INTERESTING NEWS NOTES FROM THE SOUTHWICK AREA

Homemakers Club Carnival

The Homemakers Club will present their carnival on April 9th at the Ladies Aid hall. This will be a limited event, due to lack of space, but promises to be interesting and entertaining. See you there.

Blanket Tickets On Sale

The tickets are still on sale for the beautiful blanket on display at the Variety Store in Kendrick. See the ladies of the Club and get your tickets. At least, come out to the carnival and play games.

Work Bees Scheduled

On Thursday the men of the Southwick Community Church will gather at the church to paper the house that they are renovating. John Lettenmaier has been named by Rev. Swinney to be leader of the workmen.

Under the leadership of Charles Cuddy the youth of Southwick will gather Saturday to rake the church yard. Charles would like to see plenty of boys and plenty of rakes there Saturday.

Homemakers Club Meeting

The Southwick Homemakers Club met on Friday at the home of Christina Cuddy. In the absence of Hattie Southwick, Ruth Armitage and Virginia Cole assisted as co-hostesses. The day was spent in making further plans for the carnival.

After a delicious Scandinavian luncheon at noon, which was served to 11 members, one visitor and five children, the business meeting was held and presided over by Virginia Cantrell.

Mrs. Virginia Cole and daughter of Cavendish were guests.

The next meeting will be held at the Aid hall, where preparations will be made for the carnival. Marie Kuykendall will be the hostess.

Bridge Work Progressing

Although it may still be described as "bridge work", on the new structure crossing Bear creek, that work was actually completed, with the exception of some minor details, last week, and the construction crews have been busy with bulldozers, snow-els, trucks, etc., hauling rock and filling and backfilling on the approaches to the new structure.

The actual road work begins between the W. H. Weyen and Frank Crocker homes in the east part of town, and leads from there, in an "S" curve sort of fashion, to the bridge itself.

Once across the creek the approach swings in a long easy curve behind the home of Mrs. Dave Glenn and on up the creek to the Roy Glenn home, where it re-enters the former highway.

At present rock and sand are being scooped from the creek bottom and used for a primary top on the big boulders blasted from the schoolhouse hill bluff, which form the main basis of the roadway.

We understand that after this first "topping" has been suitably packed crushed gravel is to be applied, and as soon as the weather warms, the whole is to be oiled.

Wrong End

Dentist: "What's the matter? I haven't touched your teeth?"
Squirming Patient: "No, Doc, but you're standing on my corn!"

Thermometer Takes Read Dip

Following a week of really spring-like weather, which saw early shrubs literally "popping" and local daffodils come into bloom, the thermometer really took "a turn for the worse."

Sunday night, following a chilly, blustery March day, the mercury dropped to a low of 18 above -- and Monday night wasn't much better -- when a low of 20 above was recorded.

Whatever may be said of this spring -- it has had everything -- with the exception of excess moisture! Perhaps, now that March is almost gone, a bit more dependable weather may come upon the scene.

ELLEN McALLISTER, JULIAETTA, DIES LAST WEEK

Juliaetta -- Ellen Ethel McAllister, pioneer resident of this area, died at a Pullman hospital Thursday of last week.

She became ill at her home and was confined here for about a week before being taken to Pullman, where she was cared for in the French Memorial hospital. She was a patient in the hospital for 18 days before death came.

Mrs. McAllister was born at Fairfield, Wash., April 22, 1894.

She is survived by her husband, Elmer O. McAllister of Juliaetta; two sons, Dale Goans of Anchorage, Alaska, and S/Sgt. Leon Goans of the U. S. Air Force at Scott Field, Ill.; three brothers, Charles Calvert of Twin Falls, Ida.; George F. Calvert of Lenore, Ida., and Asa Calvert of Juliaetta; three sisters, Mrs. Adorothy Ferguson and Mrs. Finch, both of Albion, Wash., and Mrs. Mary Taylor of Walla Walla, Wash.; four grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Mrs. McAllister had lived with her husband the past eight years in Juliaetta.

She was a member of the Methodist church and was an ardent worker in her church. She was a woman of many talents and gave freely of her time and energy for the good of the community.

