NO. 21

PERSONALS AND NEWS BITS ABOUT KENDRICK FRIENDS

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Brocke, Sr., have received word from their son A3/c Eugene Brocke, that he is now stationed at the Amarillo AFB at Amarillo, Texas, and is getting to like the Air Corps training.

Word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. Jack Heacock that they are now at home to their friends at 1500 No. Main Street in Porterville, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Valad of Detroit, Michigan, arrived here last Friday to visit his brother, Fred Stedman and family. The brothers had not seen each other in 49 years. A family reunion was enjoyed Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Valad, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stedman, Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Stedman and Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Stedman, on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stedman, Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Stedman accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Ray Valad to Coeur d'Alene and on to Coulee Dam on a sight seeing trip. The Valads left from there for their home and the Stedmans returned Monday evening.

Mrs. C. S. Westendahl returned home from Moscow Monday, where she had been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Jess Oylear and family.

Last Wednesday evening Mrs. John Johnson, Mrs. Dennis Racicot, Mrs. Howard Hoffman and Mrs. W. L. McCreary drove to Lewiston to attend the reception given for Mrs. Len Jordan, wife of Idaho's governor, at the home of Mrs. Ardie Gustafson. Mrs. Raleigh Albright of Juliaetta was one of the hostesses.

Rich Bradbury and Don Kaylor, U. of I. students, were Thursday evening callers at the home of Parker McCreary.

Louis Wright and Herman and Melvin Sneevy spent Sunday fishing at Coeur d'Alene.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Blewett and son Billy were Sunday guests of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Aaron Blewett in Moscow.

Mrs. E. M. White and Keith Thornton drove to Pendleton, Oregon, Tuesday afternoon to meet her son, Sgt. Jerry White from Amarillo, Texas, who arrived home on furlough just in time to attend the Commencement exercises. His sister, Judy White Thornton, who is one of the graduates.

John Dickerson of the Juliaetta Lumber Co. is expecting his wife from Klamath Falls, Oregon, this Thursday. Mr. Dickerson has purchased the former Ray Howard home in Juliaetta, and they will move into it shortly.

Loren Steigers of Clarkston is spending the week here visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Carl Gustafson, and family.

Rev. F. C. Schmidt was the guest speaker for the Men's Club meeting at the Methodist church in Lewiston, Tuesday evening at 6:00 o'clock. A dinner preceded the meeting.

Pat McCreary, Charlene Rex, Mrs. Paul Griffith, son Paul, Jr., and daughter Gerri, and Mrs. Ursula Coyte, all of Spokane, came down for Commencement Tuesday evening and were over-night guests in the McCreary home.

W. H. Hazleton of Mount Vernon, Washington, arrived here Monday for a visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Freytag. Mrs. Freytag is his daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Freytag were Sunday guests in the Henry Freytag home at Bovill.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Millard of Moscow were in town several days last week, visiting relatives.

Miss Dorothy Holt of Lewiston was here Tuesday evening to attend the Commencement Exercises. Her nephew was one of the graduates.

Mrs. Ben Westendahl and family, accompanied by Mrs. Albert Westendahl and daughter Vivian and Sid Waite, were Lewiston shoppers on Thursday.

Mrs. Jesse Oylear of Moscow and Mrs. C. S. Westendahl were Monday over-night guests in the Chas. Deobald home.

Shelia Westendahl accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Warren Fairbanks to Grangeville last Friday evening and visited with Shirley, Dona and Wanda Travis, returning home Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Thornton moved into the apartment at the Marvin Long home Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Clemenhagen and family of Richland, Wash., were week-end visitors in the Bob Clemenhagen home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Travis returned from Grangeville Wednesday morning after attending the Commencement exercises there. Donna Mae and Shirley Travis, their granddaughters, were members of the graduating class. Shirley was awarded the "Babe Ruth" award for sportsmanship.

Engagement is announced
Mr. and Mrs. Asa Cook, Juliaetta, Idaho, announce the engagement of their daughter, Georgia Cook, to Harold Brotner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Brotner, 1426 18th Ave., Lewiston, Idaho.

The bride-to-be graduated from Kendrick High school in 1949. She then attended N. I. C. E. until its closure. She has been teaching the third and fourth grades at Elk River, Idaho, this past term.

Mr. Brotner is a graduate of the Lewiston Business College, and is also a former N. I. C. E. student. He is now attending W. S. C. at Pullman.

A church wedding will take place for the young couple on June 7, in the Methodist church at Juliaetta, Idaho.

Assumes Store Managership

B. Frank Nesbit, known to everyone here, and who purchased the Jewelry & Gift Store some three weeks ago, completed moving his household goods and equipment here from Moscow last week-end, and has now taken charge of the store.

As in the past, Mr. Nesbit will do clock, watch and jewelry repairing, and in addition will continue to stock cards and gifts, increasing the present stock as rapidly as possible.

All are glad to welcome Mr. Nesbit back "home."

Mr. Nesbit will reside in the apartment at the rear of the store, vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Davis.

GERALDINE ONSTOTT BRIDE OF WALLACE MILLER, FRIDAY

Wedding bells rang out for another Kendrick young couple Friday evening at 6:00 o'clock in the Lewiston Methodist church when Miss Geraldine Onstott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manning Onstott, Kendrick, became the bride of Wallace D. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Miller, also of Kendrick, in a simple but impressive ceremony.

Rev. F. C. Schmidt of the Kendrick Community church officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Only members of the immediate families were present to witness the wedding rites. They included Mr. and Mrs. Manning Onstott and son Ray, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Miller, and the Rev. and Mrs. F. C. Schmidt.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in an orchid suit with white accessories. She carried a bouquet of red roses and a little white Bible, the latter a gift from her grandmother, Mrs. A. Onstott.

The groom wore the conventional dark business suit.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a royal blue suit with white accessories. The groom's mother was attired in a navy silk dress with black accessories. Both had corsages of red and white carnations.

Following the ceremony the wedding party gathered at the Bollinger hotel where all enjoyed a chicken dinner.

The happy young couple then left on a trip through the Walla Walla section, returning by way of the Wallowa valley, arriving home Sunday evening.

Both young people are well known here, having been born and reared in Kendrick.

The bride is a member of this year's graduating class at Kendrick High school. The groom also graduated from Kendrick High with the class of 1947, then served three years in the navy aboard an aircraft carrier. Following his discharge from the service he attended the U. of I. for a year, then went into business, purchasing the Kendrick Table Supply at Kendrick.

Following graduation ceremonies the young couple will leave on a trip to Stockton, Calif., after which they will be at home to their many friends in their apartment in the store building.

Awards Presented Graduates

At the Commencement Exercises in the Kendrick High School gymnasium Tuesday evening, before a audience which filled the big building to capacity, the following awards were presented members of the graduating class:

Danforth Award — Charles Christensen for the boys; Barbara Siffow for the girls, presented by Mrs. Louis Lindquist.

Music Award to Roger Jones, presented by Burke Sower.

Scholarship Awards presented by Warren Fairbanks, to James Hardy Holt and DeAnn Mielke.

Citizenship Awards presented to Charles Parks and Kathleen Crawford by Irvin McGeachy.

Dennis Racicot presented the Sportsmanship Award to David Crocker; Athletic Ability Awards to Stanley Smith and Dorothy Glenn.

The Commercial Award, presented by Mrs. Elsie Deobald, went to Maxine Slind.

A special request number, the Senior Class song, "The End of a Perfect Day," was played as a saxophone solo by Burke Sower, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Cluel Jones.

And may we say that the Juniors did a beautiful job in decorating the big building. Flowers were everywhere, and the graduates entered under crossed wands of flowers held by members of the sophomore class attired in evening gowns.

