Mr. and Mrs. James Ward at Lewiston.

(This Week)

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Havens and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brammer, Mr. and Mrs. Werner Brammer and Rhonda Sue were New Year's dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wendt near Southwick. Mrs. Carl Koepf and Mrs. Minnie Heitman, the latter of Lewiston, were afternoon callers.

New Year's Day visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Stensma were Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh Albright, and Mr. and Mrs. Rolan Albright and daughter Wenda.

Saturday luncheon guests of Mrs. Raleigh Albright were Mrs. Arlie Carpenter of Spokane and Mr. and Mrs. E. O. McAllister.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brackett of Reubens were Monday callers in the Raleigh Albright home.

Mr. and Mrs. James Albright were Anatonie visitors New Year's Day.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bailey and daughter Delores spent the New Year's holiday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Stowe and daughter Karrel at LeGrande, Oregon. They returned Jeanette Bailey to nursing school at Pendleton.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Walsh have received word that their son will leave Guam the 7th of January and will be here the first part of February.

Mrs. Adrian Johns and children spent Wednesday with the Morris Mattoon family at Clarkston.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hugo spent the week-end in the home of her sister at Lewiston.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Nye spent Sunday afternoon in the Sam Hadlock home at Moscow.

Ray Taylor left Monday morning for Arizona, to attend the funeral of his brother, Leon Taylor.

"Stormy" Pradeaux is visiting with her grandmother, Mrs. M. C. Halliday, this week.

A pot-luck dinner was held at the Methodist church Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Schultz have arrived home from a trip to Palo Alto, Calif., returning Sunday evening. On the way down from Portland they took the Shasta Daylight, a luxury train. On their return trip they could not get train reservations so finally obtained seats on a DC-6, Flight 873, United Air Lines from San Francisco to Portland. There were but 28 aboard — far from a full load. On this flight they enjoyed their first dinner "in the clouds." The trip itself took a little over two hours, and was most enjoyable.

Writes From Camp Roberts

Under date of Dec. 27, Pvt. Ted Fey writes from Camp Roberts, as follows:

Dear Bill: — Guess it's about time I wrote you a short letter to express my thanks for the weekly issue of the Gazette. I've received it regularly and really appreciate reading all the local news and keeping up on what is going on in the old home town. Sounds like a lot of the fellows made it home in time for Christmas. It's nice that they could. I missed it more than a little, I guess. I had a nice time at my relatives at San Luis Obispo, though, and stuffed myself to the brim, so made out lots better than a lot of the boys.

I tried to find Ben Cook in the afternoon of Christmas Day, but he had gone to Pasa Robels, probably here to Roberts looking for me — so we both had good intentions but poor timing. I'm going to try to see him soon, however, and talk over the news of home.

I saw Don Millard and Max Shreffler off and on the last couple of days. They will be in a company near mine, so will be able to get together occasionally. We almost have another Kendrick here now — ha!

I also got to see Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Millard, Nellie Millard and Marlene Silflow yesterday, pretty much by accident. We had a nice long "gab fest." Seems swell to see some of the folks from home.

How's the weather up there now, Bill? Suppose it's a little nippy by now. Here, it's rather wet, but as a rule is swell weather. According to the natives it will soon be the rainy season though, so maybe it has just begun.

Well, Bill, guess I'd better cut this short here and get some sleep — something you never get too much of in the service.

I've a different address — the second in two weeks — sure hope I'm settled now. Here it is: "Pvt. Ted Fey, U. S. 56091382, Co. A, 95th HTB, Rm 7th Arm'd Div., Camp Roberts, Calif."

Thanks again for the paper. It's greatly appreciated by all the boys here. To us it's more like a big letter from home than a newspaper. — Happy New Year to All — Ted Fey.

Weather Just Like March

The weather in this area the past week can best be described as "being just like March."

We have had a couple of snow falls that deposited about an inch and a half of the fluffy white stuff on the ground — but which was followed by rain that took it off. As we go to press (Wednesday noon) it is raining, and only a few traces of snow can be seen.

