TWO LOCAL COUPLES UNITED IN MARRIAGE PAST WEEK

Benscoter-Hoisington Nuptials

A simple but lovely home wedding was solemnized Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock when Betty Jorene Benscoter became the bride of Frank D. Hoisington at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Benscoter on American ridge.

The wedding vows were repeated before a large picture window which was flanked with huge baskets of glads.

The Rev. F. C. Schmidt officiated at the beautiful double ring ceremony in the presence of only the immediate members of both families.

The diminutive dark-eyed bride wore a pink linen suit with a corsage of gardenias and pink roses. The bride's sister, Mrs. Arlie Armitage was her matron of honor, and wore a beige crepe dress with brown accessories.

The groom was attired in the conventional dark suit, and had for his best man his brother, Loren Hoisington.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for the guests. Wedding cake, coffee and punch were served from a lovely lace-covered table, which was decorated with fall flowers.

After the young couple had cut the traditional first piece the bride's sister, Mrs. Dick McCall, finished cutting and serving the cake. Mrs. Walter Zimmerman, a sister of the groom, poured. Nita Benscoter, a sister of the bride, presided at the punch bowl, and Vivian Hoisington had charge of the guest book.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a rose crepe afternoon dress, and the groom's mother wore a navy crepe dress.

The groom, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Cletis Hoisington, Stony Point, is a graduate of the Lapwai High school, served with the Armed Forces and is at present engaged in farming.

The bride graduated from the Kendrick High school two years ago.

Following a short honeymoon the young couple will be at home to their friends on a farm in the Stony Point area.

Weaver-Brown Nuptials

Mary Ellen Weaver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Weaver, Southwick, became the bride of Donald E. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Brown, Kendrick, Friday evening, September 4, at 6:30 o'clock, at the home of the Rev. Earl Gaskill in Juliaetta, he officiating at the single ring ceremony. Witnesses were the groom's mother, Mrs. Ed. Brown, and the bride's father, Lester Weaver.

The bride chose for her wedding a pink summer suit with white accessories and the groom wore a conventional business suit of gray.

Following the ceremony a bridal supper was served at the home of the groom's parents, only members of the family being present.

The young couple left immediately for a short honeymoon trip into Canada.

They are now at home to their friends in the former Murdock house in the west part of town.

The bride graduated last year from the Kendrick High School, and was later employed at Kendrick and Moscow.

Mr. Brown is also a graduate of the Kendrick High school and served two years with the Armed Forces in Japan and Korea.

Jumps From N. P. Speeder

W. W. Eldridge escaped with his life and only minor injuries Friday when he jumped from his N. P. speeder to avoid hitting a work train head on.

Mr. Eldridge was pretty well bruised up from his encounter with gravel and cinders as he rolled down the bank — but is glad to be alive.

His most serious injuries included a broken rib, sprained ankle and a gash in his scalp which required several stitches to close.

Mr. Eldridge relates he had left Troy going into Moscow and met the caboose of a work train around a curve. The train was being backed into Troy for water, since the supply had given out at Moscow. The brakeman spied him at almost the same instant Eldridge saw the train. The brakeman "dynamited" the train brakes and the train was almost at a stop, so when it did hit the speeder the impact was minimized greatly.

The speeder was not too badly damaged — considering — and we might say the same for Mr. Eldridge. He was back on the job the next day.

KENNETH BROWN FINALLY GETS WIEE TO U. S. — HOME

Kenneth Brown arrived home Monday afternoon with his pretty little German wife and their 16-month-old daughter, also her three-year-old son by a former marriage.

Mrs. Brown and the children left Frankfurt, Germany, September 1st, flying to New York, where they were met by her husband. They returned by train to Spokane, and on to Kendrick by car. She admits, laughingly, she had no idea Idaho was so big, or that the trip from New York here would take so long — that seeming to be one of the big surprises — the vastness of our country.

She is learning English rapidly and speaks it fairly well, she, however, can understand it better. The children speak only German, but are learning what a few English words mean, and will, of course, learn our language rapidly in association with other children.

Kenneth served three years with the Army of Occupation in Germany and was married there at that time. When his period of service was up and he left for home, it was with the assurance his wife and children would soon follow — but almost a year elapsed before the official "red tape" could be unwound and her passport was granted.

After his departure it was soon learned that she and their daughter could come, but not her son. The true mother instinct would not take the chance of going to her husband and later trying to bring the boy over — so she remained to fight it out.

With Kenneth working on this end through U. S. Senator Herman Welker and the V. P. W., she was finally granted a passport for the little boy as well as herself.

Coming to America was a wonderful dream come true. So many things she had heard of but couldn't believe are now unfolding before her very eyes — such as electric washing machines — she had never seen one, let alone used one. And so many cars, beautiful big ones — "even the kids have cars — how can it be," she muses.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown and children are staying at the home of his parents for the present, until their household linens, dishes, etc., arrive from Germany. At that time they will set up housekeeping for themselves.

