Licenses Go On Sale December 1

Idaho motor vehicle licenses go on sale December 1, and with the exception of certain truck plates may be obtained at the office of the county assessor.

All car plates and all truck plates for those of 24,000 gross and under will be registered with the assessor at Moscow; all over that weight will be registered at Boise. Application for trucks over 24,000 are being mailed direct to owners of record from

The 1954 plates may be displayed on passenger cars after December 1 but trucks not until Jan. 1, 1954. due to ton-mile regulations, etc.

Truck fees schedule is as follows: 6,000 gross and under, $10.00; 8,000 gross and under, $15.00; 10,000 gross and under, $20.00; 12,000 gross and under $25.00; 14,000 gross and under $30.00; 16,000 gross and under, $35.00; in other words $5.00 is added for each ton.

Should a farmer not desire to use some particular truck until later in the year, a provision is made for 1-12th off the annual fee for each month not licensed.

Passenger car fees still stand at $5.00 per year, and plates will be mailed from the assessors office on request. Be sure to send in either your 1953 registration, or title. In case you do not have a 1953 registration slip, title must accompany the application.

Agricultural Outlook Meeting An "Agricultural Outlook" meeting will be held on Thursday, Dec. 3, from 10:00 a, m. to 12:00 noon, and from 1:15 p. m. to 3:15 p. m. in Conference Room B (3rd floor) of the Student Union Building on the University of Idaho campus.

"Will the domestic demand for farm products be strong next year?" "Are farm costs going up or down in 1954?"

These are some of the questions that will be discussed at the meeting in Moscow, Dec. 3rd. All interested farmers are invited to be present.

POTLATCH FORESTS CREWS TO FILL DEFENSE GAPS

A gap in U. S. radar defenses extending across 7,000 squares miles of northern Idaho is being filled in by the short wave radio system of Potlatch Forests, Inc.

Effective Sunday, Nov. 15, the company officially became a member of the Ground Observer Corps, the volunteer civilian group which mans observation posts in the country's "Operation Skywatch." The move culminates a training period during which Air Force crews visited every Sunday Leland Marvin accompanied his parents, Mr. and Mrs. tive center to school radio operators, Andrew Marvin and brother Homer loggers, foremen, clerks, train crews to Peck, Idaho, where they were and foresters in Air Force procedure,

There operator Bernice Koefelda would transfer it by special telephone, using the exact wording of the man in the woods, to the Spokane Filter Center of the 25th Air Defense Command.

> At the filter center civilian volunteers would plot the flight on a board divided into squares, or grids. Radar would be notified instantly, and rocket-armed F-94 and F-86D jet interceptors would begin taking off from nearby Geiger Air Force base, on a mission to search for, identify and shoot down the invaders.

Total elapsed time: Not more than four minutes, from the time the logger spotted the invaders until the S. interceptors were in the air.

FAMILY PRAYER

By Robert Louis Stevenson

A Beloved Author's Unusual Prayer Sounds a Warm Thanksgiving Note

Lord, behold our family here assembled. We thank Thee for this place in which we dwell; for the love which unites us; for the peace accorded us this day, for the hope with which we expect the morrow; for the health, the work, the food, and the bright skies that make our lives delightful; for our friends in all parts of the earth, and our friendly helpers in this foreign

Give us strength to forbear and to preserve . . . Give us courage and gaiety and the quiet mind. Spare to us our friends, soften to us our enemies. Bless us, if it may be in all our innocent endeavors. If it may not be, give us strength to encounter that which is to come, that we may be brave in peril, constant in tribulation, temperate in wrath, and in all changes of fortune, and down to the gates of death; loyal and loving to one another.

Rain Raises Creek

The downpour of Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night raised the level of Bear and Potlatch creeks several inches, and the rush of water could be clearly heard Monday morning — for the first time in months.

The rise in the creek level overflowed the drainage ditch provided at the mouth of Bear creek by Kenaston & Huntley, contractors, who are constructing the new bridge — and flooded the holes in which the pier footings are to be poured.

