Southwick School Items
The Southwick School could use some potatoes at the school — both for use now and for winter — if you have any surplus to donate, please notify Helen Cowger. Also, if you have surplus vegetables ready for freezing or canning, please advise Mrs. Cowger. They would be most welcome.

Little School Interest
Perhaps it's just that this is a very busy season — or perhaps it's just plain "lack of interest" — but in either case only one candidate has been filed for the coming school election of trustees on Tuesday, Sept. 7.

In the Juliaetta-American ridge district the name of Roy Heimgartner was filed.

In the Kendrick division no name was filed. However, in this latter case A. O. Kanikkeberg, whose term expires has expressed willingness to accept as a "write in" candidate.

It seems to us that as far-flung as this district is, more interest should certainly be taken in its affairs. This was brought home very vividly in the recent bond election, where only a little over 50 percent of the people eligible expressed their preference.

TV Show Very Well Attended
The TV show and demonstration of 1955 models, given a couple of weeks ago by Geo. F. Brocke & Sons, was very well attended. It began about dusk, and lasted until almost midnight.

Mr. Brocke expressed himself as very well pleased with the attendance and sales results.

Pea Loss Will Run Heavy

Pea raisers in this area estimate their loss on this farm item at from 30 to as high as 60 percent — the percentage apparently depending on the exact degree of ripeness of the peas when cut, or whether the vines are still attached to the ground.

The sudden hot weather caused the pods to "pop open almost like pop corn" and as a result when the vines are combined, the ground is literally covered with peas — and many, many tons still remain to be combined, despite the best efforts of their owners. The quality of those brought in, however, is said to be very good.

SOFTBALL GAMES ON LOCAL DIAMOND DRAW GOOD CROWD

It was softball, softball and more softball on the local diamond Sunday, when eight teams met in four games — two in the brilliant afternoon sunlight, and two more under the newly installed lights — and which proved to be ample and very well arranged.

At 2:30 p. m. the action began with Grangeville squaring off against the Tierney Grocers of Lewiston, in possibly the best game of the day, for two extra innings were needed to pick the winner — Grangeville, by a score of 10-9.

At 4:30 p. m. Orofino took on the Lewiston Firemen, and went down to defeat 14-13, Lewiston in the regular seven innings of play. But it was anyone's game up until the final minutes.

Sunday evening at 7:30 Moscow met the Phillips Oilers, and a tight, hard-fought game developed. It was won by the Oilers by a score of 5 to 4, in the regular seven innings.

At 8:45 p. m. the Clarkston J. C.'s and Kendrick met in a free-swinging, high scoring game, it being won by the Clarkston J. C.'s in seven innings by a score of 24 to 17. This battle was one of those where "everybody hits."

Attendance was rather slim at the afternoon games, as farmers were busy in the harvest fields, and local businessmen were spending considerable time at their places of business. However, the evening sessions drew very good crowds.

On Tuesday night the Grangeville team tangled with the Lewiston Firemen at 7:30. This session was won by Grangeville by a score of 20 to 5.

And at 8:15 the Clarkston J. C.'s met the Phillips Oilers with Phillips coming out the winners 16-5. The winners of the Tuesday evening games play here Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock for the championship, Grangeville vs. Phillips Oilers.

"Our membership has grown a third, we have several new units, and awards at the state convention favored us more frequently than any other district in Idaho. This conference is primarily for the instruction of new presidents, vice presidents, and committee chairmen. A workshop type of study of duties and techniques will be given to present us all with new tools and new vision. It will help equip us to look ahead to even greater things for the welfare of children.

Mrs. Gordon Buttenhoff, council president, will be assisted by Mrs. H. E. Kale, president of the Grangeville P.-T. A., and Mrs. Art Groom, president of St. Peter and Paul P.-T. A. N. P. Kaizes Big Snowplow

The Northern Pacific Railway Co. sent a work train down to Kendrick last week-end to salvage the huge snowplow which went off the tracks a mile and a half above town early this month — and which was once abandoned — and this time their efforts were successful.

The "big hook" hauled the wrecked plow and equipment up onto the tracks last Saturday — and loaded it onto a big flatcar for shipment to Spokane, it going up that same evening.

The machine, a rotary, is scheduled to be rebuilt and converted into an oil burner.

Old Motor Comes To Light

Reading in our annual "Twenty Years Ago and Historical Edition" about the first light plant in Kendrick, John Darby comes up with the news that he is now the owner of that old engine, he having purchased it to use in his sawmill back in 1927.

He adds that the engine has not run since 1949 — but could easily be put in operating shape again.

Mr. Darby says that he does not know who owned the engine between the time it was taken out of the old Kendrick plant until he purchased it in 1927 — but that it was in use "somewhere up the Clearwater river."