Temperatures have run from 25 to 40 above, and most lawns about town are a very nice green. There have been times when ice conditions made grade travel rather hazardous, but on the whole, they have not been too bad.

Entertains At Bridge

Mrs. W. L. McCreary entertained two tables of bridge Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Estella Leith won high score and low went to Mrs. John Johanson. Refreshments were served at the close of play.

Guests included Mesdames R. L. Blewett, E. A. Deobald, John Johanson, D. A. Christensen, A. O. Kanikkeberg, Estella Leith, Ben P. Cook and Leona Mermod.

Undergoes Surgery

Burton Souders, Sr. underwent surgery Monday morning at the Grinnam hospital in Moscow. Mrs. Souders and son Burt were with him Tuesday afternoon and report his condition as not too good.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fry of Elk River stopped for a short visit at the C. H. Fry home Tuesday, while on their way to Lewiston.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. McCall and family of Lewiston were in town Tuesday visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter McCall.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Kruzich are moving to Juliaetta this week. They have been living in the apartment in the former Kenneth Brocke house on the schoolhouse hill, recently purchased by Wm. Bambrery.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Whittum and Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Kruzich drove to Coeur d'Alene Friday, returning Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cook had as dinner guests Monday evening her cousin, Mrs. Zelah Hartman of Eufaula, Oklahoma; Ollis Sherbon and his mother, Mrs. Nettie Sherbon of Pullman; Mr. and Mrs. Ross Armitage and family and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Blewett and son Billy. Mr. Sherbon brought his mother and Mrs. Hartman down Monday. He spent the night at the E. H. Jones home while the others were over-night guests in the Cook home. On Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Blewett and Mrs. Cook took Mrs. Hartman to Culedeas, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Pierce Blewett and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Souders served New Year's dinner for her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Craig of Marysville, Wash., Mrs. Grace Souders, Ann and Donna Kanikkeberg, Jack Lohman, and Burton Souders, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Travis were Tuesday evening dinner guests in the Weyer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Roby and children of Kamiah were Friday over-night guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Wilson and daughters.

At Asotin Thursday, the local team emerged victorious 68 to 48. Kenny Brown led all scorers with 16 points. The one loss was taken by the Moscow Legion on the local floor 45 to 30. Steensma of Moscow led game scoring with 12 points, while Kendrick's Boyd Thornton tallied 10.

The remaining Kendrick Town Team home games are:

Jan. 7 — Troy at Kendrick.
Jan. 8 — Lapwai at Kendrick.
Jan. 12 — Culedeas at Kendrick.
Jan. 26 — Asotin at Kendrick.
Jan. 29 — Colton at Kendrick.
Feb. 9 — Pomeroy at Kendrick.
Feb. 12 — Lucky Lager at Kendrick.

Those playing on the local team this year are: Boyd Thornton, Keith Thornton, Burton Souders, Max Clemenhagen, Orville Halseth, Charles Easterbrook, Dennis Racicot, Kenny Brown, Elroy Kuykendall, Luther Parks, Roy White, Dave Crocker, Allen Medalen, Dick McCall, and our managers, Ross Armitage and Kenneth Anderson.

A small admission charge will be made for the games, however, all children under high school age are admitted free. The team hopes to see a lot of faces at their home games.

The spectators will get to see two things: (1) A good ball game and (2) the new suits that the team is proudly wearing.

Home With Discharge Paper

His honorable discharge papers in his pocket, Pfc. Leon Wolff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wolff, Leland, arrived home New Year's Day, being met in Spokane by his parents and brothers, Howard and Walter.

Leon, who has been with the army of occupation in Germany for the past 18 months, received his discharge papers at Camp Carson, Colo., on Dec. 30, and left immediately for home.

Leon said he did not find army life in Germany at all bad — but unlike many, took advantage of every bit of furlough and leave time he could get, to see Central Europe. He visited Austria, France, Switzerland, Spain, Holland, England, Scotland and Italy while abroad. He said of all the countries he visited Holland was the cleanest in every respect, and Spain the dirtiest — and lots of filth and squalor lay behind some of the beautiful "fronts," particularly in Spain and Italy.

