To Leave For Japan

Mrs. Stanley Mills received papers from the government Monday that will permit her and their two little daughters, Nita and Judy, to join her husband, Capt. Mills, in Sendai, Japan. It has been two years since the little girls have seen their father, and there is great rejoicing as preparations are made for their journey. First on the agenda is the course of "shots" all must have before they enter Japan. Dec. 1st is the tentative date set for their departure. As yet it is not known whether the trip will be made by boat or plane.

Mrs. Mills has been employed at the local telephone office the past two years, and is resigning her position this week. She will be replaced by Mrs. Roy Whittum of Juliaetta. Mrs. Mills is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Havens, Juliaetta.

Finds Ancient License Plates

Clarence Weaver, who is employed by the Kendrick Garage, was making a delivery of fuel oil to the Kendrick Cafe last week, when he noticed a rather over-sized brown envelope lying on top of the fuel tank. He picked it up, found it very heavy, and investigated the contents, there being no address on the envelope — and found, inside, to his amazement, a set of brand new 1931 Idaho license plates, carrying the number 107-522, evidently placed there by someone Sales Day, as the envelope had not been exposed to the weather very long.

The plates are black and white — just as those of 1953 — and it would be interesting to put them on a car and see how long a time it might take for some traffic officer to discover that they were of 1931 vintage.

Darrel Craig and Farrel Mizer received their First Class Scout pins. David Johnson, Leonard Eldridge and Randy Wallace were awarded Star Scout pins.

About 50 Merit Badges for achievement were given. A wonderful time was enjoyed by all present — over 100!

Fire Wipes Out Dairy Barn

Fire broke out in the dairy barn on the Adrian Johns ranch in Juliaetta a week ago Friday night, about midnight, and the building was burned to the ground. Included in the loss were two trucks, all the dairy equipment and an adjoining chicken house.

Henry Jones and his truck responded to a call as did the Troy Volunteer department, and along with local help with hose and buckets the holocaust was confined to the barn. It was feared for a while the house would also burn.

It is understood the loss is partially covered by insurance. Cause of the fire is unknown.

More Bridge Work Under Way

After a great deal of difficulty, Kennestly & Huntley, who hold the contract for the new bridges at Juliaetta and Kendrick, found bedrock at Juliaetta, and are now placing forms, preparatory to pouring the piers for that bridge.

In line with keeping the work progressing, the firm has moved equipment to Kendrick, and is now "sweeping" the creek channel with a bulldozer, preparatory to hunting bedrock and pouring the piers in Bear Creek at Kendrick before the fall rains cause that stream to rise.

Bear creek, which flows far more water at any season of the year than the Middle Potlatch, could present quite an engineering problem should real high water come before these piers are located and poured.

Billy suffered a twisted knee, but Larry was uninjured.

Adrenal Gland Plays Role When One Suffers Injuries

Another step forward in better understanding the important role played by the adrenal gland in helping the body recover from injuries has been achieved, a University of Michigan doctor states.

Dr. Jerome W. Conn, an associate professor of internal medicine, reported to the American Association for the Advancement of Science on research he has been conducting at the university.

His study has shown that the adrenal gland calls upon a substance in the blood known as cholesterol to help in producing the huge amounts of adrenal hormones needed in prolonged periods of stress which the body undergoes at the time of an injury.

Cholesterol, produced largely by the liver, is the basic compound of adrenal hormones, including cortisone, the hormone found to be beneficial in the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis, Dr. Conn says.

In his experiments, Dr. Conn found the cholesterol content of the adrenal gland could be reduced 70 per cent within three hours by artificial stimulation which produced conditions similar to those created within the body during periods of prolonged stress.

This artificial stimulation was achieved through use of ACTH, the pituitary gland hormone which causes the adrenal gland to produce its hormones.

The effect of this prolonged stimulation of the adrenal gland has important implications for future study of several diseases, including those of the heart, liver and kidney as well as hardening of the arteries, according to Dr. Conn. These diseases are all associated with an unusual production or use of cholesterol.

Wool Scarce; Give Blankets Extra Care for Longer Life

Treat your wool blankets with the gentle care that precious possessions deserve. Textile scientists of the U.S. department of agriculture have pointed out that U.S. production of wool this year is one of the lowest on record.

