NEWSY ITEMETTES FROM AMERICAN RIDGE AREA

4-Hers Take Part In Contest
Our 4-H Girls, Nita Benschoter, Loeta and Celia Roberts and their assistant leader left Moscow at 7:00 o'clock Friday morning for Portland, joining others and making three carloads of 4-H Club boys and girls to go. Our girls received a Red ribbon on their judging as a team. Loeta Roberts received a Blue ribbon on her house coat.

All were given free tickets for all the entertainment they could hope to see when they arrived in Portland, and before leaving Moscow each one received a $20.00 bill from the Moscow Lions Club.

While at Portland they saw the Royal Canadian Mounted Police exhibition riding team; went to Tillamook to see the ocean, went wading, and then enjoyed a sea food dinner in a small restaurant facing the ocean, where they could watch the fishing boats.

Later they went to Mt. Hood and Timberline Lodge, where they played in the snow; saw the fish hatchery at Bonneville, and viewed the dam, and on to Fairview Farms, where 300 cows are milked twice daily.

Sunday Mrs. Harold Roberts and Loeta and Celia went to see the Bible College, and on Monday the group shopped at the huge Meier & Frank store at Portland. It was in this building, on the 10th floor, that the big 4-H banquet was held.

All-in-all they reported a most wonderful trip. They returned home Monday night, tired, but happy, and with memories that will long remain.

One of the competitors in the Open Class cattle judging at the Fair was Jack Benschoter.

Writes From Korea

From Cpl. Alex Weaver, now in Korea, comes the following letter:

Dear Bill: Well, I'll write a few lines while sitting here doing nothing. I think that it's about time — anyhow, I want to write and thank you for the paper. Ever since I have been over here it has been a most welcome item in keeping me up to date on what is going on around home. It arrives just about as regular as could be expected under present conditions.

I'm located in about the same general area as when I wrote you last winter. There is a little more fighting going on now than there has been for the past nine or ten months.

We are supporting the 8th ROCK division, and about three nights ago it really got the heck "rocked out of it." They lost several companies, so I guess an American division is going to replace them. I heard it would be the 45th Division, the Oklahoma National Guard outfit.

Well, I thought I would get to rotate home in August, because I have 36 points the last of that month, and that's the amount needed to be eligible for rotation, but as luck would have it, we have no replacements — so I'm still here, and I'm collecting my 39th point now. I have hopes of making it in October, but guess I had better not build those hopes too high.

Well, I guess this is all for now, only tell everyone I said "Hello," and to thank you for that paper. Maybe, before long, I'll be back in the good old United States, and Idaho. Any way I'm sure hoping so, because this is an awfully poor example of a country. Sincerely — Alex Weaver.

Grange Booster Night

Forty-one Grangers and friends enjoyed the annual Booster Night Tuesday evening.

A program was presented with Ann Kanikkeberg, Jane Racicot and Mrs. Dennis Racicot singing two fine old negro spirituals.

Mrs. Robert Draper gave a report on the food both at the Latah County Fair, and as chairman of this committee, the Grangers recognized the work involved and presented her with a gift in appreciation.

Rev. F. C. Schmidt then showed a series of beautiful pictures taken in Alaska.

Refreshments followed in the banquet room.

Putting Roads Into Shape

The local road crews, of the state and highway district, have been going their level best the past several days to get roads into shape for winter, but admit that it is an almost hopeless task. So hard is the roads, just won't stay put, and a few vehicles kick it out and scatter it everywhere. It's all but impossible to smooth off ridges, too, for the road is so hard the blades "just bounce" despite the weight and power of the big graders.

It looks like the crews will have to wait until rain falls — but when it does they may have a lot of road to work in a very short time, for the season is getting late.

GLEN DANIEL BETTS DIES OF HEART ATTACK WED.

Glen Daniel Betts, well known farmer and woods worker of Southwick, passed away early Wednesday morning, October 1st, while on a hunting trip about 17 miles north of his home at Southwick. The cause of death was a heart attack.

Mr. Betts was born at Hillsdale, Michigan on April 26, 1885. He came west about 1904, and spent a couple of years in and around Spokane, before settling at his present home near Southwick in 1906.

On December 23, 1924, he was united in marriage to Miss Alma Finke, and to this union two children were born, a daughter, Adella, now Mrs. Don Christensen, residing at Dent, and a son, Eugene, at home — who, with Mrs. Betts, survive him. One granddaughter and one grandson; two brothers, Russell of Southwick and Homer of Lewiston, and a half-brother, Andrew, of Gary, Indiana, also survive, as do several nieces and nephews, and a host of friends.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in the Brower-Wann Chapel at Lewiston, with the Rev. Paul Daneker officiating.

