Large Crowd Hears African
 Mr. Shobo, an African from Nigeria, and now a student at W. S. C. on a scholarship, spoke Sunday evening to a large and appreciative audience in the Community church.

A small young man, with flashing smile, a rare sense of humor, and a noticeable dialect, he charmed his audience with stories of his home land. While Mr. Shobo has only been in the United States three months, and has studied English just three years, he speaks excellent English. He is majoring in Geology at W. S. C.

In his remarks about Niagra, he said it compared in size to one of our states, but was wholly undeveloped. There were a few cities, but mostly villages. And in Niagra there are five different languages spoken.

He added that many resources, such as farming, mining and lumbering are waiting to be developed.

The people lead a simple life, and most are quite poor. Their school system is inadequate to furnish education for all, just those who can pay, and he added — "We don't have enough books, if you want to do something for us, send us books!"

He said their homes were sturdily built of rock, mud and clay — "but not furnished like yours in America." A chair, table, stove and bed comprise the furnishings.

He commended the work of the missionaries, especially the medical missionaries, and added that his people were a religious race, and clung to many of their tribal ceremonies.

Through his talk you could sense he was proud to be here and had high hopes for his country's future.

YOUR MAINTENANCE FORCES
By Dwight Crofford

In your own state of Idaho there are some ninety maintenance crews who work on the state highway system daily, and many times at night, to maintain, repair and remove the snow from these roads. This may seem like a lot of crews, but there are a lot of roads to keep up — over 4,500 miles!

Each of these crews has a certain section of road network to maintain and from time to time, when the situation calls for it, other emergency crews are called in to help. When there is a slide across a certain section of the road, a special emergency crew may be called in to help remove the slide and open the road to traffic as rapidly as possible.

These men, all of them, are working for you who are the highway users. They have only one primary purpose — to maintain the traveled way so that it will be safe for the traveling public. The job is big and these men are doing the best they can. The overall picture is improving day by day, and the objective of these men is to assure that Idaho roads compare with the best in the nation.

While these men are working to keep the roads in good repair and clear of snow and ice, they must constantly be on guard against some highway user who may come speeding by with little or no caution and heedlessly injure men and demolish equipment. It sounds foolish, and it shouldn't be that way, but it is. The employee has to be on constant guard and in constant fear that the people for whom he is working, the highway user, will foolishly and unnecessarily do away with him.

Our maintenance men must put out signs to warn the traffic when they are working on the road, but the cars go sailing by as if there had been no warning and no hazard. Our trucks and crews are working on the roadway, but many motorists travel in and out without giving heed to the warnings or to the flagmen. Incidentally, when there is a flagman on the road you can be sure that extra caution must be exercised.

It is true that the responsibility of those of us in the department is first to the public. We warn every employee that he has a definite responsibility in this respect. He is told that he is governed by the same laws that govern everyone else, and that he must obey traffic regulations in the same manner as do anyone else. If he doesn't, strong disciplinary action is taken. At the same time, however, those men feel that they have the right to expect cooperation from the public and the highway user. They do not feel that they should have to spend their time jumping out of the way of cars that are speeding through maintenance zones. They do not feel that they should be subjected to the dangers of cars racing through ice and snow. They do not feel that they should have all of those things to contend with, yet they do have. You can read in your paper from time to time that it is costing men and equipment because of those things — costing you and costing the department.

Is it asking too much for each reader of this column to make himself a committee of one to cut down on the hazard to these men, who are trying to help you by making your roads safer, by careful driving and respect?

Mulching Will Not Prevent Freezing Leaves, Grass, Straw Are Good Materials

Even though many gardeners have used mulches for years and are aware of its value, they are not sure of their reasons for mulching. It is not to prevent plants from freezing, as often thought, but to prevent quick freezing and thawing.

It prevents drying out of plant tissues, and freezing and thawing from heaving plants out of the ground. It also prevents plant development too early in the spring when buds might be harmed by late frost.

The gardener looking for mulching materials could try leaves when available in quantity. They are satisfactory for perennials borders and beds, rock gardens and around evergreens and shrubs. Straw is another good material, especially good for strawberry beds. Oat straw is preferred over wheat and others.

Mulching is nature's way of providing plant protection. Leaves, grass, straw, peat moss and ground corn cobs are all good mulching material.

Peat Moss is often used and does an excellent job of preventing temperature fluctuations, but has a tendency to crust on top. Grass clippings are good, too, if available in large quantity.