Frequent airing of blankets in use not only is good sanitary practice but helps them last longer and hold their fluffy warmth and comfort. When a blanket is thrown back loosely so fresh air reaches both sides, the wool has a chance to get back its natural springiness which makes for warmth. But care should be taken not to throw a blanket over anything sharp, such as a peaked bedpost, which may pierce or pull it, or on anything that may stain it. Loose bed springs, sharp metal corners or even roughened wood may also catch and tear blankets or other bedding.

For best service and comfort blankets should be large enough to come up well over shoulders and still tuck firmly in the bottom of the bed. Short blankets often wear out early because they take so much pulling and strain.

A blanket stays clean longer if the bed is made so that the sheet turns back over the top of the blanket 8 to 12 inches. If the sheet is too short, a strip of cloth, basted over the top or the full length of the blanket, is good protection against soiling the wool. A covering over the blanket, or even a third sheet used on top, gives added warmth because it holds still air in the fluffy wool.

For Pig Protection

A pair of clean rubber boots is worth more than any medicine in protecting pigs from a fatal intestinal disease called transmissible gastroenteritis. Best means of controlling it is to move healthy pigs as far away as possible from the sick ones. Many farmers do this, a veterinary medical bulletin points out, but they overlook the fact that their shoes can spread the infection. Attendants who have walked through infected hog quarters should put on a pair of clean boots before entering healthy quarters, the bulletin cautions. The disease, believed to be caused by a virus, is marked by severe diarrhea, vomiting, and rapid loss of weight. Young pigs are hit hardest, with death losses sometimes running as high as 90 per cent.

Finishes Pre-Tested

The term "industrial-finishes" is applied to the finishes used by manufacturers to enhance their products. Before being applied, they are subjected to many special tests based upon the kind of usage to which the article may be subjected. For example, in addition to tests for adhesion, and hardness, finishes for refrigerators, stoves and kitchen cabinets are tested for their resistance to various foods, such as lemon juice, butter, lard and vinegar—as well as to various cleaning materials.

Wooden, Aluminum, Ladders

The rung of a wooden ladder will bend downward about one-sixth of an inch for a 150-pound person stepping on its center. An aluminum ladder is constructed so that the deflection is much less. If it were built like the wooden ladder, the deflection of the aluminum rung would be about a ninth as much as for the wooden rung under similar conditions. This is because aluminum is nine times as rigid as wood (white oak).

Squirrel Provides Big Part Of Nation's Yearly Game Bag

Although it is generally recognized as a prolific game species of extensive range, comparatively few people realize the truly important part the squirrel plays in the nation's game bag.

Several years ago the Remington Arms Company, Inc., conducted a survey of national wildlife resources and sportsmen's hunting preferences. The survey revealed that the squirrel ranked second only to the rabbit as the most sought-after game species in the country.

A recent analysis of "Hunters' Scorecards" returned to the office of the Mississippi Game and Fish commission placed the squirrel in an outstanding position in the hunting activities of the sportsmen of the Magnolia state. The analysis brings to light the fact that 79 per cent or 150,000 of the licensed hunters in the Mississippi sought squirrel during the 1950-51 hunting season. The cotton-tail rabbit and the Bob White quail practically tied for second high rank, with the rabbit nosing out the quail by the slight margin of 47.15% to 47.12%. Next in line was the lowly 'possum with the somewhat surprising score of 23.06%, topping the dove's rating of 21.58%.

A breakdown of the analysis in hunting activity percentage and estimated total statewide kill follows: deer 6%, 1,370; wild turkeys 1.35%, 249; quail 47.12%, 2,119,532; squirrel 79.83%, 2,418,574; rabbit 47.15%, 900,360; coon 16.2%, 208,712; 'possum 23.06%, 386,145; dove 21.58%, 522,876; ducks 8.97%, 182,217.

Patients On Salt-Free Diet Given Hope for Meal Variety

Patients on a monotonous salt-free diet were given the hope of adding more variety to their meals in two reports on further experiments in the recently developed exchange resin therapy. Exchange resin compounds have been administered to patients having congestive heart failure, cirrhosis of the liver, or kidney ailments which cause excessive fluids to collect in the system. The resin compounds eliminate the sodium which locks in the fluids. Because of this action, it becomes possible for the patient to take more sodium in his diet than would otherwise be possible.

In a report on resin therapy presented by Drs. Carl Voyles, Jr., and Edward S. Orgain, Duke University School of Medicine, Durham, N. C., it was concluded that, "Resin therapy is a useful adjunct to conventional therapy in the management of chronic congestive heart failure, and it can be used safely in conjunction with strict sodium restriction in patients who are followed closely. Resin therapy also makes possible the addition of sodium chloride in amounts sufficient to render the diet more palatable," the report added, and it facilitates the action of mercurial compounds that help in fluid elimination.