Leon took many pictures while there and has been busy cataloguing them while they are still fresh in his memory. His plans for the future are indefinite — but "home sure looks swell."

Starts Blueberry Farm

Claude Craig was in the Gazette a few minutes last week-end, while visiting here from Marysville, Wash., over the holidays.

He tells us he has planted a new Blueberry farm and is going to specialize in this luscious fruit, a native of the south. It has, however, been transplanted from that area to the coast and thrives in that mild, damp climate. Mr. Craig says they compare with the huckleberry somewhat, only are as big as cherries and make "delish" pie.

He added that he and Mrs. Craig would be happy to see friends from the Kendrick area any time — and to simplify finding his berry farm he has erected a big sign on the Marysville road.

Maybe when the word gets around about Mrs. Craig's blue berry pies he'll take the sign down!

To Be Stationed In Texas

A 3/c Stanley D. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith, Leland, left Friday for his new station at Shepherd Air Force Base, Wichita Falls, Texas. He is making the trip by car, accompanied by a buddy.

Bird's Eye Fresh Frozen Foods of many varieties are obtainable at Blewett's Grocery-Market in Kendrick — and they're good. 1-adv.

Farallons, Bird Refuge, Now Closed to Civilians

California's Farallon islands, whose 1950 U.S. census count of an even 30 inhabitants was reported complete before the April 1 official census started, found human traffic there far greater in the 19th century than it has been in the first half of the 20th.

Russian sealers occupied the bleak group, 26 miles west of San Francisco's Golden Gate, from 1812 to 1833, notes the National Geographic society. Drafting Indians and Aleuts as labor, they reduced seals from abundance to scarcity, taking close to 200,000 skins for the China trade. Sir Francis Drake had restocked his vessel with seal meat at the Farallons in 1579.

During the 1849 gold rush in California, food was scarce in San Francisco. Egg-gathering from the nests of gulls and murrens on the Farallons became profitable and well organized, and the traffic continued for many years. Finally, bird lovers stepped in, and the islands are now a bird refuge, closed to civilians from April to August.

The Farallons, known but little even to mainland Californians, consist of three pinpoint groups of rocky islets spreading over seven miles of the Pacific ocean on air and water lanes of trans-Pacific travel. Paradoxically, although they are officially part of the City of San Francisco, the mayor and other city officials may not set foot on them without special permission.

The permission must come from the 12th coast guard district based in San Francisco. It provides the personnel that maintains the powerful beacon 358 feet above sea level atop Southeast Farallon, the only inhabited island of the group.

The lighthouse - keeping families live in neat, white houses at the foot of the high beacon cliff. A radar station and an automatic fog-signal horn complete the island's important navigation aid equipment.

Human Regard for Criminal Modern Idea, Says Educator

The idea that the legal offender shares a common humanity with his nonoffender brother is a relatively novel conception and regards the criminal as a human being and not subhuman, specialhuman, superhuman, inhuman, robothuman, or extrahuman, Dr. Robert Lindner, clinical psychologist at Harlem Lodge, Catonsville, Maryland, told the first session of the third annual institute on crime and delinquency which University of California extension held in Los Angeles recently.

Declaring that "Offenders, too, are human," Dr. Lindner pointed out that the modern view of the criminal historically succeeds the primitive, theological, philosophical, mechanical, and psychiatric views.

"The modern view is based on a total approach to the offender, including the whole person and his history in the world; it is based upon scientific knowledge that is reaching a level of maturity; its sources are biological, anthropological, sociological, and psychological. Among these, the psychoanalytical appears to be the most fruitful and comprehensive."

Study Hydrogen Bonds

While other scientists the nation over concern themselves with hydrogen bombs, Dr. Joseph W. Ellis and Dr. Leonard Glatt of the physics department of the University of California are busy with hydrogen bonds—a study more closely related to everyday life. Hydrogen bonds are links which assist in holding together the long molecular chains found in many of the substances we use in our daily life. These links are formed by the sharing of a proton (hydrogen nucleus) between two units of the same or different molecules. Examples of substances they bind together are liquid water, proteins, and many plastics, including nylon.

