Pvt. William B. Mitchell writes, under date of September 21 — Dear Bill: Well, I finally got out of Fort Sam (Sam Houston, Texas), but look where it put me. If they'd moved me another 100 feet east, I'd be swimming. My fort is just across the James River from Norfolk, Va.

Say, I wonder if you'd be so kind as to send my Gazette to this address for a while. I'm pretty sure that this will not be a permanent station, but it is the closest I can come for now. Thanks, Bill Mitchell.

For the benefit of those who might care to write, here is Bill's address: Pvt. William B. Mitchell, US56122935; 2124-1, U. S. Army Hospital, Ft. Monroe, Virginia.

WALLACE MAN KILLED IN BIG BEAR RIDGE ACCIDENT

A 29-year-old Wallace man died beside his wrecked pickup on the Big Bear ridge grade early Saturday morning after laying for about four hours badly injured at the edge of a brush patch on the Ormond Mandersfeld farm.

He was William J. Glencross. Also injured when the pickup plunged about 100 yards down the steep hillside was his passenger, Georgia Doyle, 31, also of Wallace. She is recovering at the St. Joseph's hospital in Lewiston.

Latah County Coroner Russell Short estimated the time of the accident at between 2:00 and 2:15 a. m. He said he was unable to find out what caused the accident, but visible tracks showed the pickup on its own side of the road, and then apparently turning sharply left and over the bank. There it hit a lone small pine tree, apparently splintered slowly past the tree, and then plunged on down the canyon side, turning over once in its descent.

Mr. Glencross died about 6:30 a. m. of a crushed chest and broken right leg. Miss Doyle was taken by ambulance to St. Joseph's hospital for treatment of shock and internal injuries. The attending physician said she was "doing fine" Saturday night.

Before he died Mr. Glencross told helpers he believed it was about 2:00 a. m. that the truck went over the grade.

The wrecked pickup was spotted at about 5:45 a. m. by Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Forest, who live on Big Bear ridge, as they were driving to Kendrick. Mr. Forest noticed tire tracks where the pickup left the road and on looking down the hillside spotted a headlight of the vehicle. The other light had been smashed out.

Mr. Forest immediately went down to the pickup while his wife drove on to Kendrick to notify Dr. D. A. Christensen. Coroner Short and Sheriff William Logan were also notified. Dr. Christensen arrived at the accident scene a short time before Mr. Glencross died. He also administered first aid to Miss Doyle. Mr. Glencross' body was taken to Moscow, and then to Wallace, Sunday.

Joe Forest, also of Big Bear ridge, was one of the first to arrive at the accident scene after his brother had discovered the wreck, said both Mr. Glencross and Miss Doyle had been thrown from the vehicle. She was lying about 20 feet from it when help arrived but apparently was suffering too much pain and shock to move.

Coroner Short said Mr. Glencross apparently had attempted to crawl to the pickup and sound the horn in the hope of bringing help. He said the truck was leaning against a tree and that Mr. Glencross would probably have been too weak to climb into it. He was lying beside the truck when found.

Two ambulances from Moscow and one from Lewiston went to the scene. Miss Doyle, who still was conscious when found, was carried up to the road on a stretcher taken to the scene by Dr. Christensen, before the ambulances arrived.

Papers found in Mr. Glencross' pockets showed he was a veteran of World War II, Coast Guard Service, and a member of the Wallace Elks lodge. He was born Jan. 24, 1926, in Washington state.

The scene of this accident is perhaps 100 feet closer to the top of the grade than the one which claimed the life of Gene Olson several years ago.

Mr. Glencross death brought to three the total who have died on the grades into Kendrick within the past month.

John (Mac) McDonald Disappears

John (Mac) McDonald, a resident here for the past few years, has his friends badly worried by his disappearance, as he has not been seen nor heard from since Thursday of last week.

Mr. McDonald left Thursday at noon, by train, for Lewiston, to attend the Nez Perce County Fair, and said that he would be back Saturday — but as yet he has not been seen nor heard from.

