School Election Scheduled

The annual school election for Kendrick Joint District No. 283, will be held in Trustee District No. 5 (Leland-Cameron) on Tuesday, September 2nd. The polls will be open from 1:00 p. m. to 6:00 p. m..

The polling place will be at the Leland Church basement.

Nominations must be on file with the Clerk six (6) days prior to the day of election. The nominating petition must specify the name of the candidate, together with the term for which nominated. Such petition must be signed by not less than five nor more than ten qualified resident electors of the school trustee district in which such nominee resides. — A. O. Kanikkeberg, Clerk.

HARVESTING WORK PAST PEAK — BUT GOING STEADILY

There is no doubt but what harvesting operations in this area are well past their peak, with quite a number of farmers, especially on the lower portion of Potlatch ridge, and other early sections, completed, with the possible exception of beans — and in the latter area, cutting is under way, and some have even arrived in town.

Trucks, of course, are still rolling, loaded with golden grain — wheat, oats and barley.

Ross Armitage of the Kendrick Bean Growers Association says that if the weather holds favorable, the bean crop should be one of the finest ever harvested in the Potlatch. The late, moist spring, and a rain just at the right moment have combined to cause the beans to set on well, and from seven to nine plump ones in a pod are not uncommon.

The grass and clover seed out-turn to date has far exceeded all expectations, according to G. F. Brocke, Sr., of Brocke & Sons, Seedsmen, Kendrick. Their big warehouse and cleaning establishment is jammed to the rafters, and machinery is operating around the clock. Even so, George says they have been losing ground, but the peak is past, and they will catch up.

W. A. Watts of the Kendrick Rochdale Co. said Tuesday that their big bins were filling fast, and that at times they had been almost "plugged," and with no cars available to ship. Bill adds that it's the same old story, a good average crop, but that as usual, since the days of the combine, everything comes in at once — and most everyone has a combine.

Ben Westendahl of the Lewiston Grain Growers states that they have lots of storage room left, and during the past season they were able to empty their bins of carry-over grain and this fact, plus the new construction of last year, gives them adequate space. He too, added that no box cars were available for shipping, but that unless warehouses in other towns filled up, and those farmers began hauling here, adequate space was assured.

Road To Be Seal Coated

The local state highway department crew has been busy the past while pre-mixing a considerable quantity of gravel in preparation for repairing and seal coating the road between Kendrick and Juliaetta.

The road, dust-oiled last year, has stood up remarkably well under the pounding of heavy traffic, but there are many holes that need filling and repairing.

The seal coating should provide a quite satisfactory surface for use this coming fall and winter. It is regrettable, however, that the road can not be straightened and widened at a number of points before this oiling operation takes place, particularly near the Werner Brammer ranch, where slide after slide has plagued the local workers for the past couple of years.

About The Swimming Pool

Several have made inquiry regarding how late the Area Living War Memorial Swimming Pool will be open for use this season — so Tuesday afternoon Ross Armitage, of that committee of the Village Trustees was contacted.

Mr. Armitage said: "The weather will be the governing factor. If it remains warm, the pool will remain open. A few days of chill rain, would, of course, close it for the season."

Present attendance is holding up quite well, with the exception of evening swimmers — which has been steadily dropping.

Loses Eye In Accident

Bob Grim, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Grim, Southwick, received a serious eye injury last Thursday at Camp T, while engaged in sawing.

In some freakish way, as he went about his work, the tree fell, and in limb flew up, hitting him in the right eye. He was rushed to the St. Joseph's hospital where he is still being cared for. It is not known at this time whether he has lost vision in the eye permanently or not. If so, the doctors say surgery next summer may restore his sight.

Tractor Trailer Over Bank

A big tractor-trailer unit loaded with lumber from the Juliaetta Lumber Co., went over the bank on the curve just above the Arrow depot Tuesday afternoon, landing on the railroad tracks below. Lumber was scattered everywhere — but the driver, escaped with only minor bruises. It is believed a top-heavy load and too much speed on the sharp corner were the cause.

The afternoon passenger train was delayed about 45 minutes as a result, while the wreckage was cleared away.

Students are asked to please report promptly at the hour designated as there is much to be accomplished at the registration session. The expedite matters it will help if the students have their registration money ready as in the past, so that open accounts can be held to a minimum.

