CATHERINE WARD IS BRIDE OF BUFORD FAIRFIELD

In a candlelight, double-ring ceremony, Catherine Yvonne Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Con Ward of Lapwai, and Buford R. Fairfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Fairfield of Lewiston, were united in marriage Nov. 1 at the First Methodist church.

The Rev. Merritt W. Faulkner officiated at the ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of yellow and rust chrysanthemums and lighted candelabra.

Mrs. Mae Betty Mauk, accompanied by Mrs. Eugene Duff, organist, sang and Mrs. Duff played the wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her princess gown was of white silk satin purchased in Japan by the bridegroom. It had a short train and sweetheart neckline. Her fingertip veil fell from a Juliet cap of satin, embellished with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of red roses with ribbon shower. Her pearl necklace and earrings were a gift of the bridegroom.

The bride wore the traditional "something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue, with a six pence in her shoe."

Rosemary Webb of Lapwai was maid of honor and Diane Eaterday, Clarkston, and Genevieve Eubel, Lewiston, bridesmaids. Their satin gowns of identical styling were in shades of lavender, green and yellow, respectively. They wore pearl necklaces and Juliet caps to match their gowns. Their bouquets were of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums.

Linda Taylor, daughter of Mrs. Ida Taylor of Lapwai, was flower girl, wearing a white satin frock and a pearl necklace. She carried a basket of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums. Ringbearer was Bobby Behler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Behler of Clarkston.

The newlyweds are residing at 612 10th St., after a wedding trip to the west coast. — Lewiston Tribune.

Weather Damp, Chill

The weather this past week has been more like early fall than mid-November, but at least a good installment of those long-awaited rains has come.

Beginning last Wednesday evening a number of good showers fell, culminating with a pouring rain late Friday afternoon and a good share of Friday night.

The earlier rains were enough to allow road crews to go to work grading and shaping up, not to mention smoothing, the "corduroy roads" that have plagued us for quite a number of weeks.

Anyhow, there is now plenty of moisture to assure the germination of fall-sown grain, and roads are now "smooth enough to drive over with your mouth open."

Cookies To Children's Home

The Sunday School children of the Primary department of the Community church are again sending a Thanksgiving box of cookies to the Children's Home at Lewiston as a lesson in sharing.

Mothers are asked to send cookies with the children Sunday morning, so they may reach the Children's Home for Thanksgiving.

Sale And Supper Enjoyed

The pot-luck supper and bazaar sponsored by the Ladies Guild of Big Bear ridge on Nov. 11 was a real success, and the ladies of that group wish to thank all for coming. In particular do they thank Roy Glenn for his services as auctioneer and for showing the beautiful pictures.

V. F. W. And Auxiliary

The local V. F. W. Post and the Ladies Auxiliary will meet Monday evening, Nov. 24, at the Fraternal Temple for their regular session. All are urged to be present.

Parents Of Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Medalen are the proud parents of a baby girl, born to them Tuesday morning, Nov. 18, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Thornton, Leland.

SIXTEEN ATTEND COMMERCIAL CLUB MEETING WED.

Sixteen interested business men and farmers sat down to a 6:30 steak dinner at Burt's Confectionery last Wednesday evening, adjourning later to the Firemen's hall where they were joined by one more for the regular monthly session of the Kendrick Commercial Club.

Following the reading and approval of the minutes, committee reports were called for by Gerald Ingle, chairman.

For the Agricultural committee Roy Glenn stated that an unusual amount of field work had been completed, despite the unseasonable dry weather. He added that crops were not too promising, but good rains would aid materially.

Dick Blewett, reporting for the Merchants committee, stated that the local stores had been closed Armistice Day. He mentioned the new Gamble's Western Auto Supply store operated by Oscar Medalen.

On Education A. O. Kanikkeberg said that school finances, which had been in rather dire straits were looking better, as the new legislative program called for more aid from the state level. He estimated that $2,000,000 would be needed throughout the state to meet increased needs.

Reporting further on Education Jasper Nutting stated that children were doing better under the "one teacher, one grade" system, such as was now in use, and that this system had also cut down the teacher "turn-over" on a yearly basis. He added that a plan had been worked out in this district to spread the work when any teacher fell ill, and thus continue regular classes.

