NO. 34

LATAH COUNTY VOTING IS SLOW — PEOPLE TOO BUSY

It must have been a case of "too busy with harvest" for many Latah county residents, for voting in the Primary election Tuesday, August 12, was light throughout the county.

Alvah Strong and E. B. Spencer, republican candidates for the nomination for county commissioner of the first district held the closest race in the election, Strong, incumbent, polled 1335 votes to 1202 for Spencer. In the next closest race for votes in this county John T. Wood by-passed Erwin H. Schweibert by just 140 votes for the nomination for congressman in the Idaho fifth district. Wood, we might add, won in the state 15,048 to 12,884.

The three democratic candidates for nomination for state representatives (two to be elected) staged a hot contest, with Kenneth L. Holmes the winner. He received 761 votes to 616 for Ben P. Shuey and 527 for Hale C. Tognoni.

Other returns for Latah county were: For state senator, William Moore, 1521; Wayne Smith, 1061 (Republican).

State representatives (two to be chosen) Elvon Hampton, Genesee, 1602; Jack McBride, 1002; Harold Snow, 1965.

For county commissioner, third district (Republican) — Eugene Taylor, Juliaetta, unopposed, 2377.

For sheriff (Republican) — Geo. K. (Har) Moody, unopposed, 2487.

For county commissioner (Republican) — Edna M. Theriault, unopposed, 2,468 votes.

Lloyd G. Martinson, a recent graduate of the law school at the University of Idaho, and at present attorney for the city of Moscow, ran ahead of his opponent, Kent B. Power, for the probate judge nomination, receiving 1497 to 1105 for his opponent. The present holder, Judge L. G. Peterson, well known throughout all of Latah county, and well liked — was not a candidate, he having decided to retire — hence the all-out fight for the nomination between these two young and hustling attorneys.

Other non-contested nominations on the Republican ticket showed: For prosecuting attorney, J. M. O'Donnell; assessor, E. Dan Peterson, 2386; county coroner, E. R. Short.

Grace Pfost, who won the democratic nomination for congress, first district, two years ago, and was opposed by John T. Wood, incumbent, will be running against Dr. Wood again in 1952 at the November general election.

Other than the two contests for congressman and state representatives, Latah county democrats held no contests.

For state senator — George F. Brocke, 1069 votes.

For county commissioner, first district — Frank M. Mallory, 1068.

For county commissioner, third district, Ed. Solberg, 1003.

For sheriff, Ralph A. Wheery, 1083 votes.

Probate judge, Wayne Loveless, 992.

Prosecuting attorney, Melvin J. Alsagar, 1032.

Candidates for the nomination for sheriff of Latah county received the highest number of votes for all candidates. Moody, republican, with 2,487 votes, led them all. Wheery, democrat, with 1083, led his party.

The above furnishes a comparison of votes cast by party — but also shows how few actually voted.

Writes From Merrill, Iowa

In a letter accompanying a subscription, Rev. Gustav Meyer, well-known former resident, says in part: "If I should report from this corner of the world I must say that two catastrophes have come upon us here. First, the great flood caused by the Missouri river, of which, of course, you have all read. Even the National Guard was called out for almost two weeks to give help and for protection. Then, secondly, at this time the polio epidemic is raging here — by which a very great number of children and young men and women were afflicted. Most of them recovered, however, many have succumbed."

"As to crops — oats, which is mostly raised here as to grain, are very good, and the yield is from 60 to 75 bushels per acre. Corn has a wonderful prospect. Being hybrid, it promises from 60 to 80 bushels per acre. This latter is because the weather has been ideal. The season this year is two to three weeks earlier than usual."

"If the west could develop a hybrid wheat — what a gain that would mean both to the farmer and consequently for the consumer, — Sincerely, Rev. Gustav Meyer."

CHLOE McKEEVER BRIDE OF DONALD L. HARDY

The marriage of Chloe Francesca McKeever, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Geo. W. McKeever of Kendrick, and Donald L. Hardy, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Hardy of Parma, Idaho, was solemnized on Sunday, August 10th, at 3:00 p. m., in the Presbyterian church in Moscow, Idaho, in a setting of fall-colored gladioli and candelabra. Satin bows in fall colors decorated the pews.

The processional, "Lohengren's Bridal Song" and the recessional, "Mendelssohn's Wedding March" were played by Mrs. Robert Lind of Moscow. Robert Lind sang "For You" and the "Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Lind.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a champagne lace gown over peach, with matching hat and shoes. She carried a large white orchid nestled in a circle of yellow gladioli and stephanotis.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Clyde H. Daugherty, Jr., of Spokane. She wore a delphinium blue satin dress with matching hat and shoes. Her bouquet was of bronze and yellow throned gladioli. Both gowns were ballerina length.