Class Dues .....$2.00

For Grade School children registration day will be September 8th, and the book fees will be accepted at that time.

Hot Lunches

School Lunch rates have increased this year — as a result of necessity. The school board, the sponsoring agency for the school lunches, are desirous of operating the lunch programs "in the black" at all times. This appears no longer possible at the old price, with food prices as they are now. Only with the valiant efforts of the P. T. A. in canning so much fruit and vegetables, and economy in buying, can the type of lunch we have been serving, continue even at the advanced rate. Student rates have been increased from 20c to 25c per meal, and adult rates to 30c per meal.

Meetings Scheduled

Meetings scheduled to date are: Bus Drivers, Saturday, Aug. 30 at 8:00 p. m. in the school house at Kendrick.

Juliaetta, Southwick and Gold Hill teachers' meeting at the Juliaetta school house at 9:00 a. m., Tuesday, Sept. 2.

Kendrick High School faculty meeting Saturday evening, Sept. 6, at 7:30 o'clock at the Kendrick school.

Where They Will Attend School

A considerable number of members of the Class of 1952 of Kendrick High School are slated for institutions of higher learning this fall. Those of whom we have learned, and the schools they will attend, follow:

Bob McCall and Burton Souders, Jr., Kinman Business University, Spokane; Howard Wolf, Charles Christensen, Stanley Smith, Charles Parks, Parker McCreary, Maxine Slind, Kathleen Crawford, Dee Ann Mielke and Roger Jones, University of Idaho; Bud Holt, Washington State College; and Jeanette Bailey, nurses training at Pendleton, Oregon.

There may be others of which we have not learned.

Closed In Latah County

Shotguns will boom starting September 1, as hunters go to the field after mourning doves in most Idaho counties. The Idaho season will extend from September 1 to Sept. 15.

All counties of the state will be open to the hunting of mourning doves except Bear Lake, Benewah, Bonner, Boundary, Caribou, Clearwater, Idaho, Kootenai, Latah, Lewis, Nez Perce, Shoshone and Teton.

Cougar In This Area

Last Thursday, while engaged in hauling grain, Earl Whittinger saw a large cougar in the Brady Gulch section, as he was coming down that road. As he stopped the truck for a better look, the animal slunk away in the thick underbrush.

On Monday evening, while returning from woods work, Grant Bateman and a crew employed by the Juliaetta Lumber Co., spotted a cougar (probably the same one) near the old Cedar ridge school house — and gave chase down the road. However, a few jumps and the big cat was out of sight.

There is a $50.00 bounty, we understand, on these predators, so somebody will undoubtedly be taking up its trail soon.

Temporary Bridge Going Up

A state highway department crew has been busy this past week erecting a temporary bridge across Bear creek for use, they say, until a new and permanent structure can be erected to replace the one which collapsed under the weight of a Minkler logging truck about a month ago.

The temporary structure, being built, is on the site of the old bridge, and makes use of the old end piers. However, two sets of small piers were poured in the center of the creek, and logs put upright on them to assist in carrying the weight of the wooden structure. This temporary bridge will be for the use of cars and light-loaded vehicles, only. All logging trucks and other heavily loaded transports will be sent around on the present detour.

Those familiar with the waters of Bear creek say that the state had better hurry with the new bridge, for when it rises under the impact of late fall and winter rains and snows the present upright log piers will never be able to withstand the water pressure, nor will the two big culverts on the truck crossing carry the water volume.

Surveying crews are still working in this section, and no official word has yet come from Boise on plans to install the new bridge and realign the road and creek bed.

School buses will soon be traveling this route, and all we can say is that the state better hurry if it is to be accomplished this fall and winter.

Beverly Mattoon and Neal Samper were united in marriage last Saturday. They left Wednesday to visit relatives of the groom at Salt Lake City.

H. W. Lansing and Frank Koch were Lewiston business visitors on Friday.

The children attending the Cavendish Bible School, went to Beavercreek on a swimming party Friday. Mrs. Don Morgan, Rev. Knight, and "Sunday School" Johnston accompanied the group.

Miss Barbara LeBaro spent Saturday in Kendrick, having dental work done.

Weather Turns Chilly

The morning and evening air these days is bringing with it every indication of fall, and coming Indian summer.