Kenneth is employed by the N. P. railway.

Hot Weather With Us Again

Following several days of rather cool weather, the mercury zoomed on Monday to a high of 91 degrees in Kendrick, and at 10:30 that evening was recording 67 degrees — which all agree is a pretty high point for September 7th.

Farmers, however, are taking the fullest advantage of the situation to wind up the harvesting of spring grains, grasses and clover seed — and all agree that the latter is giving them a rather bad time.

Many operators are mowing their clover, allowing it to lay a day or two to dry out, and then using the combine. This has been forced by the unusually heavy dews, which has held all operations to an 8:30 to 9:00 o'clock start except in rare instances.

Beans are said to be ripening well in most areas under the impact of the warm sun and gentle breeze, and operations on this latter crop can probably be begun on a general scale next week. In some areas this crop to said to be excellent — in some fair, but no reports of "poor" have come in.

Farmers are hopeful for two to three more weeks of "Indian Summer" and then it will be fall plowing — and hunting time.

The Gazette, under the editorship of Joseph S. Vincent, recounts the winners of foot races, high jumps, broad jumps, etc., from their Fourth of July celebration, with a Chas. Glancing Axe Cuts Into Foot Arlie Armitage, Southwick, suffered a serious injury last Friday while working on Tamarack Mountain in logging operations.

While chopping a limb on a fallen tree his axe glanced, cutting the side of his right foot severely. One bone was cut through, another nicked, and three tendons severed.

He was brought to Kendrick for first aid and then taken to the St. Joseph's hospital, where he underwent surgery to repair the damage — and remained in the hospital until Sunday evening. That evening he was brought to the home of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Benscoter on American ridge, where he is convalescing.

Even though Arlie's injuries were serious, he is up on crutches and hobbling around a little.

NEW TEACHERS ON THE JOB

Jordan Kanikkeberg, Eighth Grade.
Jordan Kanikkeberg, another new member on the faculty needs no introduction here, having grown to young manhood in this community, and graduated from Kendrick High school. He then went on to the University of Idaho, graduating as a History major. He was affiliated with the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity while on the campus, and was active in school politics.
The past two years he has traveled out of Washington, D. C. as a field representative of his fraternity, the Phi Gamma Delta.
Jordan will teach the eighth grade, and also serve as Principal of the grade school.
Mr. Paulos, Music Instructor
George Paulos, of Cascade, Idaho, is the new music instructor in this district, which means he will direct music education at Juliaetta and Southwick, as well as Kendrick. He is prepared to teach both vocal and instrumental music.
Mr. Paulos has spent the past few years attending the University of Idaho, where he taught music on a Fellowship. Before that he attended Boise Jr. College from 46 to 48. His service with the army covered the years 1941 to 1946.
While attending the University of Idaho Mr. Paulos took part in many campus activities which included The Vandaleers, Lettermen's Club, Varsity Ski Club. He also played football, took part in track and cross country, helped to produce musical shows and operate an opera work shop. He worked on the campus radio station and was a member of the Phi Delta Kappa, a national education fraternity.
Mr. Paulos has secured rooms at the home of Mrs. Estella Leith, where he will live this year.

Robert Meserve, Superintendent
Robert Meserve, new school superintendent for District 283, took office officially this week with the opening of school.
Mr. Meserve, with his wife and two children, moved here during the summer, purchasing the Robert Fraser home on the school house hill, and has been on duty more or less ever since. Already, with his warm, amicable manner he is making friends and residents are accepting him as a member of the community.
Mr. Meserve comes to Kendrick as a versatile young man, having led a very busy life the past ten years. He attended the U. of I. from 1938 to 1941, at the latter time entering the Air Force and serving until 1947. He was in Europe on two tours of duty which included 83 combat missions. The first tour sent him over in 1942 — home in 1944 — and then back again in 1944, and home again in 1945. He was a fighter pilot, and had the rank of major at the time of his discharge.
With his discharge from the Air Force he returned to the U. of I. in 1948, where he earned his B. S. degree in Social Science and Psychology in 1949. In the summer of 1952 he completed his M. S. degree in Administration.
For the past four years Mr. Meserve has served as superintendent of schools at Deary, and comes to this community with the highest of recommendations.
Born and raised at Sandpoint, where his parents still reside, he calls that town home. He was married in 1942, and he and his wife have two small sons.
Kendrick and the surrounding area welcome this young couple to their midst and look forward to knowing them better as the year progresses.

G. I.'s Dislike in Britain
American troops in Great Britain, despite a behavior record 30 percent better than at home, are encountering "seething resentment" and a "dislike verging on hatred," reports George Kent in the lead article of the September Reader's Digest. Kent writes from first-hand observations during the past two years in the British Isles.

