Bank Totals Show Leap

In this issue of the Gazette will be found a "call statement" of the Farmers Bank, and readers will note a real jump in the totals since the previous call, in June.

This call shows totals well over the million and three-quarter mark, and A. O. Kanikkeberg, cashier, says that since September 5 (date of the call) the totals have climbed over the $2 million mark.

We believe that such figures are a true indication of the solidity of a community, as well as of the bank itself — and congratulations are due Mr. Kanikkeberg and the institution's directors.

JOINT DISTRICT P-T. A. WELCOMES TEACHERS

The Joint District P-T. A. held its first fall meeting Monday evening in the Kendrick High school, with Mrs. Nora Callison, vice president, presiding.

The program opened with group singing, led by Burke Sower.

Following the reading of the Minutes and treasurer's report, Jasper Nutting, superintendent, introduced the teachers. In doing so he noted there was only one new teacher in the system — Mr. Anderson, who is the Science instructor in the High school.

Mr. Nutting gave high praise to the teaching staff, recognizing good fortune in having all experienced teachers, and in all modesty said we had one of the best school systems in the Northwest, with the smallest turn over in teacher replacement. He added, while we may want and need more material equipment, we are not wanting qualified teachers.

The President then named the standing committees for the year.

Mrs. Wm. Johnson, who was elected a district vice president for Latah county at the district meeting in Troy last week, was called on. She in turn told of the meeting and the duties her job entailed.

Mrs. James Holt, chairman for the Hot Lunch Canning project, gave her report of produce processed during the summer. And what a report it was! Hundreds of quarts of fruit and vegetables had been canned or frozen and were now ready for use in the Hot Lunch kitchen. She expressed her thanks for the fine cooperation shown by the women in the area, but added they weren't through yet! Chickens and peaches were still to be cared for.

Under new business Mrs. A. O. Kanikkeberg, secretary, brought before the group a petition to keep our doctor, D. A. Christensen, here, and asked that as a unit they get behind it. She went on to explain that if some drastic action isn't taken immediately, he will be drafted into the Armed Forces, as they are taking doctors up to 50 years of age.

Dr. Christensen serves a vast area here, and it would be a major calamity to be without a doctor.

Following is a list of those taking petitions to the various communities: Mrs. Darwin Tarry Southwick; Mrs. Gordon Peters, Leland-Cameron; Mrs. Ronald Jones, Big Bear ridge; Mrs. Nora Callison, American ridge; Mrs. Eugene Taylor, Juliaetta area; Mrs. A. O. Kanikkeberg, Kendrick.
The meeting was then turned over to the program chairman, Mrs. Ross Armitage, who presented a lively program, including two skits.

The first was a school room scene, with Mrs. Cecil Gruell portraying a teacher giving a test. Mrs. Armitage, as a parent, gave a vivid picture of how not to visit school. After the laughter died down a discussion was held on what the teacher expects of the parent.

Next Mrs. Eldridge, acting as a P-T. A. president, showed "high pressure" book salesman, Mrs. Wm. Johnson, some neat sales resistance techniques. This brought gales of laughter, as well as a vivid picture lesson.

The program was concluded with two piano solos by Mrs. Oscar Slind. The meeting then adjourned to the Hot Lunch room, where delicious cake and ice cream were served by the hospitality committee, and a social hour enjoyed.

Many Local Students At U.

It seems that Kendrick and vicinity will be very well represented at institutions of higher learning this coming term, with the following attending the U. of I.: Gerald White, Dan Crocker, Patricia Long, Patricia Brocke, Maurice Long, Luther Parks, Douglas Christensen, Buddy Clemenhagen, Jerry Chamberlain, Gordon Cook, Harold Freeman, Charles Parks, Howard Wolff, Charles Christensen, Parker McCreary, Maxine Slind, Kathleen Crawford, Dee Ann Mielke, Roger Jones, Clifford Cook, Bob Heimgartner and Peggy Cox.