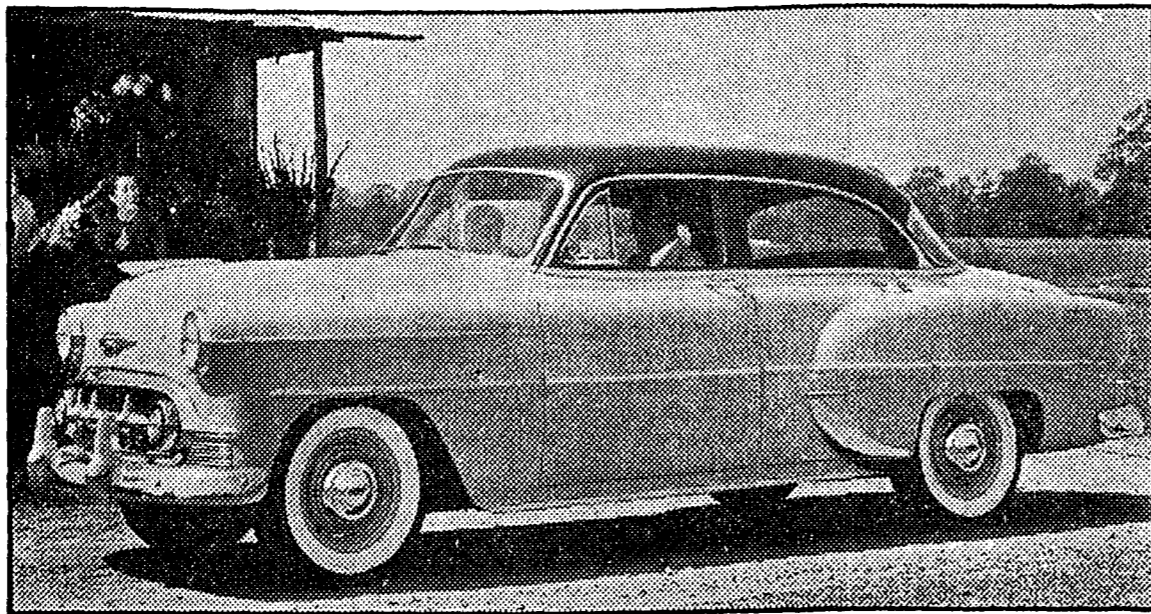

From Everywhere

The ingredients of paint products literally come from the world's four corners. Take, for example, a quarter pint can of varnish stain. It's packed in a shipping case made from fibre that may have come from Norway. The paper for the label may have come from the same place. The tin for the can probably came from either Bolivia or Malaya. The contents may consist of linseed oil that came from Argentina, the drier from Asia, tung oil from China, resin from Africa and dyes from England. Skillfully combined by American know-how, the user benefits from world-wide activity which he seldom realizes.

Making Good Soils

"Somehow the notion gets around," says Dr. Charles E. Kellogg of the U. S. department of agriculture, "that originally our farm soils were highly productive; that is, productive when first plowed. Many of them were, like the black lands in our Middle West and in central Eurasia, for example, and in some of the great deltas and alluvial valleys. But most soils are not. It is through liming and fertilization, drainage, irrigation, the introduction of legumes, and a host of other practices, that farmers have made their soils productive," explains Dr. Kellogg.

Increased Performance in New Chevrolets

The low, sweeping lines of the 1953 Chevrolets are exemplified by this four-door sedan in the "Two-Ten" series, which this year offers increased performance, comfort and convenience in addition to a complete re-design. Apparent in this view are the enlarged front and rear vision, new fender and hood contours and a fresh grille treatment that enhance the rugged beauty of the cars. Four-door sedans are also available in the "One-Fifty" and the new Bel Air series.

Drive With Caution

With the winter social and basketball season here, late hours and excitement sometimes leave us pretty worn out when it's all over. Now is the time to be on guard against a let-down, particularly when driving, says R. H. Des Aulniers, traffic safety director. That tired feeling can be fatal if we let it interfere with our normal driving caution — or if it causes us to neglect some precautions, such as removing frost and ice from car windshield or windows, or putting on chains when the road is slippery.