Our airmen have been described as "inconsiderate and insulting" and their chief off-duty occupations are said to be "drinking and woman-hunting." Resentment is directed toward the G.I.'s "big cars, comparatively fat purses, and unrated and higher scale of living." Long the victims of a housing shortage, the British object to the diversion of labor and materials to build super-camps for the G.I.'s, and to the Americans' willingness to pay "fantastic" sums for homes and domestic help the British might otherwise have.

Small towns complain of "femad camp followers who are attracted by the well-paid American soldiers."

Public opinion in Britain "is soured by a sensational press," Kent says, "to which anything anti-American is news." Communists fan this ill will by spreading false rumors of gifts and special privileges accorded the G.I.s at the expense of the British taxpayers.

Overcharging of Americans by taxi drivers, waiters and shopkeepers is rampant, and any suggestion that our forces go home would be greeted with a "leoline roar" of protest by those who take the G.I.'s money.

Relations are improving, however, Kent notes. Courageous behavior of G.I.s in two recent British disasters — the train wreck at Harrow and the flood last January — did much to convert anti-American Britons. Organized sports between G.I. and British teams have helped promote friendship. Several golf clubs have offered honorary membership to Americans.

Sympathetic Britishers have established information, entertainment and guidance bureaus near American bases, and are putting pressure on newspapers to eliminate their anti-American slant. G.I.s are reported to be marrying British girls at the rate of 150 a month.

Speed Control — Self Control

When it comes to controlling an automobile — it's a form of self-control, maintains the Idaho Traffic Safety division. It is keeping your faculties alert to all conditions that affect your driving — maintaining only a speed consistent with other conditions. If speed alone were the danger, what about pilots who fly jet planes at speeds as fast — or faster — than sound?

When you think of speed on the highway, you also must think of other factors which are operating.

For instance, road conditions may affect safe speed. Perhaps 50 miles an hour on a straight, well-paved, uncrowded highway may not be at all dangerous. But the same speed on a narrow, unknown dirt road can be a way of flirting with death.

Weather conditions such as rain or fog demand a lower speed than a clear spring or summer day with high visibility.

And certainly you shouldn't drive as fast in a car that's several years old as in one fresh out of the showroom — one in which every mechanical feature is perfect.

Time of the day is also a factor. Dusk and nightfall bring hazards that do not exist in bright, daylight hours.

Lastly, what about the condition of the driver? Is he nervous, upset, worried, half ill with a cold or headache? If so, he should take the fact into consideration before he "steps on it."

Any one of the above conditions, or any combination of them, says the Division, call for reduced speed if drivers are to operate their cars in accordance with sound principles of speed control.

And remember: If you drink, don't drive — if you drive, don't drink!

Front Seat Drivers

"Did you enjoy your vacation trip?" Mr. Tolliver's neighbor inquired.

"Very much," Mr. T. replied. "My wife did all the driving."

"Then you had a chance to enjoy the scenery?"

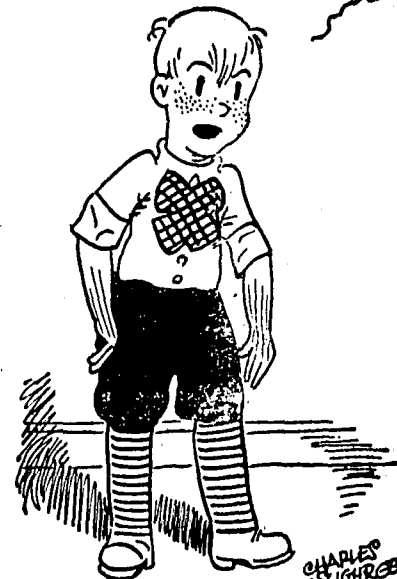

"Yes, indeed," said Mr. T. "All I had to do was hold the wheel."

Be sure to take some fried rabbit on your week-end out. It's delicious. See your grocer. 1-adv.

Medical School Enrollments Are Setting New Records:

Medical schools of the United States in the last year took further steps to protect the future health of the nation by enrolling the largest number of students in their history.

This was revealed in the 51st annual report on medical education in the United States and Canada, compiled by the Council on Medical Education and Hospitals of the American Medical Association. The report was prepared by Dr. Donald G. Anderson of Chicago, secretary of the council, and his aides, Dr. Francis R. Manlove and Mrs. Anna Tipner.

A total of 26,191 students were enrolled in 79 approved schools in the United States for the 1950-51 academic year. This compares with the previous high record of 25,103 in the year before, an increase of 1,088 (4.1%). Since 1941, when there was an enrollment of 21,379 students in 77 approved schools, the increase has been 4,812 (22.5%).

The report also disclosed that the current academic year will see a continuation of this increase in medical education because of the enrollment of a record freshman class. It is estimated that about 7,400 new students will enter medical schools, compared with the previous record of 7,182 a year ago.