Mrs. McAllister frequently taught as a substitute teacher in the Juliaetta school. She also was an art student of no mean ability, and from this hobby she received much joy -- her home attesting to her creative talent. She was an outstanding community leader, and those who worked with her know best just how greatly she will be missed.

Funeral services were held at the U. B. church in Albion, Saturday, with the Rev. F. C. Schmidt of Kendrick officiating, assisted by the Rev. Veta Marl of Albion. Burial was in the family plot at Albion.

Relatives from out of town who came to attend the final rites included Mr. McAllister's daughter, Mrs. C. V. Strathie of Seattle; his son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McAllister of Moscow; Mrs. McAllister's sons, Dale Goans of Anchorage, Alaska, who flew out, and S/Sgt. Leon Goans of the U. S. Air Force from Scott Field, Ill., who also flew out.

Lions To Meet April 7

The regular Lions Club meeting on Wednesday, April 7, will be in the nature of a special one, and all members and friends are urged to be present.

A group of 15 Cottonwood Lions are coming down to meet with the local group and present the plan they used in raising funds for and constructing a Community building in Cottonwood.

Since they have experienced the pain, as well as the joy, that naturally accompanies any such project -- they are going to share with the Kendrick Lions their plan -- that we may profit by their mistakes -- and maybe catch some of their enthusiasm -- for it has long been the dream of Kendrick and this area to have a community building -- and there is no reason why we can't, if we all pull together.

So come out to the meeting, and add your voice where it will do the most good.

Red Cross Drive Over

Mrs. John Johanson, local Red Cross Drive chairman announces this year's drive as finished. While the proceeds did not quite match that of last year, still it was gratifying.

For the help Mrs. Johanson received from the following helpers in soliciting funds, she extends a sincere "thank you".

Helpers included Mrs. Frank Abrams, Mrs. Ward Helton, Mrs. Elmo Eldridge, Mrs. Wm. Johnson and Mrs. R. L. Blewett.

FERN A. CLEMENHAGEN WEDS DELMAR RICHARDSON

Deary -- Pink carnations and white snapdragons decorated the altar of the Central Lutheran Church at Yakima, Wash., March 1, for the wedding of Fern A. Clemenhagen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Clemenhagen of Kendrick, and Delmar O. Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Richardson of Yakima.

The Rev. Roland H. Swanson officiated at the single-ring ceremony. Miss Virginia Prochnow was organist.

The bride's dress of white nylon over ice-blue taffeta was trimmed with tiny orange blossoms and rhinestones. She wore a headdress of orange blossoms and carried a white prayer book on which rested a spray of red roses and white hyacinths, tied with ice blue and white satin ribbons.

Mrs. Gene Richardson of Seattle attended the bride. Her dress was fashioned of pink iridescent taffeta in ballerina length. Gene Richardson, brother of the groom, was best man.

Close friends and relatives of the couple attended a reception in the church parlors following the ceremony. Mrs. Lester Winfrey of Othello, sister of the bridegroom, poured. Mrs. Fred A. Mason cut the wedding cake.

For the wedding trip to Nevada and California cities the bride wore a daffodil colored suit with matching accessories and a black hat.

The bride is a graduate of the Kendrick High School and is employed as a railroad telegrapher. Richardson, who was graduated from the Delta, Colo., High school, is with the engineering department of the railway company.

The couple will be at home at 311 N. 3rd St., Yakima. -- Lewiston Tribune.

April Cancer Control Month

Gov. Len Jordan this week officially proclaimed April as "Cancer Control Month" in Idaho and urged all residents throughout the state to support the campaign of fund-raising and public education as conducted by the more than 5,000 volunteer workers of the Idaho Division of the American Cancer Society.

The society's annual campaign for funds is made each April in order to continue its three-fold program of year-round educational activities, scientific research into the cause and cures of the disease, and service to cancer patients.

"During the past year man's cruel enemy, cancer, took the lives of 659 Idaho citizens," said Gov. Jordan. "Many of these lives could have been saved had the 'seven danger signals' of the disease been known."