When he left the barber shop, where he has a room, Thursday, he was dressed in brown slacks, a light colored sport coat and dark shoes. His hat was of grey-blue straw with a wide brim. He weighs about 170 pounds, has grey hair, gray eyes, and is about 66 or 67 years old.

When he failed to return search was begun by Dick Cuddy and Rudy Nelson, the latter of the Lewis Sawmill, where Mr. McDonald was employed. "Mac" did not drink, and was always on the job — so friends are really worried. He carried no baggage of any kind when he left for Lewiston. On Monday night a search was made of Lewiston hotels, hospitals, etc., but no trace found.

Attends Athletic Games

Don Jacobs, a former instructor in the Kendrick High school, but now at Colfax, Wash., sent a note with a subscription renewal, that reads as follows:

"I've been intending to do this all month, but the earlier part of school has been busier than usual.

"I suppose you read all about the British Empire games and the "Miracle Mile" (or maybe saw it on TV). I had a finish-line seat for all the track events, and it was really a great race, and one that may not be duplicated for some time — two runners finishing a mile in under four minutes in the same race! The week I spent in Vancouver, B. C., was quite full of athletic thrills of all sorts — and in many sports. Besides that, the Canadians attitude toward the Duke of Edinburgh was very interesting, as they crowded about everywhere he went. At times it was a draw in the papers between he and the games for the amount of space taken up.

"For the second year in a row in California, I saw the javelin record broken at the Pasadena meet. Last year's record was official, and this year's was not, as the javelin would not balance correctly.

"Please say "hello" to all my old friends down there for me. — Don Jacobs.

Roy R. Glenn Tops In Soils

Roy R. Glenn of Kendrick was named outstanding man in soil conservation in the Latah District, which in turn was named outstanding Soil Conservation District in Idaho, at the annual meeting of the Pacific Region of the National Assn. of Soil Conservation Districts, held Tuesday at Baker, Oregon, according to an Associated Press report.

Ross R. Schofield of Sugar City was named outstanding man in the Madison District, second in the state. — Lewiston Tribune.

LIONS CLUB SPONSORING COMMUNITY CALENDAR PROJECT

The Kendrick Community Lions Club members are attempting to contact everyone in this area to see if they wish to have their name listed on their birthday in the Kendrick Community Calendar.

On the front of the calendar will appear a scene of the community. There will be 28 ads. of local business firms, many of them offering valuable discounts or premiums to subscribers on their birthday anniversary.

Meeting dates of local organizations, so desiring, will also be listed on the calendar.

Chairman Nolan Weeks has named the following team Captains to select their work crews and canvass the area: Chester Vincent, Joe Forest, Frank Bencsoter, Art Foster, Denny Racicot and Verne Choate.

To assure delivery of the calendars by the first of the year it is necessary that orders be placed with one of the solicitors not later than Tuesday, Oct. 5. Due to the vastness of the area to be covered there will undoubtedly be some who the workers are unable to contact. Those desiring calendars are urged not to wait but to contact any of the above named Team Captains and place your order — if you have not already done so. — adv.

Word From Filger Family

From Alsea, Oregon, under date of Sept. 27, comes a short note from the Filger family, which says in part — Dear Friends: We surely enjoy the paper, it lets us keep up with what all the home folks are doing.

We like our new home here very much and have had a lovely summer. Have our harvesting over and nearly all the plowing done for next year's crop.

We are milking 32 cows at the present time, so don't have too much time for writing letters, as it really keeps us busy. Tell everyone "Hello" and good luck to you and your friendly little paper. Sincerely — Mrs. Carl Filger."

Cannery Open Again

The Lapwai cannery is now open on a Tuesday and Friday basis, at 9:00 a. m. on those days. All produce must be in not later than 3:00 p. m. if it is to be processed.

Has Case Of The Flu

Bob Cain, who is convalescing at their home here following major surgery, is reported to have suffered a back-set, due to the flu.

Has Completed Training

Fort Sam Houston, Texas (Official) — Pvt. William B. Mitchell, son of Mrs. Muriel M. Scott, 112 East "A" St., Moscow, Idaho, has completed the Medical Field Service School's 16-week Medical Laboratory Procedures course at Brooke Army Medical Center, and has been transferred to Fort Monroe, Va.