Interment was in Normal Hill cemetery, Lewiston. Pallbearers were Kaud Helton, Fred Stage, Denzil Wuykendall, George Christensen, John Pavel and Russell Perkins, all close friends of the deceased.

Mr. Betts was a man who made friends easily, and who retained them. He was always ready to lend a helping hand to any friend or neighbor in distress, and his sudden passing comes as a severe shock to all. He will long be missed from the Southwick community.

SCHOOL NOTES

Carnival Success

Last Friday evening, October 3, Kendrick High school held its annual Carnival, which is always one of the high lights of the school year. This time it had many large concessions, decorated and operated by the various classes — and they worked hard indeed, to make them successful.

The King and Queen were crowned at 10:30 p. m. Donna Plastino was elected Queen. She presented a lovely appearance indeed, attired in a blue formal.

The King chosen was Jack Parsley. He was attired for the crowning in sport clothes.

The King and Queen received gifts from the school, presented by Lee Jones, student body president.

Results of the carnival were approximately $356.15, which we feel is very good, considering the size of the school and the fact that many patrons were away on hunting trips.

Tigers To Meet Wildcats
Next Friday, the Kendrick Tigers tangle with the Lapwai Wildcats on the local playing field — and we would appreciate all the support possible for our team — let's all go!

Kendrick, this year, is playing eight-man ball.

Hot, Dry Weather Continues

The hot, dry weather of the past month is still with us — although the nights have grown much cooler, and ridge residents report a white frost a couple of mornings.

Pasture lands are tinder dry and the ground baked like a rock. Farmers, dry plowing, report working conditions extremely difficult, and deplore the lateness of the season, some have chosen to wait rain.

Hunters returning report the woods very dry and very noisy, with leaves still hanging on the trees and brush — which makes the detection of sound or movement (other than their own) extremely difficult. Some report heavy frost that enabled them to cool out their meat well at night — others, in different areas, experienced great difficulty saving their kill.

Without a doubt this is the longest dry spell for this season of the year; that has ever been recorded — and this is borne out by weather bureau reports.

To Speak In Kendrick

The Hon. John T. Wood, M. C., will speak on the issues of the day at the Fraternal Temple, Kendrick, next Friday evening, October 10, at 8:00 p. m. In addition there will be a short program, followed by refreshments of coffee and doughnuts.

Mr. Woods feels that there has been far too much "second hand" information, much of which is inaccurate — and he wishes to discuss the issues of the day "first hand."

All are welcome.

The Census Bureau reports that Idaho's 44 counties range in size from Clark, with a population of 918, to Ada which has 70,649 inhabitants.

Cameron Correspondent Needed
Isn't there someone willing to take on the job of writing news for the Cameron community? The happenings of this live section were recorded faithfully by Mrs. Fred Newman for many years, then by Mrs. John Blankenship. Due to the press of other duties these two correspondents found it necessary to resign — and to date we have no one writing "Cameron News."
Surely there is someone in the community willing to jot down the happenings there and send them to us.
Anyone interested is asked to please call or drop us a line.

DON'T BLAME YOUR PARENTS FOR WHAT YOU ARE TODAY

Today it is the fashion to hold parents accountable for every flaw in their offspring, from plain laziness to mental illness. Many parents, influenced by this vogue, are blaming themselves for loving their child too little or too much; for teaching him the facts of life too early or too late; for being too strict or too indulgent. Adult neurotics are attributing their troubles to parental errors in their childhoods.

Refuting this popular form of buck-passing, Jacob H. Conn, M. D., says in the October Reader's Digest: "Such half-baked misinterpretations of the importance of the formative years ignore the fact that most humans are blessed with an inner strength. Actually the average child is as tough psychologically as he is physically. Just as the body repels germs, so has the mind similar immunities and resistance to the unwise or unkind doings of parents."

Dr. Conn is Assistant Professor of Psychiatry at John Hopkins University School of Medicine.

Mental illness or neuroticism is not caused by an event but by the way a person reacts to it, Dr. Conn states. "Good old-fashioned character—a compound of inherited tendencies and our ability to tolerate disappointments—determines whether we withstand childhood tragedies or whether they down us all our lives."

The cliché: "There are no problem children, only problem parents," is as extreme and fallacious as was the Puritan idea that all children are imps of satan, Dr. Conn asserts. "A child can be responsible for his own upbringing, but it takes two to make an emotional bargain. When a father is too authoritarian the reason may well be that the child craves being bossed."

Parents can supply inspiring or uninspiring examples of conduct which will influence mental, physical and spiritual growth. But acceptance or rejection of parental background is largely determined by the child's individual character. The majority of normal youngsters manage realistically to cope with their parents' antics. "Children who do not have the neurotic need to be dependent will not be dominated. Maybe they will react with tantrums. Maybe they argue. Maybe they are sullenly silent. But whatever their technique for maintaining their integrity, 'Momism' won't and can't wreck them."