The groom had for his best man, Robert Lind of Moscow. Milton Lind of Lewiston was usher.

Mrs. McKeever, mother of the bride wore an antique gold silk suit with matching orchid corsage. The groom's mother chose a gray nylon print with lavender and white orchid corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors. The serving table, covered with a beautiful lace cloth, was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, flanked with silver candelabra with yellow candles and yellow flowers in asilver urn.

After the bride and groom cut the first piece of cake, Mrs. H. C. Schupfer and Mrs. John Johanson finished cutting and serving. Charlotte Solberg of Kamiah, Idaho, officiated at the punch bowl, assisted by Patricia Long of Kendrick. Mrs. Don Eichner had charge of the guest book.

The bride chose for her going-away costume a blue shantung suit with pink accessories. The young couple spent their honeymoon at Lake Coeur d'Alene.

They will be at home to their many friends at 178 5th Street, Idaho Falls, Idaho.

Is Thirteen Unlucky?

Early last Sunday morning Mr. and Mrs. E. M. White, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry White and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Thornton took off for the Crater Lake country on a combination fishing and huckleberrying trip.

First disappointment came when they found the road to the lake closed, due to fire dangers. They turned around and headed for the Marble creek section. The fishing turned out to be "not so hot," as the group caught but 13 fish, and huckleberries were likewise scarce.

As night came on the car developed electrical trouble and a new battery was required. Leaving the party at a friendly blister rust camp Bill White hiked the 13 miles into Clarkia and called his son Roy to bring them up a new battery.

Roy loaded the battery into the Kendrick Garage service pickup and headed for Clarkia. In some way he missed his father and had to double back to get him. Then, after installing the battery in the car, Roy, accompanied by his mother, headed for Kendrick. But still tough luck dogged them — for the pickup left the road and landed on its side, doing considerable damage to the vehicle, but the occupants were uninjured.

All got back to Kendrick about 8:00 a. m. Monday.

Quite a day and night, we'd say! And are thirteen fish unlucky?

No Official Bridge Word

As of now, we have yet to learn anything official regarding the new bridge across Bear creek, to replace the one which gave way under a D. C. Minkler logging truck some three weeks ago.

There is under construction at this time, however, a wooden bridge, on the site of the fallen structure. This, we are told, is the temporary bridge which is to be used during the construction of the new crossing and bridge.

We repeat, however, that no official word is available, as yet, to us.

What everyone here is afraid of is that once a temporary bridge is in and in use, construction of the new one "will get lost in red tape at Boise."

ALVIN WEICHMAN MEETS DEATH IN TRUCK ACCIDENT

Alvin Weichman, well known farmer of the Juliaetta-Potlatch ridge area met death Sunday morning, August 10, at about 1:00 o'clock, when the truck he was driving, and loaded with four horses, turned over about 2½ miles east of Lewiston, on the river road.

Coroner Andrew Vassar of Lewiston said it appeared that the sudden shift in the weight of the horses caused the truck to turn over on its right side. Weichman was thrown out of the truck and crushed to death, as the vehicle rolled down a five-foot embankment into a wheat field. The horses were found the next day at the Ralph Vernon ranch near the accident scene.

Mr. Weichman was driving east toward his home when the accident occurred. The truck, a 1946 1½-ton model traveled 219 feet along the shoulder of the highway before turning over, measurements showed.

Alvin Weichman was born July 19, 1907, in Germany, and came to this country when he was 19.

He farmed in the Leland and Kendrick area for several years, and later bought the farm on Potlatch ridge which he was operating at the time of his death.

Mr. Weichman married the former Emma Haag in 1936. She survives. Other survivors are his father, Herman Weichman, and a brother, both in Germany.

Rattler Invades Kitchen

It wouldn't be at all unusual to find a coiled rattler on some of the rocky hillsides in this area now — but to find one coiled at your feet while baking a cake is just a little beyond the average stretch of imagination.

Mrs. Grant Bateman of American ridge will tell you, however, she was not dreaming — it really happened. Friday morning, Aug. 1 Mrs. Bateman was busy with the washing and decided to bake a cake in between times. As she reached into the cupboard for the necessary items she was alerted by a rattling noise. Her eyes dropped to the direction of the disturbance — and there was a three-foot rattler coiled, with his "buzzer" going — not a foot from her. In panic she screamed and fled to the outside. Her cries brought Mrs. Elmo Eldridge and children (who were picking beans in the Bateman garden) to the scene. Armed with a shovel Mrs. Bateman re-entered the kitchen to hunt out the reptile. In the mean time he had taken refuge in one of the lower cupboards. It didn't take long to locate him, however, for he could be heard buzzing away, warning all to stay away.