The program for this event appeared in last week's issue.

To Install New Officers

At the Worship Service Sunday morning the following newly-elected officers of the W. S. C. S. will be installed by Rev. F. C. Schmidt:

Mrs. Ben Cook, president; Mrs. W. L. McCreary, vice president; Mrs. Marvin Long, promotion secretary; Mrs. Elmo Eldridge, recording secretary; Mrs. Lester Crocker, treasurer; Mrs. Nora Callison, secretary of Missionary Education and Service; Mrs. Andrew Cox, secretary of Christian Social Relations and local church activities; Mrs. W. A. Watts, secretary of Spiritual Life; Mrs. F. C. Schmidt, secretary of student work; Mrs. Robt. Nelson, secretary of youth work; Mrs. John Darby, secretary of children's work; Mrs. Wm. Holt, secretary of literature and publications; Mrs. Herman Schupfer, secretary of supply work; Mrs. Howard Hoffman, secretary of status of women.

KENDRICK'S THIRD ANNUAL PARADE DAY BIGGEST EVER

Long before the appointed parade hour of 11:00 a. m. Kendrick's city streets and parking areas were jammed to the limit with vehicles, and the sidewalks and other view points crowded with an estimated 2,500 spectators, here to watch Kendrick's Third Annual Parade Day activities. Spectators came from Lapwai, Spalding, Genesee, Orofino, Deary, Lewiston, Clarkston, Bovill, Southwick, Troy, Teakean, Cavendish and other communities throughout the territory, not to mention all the ridges surrounding, as the ground was too wet to permit farming operations, and the brilliant sunny weather was just right for Parade Day.

There were flags, floats, a band, V. F. W. color guard, horses, beauty queens, a robot man, comic entries and all the other colorful things that go to make up a real parade. The procession, in which an estimated 300 people took part was so long that after doubling back at the end of town by a trip around the block, the "colors" marched head-on past the pet parade, which was the final section.

The Pet Parade, sponsored by N. B. Long & Sons, featured 80 entries who pushed, pulled, carried or dragged almost as many kinds of pets. There were dogs, cats, fish, frogs, rabbits and many other animals beloved by children — and every now and then activities in this section were livened by the bark of a dog, the protesting wail of a cat or the plaintive "baa" of a lamb.

The three parade judges decided that Ida Glenn of Kendrick, with a bantam chicken in a wagon was winner of first prize of $5.00. Second was Larry Blankenship of Cameron with a lamb pulling a wagon. Judges were J. M. Mead, owner of the J. M. Mead Lumber Products Co., Juliaetta; Olen P. Petty, Lewiston auto salesman, and Winfred (Wimpy) Grantham, Clarkston school teacher.

The three judges chose the Emmanuel Lutheran church's float (Cameron) for the first prize of $25 for service club groups. Second prize of $15.00 went to the American Ridge 4-H club for its float. The winning float, beautifully decorated, depicted a children's choir group, and was complete with pipe organ and pulpit, and now and then a peal of a bell was heard, announcing the call to worship. The American Ridge 4-H float, also beautifully done, depicted a farm scene, complete with buildings.

Winner of the first prize of $20.00 in commercial floats was the Kendrick Gazette. This float (if you can call a bicycle that) carried large "pages" of the paper on each side, the pages carrying "flashes" of the day's activities and advertising spaces showing advertisements of business firms. The Red Cross Pharmacy float was "semi-humorous," being finished with polka-dots, skulls and crossbones and smoke poured in a cloud from its exhaust pipe.

Almost on the dot of 11:00 the parade began, led by Dr. D. A. Christensen, parade marshal, and carrying the Kendrick H. S. band; then came the color guard formed by the Veterans of Foreign Wars posts of Lapwai and Kendrick — and from this point on to try to name the entries is out of the question.

Of particular interest were the two convertibles carrying Princess Patti Murphy of Lapwai, and Miss Phyllis Ralston of Nezperce (Miss Idaho) and members of her court. Another, astride a horse with the Spalding '49ers was Shirley Wilson of Clarkston. Junior Rodeo queen, she rode with Betty Jewett of Juliaetta.

There were floats of many kinds, sizes and varieties from Kendrick, Juliaetta and Lewiston business firms, and most showed many hours of work. Then there were new cars, "hot rods" from the Lewiston racing group, trucks, motorcycles from the Lewiston-Clarkston Motorcycle club, horses ridden by local residents, and a host of other things.

One float, which might well have been a prize winner was that of the J. M. Mead Lumber Products Co., at Juliaetta. However, Mr. Mead disqualified his entry by acting as one of the parade judges.

At the Red Cross Pharmacy there was a flower show, sponsored by that business firm. Here there were many beautiful entries. First prize in this event went to Mrs. Oral Craig, Kendrick, and second to Mrs. Dox Tout, Deary, who entered a display of wild flowers and ferns.

A feature of the afternoon's entertainment was a greased pig chase for boys under 12 at the baseball field between innings of the Kendrick-Troy game. After slipping through its pursuers' arms repeatedly the little porker, squealing its protests, was finally caught by Gerald Kuykendall, 11, of Southwick. This pig, donated by the Kendrick Table Supply, also took part in the pet parade — but certainly was not pet when being pursued.

Due to many school activities at this time, no dance was held, so the day's festivities came to a close with the ending of the ball game, which Kendrick won by a score of 12 to 6.

Parade Day is an annual activity of the Kendrick Commercial Club. It is under the direction of the Merchants committee, with Tom Keene as chairman.

The parade itself was under the direction of a special Parade committee consisting of Gerald Ingler, R. L. Blewett, Paul Fischer, Ben P.

GOOD TURNOUT AT MEETING OF COMMERCIAL CLUB WED.

Twenty-three sat down to the regular monthly Commercial Club dinner, held at the Kendrick Cafe last Wednesday evening, and were joined by four more for the business session which followed at the Firemen's hall.

Following the reading and approval of the Minutes of the previous meeting correspondence was taken up. A letter was read from the Lewiston Chamber of Commerce asking for a Rodeo Queen candidate from this area. After some discussion the matter was referred to Roy Glen for a report at the next meeting.

For the Highway Committee Tom Long stated that road work was making fair progress, unexpected difficulties having developed in rock work, and the weather had also been against them. He added that $500 had been donated by Little Bear ridge residents, and $755 by Kendrick business firms toward the improvement of the Little Bear ridge grade.

Gerald Ingler, reporting for the Education committee stated that the levy election held the previous week had carried unanimously, although the vote was small. There were 33 votes cast — all in favor.

Adding to Mr. Ingler's report J. L. Nutting stated that school would be over May 20th. He said that it had been running smoothly, and the bus schedules this year had been unusually satisfactory. The only problem, he added, was that of H.S. Lunch finances, which were running close, but he believed they would be in balance.

Asa Calvert stated that he was pleased with school results at Juliaetta this past term. He said general public support had been excellent throughout.

Ben P. Cook told of the Senior class activities, mentioning their final examinations; their sneak; hill day, and other activities, including Baccalaureate May 18, and Commencement on May 20th.

Clarence Reiman, eighth grade instructor, said that 34 were graduating from that room into High school, and would receive diplomas at the Commencement program May 20.

Dennis Racicot said he believed the year just closing had been an excellent one, with students showing real progress in the classrooms, as well as in other school activities.

Irvin McGeachy stated that despite the fact he had been forced to pay $2.98 for a $1.00 watch at the Red Cross Pharmacy in order to time his school bus driving and class room work (which hurt his feelings) he felt that things in general had been handled excellently, and that students, on the whole, had made good progress.

For the Publicity committee W. L. McCreary said his committee was working on the annual Parade Day to be held May 17, and prospects appeared excellent, weather permitting.