Also important from a future health protection standpoint was a survey which showed plans were under way in many states for the opening of additional medical schools and for the expansion of existing facilities.

"Significant progress is being made toward resolving the financial problems of the medical schools," the report also said. "Funds available to the schools during 1951-52 will total approximately $109,600,000, which represents an increase of $36,000,000 in the last four years."

Psychologist Believes Kids Aren't Bad—Just Problems

There are no "naughty children" or "problem children," in the opinion of one distinguished child psychologist, there are only "children with problems."

"In modern days, we should not talk any longer about 'the naughty child' or 'a problem child,' but should try to find the reasons back of the problems of the child."

Dr. Keymert, who is Director of The Mooseheart Laboratory for Child Research at Mooseheart, Illinois, explores some of these reasons and finds that most of them are related to a lack of understanding of the child and his needs, on the part of the parent.

He observes that "one child may be naughty because he feels that he is being blamed and criticized too much. Another child may misbehave because he feels that his parents are not interested in him and do not pay enough attention to him. A third child may use this means to rebel against excessive restrictions or confinements."

"It is toward removing the cause or causes for the child's naughtiness that we must turn our attention rather than toward even stricter and more severe discipline," Dr. Keymert points out.

Insomnia

Although many people are troubled with various types of insomnia, there is no one who "just can't sleep at all" for any length of time. There is a type of insomnia where one can't get to sleep easily, but after he has fallen asleep, he sleeps soundly. In another type, the person awakens often during sleep and, although he seldom stays awake for long, things he is awake for hours. Still another type is the person who awakens early and can't get back to sleep. The person who "just can't sleep at all," however, is non-existent. It is impossible to live without sleep. Even though one is troubled with insomnia, if he has a good sleep foundation, he will doze off—although he may not realize it. On a good quality sleep foundation, it is impossible to resist sleep for long unless there is something physically wrong with a person.

Stop Sediment

To prevent the sediment that accumulates in the bottom of a tea kettle from hard water, throw away immediately the remaining amount of boiling water which you are not going to use. Do not allow the boiling water to settle in the kettle. Installation of a water softener, to treat the hard water and get rid of the compounds that cause the sediment, would also eliminate the deposit.

Earth and Gravity

The force of gravity is lessened by the centrifugal force produced by the Earth's rotation because of centrifugal force. The effect of gravity at the equator is about one part in 289 less than it would be on a stationary Earth, or than it is at the poles, where there is no such force. The centrifugal force also throws the surface of the Earth at the equator about 13 miles farther than the poles from the center. This causes a further decrease in gravity, so a man who weighs 189 pounds at the pole would only weigh 188 pounds at the equator, as measured by a spring balance. Ordinary scales would not show this, since the weights used would be equally affected.

A HEALTHY FOREST INDUSTRY keeps Idaho prosperous

BREAKING

A VICIOUS CIRCLE

Blister rust, an airborne fungus that kills healthy trees, moves in a vicious circle. It begins on innocent-looking currant and gooseberry bushes on the forest floor, spreads to white pine trees where it attacks and eventually kills, then moves back to the bushes for another circle of destruction.

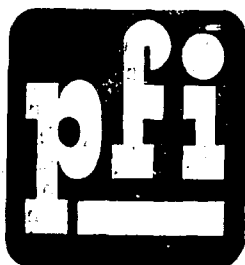

To break this circle, blister rust control crews use poison sprays on bushes that harbor the spore.

This is done under supervision of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine. Research also is underway to develop trees that are resistant to blister rust. Potlatch Forests, Inc. contributes to this control program by annual cash payments.

Such cooperation is breaking a circle of destruction, and a natural enemy of the forests of Idaho is being defeated.

Adrenal Gland Plays Role When One Suffers Injuries

Another step forward in better understanding the important role played by the adrenal gland in helping the body recover from injuries has been achieved, a University of Michigan doctor states.

Dr. Jerome W. Conn, an associate professor of internal medicine, reported to the American Association for the Advancement of Science on research he has been conducting at the university.

His study has shown that the adrenal gland calls upon a substance in the blood known as cholesterol to help in producing the huge amounts of adrenal hormones needed in prolonged periods of stress which the body undergoes at the time of an injury.

Cholesterol, produced largely by the liver, is the basic compound of adrenal hormones, including cortisone, the hormone found to be beneficial in the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis, Dr. Conn says.

In his experiments, Dr. Conn found the cholesterol content of the adrenal gland could be reduced 70 per cent within three hours by artificial stimulation which produced conditions similar to those created within the body during periods of prolonged stress.

This artificial stimulation was achieved through use of ACTH, the pituitary gland hormone which causes the adrenal gland to produce its hormones.

