IDA MARIE SILFLOW BECOMES BRIDE OF VIRGIL W. FELTON

In a beautiful ceremony, Ida Marie Silflow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Silflow, Juliaetta, Idaho, became the bride of Virgil W. Felton, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Felton, Chule Vista, Calif., on Thanksgiving Day at 3:00 p. m., in Trinity Lutheran church, Lewiston, with the Revs. Theo Meske of Cameron and Paul Dannekar, Lewiston, officiating.

Tall baskets of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums and lighted candelabra formed the background, with bouquets of yellow mums on the al-

George Reeves sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Robertson Miss Dorothy Cronroth, who also played the prelude, processional and recessional music.

The bride was escorted and given in marriage by her father. She was lovely in a white gown fashioned falling into a long train. The fitted off the shoulder bodice had long sleeves and was of chantilly lace and net. Her fingertip veil fell from a on a white Bible. For something old she wore a necklace that her mother Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Tarry and had received from her father and Mrs. Winifred Kluckholm drove to had worn on their wedding day. She carried a beautiful lace handkerchief borrowed from her aunt, Mrs. Henry Wendt. The handkerchief had belonged to her grandmother, Mrs. Ida O. Silflow. She wore the traditional blue garter, and had a penny in her shoe for good luck.

Mrs. Harold Silflow, a sister-in-law of the bride, was her matron of honor. Mrs. Kenneth Sinclair and Mrs. Ted Freeman, cousins of the bride, were bridesmaids. All wore identical dresses of coronation blue nylon net and carried shower bou-

The season has been drawing forward ever since handlers of Santa Clause's stocks began to show the first dolls and electric trains to draw the eyes of small fry to the show windows. For several weeks past the local stores have been unpacking Christmas merchandise until shelves, toylands and gift counters are heaped with numerous "suggestions." Adding color to the approaching season (it's here right now" was the appearance of colorful Christmas street decorations, some of which were put up Monday evening by Bill Bamberry and Bob Magnuson, the latter of the Lions Club, assisted by some of the youngsters about town.

These latter are long fronds of cedar boughs, tied to heavy wire, and day evening at a meeting of the Rethe whole lit by strings of colored bekah Lodge. Mrs. Cecil Gruell will to be put up soon. #### NEWS THIS WEEK!

After long weeks of work, stringing cable, installing the latest in relaying equipment, balancing and adjusting — TV is ready to come into your home and what a fine gift to offer the family on Xmas! Our equipment is of the very latest in design, and we have been testing this equipment for the past 60 days to detect any "bugs" that might have been in it—so far it has worked very satisfactorily! The equipment is so installed that changes can be made without disrupting the entire system — so you can be assured that from time to time improvements will be made to keep the equipment up to date.

GREAT NEWS THIS WEEK!

Entertainment of all kinds — Shows, Sports, News, Education, Religion — Shows for the Kids; gr. wnups — shows everyone can enjoy. Yours? Yes, vours, by bringing TV to your living room. A million dollars worth of entertainment. A choice seat at the tops in sports events. See the "Tournament of Roses" Parade New Year's Day in your own home. This week direct TV begins in Spokane which means you see it as it happens!

GRAND NEWS THIS WEEK!

Mulching Will Not Prevent Freezing Leaves, Grass, Straw Are Good Materials

Even though many gardeners have used mulches for years and are aware of its value, they are not sure of their reasons for mulching. It is not to prevent plants from freezing, as often thought, but to prevent quick freezing and thawing.

It prevents drying out of plant tissues, and freezing and thawing from heaving plants out of the ground. It also prevents plant development too early in the spring when buds might be harmed by late frost.

The gardener looking for mulching materials could try leaves vhen available in quantity. They are satisfactory for perennials borders and beds, rock gardens and around evergreens and shrubs. Straw is another good material, especially good for strawberry beds. Oat straw is preferred over wheat and others.

Mulching is nature's way of providing plant protection. Leaves, grass, straw, peat moss and ground corn cobs are all good mulching material.

Peat Moss is often used and does an excellent job of preventing temperature fluctuations, but has a tendency to crust on top. Grass clippings are good, too, if available in large quantity.

