Beautiful Christmas Decorations

This past season undoubtedly saw more and far more lovely Christmas displays about town than for many years past — perhaps to date.

Worthy of outstanding mention was the nativity scene of the Assembly of God church in the west part of town; the huge Kendrick Rochdale Co. star; the blue-lighted Christmas tree in the Herman Schupfer front yard, and the decorated archway of the Frank Abrams home — not to mention the street displays of the Lions Club, and the community tree in the village park, for which they were also responsible.

Store displays, too, were unusually good.

ON THE ROAD, WHERE ANTI-KNOCK IS MOST IMPORTANT NEW 76 LEADS THE FIELD

BREA, CALIF.—B. T. Anderson, Union Oil Researcher, pointed out today that the new revolutionary 76 (regular) gasoline is substantially higher in road anti-knock quality than any other non-premium gasoline in the West.

He went further to explain that the new revolutionary 76 gasoline will satisfy the octane requirements of 90 to 95 percent of the older cars on the road and from 45 to 50 percent of the newer cars (50 models or later). This means for Union Oil dealers that their new gasoline can be sold to 75-80% of all the cars on the road—regardless of make, year or model, and this gasoline will not knock.

Mr. Anderson emphasized to Union Oil dealers to make sure their customers try a second tankful of 76. The first time one buys he may have other gasoline in his tank, but with the second tankful he will feel the full effect of the added power it gives his car.

Most Life Policy Benefits Go to Widows, Children

Reflecting the basic use of life insurance in family financial planning, wives, children and other relatives appear to be the directly named beneficiaries in more than 80 percent of all life policy death claims, the Institute of Life Insurance says. This is indicated by an Institute analysis of one month's claims in the United States.

Applied to the year's probable total of death claims, the one month's distribution would indicate that this year, wives, children and relatives will be beneficiaries of some 1,200,000 life insurance policies, with total benefits about $1,400,000,000. Wives and children alone would account for $1,225,000,000. In addition, they will receive a considerable share of the 7 percent of claims and 14 percent of benefit payments which go to estates and other beneficiaries, excepting husbands.

Husbands were shown to be beneficiaries in 11 percent of the policies, although they received only 4 percent of aggregate benefits, reflecting the smaller average size of policies owned by women.

The month's claim analysis also revealed that, while the majority of death claims were paid on policies which had been in force a number of years, there was a large number in the early life of policies, even in the first year. Although great care is taken in selecting applicants, with those to whom policies are issued being in apparent relatively good health, nearly 5 percent of policies becoming death claims were found to be less than a year old. This would indicate that this year there will be some 70,000 death claims within a year of issuance of policies, with nearly $100,000,000 involved.

Nearly one-sixth of all claims were shown to be under policies less than five years old. Almost 40 percent of the claims and just over 40 percent of the amount of benefits paid were under policies in force 20 years or more.

Preventive Measures Urged As Safeguard Against Stroke

The best way to avoid a stroke, third among leading causes of death in this country, is to recognize its possibility and make physical readjustments that may help to stave it off.

In the absence of serious systemic diseases such as diabetes and syphilis, there is not much chance of the average person having a stroke before 45 years of age, according to Dr. William Bolton, associate editor of the magazine, "Today's Health." But, virtually everyone past middle age is a possible candidate. The following precautions were recommended.

1. Obtain prompt, active treatment of systemic diseases.
2. Do not become or remain overweight.
3. Watch blood pressure that tends to become high.
4. Obtain regular physical check-ups.

"Strokes vary from widespread, devastating ones that bludgeon their victims into oblivion to tiny ones producing such vague, indefinite signs that they often escape immediate detection," he said. "The basic cause in both extremes is identical: escape of blood into the brain tissue. The amount of bleeding, and its location near to or far from vital centers or important nerve pathways, are the chief factors that determine severity in strokes."

"Not all strokes are the result of direct escape of fluid from blood vessels into brain tissue. Some physicians lean strongly to the belief that temporary spasm in a blood vessel may be a common cause."

"Another fairly common event is formation of a clot within one or more of the tiny arteries in the brain."

"There is increased possibility of stroke in certain diseases."

Tough Case

Recognizing the fact that portable movie projectors are often carried into all sorts of climates and that they must withstand the hard knocks incident to travel, the manufacturer of one such machine has devised a special carrying case that is able to "take it." Built of birch and basswood, high frequency radio waves are used to set the adhesive that binds the panels so they can never pull apart. The case is then dipped in a synthetic resin sealer that checks decay and minimizes moisture absorption. It is then primed, sanded, and painted with a spatter finish. Allowed to cure for three weeks, the finish is hard and durable. Even after years of intensive service, it does not become brittle or chip away from the wood.

Pre-War Army

Six months before World War II began, the Army contained 29 infantry and cavalry divisions at nearly full strength, totaling more than 450,000 officers and men, plus an armored force of four divisions with a total strength of 40,000 troops. The Army history, "Washington Command Post: The Operations Division," credits mobilization of the National Guard and induction under the Selective Service Act for this rapid expansion of strength.

Modern Dentistry Can Aid Youth with Cleft Palate

The role of modern dentistry in the total rehabilitation of young men and women with cleft lip or cleft palate so they can lead happy useful lives is revealed in the Journal of the American Dental Association.

Asserting that more children are born with this condition than any other congenital deformity, Dr. Herbert K. Cooper, director of the Lancaster, Pa., cleft plate clinic, estimated that at least one out of every 700 children have this handicap.