The effect of this prolonged stimulation of the adrenal gland has important implications for future study of several diseases, including those of the heart, liver and kidney as well as hardening of the arteries, according to Dr. Conn. These diseases are all associated with an unusual production or use of cholesterol.

Wool Scarce; Give Blankets Extra Care for Longer Life

Treat your wool blankets with the gentle care that precious possessions deserve. Textile scientists of the U.S. department of agriculture have pointed out that U.S. production of wool this year is one of the lowest on record.

Frequent airing of blankets in use not only is good sanitary practice but helps them last longer and hold their fluffy warmth and comfort. When a blanket is thrown back loosely so fresh air reaches both sides, the wool has a chance to get back its natural springiness which makes for warmth. But care should be taken not to throw a blanket over anything sharp, such as a peaked bedpost, which may pierce or pull it, or on anything that may stain it. Loose bed springs, sharp metal corners or even roughened wood may also catch and tear blankets or other bedding.

For best service and comfort blankets should be large enough to come up well over shoulders and still tuck firmly in the bottom of the bed. Short blankets often wear out early because they take so much pulling and strain.

A blanket stays clean longer if the bed is made so that the sheet turns back over the top of the blanket 8 to 12 inches. If the sheet is too short, a strip of cloth, basted over the top or the full length of the blanket, is good protection against soiling the wool. A covering over the blanket, or even a third sheet used on top, gives added warmth because it holds still air in the fluffy wool.

For Pig Protection

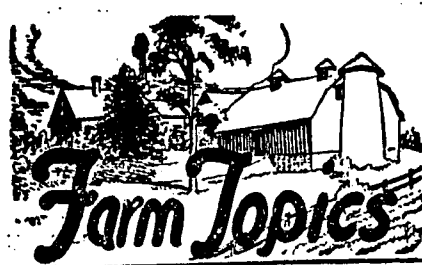

A pair of clean rubber boots is worth more than any medicine in protecting pigs from a fatal intestinal disease called transmissible gastroenteritis. Best means of controlling it is to move healthy pigs as far away as possible from the sick ones. Many farmers do this, a veterinary medical bulletin points out, but they overlook the fact that their shoes can spread the infection. Attendants who have walked through infected hog quarters should put on a pair of clean boots before entering healthy quarters, the bulletin cautions. The disease, believed to be caused by a virus, is marked by severe diarrhea, vomiting, and rapid loss of weight. Young pigs are hit hardest, with death losses sometimes running as high as 90 per cent.

Finishes Pre-Tested

The term "industrial-finishes" is applied to the finishes used by manufacturers to enhance their products. Before being applied, they are subjected to many special tests based upon the kind of usage to which the article may be subjected. For example, in addition to tests for adhesion, and hardness, finishes for refrigerators, stoves and kitchen cabinets are tested for their resistance to various foods, such as lemon juice, butter, lard and vinegar—as well as to various cleaning materials.

Wooden, Aluminum, Ladders

The rung of a wooden ladder will bend downward about one-sixth of an inch for a 150-pound person stepping on its center. An aluminum ladder is constructed so that the deflection is much less. If it were built like the wooden ladder, the deflection of the aluminum rung would be about a ninth as much as for the wooden rung under similar conditions. This is because aluminum is nine times as rigid as wood (white oak).

Good Pasture Program Means More Profits

Over-Grazing Can Kill Out Pasture Growth

Now is the time to plan a "complete pasture program" that will give your dairy cattle an abundance of high quality, low cost feed at all times next year, says the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.

The Farmer who has an all-season supply of succulent forage, grass silage or hay is the farmer who will have bigger milk checks, lower feed costs and more overall profits, the committee points out.

Earl Jones, Ohio State University extension agronomist, says that a well-rounded pasture plan should include: (1) Seeding well adapted legume-grass mixtures; (2) The use of lime and commercial fertilizer; (3) Good grazing management.

Jones recommends alfalfa, ladino clover and grass for summer grazing. Where alfalfa does not thrive, ladino clover and grass will do a good job. Timothy, brome grass or orchard grass may also be used.

He cautions farmers to avoid killing out pasture growth by over-grazing and to provide palatable and nutritious pasture by avoiding under grazing. Jones suggests dividing pasture areas into lots. Cattle are allowed to graze down growth in one lot and then are moved to another.

Along with good legume-grass mixtures and managed grazing, Jones emphasizes the benefits from adding lime and fertilizers carrying nitrogen, phosphate and potash.