Medical laboratory technicians receive instruction in parasitology, bacteriology, hematology and laboratory procedures. The training a student receives in this course can lead to a future civilian career in the same field.

The Medical Field service school is one of seven units of Brooks Army Medical Center, the army's largest medical installation. The Center carries on virtually all phases of professional and technical training in military medicine as well as patient treatment and research.

Our Note: Pvt. Mitchell is a former Southwick resident, and a graduate of Kendrick High school with the class of 1953.

Low Cost Essential For Farm Building Concrete Blocks Filling Farm Construction Needs

Concrete blocks are being used more and more in the construction of farm buildings, according to American Builder magazine. They have been found very serviceable for dairy barn construction, low in first cost and in upkeep. Attributes that contribute to concrete's value as a building material on the farm are its durability, cleanliness, and weather and insect resistant qualities. Concrete foundations, masonry unit walls, concrete floors, and precast floor joists can be utilized to construct enduring farm structures and to repair old ones.

Dairy barn of concrete blocks and with a roof of fire-resistant asphalt shingles provides an efficient structure low in cost and in upkeep.

If a dairy barn is well-constructed and insulated, body heat of the cows would keep interior temperatures at 45 to 50 degrees in almost any kind of weather.

Lightweight aggregates in monolithic concrete or in masonry units, vermiculite floors and underlayers, hollow core walls, and masonry units with granular loose-filled cores all have qualities that can contribute to the efficiency of rural buildings.

Less Than Half of U.S. Farm Homes Have Baths

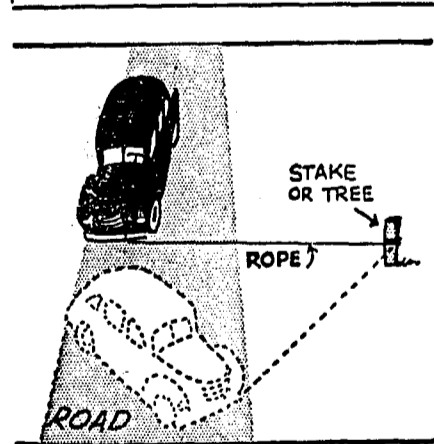

Less than one-half of the nation's more than 4,000,000 farm homes have baths and only half of the rooms are heated, a study of rural housing accommodations revealed.

Excessive standardization to relieve early postwar housing shortages resulted in the building of mediocre farm homes of rectangular, box-like design with too small rooms, too little privacy and absence of adequate plumbing and heating facilities.

However, under impetus of a U.S. department of agriculture program, farm house plans have recently been developed that are expected to fulfill the fundamental requirements. The new plans call for space, equipment and storage facilities in proportion to the number of persons in the family.

Coupled with the benefits of a 10-year electrification program that has brought electricity to 75 per cent of the farm homes, this new home designing will open an untapped market for manufacturers of automatic equipment and home appliances.

Pull Out the Car

Although most farmers these days live on a hard surfaced road, there may be an occasion when it would be necessary to pull a car or tractor out of a ditch. The above illustration shows how to get out of that ditch with the least amount of effort. A tow rope hitched to the front end of the car and tied to a stake or tree at right angle at the side of the road, will give you the leverage to get out of almost any place without help.

Crested-Wheatgrass Seed Production Reported Up

The 1950 production of crested-wheatgrass seed is estimated at 5,330,000 pounds of clean seed. This is 5 per cent larger than the 1949 production of 5,090,000 pounds. Larger crops than last year reported for North Dakota, South Dakota, and Montana, more than offset the smaller crops indicated for Nebraska, Colorado and Washington. The Colorado crop was near failure in 1950.

Foresee Billion Barrels Jet Fuel from Oil Shale

Jet engine fuel by the billions of barrels can be produced from the Green river oil shale formation in northwestern Colorado, Dr. J. D. Lankford, acting chief, of the United States bureau of mines oil-shale demonstration plant in Rifle, Colo., reports.

Low cost oil shale mining already has been found feasible, Dr. Lankford says, and he predicts that the present trickle of 100 to 300 barrels of gasoline and Diesel fuel from the formation will become a mighty torrent as techniques improve.