For Agriculture G. F. Brocke said rains had held back spring work to a large degree, and farmers were becoming desperate. However seeded grasses, clover and wheat were doing splendidly. He estimated that only about 50 percent of the spring seeding was done.

Tom Keene of the Merchants committee stated that lots of hard work was going into the Parade Day activities, and that now all seemed to depend on the weather. He said the Spalding '49ers would be here in force; there would be a delegation from the Lewiston-Clarkston Motorcycle Club; that Miss Phyllis Ralston of Nezperce (Miss Idaho) and Princess Patti Murphy of Lapwai would be present, as well as Miss Lewiston and Miss Clarkston. He added that many Lewiston entries for the parade had been promised.

At the suggestion of Mr. Keene, A. O. Kanikkeberg, chairman, appointed a committee to handle the parade, as follows: Gerald Ingler, R. L. Blewett, Paul Fischer, Ben P. Cook and Irvin McGeachy, they to have the power to "draft" helpers if needed.

Jeff Thompson then brought up the matter of an emergency landing strip which he, and a number of volunteer helpers hoped to construct across the creek above the Lewis Sawmill. He stated that 2,000 feet could easily be cleared by a brush crew and bulldozer. Mr. Kanikkeberg then appointed a committee consisting of Marvin Long, Geo. F. Brocke and E. A. Deobald to contact the State Forestry department in an effort to secure their aid for right-of-way, etc.

On Fish and Game G. F. Brocke, said the fishing was now becoming good at lake Pend Oreille, but most all streams (rivers) were much too high.

Dr. D. A. Christensen then brought up the matter of used clothing for Korean relief, and designated Dick's Barber Shop as the collection point. Ross Armitage and Ben P. Cook told of progress on the bleacher seats for Armitage Field. These are to be in sections, 6 seats high, and 32 feet in length. They will be set on concrete bases to insure rigidity.

This ending the Club's year, A. O. Kanikkeberg appointed a nominating committee, as follows: G. F. Brocke, chm., W. L. McCreary and Tom Long, this group to report at the next meeting, June 11.

Gets Furlough Extension
Pfc. and Mrs. Earl Thomas, Camp Rucker, Ala., who are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas near Deary, were most agreeably surprised last Saturday when he was granted a ten-day extension of his furlough.

Farm Work Far Behind

Despite the fact that we have had quite a number of fine warm days, with bright sunshine, spring farm work still remains far behind schedule, for enough rain has fallen (and some hard rain included) to keep farmers out of the fields.

Ground that has been worked, but not yet seeded, is said to have a crust that will have to be broken by rod weeder or harrow before seeding can be done, and how well the ground seeded, but not yet up will produce, remains to be seen.

Estimates run from two weeks to a month as the time farmers will try to make up when they can once more enter the fields.

BAND CONCERT BY CENTRAL VALLEY H. S. MUCH ENJOYED

The band concert last Friday evening, presented in the Kendrick High School gymnasium by the Central Valley High School band under the direction of Walter Thomas, prominent band leader from the Spokane area, and well-known former resident of Kendrick, was indeed one of the highlights of the winter and spring season. The sixty-piece ensemble reflected the masterful hand of their director as they made music that thrilled their listeners. Perfect tone and timing blended to produce a superb performance.

The program follows:

- March "Marcho Poco" Moore
- Overture "Gypsy Princess" Yoder
- Intermezzo "Nola" Arnold
- Piano Solo "Etude in Boogie" Walters
- Walters
- Ann Johns
- Ballet Music from Faust "No. 4
- Pas Seul of Cleopatra" and
- "No. 7 Brechanale and Entry of Phryne" Gounod
- March "Campus Parade" Huffer
- Accordian Solo (Selected) John Frucci
- Duet "Cricket and the Bullfrog" Yoder Piccolo, Arlene Baker
- Bass, Bob Snow
- Samba "Copa Cabana" Walters
- Paraphrase "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" Kern Horn — Barbara Voelker
- Clarinet Duet "Two Little Bullfinches" Kling Rennie Hanson and Joyce Sandeno.
- Trombone Smear "Sally Trombone" Overture "Jupiters Carnival" Fillmore
- Barnard
- March "Colorado" Holmes
- May we say that the solo and duet numbers literally "brought down the house."

Of these, the piano solo by Ann Johns, "Etude in Boogie" with band accompaniment, met the greatest approval by the younger listeners.

The accordian solo by John Frucci certainly demonstrated to all the ability that can be crammed into flying fingers and a fine accordian.

The other two duet numbers, the piccolo played by Arlene Baker and the bass horn by Bob Snow furnished a complete and very pleasing contrast in musical instruments, as well as demonstrating true musical ability.

The Clarinet duet by Rennie Hanson and Joyce Sandeno met heartiest approval, and the audience tried its best for an encore.

Mr. Thomas and his band are indeed to be complimented. The sixty pieces filled the gymnasium stage to overflowing, yet, somehow, they seemed at ease, and not the least bit disgruntled when forced to move and make passageway for the solo performers.

Robert F. DePeel Dead

Asotin — The body of Robert F. DePeel, 48, of Lewiston, was found in a parked car on Asotin creek about nine miles southwest of this town Friday morning at 10:00 by Sheriff Hugh Curry. A rubber hose was attached to the exhaust pipe and the end placed in the car. Charles T. Sharp, coroner of Asotin county, pronounced the death suicide, resulting from carbon monoxide poisoning.

DePeel was born May 23, 1908, at Bradley, S. D. He was employed as janitor at the Manhattan cafe. He married Irene Hanson at Superior, Mont., Nov. 22, 1940.

Besides his wife, DePeel is survived by his mother, Mrs. Bertha Johns of Watertown, S. D.; his father, G. V. DePeel of Clark, S. D.; one son, Kenneth of Fort Ord, Calif.; two daughters, Mrs. Janice Seaton of Waldport, Ore., and Mrs. Lorraine Patana of Iiwaco, Wash. Two brothers and three sisters also survive.

Funeral services were in charge of Vassar-Rowles, Lewiston, Tuesday.

Writes From Japan

From Cpl. Neil Erliewine comes a brief but interesting letter from Japan, under date of May 6:

Dear Bill — Thanks a lot for the paper. It's sure good to read about what everyone is doing at home.

I'm still in the "amphibs" and I rather like it. We do a lot of moving around — it seems like we don't stay in one place long enough to get our gear straightened around.

We just got back from Okinawa, where we were on maneuvers last week. We slept in tents and sometimes we could darn near swim out, it rained so hard.

It took us five days to come back to Japan on an LST, and D Company sank a tractor in 115 feet of water with a load of infantry aboard. I think they were pretty scared.

I'm "Cpl of the Guard" tonight, and I go on duty in about 30 minutes, so I'd better sign off for now.

Thanks again for the paper. Always, Neil.

BEVERLY SCHUPFER WRITES MOST INTERESTING LETTER

Beverly Schupfer, an Exchange student attending the University at Graz, Austria, has written another of her interesting series of letters to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schupfer, and they have kindly allowed us use of it. The letter, dated Vienna, Austria, April 17, follows:

Dear Mom and Daddy:

At last I'm back in Vienna and settled again after the trip to Greece. On planning our trip to Greece we discovered that there is a Yugoslavian consulate in Klagenfurt (southern Austria) and as that was directly on the route, we got our visas there in ten minutes, while in Vienna it would have taken four or five days. But the stay in Klagenfurt wasn't very pleasant because we arrived in a blinding blizzard and could do no sight-seeing at all. That was rather disappointing because that part of Austria is supposed to be very beautiful and is a famous resort area in the summer. Perhaps you have heard or read of the Worthersee, which is a warm lake near Klagenfurt.

