a filament which operates at a lower temperature than is used in one designed mainly for purposes of illumination.

Potlatch Chief Sez

Published by the Kendrick Creamery

HELLO, THERE, FOLKS — What's In a Name?

We know all of you have heard that old statement: "What's In a Name, Anyway?"

For us to try to answer it to everyone's satisfaction would be impossible, but of this we are mighty sure: When it comes to creamery products the name "Potlatch Chief" is your assurance of quality and purity through and through.

Our milk, for instance, is pasteurized to the most rigid standards, which is your assurance of safety. Our butter is made only from pasteurized cream — and its fine sweet flavor and smooth texture tell that story very well. Try some on those hotcakes or hot biscuits. You'll understand just what we mean.

Johnny was doing penance in the corner. "I can't help it if I'm not perfect," he sighed. "I never heard of but one perfect boy, anyway."

"Who was that?" asked his mother, thinking to point a moral. "Dad," came the silencing reply, "when he was little."

Cream means money, and we're just itching to exchange our cash for your cream. If you aren't selling to us, bring in the next can. You'll like our service, our money, and the steam-sterilized, ready-to-use can we return to you. Just try us out!

The driver had been waiting a long time for his lunch. "Waitress," he said, "must I sit here until I starve?" "Oh, no," cooed the waitress, "we close at 6:00 o'clock."

Need a locker box? Are you butchering this spring? If so, we have one that will suit your needs as well as your pocketbook.

WHAT CAMERON FOLKS ARE DOING THESE DAYS

The Women's Home Talent program given at the Ladies Aid hall Sunday evening was attended by a large crowd. All acts were very well presented and received much applause, and appreciation from the audience. Refreshments were served following the program. A free will offering amounted to $116.44, which will be used for the upkeep of the Cameron cemetery. The women wish to thank everyone who helped make the evening a big success.

Mrs. C. H. Fry of Kendrick spent Friday in the home of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wegner and family.

Fred Newman, Jim Farrington and Gordon Peters chartered a boat and rode up the Snake river to the mouth of the Salmon river, where they fished for steelhead — with no success. However, they had a very pleasant and thrilling ride.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Mielke and daughters spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Parks. Mildred Brammer, who is employed at Orofino, spent the week-end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aug. Brammer.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Kruger were Lewiston business visitors on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wegner and family were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Weyen.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Whiting, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wendt, Mr. and Mrs. Aug. F. Wegner, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Schoeffler and Herman Silflow were among those who attended the annual meeting and dinner of the Lewiston Grain Growers at the Lewis-Clark Hotel in Lewiston, Monday.

News is very scarce. This miserable weather has curtailed farm work and kept most people at home.