4-H's Study Electricity

Many 4-H club boys and girls the country over are receiving training in farm electrification, according to a survey of state colleges conducted by J. W. Martin, head of agricultural engineering at the University of Idaho. His survey was to determine how other land-grant colleges and universities were handling their farm electrification activities.

Although only 15 of the 46 departments of agricultural engineering covered in his survey had organized farm electrification research programs, 38 were engaged in giving 4-H youths the right start in farm electrification. Enrollment in 4-H farm electrification clubs by states ranged from 350 to as high as 7,000 in one state.

Martin made the survey to compare effectiveness of Idaho's 4-H farm electrification work with that of the other states. This state's series of five work manuals for 4-H farm electrification projects were given a blue ribbon award in the best bulletin contest at the national American Society of Agricultural Engineers convention in Kansas City in June.

The Census Bureau reports that 27,566 Idaho farms have tractors; 22,763 have motor trucks, and 31,822 have automobiles.

Medina Mosque Is Younger Building than White House

According to tradition, Mohammed journeyed north from Mecca to the region of Yathrib's oasis, where he loosed his camel to wander unguided until it stopped and knelt. There the mosque was built. Disciples renamed Yathrib Madinat-al-Nabi, meaning City of the Prophet, now varied to Medina.

The original house of worship has been rebuilt several times. No existing relics of previous structures bear proof of use earlier than 1306. The present Great Mosque is actually newer than the White House in Washington and replaces an earlier mosque which was destroyed by fire only a century ago.

Though somewhat crowded by other buildings on its south side, the mosque stands out gracefully from most angles of approach. Its minarets are shapely, its dome a restful, dull green. Dominant construction material is a locally quarried crystalline rock of pinkish hue, with occasional elaborate inlay and false decoration.

Pilgrim trade is easily the chief business of Mecca, Medina, and Jidda, the Red Sea port by way of which nine-tenths of the worshiping tourists now travel. The two shrine cities each have sacred areas where unbelievers are not welcome and subject to trespassing fines or jail terms.

Date growing is the second industry around Medina's oasis, which is larger than Mecca's and can support more population. Under Turkish rule prior to World War I, Medina counted 80,000 people and was the southern terminus of a railroad from the cities of present Jordan, Syria, Turkey, and Iraq to the north.

Not until Mohammed moved from Mecca to Medina, did his creed begin the expansion that now encompasses 250,000,000 followers.

Drug Given By Mouth Said To Relieve Pain In Cancer

A chemical compound which can be given by mouth is reported by seven New York doctors to be useful in bringing temporary relief to patients suffering from fatal cancer-like diseases of the white blood cells and tissues.

The oral use of triethylene melamine on 58 patients is described by Drs. David A. Karnofsky, J. H. Burchenal, George C. Armistead, Jr., Chester M. Southam, J. L. Bernstein, L. F. Craver, and Cornelius P. Rhoads. The doctors are all associated with the Memorial Center for Cancer and Allied Diseases, New York.

Triethylene melamine is a valuable addition to the small group of drugs now known to be effective in relieving pain in these types of disease, according to the doctors. This is due primarily to the fact that it can be given by mouth, releasing the patient from his dependence on a doctor for administration of the drug. All the other drugs, they point out, have to be injected intravenously, which almost always makes hospitalization necessary.

Clinical trials with the drug are now being widened to include a greater variety of tumorous conditions, they said.

Cleaning Up

In the Smithsonian Institution's laboratory of vertebrate paleontology, six tons of fossil bones belonging to the extinct gigantic ground sloth, Megatherium, are being cleaned and repaired. The skeletal remains of this grotesque animal were collected in western Panama by Dr. C. Lewis Gazin, curator of vertebrate paleontology of the U. S. National Museum, assisted by Dr. Theodore E. White, paleontologist of the Smithsonian's River Basin Surveys. The Smithsonian Institution paleontologists will attempt to reconstruct for exhibition in Washington a complete skeleton of the giant sloth. A large part of the collection will be returned to Panama for exhibition there.

Forming Pearls

Although some pearls are formed in fresh-water clams and oysters, the most valuable come from the marine pearl oysters of eastern Asia. They occur when some foreign object—perhaps a tiny grain of sand—gets between the shell and the body. The animal then secretes around the object successive layers of a material called nacre, which consists of calcium carbonate. This is the same material as the "mother of pearl" lining of the shell. The Japanese make "culture" pearls by deliberately introducing small particles of graphite into the oyster and keeping it for several years as the pearl is formed.