Friday, Saturday and Sunday were quite warm. Friday evening being in particular, unseasonably warm — but cooler nights arrived Sunday, and have been continuing. Monday night especially was almost chill, and many light jackets made their appearance Tuesday morning.

The weather, however, continues ideal for harvesting operations, and bean cutting is getting under way in some sections, particularly the lower end of Potlatch ridge.

PERSONAL MENTION

of Lincoln, Nebraska, arrived here Tuesday morning for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Wallace.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Deobald and daughter Barbara of Pullman were callers Sunday in the home of his mother, Mrs. Elsie Deobald.

Benny Cook, who is employed by the N. P. railway at Paradise, Mont., was home Saturday and Sunday.

Have Fun With Bees And Honey

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stedman, who are remodeling their home in the east part of town, had a lot of "fun" with bees over the week-end.

For the past three years a colony of bees had made their home in one wall of the Stedman residence, near the kitchen, and when time came to remodel that portion, cyndie gas was injected and the bees killed. The old siding was then removed and the honey taken — but that was a real job, for the honey lay in such shape that it was difficult to get at, and it had to be dug out, rather than cut and scientifically handled.

When the job was completed the Stedmans had almost five gallons of fine strained honey — but the better part of a working day was gone — "and everything about the place was stickier."

Five New Arrivals

Aug. 12 — To Mr. and Mrs. Alva Craig, a 6 pound girl, Emma Lyn. Born at the Davidson Nursing Home.

Aug. 26 — To Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Potter, an 8½ pound son, also born at the Davidson Nursing Home.

Charged For Slice Of Bread

Lt. John Wallace, U. S. N., who who with his wife, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Wallace, relates an incident that happened on their trip here from Lincoln, Neb., where he is stationed.

John said, that being in a hurry, they stopped at Twin Falls, Idaho, at a drive-in to get a lunch. He ordered a salad. The waitress brought their order, but failed to bring bread or crackers with the salad, and brought but one glass of water. He asked for another glass of water and bread to accompany his order.

Out came the glass of water and a single slice of bread, accompanied by a charge of 10c. John asked whether the 10c was for the water or bread — and was informed it was for the single slice of bread!

That town really believes in "taking the tourist."

Club Meeting Postponed

The Kendrick Canyon Klub meeting has been postponed until September 10.

At that time all will meet at 11:00 a. m. at the Firemen's hall and a pot-luck dinner will follow at noon. The lesson on "Textile Painting" will be continued from the last meeting. All planning to come please bring card table and textile paints.

Above we reproduce a rare action picture of Chas. Deobald, taken by Tom Keene, while they were on a fishing trip last week.

Farallons, Bird Refuge, Now Closed to Civilians

California's Farallon islands, whose 1950 U.S. census count of an even 30 inhabitants was reported complete before the April 1 official census started, found human traffic there far greater in the 19th century than it has been in the first half of the 20th.

Russian sealers occupied the bleak group, 26 miles west of San Francisco's Golden Gate, from 1812 to 1833, notes the National Geographic society. Drafting Indians and Aleuts as labor, they reduced seals from abundance to scarcity, taking close to 200,000 skins for the China trade. Sir Francis Drake had restocked his vessel with seal meat at the Farallons in 1579.

During the 1849 gold rush in California, food was scarce in San Francisco. Egg-gathering from the nests of gulls and murrens on the Farallons became profitable and well organized, and the traffic continued for many years. Finally, bird lovers stepped in, and the islands are now a bird refuge, closed to civilians from April to August.

The Farallons, known but little even to mainland Californians, consist of three pinpoint groups of rocky islets spreading over seven miles of the Pacific ocean on air and water lanes of trans-Pacific travel. Paradoxically, although they are officially part of the City of San Francisco, the mayor and other city officials may not set foot on them without special permission.

The permission must come from the 12th coast guard district based in San Francisco. It provides the personnel that maintains the powerful beacon 358 feet above sea level atop Southeast Farallon, the only inhabited island of the group.

The lighthouse-keeping families live in neat, white houses at the foot of the high beacon cliff. A radar station and an automatic fog-signal horn complete the island's important navigation aid equipment.