Ground corn cobs have recently come into use as a mulch, especially for roses. This material is reported to also improve the soil by stimulating the growth of micro-organisms.

200-240 Pound Hogs Will Bring the Best Price

According to livestock specialists, both underfinished and overfinished hogs are likely to sell at larger-than-usual discounts this fall.

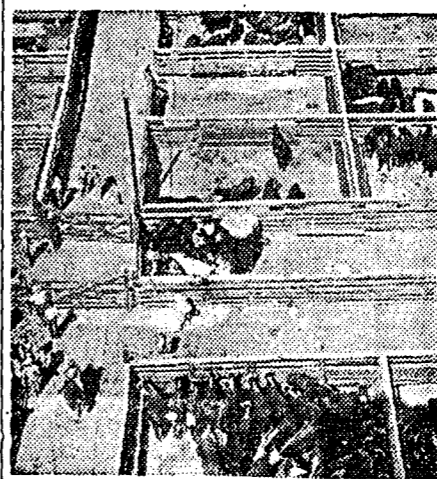

The 1951 pig crop of about 105 million head is the second largest on record, and there no longer is the strong world demand for fats and oils of a year ago. So there will be more fats available and possibly a weaker lard market.

As a result this will mean more price differential for type in live hogs. Hogs that are too heavy or too fat will probably have to take a larger discount than last year.

Specialists believe farmers should feed out hogs now under 180 pounds. Discounts on lightweights are such that farmers can hardly afford not to feed them out.

With so many hogs starting to market, packers can be rather choosy about the type of hog for which they pay top prices. Both underfinished and overfinished animals will sell at a disadvantage. Try to sell as many as possible between 200 and 240 pounds.

Filling Up

Restored pens of the Kansas City stockyards begin to fill up as cattle flow in again after the great flood. More than 20 feet of flood water covered this area. The job of rehabilitation has been hailed as an outstanding feat by livestock men throughout the midwest.

Cattle Grubs Cause Big Meat and Hide Losses

Not less than 12 million pounds of the most valuable part of the beef carcass are trimmed out around grub holes from cattle slaughtered in the U. S., according to livestock specialists. The trimming detracts from the carcass' appearance, resulting in a lower price per pound. It has also been estimated that grubs cause $20 million damage to hides each year, enough to make a million shoes.

Terramycin Said Effective Against Pinworm Infection

Infection caused by the pinworm, the most common and widely distributed of all human parasites, can now be successfully treated with terramycin, according to a team of 6 American doctors conducting clinical trials in Haiti.

Treating 61 cases of pinworm infection, the physicians found terramycin effective in all but two patients. Clinical trials with the wide-range antibiotic drug were undertaken because, said the doctors, "the usual treatment with gentian violet often does not eradicate the infection, and not infrequently the drug must be discontinued due to toxic reactions." Several of the patients who had taken gentian violet previously said they found terramycin "considerably more tolerable."

Pinworm infection is found throughout the world and in all ages. Public health experts estimate it affects 35 per cent or more of the general population. In southern states 50 to 60 per cent of all children have had it. Caused by a small white worm, its most disturbing symptom is itching. Often scratching brings about a secondary infection. Pinworm may interfere with eating and result in loss of weight and anemia. The disease usually infects the entire family.

In their clinical report, appearing in the current issue of the medical journal, "Antibiotics and Chemotherapy," the doctors point out that successful therapy depends upon simultaneous treatment of the whole family. In this respect one of gentian violet's disadvantages, they say, is that young children often cannot swallow the enteric-coated tablets.

Whenever possible, the medical team in Haiti examined whole families and treated them simultaneously with terramycin. Full cooperation was not always obtainable, but "despite inadequate dosage in a large number of cases," says the report, "in only 2 instances did treatment definitely fail by the fourth week after therapy was begun."

North Carolina Attacks Highway Safety Problems

A sound program to promote safety on the highways has been set in motion by the state of North Carolina. The appalling number of deaths and injuries resulting from motoring accidents in recent years has provoked this state to take action of a new and decisive type.

Since the first of July, applicants for driver's licenses and renewals have been required to have their eyesight tested on a complex instrument which measures 12 visual skills, including muscular balance, acuity at near and far distances, and depth perception. The instrument makes it impossible for drivers with poor vision to slip by, by memorizing the letters that they must read — a trick sometimes played with conventional charts. Those who fail the tests are advised to consult an eyesight specialist, and many of them will undoubtedly be enabled to pass by professional eye-care.