Scientific research laboratories and medical schools throughout the nation are now probing into the secrets of the disease and progress is being made in cancer control; the death rate among women is declining, and among men, with the exception of lung cancer, the death rate is leveling off. We have every reason to maintain our hope that someday the disease will be conquered completely.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower has already designated April as a special month for special effort to conquer cancer. It is the basic aim of the Idaho Division to place life-saving literature in the home of every Idaho family.

Gov. Jordan added that the objective of the Idaho Cancer Society is to provide reliable and intelligent information about the disease at all times and to alert residents of the state to the danger of complacency when the disease is indicated.

"As Governor of Idaho and with deep concern for the welfare and health of all of the people of the state, I urge that you avail yourself of the information offered by the Idaho Cancer Society and to support generously the fund raising efforts of the organization," he adds.

Grainery Destroyed By Fire

A grainery holding between 1,000 and 1,200 bushels of seed grain, burned on the Walton Morey ranch, Big Bear ridge, last Thursday, shortly after noon.

Neighbors responded to the call for help, but as there was a shortage of water, it was impossible to quell the blaze, all efforts were concentrated, therefore, in saving adjoining buildings.

The fire started when a high wind whipped sparks from a burning fence row.

Several sacks of grain were saved from the burning building.

Mr. Morey, in his attempts to stop the blaze, received first and second degree burns on his right arm and shoulder, and was treated at the office of Dr. Christensen.

Fifty-three members and officers of the Kendrick Grange took the Traveling Gavel to Mt. Deary Grange Friday evening, this being one of the series of visitation nights. Grange was opened and closed in due form by the Kendrick Grange with Master Robert Draper presiding.

The Literary program was also given by the Kendrick Grange. It consisted of a pantomime, "Wild Neil, the Pet of the Plains," acted out by Mrs. Weyne Weyne, Mrs. Bill Johnson, Mrs. Jack Kuykendall, Ross Armitage, Bill Johnson, Bill White, Wilbur Corkill, Herman Johnson and Pattie and Larry Corkill, with Mrs. Ross Armitage as reader.

Mrs. Grant Bateman and Mrs. Floyd Millard sang a duet, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Marvin Vincent.

Two numbers by the "Kitchen Orchestra," Marjorie Eldridge, Opal Draper, Maxine Foster, Nettie Penland and Ellen Rowden, accompanied by Mrs. Marvin Vincent at the piano, Art Foster on the violin and Bed Fey on the accordion. The dishes, washboards and skillets proved very musical, too, including as they did Marjorie and Ira Foster "rattling the bones."

Pattie Corkill presented two tap dance numbers to close the program. The Grange lecturer would like to thank everyone who helped to make this program and evening the fine success that it was. It was great to have such a fine turn out for the contest.

A delicious lunch of ice cream, cake and coffee was served to over 120 grownups and several youngsters by the Mt. Deary Grange ladies. This was followed by dancing. Everyone reported a most enjoyable evening.

There will be a "jamboree" at Moscow on Saturday evening, April 10, with each subordinate Grange responsible for a five-minute program, and it has been decided to take the "Kitchen Orchestra" for our part of the program — so we hope to have a good attendance that evening.

Music for dancing will be provided by a four-piece orchestra after the business session.

V. F. W. And Auxiliary Elects

Officers for Baker-Lind Post V. F. W. were elected for the 1954-55 season at a regular Post meeting on March 25th. The following were chosen: Commander, William Cuddy; Sr. Vice Commander, Ray Scherer; Jr. Vice Commander, Charles Deobald; Quartermaster, Joseph Forest; Post Advocate, James Holt; Chaplain, Arnold Halseth; Surgeon, Rex Taber; three year trustee, Warney May, Jr.

These officers will be installed at a joint installation of Post and Auxiliary at 8:00 p. m. April 8th, in the Fraternal Temple. The installing officer of the Post will be District Commander Joe Forest; and for the Auxiliary, Gladys Allen of Lapwai, Department Color Bearer.

The Post has received the Articles of Incorporation from the State of Idaho, and is now a fully incorporated Post.

Sunday, April 4th, the new Deary V. F. W. Post will be instituted at 2:00 p. m. Also at this meeting, the new Post Officers will be installed. The Moscow Initiation Team will be present to hold the ceremonies. This meeting is open to the public and all are cordially invited.