Infrared Rays

Infrared rays are similar to rays of visible light, except that the length of their waves is greater than those of red light, which are about 1/40,000th of an inch and are the longest that the eye can detect. The longest infrared waves are about 1/65th of an inch long. Any hot object—the Sun, an open fire, a red hot poker, a warm radiator, an electric lamp, etc.—sends out infrared radiation, often with visible rays as well. Special electric lamps to generate these rays, used for applying heat, have a filament which operates at a lower temperature than is used in one designed mainly for purposes of illumination.

Appointed "Dimes" Chairman. Boise, Idaho — Donald S. Whitehead, Boise, has been appointed as Idaho's 1953 March of Dimes chairman. It was announced this week by Basil O'Conner, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

In accepting the appointment as statewide chairman, Mr. Whitehead pledged his complete support to every volunteer county March of Dimes group throughout the state, and urged those few chapters which have not yet appointed campaign chairmen, to do so immediately.

"The impact of the epidemic incidence of polio throughout the state and nation has forced us to think in terms of a 'March of Dollars' instead of 'Dimes,'" Mr. Whitehead said, adding: "Only through the development of a sound county-wide organization can we hope to raise the funds so desperately needed to successfully continue the fight against polio."

Mr. Whitehead, who will coordinate the activities of city and county campaign directors in a voluntary capacity during the January appeal, is well acquainted with the March of Dimes program in Idaho. He has been active for several years in a volunteer capacity as chairman of both the Ada County chapter and of the Idaho State Polio Planning committee.

For giving relief from painful conditions, such as headaches, back ache, sciatic, etc., osteopathy has established a wonderful reputation. The same is true of many chronic disorders. If you are ill investigate osteopathy for yourself. Many people are healthier and happier today because they investigated and tried osteopathy "yesterday."

Must Use Extreme Caution
Missula — Due to the extreme dryness in the forests and woodlands this year, the Forest Service asks that everyone entering the forest be extremely careful with fire. Hunters, campers and others going into the woods must see that man-caused fires are prevented. The Northern Region has had more trouble with fires during the last two weeks of September, than has been experienced during the whole season up to that date.
The current long dry period, with mostly clear skies and high maximum temperatures, resulted in unusually low humidities, and this, coupled with the fact that all the annual and perennial vegetation is cured, makes this one of the most dangerous fall seasons on record as far as fires are concerned, the chief of the division of fire control of the Forest Service said.
The September fire record for the Northern Region is not good. There were 135 fires, 59 of which were man caused. The fires burned 2,557 acres — ten times the acreage burned during the summer months to Sept. 1st. Here are some fire prevention rules:
Crush out your smokes — when out of doors, smoke only in designated camp areas. Then, with the heel of your shoe grind that cigar, cigarette butt or pipe ash into cleared ground until you're sure it's out. When driving, use your ash tray. Never throw burning material from any vehicle.
Break your match in two. This will insure, by finger test, that it is out.
Drown your camp fire. Stir the coals while soaking them with water.
Build camp fires only in designated safe areas. Then be sure you're absolutely safe by clearing all dead grass, sticks, brush, etc., away from the fire for a large area.

HINTS for the Handyman
NO. 8 ONE-DROP OIL CAN
If your oilcan delivers too much oil for single applications, clean the end of the spout and cover the opening with a drop of fingernail polish. Let the polish dry and make a small hole through it with the point of a pin. Then you easily can force the oil out, one drop at a time.

Potlatch Chief Sez

Published by the Kendrick Creamery

HELLO, THERE, FOLKS —

Hunters — Are You Ready?
Have you picked out that locker box? You know, with the present warm weather, meat must be cared for immediately, so, before you take off for the tall timber, come in and pick out that locker box. Know where your meat is going to stay. We have boxes to fit every purse and need. Make your selection now.

The young swain climbed into a field to gather some flowers for his girl friend, and, sighting a big bull in the same pasture, called to the near-by farmer: "Hey, mister, is this bull over here safe?" "Well, sonny," drawled the farmer, "I don't know for sure, but I can tell you he's a dern sight safer than you are!"

Parents — Medical science tells us that growing children should have at least a quart of milk a day, and adults a pint, to maintain good health, particularly during the winter months. Are you sure your family is consuming the required amount? If so, be sure it's pure, pasteurized "Potlatch Chief" milk. Homogenized, if you prefer. It's fine — it's pure.

There's a town in Arizona that's so... they have "Come Again" in the back of the "Welcome" sign!

Are you enjoying your breakfasts these days? If not, try putting some of that fine, sweet flavored "Potlatch Chief" butter on your toast or hotcakes. It will add zest to any breakfast. Try it on hot rolls, too. Mu-m-m, good!