MOST UNUSUAL WEATHER IS CREATING HARVEST PROBLEM

The weather this past week might well be entitled "Most Unusual of Unusual Weather" for that has certainly been the case.

Wednesday and Thursday of last week were cool and showery, stopping all harvesting operations — and then on Friday it began to warm up a bit, hitting into the low 80's, despite cloudy skies. No rain fell Friday or Saturday — and Sunday, under a cloudless sky, and with the temperature climbing to 92 degrees, long-delayed harvesting operations were again taken up — with the steady hum of combine and tractor motors heard on the ridges, and the whine of loaded grain trucks the usual sound here in town.

Monday morning showers again visited the area, but shortly after noon, with a temperature reading of 92 degrees, and a slight breeze, harvesting operations again began — and lines of grain trucks could be seen at the warehouses, waiting their turn to dump and scamper back to the field for another load.

Monday evening, local residents saw a sight most unusual for this section, though quite frequent in the mountains — and that was a brilliant display of sheet lightning — with stars bright and clear overhead. It was a beautiful and awesome sight to see the eastern skyline light up in brilliant flashes, and the southern skyline lined with bright, clear stars.

Later, however, rain began falling, and effectively stopped harvesting operations.

Despite the fact that it was possible to resume combining, many unusual field difficulties were encountered — not the least of which was the inability to load trucks in many fields, as the rains had softened the ground, so greatly trucks would mire down — so the combines went to the trucks!

Another difficulty was the "china lettuce," which being green and very tough, formed a slime on sickles, drapers, platforms, etc., and which had, in some cases, to be dug off with putty knives and wire brushes.

Emergency March Of Dimes

New York — Iron lungs and other respiratory equipment have meant the difference between life and death for 1,000 polio patients so far this year, and thousands more will need these breathing machines to keep them alive before the end of the year.

This was disclosed today by Dr. Kenneth S. Landauer, assistant medical director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, in explaining "one of the underlying reasons" behind the current Emergency March of Dimes campaign which will run after Aug. 31, the original date set for its closing.

Dr. Landauer, revealing that the percentage of severely paralyzed patients had been increasing during the last few years, gave these two reasons for the rise:

1. Many critically paralyzed patients, who in former years would have died, now survive because of improved care and treatment.

2. Polio is attacking more adults and a higher percentage of these patients suffer severe paralysis.

"While many of the new polio patients requiring iron lungs and other breathing aids this year will need them only for a few days or weeks, many will become long-term prisoners of their iron lungs. They will join the almost 2,000 respirator patients from previous years whose horizons are still limited to their six-by-three-foot machines. These polio patients must not waste away their lives dependent on mechanical breathing to keep them alive."

"Fortunately, improved techniques of treatment and rehabilitation have been developed — largely through the March of Dimes grants — that now offer real hope of freeing the majority of such respirator patients. But it is an expensive process and more funds are urgently needed to do the job."

"Soaring treatment costs for such long-term polio patients have done much to exhaust March of Dimes funds this year. This is a major reason why an Emergency March of Dimes must now be held," Dr. Landauer emphasized.

Locally, Mrs. Wm. Johnson is the March of Dimes chairman. Gifts may be sent to her, to the county March of Dimes, or deposited in the March of Dimes respirators which will soon make their appearance.

Grassman Of Year Named
 Filer, Ida. — Milton Branch of Midvale is Idaho's Grassman of 1954. The Washington county rancher, who has grown a green cover on thousands of acres in a long and rewarding campaign to increase forage and conserve the land, was announced this week as the state champion. He was chosen from a field of 16 county entries.

Second place went to John S. Fuller, Idaho Falls, Marion and John Kaylor, brothers living at Peck, Nez Perce county, tied for third with William Maxwell, Salmon. Duplicate third place prizes were awarded.

Branch is Idaho's fourth annual grass champion. He will compete with representatives of Oregon and Washington for the title of "Northwest Grassman" that will be conferred at the Portland International Livestock Show, Oct. 19-23. Idaho's first grassman, Harold Smith of Darlington, won the regional title in 1951. Other winners of the Idaho state honor have been Dwight Disney, Idaho Falls, and J. W. Vanderford, Aberdeen.

The judges commented particularly on the fact that Maxwell, the Lemhi county rancher who tied for third, made his outstanding showing on a ranch that no one else was able to make a living on, until he bought it.

For winning first place Milton Branch will receive $250.00; John Fuller wins $150, and each of the third place winners will get $100.00. The prizes are provided by the sponsors — Idaho Wool Growers Assn., Idaho Cattlemen's Assn., Idaho Dairy-men's Assn., Idaho Power Co. and the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce.

In addition to the four winners named above, honorable mention certificates have been awarded the following county winners, who were also candidates for state honors, including Galloway Brother, Kendrick, Latah county.