Ground corn cobs have recently come into use as a mulch, especially for roses. This material is reported to also improve the soil by stimulating the growth of micro-

200-240 Pound Hogs Will Bring the Best Price

According to livestock specialists, hogs are likely to sell at largerthan-usual discounts this fall.

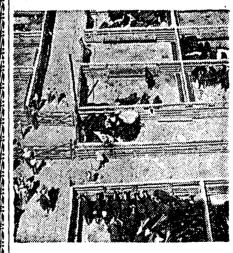

The 1951 pig crop of about 105 million head is the second largest on record, and there no longer is the strong world demand for fats and oils of a year ago. So there will be more fats available and possibly a weaker lard market.

As a result this will mean more price differential for type in live hogs. Hogs that are too heavy or too fat will probably have to take a larger discount than last year.

Specialists believe farmers should feed out hogs now under 180 pounds. Discounts on lightweights are such that farmers can hardly afford not to feed them out.

With so many hogs starting to market, packers can be rather choosey about the type of hog for which they pay top prices. Both un-derfinished and overfinished animal's will sell at a disadvantage. Try to sell as many as possible between 200 and 240 pounds.

Filling Up

Restored pens of the Kansas City stockyards begin to fill up as cattle flow in again after the great flood. More than 20 feet of flood water covered this area. The job of reliabilitation has been hailed as an outstanding feat by livestock men throughout the midwest.

Cattle Grubs Cause Big Meat and Hide Losses

Not less than 12 million pounds of the most valuable part of the beef carcass are trimmed out around grub holes from cattle slaughtered in the U. S., according to livestock specialists. The trimming detracts from the carcass' appearance, resulting in a lower price per pound. It has also been estimated that grubs cause $20 million damage to hides each year, enough to make a million shoes.

Ask for More Trained Men For Animal Disease Study

Solution to some of the nation's most costly animal disease is being slowed by lack of highly trained research men.

There is urgent need for giving promising young scientists an op-portunity to learn the techniques of animal disease investigation. The only way this can be done is by a long range fellowship program.

Such a program has been sponsored by the AVMA for the past six years. Under this program, which will be expanded as funds permit, research-minded graduates of col-leges of veterinary medicine get financial aid to engage in animal disease studies at leading scientific institutions. This gives them background and experience needed for unraveling highly complex dis-

Many livestock and pet owners who ask for "more research to solve disease problems" have given too little thought to how the job might

Finding out what causes a perplexing animal disease isn't much different from tracking down a dangerous criminal, and neither is a job for anyone but a well-trained

The Federal Bureau of Investigation would not put a man on any of its cases without first training himi in FBI methods. The same advantage should be given to people interested in disease investigation.

Funds for expanding the fellow-ship project should come from private sources rather than the federal government "because the nation already has gone too far toward dependence on federal hand-outs."

Mastitis Germs Live 5 Davs on Broomstick

Harmless though it may look, that broom in the corner of the barn might be the means of starting a new case of bovine mastitis. The germ responsible for most cases of bovine mastitis can stay alive for as long as 20 days on objects around the barn, and for as long as 26 days anywhere on a cow's skin. From these jumping - off places, the germ can eventually get into a cow's udder, where it starts the disease known as mastitis. Survival time of the germ was observed after mastitis-infectedi milk was poured on manure, hair. wood, bricks, udder cloths, and other materials commonly found or used around dairy barns.

The germ stayed alive for 4 days: on rubber boots, 5 days on a broom handle, 7 days on an udder-washing cloth, 8 days on a bucket, 13 days on hair, and 20 days on hay. However, when some of these objects were treated with a disinfectant before being smeared with infected milk, the germ didn't do so well. Enough of the disinfectant lingered to cut down the survival time to a day or less.

This research emphasizes the need for clean barns, clean cows. clean attendants, and prompt disinfection of any object that gets splattered with milk.

Use of Columbium

John Winthrop, Jr., who supervised the construction of America's first successful blast furnace at Saugus, Massachusetts, in 1643, found an unidentified rock fragment near his home. About 150 years later, an English chemist. Charles Hackett, saw this fragment in the British museum, analyzed it, and thus discovered the element columbium. Today, this element is playing an increasingly important part in the manufacture of stainless and heat resistant steels for such uses as jet aircraft engines.