Removing Large Skylight

Walter Sparber and Oscar Medallin, owner of the Kendrick Creamery building, have been very busy the past few days, literally running a race against time as they strove to remove the large skylight in the building, repair rafters and sheathing, and install a new roof before rain fell — and they won the race.

The skylight, always a source of leaks and trouble, served both sides of the building, that of the creamery and of the store section. More artificial light will have to be used — but at least things will stay dry.
A large drive-in door is also being installed on the store side.

EIGHTEEN PRESENT AT COMMERCIAL CLUB MEET

Thirteen members and five guests were present for the regular monthly meeting of the Kendrick Commercial Club, with the 6:30 dinner being served at Burt's Confectionery, and the business session which followed held in the Firemen's Hall.

The meeting was presided over by Gerald Ingle, chairman, and Wallace Miller, secretary.

The five guests, Scout men from Lewiston, were introduced by Dr. D. A. Christensen.

Mr. Mickelson, Scout Executive, was given the floor and proceeded to outline the Boy Scout program. He discussed the financial, educational and outdoor programs, and other topics pertaining to Scouting. A brief talk elaborating further portions of the work was also given by Dr. Williams.

Mr. Malcolm also spoke, his talk pertaining to the summer camp for Scouts, and the activities used in this portion of the work. He stated that 76 boys had enjoyed the camp.

Mr. Mickelson added that the camp cost was about $1,000 per week.

Mr. Allwood, chairman of the finance committee was the next speaker. His talk was mostly on Scout financing and the importance of keeping good records. He reported that $27,000 was needed for Lewis-Clark Boy Scout activities for the coming year.

Ben P. Cook, reporting for the Education committee, told of the enrollment in the various schools of the district, and added that bus and other schedules seemed to be working out very well.

Dennis Racicot, coach, also gave a report to the club on sports, and outlined briefly athletic prospects for the coming year.

At this time the V. F. W. was authorized to sponsor a dance, should that organization so desire.

There being no further business to come before the group, adjournment was taken until Wednesday, October 8th.

Books Replace Smoke Jumping

Gordon Cook arrived home Sunday to prepare for the opening of school at the University of Idaho, after spending the summer as a "smoke jumper" with the Forestry Service.

Gordon was stationed at Cave Junction, Oregon, and was working on the aerial project of the Forest Service. This was a new and thrilling experience for him.

Following a three-week period of intensive training, the group of 30 took seven training jumps.

Gordon took his first real jump on a fire in Mendocino National Forest in California, and escaped possible injury when his chute failed to open properly (opening inside-out), only by putting into practice some of the safeguards he had learned in training, breaking his fall by going into a roll when he hit the ground.

This failed to dampen his spirits, however, and he went on to jump and engage in fighting three different forest fires during the summer, one of which was in California.

He reports a wonderful summer, full of daring and adventure. These crews are made up principally of young men, working their way through college. He said he was privileged to meet Danny On (who jumped over American Ridge last spring to visit at the A. W. Bailey home in Juliaetta) and said Danny had completed 80 jumps since receiving that training.

Gordon is a senior at the University of Idaho, majoring in psychology. He is the elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben P. Cook.

Parents Of Son

Mr. and Mrs. Don Bateman, Headquarters, are the proud parents of a 7-pound son, born to them Sept. 12th at the home of her mother, Mrs. Veta Stump, Kendrick.

Wonderful Harvest Weather

This area certainly cannot complain of the wonderful harvest weather enjoyed over the week-end and up until Tuesday evening of this week.

The skies were almost cloudless, and a warm wind assisted materially in drying out grain and beans still in the fields for continuation of harvesting operations.

Saturday night was the coldest of the summer season, a thick white frost being visible on many of the roofs here in the canyon — and we understand it nipped many gardens on top the ridges.

Old Engine Takes Ride

Local residents rubbed their eyes and stared, almost in disbelief, Tuesday shortly after noon, when a large transport truck and trailer stopped in Kendrick — loaded with, of all things, an old-time Case steam engine.

First thought, of course, was that the engine was headed for the "scrap heap," but an inquiry to the driver produced the information that the relic was going to have a new home as part of the famous Busch collection of engines, near Uniontown, Wn.