Still Enjoys Gazette

In a letter accompanying a subscription remittance, Rev. Gustav Meyer, well-known former resident of Cameron, says in part:

"Since we live in Sioux City, the Gazette, as a rule, arrives on Saturdays. That is traveling fast indeed.

"Iowa has again been treated well by the weather man here in the northwestern part of the state, where the southeastern portion was hit by a drought, which has cut the yield in half.

"Here in this territory in every direction, the crops are fine, even though we are short of rainfall — not bumper, as they are called out there in Idaho and Washington — but oats yielded about 40 to 50 bushels per acre, and corn should run 50 to 75 bushels.

"Sioux City was again visited by a flood, but managed to keep the dikes from overflowing, so no real damage was done.

"This city observed its centennial this year, and great indeed was the display. It attracted many thousands of people. Sioux City has indeed become a city, now having about 100,000 inhabitants, and new capital has come in and given the city a new look.

"We have here, not only an air base, but a military air port, and constantly, day and night, the transports zoom overhead, and the jet planes just thunder through the sky.

"It is just a year ago that we were personally with our relatives and old friends in Idaho, making the trip by auto, which meant a great deal to us. This year we do not intend to travel west — but east, north and south within a radius of 300 to 400 miles."

American Ridge 4-Hers Entertain

It was a big night Friday for the American Ridge 4-H Clubbers, when the Willing Workers — boys and girls — joined forces to entertain their parents and friends in the Kendrick High school gymnasium.

Over 100 were present to see the program presented by the children, which included a Style Revue, with the girls modeling the garments they had made. Several skits, with out-of-town guests, highlighted the evening, and Marvin Jaegels showed a film. The Hi-Hope Club served refreshments and an hour of fellowship followed.

A full account, with names of participants will appear in next week's issue.

Pre-Nuptial Shower

A bridal shower complimenting Kathleen Crawford was held at the home of Marlene Silflow Tuesday evening, with Miss Silflow, DeAnn Mielke and Mrs. Oscar Slind as co-hostesses.

Preceding the opening of gifts the guests enjoyed a round of fun games, at which Mrs. F. M. Long, Kathleen Crawford and Mrs. W. L. McCreary won prizes.

The bride-to-be received many very lovely gifts and well wishes. Delightful refreshments were served by the hostesses at the close of the evening.

Has Leg Amputated

Bob Cain entered the Gritman Memorial hospital at Moscow last week, where he had his right leg amputated above the knee. Mr. Cain is diabetic and this action was found necessary after he had suffered for two years with dry gangrene in the right foot and leg.

His wife and daughters have been at his bedside constantly since the operation, and now report his condition less acute, although he suffers severe pain and will no doubt be hospitalized for several weeks to come.

To Advertise County Fair

As most everyone in Latah county is well aware, the annual Latah County Fair will be held at Moscow on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 16, 17 and 18 — and a bigger and better Fair than ever before has been promised.

To advertise this event on Saturday evening, September 11, on Kendrick's Main street, a short music program will be presented by the "County Fair and Fall Festival" band. There will also be on display the "gift" car, another new feature of this year's Fair.

Still other features of the Fair will be "Community" programs, a bigger and better mid-way, and expanded exhibits of all kinds.

Yeah, It's Really Wet

All of us realize it's mighty wet weather for this time of the year — but when H. F. Thompson picked a bouquet of water lilies from the pond near his home Monday and brought them to the Gazette office, it just drove home the fact it a little harder — it's mighty wet!

Night Shift Closes Down

The night shift at the Lewis Sawmill, Kendrick, was concluded at the close of operations Friday night, or perhaps we should say Saturday morning.

Regular day shift operations were not affected.

The Hi-Hope Club will meet at the home of Jo Benscoter, at 2:00, to work on the Fair booth.

All Must Work Together

Moscow — "It takes a lot of people working together to make a successful county fair," says Marvin Jaegels, assistant Latah County agricultural agent, "and several folks from the Kendrick community are playing a vital role in the Latah County Fair this coming September 16, 17 and 18, on the old county fairgrounds.

Gerald Ingle, president of the fair board, has been meeting with other board members to make plans for the coming event. Eugene Taylor, Juliaetta, as a member of the county commissioners, has also been implicated in planning for the county fair and many Kendrick leaders are working as superintendents of the various 4-H clothing superintendents. Cecil Roberts will be supervising electricity and tractor maintenance exhibits; Mrs. Lawrence Heimgartner and Mrs. James Archibald will be handling the 4-H home economics judging contest.