As soon as we had the visas we headed south for Trieste, to catch the Simplon Orient Express, the big train that goes to Greece and Turkey. We had expected Trieste to be warm because it is right on the Adriatic, but it was bitter cold and so windy that we didn't enjoy sight-seeing there, either. It turned out, too, that the train was not as nice as we expected. We arrived in Belgrade about 8:00 o'clock in the morning in a down-pour of rain. We had to wait two hours there for the train to leave again. We found a car that had upholstered seats, but it was terribly old and of course, crowded with peasants. The Yugoslavian people that we met were all very friendly to us, and no one guessed that we were Americans. We were probably the first Americans they had ever seen on those cars. Quite a few of the Yugoslavians speak German, because the northern part of the country used to belong to Austria, before 1918. There seems to be quite a friendly feeling toward America because of the help we gave them when they had bad droughts and poor harvests a few years ago. I believe we gave them wheat. I'll tell you more about the situation in Yugoslavia later in the letter. It was a long trip to Thessalonika, but the weather was wonderful and the country-side all green, with purple and yellow wild flowers all over. That was Palm Sunday.

From Thessalonika to Athens (about 11 hours) we were on the most beautiful train I've seen in Europe, with comfortable leather seats, huge windows, and they served us a good, but rather expensive meal right at our seats. It was such a perfect day and the country-side in Greece was so green and spring-like. For a while we followed the coast of the Aegean Sea and then later we passed snow-capped Mt. Olympus, the home of the Greek Gods. The landscape in Greece is quite strange — all mountains and broad plains, with no intermediate slopes or hills. A range of mountains rises up stark out of a plain that stretches almost as far as one can see.

We arrived in Athens about 11:00 p. m. and the next day went up on the Acropolis, the big hill in the center of Athens where the Parthenon and the Greek Temples stand. It was very impressive and really a thrill to see it in real life. The Parthenon is truly a beautiful building, although in pretty bad shape now. When the Turks were sacking Europe in the 17th century they stored their munitions in it and it was blown up, and now the roof is gone and it looks quite battered. Just think, if that hadn't happened, it would be standing just like it was when the Greeks used it for a temple 2,500 years ago.

One day we took a trip to Corinth. We got off the bus at New Corinth and walked the seven kilometers to the old city. There are the ruins of the Corinth that St. Paul visited and to which he wrote his letters in the New Testament. Of course, one can't see much, and has to do a lot of filling in with his imagination, but we could tell where the village well was, and the market place and the foundations of the houses. The old Greek cities must have been very beautiful — streets were stone, so not dusty, and many monuments and buildings covered with gleaming white marble. Of course that has been taken away long ago, but pieces of it are lying around, so one can see how white it was.

Another day we took the subway to Piraeus, the seaport very close to Athens. One of the American Export Lines ships was in the harbor — the Exter, I believe.

I was surprised to find conditions as well as they were in Greece. After the war ended, they were so torn for several years by a civil war with the Communist guerrillas, and the country has only had peace for two years. I had expected everything to be very poor, but the people on the streets were well dressed, everyone looked well fed, and I don't think the standard of living in Athens is any lower than it is here in Austria, and perhaps even higher.

We were terribly disappointed not to be able to go to the island of Crete, because we had counted on that so much, but the money went too quickly in Athens. It cost us between $4.00 and $5.00 per day to live there, and that is quite expensive, considering that we lived as cheaply

PARADE DAY EVENTS

Cook, Irvin McGeachy, Jack Kuykendall, Ward Helton and probably some others whose names we have failed to learn.

Fail To Observe Courtesy

Following the parade members of the Lapwai V. F. W. Post mentioned that in a number of cases male spectators along the line of march failed to bare their heads as the colors passed by.

Proper protocol requires baring the head and holding the hat or cap in the right hand, over the heart.

Thanks Go To Everyone

The Kendrick Commercial Club extends to all who took part in or had entries in the Parade on Parade Day a vote of thanks. Also, to those coming from miles away to help make the day a success, do sincere thanks go. On this score we might mention particularly The '49'ers of Spalding; the Lapwai V. F. W. post; Miss Patti Murphy of Lapwai; Miss Phyllis Ralston of Nezperce; the Lewiston-Clarkston Motorcycle Club; the Lewiston Racing Association; and many Lewiston places of business, who had commercial entries — not to mention all from this area.

Again, to those taking part, and to those "engineering," go a vote of Thanks from the Club.

Breakfast And Hill Day

Last Friday, designated as "Hill Day" by school tradition, something new was added when the Juniors and Seniors enjoyed an outdoor breakfast in the city park before going on to their "day's work" or cleaning, painting and re-arranging the lumber that forms the big K. H. S. and the numeral on the hillside east of town.

Jeeps and trucks were used to transport the students to a distance reasonably close to the big letters. At the close of the day's labors a picnic lunch was enjoyed by all.

WHAT JULIAETTA FRIENDS ARE DOING THESE DAYS

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Knight and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Knight and son spent Sunday at the Claude Newbill home in Nezperce.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Hazeltine and family were dinner guests Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McMillan of Myrtle.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Hazeltine and family were Lewiston visitors on Friday.

CAVENDISH ITEMETTES

May 19 — The 4-H Clubs with Mrs. Grace Yenni as leader, conducted church services following Sunday School at the Cavendish church Sunday morning. They had as their speaker Mrs. Edward Knight of Orofino. The services were very well attended and we hope we can have as many parents and children out every Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Choate drove to Spokane Sunday to visit with their new granddaughter. Mr. and Mrs. Vernon are the proud parents of a baby girl, born at Spokane on Friday evening, May 16. Mother and baby are reported as getting along fine.

Among those attending the Baccalaureate Services at Orofino, Sunday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Brown and daughter, Mrs. Arlene Marsh, Dorothy Choate, and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Blackburn and family. The graduates from this community and Teakean are: Viola Brown, Dale Brock and Mick Blackburn.

Mrs. Emma Tarry had the misfortune of falling early Sunday morning, at her home, but according to reports, she sustained no severe injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Blackburn were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Marvin.

Town Team Defeats Troy
Kendrick walloped two Troy pitchers for 13 hits to win a 12-6 Parade day baseball game here Saturday.

Kendrick got to Ed. Williams early to score three runs in the first inning. Werner Brammer hit a double with the bases loaded in the third frame to help in the three-run out-break.

Herb Millard was the outstanding hitter of the afternoon, getting four singles in five trips to the plate for Kendrick. Asplund paced the nine-hit Troy attack with three for six.

Jack Shepherd struck out seven Troy batters in six innings. Relief pitcher A. Medalin whiffed four in three innings.

Batteries: Troy, Powell and Powell and Parkins. Kendrick, Shepherd, Medalin and D. Millard.

W. S. C. S. Circle
The W. S. C. S. Circle will meet Thursday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in the home of Mrs. A. O. Kanikkeberg, with Mrs. D. A. Christensen as co-hostess.

A cordial invitation is extended to members and friends.

Asks That Bills Be Sent In
The office at Kendrick High school asks that anyone having bills against any of the school organizations or classes to please present them immediately, in order that all may be paid as soon as possible.

MORE SCHUPFER LETTER

as we possibly could, and some days only ate once.

We boarded the train again on Saturday morning for the long ride home.

The peasants in Yugoslavia are very, very poor, and just as dirty. You know how picturesque and colorful peasants look in posters trying to lure tourists to the different countries? Well, we have decided that those pictures are done with models, because peasants in most countries don't look at all like that. True, in Yugoslavia they wore colorful native costumes, but they were so ragged and filthy dirty that you could hardly imagine how they should look. And the people were barefoot on the train. Some of the women had fairly long white embroidered skirts with huge, heavy aprons, something like this heavy needlework on canvas. And of course they all had on a babushka. The men wear trousers, wide at the top and tight fitting from just above the knee on down. Most of them have rags or cloths tied onto their feet with bands or strings. And they wear furry hats that come to a point on top. The nearest thing to compare with it is Denny Dimwit's hat, without a brim.

