COMMERCIAL CLUB MEETING VERY WELL ATTENDED

Sixteen interested business men and farmer friends were present for the regular Commercial Club meeting Wednesday evening of last week, following the 6:30 dinner served at Burt's Confectionery.

Following the reading and approval of the Minutes of the previous meeting bills were allowed for Parade Day, all agreeing that it was money well spent, as attendance was very good and the parade excellent.

Reporting for the Highway committee Tom Long reported that work on the Little Bear ridge grade was completed with the exception of some minor work of smoothing. He added that Walter Sparber and a helper were now drilling and shooting a "ditch line" in the rock on the old Juliaetta grade below the Andy Cox home.

Reporting for Education committee Jasper Nutting stated that school had ended May 20, and that final records and paper work was now completed. He said that the teacher situation for the coming term "looked very good" with few, if any, changes in staff indicated. A little maintenance work will be done on the buildings this summer, but that on the whole they were in top shape. The financial budget for the coming year will be about the same, he said in conclusion.

W. L. McCreary, for the Publicity committee, said that advertising results for Parade Day had proven quite satisfactory, as attested by the crowd. He added that publicity on the opening of the Area Living War Memorial Swim Pool, June 15, was now being printed, and weather permitting, good crowds of youngsters were hoped for.

On Agriculture G. F. Brocke, Sr., said that crops of all kinds were almost all in the ground, and that the promise of grass and clover yields were never better, the warm, damp weather being particularly excellent for these, as well as for spring grains of all kinds.

For the Civic Improvement committee A. O. Kanikkeberg announced the completion of the new bleacher seats at Armitage Field in Kendrick. He added that they were quite comfortable, and capable of seating 120. He believed that these seats, with parked cars, would prove ample to care for the crowds.

Tom Keene, reporting for the Merchants Committee, which had charge of the Parade Day activities, stated the day had proven highly satisfactory, attendance being the largest on record. He announced that no Fourth of July celebration would be held, as the Fourth came on Friday, and most residents would take advantage of the long week-end for fishing and vacation trips.

Mr. Keene went on to say that the Clarkston Chamber of Commerce had asked the Kendrick Club to enter a float in their Golden Jubilee celebration, July 3, 4 and 5. He added that he had received a request from the Motorcycle club for a picture of their participation in the Kendrick Parade, but to date had been unable to locate one. If anyone has such a picture, please contact Mr. Keene.

Tom then led a round-table discussion of Parade Day. He said in his opinion too many Kendrick business firms failed to have entries, and suggested that the "petition and pledge" plan be used about town before reaching a decision on whether or not to hold such an event another year. He also suggested that an animal section be added if another Parade Day is held.

The Club then extended to Mr. Keene and to all the Parade Day helpers a vote of thanks for their services.

Dee Miller, for the Sports Committee, stated that the hole was dug for the post installation for the basketball throw in the city park — but no post had yet made its appearance. Adding to Mr. Miller's report Walter Brocke said odd rock was ready to lay for the playing area.

The Fish and Game report was made by G. F. Brocke, Sr., who said that fishing was good in some areas, poor in others. It was particularly good at Lake Pend Oreille. He added that indications were for a large hatch of Chinese pheasants and hunting should be good this fall unless too many rains kill the little birds.

Dr. D. A. Christensen reported for the Scout committee, saying that in the recent Court of Honor at Lewiston, Kendrick had won three major awards, for "Good Scouting," Increased Attendance and Appearance, and that with the help of fathers, mothers and friends they should be able to win enough to retain permanent possession of the trophies.

Returning to the matter of an entry in the Clarkston festival, a brief discussion was held, and A. O. Kanikkeberg, president, appointed Dr. D. A. Christensen as a committee of one (to select help as he chose) and prepare an entry for this event.

This meeting being the final one of the Club year, the report of the Nominating committee was read by G. F. Brocke, Sr., and the following unanimously chosen as directors: Roy Glenn, Gerald Ingic, Walter Brocke, Dr. D. A. Christensen and A. O. Kanikkeberg.

Prep Cage Stars Announced

Boise — The squads which will play in the annual all-star Idaho high school basketball games next August were announced last week. The teams will play at Boise on August 14, and at Jerome August 15.

The "West" team includes Stanley Smith, Kendrick.