Human Regard for Criminal Modern Idea, Says Educator

The idea that the legal offender shares a common humanity with his nonoffender brother is a relatively novel conception and regards the criminal as a human being and not subhuman, specialhuman, superhuman, infrahuman, robothuman, or extrahuman, Dr. Robert Lindner, clinical psychologist at Harlem Lodge, Catonsville, Maryland, told the first session of the third annual institute on crime and delinquency which University of California extension held in Los Angeles recently.

Declaring that "Offenders, too, are human," Dr. Lindner pointed out that the modern view of the criminal historically succeeds the primitive, theological, philosophical, mechanical, and psychiatric views.

"The modern view is based on a total approach to the offender, including the whole person and his history in the world; it is based upon scientific knowledge that is reaching a level of maturity; its sources are biological, anthropological, sociological, and psychological. Among these, the psychoanalytical appears to be the most fruitful and comprehensive."

Study Hydrogen Bonds

While other scientists the nation over concern themselves with hydrogen bombs, Dr. Joseph W. Ellis and Dr. Leonard Glatt of the physics department of the University of California are busy with hydrogen bonds—a study more closely related to everyday life. Hydrogen bonds are links which assist in holding together the long molecular chains found in many of the substances we use in our daily life. These links are formed by the sharing of a proton (hydrogen nucleus) between two units of the same or different molecules. Examples of substances they bind together are liquid water, proteins, and many plastics, including nylon.

From Everywhere

The ingredients of paint products literally come from the world's four corners. Take, for example, a quarter pint can of varnish stain. It's packed in a shipping case made from fibre that may have come from Norway. The paper for the label may have come from the same place. The tin for the can probably came from either Bolivia or Malaya. The contents may consist of linseed oil that came from Argentina, the drier from Asia, tung oil from China, resin from Africa and dyes from England. Skillfully combined by American know-how, the user benefits from world-wide activity which he seldom realizes.

Making Good Soils

"Somehow the notion gets around," says Dr. Charles E. Kellogg of the U. S. department of agriculture, "that originally our farm soils were highly productive; that is, productive when first plowed. Many of them were, like the black lands in our Middle West and in central Eurasia, for example, and in some of the great deltas and alluvial valleys. But most soils are not. It is through liming and fertilization, drainage, irrigation, the introduction of legumes, and a host of other practices, that farmers have made their soils productive," explains Dr. Kellogg.

Is Your Insurance Adequate?

A home catches fire in the United States every minute and a half. Of the 300,000 homes that will burn this year, yours may be one.

Are you properly insured? Or would a fire be a financial tragedy? In the last edition of the Reader's Digest in an article condensed from Nation's Business, Don Wharton tells what to do to prevent a fire becoming a ruinous economic loss. First, make sure you have enough insurance. The cost of replacing your home has greatly increased, but if you're like the majority of home owners you haven't increased your insurance in proportion.

Know the hazards you can be protected against, and insure against all that can be foreseen. The standard fire policy covers only damage from the fire, lightning, smoke, and the means used in fighting the fire. "Extended coverage," available at an extra premium, insures you against many dangers, such as windstorms, explosion, aircraft, vandalism, falling trees, etc.

Read your policy thoroughly to understand what you have insured. Many people fail to recover sums due them because they aren't aware that their policies cover certain losses. You may be insured, for instance, against damage by fire to property away from home.

You can save money by paying your premium every three to five years rather than on an annual basis.

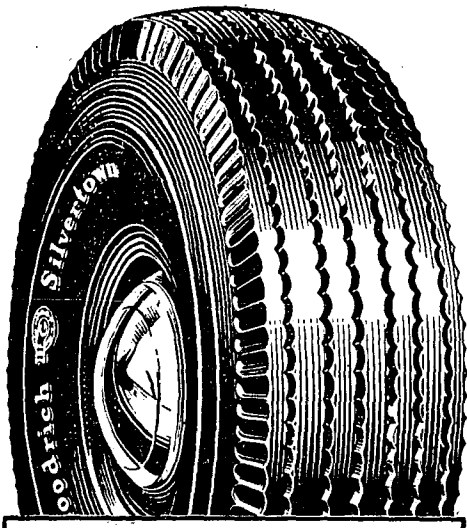

Be sure your property is specifically described and its ownership correctly stated. A policy in your name can lead to trouble if the house is in your wife's name.