The second report on exchange resin therapy reviewed studies by Drs. B. L. Martz, K. G. Kohlstaedt, and O. M. Helmer, at the Lilly Clinic for Cardiovascular Research, Indianapolis.

Sleep Anywhere

One of the most energetic causes of sleep is fatigue. It is said that prisoners upon the rack have slept through sheer exhaustion while undergoing the horrors of torture. In a like manner, if one is tired enough he will be able to sleep on the floor or on any manner of uncomfortable bed, although he will not thoroughly relax. To the person who has known the luxury of sleeping on a good quality bed, though, sleeping on a worn out, sagging mattress and spring is almost as much torture as going to sleep on a prisoner's rack.

War and Peace

Development of the flame thrower, which first became a military weapon during World War II and has been used extensively by the Army in Korea, led to the peacetime perfection of a highly proficient weed killer. Tests at the Army Chemical Corps Center, at Edgewood, Maryland, proved that a thin jet of burning, jellied gasoline would kill weeds between rows of plants without harming the plants themselves.

Deciding Issue

If it had not been for the magic of the name "George Washington" the fabulous Phineas T. Barnum may have lived out his life in obscurity as a poor country storekeeper. One day, the man who was to become known as "the greatest showman on earth" heard an interesting story of a remarkable Negro woman, Joice Heth, who claimed to be 161 years old. When he went to see her, purely out of curiosity, she asserted that she had been the nurse of George Washington. Barnum became so excited upon discovery of documentary evidence to back up her claims, he decided to sell his store and exhibit the strange old woman in the east. The tour proved so successful, and stirred up so much interest, he was inspired to engage in other similar ventures. Finally, he formed the partnership with James A. Bailey, out of which grew the most famous circus in America.

A HEALTHY FOREST INDUSTRY keeps Idaho prosperous

This Tree Was a Victim of HEART DISEASE

Trees past their prime are often attacked by heart rot, a fungus disease which destroys their usefulness as lumber. It eats outward from the center of an over-mature tree and consumes valuable wood.

Potlatch Forests, Inc., through scientific forestry practices, is working to prevent the waste caused by heart rot by planning logging years in advance. Trees will be allowed to reach their full maturity, then harvested in their prime before old age and heart rot can claim them. Younger trees, meanwhile, are being grown to take their place.

This is Potlatch's way of conserving and developing Idaho timber — harvesting only trees that have reached the best age for cutting, replacing them with new trees for future generations.

Shorthorn Breeders Conduct Experiment 102 Bulls Put Through First U. S. Program

Shorthorn breeders recently put 102 bulls through an obstacle course in the Nebraska range country with a view to toughening them up for a unique show and sale held at Broken Bow, Nebr., last month. Converting farm bulls from mid-western herds to rugged range bulls for service in large commercial herds of the west, the program was called the Range Bull project. The bulls were judged in groups of two and three, in the manner of "Camp Showings" in Argentina, and then sold to western cattlemen who wanted them for regular herd sires or for cross-breeding programs. It was the first such program in the United States.

The drove of Shorthorn bulls above were part of the Broken Bow experiment to toughen up 102 animals to be used in cross-breeding programs in large commercial herds. The project was sponsored by the American Shorthorn Breeders Association.

The animals were consigned by 48 breeders in the midwest and east and were turned out to range on July 1.

Gasoline on the Farm Is 'Liquid Dynamite'

Gasoline on a farm is "liquid dynamite" and must be handled with extreme care to prevent explosions and fires. It is estimated that annual farm losses from gasoline fires amount to more than $7,000,000.

Here are eight safety rules the farmer should follow:

1. Gasoline should be stored in steel drums in underground tanks at least 75 feet from any building.
  2. Gasoline or kerosene should never be left in open containers in any building.
  3. Gasoline or kerosene should never be handled in the presence of an open flame or other source of possible ignition.
  4. In pouring gasoline, make sure the pouring and receiving receptacles are grounded, to avoid static sparks.
  5. Never use gasoline, benzene, or other flammable material for dry cleaning.
  6. Never use gasoline or kerosene to start a fire in a stove or elsewhere.
  7. Make sure cans or tanks used in storage of gasoline or kerosene are painted red, marked plainly and in large letters.
  8. Never forget that gasoline or related petroleum products are the most potentially dangerous things you have on your farm.
- Observance of these rules will cut down farm fire losses.