Installing New Pump

Work of installing Kendrick's new booster pump in the new big 10-inch bore, 429-foot deep city well were begun Tuesday afternoon of this week, the cool damp weather proving just right for this type of work — as lawns did not need watering, the swimming pool is full, and the springs will prove adequate for other needs.

This new booster pump will step up the output of water from the well to about 100 gallons per minute — and should, with the help of the springs, enable everyone to use all the water they want at any time — and provide a margin of safety for fire fighting as well.

Only the immediate family and a few very close friends were present. A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the home of Rev. and Mrs. David Harris 528 Monroe, Clarkston, Wash.

The happy young couple will make their home in Kendrick.

Pool Opens Day Late

A reluctant sun finally found its way through the clouds, to shine Tuesday about noon, which made possible the opening of the Area Living War Memorial Swimming Pool at Kendrick. The opening had been scheduled for Sunday, but cloudy skies and intermittent rain prevented this, much to the bitter disappointment of the local "small fry."

However, when the weather warmed a bit Tuesday word was passed along "via the grape vine" and kids with towel and swim suit flocked to the pool Tuesday afternoon for the official opening.

Regulations this year are the same as last: Shower before entering pool; no one permitted to enter who has open sores or wears bandages; no smoking inside the pool fence; no running, pushing or rough play; and no profane language.

National Parks Opening

Rotary snowplows are pushing their way through the last large snowdrifts on the roads of Mount Ranier National park and it is reported that all roads will be open to public travel by June 28.

From Yellowstone comes word that travel is running about 55 percent ahead of last year at the same date, although official figures from Yellowstone have not yet been released.

Glacier Park official figures for May show that the increase of 1952 over 1951 was greater than the total for May, 1951. In round figures 1952 travel totaled 33,000 for May, and 1951 totaled 15,000 — an increase of approximately 18,000.

Weather Stays Cold, Wet

The weather the past several days has been excellent for the growth of pastures, and the wheat and beans, but far too cold and wet to suit those who have hay down or who are wanting to cut.

There has been rain squalls, in fact the rain of Saturday was a real soaker, and brief interludes of sunshine, but on the whole it has been cold and damp — too wet for most field work, and stopping most logging operations.

Writes From Germany

Mrs. Carl Gustafson has received a most interesting letter from her daughter, Mrs. K. Hein, now with her husband in Germany, and has kindly allowed us use of portions of it as follows:

"Went to Italy last week — we stayed a whole week and enjoyed a really nice time. Left on Sunday and visited with some friends in Munich. Stayed all night with them and then started for Rome on Monday on a tour with 10 others. In Rome we met 24 more, so there was quite a crowd. From Rome we took on all-day boat trip out to the Island of Capri. Then we took a motor boat and visited the famous Blue Grotto. It is really beautiful. It was a huge cave which we entered in a small row boat. You had to lay down or get your head bumped. The water was a real pale blue, which looked like it was lit with lights from underneath, but it was the reflection of the sun. It's supposed to be quite a famous sight seeing attraction.

From there we went back and stayed in Naples. We took a buggy ride to see the city. We then spent a day in Florence sight seeing and shopping, and then started home.

Most of our time was spent in Rome touring the city and seeing the main attractions, which included the ancient ruins, St. Peter's church, museums and the catacombs.

The catacombs are huge underground burial grounds for monks, etc., buried way back in the years B. C. Some of the graves were still there and a lot of skeletons. I'd hate to get lost there, probably never find your way out, it's so huge. Dark, too! We all used candles.

Love Alama."

Mrs. Albright Heads Indian Project

The Idaho State Mothers association has agreed to finance the training of one Indian woman in a nationwide project, Mrs. Lorenzo Hanson of Shelly, retiring president, said Tuesday.

Mrs. Lora Jean Albright of Juliaetta was named chairman of the project in Idaho. She has worked with the Lapwai Indians in northern Idaho.

Mrs. Hanson said Idaho is one of 12 states which have pledged assistance in the program, aimed at improving the lot of the Indian mothers. The Indian woman will be chosen on the basis of her ability to learn and to pass on the knowledge to other Indian women. — Lewiston Tribune.