The big Case steamer was purchased by Mr. Busch from Alva Craig. It had been used in years gone by to power the Craig & Sons sawmill on Gold Hill, and was in operating condition, although some paint, polish and "elbow grease" would assist materially.

Such engines, once a common sight, and the "work horses" of the threshing machine days, have become real museum pieces. It is regrettable that so many have landed in the scrap heap — but then, many were worn out and beyond all hope of repair.

Play It Safe
A statewide appeal for safety in the field cannot be too strongly stressed at this time. Each year the mental and physical suffering caused by carelessness of Idaho sportsmen grows and grows. However, our "Frankensteins" can be controlled by the observance and practice of just plain common sense.
Orin E. Lee, president of District I of the Idaho Wildlife Federation, put down five simple points pertaining to big game hunting that have a lot of merit, and it will be no waste of time for the sportsman planning his trip to keep these five points in mind.
1. Take it easy. Be sure before you shoot.
2. Carry a map and a compass and matches in a waterproof container. Plot your hunting area and watershed directions before you leave camp.
3. Spend a little money and effort on equipment. Good wool clothing is a must if you have to spend a night in the open in Idaho's hinterlands.
4. If you are hunting elk it is wise to give careful thought to the packing of your meat before you shoot. To back-pack a 500-lb. elk just a few hundred yards requires more energy than is often available in an entire camp. During that rainy weather last fall frantic hunters searched for horses while their meat spoiled.
5. Lastly, make your hunt a real vacation. Establish a good camp with a stove and a warm tent. Enjoy the scenery, the camp stories and the anticipation of the hunt. A real sportsman can have a most successful hunt without a game kill. And remember: Alcohol and gun powder make a most dangerous combination!

Rally Well Attended
The Republican rally, held last Friday evening was attended by some 90 persons, about 20 of whom were from Moscow, and included the Latah county candidates.
With Roy Ramey acting as Master of Ceremonies, the program opened with the singing of "America."
From that point on the various candidates were introduced, and gave brief talks, explaining the duties of the jobs for which they were candidates.
Of particular interest were the talks given by Lloyd G. Martinson, candidate for Probate Judge; William C. Moore, candidate for state senator, and Alvon Hampton, candidate for state representative.
Mr. Martinson explained fully the duties of the Probate Judge, which not only include estate work, but also juvenile delinquency; adoption of children, and the hearing of minor legal cases.
Mr. Moore explained the action of the last legislature in discontinuing N. I. C. E. and S. I. C. E. — telling of the expenses of maintaining these two schools, the subjects they had offered, etc. He stated that the state of Idaho, with a population of 571,000 had fewer inhabitants than the city of Seattle in Washington, that Idaho lands are 83 percent owned by the federal government (forests), and so the tax income was insufficient to support four institutions of higher learning.
Alvon Hampton explained briefly the problem of distribution of tax money to schools, and said that in his opinion action must be taken by the next legislature for tax relief of some areas and more equitable distribution.
The introductions and talks of the candidates was interspersed with music, a vocal trio composed of Mrs. Dennis Racicot and daughter Jane and Donna Kanikkeberg, presenting two numbers.
Alvon Hampton, accompanied by Mrs. Hampton, sang two numbers, and Alfred Robinson of Moscow played a piano solo.
The evening closed with doughnuts and coffee, served in the banquet room.

Still In Colfax
In a brief note accompanying a subscription remittance, Don Jacobs, former instructor in the Kendrick High school, says in part:
"I'm still at the same address here in Colfax. During the past year I have seen a few Kendrick people, but most of my news comes from the Gazette every week.
"I didn't have much luck this summer in track, as I pulled a leg muscle early in the year. However, I managed to run a fair 100 meters in the A. A. U. meet at Long Beach, Calif., against some of the best sprinters from over the country. Two of my opponents made the Olympic team — Dean Smith of Texas and Jack Davis of U. S. C.
"Please say 'Hello' to the folks down that way for me.

