The money you give toward the March of Dimes will help some crippled child — or prevent some child from being crippled!

PATRICIA HORTING BRIDE OF DOUGLAS CHRISTENSEN, JR.

An event of significant beauty of the holiday season was the wedding Sunday afternoon, Dec. 27, at 4:00 o'clock in the Colfax Christian church where Miss Patricia Lou Horting, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Horting of that city, became the bride of Douglas A. Christensen, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Christensen, Kendrick.

The Rev. Charles Knox officiated at the impressive double ring ceremony, against a lovely setting of cedar boughs, ferns and giant white chrysanthemums, which were accented by white candles and white satin bows. A large white lighted cross centered the arrangement, shedding a soft glow over the wedding party.

The bride, escorted and given in marriage by her father, Carl J. Horting, was lovely in a gown of nylon chantilly lace over slipper satin, made by her sister, Mrs. David Thacker (Carlene Horting). The fitted bodice had a standup collar covered with buttons down the front and long pointed sleeves. The full skirt was floor length. The fingertip length veil, also fashioned by Mrs. Thacker, was of nylon tulle, and cascaded from a satin and lace cap matching the gown.

On her white Rainbow Bible the bride carried a white orchid from which fell white streamers. She also carried a handkerchief borrowed from Mrs. George M. Chapman and wore the traditional blue garter.

Maid of honor was Miss Pauline Peterson of Priest River, a college friend of the bride, who was given in a silver blue taffeta, designed with a sweetheart neckline and a full skirt. In her matching headband were white carnations, and her bouquet was an arrangement of the same flowers. Bridesmaid was Miss Janice Christensen, a sister of the groom, who wore dark raspberry taffeta styled like the dress of the maid of honor. She also had white carnations in her headband and which were repeated in her nosegay.

Attending his brother as best man was Charles Christensen of Kendrick. Ushers were David Thacker of Carnation, Wash., and Aavel Fairchild, Fort Collins, Colo., a college friend of the bridegroom.

Preceding the ceremony tapers were lighted by Mrs. William Hubbard and Miss Arlene Weltz. Their gowns, which were identical, were of floor length orchid taffeta with matching lace boleros. Mrs. Dale Culbertson played the wedding marches and accompanied Miss Irene Thomas of Yakima, who sang "Yours Is My Heart Alone" and "Through the Years." At the close of the service Miss Nan Nelson of Colfax sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. Horting chose a royal blue crepe afternoon dress for the occasion. With it she wore white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Christensen selected a honey beige wool jersey afternoon dress with winter white accessories, and her corsage was of white carnations.

For the reception the church social rooms were decorated with green boughs and holly. The four-tiered wedding cake was topped with bells and surrounded by holly sprigs. Mrs. Harvey Herman cut the cake, assisted by Mrs. Knox. Miss Pat Elliott presided at the punch bowl and Miss Pat Berry of North Powder, Ore., poured coffee. Miss Janet Snick was in charge of the guest book.

For going away the bride wore a red knit suit with gray cobra shoes and a bag, red hat and gloves and a gray fleec coat, to which was pinned her white orchid.

The couple left Wednesday, Dec. 30, for Baltimore, Md., where the bridegroom will report Jan. 5 for training in the army intelligence service.

Mrs. Christensen is a Colfax high school graduate and a past worthy advisor of Colfax Assembly of Rainbow Girls. She attended the University of Idaho, where she was a member of the Women's I Club, athletic honorary organization. She served as summer recreation director for Colfax last summer and has since been employed at the Colfax Dairy Products. The bridegroom was graduated from the University of Idaho last spring in agriculture and is a member of Alpha Zeta, agricultural honorary group.

Among many coming from out of town for the wedding were the bridegroom's grandfather, Charles L. Snowling of Salt Lake City; Mr. and Mrs. David Thacker and Bruce of Carnation; Mrs. Alice Thomas and Miss Irene Thomas of Yakima, and Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Christensen, Charles, Roger and Janice, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Watts, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Watts, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dagefoerde, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Clayton, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deobald, all of Kendrick, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Watts of Moscow.

Potlatch Chief Sez

Published by the Kendrick Creamery

HELLO, THERE, FOLKS:

Well, now that the Christmas and New Year Holidays are over, and the headaches have subsided — let's talk seriously about 1954. You know you can add materially to your income by taking good care of your cows — and selling the cream to us. We pay "on the spot" and return to you a steam-sterilized, ready-to-use can. There is no waiting for your can to come back — or the check. Both are available "right now" at this creamery. No quantity is too large or none too small. Just bring, or send it in.

He bid high for the parrot, and finally it was knocked down to him. Paying his $50.00 he asked: "Does this parrot talk?" "Who do you think was bidding against you?" the parrot inquired.

It won't be long until butchering time again, so we suggest that your next trip into town you come in and look over our locker boxes. We have one that will fit every need and every purse. Just look them over.

Bridge Player: "I've cured my husband of coming in late at night."

Second Bridge Player: "For goodness sake, how?" "When he comes in, I call to him, 'Is that you, Bill?'" "How does that cure him?" "Simple. My husband's name is Jack."

Having friends in for cards or TV watching? If so, don't let the problem of what to serve worry you. Just stock up on "Potlatch Chief" Ice Cream, and serve it with cookies, cake or pie and coffee and you have a dessert that will satisfy the most particular person — as well as yourself — the hostess.