GRAIN MARKETS UNSETTLED BUT CROP PROSPECTS GOOD

Grain markets continued unsettled during the past week according to reports to the Market News Service of the Department of Agriculture. Wheat markets weakened and prices generally declined about 1-2c per bushel in central western markets, influenced by the continued very favorable outlook for the new wheat crop. Winter wheat crop conditions continued excellent and rains in the spring wheat area the early part of the week improved prospects for the spring wheat crop. At Portland, Ore., wheat prices advanced 6c to 7c per bushel, reflecting the short supplies of old crop grain and a more active export demand. Barley markets remained generally unchanged.

The outlook for grain crops in Canada is generally the best in many years, according to reports from that nation. Subsoil moisture reserves are reported well above normal in Saskatchewan and Alberta and somewhat better than normal in Manitoba. The surface soil has dried very rapidly in some area, especially in southern Manitoba and some northern districts of Saskatchewan, and rains are needed in these areas.

Warm, dry weather, which prevailed over the prairie provinces since early April made conditions ideal for harvesting the unprecedented amount of grain that winter in the fields. Harvesting was virtually finished in early May.

Marketings of wheat increased during the week as arrivals at the principal markets for the last five days of the week totaled approximately 5,500,000 bushels. At the close of the week No. 2 hard winter wheat was quoted at $2.41 at Chicago, $2.40 at Kansas City and $2.54 at Fort Worth.

Prospects for the 1952 wheat crop continued good to excellent throughout the Pacific Northwest states. Rains the past week have been very beneficial. However, more moisture will be needed soon to maintain the present favorable condition. Winter wheat is heading out in all the early districts. Spring wheat is reported as growing rapidly following the recent rains and warm temperatures.

The movement of wheat to principal Pacific Northwest terminals continued of heavy volume and arrivals totaled 1,185 cars the past week. This compares with 1,447 cars the previous week and 1,625 the same week a year ago. Most of the arrivals continued to be applied on earlier contracts. Inspected wheat for export was well maintained and totaled around 3,300,000 bushels, which brought the total since July 1 to nearly 102 million bushels. This established a new record export movement from Pacific Northwest ports and exceeds the previous high reached during the 1950-51 season by about 26.5 million bushels.

The cash wheat market turned independently strong during the past week, influenced by the short remaining stocks of old crop wheat and a renewed demand from exporters. Reports indicated India purchased a full cargo of white wheat early in the week and exporters were also seeking supplies to cover overages on earlier contracts. Prices advanced sharply at the close of the week were 6c to 7c per bushel higher than the previous period — No. 1 soft white and white club wheat were quoted at $2.51 and No. 1 hard red winter at $2.55, track basis, delivered coast. Interest in new crop wheat for future delivery continued light with quotations about unchanged from the previous period.

Oats prices at Portland were slightly lower, reflecting moderate losses in central western and Canadian markets. Trading the past week continued largely in Canadian grain shipped in with Canadian Extra 1 feed oats quoted at $64.00 per ton, delivered Portland. No. 2 white eastern oats, 38-lb. test per bushel were quoted at around $71.25 per ton, delivered coast common points.

The weak tone in the barley market of last week carried over into the early part of the current period and reflected increased track offerings which met a slackened demand from exporters and consumers. Prices regained a portion of earlier losses and at the close of the market western barley was being quoted at $70 to $70.50 per ton, or around 50c lower than the previous week.

Coin Shortage Bothers Banks

The nationwide shortage of coins, first observed after the outbreak of hostilities in Korea, is becoming increasingly acute in this area, the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco says.

While it has not been necessary to resort to formal rationing, the bank is finding it difficult to meet the present extremely heavy demand, particularly for pennies and half-dollars, even though commercial member banks have cooperated by ordering only their minimum requirements.

The principal shortage problem throughout the country is that of the lowly penny. Even though the mints have operated on as high as a 60-hour work week, they have been unable to relieve the situation. A reduction in the supply of copper allotted by the National Production Authority, and delays in the delivery of the metal due to recent strikes, have also been contributing factors. Other reasons for the penny shortage, outside of the general effect of greatly expanded business activity, are the prevalence of odd-cent pricing, sales taxes, parking meters and vending machines. Not to be ignored, above all, are the cookie jars, piggy banks and other household containers, which hold much of the more than 17 billion one-cent pieces which are now outstanding.

Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, director of the mint, recently issued an appeal for each American family to return to circulation just ten of these one-cent pieces. If this were done, she pointed out, nearly 388 million pennies would come out of hiding, a number that would take the mint five months of 60-hour work weeks to produce, using up 1,260 tons of scarce copper.

The Federal Reserve Bank, joining in this appeal, urges the public to cooperate fully in releasing coins of all denominations which have accumulated in home containers. The coins will be accepted for deposit by any bank.

Win Another Award

A thirteenth Constructive breeder Award has been conferred to the University of Idaho, Moscow, by the American Jersey Cattle Club. The award is one of the highest made by the Jersey Breed registry, which has its national headquarters in Columbus, Ohio.

To be eligible for the award the University of Idaho carried out a well-balanced program of herd improvement and breed promotion. Its animals have met high requirements of both production and type, and all of the animals in the herd were bred and owned by it for at least four years.

Man-Made Light Moves Ahead By New Inventions

There is nothing to show that our anthropoid ancestors used candles to find their way around among the trees after dark, but there is ample evidence that the hairy cave man used fire to scare away prowling beasts.

Man-made illumination has come a long way since those remote days. By far the greatest strides have come in the past 75 years—greater progress than through all the thousands of years before. From the cave man's torch to electric light, the flame was the only source of illumination.

Within recent weeks, a new source of artificial light has been announced wherein electricity appears to serve merely as a match to light a wick. Powdered phosphor on a sheet of glass emits a mellow glow of its own under electric impulse. Your house of tomorrow may have these panels installed in walls and ceilings. It is claimed the cost of maintenance will be so low that the only need for switches will be to turn lights off when you want darkness. Clockfaces, stair risers and other incidentals will be permanently connected.

With this revolutionary development in man-made light comes wonder as to how it all started. Archaeologists have concluded among the earliest to whom the cave man passed his flaming torch were the ancient dwellers of Mesopotamia where lamps, fashioned from terra cotta, were found to have been used during 7000-8000 B.C. Copper and bronze lamps were used by the Persians and Egyptians in 2700 B.C. Homer described a "Festival of Lamps" in 950 B.C. The Romans were using lanterns a century before Christ.

The candlesticks of Biblical times and the lamps of the vestal virgins used animal and vegetable oils. Pliny mentioned the use of a mineral oil for lamps in 50 A.D. The Phoenicians appear to have been the first to use wax for candles in 400 A.D.

Atom Disaster Would Demand Many Trained 'Mass Feeders'

"In case of enemy attack or atom bombing, the disaster would demand more trained persons for mass feeding than we can hope to have today," two Red Cross workers who conducted an emergency feeding program during the flood disaster in Kansas City last July, warn in an issue of the Journal of Home Economics.

"Disaster feeding at best is a hodgepodge affair because there are never enough experienced people and survivors to do an ideal job," Jane Griswold, assistant national director of the American Red Cross Food and Nutrition Service, and Kathleen Kienstra, director of the Midwestern Area division of that service, explain in an article pointing out that experience in the flood disaster indicates what the situation would be in event of enemy attack. While urging the home economists to be ready with their professional help, the authors pay great tribute to the work of the community organizations who carried out the feeding program during the Kansas flood.

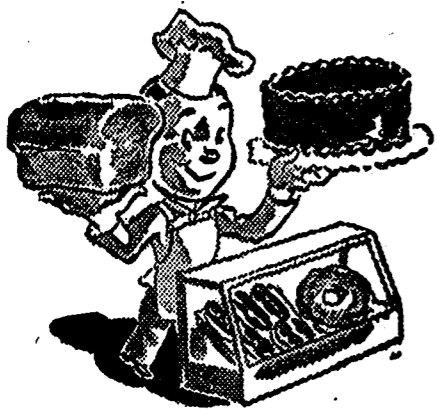

"It is encouraging to see the common purpose that draws people together when disaster comes to a community. The simple, basic, practical things that people can do for each other helps to ease the impact of catastrophe and turn the mind from despair," the authors conclude in the article, "Red Cross Fights Flood Disaster."