Mrs. Harold Roberts is one of the 4-H clothing superintendents. Cecil Roberts will be supervising electricity and tractor maintenance exhibits; Mrs. Lawrence Heimgartner and Mrs. James Archibald will be handling the 4-H home economics judging contest. Mrs. Gerald Ingle is in charge of the style review, which will be held on Thursday evening, September 16. Mrs. James Holt will help supervise forestry, weeds, photography, room improvement, home beautification, junior leadership, soil conservation and health. Mrs. Alvah Craig is one of the superintendents of 4-H crops, gardens, entomology, safety, wildlife and 4-H Club scrapbooks.

Boys and girls from local 4-H Clubs will also be presenting the fruits of their efforts at the fair. Members of the Cedar Ridge 4-H Club, led by Mrs. James Holt, and Mrs. Alvah Craig will be exhibiting forestry and miscellaneous projects. Big Bear Ridge 4-H clubbers led by Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Ingle, will be showing sheep and dairy, as well as miscellaneous and home economics projects. The Willing Workers, led by Mrs. Harold Roberts and Mrs. Lawrence Heimgartner, will be displaying handicraft, clothing and food projects, while the American Ridge Rangers, under the leadership of Cecil Roberts, will be showing dairy, sheep and beef in the show ring on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 16 and 17. From nearby Deary there will be dairy, forestry and electricity projects from members of the Mount Deary 4-H club, led by Wilbur Elliott and Kirk Yenny.

Why Not Freeze Some Melons

Local melons are beginning to make their appearance on the market, and with expected warmer weather, there should be a good supply.

Melons can be frozen very successfully and easily, says your Home Demonstration agent. It will also be a good time to get good supplies in the freezer or locker for some tasty dishes this winter. They will offer a variety for dessert, in salads, and in fruit cocktails.

To freeze, select ripe, firm-fleshed, well-colored melons. Cut the melon and remove the seeds. The flesh of the melon can then be cut into slices, cubes or balls. Pack the fruit into freezing containers and cover with a cold syrup (2 cups of sugar to 4 cups of water). Leave head space, seal and freeze.

A small piece of crumpled parchment paper placed on top of the fruit will help to hold it in the syrup. The syrup should cover all the fruit to keep the pieces from changing color and flavor. Melons are a low calorie fruit and eaten fresh are a good source of vitamin C.

Cantaloupe pickles as well as watermelon pickles are another way to preserve them to pep up winter meals.

Directions for freezing and recipes for pickling are available in the County Extension office.

Orchards Man Shoots Self

A Lewiston Orchard man died of a self-inflicted gunshot wound Tuesday about an hour after the death of his father in a Troy, Idaho, nursing home, Kertmit Malcolm said Tuesday evening.

Thomas Lee Osborn, 46, of 3531 18th St., Lewiston Orchards, shot himself in the chest with a .30-30 rifle at about 2:00 p. m., Malcolm said. The coroner said he did not know whether the suicide had been prompted by word of the death of the father, Zack Preston Osborn, at Troy.

He was born April 30, 1908, at Stearns, Minn., and came to Deary with his family the following year. He lived at Deary until 1952, when he moved to Lewiston. Although he was an auto mechanic by trade, he was employed by Potlatch Forests, Inc., at the time of his death. Survivors include Mrs. Bertha Anderson and Mrs. Mamie Weber of Kendrick. — Lewiston Tribune.

Among Injured And Sick

Saturday, while working on a combine, Wally Newman dislocated his left shoulder. He was brought to Kendrick and treated by Dr. D. A. Christensen.

On Thursday, Aug. 26, Grant Bateman underwent major surgery for the removal of obstructions at the inlet and outlet of his stomach. His stomach was removed, and repairs made at the lower end of the esophagus, the operation requiring seven and a half hours. He is getting along fine.

Installing Gasoline Pump

Work has been going forward this week at the school bus garage installing the new gasoline pump and burying the tank in preparation for the coming school term. The busses will be completely serviced at the school bus garage this year by Aaron Wells, Southwick, who will also be the mechanic, as well as driving one of the vehicles.

The pump is of the latest electric-driven types. J. M. Hedler & Son were awarded the gasoline contract following the opening of bids some weeks ago.

HOW MUCH IS A MIRACLE WORTH?

We've almost forgotten the fearsome diseases of our childhood — diphtheria, meningitis, scarlet fever pneumonia and even smallpox. Today's "miracle drugs" have conquered these killers, and greatly reduced the time and cost of hospitalization and convalescence.

Within our lifetime, more than 20 years have been added to Man's life span. Children's diseases are a rarity. The number of older people has more than doubled. All this has been gained for you by Pharmacy's newer medicines, products of research and servants of your doctor and mankind.

The cost of this wonderful medication is low. Facts show that drug costs have not increased appreciably in the past 15 years, despite the great increase in "cost of living" and luxuries. Truly, medication is today's "biggest bargain" in the home.

Is Fishing Restful?