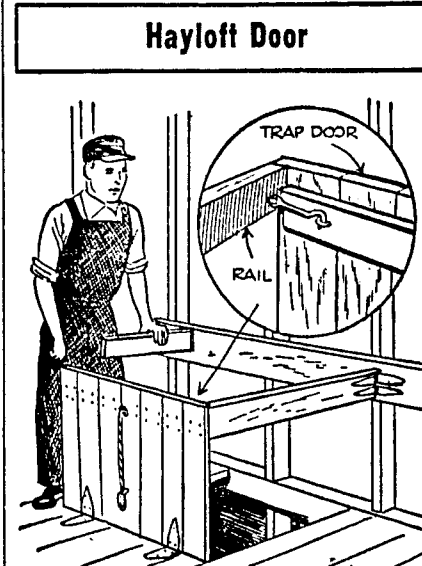

Poultry Industry Expects To Boost Production

One of the nation's newest agricultural industries is expected to boost the value of poultry products beyond the four billion dollar mark this year.

This new industry—known as the broiler industry—is expected to account for almost half the chicken meat consumed in 1953, compared to an almost negligible amount 15 years ago. Poultry breeders have succeeded in developing chickens that eat less and still grow from two to three weeks faster to reach marketable size.

H. H. Alp, Director of Commodity Departments for the American Farm Bureau Federation, recently credited the success of the new industry to the nationwide Chicken-of-Tomorrow program sponsored since 1945 by A & P Food Stores.

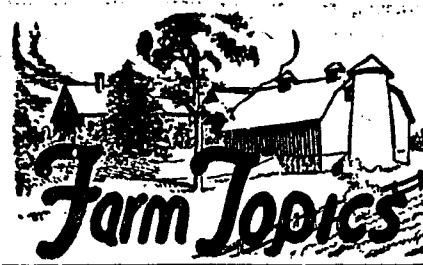

Only a few years ago, according to U.S. Department of Agriculture reports, most of the chicken meat consumed in this country came from so-called "backyard flocks." Records of specialized broiler production in 1934 show that these chickens accounted for only 3 per cent of total consumption of 18.3 pounds of chicken per capita. In 1951 broilers are expected to account for 51 per cent of a per capita consumption of 29.7 pounds.

If you have a trap door in your barn loft, here is an idea that could possibly save you a dangerous fall. Fit it with guard-rails as shown above. The rails, which are hinged to the barn wall, swing outward and are hooked to the trap door when it is in the upright position. When the door is closed the rails are folded flush against the wall.

Frozen Foods Show Huge Gain During Past Year

A record percentage of farm produce is moving to consumers in frozen form. Figures compiled by A & P Food Stores, operator of 4,500 markets in 37 states with six million customers daily, show an overall increase in frozen food sales of 38.9 per cent. Leading this list of foods are citrus juice concentrates orange and grapefruit juice, a blend of the two, and lemon mix. Peas, and strawberries also increased.

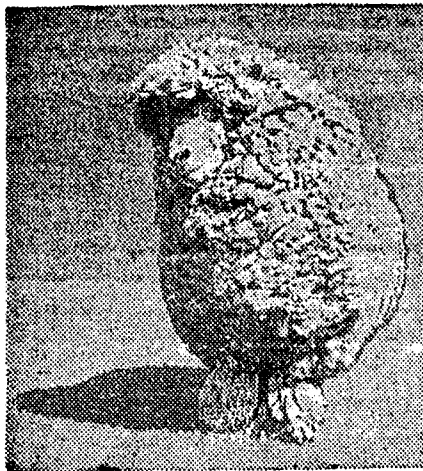

Chile Produces Some Of World's Best Wool

Three-Fourths of Crop Is Shipped to U. S.

The small American farmer has learned from experience just how profitable a small flock of sheep can be to his general farm program. And in the western part of the country great flocks are maintained by producers.

One of the greatest producers of wool, now selling at a record price, is Chile. The industry is valued at $170,000,000 and employs more than 10,000 people.

Chile's first sheep were brought from Spain by the Spanish conqueror Pedro de Valdivia over 400 years ago. In 1877, 300 head were brought to the Punta Arenas area from the Falkland Islands.

The huge English Marsh Romney will produce 12 kilos of long staple wool, or 30 pounds. This type wool is often called the best in the world.

The industry specializes in the famous English Marsh Romney sheep which produces, according to many experts, the finest long staple wool in the world. Today, Chile has a total sheep population close to 7,000,000 head.

Three quarters of the nation's wool crop — about 15,000 metric tons — goes to the United States. England gets the remainder.

Farm Worker Crop Output Triples in Fifty Years

Fifty years ago a farm worker produced enough food for himself and five other persons. Today the crops raised by a single worker are sufficient for 15 persons.

Although machinery has had much to do with this spectacular productivity record, a major factor is the expanded use of fertilizers. The nation's farms last year consumed 18,346,132 tons of soil food—six times as much as in 1901—at a cost of $744,000,000.

At the turn of the century 265 million acres of crop land, tilled by 13 million farm workers, were needed to supply the crops required by a population of 76 million. Now 10 million workers produce from 345 million acres of land the food required by twice as many Americans, as well as thousands of persons in other countries.