Columbium is one of the most recent elements to find use in the steel industry. It was used commercially, as an alloy in the 1930's, although experimental work had been done with it as early as 1920. Last year 632,000 pounds of columbium metali was consumed in the manufacture

Origin of Camouflage The origin of the word camouflage has, it seems, been lost in the shuffle. One of the stories told in connection with it is that, during the Indian troubles in the Southwest, one Jacques Camou built a circular mud fort. This fort had large square openings at regular intervals around the walls. Through these, the garrison of the fort would fire. As the Indians' shots also found their mark through these openings, Camou painted the entire fort like a checkerboardwith large black squares on a white field. This confused the Indians so they were unable to determine at which dark squares to aim.

Thermal Snow Removal

Thermal snow removal from sidewalks and driveways by means of embedded piping is a new and interesting development in the heating industry. The snow is removed automatically and without effort by the heat from pipe coils installed under the surface of the pavement. Hot water, circulated through the coils, transfers its heat to the pavement. thus melting the snow and keeping the surface dry. Automatic snow removal is economical. There is no necessity for using snow shovels or chemicals. All the owner does is to turn the switch to start the system in operation when the snow begins

Big Wildlife Trade

An unusual interstate wildlife trade — Idaho otter for Colorado wild turkeys — has been anounced by the Idaho Fish and Game department,

The trade has been verbally agreed upon by T. B. Murray, director, and P. J. McDermott, big game supervisor, with Colorado Game Manager Gilbert N. Hunter and Dean Coleman, fur division superintendent. A written agreement will be made as soon as a current study in Idaho determines the best places to plant wild turkeys, their long-range chances of survival, and eventual hunting possibilities.

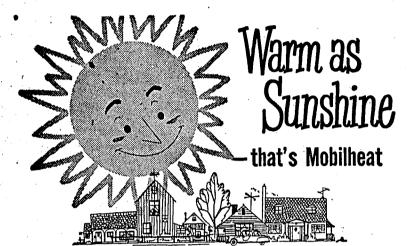

A few wild turkeys were planted in the Middle Fork of the Salmon river area during the 1930's, but, in the opinion of department conservation officers, the birds soon graced the roasting pans and ovens of nearby residents.

Idaho has an abundance of otter, McDermott said, but live-trapping them will be difficult. "Our beaver caretaker trapper may have to devise a special small trap to take them without injury, as ordinary beaver traps are sometimes too large.

Colorado has about 9,000 wild turkeys, but wants to increase its furbearer population. At the present time otter fur prices bring from $12 to $16 on the open market.

Colorado has a few otter and more of these animals will not only provide the state with another valuable furbearer, but add materially to its wildlife attractions.

State Highway Plans

The State Highway Board announced last week-end a 1954 construction and maintenance program including $11,910,000 worth of new primary roads and $4,170,000 worth of new secondary roads.

Chairman Roscoe Rich said the board adopted the program at its regular meeting on November. It calls for 26 new primary and 21 new secondary projects.

In addition, the board listed eight primary and two secondary projects carried over from the 1953 program. These were deferred because

Helium Effect on Living Organism Reported at U.C.

Helium, argon and possibly others inert gases-gases which do not combine chemically with other elements—are far from inert in their effect on living organisms. This is reported by Dr. S. F. Cook, professor of physiology in the University of California school for medicine.

Dr. Cook has completed experiments in which he studied the reactions of small animals living in an artificial atmosphere consisting of oxygen and helium or of oxygen and argon.

The artificial atmosphere contained the same amount of oxygen found in the normal earth's atmosphere-about 20 per cent. But nitrogen, which forms nearly all of the remaining 80 per cent of the earth's atmosphere, was removed and the inert gas substituted in this same proportion. The ordinary atmospheric pressure of sea level was maintained.

When helium was used in such and atmosphere, the physiological processes of mealworms, lizards and mice were markedly changed. Similar, but less marked, changes were observed when argon was used.

The principle effects of the two gases were retardation of growth in the animals and an increase in the metabolic rate—a stepping up of the pace of work done by the body in the living process.