Good vision has long been recognized as a major factor in accident prevention, and thousands of hours have been spent in attempts to establish proper standards for motorists. But the results were always inconclusive, because too much of the element of personal opinion was involved. Under the new system, however, definite statistics on 1,300,000 drivers will be obtained by next July 1, and it will be possible to judge accurately which visual errors contribute most to accidents and which visual skills are most essential to highway safety.

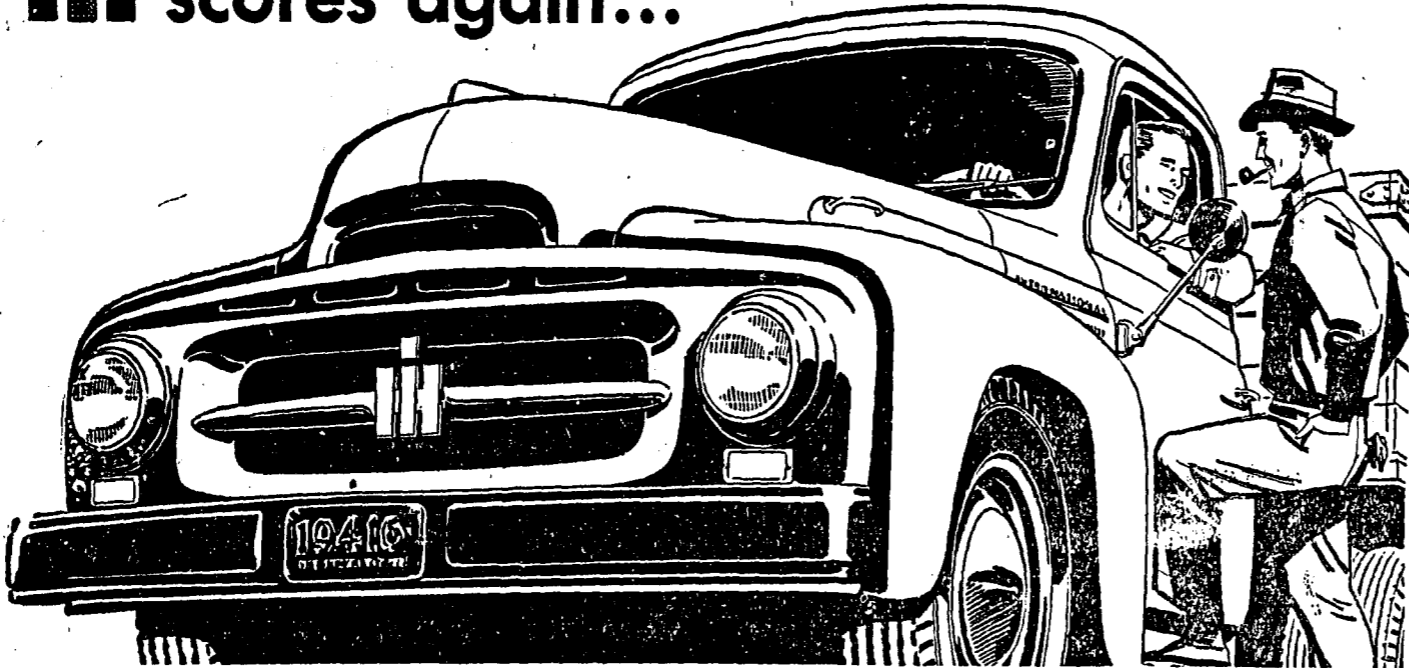

A Comet's Weight

What is the weight of a comet? Weight is a measurement of the attraction of the Earth for a body, on or near its surface, and as a comet moves far out in space, and is subjected to a varying attraction from the Earth and other planets, one should not speak of its "weight." Its mass, which is a measure of the amount of matter it contains, can only be determined roughly. It has been estimated that with Halley's comet the nucleus, which contains most of the material, has a mass of about a two-hundred-millionth of the Earth's mass. This would be about thirty million million tons. It has also been determined that the particles of which Halley's comet is made could not be held together by the gravitational attraction of a mass smaller than one twenty-fifth of the above figure. Most comets, however, are much smaller than Halley's, and have considerably smaller mass.