We had no real Easter, because it is celebrated a week later in Yugoslavia, except in the north, and then I don't think that it has as much significance as ours. A large percentage of the people in Yugoslavia, especially in the central part (Serbia) are Moslem (Mohammadan) because the country was under the Turks for a long time. Because of this Moslem influence, the conditions among the peasants are kept so low, because of their belief that the more miserably they live here on earth the greater their reward in heaven.

To break the trip home, we stopped for 24 hours in Belgrade, the capitol city. We got in about 8:30 in the evening, but I have never seen such a dark city. There were little tiny streetlights quite a distance apart and hardly giving out enough light to reach the ground, and absolutely no neon signs of any kind.

The next day we walked around the city to see what things look like in a Communist capitol, and they certainly looked bleak. The country has had a hard time recovering from the war and from the break they made with Russia several years ago. The war was very hard on them and the country is so undeveloped that they will have a long way to go to be in any measure self-supporting.

In the afternoon we went to their big park overlooking the confluence of the two big rivers, the Sava and the Danube. While we were looking down we saw a number of tugboats pulling barges simply loaded with people. We didn't know what it could be for, and couldn't ask anyone. But when we were ready to go back to the hotel, at 6:00 o'clock and get our things out, we ran into a terrific mob of people and yelling like a mob does, and we didn't have any idea what it might be about, because we couldn't read the signs. It was the people on the barges, plus several thousand more from the city, and every street that we took to go to the hotel was jammed and we had to go way around. Several times we nearly got caught in the mob, and were holding our breaths hoping that they weren't mad at the Americans for something. At last we made it through, got our bags out and went to Putnik, the Yugoslavian tourist office to ask what was going on.

The lady told us it was a demonstration about Trieste. You no doubt have been following the Trieste problem in the newspapers. So far it has been a free city, but they want to end the occupation and don't know whether to give the city to Italy (85 percent of the people are Italians) or to Yugoslavia, who has a claim to it because they liberated it in the last war, and also it is really a part of the Yugoslavian-Dalmatian territory. There is a big discussion about it now on the United Nations. Since I have been home I heard that there were demonstrations in Trieste and Rome the same day. The people of Trieste (most of them) want to belong to Italy. When we were in Trieste we saw little leaflets and stickers on walls expressing their sentiments. It is really quite a problem and will be hard to settle. Both countries have legitimate claims. Anyway, Tito spoke to the mob when we were there (we heard later) but we rather stayed on the outside of things. We went into a restaurant to eat and someone was speaking over the radio in very heated and emotional tones and that may have been Tito's speech broadcast, but we don't know. Anyway, it certainly was exciting.

The trip from Belgrade home was uneventful, but the weather had suddenly turned very warm. I got home about 8:30 on Tuesday evening.

It is getting late and the other people here in the apartment are going to bed, so had better stop typing so as not to disturb anyone.

Lots of love to everyone — Beverly Anne.

New Homes At Juliaetta

Excavation for the basement of the new home for Mr. and Mrs. Ira Havens was begun last week on the lot adjoining the new Carl Koopp home.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Halliday are in the process of closing a deal to sell their home to Mr. and Mrs. Brant of Ohio. The Hallidays plan to build as soon as the Havens home is finished.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Miller are also building a new home. Excavation for the basement was started last week.

New Anti-Epileptic Drug
A new anti-epileptic compound was described this week before the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology, now in its annual meeting at New York. Dr. Ben King Harned of Lederle laboratories, where the new drug was developed, read the paper.

According to the report, the new drug has shown best results against the grand mal, or grand seizure, type of epilepsy. This drug is generally referred to as "Hibicon."

Clinical tests at a number of hospitals and research centers show that the drug, which is administered orally, is well tolerated, and that it is effective in cases where other established drugs have failed.

Many Arrests During March
Idaho conservation officers reported 54 arrests during March, the fish and game department announced this week.

The department said the largest fines were assessed against two men convicted of unlawful possession of deer meat in Bonner county. Each was fined $250.00.

Illegal possession of Chinese pheasants resulted in a $200 fine levied by a Bingham county court.

Boundary county led all the rest with 21 of the cases reported. Spearfishing, fishing in closed waters and fishing without a license, accounted for the upsurge in the Bonners Ferry region, the department said.

A Long, Long Way!
The genial man seated at the table next to ours at a Boston restaurant thanked the waiter for his courteous service and added that he wouldn't be in again for some time.

"You aren't a Bostonian, sir?"

"No, I live in Bangkok, Siam."

"Indeed, sir?" said the waiter, suitably impressed, then continued with some satisfaction, "we get a lot of out-of-town customers, some from quite a distance." He dropped his voice confidentially, "You see that man over there, sir? He's from Wheeling, West Virginia." — Reader's Digest.

Water Supply Vital In Farm Fire Control

Annual Damage Amounts To Over $100 Million

Recently a New Jersey farmer's barn was set afire by lightning, and despite the efforts of three fire departments from nearby villages, the barn was a complete loss.

Two factors combined to defeat the firemen. There was a delay in notifying the fire department because the fire wasn't immediately noticed. There wasn't a good supply of water near the barn from which the pumps could draw.

These conditions are common to most properties in rural or small town areas. If rural residents can find means to correct them, they will go a long way toward reducing the large number of "total losses" that occur on farm properties, causing damage amounting to $100,000,000 a year and taking the lives of 3,500 farm residents.

No water. There is not much these firemen could do to save the barn without an adequate water supply.

In spite of efforts on the part of county agents, farm groups, insurance men, and volunteer fire departments to encourage the building of farm ponds, there still are thousands of farms in all parts of the country with inadequate water supplies.

The easiest way to provide adequate water is to dam a brook, or deepen an existing marsh or water hole near the barn. Or a farmer may be able to bulldoze a suitable pond near his buildings. For proper drainage, the pond should be laid out with surveying instruments.

'Sound of Corn Growing' Recorded by Professor

Probably every farmer in the United States at one time or another has heard the old saw "it's so hot you can almost hear the corn growing." Now, seven men, including three University of Wisconsin experts, have joined the ranks of believers.

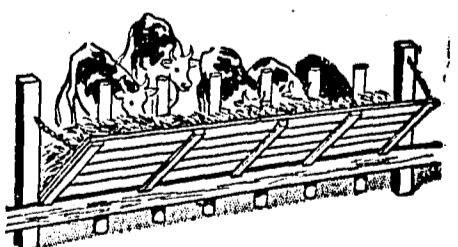

They have a tape recording of what they describe as corn growing. Herbert Jacobs, telegraph and farm news editor of the Madison Capital Times, thought up the idea. With the aid of Wisconsin U. experts the experiment was conducted in a 100-acre stand of university raised corn.

Recording equipment was carried 500 feet into the field. Microphones were carried deep into the corn rows. There was no wind or other noises to complicate the recording, the experimenter reported.

When the experiment was over, and the recording played, Verner E. Suomi, associate professor of meteorology at the school, said, "When background noises subsided, you could hear that corn growing."

Farm experts report corn makes 80 per cent of its growth during night-time and will grow as much as two to five inches in one night.

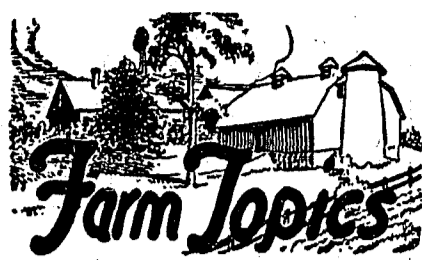

Hinged Fence

Here is an idea a number of midwest farmers might use in their feed lots. Hinged at the bottom and held in position by chains, a section of fence is lowered to form a manger. It can be raised when not in use to become again part of the fence. Posts should be set along the length of the manger as illustrated.