Auxiliary officers chosen for the coming season are: President, Mary Scherer; Sr. Vice, Betty May; Jr. Vice, Dorothy Medalen; Treasurer, Zada Jones; Chaplain, Betty Deobald; Conductress, Rose Ann Holt; Guard, Lily Wilson; three-year Trustee, Caroline Scherer.

Appointive officers for the year are: Secretary, Kathryn Cuddy; Patriotic Instructor, Agnes Parsley; Historian, Ada Westendahl; Delegate to Encampment, Zada Jones; Alternate, Dorothy Medalen; Delegate to District Meeting, Rose Ann Holt.

A safe and sober driver never lets death run the "Cash Register"

And The Commies Don't Like It
What would typical industrial workers from one of the advanced European countries think of working and living conditions in the United States? An illuminating answer is provided in an article by Dewitt C. Morrill, which appeared in a recent issue of The Wall Street Journal.

It seems that the head of a Dutch concern which manufactures linoleum is an enthusiastic booster for American ways. He decided that he wanted some of his employees to see for themselves how things are done this side of the Atlantic. So he sent five of them over here, paying their fares and continuing their salaries in their absence, to work for three months in the Pennsylvania plants of a leading American manufacturer of linoleum and allied products. Mr. Morrill's article deals with what the quintet thought and felt when the three months were up and it was time to go home.

They didn't find that everything is good in this country. They were disturbed by the fact that so many wives work here. And they didn't believe "... that on American and his automobile is any happier than a Dutchman with his bicycle." They were proud of Holland's record of amicable labor-management relations — there hasn't been a serious strike there in 15 years. But for the most part their reaction to American life was one of pleased surprise.

One source of their surprise is that the high degree of mechanization in American factories "doesn't take the bread out of the mouths of people, but gets more work done in the same time." Another is the overtime pay, which is hardly known in Holland. And their wages were very high by comparison with those they had been accustomed to. All the men, being temporary employees, did unskilled labor for the most part, but the weekly pay checks ran from $60 to as much as $90 with overtime. In Holland the government fixes the work week at 48 hours and the hourly pay is about 36 cents.

Most startling of all to them, Mr. Morrill records, was what their wages would buy. He quotes one as saying: "If I were 20 years younger I'd never think of staying in Holland if I could come here." Another, who has a large family, said that at home he has to make an overcoat last 10 or 15 years and can afford meat but once a week. Still another said in a wistful fashion, "If there were a way to drive to Amsterdam from here, I could, after only three months of work, buy a used car and drive right to my door. In Holland, I couldn't accomplish that in a whole lifetime."

They were also deeply impressed by the amount of leisure time allowed workers on the job. One of them told Mr. Morrill that such luxuries as a five-minute break for a smoke or a soft drink is unheard of in Holland. Another said: "So many vending machines in the factories! And so much used. I got so I hardly thought about buying two packs of cigarettes a day. At home, if I did that, I would be spending money my family needs."

And still there are those who advocate government ownership of everything — not to mention Communism and all it implies!

Manufactured Their Own Needs

Home-made candles for Christmas have faded from the American scene but they came back with a "flash" this year at the University of Idaho, it was released today by Professor Glen Lockery, director of the Vandaleer choral group.

For many years the Vandaleers have held a candelight service, with each of about 60 singers carrying a lighted candle. There has never been an accident with these candles, but the possibility was there and it was decided to use flashlight candles this year.

Commercial firms throughout the nation were contacted, but none had candles—particularly long, tapered ones—as desired by the Vandaleers. Buildings and grounds craftsmen at the university were asked to design and produce the candles.

They came up with some 20-inch candles made out of northern Idaho white pine, painted and hollowed for batteries and wires. But time was running short, and considerable manpower was needed for their completion, so the singers themselves took over.

Taking "pen light" bulbs, they painted them blue and orange. Then they shaped flame effects over them with foam plastic. They weren't candles like grandma used to make, but they were very good imitations and were completed the night before the concert, December 16.