If you have a fire, don't sign any statement until you've discussed it with your agent, and don't settle with the adjuster for any figure he suggests. Most adjusters are fair, but you need professional opinion—that of a good contractor, for instance—in estimating the true costs of repairs or replacement.

Sit-Down Dentist's Career Is Longer, Professor Says

Several years of service will be added to the life of the average dentist if he sits down part of the time while he works.

This is the belief of Edgar W. Swanson, D.D.S., M.S.D., professor of operative dentistry at Northwestern university dental school, who recommends that dentists use operative stools at least 50 per cent of the time.

Dr. Swanson said students in the operative technique laboratory at the Northwestern dental school use operative stools about 60 per cent of the time. Students in the clinics use the stools from 10 to 90 per cent per operation.

Northwestern, convinced that operative stools will be used more widely by dentists to eliminate fatigue and extend their years of service, trains students in the use of the stools.

To obtain more accurate information on the reaction of students to the stools, the school recently sent a questionnaire to every member of its senior class.

The first question was: "Do you feel as tired at the end of the day when you have used an operating stool as you do when you have operated from the conventional standing position?" All but three answered "no." Two of those answering "yes" said it may have been due to their limited experience with the use of a stool.

The second question was: "Do you like the idea of sitting while operating?" All answered "yes."

To the question, "Would you do more operating from a sitting position if more stools were available?" All senior students answered "yes."

Dr. Swanson points out that the operative stool enables a dentist to change his position during the day, which is extremely important in preventing fatigue.

Sugar-Craving Animals Lured by Poison Plants

There may be danger ahead when livestock pass up lush pastures in favor of weeds and tough plants.

The attraction may be a poisonous spray or other chemical that gives ordinary unpalatable weeds and plants a special taste-appeal.

A bulletin issued by the American Veterinary medical association explains it this way: Certain chemicals used in farming, such as sodium chlorate, turn plant starches to sugar, and animals with a "sweet tooth" readily eat the sprayed plants.

Not all the chemicals used for spraying crops and treating soil are poisonous to animals, the AVMA emphasizes, but many of them are. The severity of poisoning varies directly with the kind of chemical and the amount of treated plants the animals consume.

Experiments are still being made to test the safety of various new chemicals on the market, and until all the facts are known, livestock farmers are advised to use only those proved to be safe and to follow manufacturers' instructions.

Resistant Plants

Plant diseases are no respecters of experimental plots. As a result, scientists have sometimes acquired valuable information in the nick of time. So it was in the case of Victoria blight of oats, which invaded breeding plots and demonstrated to plant breeders of the U. S. department of agriculture and some of the middle west state experiment stations a type of disease resistance soon to be needed on a large scale. Clinton—and some of the other new varieties of oats derived from the Bond variety—in that way became known as resistant to a disease soon to be rampant in the Mississippi valley. This disease attacked the widely grown oat varieties derived from the Victoria oat brought in from South America.

Vanishing Wildlife

Gone from the British Isles since World War II is the great bustard, Europe's largest land bird. Going or gone from haunts in Florida and vicinity is the ivory-billed woodpecker, largest of its clan. Deserting the Bahamas in alarming fashion is the tall, scarlet-hued flamingo, whose one United States haven is at Hialeah park, Miami, Florida. Whales, vital food source for many Europeans, long have been reduced to scarcity in northern hemisphere waters. Blue whales, biggest of all, currently show signs of sharp depletion in Antarctic whaling grounds. A new international treaty shortens the hunting season as a whale conservation measure.

First Tank Car

On November 1, 1865, about six years after the world's first oil well was opened at Titusville, Pennsylvania, the first tank car was loaded in that city. It was a flat car fitted with two wooden tanks shaped like inverted tubs. Many of these "rotary" oil cars, as they were called, were used for transporting oil from the Pennsylvania wells, until replaced by the present type of horizontal cylindrical tank, fitted with a dome which allows the oil to expand without injury to the tank. The first of this type was introduced in 1868.

Lewiston Roundup Coming
Lewiston — The roughest, meanest bucking stock and the toughest, most talented cowboys in the world will lock horns legs and horns when the 18th annual edition of the Lewiston Roundup, Idaho's largest rodeo, is presented Sept. 5, 6 and 7. The dates fall on the traditional Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Famous for its fast arena action, the Lewiston show is one of the "Big Four" rodeos of the Pacific Northwest. An affiliated group also includes the Pendleton Roundup and the Ellensburg and Walla Walla rodeos. The Lewiston Roundup is known among the cowboys as the "show of champions," both because it attracts the top professional talent of the United States and Canada, and the 4,450 points won in its contests often are decisive in determining world championships.

