Weather Typically March

No better description of local weather can be given for this past week than to say it is "typically March."

We have had warm winds, chill winds, scattered showers, a few pellets of snowy hail, and temperature changes ranging from "warm and sunny" to "cloudy and chill."

Farmers are beginning to get a bit nervous, and talk of plows, seeders, lime spreaders, etc., may be heard on the streets every day.

JOINT DISTRICT P.-T. A. MEETS AT CAMERON

The Joint District No. 283 P.-T. A. met at Cameron, Monday evening, March 15th.

The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. William Johnson. The Secretary's report was read and approved, and Mrs. George F. Brocke, Sr., gave the treasurer's report, which was also approved. She reported $3.50 had been sent to the Idaho Congress of Teachers.

Mrs. Gerald Ingle reported for the Membership committee, stating the rolls remained at 113 up to date. She also reported "Fun Nite" a success, with $76.75 taken in. All communities were represented except Juliaetta, and apologies were extended, as this was an oversight.

Reports on "Savings Stamp" sales given by the secretary shows, to date: Southwick, $35.90; Juliaetta, $9.15, and Kendrick $31.35.

Mrs. Russell Perkins here gave a correction to the Jan. 18 Minutes, in which it was stated the conclusion drawn from the panel discussion was that there was no entertainment for the girls in the age group of 8 to 12, in this district. Southwick has a 4-H Club with eight girls participating, who are 9 to 12 years of age, taking cooking, freezing and sewing, with Mrs. Rollin Armitage as leader.

Mrs. Ben P. Cook reported 15 Kindergarten children started Monday for the six-week course at Kendrick.

Gerald Ingle, chairman of the Nominating committee, reported on officers nominated for the coming year: President, Mrs. Russell Perkins, Southwick; Vice President, Mrs. Dennis Racicot, Juliaetta; Secretary, Mrs. Emil Siffow, Leland; Treasurer, Mrs. Roy Craig, Leland, and a motion was made and unanimously carried that the Secretary be instructed to cast a unanimous ballot for the nominees.

Mrs. Asa Calvert expressed thanks to the people for subscribing to magazines, thus assisting the children to make money. They have realized $125.00 in money and $35.00 in prizes thus far.

The "White Elephant" was taken home by Gerald Ingle.

The next meeting will be at Juliaetta on April 19, with Robert Meserve, superintendent, as chairman of the program.

Asa Calvert, program chairman, presented Mrs. Margaret Racicot and Eugene Taylor in a duet of Negro minstrel songs, which were definitely appreciated by the group.

The meeting was then turned over to the School Nurse of Latah county, Miss Kalhoff, who spoke on "Health Problems," and had a picture showing many of these problems — after which the group discussed some of them.

Motion was then made by Mrs. Gerald Ingle to adjourn the meeting for lunch, the Cameron ladies, as hostesses, serving "Angle Cake" and strawberry cream whip topping — and coffee.

During the lunch period Bob Tyson, district sanitarian, gave a talk on the seven points employed in inspecting school buildings and facilities, which was very enlightening.

This meeting will always be remembered by many people in this district, both young and old, as word was received of the burning of the old Southwick schoolhouse — a landmark dear to the hearts of many, and which will be greatly missed.

FIRE DESTROYS SOUTHWICK GRADE SCHOOL BUILDING

Fire of undetermined origin Monday night destroyed the Southwick two-story frame grade school building, while village volunteers fought the blaze with meager hose lines supplied by well water from the adjoining gymnasium.

The building had been in continuous use since its construction in 1908 — first as a high and grade school building, but since consolidation with the Kendrick district several years ago, only as a grade school building, and after completion of the Joint District consolidation a few years ago, only as a grade school for sixth-year students and younger.

An east wind was blowing during the height of the blaze. The adjoining gymnasium and a woodshed on the school grounds were saved. A crowd estimated at 200 had gathered before the building burned to the ground.

The blaze was first seen about 9:00 p. m. by John Longteig, Southwick farmer, who sounded the alarm by ringing all parties on the community's telephone lines.

Teachers and members of the Joint District school board were at Southwick attending a Joint District P.-T. A. meeting when the alarm was given.

As near as can be determined, the fire started on the front portion of the building.

About 35 pupils from the first to sixth grades, inclusive, were enrolled at Southwick. Those in the higher grades attend school at Kendrick.