Step-Ramp Loading Chutes Are Safest

Many Livestock Yards Are Remodeling Ramps

Livestock markets across the nation are continuing in their program of modernization and the installation of step-ramp chutes to replace old wooden chutes that cause great damage to animals.

Cattle prefer steps to the old-style cleats. Many animals are injured and much meat lost from bruising due to the constant prodding necessary to get the animals up and down the old ramps, cattlemen have reported.

The Chicago stock yards recently opened 12 of the modern step-ramp chutes. Of concrete and steel construction, the new chutes are designed to ease the task of unloading stock, and insure safe and efficient operations. Galvanized steel fencing and gates add to the safety features of the dock area. Waffle-grid concrete floorings provide safe footing for animals during the penning process.

The first truck to unload over the ramps brought 24 head of Hereford and Angus steers shipped by Carroll Snola of Onslow, Ia.

Cracked Corn Found Best Feed for Suckling Lambs

Tests made at the University of Kentucky experiment station indicate cracked yellow shelled corn is the cheapest and best ration for the creep-feeding of suckling lambs.

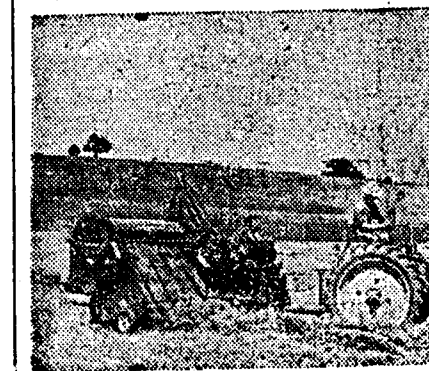

Experiments carried on over a period of nine years compared cracked yellow corn with mixtures of feeds. These included cracked corn, crushed oats and pea-sized linseed oilmeal; cracked corn and commercial milk substitute, and a third ration composed of "sweet feed" made of corn, oats, bran, linseed oilmeal, molasses and salt.

The experiment was conducted under the most controlled conditions possible. Kentucky educators reported.

The conclusion of the experiments: "None of the three more costly mixtures showed any consistent or significant superiority to corn alone in rate of gain, efficiency of gain or market finish of the lambs."

The experiments were not designed to answer the question of whether creep-feeding pays, but rather to determine what rations are best for creep-feeding under Kentucky conditions.

Baler

This automatic baler is a good example of how machinery is saving manhours on the farm. The baler can package a ton of hay in less than half the time needed by hand methods. With only the tractor driver in the field, this machine automatically picks up hay, slices it, presses it into compact packages and then ties the bale with two strands of twine. Further information is available at local machinery dealers or in the local hardware stores.

Rice Is Most Important Food in the World Today

Although most Americans believe the statement exaggerated, rice is the most important food crop in the world today. It is the basic food of more than half of the world's population. In recent years the cultivation of rice has increased in this country, but in Asia it is the important crop because it is virtually the only food millions of people have—their means of sustaining life.

Squirrel Provides Big Part Of Nation's Yearly Game Bag

Although it is generally recognized as a prolific game species of extensive range, comparatively few people realize the truly important part the squirrel plays in the nation's game bag.

Several years ago the Remington Arms Company, Inc., conducted a survey of national wildlife resources and sportsmen's hunting preferences. The survey revealed that the squirrel ranked second only to the rabbit as the most sought-after game species in the country.

A recent analysis of "Hunters' Scorecards" returned to the office of the Mississippi Game and Fish commission placed the squirrel in an outstanding position in the hunting activities of the sportsmen of the Magnolia state. The analysis brings to light the fact that 79 per cent or 150,000 of the licensed hunters in Mississippi sought squirrel during the 1950-51 hunting season. The cotton-tail rabbit and the Bob White quail practically tied for second high rank, with the rabbit nosing out the quail by the slight margin of 47.15% to 47.12%. Next in line was the lowly possum with the somewhat surprising score of 23.06%, topping the dove's rating of 21.58%.

A breakdown of the analysis in hunting activity percentage and estimated total statewide kill follows: deer 6%, 1,370; wild turkeys 1.35%, 249; quail 47.12%, 2,119,532; squirrel 79.83%, 2,418,574; rabbit 47.15%, 900,360; coon 16.2%, 208,712; possum 23.06%, 386,145; dove 21.58%, 522,876; ducks 8.97%, 182,217.