"It is estimated that 88 volume per cent of the crude shale oil could be converted into a hydrogenated product containing a premium Diesel oil and a high-quality jet fuel practically free of sulfur, oxygen and nitrogen compounds," Dr. Lankford stated. "If desired, the hydrogenated material could be converted easily to gasoline by standard petroleum refining processes."

"The United States bureau of mines oil-shale demonstration plant at Rifle, Colo., is engaged in an integrated research and experimental program to point the way toward the development of a tremendous natural resource, oil shale, for possible wartime emergency and for the ultimate peacetime production of liquid fuels by private industry.

"Billions of barrels of liquid fuels are potentially available from the oil shale of the Green river formation of northwestern Colorado. Research and development work will be necessary over an extended period of time to bring this great natural resource to the stage where utilization will be possible."

Pocket Radiation Indicator Developed for Average Man

An accurate pocket-size radiation indicator, so simple that the man on the street can learn to read it after a few minutes instruction, has been developed at the atomic energy project on the Los Angeles campus of the University of California.

The device was developed by Dr. George V. Taplin and Clayton Douglas of the U.C.L.A. medical school's atomic energy medical research staff.

It measures radioactivity by a color change of chemical solutions in small vials. The chemicals are inexpensive, and it is estimated that the instrument could be produced on a large scale very cheaply.

The vials fit into a compact case about the size of a pack of paper matches, which could be worn around the neck like G.I. dog tags. They also could be adapted to a pencil-like container for the pocket.

The new radiation indicator was specifically designed to measure large doses of gamma and X-rays immediately after an atomic blast.

It also lends itself to the development of important peacetime applications, says Dr. Taplin. For example, it could be useful in the calibration of such radiation equipment as fluoroscopes and X-ray machines. It might be used to measure radiation from radio iodine absorbed by the thyroid gland in treatment of hyperthyroidism.

Origin of April's Fool

It was the habit of observing July as the beginning of the year that is said to have started the whole idea of All Fools' Day. From its reputed origin in France, it quickly spread to other countries. We have such varied terms as the English "noddies, gawbies and April gobs," the French "April Fish," and the Scottish "April Gowks." While there are other theories about April Fool's day, the calendar story located by research librarians with Childcraft seems that when King Charles XI of France adopted the reform calendar in 1564, many Frenchmen refused to go along with the new January 1 New Year's. When they continued to celebrate on July 1, they were made the butt of countless jokes—receiving mock party invitations, fake gifts, and pretended ceremonious visits of congratulation.

United Nation's Building

Along the banks of East river on the Island of Manhattan between 42nd and 48th streets the Secretariat building of the United Nations is towering to the sky as workmen are rushing it to completion so that it can be occupied before the end of the present year. The structure will be 39 stories high. It is one of four units that will complete the headquarters as a "workshop for world peace." Contracts for the other three units have not yet been let but it is believed they will be completed during 1951.

Suggestion for Farmers

The average farmer spends 50 per cent of his time around the farmstead. This can be materially reduced by piping water to the point of use rather than carrying it. For example, consider what carrying water to a flock of laying hens involves. If the water point is 60 yards from the hen house, as it is on many farms, the farmer will carry approximately 10 tons of water a distance of 25 miles per 100 hens per year in addition to walking another 25 miles to the water point.

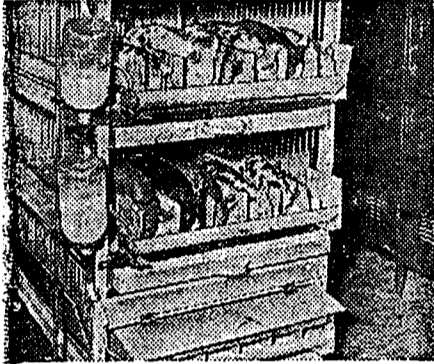

Synthetic Sow's Milk Is Used Successfully

3,000 Piglets Raised On Experiment Formula

The development of a synthetic sow's milk, made possible by the wonder drug terramycin was announced recently by Herbert G. Luther, research scientist associated with the Pfizer & Co., laboratories of Brooklyn, N.Y.