A bulldozer was called into operation to deepen and widen the creek channel, the holes were pumped out, and work went ahead again.

Within town the firm is also at the new bridge, and are now working at the rear of the Arthur Foster home, and at the front of the Ervin Swenson home, with some fill and other work having been done at other spots.

A Substitute For Income

"My income and my scale of living do not jibe. . . I keep a wife and four children in something like country estate style on an income so small that the tax people can hardly afford to open my annual envelope. These startling admissions are made in the December Reader's Digest by Darrell Huff who says, further, that he has acquired a house and land - clear — in several years.

Mr. Huff has a "substitute for income," and it lies in work done with his own hands — the carpentry, plumbing, painting and wiring esentials to the building of his home. He is one of many thousands whose doit-yourself philosophy in home build-ing has started a trend which is making the home America's major and most rewarding hobby. Some of these thousands are building entire homes, from the ground up; others are content to do part of the work, or merely to build the furniture and cabinets.

In an article condensed from Harper's, Huff says that behind this new movement is the "simple economic fact that a $75.00 a week bookkeeper cannot hire a $150 a week carpenter.

Evidences of the trend: Paint sales have jumped by 50 percent, yet pro-fessional painters are no more numerous and their trade is not booming. Manufacturers are bringing out more and more home fittings especially designed for installation by Mrs. Stanley Mills and daughters are easy-to-lay tile flooring, pre-trimmed and prepared wallpapers, plastic plumbing that can be connected by a simple that can be connected by a simple or husband. Suffers Heart Attack

Jim Farrington was the victim of a heart attack early Monday morning. He had spent Sunday deer hunting, and it is believed the exertion brought the attack on.

At present he is marking. At present he is resting at his Commercial Builders, Inc.; the electhome and his condition shows im- trical wiring will be handled by trical wiring will be handled by Spence Electric, and the plumbing, heating and ventilating contract was awarded to the C. M. Wilderman company.

Estimated total cost of the structure is $1,303,000, with the federal agency financing $1,150,000 of the cost, which will be obtained by the sale of bonds.

As construction moved into high gear. Buchanan issued a statement thanking Senator Herman Welker of Payette and Representative Hamer H. Budge of Boise, University of Idaho alumni, for their "great assistance in expediting the federal agency loan" at the Washington, D. C., level.

Designed by Hugh Richardson, architect, of Lewiston, the building will provide quarters for approximately 300 men. Costruction of the building is pointed toward a January, 1955, deadline.

Following recommendations by many alumni, the dormitories in the building will bear the names of two former University of Idaho presidents. The east dormitory will be named after Franklin B. Gault, the University's first president, who served from 1892 to 1898, and the west dormintory after Alfred B. Upham, president from 1920 to 1928.

The four-story brick structure is to replace Pine Hall, a war-surplus building. Cost of furniture and other items for the dormintory is estimated at $67,000, with some furniture being moved to the new building from Pine Hall. The building will be located on Sixth Street in part of an area which has been known as the 'West Sixth Village."

Maybe It Isn't A Bee

U. of I. - Don't be afraid. The bee you see is not a bee because he From New Patent Fibers is a syrphid fly whose main purpose in life is to destroy some millions of apnics.

"And that," say entomologists of the University of Idaho, "puts him in the class of insects that folks like. In fact, it makes him a blood brother of the lady-bug or lady-bird beetle whose picture you find pinned up on the walls of rooms belonging to gard-ners who have this year been plagued beyond endurance by aphids — large, small and intermediate."

"Hover fly" is another name for the sprphid fly, the entomologists say. He looks like a small bee because he has yellow and dark stripes in convict style. One of his favorite pastimes is hovering on the wing in shady places during the heat of the day. He's probably looking for aphids, but it's a cinch he's not looking for someone to sting - for he doesn't have a stinger.

Entomologists urge that everyone be kind to the syrphid fly. Don't shoot him with sprays. Don't swat him if he should get into the house, just shoo him out and point out a good, big, juicy aphid to him. That way you get rid of the fly in the house, the aphid in the garden — and perhaps his tribe will increase

Giant Industry Arising

Ever since Adam and Eve left the Garden of Eden with nothing to wear, mankind has been clothes conscious. The Bible story tells us that Eve fashioned her first garment from a fig leaf - maybe it was leaves.