Patients On Salt-Free Diet Given Hope for Meal Variety

Patients on a monotonous salt-free diet were given the hope of adding more variety to their meals in two reports on further experiments in the recently developed exchange resin therapy. Exchange resin compounds have been administered to patients having congestive heart failure, cirrhosis of the liver, or kidney ailments which cause excessive fluids to collect in the system. The resin compounds eliminate the sodium which locks in the fluids. Because of this action, it becomes possible for the patient to take more sodium in his diet than would otherwise be possible.

In a report on resin therapy presented by Drs. Carl Voyles, Jr., and Edward S. Orgain, Duke University School of Medicine, Durham, N. C., it was concluded that, "Resin therapy is a useful adjunct to conventional therapy in the management of chronic congestive heart failure, and it can be used safely in conjunction with strict sodium restriction in patients who are followed closely. Resin therapy also makes possible the addition of sodium chloride in amounts sufficient to render the diet more palatable," the report added, and it facilitates the action of mercurial compounds that help in fluid elimination.

The second report on exchange resin therapy reviewed studies by Drs. B. L. Martz, K. G. Kohlstaedt, and O. M. Helmer, at the Lilly Clinic for Cardiovascular Research, Indianapolis.

Sleep Anywhere

One of the most energetic causes of sleep is fatigue. It is said that prisoners upon the rack have slept through sheer exhaustion while undergoing the horrors of torture. In a like manner, if one is tired enough he will be able to sleep on the floor or on any manner of uncomfortable bed, although he will not thoroughly relax. To the person who has known the luxury of sleeping on a good quality bed, though, sleeping on a worn out, sagging mattress and spring is almost as much torture as going to sleep on a prisoner's rack.

War and Peace

Development of the flame thrower, which first became a military weapon during World War II and has been used extensively by the Army in Korea, led to the peaceful perfection of a highly proficient weed killer. Tests at the Army Chemical Corps Center, at Edgewood, Maryland, proved that a thin jet of burning, jellied gasoline would kill weeds between rows of plants without harming the plants themselves.

Deciding Issue

If it had not been for the magic of the name "George Washington" the fabulous Phineas T. Barnum may have lived out his life in obscurity as a poor country storekeeper. One day, the man who was to become known as "the greatest showman on earth" heard an interesting story of a remarkable Negro woman, Joice Heth, who claimed to be 161 years old. When he went to see her, purely out of curiosity, she asserted that she had been the nurse of George Washington. Barnum became so excited upon discovery of documentary evidence to back up her claims, he decided to sell his store and exhibit the strange old woman in the east. The tour proved so successful, and stirred up so much interest, he was inspired to engage in other similar ventures. Finally, he formed the partnership with James A. Bailey, out of which grew the most famous circus in America.

Low Cost Essential For Farm Building

Concrete Blocks Filling Farm Construction Needs

Concrete blocks are being used more and more in the construction of farm buildings, according to American Builder magazine.

They have been found very serviceable for dairy barn construction, low in first cost and in upkeep.

Attributes that contribute to concrete's value as a building material on the farm are its durability, cleanliness, and weather and insect resistant qualities. Concrete foundations, masonry unit walls, concrete floors, and precast floor joists can be utilized to construct enduring farm structures and to repair old ones.

Dairy barn of concrete blocks and with a roof of fire-resistant asphalt shingles provides an efficient structure low in cost and in upkeep.

If a dairy barn is well-constructed and insulated, body heat of the cows would keep interior temperatures at 45 to 50 degrees in almost any kind of weather.

Lightweight aggregates in monolithic concrete or in masonry units, vermiculite floors and underlayers, hollow core walls, and masonry units with granular loose-filled cores all have qualities that can contribute to the efficiency of rural buildings.