Explaining school problems still further Mr. Nutting said that the terrible condition of the road the past several weeks had literally shaken buses to pieces and a great deal of body work and like repairs had been necessary. He said that the Hot Lunch finances were also a severe problem, but that under the new 25c per lunch price they appeared to be carrying themselves. In all grades of the Joint District schools there are now enrolled 398 pupils, which is close to a record.

For the Fish and Game committee Dee Miller said that despite the opening of the local season, few kills were being made when the number of hunters was considered, the unseasonably dry weather make conditions most difficult. Mr. Miller said that the pheasant season closed Nov. 11, and there, too, kill percentage had been small.

Dr. Christensen of the Boy Scout committee, said that the annual finance drive was almost over, and $144 had been collected — for just "fair results."

In a round table discussion of the Scouting problem, Henry Jones said that 16 Scouts were now in the troop and that several more were soon to come in from the Cub Scouts. He said that an "Explorer Unit" for the older boys would soon be a necessity, and that more leadership would be needed. This matter was referred to the Scout committee to work with Mr. Jones in solving the problem.

Dr. Christensen was asked about his draft status, and he said that, had no official word as yet, but understood his classification was set as "essential." This latter met with the hearty approval of the club — for it's a long way to Lewiston in the wintertime!

On Highways Tom Long reported the local roads in bad shape, the unseasonable dryness having prevented any effective road work from being done.

Adding to this report George F. Brocke said a delegation from this district and a delegation from the Troy district had met with the state district engineer in Lewiston in an effort to get the state to take over the road between Kendrick and Troy. No direct action was obtained, but the promise that the matter would be given "serious consideration" was made.

Next Frank V. Barton, Attorney, who has temporary offices in the Brocke & Sons warehouse here, was introduced by Mr. Brocke. Mr. Barton, whose headquarters are in the Carson building in Lewiston, is spending each Thursday here, and should the practice warrant the move, will locate in Kendrick.

R. L. Blewett of the Merchants committee then brought up the matter of the annual visit of Santa Claus, and Saturday afternoon, Dec. 20, was set for his coming.

H. C. Schupfer then brought up the matter of storing dynamite caps and dynamite in town, or in any building close to the highway, stating that the new high-frequency radios used by his company (W. W. P.) in cars and trucks, and also by the State Forestry department (Henry Jones) were capable of setting off electric dynamite caps from a distance of 100 feet, and sometimes more, thus creating a deadly menace if such items are in town or close to a highway where these radios might be used.

Mr. Nutting mentioned the all-school play, coached by Ervin McGeachy, which is to be presented on Wednesday evening, Nov. 26, the night before Thanksgiving — and invited all to attend.

Gerald Ingle said that in a conference with 4-H Club leaders recently, it had been suggested that our annual Sales Day be held earlier (before the Moscow Fair) and that a pre-showing of 4-H livestock be made a part of the day. The matter was referred to the Merchants committee for consideration and report.

There being no further business to come before the group, adjournment was taken until Wednesday, Dec. 10.

JOINT DISTRICT P. T. A. MET AT JULIAETTA MONDAY EVE.

The Joint District P. T. A. met at Juliaetta on Monday, Nov. 17, at 8:00 p. m. The meeting was called to order by Ross Armitage, president, who introduced the program chairman, Mrs. Werner Brammer, and turned the meeting over to her.

The High School Girls' chorus, under the direction of Burke Sower, sang a group of old favorite songs: "Your Eyes Have Told Me So," "On Moonlight Bay," "My Buddy" and "Till We Meet Again," which were much enjoyed.

Next a hilarious program of skits, readings and songs was presented by a group of Cameron ladies. Those taking part were the Misses Judy Koopp and Helen Mielke; the Mesdames Marvin Silflow, Harold Silflow, Ernest Brammer, Gordon Penland, Walter Koopp, Fred Newman, Glen Wegner, John Blankenship, Kenneth Wilken, Ted Weyen and Henry Wendt.

The business meeting was then called to order by Mr. Armitage. The Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Mrs. Gordon Peters read the treasurer's report, which shows a balance of $50.00.