Rat Control

The farmer who has 20 rats on his farm is feeding them at a cost of $40 a year. In other words, it costs farmers $2 a year to keep one rat. Three rats eat and destroy as much feed as two laying hens require in a year's time. This is sufficient reason for every farmer to execute a rat-killing and control program.

Poultrymen Are Advised To House Best Pullets

House only the best pullets that probably will produce well for the entire laying year, poultry experts advise. Those chickens that are under-developed, or generally unthrifty looking, will seldom produce well and should be marketed. And when housing pullets, it is generally wise to keep together those of the same age and stage of development. Smaller birds have a better chance this way.

Duke Psychologist Offers Tips on Cigarette Control

Do you have trouble leading a sane cigarette life?

If so, here's a common sense recipe by Dr. Gelolo McHugh, Duke University psychologist, that may help you "use cigarettes instead of being used by them."

"People who have to have cigarettes need psychological help, not scare tactics such as threats of stomach ulcers or lung cancer," Dr. McHugh says. "Swearing off entirely is dangerous, because if you fail once, the next try will be that much harder. Limiting your cigarettes to eight or 10 a day is also risky, because it keeps the thought of smoking uppermost in your mind."

Here are Dr. McHugh's suggestions for cutting down:

1. Set aside an hour or two at the beginning of each day and don't smoke during that period no matter how much you want to. After that, smoke as much as you like for the rest of the day.
2. Don't make your daily no-smoking period longer than you can safely control. Over-ambition sometimes leads to failure.
3. Tell your friends what you're doing. Their interest will help you keep control over your no-smoking period.

"After following this plan for several weeks, smokers often find that their cigarette control is growing stronger," Dr. McHugh said. "Experiments show that smokers who set aside a no-smoking period do not have a tendency to smoke more than usual during the rest of the day to make up for lost time."

"Most important of all, after two or three weeks of controlling part of the day, the smoker begins to find himself smoking a little less during the free period. This means that he is on the way to mastering cigarettes instead of being mastered by them."

Dr. McHugh's suggestions are based on data collected over a period of five years and covering some 600 people.

Chubb Crater 1,325 Ft. Deep, Largest Meteorite Crater

A new champion's official measurements have been announced by the National Geographic Society.

The champion is Chubb Crater, established as the largest of all known meteorite craters in the world as the result of four weeks' research carried on last summer at the crater site in northern Quebec by Dr. Victor Ben Meen, Toronto geologist, and five scientist-associates.

The huge pockmark in the sub-arctic granite has a maximum depth of 1,325 feet, figured from the level of the highest point on its rim. The surface of the lake in the crater bowl is 500 feet below the rim's top level, and the maximum depth of the lake is 825 feet. Diameter of the rim averages 11,500 feet, and its circumference is 6.8 miles.

The depth is thus a few feet less and the rim diameter a few hundred feet more than indicated by preliminary figures dispatched from northern Quebec last August at the time field work was completed. Both dimensions, however, are more than twice the corresponding ones of Arizona's Meteor Crater, long officially recognized as the earth's largest scar known to be due to an earth-meteor collision.

The crater lake averages 9,100 feet in diameter. Its shoreline measures 5.4 miles around.

Dr. Meen, director of Toronto's Royal Ontario Museum of Geology, and Mineralogy, led an expedition to the crater site. With magnetometers, they defined a "magnetic anomaly"—a subsurface mass of iron outlined by its effect on the earth's magnetic force. Such an anomaly is attributed by scientists to meteorite fragments buried deep in the granite rim.

Kinds of Mines

Coal mines are of four kinds, three of them underground. If the mass of coal can be reached horizontally, say from the side of a hill on a level grade straight to the heart of the coal, it is called a Drift Mine. If you have to reach the coal at a perceptible angle, down or up, you have a Slope Mine. To get inside either of these mines, tunnels are made into the sides of the hills. The miners may go to the working areas by "man-trip" cars, which are trains of mine cars pulled by especially designed mine locomotives. If you must ride a cage (mining term for elevator) to reach the coal seam, you are in a Shaft Mine. If the coal lies near the surface of the earth and you can rip it out by huge electrically operated shovels and bulldozers, you have an Open Cut or Surface (sometimes called "Strip") Mine.