Less Than Half of U.S. Farm Homes Have Baths

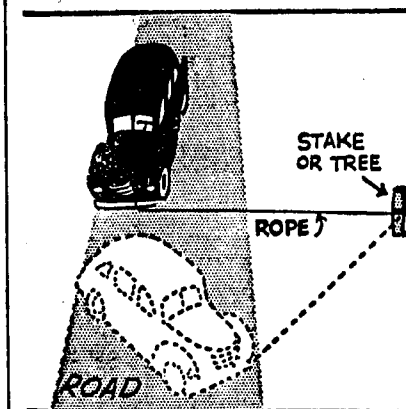

Less than one-half of the nation's more than 4,000,000 farm homes have baths and only half of the rooms are heated, a study of rural housing accommodations revealed.

Excessive standardization to relieve early postwar housing shortages resulted in the building of mediocre farm homes of rectangular, box-like design with too small rooms, too little privacy and absence of adequate plumbing and heating facilities.

However, under impetus of a U.S. department of agriculture program, farm house plans have recently been developed that are expected to fulfill the fundamental requirements. The new plans call for space, equipment and storage facilities in proportion to the number of persons in the family.

Coupled with the benefits of a 10-year electrification program that has brought electricity to 75 per cent of the farm homes, this new home designing will open an untapped market for manufacturers of automatic equipment and home appliances.

Pull Out the Car

Although most farmers these days live on a hard surfaced road, there may be an occasion when it would be necessary to pull a car or tractor out of a ditch. The above illustration shows how to get out of that ditch with the least amount of effort. A tow rope hitched to the front end of the car and tied to a stake or tree at right angle at the side of the road, will give you the leverage to get out of almost any place without help.

Crested-Wheatgrass Seed Production Reported Up

The 1950 production of crested-wheatgrass seed is estimated at 5,330,000 pounds of clean seed. This is 5 per cent larger than the 1949 production of 5,090,000 pounds. Larger crops than last year were reported for North Dakota, South Dakota, and Montana, more than offset the smaller crops indicated for Nebraska, Colorado and Washington. The Colorado crop was near failure in 1950.

Giant Industry Arising From New Patent Fibers

Ever since Adam and Eve left the Garden of Eden with nothing to wear, mankind has been clothed consciously. The Bible story tells us that Eve fashioned her first garment from a fig leaf — maybe it was leaves.

We wear clothes from the time we are born. It would take books to tell the progress of the clothes story down through the ages. Long ago it was found that the clothing of the cotton seed was better than fig leaves for human garb. For centuries we have used the skins and wool of animals, as well as the covering of the cotton seed, for our own clothing. Still we were not satisfied. We took the cocoon of the little silkworm for its silk.

But we can thank that same little worm for our modern system of producing fibers for textiles that do not necessarily deprive any other living creature of its coat. We learned that the silkworm extruded a fluid from a spinnerette near its mouth. The fluid became a stout silken thread on reaching the air.

This observation led to a man-made fluid extruded through a mechanical spinnerette which produced our first rayon thread. The device was called a "mechanical silkworm." This invention came from France about 70 years ago. During the past 15 or 20 years American inventors, encouraged to find new processes and products through the protection and rewards provided by our patent system, have devised new machines and new fluids to make many new kinds of fabrics for human clothing.

Coal, oil, various gases, glass, brine, and many organic substances such as wood, cornstalks, peanuts, and feathers provide the substances from which we now have fabrics that resemble wool, silk, and cotton.

'Won't Hurt' Boast Not Idle Promise to Army Blood Donor

It takes courage to give blood that will save a soldier's life, but your fears of pain or ill effects now are unwarranted.

Army medical authorities recognize that thousands of Americans who are willing to die for their country if necessary have a horror of seeing blood flow from their veins. Just as many shudder when they think of a needle just under the surface of their skin.

But ask anyone who has ever donated a pint of blood to help replenish the nation's seriously depleted stocks and chances are he will tell you there's nothing to it—no pain, no ill effects. But you will have a deep satisfaction that you have helped a fellow American in a critical hour.

If you have ever pricked your finger with a pin, you already have experienced all the pain you will suffer when you give a pint of blood. It's that simple.

If you are not physically able to donate blood, you will not be permitted to do so. You are given a thorough examination before the blood is taken from your arm.

A single drop of blood from your fingertip is all that is required for the tests that will determine whether you are able to donate blood. If the results of these tests are satisfactory, the remainder of the procedure is entirely painless.