The chairman of the Canning Committee, Mrs. James Holt, reported that the ladies had prepared 240 chickens for the locker on Friday and Saturday. Mrs. Holt expressed her thanks to all those who had cooperated on this project.

President Armitage brought up the matter of supporting the drive to purchase a resistor for the community. Mr. Calvert moved that the decision of support and the amount thereof be decided by the executive committee. This carried unanimously.

Mr. Nutting explained the function of the Unified Education Council and moved that the P. T. A. go on record as supporting the Council — and also that the president appoint two members to serve on the Council. This also met unanimous approval.

A letter from the American Red Cross was read asking support of their drive to give Christmas packages to Service Men who will be on their way over seas at Christmas time. Mrs. Armitage moved that the "White Elephant" proceeds for the evening be given to the Red Cross for this purpose. Also carried unanimously.

Asa Calvert reported that the annual school auction sale at Juliaetta had been highly successful, as they cleared about $201.00 — and he thanked everyone who helped make it a success.

Mrs. Werner Brammer, Program chairman, gave a report on the topic: "Minutes, Not Pennies, Count With Children," which encouraged everyone to give more time to our young people. The report stressed the benefits our children receive and the satisfaction adults receive, when working with children.

Mr. Armitage asked about the possibility of organizing a Cub Scout group in Juliaetta, and urged support for such an organization.

The possibility of organizing a P. T. A. Study Group this year was discussed and the United Nations was suggested as a most timely topic.

Mr. Nutting announced the all-high school play, "He Who Hesitates," to be presented at Kendrick the night before Thanksgiving.

The meeting then adjourned to the lunch room, where delicious refreshments were served by the Juliaetta ladies.

C. S. Thompson, superintendent of the Coeur d'Alene Homes.

Soap Holes Found Value in Disguise

Produce Magic Mud With Multiple Uses

Ever since Belle Fourche, S. D., was a rip-snorting cattle town at the end of the old Chisholm trail its residents have been damning the "soap holes" that plagued the area.

Fast-riding cowboys often took a nasty tumble in this super-slippery mud and cattle were forever getting bogged down in them.

But now, like a man discovering his hives are really a blessing, Belle Fourche has found its soap holes are one of its biggest assets. Every one of them is filled with a magic mud called bentonite. It's an odorless, tasteless, soapy mud with a thousand uses and scientists are thinking up new ones every day.

Most of us already are using it a half dozen times a day, but almost nobody has heard of it. Men use it in shoe polish and hand cleaners. Women use it in face powder, lotions, beauty cream. Bentonite also is found in many types of paint, plaster and cleaning agents. It's handy for filling holes in giant dams and for casting moulds for molten metal. Forced down thousands of feet into the earth this magic mud lubricates the drills in oil wells and sends the debris up to the drillers.

Its new uses and increasing popularity for its older uses all add up to a boom such as Belle Fourche hasn't seen since the gold rush.

In the past 10 years the population has practically doubled and bentonite now pours $600,000 a year into the town in the form of additional purchasing power.

Fifteen years ago Belle Fourche shipped out three carloads of bentonite. Last year its production was 6,187 carloads and this year they expect carloading to go considerably higher.

Scientists say that bentonite, a strange mixture made up mostly of dust from prehistoric volcanoes, is found almost nowhere in the world except in the Black Hills of Wyoming and South Dakota.

It is the most absorbent material nature ever has devised, they say, and a half dozen teaspoonful will soak up a glass of water.

Insect Killers Made By Synthetic Means

New pyrethrum-like chemicals that kill insects have been made synthetically for the first time in the laboratories of the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine. It has been announced by the U. S. department of agriculture.

The chemical makeup of the synthetic materials is almost identical with that of the insect-killing principle in pyrethrum, according to the chemists.

Winter And Death

The coming of shorter days and longer nights signals the approach of winter, but it also is a danger signal to motorists who will be doing more after-dark driving in the days ahead — days when death can be in the early evening shadows.

Reduced visibility at night is a leading factor in the relatively high occurrence of crippling and death dealing traffic accidents during the hours of darkness, the Traffic Safety division points out, and state motorists as well as all others are urged to observe the following:

Check their vehicle lighting equipment for burned out bulbs or faulty wiring. Check battery and generating equipment to forestall failure of light power at a crucial moment. Check headlight beams and aim them properly for most effective non-glare visibility.