The formula, called Terralac, was tried on 500 piglets at the company's laboratories. In addition, 3,000 piglets have been raised successfully without sows on several large pig farms which cooperated in the testing of Terralac.

Luther contends the formula may revolutionize the swine-raising industry. In the first place, his experiment reduced infant pig mortality to an astonishing 5 per cent, as contrasted with the national average of 21 to 33 per cent. It also largely solves the problem of the runt, long a bane to hog-raisers. By making growth-stimulating terramycin and milk equally available to all pigs in the litter.

Luther emphasized that good pig farm management is essential for the successful use of Terralac. Constant temperature must be maintained, either via the use of heat lamps or by blowing warm air. And it must be prepared properly and fed at regular intervals.

Average U.S. Farm Bigger As Number Falls

The Bureau of the Census reports a decided trend toward fewer but bigger and better equipped farms between 1940 and 1950.

The number decreased by 713,000 in the decade, the bureau reports, but the average size unit grew from 174 acres in 1940 to 210.5 acres in 1950. There were 5,384,000 farms in 1950, against 6,097,000 in 1940.

The sharpest decrease came in the five years between 1945 and 1950, when the number of farms dropped by 475,000.

Other statistics in the report included: About 870,000 fewer persons were working on U.S. farms in 1950 than in 1940.

Less than one-third as many horses and mules were on farms in 1950 as in 1920.

In 1950 there were 59,764,000 cattle and calves more than 3 months old on farms as compared to 60,574,736 in April, 1940.

The number of chickens on farms was 2,500,000, or 0.7 per cent more than in 1940.

Plenty of Pull

One of the newest aids to farmers is the power curve tire developed by B. F. Goodrich engineers to provide maximum traction and prevent bogging down of heavy tractors and combines in the sticky mud or sandy soil of rice fields. The tire is reported to be the first suitable for use in all types of soil used for growing rice.

Veterinary Group Sets Up New Defense Committees

A nation-wide network of defense emergency committees has been set up by the veterinary medical profession to help safeguard this country's livestock health and food production in case of war, the AVMA reports. The committees will assist on defense measures in case of biological warfare, atomic warfare, atomic blasts, or other wartime emergencies concerned with the nation's animal population.

Announce Homecoming Plans

U. of I., Moscow - Plans for the University of Idaho's annual Homecoming celebration, scheduled this year for the week-end of October 2, were announced jointly this week by Harry Brenn of Moscow, student chairman, and James Lyle, secretary of the Alumni association.

Although the big attraction of the week-end - the Idaho-San Jose State football game - is scheduled for Saturday, Homecoming activities will actually begin Friday afternoon, Oct. 1, with registration of alumni at the Student Union building and Hotel Moscow. Conducted by the Spurs, sophomore women's national service organization, registration will continue Saturday morning.

A Homecoming rally, complete with fireworks and a serpentine through the campus, is scheduled for Friday night. The rally will be held at MacLean field at 7:00 p. m.

Saturday's program will begin at 9:30 a. m. with a Homecoming parade through the Moscow business district and on up to the campus.

Crowning of the Homecoming Queen and the presentation of the Vandal Booster award by the "I" club will take place Saturday afternoon during half-time ceremonies at the game. F. L. Blomquist of Caldwell, president of the Idaho Alumni Association, will crown the 1954 queen.

Following the game all living groups on the campus will hold an "open house." Concluding the two-day ceremonies will be the annual Homecoming dance at the Student Union building at 9:00 p. m.

Rain Delays Harvesting

Following about ten days of wonderful fall weather, which has been a tremendous aid to farmers in this area, a chill rain began falling Monday evening. It was not heavy, nor did it last long, but, followed by clouds Tuesday morning, it very effectively put a stop to harvesting operations, principally beans - although in the outlying sections a considerable acreage of oats and barley is said to be still awaiting the combines.

Most of the white beans in this area have been cut and threshed - but there is left a very large acreage of red and pinto beans - and with the limited wheat acreage this year it is very important to farmers that they be saved.