"Us McCreary's" are convinced since returning home from our fishing trip that "a change is as good as a rest" and that we had a very fine time despite the fact that we were "rained out — but good" — in fact, just as much fun as a regular picnic, complete with ants, rainsqualls and the usual arguments over who forgot this and that!

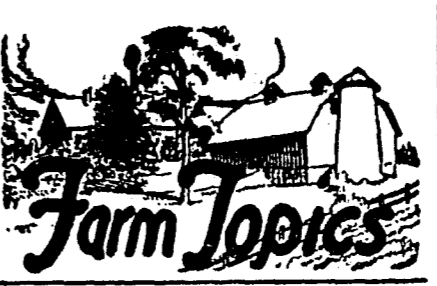

We enjoyed our vacation very much and wish to thank our advertisers, etc., who made it possible for us to put out our Historical Edition — and then take off. — Sincerely, Bill and Floy McCreary.

Strip Cropping Helps Hold Soil in Place
It's Only First Step In Conservation Plan

Strip cropping, an important part of soil conservation, is a good deal like putting a splint on a broken bone. The splint holds the bone in place, but it doesn't knit it. Strip cropping helps hold the soil in place, but it won't rebuild run-down fertility.

The above picture is a beautiful example of strip cropping, but it was not accomplished by mere contour plowing. It was accomplished by sound soil conservation, based on use and treatment of land with all proven, appropriate measures that are needed to keep it permanently productive while in use.

Strip cropping on a field just north of Nellville, Wis., is a beautiful example of one step toward soil conservation.

Sound conservation means terracing land that needs terracing; contouring, strip cropping, and stubble-mulching the land as needed; along with use of supporting measures of crop rotation, cover and green manure crops and the use of the right commercial fertilizers.

No farmer should undertake a conservation program without expert advice. He should first contact any one of his soil conservation district officers and apply for assistance from his district. If he doesn't know who his officers are, he can locate the address of his district office in the phone book, or he can call his county agent. Districts help only farmers who request their assistance.

College Displays Wealth Of Prehistoric Illinoisan

Wealth buried by a prehistoric Illinois resident who may have lived several centuries before Christ now is at the University of Illinois. It consists of 55 pieces of flint, ranging from raw blocks to expertly-fashioned big spear points as finely-formed as any ever found.

The cache was uncovered last year at the Seimer farm near Batchtown in Calhoun county between the Mississippi and Illinois rivers northwest of St. Louis. In this area are many remains of the prehistoric Hopewell or "mound-builder" Indians, whose culture recent radiocarbon research has tentatively dated at 200 to 600 B.C.

The flint was obtained for the university's archeological collections from W. L. Wadlow, amateur archeologist of Dow, Ill., by the Illinois Achievement Fund, of the University of Illinois Foundation. Through his cooperation, the collection is being kept for research and teaching use in the state where it was found.

Prof John C. McGregor, University of Illinois archeologist, says that the find undoubtedly represents the wealth of an individual. He explains that the blade spear points, several inches long, are far too finely-made to have used for hunting or war, and were more likely a medium of exchange — the "money" of their day.

He suggests that the cache was the treasure of one of the prehistoric Illinois residents of the highly-civilized Hopewells, who left their important dead buried in mounds from the Great Lakes to the Gulf, and from Ohio to Kansas, and of whom much is still to be learned.

Uses Sought for 'Freak' Liquid Metal Gallium

Anyone who wants to try to find a use for gallium, a metal which the average layman would classify as a "freak" because it is liquid at normal temperature, can buy it at a special "research" price, according to Dr. Ernest L. Bickerdike, associate professor of chemistry at Santa Barbara College of the University of California.

Despite its unusual characteristics, no specific use has been found for gallium, although its presence has been known since discovery by a Frenchman in 1875.

On a recent sabbatical leave at the University of Michigan, Dr. Bickerdike engaged in research on this metal under the direction of the eminent analytical chemist, Prof. H. H. Willard. Although he believed he was on the track of finding a new reagent for use in working with the contradictory metal, his research did not come up with an answer to that question: "What is gallium good for?"

Found in small quantities in some zinc ores and some aluminum ores, the Aluminum Co. of America (Alco) offers it for research purposes at $3.25 a gram, as compared to the normal price of $4.50 a gram. This would make an amount the size of a nickel come at the "bargain" price of $16.

Number of U. S. Farms Lowest Since the 1890s

The number of farms in the United States has continued to decline since the end of World War II with the current total the lowest since before the turn of the century.

The department of agriculture reports there were fewer than 5.4 million farms in the country last year. This figure compares with approximately 5.9 million in 1945, and with the peak number of 6.8 million in 1935.

Thus the number of American farms has declined over 1.4 million, or more than a fifth, in the last decade and a half—a period in which land in farms has continued to increase and in which total agricultural production has likewise shown a spectacular increase in aggregate volume of products raised as well as in total market value.