Watch Out For Stock
Al Schussler, a member of the Idaho Wildlife Federation, made this comment on the approaching bird and duck season:
With the bird season approaching I imagine we'll hear of a few eyes being put out by stray shot, and several head of stock being mistaken for Hungarian partridges. And then, to be quite blunt about, we'll hear of a couple of guys getting their guts blown out in a duck blind, or in a car. I can't think of a very pretty way to make these statements, but then again the facts each year are not a thing of beauty.
Let's all take it a little easier this year and think twice when we pick up "old Betsy."
Also, let's close gates behind us and ask permission to hunt.

Undergoes Appendectomy
Fred Gladen was rushed to the St. Joseph's hospital at Lewiston Thursday evening of last week, where he underwent an emergency operation for appendicitis.
He is recovering nicely, as Dr. D. A. Christensen got him there before the appendix burst.
Real Economist
"My wife's a wonder," bragged one man to another. "One winter she knitted me socks out of an old bathing suit, and now she's knitting a bathing suit for herself out of one of my old socks!"

Grouse Season Sept. 20
Grouse season will open at noon Saturday, September 20, in Clearwater, Latah, Lewis and Nez Perce counties, and all of Idaho county except the portion lying south of the main Salmon river and east of the Little Salmon river, the state fish and game department announced this week.
Bag and possession limit will be three birds in the aggregate, the department said. The season will end in this area Sunday evening, October 5.
Blue, ruffed and Franklin's grouse may be taken only. There is a closed season on sage grouse. No grouse hunting is permitted on state game preserves, bird preserves, bird refuges or bird sanctuaries.
Hunters are cautioned about the use of fire in grouse hunting areas, which are extremely dry. Be especially careful when smoking, and be sure to completely put out any camp fire.

Undergoes Appendectomy

Sawmill Booklet Available
To save wood essential in defense, industry and home use, the Forest Service in the U. S. Department of Agriculture has issued a booklet on how to improve small sawmill operation, entitled: "The Small Sawmill Operator's Manual."
This country's 51,000 small sawmills, defined as mills cutting up to 20,000 board feet of lumber in an 8-hour day, have long been regarded as an important part of the lumber industry in all parts of the nation. They economically produce lumber where large mills are impractical, supply local needs from locally owned timber, contribute to lumber supplies for metropolitan areas and serve as auxiliaries to large mills.

The need for improving small sawmill operations was recognized as early as 1926, when a unit was set up at the Forest Products Laboratory, Madison, Wis., to improve the efficiency of small sawmills.
This 124-page manual, written by C. J. Telford, small sawmill specialist at the laboratory, evaluates various types of machinery manufactured today. It explains mechanical principles of the parts of a small sawmill so the operator can construct certain items for himself. It contains 132 drawings and photographs to help the operator set up and manage his mill. Copies of the manual may be secured from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D. C., for 65c per copy.

Listed as Agricultural Handbook No. 27, the booklet contains information ranging from how to sharpen saws to the horse-power requirements of various saws. It also describes mill layout and explains how to mill logs containing the usual run of defects.

Made To Measure
Gramp Anthony, our ever-helpful neighbor, came over to help plant pole beans. "Now," he said, "before we put in the poles, I'd better take some measurements."
"What do you have to measure?" I asked.
"You," he said. "Turn around and lean over," he went on, taking a tape measure from his pocket. "No use a-gittin' the poles so close together you can't get between 'em. Forgot to measure my wife one year and I had to pick the beans." — The Reader's Digest.

Early Arrivals On Hand
More than 100 freshmen women will be among the early arrivals on the University of Idaho campus Friday, Sept. 12. These women are the rushees for the university's eight national sororities.
They will begin a get-acquainted program by attending a Pan Hellenic tea at 1:00 p. m. on the opening day of rush, starting from the Student Union building and being escorted from house to house. University dormitories will be open the evening of September 11 to accommodate the rushees.
Rush for men at the university's 14 national fraternities, which is held on a more informal basis, starts on September 14. The rush program is scheduled early so that it will be completed by the time registration starts September 18. Many students are already on the campus, with delegations of each fraternity and sorority on hand to get houses in order.
The start of football practice Monday not only brought a large number of athletes to the campus, but also many wives. Five of the wives were in the stands to watch their husbands go through the first toughening up exercises ordered by Coach "Babe" Curfman.