But Mrs. Bateman and son Jerry were determined, and after poking at him he came out on the floor again, and that was his last mistake. Mrs. Bateman held him down with the shovel and Jerry administered a lethal blow with a baseball bat.

It is not known exactly how the snake got into the house, but it is believed he came up an open small pipe that was used in the winter when the water was frozen.

On Monday of this week Jerry Bateman killed another big timber rattler near their home, dispatching the reptile with a shot from a 28-gauge shotgun. — The Bateman family hope this is the last of the snake menace.

Are You One Of Them?

Now that the Chinese pheasant season is approaching the "gallant city hunter" is about ready to set out on his trail of left open gates, broken fences and murdered livestock. With the population increase in this area and a good supply of shells (despite the extreme scarcity of birds) there's a good chance that the farmer will take a worse blasting than ever this fall.

Many farmers wonder when they issue those hunting licenses to city residents why don't they include a few tests for common courtesy, respect for other persons' property, ability to handle a gun loaded with high-powered ammunition and a short (or long) course on recognition of various farm animals? Or, perhaps the thing to do is to have open season on hunters (the way hunters themselves do) and give the farmer a chance to even the score.

How would the man living in the city feel if every fall a strange farmer or two stopped in, tramped all over the lawn, picked the flowers, kicked the dog in the face, killed the cat and then got mad because he complained? He'd feel very much like most of our farmers feel when a bunch of thoughtless strangers invade the farm and fill the air and some of the livestock with bird shot.

But, if someone stops in and asks permission to hunt, inquires the location of the stock and chickens, and acts like a man, everyone feels better about the whole thing.

There are but few farmers who will refuse permission to hunt on their farms unless the hunter is obviously drunk, shows signs of carelessness with gun or fence, or is an apparent fool. None of these three things mixes at all with gunpowder.

Class Of 1917 Notable

The West Point class of 1917 was one of the most notable in the history of the U. S. military academy. Among its members, says the current Reader's Digest, were three men who are today's top generals: Matthew B. Ridgeway, J. Lawton Collins and Mark W. Clark.

Socialist Party Voting

Boise — Socialists cast more than 11 percent of the total votes in one Idaho general election, according to a compilation of election statistics prepared in the office of the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce.

In the year 1912, when the total vote in the presidential election in Idaho was 104,218, Socialist candidate Eugene V. Debs received 11,960 votes.

Other candidates and the vote they received were: Woodrow Wilson (D), 33,921; Howard Taft (R), 32,810; Theodore Roosevelt (Progressive) 25,527.

In three presidential elections Communist party members voted for candidates with 491 votes in 1932; 276 votes in 1940 and 282 votes in 1944.

The record vote cast in Idaho by a party other than Democrat or Republican was polled in 1924, when 54,160 voters declared they were Progressives and wanted to see La Follette in the White House.

Lowest total vote ever cast for a candidate in a presidential election in Idaho was received by Cleveland in 1902, when two voters indicated he was their choice on the Democratic ticket; while 8,799 Republicans voted for Harrison; 10,520 voted for Weaver on the People's ticket, and a Mr. Bidwell, carrying the flag for the Prohibition party received 288 votes, for a statewide total of 19,609 votes cast.

The highest presidential election vote ever cast in Idaho was in 1940, when 235,168 voters expressed their choice for Democrat, Republican,

Socialist and Communist candidates in that order of preference.

Just Give Him Time

It was a beautiful evening and Aunt Louisa, looking very lovely in her long white dress and little fur cape, her white hair piled high, strolled outside to wait for the taxi she had called to take her to the concert. A noisy jalopy rattled by, full of students from the nearby college. Then a piercing wolf whistle split the air and one of the boys leaned out: "Wish we were forty years older, ma'am!" he called. — Reader's Digest.

Missing Radio Is Found

Traffic in stolen government property does not pay, according to a story from Missoula, Mont. Today the year-long mystery plaguing the Forest Service employees in the Northern Region was written off as solved. During the summer of 1951 a handie-talkie weighing nine pounds disappeared from the Magruder Ranger Station in the Bitterroot National Forest. No trace could be found of the missing radio and its loss was duly entered in the records. The first clue to the missing radio came to light when a letter was received this spring from Los Angeles, Calif. It contained a request for information on the wiring diagram of the type of the missing radio. A wide-awake property officer solicited the cooperation of a forest supervisor in Los Angeles, who in turn brought the Los Angeles police into the case of the missing handie-talkie. The police called upon the letter writer who had innocently come into its possession. The mystery of its operation had been more than he had been able to solve, so he sought the advice of experts and inadvertently solved the mystery of the missing Magruder Ranger Station handie-talkie. The letter writer put the finger on the juvenile from whom the radio was obtained. When apprehended the juvenile confessed and the radio was returned to its rightful owner — the U. S. government.