Indian Legend

Hiawatha, who is believed by many persons to have been a purely legendary character, really lived about 1450 A. D. The mighty Iroquois chieftain of the Onondago tribe of North American Indians was transformed by legend into a miraculous character with supernatural powers. About 400 years after his death, he was immortalized by Longfellow in "The Song of Hiawatha", an epic poem written after the style of the great Finnish Kalevala.

Farm Scrap Harvest Reported a Success Farmers Can Sell All Scrap Iron and Steel

The national farm scrap harvest conducted between October 15 and November 15 has been termed a success by the steel industry, producing millions of tons of scrap iron and steel badly needed for making new steel.

Although the drive is over, farmers should continue to collect the scrapped machinery about their farms and sell it to dealers. It is a good way to keep the farm prem-to help produce the things you need ises cleaned up and, although scrap does not sell for big prices, the financial return does mean something.

The steel industry continues to need the broken tractor parts, rusted and worn out implements, plow points, outdated horse drawn equipment, old cultivators, broken shovels and similar equipment that can be found on almost every American farm. There are about 25 tons of iron and steel on the average farm.

Farm scrap can be a major source of the 36,000,000 tons of scrap that are needed by the steel mills this year. It takes that much scrap to produce 110,000,000 tons of steel that mills in our country have as their goal for 1951.

Cheaper Way to Fatten Beef Cattle Outlined

G. A. Branaman, Michigan State College animal husbandry authority, reports that full feeding grain is the quickest way to get a steer to market, but it isn't necessarily the cheapest or the most profitable.

Plain cattle, for instance should be fed longer and more cheaply than well-bred steers of good type. "Corn silage full-fed along with protein supplement may replace all the grain for plain steers when fed a longer time," he comments. "Yearling steers usually are fed from 4 to 7 months, depending on their grade and quality, and the amount of grain fed. Calves require a longer time to fatten and 2-year-olds a shorter time."

Wintering calves on roughage, then pasturing for part or all of the summer without grain results in cheap gains. Under present cattle and feed prices it is possible to pasture cattle for two summers, feeding roughage in winter. These animals may be grain fed for a short time or sold as grass-fat cattle.

Loading Platform

The above sketch of a loading platform is one any farmer handy with tools can build. The main idea is to build it on skids so it can be moved about the farm as desired. The railing can be made detachable to make it easier for loading farm machinery. The uprights would require 4x4 lumber and the platform 2" planks.

Shearing Lamb Faces Will Increase Gains

Shearing the faces of heavily-wooled feeder lambs will increase gains, according to Graydon Blank, extension animal husbandry specialist at Michigan State College. Blank explained that lambs can see better without a heavy crop of wool around their eyes. After shearing they'll find the feed trough more quickly, will eat better and will gain much more rapidly, specialists report.

ARE YOUR PARENTS NORMAL. A Message To Teen-Agers

Normal parents are a puzzle. They do want you to drive - and they don't want you to drive. Trouble is, while you're having all the fun, they're having all the worry. So, that night when your folks refuse to turn over the keys to the family car, don't blow a fuse. Maybe your driving is the real reason for their "old-fashioned" attitude, maintains the Idaho Traffic Safety Division. "Nuts!" you say. "I drive as well as Mom or Dad." Perhaps you do - but the chances are you DON'T. Now wait. The facts are that drivers in your age group (16 to 20) have a record Five Times Worse Than Drivers 45 to 50 Years of Age! Yet, you and your pals could be the world's best drivers. You're young and strong, you have keen, active minds. By actual test, you, eye-hand coordination as a group rates first.

But, unfortunately, being young means other things, too. It means that you're just naturally cocksure, over confident, and don't care a hang about danger. It means that you just naturally take chances and speed into tight spots from which you even better-than-average ability can't always save you. Driving a car is a great national game that challenges your very best in traffic tactics. To be a winner you must outguess your opponents and be ready for every traffic set-up. Mastery of the automobile is a challenge to you, and one of the important steps to be taken in growing up. Learning to drive the right way is easy - if you latch onto the fundamentals and make them habits through practice, says the Traffic Safety Division of the Department of Law Enforcement.

Special Fuels License Required P. C. Neill, state tax collector, has announced that his office is mailing application blanks to all known "Special Fuel" users and dealers, to obtain licenses and permits required under the Special Fuel Use Tax Law enacted during the 1953 session of the state legislature. "Special Fuels" include all fuels other than gasoline, such as diesel fuel, propane and butane, used to propel motor vehicles upon the public highways. Each and every seller dispensing "Special Fuels" for use in motor vehicles, and each and every operator of vehicles using the above named fuels, must qualify by making application and obtaining a permit through the Office of Tax Collector by Dec. 31, 1953.