In 1900 there were some 5.7 million farms in the U. S., approximately 350,000 more than at present. A decade before, in 1890, the number of farms was about 4.6 million.

Sliding Door

Poultry raisers can save many a step by a sliding door in poultry houses which can be operated from the outside. A small rope attached to the door by a screw eye runs to the ceiling or roof boards, along the wall, through the side of the chicken house and terminates in a ring. A hook can be attached to the side of the building and thus hold the door open.

Farm Exports Increase 14 Per Cent, Report

The agriculture department reported recently that farm exports increased 14 per cent over the preceding fiscal year. The total was placed at $3,409,245,000. Cotton exports led the group in 1950-51 with a total of $935,332,000,000, the second highest in 26 years. Wheat and wheat flour ranked second in value at $747,570,000, up 9 per cent over the $683,229,000 the preceding fiscal year.

Anemia in Hogs

Blood studies in hogs, which revealed the cause of a fatal type of jaundice in foals, offer a new clue to the prevention of baby pig losses.

Horses belong to blood groups, much as people do, and the mare and the stallion to which she is mated may be of conflicting blood groups. When this happens, the two kinds of blood do not mix as they should during the fetal development of the foal. Anemia and jaundice develop after the newborn foal consumes its dam's milk, which contains the conflicting properties, and death often follows in a few days unless the foal is transferred to a nurse-mare.

It is highly probable that certain types of anemia seen in baby pigs are caused by blood factors which operate in a manner similar to those found in horses.

Where We Get Pepper

Pepper is native to the East Indies. We import most of ours from India and Indonesia, with lesser amounts from various ports all within a 1000-mile radius of Singapore. Pepper vines are trained to climb poles or other supports like a grape vine. Berries appear within two or three years of planting, although the vine does not attain maturity until the age of seven or eight years. When ready for harvesting, the berries look like clusters of red currants. While spread out for drying they change color and shrivel, finally becoming the black wrinkled berry with which we are familiar.

Cabbage Production

In the United States, New York leads in the production of cabbage for both fresh and sauerkraut markets. Texas and Florida, with winter crops are close competitors in the fresh market. Wisconsin rates second in the output for sauerkraut. Cabbage—whose name is an Anglicized form of the French word "caboche" (head)—is a member of the Brassica family which includes such diversified types as Brussels sprouts, cauliflower, kale, broccoli, turnip and rutabaga. It is generally classified in terms of head shape and comes in three colors—green, white and red (magenta to purplish).

Farallons, Bird Refuge,
Now Closed to Civilians

California's Farallon islands, whose 1950 U.S. census count of an even 30 inhabitants was reported complete before the April 1 official census started, found human traffic there far greater in the 19th century than it has been in the first half of the 20th.

Russian sealers occupied the bleak group, 26 miles west of San Francisco's Golden Gate, from 1812 to 1833, notes the National Geographic society. Drafting Indians and Aleuts as labor, they reduced seals from abundance to scarcity, taking close to 200,000 skins for the China trade. Sir Francis Drake had stocked his vessel with seal meat at the Farallons in 1579.

During the 1849 gold rush in California, food was scarce in San Francisco. Egg-gathering from the nests of gulls and murrens on the Farallons became profitable and well organized, and the traffic continued for many years. Finally, bird lovers stepped in, and the islands are now a bird refuge, closed to civilians from April to August.

The Farallons, known but little even to mainland Californians, consist of three pinpoint groups of rocky islets spreading over seven miles of the Pacific ocean on air and water lanes of trans-Pacific travel. Paradoxically, although they are officially part of the City of San Francisco, the mayor and other city officials may not set foot on them without special permission.

The permission must come from the 12th coast guard district based in San Francisco. It provides the personnel that maintains the powerful beacon 358 feet above sea level atop Southeast Farallon, the only inhabited island of the group.

The lighthouse-keeping families live in neat, white houses at the foot of the high beacon cliff. A radar station and an automatic fog-signal horn complete the island's important navigation aid equipment.

Human Regard for Criminal Modern Idea, Says Educator

The idea that the legal offender shares a common humanity with his nonoffender brother is a relatively novel conception and regards the criminal as a human being and not subhuman, specialhuman, superhuman, infrahuman, robothuman, or extrahuman. Dr. Robert Lindner, clinical psychologist at Haarlem Lodge, Catonsville, Maryland, told the first session of the third annual institute on crime and delinquency which University of California extension held in Los Angeles recently.

Declaring that "offenders, too, are human," Dr. Lindner pointed out that the modern view of the criminal historically succeeds the primitive, theological, philosophical, mechanical, and psychiatric views. "The modern view is based on a total approach to the offender, including the whole person and his history in the world; it is based upon scientific knowledge that is reaching a level of maturity; its sources are biological, anthropological, sociological, and psychological. Among these, the psychoanalytical appears to be the most fruitful and comprehensive."