Me And Plato

A summer resident in the North Carolina mountains was so impressed with the philosophy of an uneducated mountaineer working on his place that for Christmas he sent him a book of Plato. He heard nothing, and the next summer he asked the mountaineer if he had received the book. "Reckon I did" was the reply. "Did you read it?" "I read a few pages," the mountaineer replied, "but then I come to find that feller agreed with me so perfectly it weren't no need fer me to read no further." — Reader's Digest.

You still buy gasoline at 1925 prices

If you were to take a sentimental journey back into the mid-twenties by thumbing through a stack of old magazines, you'd find the page below in the Saturday Evening Post issue of July 4, 1925. Remember the square-topped cars of those days... with their flat windshields, wide running boards and big wooden steering wheels?

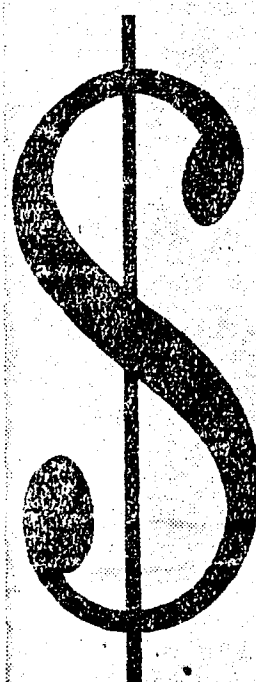

Remember the prices? Things were a lot cheaper than they are now when almost everything you buy is way up in price... except gasoline. ¶ Actually, gasoline costs almost exactly the same today—aside from taxes—as it did when the beauty above was an exciting new automobile. ¶ And it's far better gasoline, too. Two gallons today do the work that required three in 1925. ¶ Few industries can match this record of keeping prices down and raising quality. It was made possible by two things: intense competition among oil companies and a steadily increasing efficiency of production. ¶ In the last five years alone, Standard Oil Company of California has put more than $644,000,000 into facilities—and another $35,000,000 into technical service and research. This investment helps us make certain that gasoline continues to be one of the best buys in your family budget.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY OF CALIFORNIA plans ahead to serve you better to Banff and Lake Louise, Canada, returning by way of Cut Bank, Montana. Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Swenson of Lewiston are staying at Mrs. Nelson's home while she is away.

Harold and Gerald Halseth, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Halseth, who have been with the army of occupation in Germany for the past several months, returned home last week-end, their honorable "Releases from Service" in their pockets. Both young men say they liked the overseas duty stint, but are glad that army days are over.

Preparation For School
 Student activity came to a close at the University of Idaho last week with the ending of the 1952 summer session. But, at the same time, the pace of the university's physical plant reaches a new tempo in preparation for the fall term.

The first step was the shutting down of the university heating plant to facilitate the cleaning of boilers.
 Two new buildings will also take their place in the late August activity. The new Home Economics building is scheduled for occupancy and construction of a new women's cooperative dormitory will be started. The new women's dormitory, to house 53, will be located on Blake avenue between the Gamma Phi sorority house and Forney Hall, women's dormitory.

The new three-story building is slated to replace Ridenbaugh hall,
 the present women's cooperative dormitory which was built in 1902, and which is the oldest building on the campus.

The Home Economics department expected to move into its new three-story quarters on August 18. The new building, of Collegiate-Gothic design, stands on the right of the old engineering building, razed last year to make room for the structure.

August will be vacation-time for many staff members. The business office staff will be on vacation all at the same time.

The first activity of the University of Idaho's fall term will be fall football practice, beginning Sept. 1.
 The team will be preparing for the first game, scheduled for Sept. 20,
 with the University of Washington,
 at Seattle.

New Student Days — three days of orientation, guidance tests and interviews, are slated for September 15, 16 and 17. Registration for the fall semester will be held September 18 and 19 until 11:00 a. m. September 20. All university classes begin at 8:00 a. m., September 22.

About This Week's Paper

In this issue of the Gazette will be found a number of columns carrying the notation "Delayed." This is not due in any way to laxness on the part of our correspondents or news gatherers, but rather to the fact that no current paper was printed last week — it being a "Twenty Year Ago" edition, or as termed by the Lewiston Tribune, a "Rip Van Win-kie" edition.