Schedule Is Wise

A regular painting schedule actually simplifies property protection. One wise farmer does a fourth of his buildings each year. In that way, each gets its necessary coat of protection every four years without fail, and each year's painting project can be fitted in as other outdoor work permits. While city dwellers do not have as many structures to safeguard, they are wise to look on painting as property-value insurance and to follow a regular schedule.

Interested In New Mine
 Six Inland Empire men are partners in a new mining venture in the Russian Creek sector of the Metaline mining district. They have located 70 lode mining claims and conducted a geophysical survey which reportedly disclosed three veins of lead-silver ore and big lenses of zinc ore.

The story came to light this week when Stuart Compton of Bayview, and A. W. Frederick, Spirit Lake prospector, visited Spokane. Compton and Walter Johnson of Davenport own the old Cleveland antimony-lead mine in Stevens county, under lease to Spokane-Idaho Mining Co.—Spokane Chronicle.

New Neon Sign
 Another new, large neon sign has joined those along Kendrick's Main street, the Red Cross Pharmacy just having completed the installation of a large one in front of the drug store department. The installation was done by Walter Sparber.
 The new sign will add greatly to the store appearance at night — as well as to Main street.

PERSONAL MENTION
 Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Schupier, accompanied by Mrs. Wm. Boone, attended a telephone meeting at the Bollinger Hotel in Lewiston, Tuesday. On Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kellum of Canada; Mrs. Connie Holmes, Claude and Fern of Clarkston, and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Rogers and little son of Lewiston spent the evening at the Dougharty home.

To Try For Record Again
 Melba, Ida., Jan. 19 — The 203 residents of this fertile potato growing community have their dander up. Their civic pride, which hit a new high last January when they raised a record $27.00 per capita for the March of Dimes through a community auction, has suffered a very severe blow.

The 42 citizens of Izeo, Oregon, had the effrontery last week, to raise more than $1,451, or a per capita of almost $35, at their annual basket social.

There's an old saying: "Fame leaves by the same door that conceit enters."

IS THIS YOUR RESPONSIBILITY?

Did you know that there are estimated to be 200,000 illegitimate babies in Japan, fathered by men of the occupation armies? American blood flows through their veins. What will be done with these American-Japanese grandchildren of ours? Did you know that this is the No. 1 problem of the Japanese Government? It should be our problem too. Most Japanese mothers don't want these babies. They abandon them in vacant lots, in garbage cans, railway stations — in fact in every conceivable place. Some are destroyed; these, too, are our grandchildren. Our government declines responsibility for these sins of our G. I.'s. The Japanese Government is unable to assume responsibility for such vast numbers of unwanted children. What will you do about this situation?

The American Soul Clinic will help you to do something about these grandchildren of ours. They are establishing two orphanages for them in Japan — one for the Negro-Japanese babies and one for all other illegitimate Anglo-Japanese babies. You may send gifts of money or children's clothing designated for either of these orphanages, and the entire amount will be sent without deduction for handling charges. Your monetary gifts are deductible from income tax.

Mail your gifts or inquiries to:

Potlatch Chief Sez

Published by the Kendrick Creamery

HELLO, THERE, FOLKS —

Well, it seems as though it just can't quit raining — but at that — what a wonderful winter we have had to date. It's been easy on the fuel pile, as well as easy on the snow shovel — not to mention easy on the cows and chickens.

At this latter point, we become greatly interested — for we want to buy your cream, and your eggs. Dealing at home there is no waiting. Your check is here. And we also return a steam sterilized, ready to use cream can. You don't have to wash it! Bring in your next cream to us. No quantity too large or none too small.

A farmer had planted a crop of flax, and had a tablecloth made from the linen he produced. Some time later he remarked to a guest at dinner: "I grew this tablecloth myself."

"Did you really?" the lady remarked with a little sarcasm.

"How do you ever manage to grow such things?"

"Promise you won't tell," the farmer asked.

She promised. "Well," he whispered solemnly, "I planted a napkin."

Worried about a winter salad? Well, don't be. Just get a carton of "Potlatch Chief" Cottage cheese and combine it with lettuce and pineapple, or lettuce and pear — and you have a dandy. Try it next time you want a salad.

At least prison football coaches have very little alumni interference and graduation losses are at a minimum.

Always ask for "Potlatch Chief" brand butter by name. It is your assurance of quality, purity. Made only from pasteurized cream.

Sell us your cream!