We wear clothes from the time we are born. It would take books to tell the progress of the clother story down through the ages. Long ago it was found that the clothing of the cotton seed was better than fig leaves for human garb. For centuries we have used the skins and wool of animals. as well as the covering of the cotton seed, for our own clothing. Still we were not satisfied. We took the cocoon of the little silkworm for its silk.

But we can thank that same little worm for our modern systems of producing fibers for textiles that do not necessarily deprive any other living creature of its coat. We learned that the silkworm extruded a fluid from a spinnerette near its mouth. The fluid became a stout silken thread on reaching the

This observation led to a manmade fluid extruded through a mechanical spinnerette which produced our first rayon thread. The device was called a "mechanical silkworm." This invention came from France about 70 years ago.

During the past 15 or 20 years.

American inventors, encouraged to find new processes and products! through the protection and rewards provided by our patent system, have devised new machines and new fluids to make many new kinds of fabrics for human clothing.

Coal, oil, various gases, glass, brine, and many organic substances such as wood, cornstalks, peanuts, and feathers provide the substances from which we now have fabrics that resemble wool, silk, and cotton.

'Won't Hurt' Boast Not Idle Promise to Army Blood Donor

It takes courage to give blood; that will save a soldier's life, but your fears of pain or ill effects now! are unwarranted.

Army medical authorities recognize that thousands of Americans who are willing to die for their country if necessary have a horror of seeing blood flow from their: veins. Just as many shudder when they think of a needle just under the surface of their skin.

But ask anyone who has ever donated a pint of blood to help replenish the nation's seriously depleted stocks and chances are he will tell you there's nothing to itno pain, no ill effects. But you will have a deep satisfaction that you have helped a fellow American in a critical hour.

If you have ever pricked your NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN finger with a pin, you already, have experienced all the pain you. DRICK HIGHWAY DISTRICT COM- will suffer when you give a pint. of blood. It's that simple.

You lie down on a bed and an! attendant puts a little procaine on your arm. As the blood is drawn, you feel nothing. In five minutes, the bottle is full and ready for processing and shipment to the battle zones of Korea.

Within a few minutes you feel; like your old self again — probably better, for you realize what a precious contribution you have made.

That Parallel

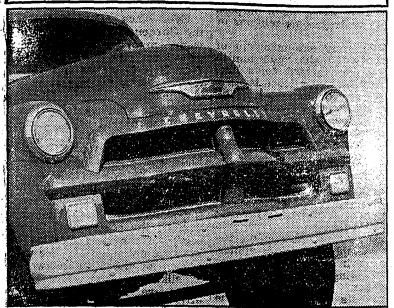

The 38th parallel in Greece ferries the legended River Styx and passes close to Corinth and Athens. Dodging Aegean Islands, it borders the Maeander River south of Smyrna; on the Turkish shore. It crosses the Turkish headwaters of the Tigris and Euphrates en route to Tabriz, metropolis of Iranian Azerbaijan. Across the Caspian Sea, it finds; itself on both sides of the critical frontier between Russia on the north and Iran and Afghanistan on the south. At the Russia-China border, the parallel climbs to its greatest, height on the shoulders of Stalina and Kungar, both 25,000-foot peaks. Touring China, it runs near the ancient Silk Route past Yarkand and the Takla Makan (desert). China's Great Wall crosses the 38th frequently near the cities of Yulin, Ningsia, and Wuwei.

Abe Lincoln

When Abe Lincoln was 21 he crossed the Wabash and encountered the first level land he had ever seen the fertile prairies of Illinois. At two sites there he helped his father build log cabins. Then he struck out for himself, settling in the village of New Salem, 20 miles northwest of Springfield, Illinois. Lincoln re-. ceived his first popular notice in: New Salem. He was elected captain. of a volunteer company in the Black Hawk War, and later was sent to the state legislature. Afterward he moved to Springfield, the state capital, and New Salem literally disappeared. Many of its log buildings. were dismantled and carried to Petersburg, two miles north.