Study Hydrogen Bonds

While other scientists the nation over concern themselves with hydrogen bombs, Dr. Joseph W. Ellis and Dr. Leonard Glatt of the physics department of the University of California are busy with hydrogen bonds—a study more closely related to everyday life. Hydrogen bonds are links which assist in holding together the long molecular chains found in many of the substances we use in our daily life. These links are formed by the sharing of a proton (hydrogen nucleus) between two units of the same or different molecules. Examples of substances they bind together are liquid water, proteins, and many plastics, including nylon.

From Everywhere

The ingredients of paint products literally come from the world's four corners. Take, for example, a quarter pint can of varnish stain. It's packed in a shipping case made from fibre that may have come from Norway. The paper for the label may have come from the same place. The tin for the can probably came from either Bolivia or Malaya. The contents may consist of linseed oil that came from Argentina, the drier from Asia, tung oil from China, resin from Africa and dyes from England. Skillfully combined by American know-how, the user benefits from world-wide activity which he seldom realizes.

Making Good Soils

"Somehow the notion gets around," says Dr. Charles E. Kellogg of the U. S. department of agriculture, "that originally our farm soils were highly productive; that is, productive when first plowed. Many of them were, like the black lands in our Middle West and in central Eurasia, for example, and in some of the great deltas and alluvial valleys. But most soils are not. It is through liming and fertilization, drainage, irrigation, the introduction of legumes, and a host of other practices, that farmers have made their soils productive," explains Dr. Kellogg.

say Home Economists Jean Ensor and Dorothy Smith

FREEZ 'N SAVE!

"Just like you, we've heard a lot of claims about the value of an Electric Home Freezer: Can you save 30% to 50% on food costs? Does your family eat better with a freezer? Does it bring better living to your family?"

"The truth of the matter is: You can save time and food costs with an electric freezer, you can eat better and live better."

"But the most important fact about a freezer is: You get more out than you put in."

"First of all, you save money by buying foods in quantity when they're at their seasonal lows. By keeping alert for bargains, you can expect to save $120 a year or more!"

"You save time and effort by freezing pastries, lunches and whole dinners in advance, ready to be used when you want them. And you cut your trips to the store."

"And, perhaps best of all, you practically have a supermarket full of the most delicious, most nutritious fresh-frozen foods right at your fingertips — wonderful when unexpected guests drop in."

Freez 'n Save on Food Bills! There are many ways, including buying meats, vegetables and fruits in quantity when they're at seasonal lows.

Freez 'n Save Time! Shop when you want to — and less often. Make lunches and bake in wholesale lots. Cut your canning.

A supermarket in your home! Meal planning's a cinch . . . and you're always prepared for unexpected guests.

Medical School Enrollments Are Setting New Records

Medical schools of the United States in the last year took further steps to protect the future health of the nation by enrolling the largest number of students in their history. This was revealed in the 51st annual report on medical education in the United States and Canada, compiled by the Council on Medical Education and Hospitals of the American Medical Association. The report was prepared by Dr. Donald G. Anderson of Chicago, secretary of the council, and his aides, Dr. Francis R. Manlove and Mrs. Anne Tipner.

A total of 26,191 students were enrolled in 79 approved schools in the United States for the 1950-51 academic year. This compares with the previous high record of 25,103 in the year before, an increase of 1,088 (4.1%). Since 1941, when there was an enrollment of 21,379 students in 77 approved schools, the increase has been 4,812 (22.5%).

The report also disclosed that the current academic year will see a continuation of this increase in medical education because of the enrollment of a record freshman class. It is estimated that about 7,400 new students will enter medical schools, compared with the previous record of 7,182 a year ago.

Also important from a future health protection standpoint was a survey which showed plans were under way in many states for the opening of additional medical schools and for the expansion of existing facilities.

"Significant progress is being made toward resolving the financial problems of the medical schools," the report also said. "Funds available to the schools during 1951-52 will total approximately $109,600,000, which represents an increase of $36,000,000 in the last four years."

Psychologist Believes Kids Aren't Bad—Just Problems

There are no "naughty children" or "problem children," in the opinion of one distinguished child psychologist, there are only "children with problems."

"In modern days, we should not talk any longer about 'the naughty child' or 'a problem child' but should try to find the reasons back of the problems of the child."

Dr. Reymert, who is Director of The Mooseheart Laboratory for Child Research at Mooseheart, Illinois, explores some of these reasons and finds that most of them are related to a lack of understanding of the child and his needs, on the part of the parent.