It is estimated that about ten days of warm weather will be required to complete bean cutting and harvesting. Not enough rain fell to affect logging operations.

Big Bear Ridge 4-H Club

The Big Bear Ridge 4-H Club met at the home of Richard Weber on Monday, Sept. 27. The Club decided to hold two meetings per month during the winter, and each member made plans for the projects they will take the following year.

A lively discussion of plans took place, and much interest was shown for the coming year. Richard Weber gave a demonstration on "How To Assemble a Reading Lamp."

The next meeting will be held sometime before the Annual Achievement Day, and at that time the election of officers will be held. Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Herbert Weber.

Preparing For Winter

Bill Bamberry has been very busy the past few days sweeping and cleaning Kendrick's ciled streets in an effort to prepare them for winter. When questioned about what he found, Bill says very little money, a nickle, dime or penny occasionally - but beer bottle caps by the score - an occasional beer or pop can - and quite a few beer bottles - not to mention candy bar wrappers by the hundreds, empty cigarette packages, match books, etc. He adds that the worst offenders are broken beer bottles, which are not only hard to clean up, but which can ruin tires.

Grange Booster Night Tuesday, Oct. 5 is Grange Booster night, and to start off the festivities a pot-luck Idaho Products dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m.

All Grangers are asked to invite and to bring their friends. Following dinner there will be a short program and dance.

World Wide Communion

World Wide Communion Service will be held in most Christian churches on Sunday, October 3. Offerings will be used for rebuilding destroyed churches, schools and hospitals in the war-torn countries. Also, some of the offering will be used to help Chaplains to secure extra supplies. All of the offering will be used for some phase of rehabilitation work.

This service will be observed in the Kendrick Community church at 9:30 a. m., Sunday, Oct. 3. All are welcome.

Writes Thriller For Pioneers

Of interest to readers of the Gazette and friends of the pioneers of the Palouse and Potlatch countries, is the book of thrilling poems released from the press last week. "Songs of the Palouse Country" is a collection of 85 poems by Bert Gamble, whose verses at Eastertide, Mother's Day, and many other occasions have appeared in the Kendrick Gazette for the past 25 years. The 71 pages of verse are divided into six sections: "Remembered Fields," "Spring wSoing," "Farther Fences," "Ripples in the Wheat," "Cloud Shadows" and "Golden Harvest." Each of these sections is illustrated by a photograph taken in this Palouse area by Tom Wahl of Pullman, and Kyle Laughlin of Moscow. The foreword is by David L. Kirk, Spokane, famous editorial writer.

Of special interest to Kendrick folks is the poem written for them: "Kendrick In The Spring," which Mr. Gamble hopes will do its bit to enhance the beauty of this favored spot in the glorious Potlatch country.

W. L. "Bill" Rogers, Editor

HELLO, FOLKS:

Going Big Game Hunting?

If so, come in and let us completely service your car, pickup or truck before you start. A good grease job, oil change, installation of Prestone and a tank of Union 7600 will insure an easier, safer, more satisfactory trip.

Then, too, we think those U. S. Royal Mud and Snow tires are the tops. A set of them is almost certain to eliminate the need for chains on mountain roads — adding still more to the comfort and safety of your trip.

Applying at the accounting department of a railroad for his first job, the graduate was momentarily stymied by the question on his blank which read: "What machines can you operate?"
He finally wrote: "Slot and pinball."

Oh, yes, while you're away hunting let us fill that stove oil tank with Union Stove Oil — and rest assured your family is warm and comfortable. Just Phone 1251 and tell us your needs — we'll do the rest.

Applicant: "I'm Gladys Zell."
Personnel Manager: "I am pretty happy today, too. Have a seat."

Car, pickup or truck need washing? Greasing? Bring it to us! We vacuum clean the interior as well as washing the exterior!

Clarice (motoring): "I said you could kiss me, but didn't say you could hug me."
Henry: "Oh, that's all right. I just threw in the clutch."

A Correction

It seems our source of information on the beautiful baked salmon served by the V. F. W. Auxiliary to the Lions Club last week, was in error. The salmon was purchased by the Auxiliary — and was not a gift of the Choates.