Treating Addicts

Law enforcement, education of the public and treatment of the individual are the three most important factors in combating the alarmingly increasing dope addiction among teen-agers, according to an article in Today's Health, published by the American Medical Association. "Regardless of where the upsurge of addiction started, it has jumped racial, economic and social boundaries," said the author of the article, Dr. Victor H. Vogel, medical officer in charge of the U. S. Public Health Service Hospital at Lexington, Ky. The hospital is one of the two federally operated for the treatment of drug addicts. Dr. Vogel reported that admissions at the two federal hospitals for drug addicts rose from 2,700 in 1949 to 4,500 in 1950, with an estimated rate of 4,200 in 1951. "An alarming part of this increase was due to the admission of addicts under 21, which jumped from 22 in 1947 to 440 in 1950—an increase of 2,000 per cent," Dr. Vogel stressed.

Early Inventors

Among the early American inventors who founded great industries, few struggled against adversity more desperately than Gail Borden (1801-1875), who was the first to obtain a patent (August 19, 1856) on a process for condensing milk. His first invention was a meat biscuit for which he was granted a prize at the International Exposition of London in 1851. Returning from London he was anguished by the death of infants on the ship who had been fed milk from sick cows. As a result of this experience, he spent years of experimentation to invent a process that would preserve milk under wholesome conditions.

... to guide the scalpel, you want a hand you know and trust!

We salute the men and women of the medical profession who so effectively serve all in the Inland Empire. They have well earned the respect and confidence of those who turn to them for relief from pain and illness.

The splendid progress made by the American medical profession is a tribute to its devotion to the service of humanity and science. This has been accomplished the American Way—which rewards the individual in proportion to his knowledge, ability, industry, and acceptance of responsibility. It is a way under which the patient and not a bureaucracy chooses the hand that guides the scalpel.

The American medical profession . . . free to think, to act, to progress, to seek scientific truth . . . leads the world. It has given Americans the best medical care, the most hospitals, the greatest hope for long and healthy life of all the world's peoples.

When you hear arguments for socialized medicine for America —for regimented medicine as in England—think for a moment. When your life is at stake, or the life of one dear to you, you want the hand that guides the scalpel to be the hand you choose —the hand you know and trust!

What has socialized medicine got to do with electric service? Plenty! The same people who wish to stifle the initiative (and would so stem the progress) of medical science by government regimentation will not stop there. They seek socialistic government control of all professions, industries, groups. The loss of freedom by one group endangers the freedom of all, and the freedom and greatness of our nation.

Trees Die in Winter, Too, Without the Proper Care

Trees die in winter just as they do in spring and summer. They can be killed by drought and storms, by insects and diseases, by man's indifference and neglect, says Dr. Rush P. Marshall, director of the Bartlett Tree Research Laboratories.

Death may not be sudden. Next spring the trees may try to leaf out, then collapse and die within a matter of weeks.

Deciduous trees which appear to "sleep" in winter must take up a certain amount of soil water to replenish that lost by evaporation under high drying winds. Evergreens and pines which do not shed their leaves need an even greater amount. Unless trees go into winter with sufficient water around their roots before the ground freezes, injury or even death by drought may result.

Wind, ice and snow storms take a toll of trees in winter, toppling them over, or breaking branches and limbs. If a tree is conditioned properly by pruning out dead and dying wood, by cabling and bracing weak crotches and limbs, storm damage can be held to a minimum.

Not all insects are dormant in winter. Bark beetles often crawl from the thick bark to the cambium layer on mild winter days and girdle a tree as they feed. Elm bark beetles that carry Dutch elm disease present double trouble. For the fungus they carry builds up in the sap stream, and even in winter there is a certain pulsating of the sap that will send the disease further into a tree.

It is just as harmful to disturb a tree's roots in the winter as in summer. Trees are frequently killed in winter by a careless bulldozer used in construction or by roots mangled when a water main is laid or a sidewalk and driveway put in. Trucks and autos that bash into trees in winter can loosen or scrape off the bark as effectively as in the summer.

Death even for trees takes no holiday. Yet your tree needn't die any time of the year if you give it proper care.

Early Iron Men Served Country in Many Fields

The brothers Curtis and Peter Grubb, owners of Pennsylvania's historic Cornwall blast furnace during the Revolutionary War, not only made cannon but also test fired them and probably used them against the enemy while serving actively as colonels in the field. In addition, they manufactured stoves and supplied the equipment to support a war emergency salt industry, doing all these things with a furnace which produced 24 tons of iron a week.