Farm Land Prices Up Sharply in Nebraska

Farm land dollar values in Nebraska have increased 124 per cent since 1939, according to figures of the bureau of agricultural economics. In the west north central region of the country, of which Nebraska is a part, prices have increased 3 per cent during the four months ending in July. This despite the usual seasonal reduction in farm real estate activity and a downturn in farm products.

Fertilizing Important In Balanced Farm Plan

Lime, Fertilizer Pays Off in High Hay Yield

Farmers in every part of the nation are realizing more and more the importance of well-balanced fertilizing programs to build production and soil structure.

Ben Vossen, who farms near Watkins, Minn., believes his investments in lime and fertilizer have done more for his farm than anything in his career.

The results of one of his investments are shown in the above picture. At the right is a run-down field of bluegrass overgrown with buck grass. At the left is a field of oats after the buck grass was sprayed to kill it, grubbed and plowed under.

Farmer Vossen inspects his field of oats. At the right is the field of bluegrass overgrown with buck grass. Fertilizing has turned the oat field into a high producer.

Vossen limed and fertilized the oat field with plant food carrying nitrogen, phosphate and potash before he seeded it. He keeps the field in oats two years, then seeds down to an alfalfa crop. He takes hay and pasture off as long as the stand is productive. He helps lengthen its life by top-dressing regularly with manure.

The use of lime and fertilizer pays off in much bigger hay yields. Vossen reports. He harvested eight tons of hay on two acres that used to produce about one-half ton of timothy.

Total Feed Supply Will Be Higher Than Last Year

With the approach of the 1951-52 feeding season, livestock feeders will be interested to know that the expected total supply of feed grains and concentrates will be greater than last year, according to the bureau of agricultural economics.

The available supply of feed will permit livestock to be fed at about the same rate per unit as last season. The number of animals to be fed, however, is also expected to be greater. An estimated 174 million animals will be on hand as compared with last year's 168-million.

A large acreage and a fair carry-over is expected to provide a larger corn supply. About 4 billion bushels is expected to be available for the 1951-52 season.

The total supply of corn, oats, grain sorghums, and barley for the coming season is estimated to be 127.1 million tons. This compares with last season's total of 125 million tons of grain.

The department reported total crop production may be the second highest in history in 1951.

Tractor Drawbar

A heavy piece of angle iron bolted to the rear of a tractor and extending well beyond the wheels makes harrowing easier fastening the harrow with a long chain hitch, especially when making turns at ends of the field. Bolted to the drawbar it can be removed when not in use.

Iowa Tests Show Value Of Alfalfa for Swine

Everyone knows that alfalfa pasture is good for hogs. But just how good? The Iowa experiment station thought that one way to find out would be to feed one batch of hogs on dry lot; and another on alfalfa.

They found that the biggest value in alfalfa comes from a saving in high-cost protein and mineral supplement. Hogs gained faster on alfalfa.

Some Shovel

Ever see a shovel which weighs 4,000,000 pounds — as much as a destroyer?

Think twice before you say "there ain't no such animal." For this shovel, the largest in the world, exists. It is working right now for one of the soft coal companies.

This gargantuan of shovels takes, in one bite, a chunk of earth the size of a room. It is 130 feet high and can dump its load 240 feet away. Eight big motors, the largest of 1,500 horsepower, are needed to operate it.

The shovel, with two companions which are almost as large, will peel 70 to 80 feet of overlying earth and limestone off a coal seam. And they do it fast — as a rate that permits production of 250,000 tons of coal a month. As the coal is mined out, the churned-up land is reclaimed by planting trees and grasses and making lakes for recreational purposes.

The shovel's principal importance is that it is a symbol of a quiet revolution that has been going on for many years in the coal industry. Step by step — at a tremendous cost, the transition has been made from human muscle to mechanical muscle to get the coal out of the ground, cleaned, sorted, loaded and transported. Huge and complex machines, capable of tremendous performance, have supplemented the strong back and the pick. That is one reason why America leads the world in coal production, and why American miners get far higher wages and far more benefits than the miners abroad. Our free, competitive coal industry meets every domestic demand — and is supplying much of the rest of the world with coal in addition.

New Weed Killer Tested

How 2,4-D, the new weed killer, can break the grip of crowfoot on several hundred thousand acres of wheat land in north-central Idaho is reported in the third progress report of the special research program at the University of Idaho.

Because of the seriousness of this weed, which made winter wheat production unprofitable in some sections, the university tried various weed killers on over 200 test plots near Grangeville.

Lambert C. Erickson, associate agronomist in charge of the research, reports that when the 2,4-D was applied to crowfoot in Orford winter wheat the kill averaged 98 percent. With the weed competition removed the wheat averaged six bushels more an acre than that which had not received the chemical spray.

"Farmers in the productive winter wheat area of north-central Idaho have for several years suffered inestimable losses in wheat yields, undue hardships and costs in harvesting and other farm operations because of one weed — crowfoot — which solidly infests many farms," Erickson relates.

The Grangeville tests indicate that under their conditions this weed can be eliminated at a cost of about $5 an acre. Gross returns from the treatment averaged $9 an acre, leaving, in addition to elimination of the pest, a net profit of around $4.00 per acre.

Idaho Shows Considerable Growth

The Census Bureau reports that Idaho's 1950 population of 588,637 was 39 times as large as it was in 1870, the first year in which the Territory was enumerated separately in a federal census. The 1870 population was 14,999.

HOW JUDITH NASH LOST 27 lbs. WITH AMAZING NEW APPETITE REDUCER PLAN

Ann Delafield, Famous Beauty Consultant, Reveals Dramatic Story of Her Easy, Natural Way to Lose Weight

"Judith Nash had tried reducing many, many times in her life but was never really successful," says Ann Delafield, renowned beauty authority.

"Then she tried the Ann Delafield Appetite Reducing Plan and discovered the wonderful secret of the Appetite Reducer. In an amazingly short time she slimmed down from 161 to a trim 134."

IT'S EASY—IT'S FUN

The story of Judith Nash can be your story, too. Now... a reducing plan is offered to you based on scientific laboratory research, and implemented by a vitamin protective capsule. If you are one of the thousands of women and men who have an overweight problem... the Ann Delafield Appetite Reducing Plan was designed to help you find slender beauty. It is the easiest way in the world to reduce because it's fun.

YOU CAN EAT YOUR CAKE AND HAVE "IT" TOO

If your figure isn't as perfect as you would like to have it... don't be discouraged. Perhaps you are one of the large army of women who have carried extra pounds for years... who have tried weight-reducing plans that have brought nothing but tears... who have punished their bodies with starvation diets. Now, at last, here's a scientific way to keep the slender beauty that's rightfully yours.

Your answer is the Ann Delafield Reducing Plan... an easy way to reduce that doesn't take the fun out of life. During Miss Delafield's forty years of experience in helping hundreds of thousands of women to lose weight, she has learned a great deal about this common problem. Most of her pupils have been recommended by personal physicians.