When driving home after some social event or athletic contest, it is a good idea to rest and relax a bit before starting out. If you must "take one for the road," make it a cup of good strong black coffee! You'll never regret it.

Grass Means Much
 Moscow — The message of grass went out to more than 4,500 Idaho farmers when the agricultural car of the Union Pacific railroad toured the state this winter, according to a summary by railroad agricultural agents and the University of Idaho extension service that co-operated in the program.
 The annual trip began in eastern Idaho before Thanksgiving, swung through the western district, and concluded the regular schedule with several stops in northern Idaho. A final date by special arrangement, has been made for Melba, January 9. More than 20 communities were visited with talks, motion pictures and exhibits of grassland agriculture. Idaho's Grassman of 1952, Dwight Disney, took part on the program in his home town of Twin Falls. County grassmen participated in many places. Five specialists of the extension service discussed various phases of grass production and use.

Foresee Billion Barrels Jet Fuel from Oil Shale

Jet engine fuel by the billions of barrels can be produced from the Green river oil shale formation in northwestern Colorado, Dr. J. D. Lankford, acting chief, of the United States bureau of mines oil-shale demonstration plant in Rifle, Colo., reports.

Low cost oil shale mining already has been found feasible, Dr. Lankford says, and he predicts that the present trickle of 100 to 300 barrels of gasoline and Diesel fuel from the formation will become a mighty torrent as techniques improve.

"It is estimated that 88 volume per cent of the crude shale oil could be converted into a hydrogenated product containing a premium Diesel oil and a high-quality jet fuel practically free of sulfur, oxygen and nitrogen compounds," Dr. Lankford stated. "If desired, the hydrogenated material could be converted easily to gasoline by standard petroleum refining processes."

"The United States bureau of mines oil-shale demonstration plant at Rifle, Colo., is engaged in an integrated research and experimental program to point the way toward the development of a tremendous natural resource, oil shale, for possible wartime emergency and for the ultimate peacetime production of liquid fuels by private industry."

"Billions of barrels of liquid fuels are potentially available from the oil shale of the Green river formation of northwestern Colorado. Research and development work will be necessary over an extended period of time to bring this great natural resource to the stage where utilization will be possible."

Pocket Radiation Indicator Developed for Average Man

An accurate pocket-size radiation indicator, so simple that the man on the street can learn to read it after a few minutes instruction, has been developed at the atomic energy project on the Los Angeles campus of the University of California.

The device was developed by Dr. George V. Taplin and Clayton Douglas of the U.C.L.A. medical school's atomic energy medical research staff.

It measures radioactivity by a color change of chemical solutions in small vials. The chemicals are inexpensive, and it is estimated that the instrument could be produced on a large scale very cheaply.

The vials fit into a compact case about the size of a pack of paper matches, which could be worn around the neck like G.I. dog tags. They also could be adapted to a pencil-like container for the pocket.

The new radiation indicator was specifically designed to measure large doses of gamma and X-rays immediately after an atomic blast.

It also lends itself to the development of important peacetime applications, says Dr. Taplin. For example, it could be useful in the calibration of such radiation equipment as fluoroscopes and X-ray machines. It might be used to measure radiation from radio iodine absorbed by the thyroid gland in treatment of hyperthyroidism.

Origin of April's Fool

It was the habit of observing July as the beginning of the year that is said to have started the whole idea of All Fools' Day. From its reputed origin in France, it quickly spread to other countries. We have such varied terms as the English "noddies, gawbies and April gobs," the French "April Fish," and the Scottish "April Gowks." While there are other theories about April Fool's day, the calendar story located by research librarians with Childcraft seems that when King Charles XI of France adopted the reform calendar in 1564, many Frenchmen refused to go along with the new January 1 New Year's. When they continued to celebrate on July 1, they were made the butt of countless jokes—receiving mock party invitations, fake gifts, and pretended ceremonious visits of congratulation.