Real Rotation Plan
In Korea one sergeant's outfit discussed the rotation plan, morning, noon and night. Fed up, the sergeant called them together. "Attenshun! Left face, left face, left face, left face!" he commanded in rapid succession. Then said: "Now every last one of you has been rotated, and I don't want to hear the word again."

To Add Teacher Training

The University of Idaho has taken sweeping action to make its offering in elementary teachers' training among the most extensive in the Pacific Northwest. Ten new courses in elementary education were added for the 1951-52 academic year, it was announced.

New emphasis on elementary education at the university comes as a result of closure this fall of the state's two teacher colleges, NICE and SICE. The university already has a well-established elementary education training program, with about 100 students currently majoring in this field.

"Our responsibility in elementary education has been increased, however, and we are taking all necessary steps to carry them out," said

Dean Weltzin. "Some of the new courses, such as those in music, art and industrial arts, will be absorbed by present faculty members of other divisions. One specialist in primary education will be added to the school of education staff."

He Got Himself a Job!
Training a new cocker spaniel puppy to "speak" for his meals, the pup's owner would hold the dog's food just out of reach and then bark a few times before giving it to him. The pup, he hoped, would associate barking with food, and begin to "speak" for himself.

After a week of this, he again held the food just out of reach, and waited for the dog to bark. The puppy failed to take his cue, but the owner put the dish before him anyway. Then came the real shock. The puppy refused to eat — until his master barked! — Reader's Digest.

... they teach the truth — so that your children may remain free!

We salute the men and women of the teaching profession. Free to seek and teach truth, they have done much to make this nation great and keep it free.

Their responsibility is to give your children education, not propaganda — and truth, so that they will remain free.

It is not so in totalitarian countries—communist, fascist, or socialist. There teachers must follow the "party line," and teach only what party bosses choose to call truth. . . . Don't let this happen here!

What does this have to do with your electric service? Plenty! If government "takes over" private enterprise electric systems, other industries, the medical and other professions, much freedom of opportunity for youth is lost . . . and freedom to teach youth honestly and fearlessly is in danger.

For Better Health

For giving relief from painful conditions, such as headaches, back ache, sciatic, etc., osteopathy has established a wonderful reputation. The same is true of many chronic disorders. If you are ill investigate osteopathy for yourself. Many people are healthier and happier today because they investigated and tried osteopathy "yesterday."

Potlatch Chief Sez

Published by the Kendrick Creamery

HELLO, THERE, FOLKS —

It's been pretty nice weather the past several days — and most of you have been really busy with fall work. But even so, don't neglect that steady source of income, your cows. Feed them well, care for them regularly, and sell the cream to us. You'll be surprised how that income will count up — month after month.

Movie Goer: "Isn't it wonderful the progress the movies have been making in the last few years?"
Motion Picture Critic: "Yes, it surely is. First they moved; then they talked, and now most of them smell!"

Going hunting? Most of you are. Here's a suggestion that will make those hotcakes taste even better in the morning: Sprinkle liberally with chunks of "Potlatch Chief" brand butter. It's fine sweet taste and smooth texture will add zest to that breakfast. And remember, it's made from pasteurized cream. Your assurance of purity.

All the animals had left the ark except two snakes lying over in a corner. Noah asked them: "Why don't you go forth and multiply?"
"We can't," replied one, "we're adders."

Want something for a snack for the children when they come home from school, hungry? If you do, keep Potlatch Chief brand ice cream in the refrigerator or deep freeze, and serve them a dish or a cone when you hear that cry: "Mom, I'm hungry." It's good for them, and quick and easy for you to serve.

Milk is liquid sunshine. See to it that your children have lots of pure pasteurized Potlatch Chief milk, as the winter months close in.