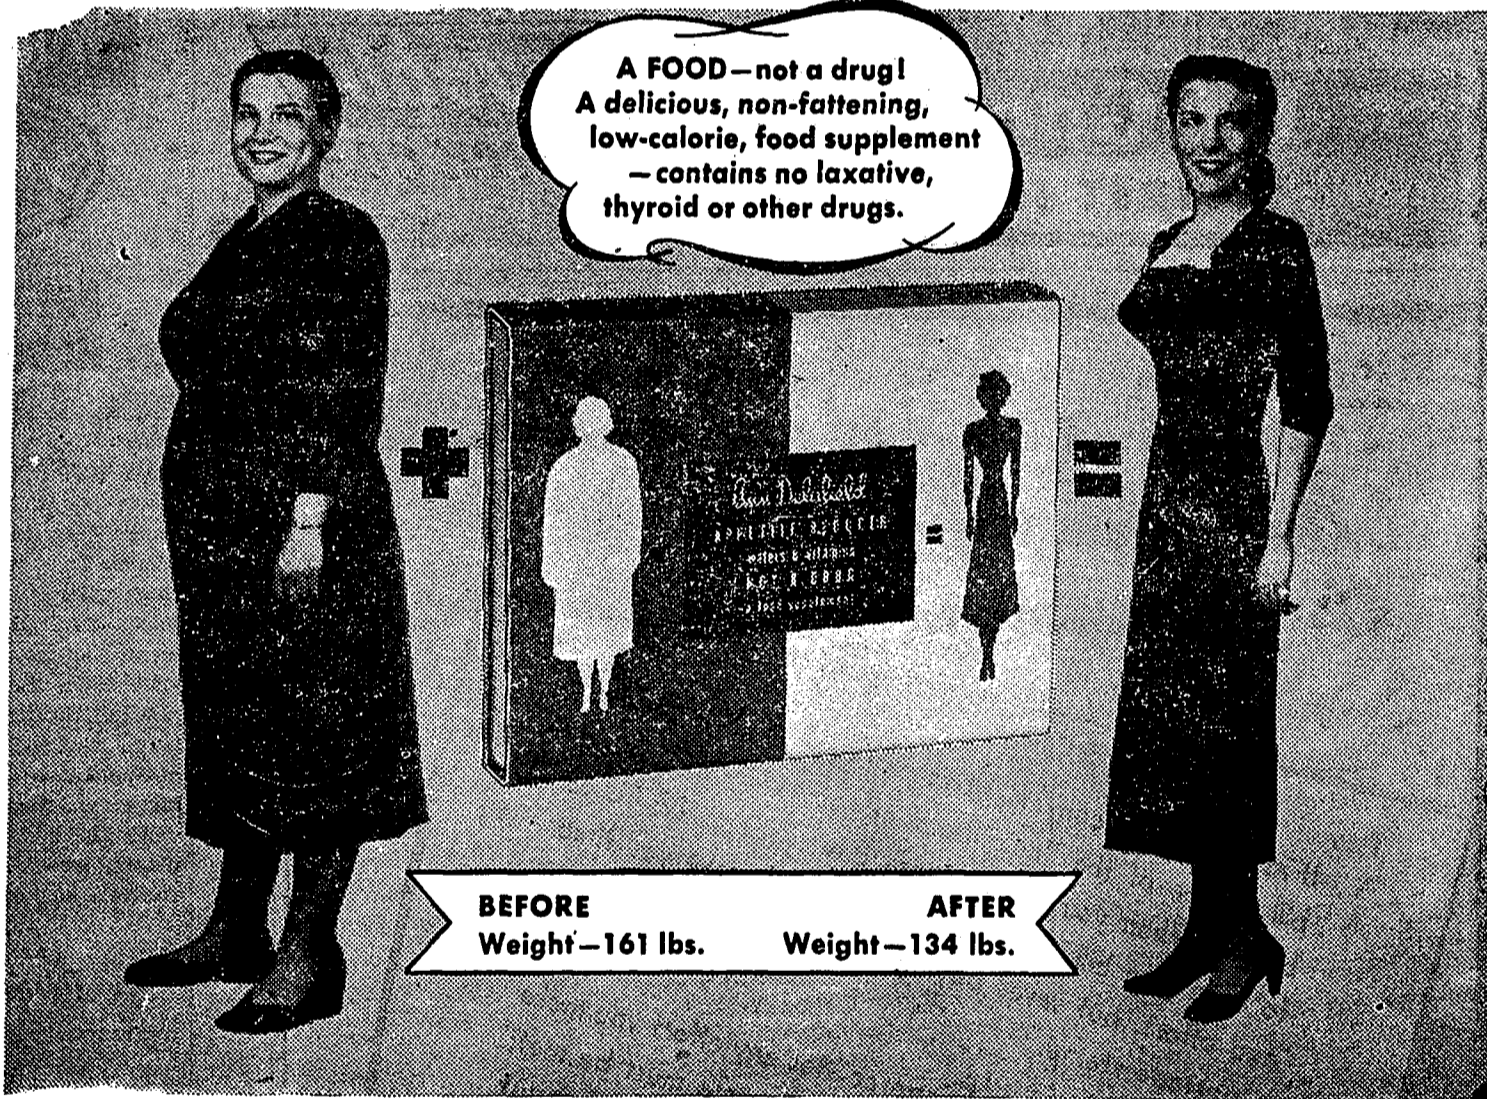

YOU DON'T COUNT CALORIES

All this work is done for you in the Ann Delafield Reducing Plan with generous, appetizing yet low-calorie menus. The secret of the amazing success of Miss Delafield's Plan is a scientifically produced...and delicious...wafer called the Ann Delafield Appetite Reducer. It's the greatest blessing a hungry person ever had! When you reach that time of day when you feel you need a snack for energy... you simply take the Appetite Reducer wafer. This wafer was conceived after years of practical experience and endless hours of consultation with physicians and dieticians.

In addition, your diet is supplemented by Ann Delafield Vitamin Capsules...carefully prepared by expert chemists to conform to the standards set down by the Food and Nutrition Board of the National Research Council.

DON'T PUT IT OFF ANY LONGER

If your doctor has told you that your excess weight is not due to a glandular disturbance or organic causes, start on your Ann Delafield Reducing Plan today. The complete package... containing the book, a 30-day supply of your Ann Delafield Appetite Reducer Wafers and Vitamins... costs just $6.95; repeat package just $5.95.

Judith Nash weighed 161 pounds and had tried again and again to lose the extra pounds that were making her self-conscious and unhappy. Then she tried the Ann Delafield Appetite Reducing Plan and wrote this to the famous beauty authority...

"Dear Miss Delafield... with the aid of your wonderful

Appetite Reducer I lost 27 pounds and never felt better in all my life. My doctor found my health perfect and is greatly enthused about your particular method of reducing. The Ann Delafield Appetite Reducer not only kept me from feeling hungry, but gave me more vital energy than I could get in any other way."

Judith Nash, New York *

*Address on request from Rexall, Los Angeles.

What you get with the Ann Delafield Reducing Plan:

1. A 116-page book giving you Ann Delafield's new, easy Appetite Reducing Plan, including suggested menus and vital beauty tips.
2. A 30-day supply of Ann Delafield Appetite Reducer... not a drug but a delicious, non-fattening, scientifically produced supplementary food that includes low calorie Skim Milk Powder and Soy Bean Flour.
3. A 30-day supply of the Ann Delafield Vitamin Capsules... scientifically prepared according to the Recommended Dietary Allowances, Food and Nutrition Board, National Research Council in 1948 for women on a 2000 calorie or less reducing diet, except for the omission of Thiamine, which has a tendency to increase your appetite.

Chile Produces Some Of World's Best Wool
Three-Fourths of Crop Is Shipped to U. S.

The small American farmer has learned from experience just how profitable a small flock of sheep can be to his general farm program. And in the western part of the country great flocks are maintained by producers.

One of the greatest producers of wool, now selling at a record price, is Chile. The industry is valued at $170,000,000 and employs more than 10,000 people.