He observes that "one child may be naughty because he feels that he is being blamed and criticized too much. Another child may misbehave because he feels that his parents are not interested in him and do not pay enough attention to him. A third child may use this means to rebel against excessive restrictions or confinements."

"It is toward removing the cause or causes for the child's naughtiness that we must turn our attention rather than toward even stricter and more severe discipline," Dr. Reymert points out.

Insomnia

Although many people are troubled with various types of insomnia, there is no one who "just can't sleep at all" for any length of time. There is a type of insomnia where one can't get to sleep easily, but after he has fallen asleep, he sleeps soundly. In another type, the person awakens often during sleep and, although he seldom stays awake for long, things he is awake for hours. Still another type is the person who awakens early and can't get back to sleep. The person who "just can't sleep at all," however, is non-existent. It is impossible to live without sleep. Even though one is troubled with insomnia, if he has a good sleep foundation, he will doze off—although he may not realize it. On a good quality sleep foundation, it is impossible to resist sleep for long unless there is something physically wrong with a person.

Stop Sediment

To prevent the sediment that accumulates in the bottom of a tea kettle from hard water, throw away immediately the remaining amount of boiling water which you are not going to use. Do not allow the boiling water to settle in the kettle. Installation of a water softener, to treat the hard water and get rid of the compounds that cause the sediment, would also eliminate the deposit.

Earth and Gravity

The force of gravity is lessened by the centrifugal force produced by the Earth's rotation because of centrifugal force. The effect of gravity at the equator is about one part in 289 less than it would be on a stationary Earth, or than it is at the poles, where there is no such force. The centrifugal force also throws the surface of the Earth at the equator about 13 miles farther than the poles from the center. This causes a further decrease in gravity, so a man who weighs 189 pounds at the pole would only weigh 188 pounds at the equator, as measured by a spring balance. Ordinary scales would not show this, since the weights used would be equally affected.

HELLO, FOLKS:

Well, the soaking rains of the past few days have certainly played-hobb with harvesting operations and the situation is getting very serious. However, it's given you time to bring that car, pickup or truck in for greasing, washing and general servicing operations—and we make a specialty of these operations. You can't afford to drive a dirty, squeaky car, when the cost of a clean, polished well-lubricated one is so low.

little fire feels mighty good. So—now's the time to let us fill your fuel oil tank. Just Phone 1251, Kendrick. We'll do the rest.

Friend: "How did your wife get along with her reducing diet?"
Hubby: "Fine! She disappeared completely last week!"

Slick winter roads will soon be with us. Why not let us put on a set of those wonderful U. S. Royals—finish harvest with them—and drive safely this winter.

Says a famous judge: "The man who gives way when he is in the wrong, is wise. The man who gives way when he knows he is right is merely married!"

LINDEN ITEMS

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Grim and Willis Simms were Moscow visitors on Friday.

Gil Erlwine was a dinner guest in the Ernest Grim home, Wednesday.

Several in our community made hasty last-minute shopping trips to Lewiston on Saturday in preparation for the opening of school, which began on Wednesday, Sept. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Snyder of the Lewiston Orchards were Saturday over-night guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Zimmerman.

Jake Riebold was a visitor in our community on Sunday.

Bill Zimmerman went to Bovill on Monday to begin work for P. F. I. in that locality.

Arlie Allen received word that his aunt, Mrs. James Langdon, had passed away on Wednesday of last week at her home in Los Angeles. Mrs. Langdon was 91 years old in March. She will be remembered by many as one of the pioneers of this region.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Langdon of the Lewiston Orchards and Mrs. Marion Souders and little daughters were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Allen.

Monday over-night guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Holt and children were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hall and children, now of Fair Oak, Calif.

A charivari crowd of goodly proportions gathered on Sunday night at the Ray Cuddy home, to extend best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. John Cuddy. Mr. Cuddy and Olean Skaggs, Kendrick, were married at Orofino.

Elmer Weaver is helping with the harvest work at the Adolph Denner ranch on Pix ridge.

Friends and neighbors made a surprise call at the Arlie Allen home Monday evening, to wish Arlie a happy birthday.

Mrs. Bill Zimmerman is enjoying a visit of a few days with her mother, Mrs. Adolph Swenson, of Lewiston.

As Bill Zimmerman rode through the woods and undergrowth on Tamarack Mountain last Friday looking for a strayed calf, he looked back and saw, following along his trail, a huge, hungry-looking cougar. He was most impressed—after his hat settled down again—by the length of the animal's tail, which was so long (he claims) that he believes he could have wrapped it around his saddle horn and dragged the cat along behind—had he been so inclined. We don't believe Bill tried it, for he told this story himself.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lyons and children and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Weaver and children dropped in with birthday cake and jello Monday evening to surprise Arlie Allen on his birthday anniversary. A most jolly evening was spent.