The research indicates that it may be useful to substitute helium for nitrogen in air used by men working in some tunnels, underwater construction projects, and some other conditions of high pres-

Hard Pad Canine Disease Gives Dog Owners Scare

A serious distemper-like infection that leads to hardening of the foot pads and nose is being seen in American dogs, but there is no evidence that it is a new disease or that it is becoming more prevalent.

Alarming reports from England, where the so-called hard pad condition is reported to be widespread, have made many United States dog lovers overly fearful of the disease.

Thickening, hardening, and peeling of the foot pads and nose sometimes occur in advanced stages of distemper or distemper-like illness. but this condition always is seen in company with other symptomsnever alone.

Among theories as to the cause

(1) The canine distemper virus may undergo a change, under certain conditions, that causes it to produce symptoms that differ from those seen in typical distemper cases. "Hard pad" may be one of the symptoms so produced.

(2) In some cases, the pure distemper virus-which causes fever. Daily respiratory distress, and diarrheamay be accompanied by a second virus that brings on the changes in foot pads and nose.

(3) The severe illness caused by distemper or complicated distemper

Ninety to 95 per cent of students finishing the combined general science course have voted for it in preference to the conventional type of science course.

"Candling" Eggs

Candling is used on practically all eggs before they reach the stores. An electric light is placed inside a box with a hole about the size of an egg, in which the egg is placed. In a darkened room, with some practice, it is possible to detect cracks, blood spots, developing germ and the size of the air! cell. The latter is the most important criterion of freshness because it gets larger as moisture escapes and is replaced by air. By comparing a few eggs known to be fresh with others that are older, one may learn how to judge the size of the air cell and the age.

Changing "Hand-Me-Downs"

Giving "hand-me-downs" a new and different color via the dye-bath is one sure way of getting little sister or brother to wear them without resentment. Adding a hem, collar or best will still further accentuate the "new look." Wash and thoroughly sinse all articles before dveing, and also remove buttons, buckles and trimmings. Use color removes first, the bureau counsels. when the article is unevenly faded or spotted and when changing to a different color.

Five-Grass Mixture Popular in Indiana Pays Off in Higher

Pays Off in Higher Quality Hay, Pasture

Farmers in 12 northeastern Indiana counties swear by a 5-grass mixture that pays off in extra tons of high quality hay and pasture.

The combination includes timothy, brome, red clover, Ladino clover and alfalfa, reports Walter Rusk, county agent of Huntington county. This legume-grass combination, he said, could profitably be used by farmers in other states.

When plenty of fertilizer carrying nitrogen, phosphate and potash is used at seeding time and plant nutrients are top-dressed each year, this 5-grass mixture has yielded as much as 3 tons of hay at the first cutting on many farms. One farmer in the area insists that 5 acres of the mixture provides more forage than he previously got from about 60 acres of pasture.

Norman Thompson, who farms near Huntington, Indiana, reports that he grazed 27 head of cattle, including 16 milk cows and 11 calves, as well as 100 small pigs and 16 sows for 5 weeks on a 5-acre pasture seeded to the 5-grass mixture.

Rusk points out that the well fertilized legume-grass mixture is doing an important soil building job, besides giving farmers a preferred position in forage supplies. The taproots of the legumes drill down deep to keep the soil open and well ventilated. They add organic matter to improve the soil's tilth and drainage. Large quantities of organic matter in the soil mean increased water-holding capacity. They also make it possible to get the best possible efficiency out of every ton of fertilizer used.

Improved Ever-Bearing Strawberry Developed

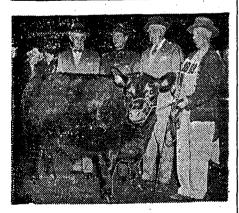

Strawberries from your garden from June to October are possible with the new, improved ever-bearing strains. Although the biggest crop comes from mid-to-late June, plants will continue to produce enough for breakfast cereal and dinner desserts until frost arrives.

Planting should be done as early in the spring as possible.