You lie down on a bed and an attendant puts a little procaine on your arm. As the blood is drawn, you feel nothing. In five minutes, the bottle is full and ready for processing and shipment to the battle zones of Korea.

Within a few minutes you feel like your old self again — probably better, for you realize what a precious contribution you have made.

That Parallel

The 38th parallel in Greece ferries the legendary River Styx and passes close to Corinth and Athens. Dodging Aegean Islands, it borders the Maeander River south of Smyrna, on the Turkish shore. It crosses the Turkish headwaters of the Tigris and Euphrates en route to Tabriz, metropolis of Iranian Azerbaijan. Across the Caspian Sea, it finds itself on both sides of the critical frontier between Russia on the north and Iran and Afghanistan on the south. At the Russia-China border, the parallel climbs to its greatest height on the shoulders of Stalina and Kungur, both 25,000-foot peaks. Touring China, it runs near the ancient Silk Route past Yarkand and the Takla Makan (desert). China's Great Wall crosses the 38th frequently near the cities of Yulin, Ningsia, and Wuwei.

Abe Lincoln

When Abe Lincoln was 21 he crossed the Wabash and encountered the first level land he had ever seen—the fertile prairies of Illinois. At two sites there he helped his father build log cabins. Then he struck out for himself, settling in the village of New Salem, 20 miles northwest of Springfield, Illinois. Lincoln received his first popular notice in New Salem. He was elected captain of a volunteer company in the Black Hawk War, and later was sent to the state legislature. Afterward he moved to Springfield, the state capital, and New Salem literally disappeared. Many of its log buildings were dismantled and carried to Petersburg, two miles north.

Basketball Boys Entertained
 The mothers of members of the Kendrick Tigers basketball team and the mothers of the Yell Leaders combined forces to entertain the members of the team, the Yell leaders, coaches and team managers at a delightful 6:30 fried chicken dinner in the Kendrick school cafeteria on Tuesday evening of this week — with places set for 18.

The big table was centered with a basketball, to which was attached red and white streamers, running out to the individual place setting, each of which was indicated by a tiny basketball player, wearing his number, or other designation, by which dinner places were found. A tiny whistle was also a part of each player's designation.
 Following dinner all adjourned to the local theater, where they were guests of the mothers at the show.

Idaho Briefs
 Orofino—The Bank of Orofino feels gratitude at the trust put in their hands by one depositor, but hastens to add that bank employees aren't crystal ball gazers. The bank received, through the mail, an envelope of money. There was no name enclosed.

Grangeville—The power of advertising was seen when a shoe store ad was placed under "For Sale" instead of under "Miscellaneous". Instead of thinking the store had shoes for sale, readers thought the store was for sale, and the owner received several offers. "No sale, but we've got some fine shoes for sale," said the owner.

Chinese Pheasants Planted
 Hale Ebling, local game conservation officer, was in the Gazette office Tuesday morning, reporting he had just planted 370 year-old Chinese pheasants in this area, the major part going to Big Bear ridge, and the rest toward Troy and Deary.

This is the first release in Latah county this year, and getting them out this early will allow them the nesting season.

Cubs Fly Kites
 Armitage Field was a happy scene of boys and kites, Sunday afternoon. The sky was filled with the "soaring beauties" as the Cubs and their parents gathered to try out the kites the Cubs had made.

Some model planes with motors were also "zooming" around, too, which added to the excitement. We understand there were several "major crack-ups" — but no casualties!

Attends Journalism Conference
 Nearly 200 high school students and faculty advisers gathered at the University of Idaho Friday and Saturday, March 26 and 27, for the eighth High School journalism conference.

Panel discussions on mimeographed and printed newspapers were held Saturday morning. Irvan McGeachy, English teacher in the local High school, acted as one of the moderators.

Flu And Colds Rampant
 To hazard a guess as to how many cases of flu, colds, etc., there are in Kendrick and about the surrounding territory, would be an impossibility — but there are a great many of them.

Some sufferers have been quite ill, others just a light touch — but all agree that it takes a long time to get to feeling like one's old self after a bout with the flu.

Lions Club At Temple