The outbreak of hostilities cut off the salt supply of the United States and seriously affected the salting of meat and curing of fish for both military and civilian use. Colonel Curtis Grubb told the Council of Safety that he was prepared to cast the iron salt pans for making salt from sea water on the Jersey coast, but asked the army to re-lease his manager, founder, carpenter and colliers from military service so that he could do it. The men were released to him immediately.

Cannon manufacture was a necessary innovation in this country; so much so that Generals Washington and La Fayette visited Cornwall furnace to watch the casting of the first 24 cannons ordered for the Continental Army. Early guns made at Cornwall showed lack of experience, for an official letter complained that they were too heavy and costly.

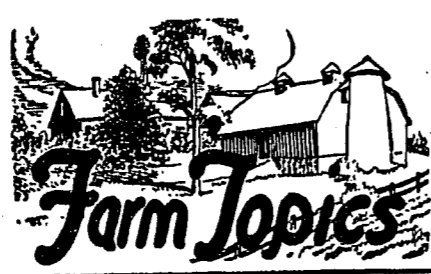

Cornwall furnace was built in 1742, and for many years thereafter was called "the hub of the iron trade." The famous Cornwall iron ores have been mined continuously for more than 200 years, the longest record of operations in the country.

Seeing Babies

For the first four months of life an infant has no effective vision but sees the world as more or less of a blur. Then eyesight starts its development at an incredibly low level which an ophthalmic specialist would rate as 20/2400. This means that the baby can only see at a distance of 20 feet objects which normal mature eyes can see at 2400 feet, or nearly half a mile. By the end of the first year the child's vision has improved to 20/130, which would indicate extremely bad acuity in an adult. Not until the fifth or sixth year is a level of 20/40 attained. During all this time the child is learning not only how to see clearly, but how to see single instead of double. Some time between the sixth month and the end of the second year binocular single vision develops, whereby the separate images formed in the two eyes are fused into one in the brain.

Revealing Facts

Publication of the newest Army history book, "Washington Command Post: The Operations Division," brings to light the complicated task of the military staff that planned and directed the first world-wide military operations. The book, seventh in the "U. S. Army in World War II" series, is a part of nearly 100 contemplated volumes covering all aspects of the war.

Experts Say Barn Windows Practicable Sun Reduces Disease And Barn Moisture

Farm experts are urging farmers to make practical use of sunshine to solve some of their problems of moisture, sanitation and daylighting inside farm buildings by installing large windows.

Farm building windows in the past have been too small, have frosted over during cold weather so that sufficient sun energy could not get into the building to provide warmth. Also, little attention has been given to the germicidal effect of direct sunlight in the poultry house, dairy barn or farrowing pen.

Proper ventilation and sunlight not only helps to dry up moisture, but direct sunlight helps kill bacteria wherever they gain access to farm buildings.

As an example of the sun's heating power, in a central farrowing house in Iowa using insulated windows in the south wall, the inside temperature never dropped below freezing although the outside temperature hit 25 to 30 degrees below zero.

Wheat, Corn Estimates Below Last Year Yield

The nation's 1951 corn and wheat crops will fall short of 1950 production, according to the latest U. S. Department of Agriculture report.

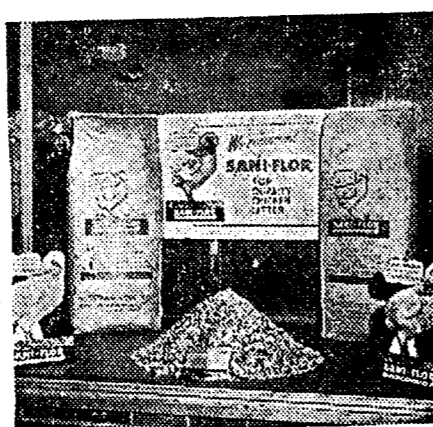

The corn crop for all purposes is estimated at 3,105 million bushels, a decline of 26 million bushels from last year's production, but above the 1940-49 average of 2,981 million bushels. The indicated yield per acre of 36.7 bushels is 0.9 bushels above the average of 33.9 bushels.