Agricultural authorities say that the use of fertilizer is responsible for roughly one-fourth of the volume of all crops.

The use of fertilizer is expected to continue upward for an indefinite period.

It is a long time from planting seed beds, but gardeners and farmers might spend some of their spare time during the winter months making one. Seed beds with plastic covers are hailproof, shatter-proof and light in weight. A plastic-coated wire mesh, weighing less than glass, passes on to the plants most of the sun's ultraviolet and infrared rays. This material is available at most farm equipment dealers and hardware stores.

Poultry and Egg Eating Increases, Experts Say

Poultry experts report the American family is consuming more poultry and eggs and predicts the increase will continue during the rest of 1953. Forecasts indicate the average American will have eaten 30 pounds of chicken by the end of 1951, 10 per cent more than last year; 406 eggs, slightly more than in 1950; and about five pounds of turkey meat, approximately the same as last year.

Squirrel Provides Big Part Of Nation's Yearly Game Bag

Although it is generally recognized as a prolific game species of extensive range, comparatively few people realize the truly important part the squirrel plays in the nation's game bag.

Several years ago the Remington Arms Company, Inc., conducted a survey of national wildlife resources and sportsmen's hunting preferences. The survey revealed that the squirrel ranked second only to the rabbit as the most sought-after game species in the country.

A recent analysis of "Hunters' Scorecards" returned to the office of the Mississippi Game and Fish commission placed the squirrel in an outstanding position in the hunting activities of the sportsmen of the Magnolia state. The analysis brings to light the fact that 79 per cent or 150,000 of the licensed hunters in Mississippi sought squirrel during the 1950-51 hunting season. The cotton-tail rabbit and the Bob White quail practically tied for second high rank, with the rabbit nosing out the quail by the slight margin of 47.15% to 47.12%. Next in line was the lowly possum with the somewhat surprising score of 23.06%, topping the dove's rating of 21.58%.

A breakdown of the analysis in hunting activity percentage and estimated total statewide kill follows: deer 6%, 1,370; wild turkeys 1.35%, 249; quail 47.12%, 2,119,532; squirrel 79.83%, 2,418,574; rabbit 47.15%, 900,360; coon 16.2%, 208,712; possum 23.06%, 386,145; dove 21.58%, 522,876; ducks 8.97%, 182,217.

Patients On Salt-Free Diet Given Hope for Meal Variety

Patients on a monotonous salt-free diet were given the hope of adding more variety to their meals in two reports on further experiments in the recently developed exchange resin therapy. Exchange resin compounds have been administered to patients having congestive heart failure, cirrhosis of the liver, or kidney ailments which cause excessive fluids to collect in the system. The resin compounds eliminate the sodium which locks in the fluids. Because of this action, it becomes possible for the patient to take more sodium in his diet than would otherwise be possible.

In a report on resin therapy presented by Drs. Carl Voyles, Jr., and Edward S. Orgain, Duke University School of Medicine, Durham, N. C., it was concluded that, "Resin therapy is a useful adjunct to conventional therapy in the management of chronic congestive heart failure, and it can be used safely in conjunction with strict sodium restriction in patients who are followed closely. Resin therapy also makes possible the addition of sodium chloride in amounts sufficient to render the diet more palatable," the report added, and it facilitates the action of mercurial compounds that help in fluid elimination.

The second report on exchange resin therapy reviewed studies by Drs. B. L. Martz, K. G. Kohlstaedt, and O. M. Helmer, at the Lilly Clinic for Cardiovascular Research, Indianapolis.

Sleep Anywhere

One of the most energetic causes of sleep is fatigue. It is said that prisoners upon the rack have slept through sheer exhaustion while undergoing the horrors of torture. In a like manner, if one is tired enough he will be able to sleep on the floor or on any manner of uncomfortable bed, although he will not thoroughly relax. To the person who has known the luxury of sleeping on a good quality bed, though, sleeping on a worn out, sagging mattress and spring is almost as much torture as going to sleep on a prisoner's rack.

War and Peace

Development of the flame thrower, which first became a military weapon during World War II and has been used extensively by the Army in Korea, led to the peacetime perfection of a highly proficient weed killer. Tests at the Army Chemical Corps Center, at Edgewood, Maryland, proved that a thin jet of burning, jellied gasoline would kill weeds between rows of plants without harming the plants themselves.

Deciding Issue

If it had not been for the magic of the name "George Washington" the fabulous Phineas T. Barnum may have lived out his life in obscurity as a poor country store-keeper. One day, the man who was to become known as "the greatest showman on earth" heard an interesting story of a remarkable Negro woman, Joice Heth, who claimed to be 161 years old. When he went to see her, purely out of curiosity, she asserted that she had been the nurse of George Washington. Barnum became so excited upon discovery of documentary evidence to back up her claims, he decided to sell his store and exhibit the strange old woman in the east. The tour proved so successful, and stirred up so much interest, he was inspired to engage in other similar ventures. Finally, he formed the partnership with James A. Bailey out of which grew the most famous circus in America.