Trees Die in Winter, Too, Without the Proper Care

Trees die in winter just as they do in spring and summer. They can be killed by drought and storms, by insects and diseases, by man's indifference and neglect, says Dr. Rush P. Marshall, director of the Bartlett Tree Research Laboratories.

Death may not be sudden. Next spring the trees may try to leaf out, then collapse and die within a matter of weeks.

Deciduous trees which appear to 'sleep'' in winter must take up a certain amount of soil water to replenish that lost by evaporation under high drying winds. Evergreens and pines which do not shed their leaves need an even greater amount. Unless trees go into winter with sufficient water around their roots before the ground freezes, injury or even death by drought may result.

Wind, ice and snow storms take a toll of trees in winter, toppling them over, or breaking branches and limbs. If a tree is conditioned properly by pruning out dead and dying wood, by cabling and bracing weak crotches and limbs, storm damage can be held to a minimum.

Not all insects are dormant in winter. Bark beetles often crawl from the thick bark to the cambium layer on mild winter days and girdle a tree as they feed. Elm bark beetles that carry Dutch elm disease present double trouble. For the fungus they carry builds up in the sap stream, and even in winter there is a certain pulsating of the sap that will send the disease further into a tree. It is just as harmful to disturb a tree's roots in the winter as in summer. Trees are frequently killed in winter by a careless bulldozer used in construction or by roots mangled when a water main is laid or a sidewalk and driveway put in. Trucks and autos that bash into trees in winter can loosen or scrape off the bark as effectively as in the summer.

Death even for trees takes no holiday. Yet your tree needn't die any time of the year if you give it proper care.

Early Iron Men Served Country in Many Fields

The brothers Curtis and Peter Grubb, owners of Pennsylvania's historic Cornwall blast furnace during the Revolutionary War, not only made cannon but also test fired them and probably used them against the enemy while serving actively as colonels in the field. of directors."

In addition, they manufactured stoves and supplied the equipment of iron a week.

The outbreak of hostilities cut off the salt supply of the United States and seriously affected the salting of meat and curing of fish for both military and civilian use. Colonel Curtis Grubb told the Council of Safety that he was prepared to cast the iron salt pans for making salt from sea water on the Jersey coast, but asked the army to release his manager, founder, car-penter and colliers from military service so that he could do it. The men were released to him immediately.

Cannon manufacture was a necessary innovation in this country; so much so that Generals Washington and La Fayette visited Cornwall furnace to watch the casting of the first 24 cannons ordered for the Continental Army. Early guns made at Cornwall showed lack of experience, for an official letter complained that they were too heavy and costly.

Cornwall furnace was built in 1742, and for many years thereafter was called "the hub of the from trade." The famous Cornwall iron ores have been mined continuously for more than 200 years, the longest record of operations in the coun-

Potlatch Chief

Published by the Kendrick Creamery

HELLO, THERE, FOLKS:

Well, here it is Thanksgiving Time again — the day our forefathers designated for "Thanksgiving and Feasting", and tha't just what most of us are going to

We realize this issue is too late to set forth the advantages of using Potlatch Chief Dairy Products of all kinds on your dinner table — Thanksgiving Day — or any other day — so we're just going to devote the balance of this advertising space to fun — and to wishing you the best and jolliest of Thanksgivings.

"Do you wish to learn to play golf, madam?" asked the golf professional employed to give lessons in the sport department of

"Oh, no," replied the pretty young thing. "It's my friend who wants to learn this time. I learned yesterday."

"But darling," said the pros-pective bride, "If I marry you I'll lose my job.'

"Can't we keep our marriage a secret?" asked her fiance.
"But suppose we have a baby?"
"Oh, we'll tell the baby, of course."

Pretty Young Thing: "There's one thing I want to tell you before you go any further."

Her Date: "What's that?" Pretty Young Thing: "Don't go

Don't forget: We have locker boxes to rent. All sizes!

any further!"