Production of corn for grain this year is estimated at 2,789 million bushels compared with 2,845 million bushels last year.

Total wheat production is estimated at 994 million bushels, about 3 per cent smaller than the 1950 crop of 1,027 million, and 7 per cent smaller than the average of 1,071 million bushels.

Corn and wheat production, however, is expected to meet U.S. needs.

Poultry Litter

A specially-processed vermuculite poultry litter has been put on the market for the first time. Poultry producers might find that it will fulfill their needs. Called San-Flor, it is fireproof, vermin-proof, an efficient insulator against cold, and a non-conductor of electricity. The product is being introduced to seed and feed dealers and hardware stores across the country. It comes in four cubic foot bags, weighing about 25 pounds.

Dead Tree Perils Are Acute When Winter Hits

Alive, trees are considered among the householder and farmer's best friends. Dead, they become his most dangerous enemies. Trees that succumb to insects or disease have a way of developing into serious menaces long before owners are aware of their peril. These woody foes should be removed before winter storms hit. Snow, sleet and howling winds make them acutely dangerous.

Coal Crosses The Seas

During the month of October, last, nearly 4,000,000 tons of coal were shipped out through the Hampton Roads seaport. This was the largest flow of coal ever to move in that period of time from an American port in either peace or war.

Some of the coal went to cities along the Atlantic seaboard. But most of it sailed overseas to feed the coal-starved industries of England and western Europe.

This is symbolic of the present condition of the world. The foreign coal industries are either owned outright by the state or totally controlled and regimented by the state. They have not been able to produce enough coal to meet their needs, and their reconstruction programs have tottered as a result. Even countries which once were major coal exporters, such as Britain, now must seek supplies elsewhere.

There is only one source to which these countries can turn — and that source is the United States. Our own coal consumption is running at extremely high levels, due to the defense effort, yet our mines have filled every export demand for which shipping has been available. And their capacity has not been reached by any means. The industry can mine, process, transport and deliver to consumers much more coal should the need arise.

It is not an accident that this achievement has been made in a free, competitive economy. It could not have been made in any other kind of economy. Neither coal nor any other enterprise can drive ahead and do its best when the politicians are at the controls. That is the basic reason why Europe has been so woefully short of coal — while we have an abundance. — Industrial News-Review.

Frozen Foods Show Huge Gain During Past Year
A record percentage of farm produce is moving to consumers in frozen form. Figures compiled by A & P Food Stores, operator of 4,500 markets in 37 states with six million customers daily, show an overall increase in frozen food sales of 38.9 per cent. Leading this list of foods are citrus juice concentrates orange and grapefruit juice, a blend of the two, and lemon mix. Peas and strawberries also increased.

um-grass mixtures; (2) The use of lime and commercial fertilizer; (3) Good grazing management. Jones recommends alfalfa, ladino clover and grass for summer grazing. Where alfalfa does not thrive, ladino clover and grass will do a good job. Timothy, brome grass or orchard grass may also be used. He cautions farmers to avoid killing out pasture growth by over-grazing and to provide palatable and nutritious pasture by avoiding under grazing. Jones suggests dividing pasture areas into lots. Cattle are allowed to graze down growth in one lot and then are moved to another. Along with good legume-grass mixtures and managed grazing, Jones emphasizes the benefits from adding lime and fertilizers carrying nitrogen, phosphate and potash.

HELLO, THERE, FOLKS —

Are You Cashing In?

Yeah, we know the weather has been a bit "on the cool side" for the past several days — but that's been wonderful for those spring pastures — and makes it possible to cash in all the more on your cows. But don't depend on pasture alone. Give them a bit of grain every day, and you'll see how they will produce cream for you — and cream means money in your pocket when you sell to us. Just try it if you doubt this statement.

And remember, too: We return a steam-sterilized, ready-to-use can. Saves you washing, and any danger of cream contamination from chemicals.

He: "I love you! Will you be my wife?"
She: "You must see Mother first."

He: "I have seen here. But I'll marry you just the same!"

You just can't beat ice cream for a delicious dessert, or for a snack between meals. And when you purchase "Potlatch Chief" brand you are assured the tops in flavor, texture and purity. Be sure and take home at least a quart the next time you're down town. Keep it on hand all the time.