United Nation's Building

Along the banks of East river on the Island of Manhattan between 42nd and 48th streets the Secretariat building of the United Nations is towering to the sky as workmen are rushing it to completion so that it can be occupied before the end of the present year. The structure will be 39 stories high. It is one of four units that will complete the headquarters as a "workshop for world peace." Contracts for the other three units have not yet been let but it is believed they will be completed during 1951.

Suggestion for Farmers

The average farmer spends 50 per cent of his time around the farmstead. This can be materially reduced by piping water to the point of use rather than carrying it. For example, consider what carrying water to a flock of laying hens involves. If the water point is 60 yards from the hen house, as it is on many farms, the farmer will carry approximately 10 tons of water a distance of 25 miles per 100 hens per year in addition to walking another 25 miles to the water point.

Five-Grass Mixture Popular in Indiana

Pays Off in Higher Quality Hay, Pasture

Farmers in 12 northeastern Indiana counties swear by a 5-grass mixture that pays off in extra tons of high quality hay and pasture.

The combination includes timothy, brome, red clover, Ladino clover and alfalfa, reports Walter Rusk, county agent of Huntington county. This legume-grass combination, he said, could profitably be used by farmers in other states.

When plenty of fertilizer carrying nitrogen, phosphate and potash is used at seeding time and plant nutrients are top-dressed each year, this 5-grass mixture has yielded as much as 3 tons of hay at the first cutting on many farms. One farmer in the area insists that 5 acres of the mixture provides more forage than he previously got from about 60 acres of pasture.

Norman Thompson, who farms near Huntington, Indiana, reports that he grazed 27 head of cattle, including 16 milk cows and 11 calves, as well as 100 small pigs and 16 sows for 5 weeks on a 5-acre pasture seeded to the 5-grass mixture.

Rusk points out that the well fertilized legume-grass mixture is doing an important soil building job, besides giving farmers a preferred position in forage supplies. The taproots of the legumes drill down deep to keep the soil open and well ventilated. They add organic matter to improve the soil's tilth and drainage. Large quantities of organic matter in the soil mean increased water-holding capacity. They also make it possible to get the best possible efficiency out of every ton of fertilizer used.

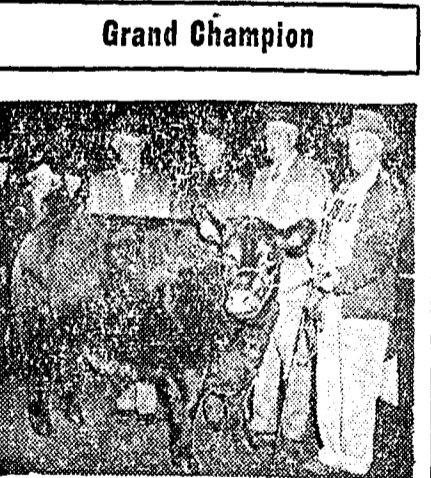

Improved Ever-Bearing Strawberry Developed

Strawberries from your garden from June to October are possible with the new, improved ever-bearing strains. Although the biggest crop comes from mid-to-late June, plants will continue to produce enough for breakfast cereal and dinner desserts until frost arrives.

Planting should be done as early in the spring as possible.

Said to thrive in any type of soil, is a new high-yielding variety developed by plant breeders of the Westchester Nurseries of Sawyer, Michigan. Called the "20th Century", this ever-bearing type is said to fruit in about 60 days and produce large, sweet, full-flavored berries all season long.

Seasoned gardeners recommend picking off the first blossoms so as to enable the roots to develop plenty of strength. They point out that while you may lose the first few fruits, you will gain in much bigger yields later in the summer.

Grand Champion

Time of Plowing Should Depend on Type of Soil

Ohio State University farm experts report type of soil should determine whether a farmer plows his land in fall or spring. Tests over a 14-year period indicate spring plowing is preferable on light soils. If plowed in the fall the ground has a tendency to become compacted by spring. On heavier soils tests show late fall plowing gives as good or better granulation of the soil than spring plowing.