To Observe Week Of Prayer Week of Prayer and Self Denial will be observed in an all-day service Friday at the Kendrick Community church. The opening session begins at 10:00 a. m. A quiet time will be observed at noon with Mrs. Raleigh Albright leading devotions. All are asked to bring their sack lunch, coffee will be furnished. The afternoon session will begin at 1:00 o'clock and end at 3:00. Everyone is cordially invited to worship with the group - even if only a part of the day.

Surprise Shower Members of the Community Church choir honored Miss Bernadine Glenn with a surprise bridal shower last Thursday evening at their regular practice hour. Miss Glenn received many lovely gifts and well wishes from the group, of which she is a regular member. Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the evening. Miss Glenn is the bride-elect of Charles Easterbrook - their wedding taking place last Saturday evening, October 24.

Home From Hospital Mr. and Mrs. Bob Chilberg brought their son Alan, home from the hospital at Lewiston Tuesday, where he had been a patient for the past six weeks. It has been discovered that he has never had polio, but an infection of the spine, from which he is recovering nicely. Therapy treatments are responsible for his recovery, and will have to be continued at home. It will probably be another six weeks before he will be up and around.

Lions Club To Meet An organization meeting for the newly formed Lions Club will be held tonight (Thursday, Oct. 29). There will be a 6:30 dinner meeting in the basement of the Kendrick Community Church. All who are in any way interested in the formation of this organization for Kendrick are urged to be present.

V. F. W. Auxillary President Coming The V. F. W. Auxillary met at Lapwai on Tuesday evening, with State Department President Mabel Venovich of Priest River present. She will make her final visit in Dist. No. 2 at Kendrick, Thursday evening, Oct. 29. Please be present.

V. F. W. Auxillary Meeting The Kendrick V. F. W. Auxillary will hold its next meeting in the Fraternal Temple on Nov. 12, at 8:00 p. m. Hostesses for the evening will be Rose Ann Holt, Edna Harris and Betty Hall. All members are urged to attend.

Four "Archery" Antelopes Forty-three archers found the fleet-footed pronghorn antelope hard to get, only bagging four animals during the 1953 special antelope archery hunt, conducted Sept. 4-7 in portions of Butte and Custer counties, the Idaho Fish and Game department reports. Only 49 bowmen applied for the 75 permits offered by the department, with 43 checking into the hunt area. Three of the antelope killed were bucks and one was a doe.

Folks: Ice cream season is always with us — for young and old alike. So the next time you come to town, take home several quarts of "Potlatch Chief." Made in all the popular flavors, plus Specials!

The prize for aplomb goes to the over-the-road driver, who, surprised in a Juliaetta melon patch, said: "Nice you came along. One of your melons came unhitched and I can't seem to get it re-fastened!"

Planning on going hunting? If so, have you picked out that locker box yet? Better do it today. We have them!

Sally: "Papa, there was a man here to see you tonight."
Papa: "Did he have a bill?"
Sally: "Nope. Just an ordinary nose like yours."

Milk is one of nature's finest foods. Are you seeing to it that your children have at least a quart a day, and you, as an adult, at least a pint. Medical science tells us that this is the minimum requirement for good health.

Caller (eyeing blond stenographer): "Say, you've really got the latest thing in stenographers."
Employer: "She is certainly that. She never gets here 'till 10:00!"

Now that the fall butchering season is at hand, it's more important than ever that you have a locker box. So why delay? Come in and pick yours out from our wide selection of sizes and prices.

Mother: Keep a bountiful supply of "Potlatch Chief" Ice Cream on hand all the time. It's just the thing for those "after school demands" for something to eat.

What Is A Teacher?

A teacher is Courage with Kleenex in its pocket. Sympathy struggling with a snow-suit and Patience with papers to grade. . . . Teachers spend twelve hours a day searching for truth and the other twelve hours searching for error. . . . They are indispensable, invincible and nearly inexhaustible. . . . A teacher really does not mind sniffles, squirmings, stomach ache, spills and sauciness. Neither does she disintegrate before tears, trifles, fights, futility, excuses, parents who spout, little boys who shout, and little girls who pout. . . . Most of all, a teacher is somebody who likes somebody else's children — and still has enough strength left to go to the P.-T. A. meeting. . . . Thank heaven for the teachers! — Anonymous.