Henry Jones, deputy state fire warden, was called, but by the time he and other volunteers could reach the scene with a tank truck and pumper, the blaze had gained too much headway to be controlled. The volunteers concentrated on saving the gymnasium, woodshed, and two residences near the school grounds.

Power lines leading to the homes of Howard Southwick and Chester McIver were burned and the McIver house was scorched by the heat of the blaze.

Observers said the direction of the wind helped somewhat to save the gymnasium.

In addition to the two classrooms, taught by Mrs. Darwin Tarry and Mrs. Winifred Kluckholm, the school building had a kitchen and cafeteria on the ground floor, the latter very modernly equipped.

Southwick Gym To Be Used

The Southwick grade school children, who have been on an unexpected vacation since the Southwick school was destroyed by fire Monday night, will be back at maktshtift desks in their gymnasium Thursday (today).

Community-wide response came on Tuesday in a call for men to make alterations Wednesday to the gymnasium, that was saved. It is believed the work can be done in one day.

School board members decided in a session Tuesday morning to install a partition to make two rooms in the gymnasium. Desks and other fixtures needed will be built by volunteer workers or collected wherever possible throughout the district.

And the 35 pupils enrolled in the first to sixth grades won't be without textbooks. Robert Meserve, district superintendent, was at Boise Tuesday and will line up replacement desks from Caldwell.

Darwin Tarry, Southwick member of the Joint District 283 school board is expected to supervise the gymnasium alterations.

The fire loss was said to have been at least partially covered by insurance, it is reported, although it had not been appraised Tuesday.

This is just a temporary arrangement to complete the remainder of the school term. Beyond that, no plans have been made.

SHORT NEWS ITEMS FROM OUR LOCAL SCHOOLHOUSE

Basketball Season Over

The Kendrick Tigers basketball team ended its season with a very successful 17 win and 7 loss record. The Tigers outscored their opponents 1237 points to 1120 points. This is an average of 54 points per game, to 48 counters for their foes in the 23-game series.

During the season the entire team should be complimented on their fine sportsmanship and participation. While seven lettermen will graduate, there are great prospects for next year's Tiger Team.

Lapwai Wins District Crown
 Moscow (Mar. 12) — Lapwai bowled past Priest River 71-63, and Genesee fell 43-38 to Mullan in the North Idaho class B high school regional basketball tournament here. Lapwai's fast breaking attack wore down Priest River in the final half. The losers had rallied in the second quarter from a nine-point deficit, and were just three points behind at 36-33 at the half.

Don Bossio and Earl Moore were the big guns in this drive, and for the game on the Priest River side of the scoring ledger.

Jerry Sabotta led Lapwai in the final teaming quarter with 8 points and had 24 tallies for the game. It was Eddie Madsen who started the winning Wildcats along the victory trail. He bucketed eight counters in the first period, which ended with Lapwai out front 21-12.

Mar. 13 — They call themselves "Wildcats," but the Lapwai high school five looked more like race-horses Saturday night as they outran Mullan 63-44, for the North Idaho Class B basketball title.

The victory sends Lapwai to the Idaho Class B playoffs for the first time in 35 years.

Genesee defeated Priest River 49-40 in the night's consolation game.

The Wildcats didn't hit their stride until the third period, when, led by Jerry Sabotta and Eddie Madsen, they picked up 14 points in five minutes. From then on victory was assured.

Mullan, also using a fast break, managed to keep the upper hand through the first half, which ended 28-26 in Mullan's favor.

Voting Was Unanimous
 In the Cemetery Maintenance District election for the proposed Nezah District, held here Thursday afternoon of last week, Mrs. Nellie Bly Biddison, one of the judges, reports that a total of 75 ballots were cast and all were "Yes."

A unanimous ballot is very exceptional, but shows that the people of this section are indeed aware of the need for such a district.

Frank Barton, local attorney, drew up and handled the legal matter.

Store Interiors Redecorated
 The interiors of the Abrams Hardware and the Blewett Cash Grocery have undergone complete redecoration this past week at the hands of Carl and George Mattoon.

Farm Scrap Harvest Reported a Success

Farmers Can Sell All Scrap Iron and Steel

The national farm scrap harvest conducted between October 15 and November 15 has been termed a success by the steel industry, producing millions of tons of scrap iron and steel badly needed for making new steel.

Although the drive is over, farmers should continue to collect the scrapped machinery about their farms and sell it to dealers. It is a good way to keep the farm premises cleaned up and, although scrap does not sell for big prices, the financial return does mean something.