Said to thrive in any type of soil, is a new high-yielding variety developed by plant breeders of the Westerhauser Nurseries of Sawyer, Michigan. Called the "20th Century", this ever-bearing type is said to fruit in about 60 days and produce large, sweet, full-flavored berries all season long.

Seasoned gardeners recommend picking off the first blossoms so as to enable the roots to develop plenty of strength. They point out that while you may lose the first few fruits, you will gain in much bigger yields later in the summer.

Grand Champion

Time of Plowing Should Depend on Type of Soil

Ohio State University farm experts report type of soil should determine whether a farmer plows his land in fall or spring. Tests over a 14-year period indicate spring plowing is peferable on light soils. If plowed in the fall the ground has a tendency to become compacted by spring. On heavier soils tests show late fall plowing gives as good or better granulation of the soil than spring plowing.

Foresee Billion Barrels Jet Fuel from Oil Shale

Jet engine fuel by the billions of barrels can be produced from the Green river oil shale formation in northwestern Colorado, Dr. J. D. Lankford, acting chief, of the United States bureau of mines oil-shale demonstration plant in Rifle, Colo., reports.

Low cost oil shale mining already has been found feasible, Dr. Lankford says, and he predicts that the present trickle of 100 to 300 barrels of gasoline and Diesel fuel from the formation will become a mighty torrent as techniques improve.

"It is estimated that 88 volume per cent of the crude shale oil could be converted into a hydrogenated product containing a premiur. Diesel oil and a high-quality jet fuel practically free of sulfur, oxygen and nitrogen compounds," Dr. Lankford stated. 'If desired, the hyrdogenated material could be converted easily to gasoline by standard petroleum refining processes.

"The United States bureau of mines oil-sha'e demonstration plant at Rifle, Colo., is engaged in an integrated research and experimental program to point the way toward the development of a tremendous natural resource, oil shale, for possible wartime emergency and for the ultimate peacetime production of liquid fuels by private industry.

"Billions of barrels of liquid fuels are potentially available from the oil shale of the Green river formation of northwestern Colorado. Research and development work will be necessary over an extended period of time to bring this great natural resource to the stage where utilization will be possible."

Pocket Radiation Indicator Developed for Average Man

An accurate pocket-size radiation indicator, so simple that the man on the street can learn to read it after a few minutes instruction. has been developed at the atomic energy project on the Los Angeles campus of the University of California.

The device was developed by Dr. George V. Taplin and Clayton Douglas of the U.C.L.A. medical school's atomic energy medical research staff.

It measures radioactivity by a color change of chemical solutions in small vials. The chemicals are inexpensive, and it is estimated that the instrument could be produced on a large scale very cheap-

The vials fit into a compact case about the size of a pack of paper matches, which could be worn around the neck like G.I. dog tags. They also could be adapted to a pencil-like container for the pocket.

The new radiation indicator was specifically designed to measure large doses of gamma and X-rays immediately after an atomic blast.

It also lends itself to the development of important peacetime applications, says Dr. Taplin. For example, it could be useful in the calibration of such radiation equipment as fluoroscopes and X-ray machines. It might be used to measure radiation from radio iodine absorbed by the thyroid gland in treatment of hyperthyroidism.

Origin of April's Fool It was the habit of observing

July as the beginning of the year that is said to have started the whole idea of All Fools' Day. From it's reputed origin in France, it quickly spread to other countries. We have such varied terms as the English "noddies, gawbies and April gobs," the French "April Fish," and the Scottish "April Gowks." While there are other theories about April Fool's day, the calendar story located by research librarians with Childcraft seems that when King Charles XI of France adopted the reform calendar in 1564, many Frenchmen refused to go along with the new January 1 New Year's. When they continued to celebrate on July 1, they were made the butt of countless jokes-receiving mock party invitations, fake gifts, and pretended cere-monious visits of congratulation.

United Nation's Building

Along the banks of East river on the Island of Manhattan between 42nd and 48th streets the Secretariat building of the United Nations is towering to the sky as workmen are rushing it to completion so that it can be occupied before the end of the present year. The structure will be 39 stories high. It is one of four units that will complete the headquarters as a "workshop for world peace." Contracts for the other three units have not yet been let but it is believed they will be completed during 1951.