Adrenal Gland Plays Role When One Suffers Injuries

Another step forward in better understanding the important role played by the adrenal gland in helping the body recover from injuries has been achieved, a University of Michigan doctor states.

Dr. Jerome W. Conn, an associate professor of internal medicine, reported to the American Association for the Advancement of Science on research he has been conducting at the university.

His study has shown that the adrenal gland calls upon a substance in the blood known as cholesterol to help in producing the huge amounts of adrenal hormones needed in prolonged periods of stress which the body undergoes at the time of an injury.

Cholesterol, produced largely by the liver, is the basic compound of adrenal hormones, including cortisone, the hormone found to be beneficial in the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis, Dr. Conn says.

In his experiments, Dr. Conn found the cholesterol content of the adrenal gland could be reduced 70 per cent within three hours by artificial stimulation which produced conditions similar to those created within the body during periods of prolonged stress.

This artificial stimulation was achieved through use of ACTH, the pituitary gland hormone which causes the adrenal gland to produce its hormones.

The effect of this prolonged stimulation of the adrenal gland has important implications for future study of several diseases, including those of the heart, liver and kidney, as well as hardening of the arteries, according to Dr. Conn. These diseases are all associated with an unusual production or use of cholesterol.

Wool Scarce; Give Blankets Extra Care for Longer Life

Treat your wool blankets with the gentle care that precious possessions deserve. Textile scientists of the U.S. department of agriculture have pointed out that U.S. production of wool this year is one of the lowest on record.

Frequent airing of blankets in use not only is good sanitary practice but helps them last longer and hold their fluffy warmth and comfort. When a blanket is thrown back loosely so fresh air reaches both sides, the wool has a chance to get back its natural springiness which makes for warmth. But care should be taken not to throw a blanket over anything sharp, such as a peaked bedpost, which may pierce or pull it, or on anything that may stain it. Loose bed springs, sharp metal corners or even roughened wood may also catch and tear blankets or other bedding.

For best service and comfort blankets should be large enough to come up well over shoulders and still tuck firmly in the bottom of the bed. Short blankets often wear out early because they take so much pulling and strain.

A blanket stays clean longer if the bed is made so that the sheet turns back over the top of the blanket 8 to 12 inches. If the sheet is too short, a strip of cloth, basted over the top or the full length of the blanket, is good protection against soiling the wool. A covering over the blanket, or even a third sheet used on top, gives added warmth because it holds still air in the fluffy wool.

For Pig Protection

A pair of clean rubber boots is worth more than any medicine in protecting pigs from a fatal intestinal disease called transmissible gastroenteritis. Best means of controlling it is to move healthy pigs as far away as possible from the sick ones. Many farmers do this, a veterinary medical bulletin points out, but they overlook the fact that their shoes can spread the infection. Attendants who have walked through infected hog quarters should put on a pair of clean boots before entering healthy quarters, the bulletin cautions. The disease, believed to be caused by a virus, is marked by severe diarrhea, vomiting, and rapid loss of weight. Young pigs are hit hardest, with death losses sometimes running as high as 90 per cent.

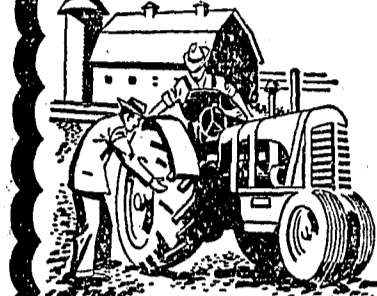

Finishes Pre-Tested

The term "industrial-finishes" is applied to the finishes used by manufacturers to enhance their products. Before being applied, they are subjected to many special tests based upon the kind of usage to which the article may be subjected. For example, in addition to tests for adhesion, and hardness, finishes for refrigerators, stoves and kitchen cabinets are tested for their resistance to various foods, such as lemon juice, butter, lard and vinegar—as well as to various cleaning materials.

Wooden, Aluminum, Ladders

The rung of a wooden ladder will bend downward about one-sixth of an inch for a 150-pound person stepping on its center. An aluminum ladder is constructed so that the deflection is much less. If it were built like the wooden ladder, the deflection of the aluminum rung would be about a ninth as much as for the wooden rung under similar conditions. This is because aluminum is nine times as rigid as wood (white oak).