The steel industry continues to need the broken tractor parts, rusted and worn out implements, plow points, outdated horse drawn equipment, old cultivators, broken shovels and similar equipment that can be found on almost every American farm. There are about 25 tons of iron and steel on the average farm.

Farm scrap can be a major source of the 36,000,000 tons of scrap that are needed by the steel mills this year. It takes that much scrap to produce 110,000,000 tons of steel that mills in our country have as their goal for 1951.

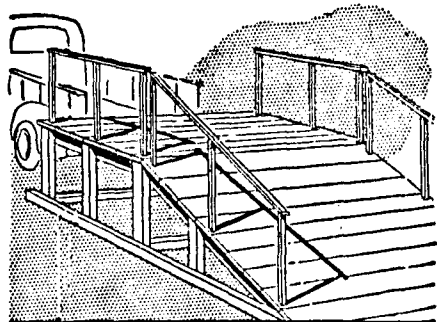

Cheaper Way to Fatten Beef Cattle Outlined

G. A. Branaman, Michigan State College animal husbandry authority, reports that full feeding grain is the quickest way to get a steer to market, but it isn't necessarily the cheapest or the most profitable.

Plain cattle, for instance should be fed longer and more cheaply than well-bred steers of good type. "Corn silage full-fed along with protein supplement may replace all the grain for plain steers when fed a longer time," he comments. "Yearling steers usually are fed from 4 to 7 months, depending on their grade and quality, and the amount of grain fed. Calves require a longer time to fatten and 2-year-olds a shorter time.

Wintering calves on roughage, then pasturing for part or all of the summer without grain results in cheap gains. Under present cattle and feed prices it is possible to pasture cattle for two summers, feeding roughage in winter. These animals may be grain fed for a short time or sold as grass-fat cattle.

Loading Platform

The above sketch of a loading platform is one any farmer handy with tools can build. The main idea is to build it on skids so it can be moved about the farm as desired. The railing can be made detachable to make it easier for loading farm machinery. The uprights would require 4x4 lumber and the platform 2" planks.

Shearing Lamb Faces Will Increase Gains

Shearing the faces of heavily-wooled feeder lambs will increase gains, according to Graydon Blank, extension animal husbandry specialist at Michigan State College.

Blank explained that lambs can see better without a heavy crop of wool around their eyes. After shearing they'll find the feed trough more quickly, will eat better and will gain much more rapidly, specialists report.

Don't Be "Owlish"

Conduct Your Business With "Both Eyes Open"

In this modern business world, under today's prices, it is more important than ever that "you get your money's worth" — and driving miles to "get a so-called bargain" definitely saves you nothing — for time is money, miles are money, and the item or service you buy is "money."

However, still another factor must be considered when doing business "with both eyes open," and that is the quality of product and integrity of the firm.

When you purchase goods or services at home, in Kendrick, you find nationally known brands, at reasonable prices, plus the integrity of merchant and business man in backing those goods.

Never "sell Kendrick short" and you will come out many dollars ahead in the course of a season.

Adrenal Gland Plays Role When One Suffers Injuries

Another step forward in better understanding the important role played by the adrenal gland in helping the body recover from injuries has been achieved, a University of Michigan doctor states.

Dr. Jerome W. Conn, an associate professor of internal medicine, reported to the American Association for the Advancement of Science on research he has been conducting at the university.

His study has shown that the adrenal gland calls upon a substance in the blood known as cholesterol to help in producing the huge amounts of adrenal hormones needed in prolonged periods of stress which the body undergoes at the time of an injury.

Cholesterol, produced largely by the liver, is the basic compound of adrenal hormones, including cortisone, the hormone found to be beneficial in the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis, Dr. Conn says.

In his experiments, Dr. Conn found the cholesterol content of the adrenal gland could be reduced 70 per cent within three hours by artificial stimulation which produced conditions similar to those created within the body during periods of prolonged stress.

This artificial stimulation was achieved through use of ACTH, the pituitary gland hormone which causes the adrenal gland to produce its hormones.

The effect of this prolonged stimulation of the adrenal gland has important implications for future study of several diseases, including those of the heart, liver and kidney as well as hardening of the arteries, according to Dr. Conn. These diseases are all associated with an unusual production or use of cholesterol.

Wool Scarce; Give Blankets Extra Care for Longer Life

Treat your wool blankets with the gentle care that precious possessions deserve. Textile scientists of the U.S. department of agriculture have pointed out that U.S. production of wool this year is one of the lowest on record.