"Just fancy" said the adoring mother, "he's only 17 months old and he's been walking for nearly nine months."

"Really," said the visitor wearily, "Don't you think it's about time he sat down?"

Irate salesgirl to disagreeable customer: "Go easy, Madam. The war days when I used to insult customers are still fresh in my mind!"

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jones and children of Moscow were Saturday overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Grim.

(This Week)

Pfc. Herbert Pederson arrived home on Thursday to spend a 25-day furlough, prior to his being stationed on the east coast. Wayne Wright and sons Laverne and Don called at the Erlwine home Friday evening.

Gil Erlwine, Monte West and Bob Chilberg were Wednesday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Grim. Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Baack of the Crescent community were Billy Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wilson and children and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Watson of Kendrick.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Grim and son and Bob Grim spent Thursday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Grim.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Wilson and daughter Wilma were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Torgeson of Lewiston.

The W. M. A. met at the home of Mrs. Louis Alexander on Thursday afternoon, with six ladies present. A new tied-quilt project was planned.

Mr. and Mrs. Gil Erlwine called on Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Tarry Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Grim spent Monday with his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Grim of Genesee. Ernest did some surveying for Adrian while there.

Dale Hughes of Lewiston was an early morning caller Sunday at the Erlwine home. He and Jerry spent the day fishing in Cedar creek.

A family reunion was held at the Browleit home at Colfax, Wash., honoring Pfc. Herbert Pederson. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Browleit, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Browleit and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Browleit and children, Colfax; Mr. and Mrs. Kurie and sons of Lewiston; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Osmonson, Noel and Arthur, Jr., and Edward Pederson, all of Spokane; Kenneth Feder-son of Belmont, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. Al Pederson and children, Douglas, Jerry and Marilyn, and Verlin Benjamin from Southwick.

Marilyn Pederson returned home on Sunday, after being employed for the past week at the Andy Jones home in Clarkston.

Mrs. Al Pederson helped Mrs. Bill Zimmerman with her papering last week.

Mrs. Cleon McAllister entertained at a dinner Monday honoring her husband's birthday anniversary. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Al Pederson and children, the host and hostess and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Arley Allen returned Tuesday of last week from a week's vacation trip which took them into four states. Leaving home at 2:00 a. m., Tuesday, June 3rd, they drove to Gooding to visit Maxine Foster. Her many friends will be glad to know she was permitted to go out to supper with them in their cabin and stay till her "bed time," which is 9:00 o'clock. She said "home cooking" tasted very good, especially bread and coffee. From there they drove to Salt Lake City, visited Temple Square, heard a lecture, and took a tour of the grounds and buildings, but missed the organ recital, which was held at noon. They then drove to Bryce, Zion and Grand Canyon, Hoover Dam, Las Vegas and Reno. It was a lovely trip but it's nice to be home and "My, how the garden and weeds did grow in a week!"

GOLDEN RULE

June 17 — Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cuddy of Spokane, and a nephew, Claude Howerton, of Pekin, Indiana, were house guests at the Glen Betts home the first week in June. The Cuddys will be remembered here — having operated a pole camp in the Three Bear and Mason Meadow country in 1945-1947. They were just returning from a visit to Indiana, and were bringing their nephew back with them.

The Homemakers Club enjoyed an all-day meeting with Mrs. Alice Tarry Thursday. Our next meeting will be at the school kitchen. Mrs. Bowling will give a work shop in "Sweet Yeast Breads," on June 26. Be there at 9:30 a. m. Annie Longeteig will be the hostess and Hulda Harris the co-hostess. Everyone interested is invited to attend.

Mrs. Beatrice McAllister and three sons spent the past week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Martin. They returned to their home in Spokane Tuesday with her brother, A 2/c Stanley Martin, who returned to his base there after a 30-day leave.

Saturday and Sunday visitors at the Glen Betts home were Mr. and Mrs. Burdette Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. George Roskammer, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Christensen and children.

John Ziemann spent the week-end with the Tschantz Brothers.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kuykendall of Kendrick spent Saturday at the D. V. Kuykendall home.

Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Kuykendall were Orofino and Lewiston visitors Monday. They went after strawberry crates. The strawberries will soon be on in full swing.

Oscar Lawrence has had their barn wired for electricity.