Principal contest events, in which the riders will compete for cash prizes of $4,450 in addition to their pooled entry fees, are professional saddle bronc riding, bareback riding, Brahma bull riding, calf roping, bulldogging and amateur saddle bronc riding for novice cowboys. An added event is the championship finals in bronc riding, in which the six outstanding tophands in saddle bronc riding compete against the six toughest mounts for the show championship on the final day.

AMERICAN RIDGE NEWS

Jim Nelson is helping his grandfather, Mr. Nelson, at Genesee this week.

Mrs. Frank Abrams and sons and Mrs. O. E. Havens spent Wednesday (two weeks ago) with Mrs. George Havens, Friday Mrs. O. E. Havens left for her home in Bremerton. Deny Abrams spent the night with Ranner Havens.

Gale Meyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Meyer of San Francisco, accompanied by friends from Moscow, were Monday callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bigham.

Building About Town

Walter Sparber and Ben P. Cook were busy last week and the forepart of this week repairing the roof on the R. L. Blewett building. Rafters and studs were replaced and the roof, damaged in the severe windstorm of a month ago, repaired and partially reroofed.

Everett Fraser is busy in his spare time building a work shop at his home on the school house hill. The building will be of concrete block construction.

Remodeling operations on the store room adjoining the Kendrick Creamery are under way, with Oscar Medalin, the owner, assisted by Walter Sparber, doing the work. A sign in the window announces that it is to be occupied by a Gamble's Western Auto Supply store.

Forest Income Increases

Missoula — The total earnings of the 17 national forests in the Northern Forest Service region were $4,576,810 in the fiscal year ending on June 30, 1952. P. D. Hanson, regional forester, said this week. That makes the past 12 months the highest income year to date for the forests in northern Idaho, northeast Washington, Montana and northwest South Dakota. The amount is $850,474 more than in the fiscal year 1951 and the largest gain was the step up of $748,814 in timber sales. Timber selling brought in a total of $3,926,218.15 net. Grazing fees for cattle and sheep mounted to $591,956.70 net. Land use rentals paid $36,555.90 net, while water power rights sold for $22,079 net. Twenty-five percent of the year's income is returned to the states and the apportioned to counties having national forest land, for the benefit of schools, local roads and trails.

The increased income reflects the growing value of national forest products, Mr. Hanson said. But it does not reflect the non-cash values such as water produced for domestic, agricultural and recreational use. Nor does the dollar sign cover the recreation and food worth of the thousands of big game animals harvested from the national forests each year. Neither is the general out-of-doors public recreation use of the national forest paid for in direct cash. But water, recreation, fish and game all contribute to the income of the entire state in both winter and summer.

Potlatch Chief Sez

Published by the Kendrick Creamery

HELLO, THERE, FOLKS —

Well, here it is almost time for school to begin again, harvest is past its peak, and the days are shortening noticeably. As the days shorten, and colder weather comes, milk becomes of more importance. See to it that your children have at least a quart a day — and you, yourself, at least a pint. Those are the minimum requirements for health, according to scientists.

The irate wife had just finished giving her husband a sharp lecture. "And don't you argue with me, either," she snapped at the end of her tirade. "Argue," replied the poor man. "Why, I never said a word!" "No," retorted his shrew, "but you were listening in a most unpleasant way!"

Going picnicked, camping, fishing before summer ends? Most of you are — and before you go stock your larder with pure, fresh Potlatch Chief brand butter. It's made from pasteurized cream — your assurance of purity and quality. One taste will convince you of the fine, sweet flavor.

Club Woman: "I hear they are starting a new campaign against malaria." Social Climber: "Dear me! What have the Malarians done now?"

Ice cream time is never over — be it summer or winter. Keep that Potlatch Chief ice cream on hand all the time. And have you tried it inside a half Juliaetta cantaloupe? Man, there's a dish fit for kings.

A reporter for a paper was instructed to use fewer words in his stories. On his next assignment he wrote: "John Smith struck match to see if any gas was in tank. There was. Age, 32."