Frequent airing of blankets in use not only is good sanitary practice but helps them last longer and hold their fluffy warmth and comfort. When a blanket is thrown back loosely so fresh air reaches both sides, the wool has a chance to get back its natural springiness which makes for warmth. But care should be taken not to throw a blanket over anything sharp, such as a peaked bedpost, which may pierce or pull it, or on anything that may stain it. Loose bed springs, sharp metal corners or even roughened wood may also catch and tear blankets or other bedding.

For best service and comfort blankets should be large enough to come up well over shoulders and still tuck firmly in the bottom of the bed. Short blankets often wear out early because they take so much pulling and strain.

A blanket stays clean longer if the bed is made so that the sheet turns back over the top of the blanket 8 to 12 inches. If the sheet is too short, a strip of cloth, basted over the top or the full length of the blanket, is good protection against soiling the wool. A covering over the blanket, or even a third sheet used on top, gives added warmth because it holds still air in the fluffy wool.

For Pig Protection

A pair of clean rubber boots is worth more than any medicine in protecting pigs from a fatal intestinal disease called transmissible gastroenteritis. Best means of controlling it is to move healthy pigs as far away as possible from the sick ones. Many farmers do this a veterinary medical bulletin points out, but they overlook the fact that their shoes can spread the infection. Attendants who have walked through infected hog quarters should put on a pair of clean boots before entering healthy quarters, the bulletin cautions. The disease, believed to be caused by a virus, is marked by severe diarrhea, vomiting, and rapid loss of weight. Young pigs are hit hardest, with death losses sometimes running as high as 90 per cent.

Finishes Pre-Tested

The term "industrial-finishes" is applied to the finishes used by manufacturers to enhance their products. Before being applied, they are subjected to many special tests based upon the kind of usage to which the article may be subjected. For example, in addition to tests for adhesion, and hardness, finishes for refrigerators, stoves and kitchen cabinets are tested for their resistance to various foods, such as lemon juice, butter, lard and vinegar—as well as to various cleaning materials.

Wooden, Aluminum, Ladders

The rung of a wooden ladder will bend downward about one-sixth of an inch for a 150-pound person stepping on its center. An aluminum ladder is constructed so that the deflection is much less. If it were built like the wooden ladder, the deflection of the aluminum rung would be about a ninth as much as for the wooden rung under similar conditions. This is because aluminum is nine times as rigid as wood (white oak).

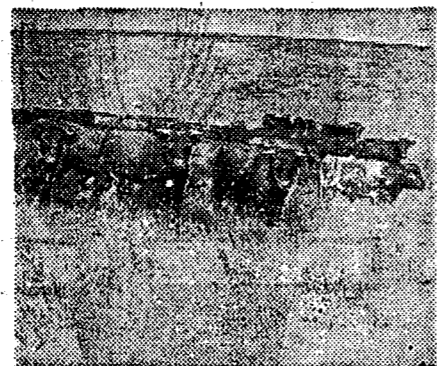

Shorthorn Breeders Conduct Experiment

102 Bulls Put Through First U. S. Program

Shorthorn breeders recently put 102 bulls through an obstacle course in the Nebraska range country with a view to toughening them up for a unique show and sale held at Broken Bow, Nebr., last month.

Converting farm bulls from mid-western herds to rugged range

The drove of Shorthorn bulls above were part of the Broken Bow experiment to toughen up 102 animals to be used in cross-breeding programs in large commercial herds. The project was sponsored by the American Shorthorn Breeders Association.

bulls for service in large commercial herds of the west, the program was called the Range Bull project. The bulls were judged in groups of two and three, in the manner of "Camp Showings" in Argentina, and then sold to western cattlemen who wanted them for regular herd sires or for cross-breeding programs. It was the first such program in the United States.

The animals were consigned by 48 breeders in the middle west and east and were turned out to range on July 1.

Gasoline on the Farm Is 'Liquid Dynamite'

Gasoline on a farm is "liquid dynamite" and must be handled with extreme care to prevent explosions and fires. It is estimated that annual farm losses from gasoline fires amount to more than $7,000,000.