"In our upper country we are without rain, and have had beautiful weather. The soil is so very dry, and not much snow up to last night — and this morning the weather report said 4 7/10 inches of wet snow — and wonder if that is true — the wet part? But the wet snow on the power lines played the mischief for a time. — Sincerely, Mrs. Minnie B. Wetmore, Yakima."

TV Reception On Hills Good
George F. Brocke, Sr., who has been working feverishly to bring TV to Kendrick, reports that reception on the hills, in most area, is good, but as yet they have been unable to bring the "pictures" in at Kendrick.

However, George says they haven't really worked on the valley reception as yet, but are waiting until KXLY TV comes on the air. Then, with two stations, KXLY having its transmitter on top of Mt. Spokane, they will concentrate on working out the difficulties.

Asks Slot Closure
Repeal of the slot machine and punchboard licensing laws and increased appropriations for education and humanitarian needs were urged by Gov. Len Jordan Tuesday in his address to the 32nd Idaho Legislature.

He said he has seen "the well-organized and vicious gambling lobby attempt to influence other legislation in an effort to enlist support for their own cause" in past sessions and asked prompt action on the slot machine repealer "so this issue will not obstruct the consideration of other important legislation."

Regarding slot machines the governor said "the abuses which have grown out of our present local option statutes are flagrant and difficult to correct by any measure short of repeal. To those who fear that repeal would bring a loss of tourist revenue, I ask you to study the tourist patronage enjoyed by the 46 states which do not legalize slot machines."

"We have (says public opinion) a fine example of such "flagrant violations" in the sprawling "foot wide" village of Lapwai, which runs for many miles up and down the Clearwater river, up onto the Lewiston Spiral Highway, etc.

Wins State Title
U. of I., Moscow — A Latah county boy, who started his 4-H work by raising a steer and wound up with the grand champion hog of the 1952 Spokane Junior livestock show, had the meat animal title of the state this week. Tom Trail, son of Floyd Trail, was selected as the outstanding 4-H member in the state in meat production. The announcement was made by Dan Warren of the U. of I., state club leader, and Marvin Jagels, Latah county club agent.

Trail showed his first fat steer at Spokane in 1947. He shortly switched to pigs and nearly dropped them one winter when the water pipes froze and he had to carry water for 19 pigs that two sows had been inconsiderate enough to have during a zero cold spell. He did prevail in the pig project, however, and became an outstanding exhibitor at county and regional fairs. As a livestock judge he won a trip to the Portland exposition. He was chosen as the outstanding hog exhibitor at Spokane last spring.

The young farmer also maintained an interest in beef. His steer at the last county fair graded prime and he was fourth among 24 head.

Trail's leader in the Valley View Livestock club is Rudolph Schroeder.

HELLO, THERE, FOLKS —

Well, now that the holidays are over — and income tax time is at hand — it's time to begin thinking about your income for the remainder of this winter — and so far as we can see — those cows and chickens are the producers. You know that when you sell to us there is no waiting for your can to come back — it remains right here. Get it (steam sterilized and ready to use) and your check — right now.

And the same holds true for eggs. When you sell to us you don't have to wonder when the check will come — get it right now!

As the married couple talked of old times, the husband remarked: "By the way, wonder whatever became of the old-fashioned girls who fainted when a man kissed them?" His wife gave him a withering look. "What I'd like to know," she retorted, "is what happened to the old-fashioned men who made them faint!"

Is the "winter salad problem" bothering you? If so, don't let it. Just get a pint of that delicious "Potlatch Chief" Cottage Cheese, and with a lettuce leaf and a slice of pear or pineapple, or both, you have one of the finest salads that anyone could want. If you're not now making use of this fine combination — try it!

First Neighbor: "How did that naughty little boy of your get hurt?"

Second Neighbor: "That good little boy of yours hit him with a brick!"

A man went into a neighborhood pub optimistically. Three hours later he came out misty optically.