Suggestion for Farmers

The average farmer spends 50 per cent of his time around the farmstead. This can be materially reduced by piping water to the point of use rather than carrying it. For example, consider what carrying water to a flock of laying hens involves. If the water point is 60 yards from the hen house, as it is on many farms, the farmer will carry approximately 10 tons of water a distance of 25 miles per 100 hens per year in addition to walking another 25 miles to the water point.

Experts Say Barn Windows Practicable Sun Reduces Disease And Barn Moisture

Farm experts are urging farmers to make practical use of sunshine to solve some of their problems of moisture, sanitation and daylighting inside farm buildings by installing large windows.

Farm building windows in the past have been too small, have frosted over during cold weather so that sufficient sun energy could not get into the building to provide warmth. Also, little attention has been given to the germicidal effect of direct sunlight in the poultry house, dairy barn or farrowing pen.

Proper ventilation and sunlight not only helps to dry up moisture, but direct sunlight helps kill bacteria wherever they gain access to farm huildings farm buildings.

As an example of the sun's heating power, in a central farrowing house in Iowa using insulated windows in the south wall, the inside temperature never dropped below freezing although the outside temperature hit 25 to 30 degrees below

Wheat, Corn Estimates Below Last Year Yield The nation's 1951 corn and wheat

The nation's 1951 corn and wheat crops will fall short of 1950 production, according to the latest U. S. Department of Agriculture report.

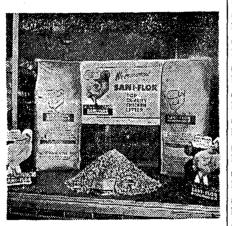

The corn crop for all purposes is estimated at 3,105 million bushels, a decline of 26 million bushels from last year's production, but above the 1940-49 average of 2,981 million bushels. The indicated yield per acre of 36.7 bushels is 0.9 bushels above the average of 33.9 bushels

Production of corn for grain this year is estimated at 2,789 million bushels compared with 2,845 million bushels last year.

Total wheat production is estimated at 994 million bushels, about 3 per cent smaller than the 1950 crop of 1,027 million, and 7 per cent smaller than the average of 1,071 million bushels.

Corn and wheat production, however, is expected to meet U.S. needs.

Poultry Litter

A specially-processed vermiculite poultry litter has been put on the market for the first time. Poultry producers might find that it will fulfill their needs. Called Sani-Flor, it is fireproof, vermin-proof, an efficient insulator against cold, and a non-conductor of electricity. The product is being introduced to seed and feed dealers and hardware stores across the country. It comes in four cubic foot bags, weighing about 25 bounds.

Dead Tree Perils Are Acute When Winter Hits

Alive, trees are considered among the householder and farmer's best friends. Dead, they become his most dangerous enemies. Trees that succumb to insects or disease have a way of developing into serious menaces long before owners are aware of their peril. These woody foes should be removed before winter storms hit. Snow, sleet and howling winds make them acutely dangerous.

HELLO, THERE, FOLKS:

First of all, we want to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Grant Batcman into the "family business circle" of Kendrick. We wish them every success with their new business venture — the Kendrick Table Supply.

Well, here we are — getting into the busy Christmas Season with a rush — or at least it seems that way — and you know you can pick up a lot of nice extra Christmas "Spending Money" by taking good care of "Old Bossy" and bringing that cream to us. No quantity is too little — or none too small. Bring or send it

There was a sad incident one day in the heart of the Ozark Mountains. A farmer's mule kicked his mother-in-law to death. A big crowd turned out for the funeral, but it was made up almost entirely of men. The minister commented: "This old lady must have been mighty popular because so many people left their work to come to her funeral."

"They ain't here for the funeral," explained the farmer. "They come to buy the mule."

Planning on entertaining at Christmas? If so, include hot rolls with "Potlatch Chief" Butter mashed potatoes with "Potlatch Chief" Butter — and all the other dairy products that bear our firm name - and don't forget, that mince or pumpkin ple is just a "heap better" when topped with a big scoop of "Potlatch Chief" Ice Hostess: "Our dog is just like one of the family." Bored Visitor: "Which one?"

And don't forget - we want to buy your cream!