Chile's first sheep were brought from Spain by the Spanish conqueror Pedro de Valdivia over 400 years ago. In 1877, 300 head were brought to the Punta Arenas area from the Falkland Islands.

The huge English Marsh Romney will produce 12 kilos of long staple wool, or 30 pounds. This type wool is often called the best in the world.

The industry specializes in the famous English Marsh Romney sheep which produces, according to many experts, the finest long staple wool in the world. Today, Chile has a total sheep population close to 7,000,000 head.

Three quarters of the nation's wool crop - about 15,000 metric tons - goes to the United States. England gets the remainder.

Farm Worker Crop Output Triples in Fifty Years

Fifty years ago a farm worker produced enough food for himself and five other persons. Today the crops raised by a single worker are sufficient for 15 persons.

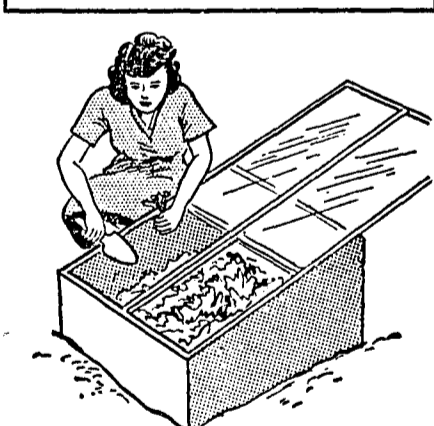

Although machinery has had much to do with this spectacular productivity record, a major factor is the expanded use of fertilizers. The nation's farms last year consumed 18,346,132 tons of soil food—six times as much as in 1901—at a cost of $744,000,000.

At the turn of the century 265 million acres of crop land, tilled by 13 million farm workers, were needed to supply the crops required by a population of 76 million. Now 10 million workers produce from 345 million acres of land the food required by twice as many Americans, as well as thousands of persons in other countries.

Agricultural authorities say that the use of fertilizer is responsible for roughly one-fourth of the volume of all crops.

The use of fertilizer is expected to continue upward for an indefinite period.

Seed Beds

It is a long time from planting seed beds, but gardeners and farmers might spend some of their spare time during the winter months making one. Seed beds with plastic covers are hailproof, shatter-proof and light in weight. A plastic-coated wire mesh, weighing less than glass, passes on to the plants most of the sun's ultraviolet and infrared rays. This material is available at most farm equipment dealers and hardware stores.

Poultry and Egg Eating Increases, Experts Say

Poultry experts report the American family is consuming more poultry and eggs and predicts the increase will continue during the rest of 1951. Forecasts indicate the average American will have eaten 30 pounds of chicken by the end of 1951, 10 per cent more than last year; 406 eggs, slightly more than in 1950; and about five pounds of turkey meat, approximately the same as last year.

Logging Operations Lag
Logging operations in this area have been at something of a standstill the past three weeks, as the heavy rains have kept road work and hauling at a minimum. Anywhere off a gravelled road is described as "too soft or too slick."
Local mills, however, have been able to continue operating by drawing on reserves, and using what logs may come in.

Clyde Alexander Passes
Mr. and Mrs. Louis Alexander received word Monday of the death of his brother, Clyde Alexander of Weiser, Idaho. Mr. Alexander will be remembered here by many as he grew to manhood at the family farm on Gold Hill.

Potlatch Chief Sez

Published by the Kendrick Creamery

HELLO, THERE, FOLKS —

To Juliaetta Residents:
Now we are delivering that fine pasteurized "Potlatch Chief" band milk to you in Juliaetta. It is available in regular pasteurized or in homogenized — and a call to us or a word to our driver will bring it to you. Remember, the name "Potlatch Chief" is your guarantee of purity and quality.
Also remember: All Potlatch Chief Dairy Products are available at Juliaetta. Butter, cheese, ice cream, cream, etc. Always ask for them by name.

Old Timer: "My father was quite a politician in his day."
Politician: "Really? What did he run for?"
Old Timer: "The state line."

Yes, fresh berry and vegetable time is just around the corner. If you are not now using a locker box and freezing those items, come in and let us show you our locker boxes and freeze containers. You can save many hours of labor and expense, too. We've a box to fit every purse and need.

Tavernkeeper: "Quick! There's been a robbery! Get a policeman!"
Teamster: "Don't get excited. I'll just park my truck here and there'll be one along in a moment!"

You just can't beat ice cream for dessert, for that between-meals snack, or for just good eating pleasure. But be sure that it's "Potlatch Chief" Ice Cream. You will find all the popular flavors here, plus "specials." Take home at least a quart — but a gallon would be better, so you always have some on hand.

Mrs. Glen Wegner entertained at a quilting bee Thursday. Those present were Mrs. Ted Weyen, Mrs. Theo Meske, Mrs. Fred Newman, Miss Helen Mielke and Mrs. Ed. Mielke.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wilken were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wilken Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Draper and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Whiting visited at Kooskia and Stites Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Koepf and family visited in the Glen Wegner home Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sinclair of Moses Lake were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Kruger, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Schwarz and daughter JoAnn and Mr. and Mrs. Werner Brammer and daughter Rhonda Sue, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wegner and family Wednesday evening.

Bud Gephart, Otto and Roy Silflow and James Whiting were among those who fished at Bayview, Sunday. They had very good luck.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Niederkleine and Mrs. August Seiffert of Ritzville, visited in the Theo Meske home over Sunday. Mrs. Seiffert remained for a short visit with her daughter, Mrs. Meske and family.

Miss Elizabeth Emmetman, Robert Emmetman and Irving Carlson, all students at W. S. C., visited in the Otto Silflow and James Whiting home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wegner entertained at dinner Friday evening honoring their daughter Jillian's sixth birthday anniversary. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Sullivan and daughter JoAnn and Linda of Lenore; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Fry of Kendrick; Rev. and Mrs. Theo Meske, Teddy, Duane and Mary.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Kruger were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Blankenship and family, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Koepf and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brammer and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wilken fished and picnicked at the Selway Falls, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Blankenship and family visited in the Emil Silflow home Tuesday evening.

LINDEN ITEMS

Mrs. Al Pederson arrived home on Saturday from Spokane after two weeks of medical treatment. She is much improved but may need to return later for further treatment.

On Tuesday evening of last week Mrs. Chas. Keeler attended the all-high school play at the Kendrick gym, in which her grandson, Donald, played a leading role.

This ridge was largely represented in Kendrick for Parade Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Grim and son Bob called at the Erlwine home Friday evening.

Friday (a week ago) Mr. and Mrs. George Lyons and children motored to Spokane to spend the week-end visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Allen were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Kelberg of Burnt ridge. In the afternoon they called on Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Anderson, also stopping for a brief visit with Mrs. John Darby on the way home.

Mrs. Lilly Wilson assisted Mrs. Bill Zimmerman with her "papering project" on Wednesday.

Mrs. Arlie Allen and Mrs. Charles Keeler were Wednesday callers in the Zimmerman home.

The Lyons brothers and Al Pederson helped Arlie Allen with his hay chopping on Monday.

Mrs. Hazel West and children and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Lockwood and daughter from Lewiston spent Sunday with the Gil Erlwine family.

Eight-year-old Colin got into the family car to go home, with a bantam chicken in his arms and eight small frogs in his pockets. His mother ordered the frogs out, telling him they had no place to keep frogs. Colin answered her with: "I've already thought it out! I'm going to keep them in the sink."

Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Armitage and children were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cleon McAlister and family. Mr. and Mrs. Al Pederson were afternoon callers.

Homemakers Club Postponed
The Evergreen Friendship Club (Homemakers) has postponed their meeting, scheduled to be held at the home of Mrs. Ben Westendahl Wednesday of this week) to Wednesday, May 28.

This was done due to school activities and other events scheduled for the same date.