Carefully observe the state law which requires dimming of lights when meeting or following other vehicles after dark. Dimming should be done when within not less than 500 feet of other vehicles.

Reduce driving speed after dark, and limit it to prevailing conditions. Never over-drive the vehicle's headlight range — that is, be prepared to stop within the distance clearly illuminated by the headlights. Do not stop an unlighted vehicle on main-traveled roadway after dark.

Be sure your tires have a good tread — a "smoothie" is a definite hazard to yourself and the other vehicle as well, if road surface is wet or at all slick.

Increase watchfulness for pedestrians — especially during rainy or foggy weather.

To Become Teachers

U. of I., Moscow — A total of 679 students now in residence at the University of Idaho, are preparing to qualify for teachers' credentials, D. D. DuSault, registrar, says.

Four hundred and six of these students are registered in the school of education, but 273 more — more than a third — are in other divisions of the university, majoring in specialized fields. The college of letters and science, which is the liberal arts division, leads with educationally-minded students—145. Next is the college of agriculture with 55; followed by the graduate school, 51; school of business administration, 18, and college of engineering, 4.

Aiding greatly in attracting more students to the teaching field has been the $10,000 allotted by the board of regents for grants-in-aid and loans for needy and qualified elementary teacher trainees. For graduated students who teach at least a year in Idaho the grants-in-aid become true scholarships, which are not required to be repaid.

Who really owns Standard?

That old bogeyman—the Tycoon of Big Business—seems still to linger in the minds of some people. Whether or not this was ever a true picture, it is certainly false today. Standard Oil Company of California, for instance, is widely held, independent. It has its own management and shareholders. It is not connected with any of the Standard companies in the East.

The actual owners of Standard Oil Company of California now number 115,942—which is 17,000 more than just two years ago. They include 283 universities and other educational institutions; 236 churches and religious organizations; 1825 small and large businesses; 159 hospitals and other medical facilities; 10,876 employees of the Company, and 102,563 other individual citizens, few of whom could be called rich. The great number of our shareholders are people like your own friends and neighbors—yourself, perhaps—mechanics, clerks, farmers, white-collar men, widows, men and women who have retired. ¶ In another sense, of course, the "owners" of the Company are our customers, who, in effect, control it and receive its benefits. You control Standard by your choice of brands. You benefit by the quality and economy of the products we sell. The only way we can look after the interests of our shareholders is by making sure that Standard serves you well.

GRAIN MARKETS CONTINUE UNSETTLED — FEEDS DOWN

Grain markets continued unsettled during the past week, according to reports to the Market News Service of the Department of Agriculture. Wheat prices were slightly lower at Chicago and St. Louis, but higher at most other major markets. At Minneapolis durum wheat gained 11c per bushel, while other spring wheat advanced 1/4c, due to smaller offerings and a more active demand. Rye prices regained some of the previous week's loss and advanced 3c per bushel at Minneapolis. Oats prices declined about 1c per bushel, with barley prices remaining about unchanged. The 1952-53 world wheat production is tentatively forecast at 7,150 million bushels by the Office of Foreign Agricultural Relations. If realized this would be the largest production on record and compares with 6,485 million bushels a year ago and 6,024 million bushels, the latter the average for 1935-39. A near record harvest was reported for western Europe, reducing import requirements for this traditionally deficit area. Production in Europe, excluding the Soviet Union, was forecast at 1,635 million bushels, which compares with 1,580 million in 1951 and the 1945-49 average of 1,255 million. A wheat crop smaller than last year was reported for the United Kingdom, due to reduced acreage, smaller yields and some drought damage in the Balkan countries.

The Pacific Northwest wheat market turned somewhat easier, due to almost complete lack of export buying of the large available supplies and continued pressure from overcrowded elevator space at Portland. Ordinary export white wheats were as much as 2c per bushel lower but hard red winter and hard white baart wheat were about unchanged from a week ago. Light grower offerings and heavy impoundings under the Support program, checked further price declines.