Here are eight safety rules the farmer should follow:

1. Gasoline should be stored in steel drums in underground tanks at least 75 feet from any building.
2. Gasoline or kerosene should never be left in open containers in any building.
3. Gasoline or kerosene should never be handled in the presence of an open flame or other source of possible ignition.
4. In pouring gasoline, make sure the pouring and receiving receptacles are grounded, to avoid static sparks.
5. Never use gasoline, benzene, or other flammable material for dry cleaning.
6. Never use gasoline or kerosene to start a fire in a stove or elsewhere.
7. Make sure cans or tanks used in storage of gasoline or kerosene are painted red, marked plainly and in large letters.
8. Never forget that gasoline or related petroleum products are the most potentially dangerous things you have on your farm. Observance of these rules will cut down farm fire losses.

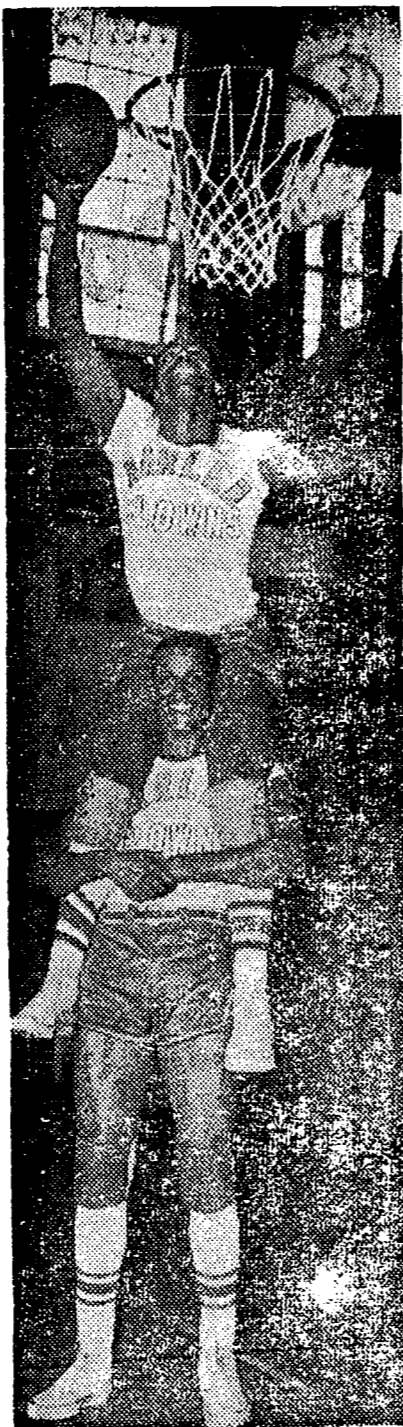

Rat Control

The farmer who has 20 rats on his farm is feeding them at a cost of $40 a year. In other words, it costs farmers $2 a year to keep one rat. Three rats eat and destroy as much feed as two laying hens require in a year's time. This is sufficient reason for every farmer to execute a rat-killing and control program.

Poultrymen Are Advised To House Best Pullets

House only the best pullets that probably will produce well for the entire laying year, poultry experts advise. Those chickens that are under-developed, or generally unthrifty looking, will seldom produce well and should be marketed. And when housing pullets, it is generally wise to keep together those of the same age and stage of development. Smaller birds have a better chance this way.

When they get tired of scoring baskets the conventional way, the Harlem Clowns do it like this. That's Clown George Moore riding piggyback to drop in two points.

The Clowns play the Kendrick town team, under auspices of the Community Lions Club here, in the Kendrick gymnasium, on Wednesday, March 31st, at 7:30 p. m.

The Lions Club is fortunate in being able to bring the Harlem Clowns to this area. They will treat us to a brand of basketball that many have never seen.

Paper Borrowing Risky Business

Don't borrow your neighbor's paper: It's too risky!

A man too stingy to subscribe to the Blue Earth Post and Fairbault County Register, sent his little boy to borrow a copy from his neighbor. In his haste the boy ran over a stand of bees and in 10 minutes he looked like a warty summer squash. His father ran to his assistance and failing to notice the barbed wire fence ran into it, ruining a $9.00 pair of pants.

The old cow took advantage of the gap in the fence, got in the corn field and killed herself eating green corn.

Hearing the commotion, his wife ran out, upset a four-gallon churn of cream into a basket of little chickens, drowning the entire batch. In her haste she dropped and broke a $65 set of false teeth.

The baby, being left alone crawled through the cream into the parlor, ruining a brand new $85 carpet.

During the excitement the eldest daughter eloped with the hired man, the goat broke out of its pen and five chewed the tails off four or five shirts on the clothes line. Moral: Don't borrow your neighbor's paper. It's too risky. — Fairbault County (Minn.) Register.