"The most frequently found condition has been getting the least amount of attention," he said. "The citizens of this country should be as well informed on the subject of cleft palate as they are on polio-myelitis, cerebral palsy and rheumatic fever."

Citing cases of patients treated at the clinic, Dr. Cooper told of a youth, 17, born with a cleft lip and cleft palate. During infancy, surgery had been performed, leaving him with a flat upper lip and very poor speech.

"He shunned all social contacts," Dr. Cooper said. "He left high school and was driving a truck. His whole family was extremely upset."

Dr. Cooper said the youth was given a medical, dental, speech and psychological examination. An appliance was constructed to build out the upper lip and cheeks and thimble crowns were placed on his five remaining upper teeth. At the same time, he was given speech instruction.

The boy was persuaded to finish high school, Dr. Cooper said, and he then was admitted to college. He added:

"The first two years were quite difficult for him because of his social adjustment problem, which he gradually overcame. Then he was taken into a fraternity and was graduated on the dean's list. He is now attending law school in a large university."

U.S. Still Leads World In Production of Matches

It's pretty difficult to get something for nothing these days, but there's one item left that is used by the average person 14 times a day, and two out of five times he doesn't have to pay. That little item is the match.

The manufacture of matches is a $25 million-a-year industry in the United States. Each year, more than 500 billion matches are produced, and of 200 billion book matches made in the United States every year, about 196 billion are given away with the sale of cigars, cigarettes, and tobacco.

Sweden had us topped for many years in the production of matches. The Swedish Match Company, formed in 1913 by Ivar Kruegar, had match factories in 43 countries of the world and manufactured most of the world's matches. Kruegar is said to have invented the common superstition that "three on a match" is unlucky, in order to sell more matches. His match empire lasted until 1933, when it was discovered he'd been using the company's capital for his own speculations.

Sweden now ranks fourth down the line led by the United States. Great Britain ranks second and the Soviet Union third.

Spices in History

There are many references to spices and herbs in the pages of history. They play important parts in the development of our civilization. The ancients attributed strange powers and accomplishments to spices. Basil, for example, is venerated by the Hindus who plant it outside their temples and homes to insure happiness. The famed laurel wreaths which crowned Greek heroes of war and sport are the same bay leaves we use today in our cooking.

Freezing of Water Pipes

Freezing is most likely to occur in pipes which run along an outside wall. This hazard should be averted by re-location of the pipes, if possible. If this is impractical, thorough insulation with from two and one-half to three inches of good pipe covering is the only safeguard. Should any of the piping freeze, the work of thawing it should not be entrusted to a handyman. It should be done under the supervision of an experienced master plumber. Blow torches or other methods involving open flames are extremely dangerous. They not only involve fire hazards but also permit the generation of high pressures which may cause explosions.

Gregorian Calendar

The form of our present calendar was set by Julius Caesar with some additional innovations by Augustus Caesar. However, in about 1500 years the length of year adopted by the Caesars proved incorrect. Therefore, Pope Gregory, in 1582, appointed a commission which revised the calendar sufficiently to bring it back in step with the seasons. Now it takes 3000 years for the calendar to slip out of line one day. The Protestant countries did not accept the Gregorian calendar until 1752 and this is why certain dates in history sometimes appear to be confused.

HAPPY NEW YEAR

To Our Friends:

As 1953 draws to a close, we pause for a moment to think of what it has meant to us . . . its joys and its sorrows.

One of the great joys of life, as we see it, is the friendships. A true friend is indeed a valued possession.

What is true of our personal lives is also true of our business lives. We like to feel that there is a spirit of friendship underlying each business transaction.

We like to think of our correspondents, our subscribers, advertisers and job work customers as our friends. We like to value our business friendships as we value our personal friendships.

As an expression, therefore, of our genuine appreciation of your friendship and all that it has meant to us, we want to say "Thank You" again, and to wish you and those whom you love, a New Year brimful of all good things

Sincerely,

THANKS TO THE PEOPLE OF
LELAND AND COMMUNITY

We want to thank the good people of Leland for the wonderful Christmas they sent to our home - bountiful supplies of all good things to eat and presents of aprons, hankies, "Hide-a-key", and checks, and candy by the box - along with all the good wishes expressed and kind remembrances. Again we say "Thank You" with all our hearts.

After such a merry Christmas may the New Year continue to bring happiness to you and yours. And may God's blessings continue to be with you. - In Christian love, Geo. F. and Mabel Calvert, Lenore, Ida. pd.

HELLO, THERE, FOLKS:

Well, here it is the sunset of 1953 — and almost time for the dawn of 1954. Right now is the appropriate time to wish all our friends and customers a and a THANK YOU for the Patronage given us during 1953. It is our sincere wish to serve you even better during 1954.

Collector: "My little daughter has swallowed a gold coin and has got to be operated on. I wonder if Dr. Cuttum is to be trusted." Friend: "Without a doubt. He's absolutely honest."

In the year to come, resolve to get more income from your cows by taking better care of them — and selling the cream to us. We return a steam-sterilized, ready-to-use can — and your check right now. Why bother waiting?

Wife: "Do you realize that 25 years ago today we became engaged?"

Absent-minded professor: What, 25 years! You should have reminded me before. It's certainly time we got married!"

Entertaining New Year's? Of course many of you are. So be sure you have an ample supply of "Potlatch Chief" Ice Cream, cream and milk on hand. Everyone likes ice cream for dessert — or for that snack, or with frozen fruit for a sundae.

He: "Did anybody ever tell you how wonderful you are?"

She, (smiling): "I guess not."

He: "Then, where'd you get the idea?"

And don't forget — we want to buy your cream!