Harvesting of all grains was practically completed except for moderate acreages at higher elevations. Weather conditions have been most favorable for the completion of harvest, but the soil moisture conditions in winter wheat areas has caused a delay in fall seeding.

With the rail embargo still in force, receipts of wheat declined to 1,253 cars at principal terminals compared with 1,314 last week and 1,613 a year ago. Reflecting the slow export demand, however, track supplies were pressing and the market average lower. At the close of the market No. 1 soft white and white club wheat were quoted at $2.35 per bushel, track basis, Portland.

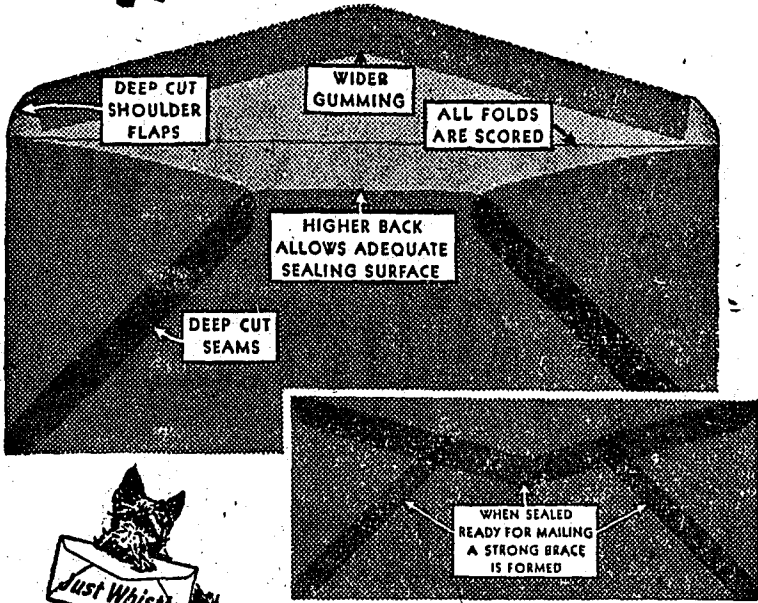

Pacific Northwest oats markets weakened, influenced by slow demand and declines in other feed grains. No. 2 white oats, 38 lbs. were quoted at $70.00 per ton, track basis, coast delivery, while the same grade on a Portland delivery basis were quoted at $67.50 to $68.00. While demand was slow offerings were quite light. Receipts totaled .61 cars against 80 a week ago.

Pacific Northwest barley markets showed mixed trends. Feed types were slow to move and declined up to 50c per ton, but a fair export demand for Montana and southern Idaho 2-row barleys absorbed moderate offerings at steady prices. At the same time, slow demand for malting grades made for easiness in these types and quotations ranged from unchanged to as much as $7.00 per ton lower with the greatest drop in eastern Washington and northern Idaho Hanna variety.

Potlatch Chief Sez

Published by the Kendrick Creamery

HELLO, THERE, FOLKS —

Well, winter's chill days are closing in on us and the sunshine grows less and less. Are you protecting your health and that of your children by consuming the proper quantities of milk?

Medical authorities say that every growing child should have at least a quart a day, and every adult a pint. See to it that your family has at least this minimum requirement of pure, pasteurized Potlatch Chief brand milk for health's sake.

He: "Something came into my mind just now and went away again."
She: "Perhaps it was lonely!"

Fruit juice, hot cakes and strips of crisp bacon — a-h-h, there's a breakfast! But to really add the right touch, add generous lumps of "Potlatch Chief" brand butter to the hotcakes, let it melt and mingle with the syrup. Boy, that's the final flavor touch! Always ask for butter by name, "Potlatch Chief." It's pure, sweet, flavorful. Made from pasteurized cream.

While on his vacation, the zoo director received the following note from his chief assistant: "Everything all right except that the monkey seems to be pining for a companion. What shall we do until you return?"

In winter farm income drops — but you can do a lot toward keeping your up by proper care of your cows and selling that cream to us. We pay full market price, and return a steam-sterilized, ready-to-use can. Try us. You'll like our money and our service!

Director: "Have you had any stage experience?"
Chorus Girl: "Well, my leg was in a cast once!"