Anyway, we are endeavoring this week to bring our readers up to date on all the local happenings — and better late than never.

We thoroughly enjoyed the five-day rest and fishing trip the "Twenty Year Ago" edition permitted, and thank our advertisers and correspondents for their help in making it possible. May we add that to date we have had nothing but complements on the paper — and quite a number have asked us why we did not make it an annual affair.

Arthur Foster Fired Upon Orofino — William (Bill) Moreland was bound over to the District Court under $1,000 bond Tuesday after appearing before Justice of the Peace Charles McEachron on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon against Arthur Foster at Stude-baker's mill near Piece, Monday evening.

Sheriff V. L. (Slim) Holloway said
 Moreland fired a .22 pistol at Foster, while the latter was filing a saw after work Monday evening. Both men are employed at the mill.

Moreland was restrained by A.
 Studebaker, who heard the shot and ran to the scene with a rifle. Holloway said, Studebaker, who owns and operates the mill, summoned Holloway.

Foster, whose home is at South-wick, told Holloway that he and Moreland did not have an argument and that he was unable to explain
 the reason for the shot being fired.

The bullet, Holloway said, came within a few inches of Foster. —

New Southwick Correspondent

The Gazette is very happy to announce that a correspondent has been secured to represent the Gazette and the Southwick community at South-wick — Mrs. Russell L. Perkins, who is, no doubt, well known to all of you.

Mrs. Perkins first news of your community appears in this issue —
 and we hope to have it every issue.

Won't you please help her in her new work by jotting down the happenings of your family and neighbors and handing it to her, or calling and tell her the news.

Any help given will be appreciated
 by Mrs. Perkins as well as by the Gazette.

Heat Wave Appears Broken
 Following 93-degree heat last Sunday, which was probably the hottest day of the past week, the temperature took a sharp drop, and cool,
 almost cold evenings and mornings
 have been the rule since, with warm, sunny days — but not hot — the rule rather than the exception.

To date no rain has fallen, and harvesting operations are making splendid progress, the golden streams of wheat flowing steadily through the tubes and into the bins of local elevators, as loaded truck after truck appears and dumps its contents into their pits.

 Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Davis, former operators of the Jewelry & Gift Store, say in part: "We won't get to Kendrick nearly as often as we'd like and getting the paper will be the very best way to keep in touch."
 "We like Newport. It is quite a bit like Kendrick in many ways. The mountains and lakes are beautiful.
 We are planning a trip to Canada
 before the summer season is over."
 "We surely miss the friends we made in Kendrick, and our way of life there."

Fight Two Grass Fires

The local unit of the State Forestry department was called out Monday
 to fight a grass fire at the Vernon Brothers ranch this side of Lewiston.
 It was out by 4:30 p. m., being held to seven acres. One volunteer helper assisted, otherwise it was entirely the work of the Kendrick unit.

On Tuesday they were called to fight a 250 acre grass and stubble fire on the W. B. Johnson ranch in Tammany. The local unit was assisted by the Craigmont unit under the leadership of Vern Spekter, and volunteers from the area. The blaze was out by 6:30 p. m.

Potlatch Chief Sez

Published by the Kendrick Creamery

HELLO, THERE FOLKS —

Well, here we are, right "smack-dab in the middle" of harvest — and a wonderful harvest it is turning out to be — with the temperature and weather conditions just right.

However, harvesting operations mean lots of work — and to the busy farmer's wife time is valuable for there are many extra mouths to feed. So to her we direct these words:

Save yourself time and labor on desserts by serving Potlatch Chief brand ice cream. It will please the most fastidious with its fine texture and true flavor. One try will convince you.

Convict: "How long you in for?"
New Arrival: "Ninety-nine years. How long you in for?"
Convict: "Seventy-five."
New Arrival: "Then you take the bunk near the door — you'll be going out first."

Sandwiches for those Sunday picnics or evening beach get-togethers? Sure, and they'll taste all the better if made with pure, sweet Potlatch Chief butter. It's made from pasteurized cream — your assurance of purity and fine flavor. Try it. You'll use it all ways.

Jokester: "Know what the ceiling said to the four walls?"
Slightly drunk: "Nope. What did it say?"

Jokester: "Hold me up boys. I'm plastered!"

Madame Farmer: Are you trying to crowd canning into busy days of cooking for harvest crews? If you are, why not do it the easy, modern way — by freezing. At this creamery you will find a locker box to fit every need and pocketbook. Come in and look them over your next trip into town.