To Buy More Locomotives

The Northern Pacific railway will buy 30 additional diesel-electric locomotive units at an estimated cost of $4,548,000, for 1954 delivery, Robert S. Macfarlane, president, announced last week, following authorization by the board of directors.

The order, Macfarlane said, will be made up of 14 road-switchers, five switchers, two four-unit 6000-horsepower freight locomotives and one three-unit 4,500 horsepower passenger locomotive.

With the delivery of the new power NP will have 297 diesel units in service. At present 80 percent of the NP's passenger service is dieselized and all regular main line passenger trains are pulled by diesels. Freight diesels are used in 56 percent of the yard work.

The five new switchers and two road switchers will be assigned to the Yellowstone division at Billings, Mont.; six road switchers to the Rocky Mountain division; four to the Idaho division, and two to the Lake Superior division.

O. E. S. Entertains Guests

Tuesday evening, Sept. 8, Canyon Chapter No. 67, O. E. S., was host to visiting chapters from Genesee, Moscow, Orofino, Potlatch, Winchester, Pomeroy, Asotin, Bovill and Clarkston.

Special honors were extended to Grand Chapter officers, Associate Grand Patron E. Samnay of Laurel Chapter, Lewiston; Grand Warden Alice Tarry of Canyon Chapter, Kendrick; Grand Representative of Mississippi in Idaho, Ruby McKeever; Grand Representative of New York in Idaho, Emma Lou Hansen of Laurel Chapter, Lewiston.

A song written and sung by Elsie Onstott and Irene Millard honored Alice Tarry, who was honor guest for the evening.

The altar was draped for Past Grand Matron Elizabeth Delaney of Esther Chapter, Coeur d'Alene. This was of interest to Canyon Chapter because her husband, James Delaney, helped to install Canyon Chapter in 1924.

Worthy Matrons from Asotin, Moscow, Orofino, Bovill and Lewiston were escorted to the East, and Worthy Patron Story of Clarkston was also introduced.

Crystal Gruell, program chairman, gave the poem "Friends" as a cordial welcome to the guests. Helen Mielke also presented a reading, "The Lovely Trio." Jane Racicot, Donna Kanikkeberg and Ann Souders sang three numbers, which everyone enjoyed.

The banquet room was beautiful with fall flowers, candle light and plenty of watermelon and cantaloupe for the 83 members and guests.

All members are urged to be present for the Oct. 13th meeting, as balloting for membership is the order of business.

About Fire "Cartoons"

Undoubtedly most of our readers have noticed the repetition of the Forestry "Bear" and associated cartoons in the columns of this paper. And may we say this has been done at the request of the Forestry Department, who advise us that they have no new cartoons — yet are very desirous of keeping the woods fire danger before area residents who fish, camp, picnic or hunt in the woods.

The recent hot weather has brought the fire readings up to the highly dangerous point again, made even worse by the dying of summer's vegetation.

A forest fire is the dread enemy of everyone — so let's all be careful.

Meetings Be Resumed

The attention of all members is called to resumption of meetings for the local V. F. W. and Auxiliary — the fall schedule beginning on Thursday, Sept. 10.

Attention is also called to the District meeting, scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 27.

Both meetings will be in the Fraternal Temple.

Don't fuss and fume over out-of-season items. Visit Blewett's Grocery's Frozen Foods Case. 1-adv

Potlatch Chief Sez

Published by the Kendrick Creamery

HELLO, THERE, FOLKS —
Well, school is now under way, and the kids are attending — and very unhappy about it — but mother is just as happy as the kids are unhappy.
Anyway, after telling you so many times about Potlatch Chief products — butter, ice cream, cottage cheese, cream, etc., not to mention our locker boxes — we thought we would just devote the rest of this week's ad. to fun.

Tommy had spent a lot of time looking at a bookstall, and arrived home very pleased at what he had seen.

"Dad, I see they've published a new dictionary containing 5,000 extra words."

Dad: "Great Scot. For heaven's sake don't tell your mother!"

"Why didn't you marry?" inquired the young man of the old bachelor.

"Well, you see," replied the bachelor, "when I was quite young I resolved that I wouldn't marry until I found the ideal woman. After many years I found her."

"And then?"

"She was looking for the ideal man," replied the bachelor sadly.

Grocer (to small boy standing near box of apples) — "Hey, are you trying to take an apple?"

Boy (quietly): "No, sir. 'I'm trying not to!'"

One humiliating thing about science is that it is gradually filling our homes with appliances smarter than we are.

Convict: "How did your brother die?"

Second Con: "He fell through some scaffolding."

First Con: "What was he doing?"

Second Con: "They were hanging him."
