INTERESTING NEWS NOTES FROM THE SOUTHWICK AREA

Shower For Babb Family

Among the very unfortunate in our community are Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Babb and seven children, whose home was destroyed by fire recently. The family was away at Walla Walla spending the Thanksgiving vacation at the time, and neighbors were able to salvage only a small amount of fruit.

Friends and neighbors have been helping them establish a new home, and they are doing nicely, but there are many things of which they are greatly in need. They have their stoves, beds, including mattresses, tables, washing machine, iron and ironing board, some clothing and bedding. They are greatly in need of all kinds of food, clothing, bedding, more furniture, complete kitchen articles, etc. The children's sizes by ages are: Boys, 5, 7, 8, 12 and 17; girls, 3 and 15.

On Friday, Dec. 10, the ladies at Southwick are holding a shower for the family at the Ladies Aid hall. Bring what you would like to give there in the afternoon. They will serve doughnuts and coffee to everyone calling.

We will all be very grateful to see the family of Mr. and Mrs. Babb cared for and in a home for the winter.

P.-T. A. To Meet

The Joint District P.-T. A. will meet next Monday evening at Juliaetta. This is a very important meeting for three reasons:

First — There is a report to be made which greatly concerns our community;

Second — Because the program planned is in keeping with and starts the Christmas season for our district;

Third — But not least, because this is your P.-T. A.

Come out and let's work together in solving some of the problems of our community concerning our children — and take part in some very interesting discussions.

Let's meet everyone in the district there. — Mrs. Russell Perkins, Pres.

Christmas Treats

Mrs. Tarry, grade teacher at the Southwick School, wishes to announce that they are now collecting for the Christmas treats. Please send your gifts to the school or leave it at the store for the treats — and include a list of pre-school children — to babies — so that they may receive their treats, as well as the school children.

Teachers' Meeting

The teachers of Joint District No. 283 held their regular meeting Monday evening at the Southwick Grade school. Mrs. Alice Tarry and Mrs. Winifred Kluckhohn were the hostesses for the evening.

Homemakers Club Meeting

The Southwick Homemakers Club met on Thursday at the home of Lois Thornton, with Alma Betts as co-hostess. The slightly spicy and hot dinner served at noon was delicious — honoring Mexico. The day was spent planning the 1955 schedule; the dinner to be served the husbands on Dec. 17, and "Aluminum Etching."

The next regular meeting will be held the second Thursday in January, the meeting place to be announced later.

Ladies Gather At Cantril Home

On Monday evening a group of the Homemakers Club ladies gathered at the home of Virginia Cantril, to work on their aluminum trays.

Missionary

The Southwick Community church Missionary met Friday at the home of Mrs. Rollin Armitage. After the regular business meeting, work was done for the missions. They are making a quilt at the present time.

Fire Starts In Flue

A blast of the fire siren Sunday morning about 11:45, sent the Volunteer Firemen and residents scurrying to the Jack Kuykendall home in the west part of town — only to find the fire nearly out — despite the speed with which the alarm was answered.

A faulty flue was blamed, as the conflagration started in the living room around the flue, and spread to the kitchen, which is on the other side of the wall.

Quick action on the part of the Kuykendalls saw the fire put out before it gained much headway. Damage was considered minor, even to the kitchen, which will have to be repapered and painted. And there was, of course, some smoke damage.

SHORT NEWS ITEMS FROM OUR LOCAL SCHOOLHOUSE

Band News

The Kendrick High School Pep Band made its first appearance of the year during the inaugural game of the basketball season, when the Kendrick Tigers and the Orofino Maniacs tangled on the local floor Tuesday evening. Halftime entertainment was provided during the A-squad game with majorettes Karen Nelson, Norma Andrews, Donna Mabbott, Rosalea Whittum and Geneva Groseclose presenting a snappy drill and twirling routine.

Selected as members of the Pep Band this year are:

Clarinet — Marge Ingle, Karen Nelson, Judy Koepf and Pamela Potter.
Trumpets — Frances Dammarell, Gary Abbott, Lyle Parks and Orville Roberts.

Saxophones — Kaye Weyen, Paige Craig and Marilyn ZumHofe.
Mellophones — Daisy Groseclose and Reggie Wegner.

Baritone — Delores Gaskill.
Trombones — Robin Magnuson, Leonard Eldridge and David Johnson.
Bass — Darrell Craig.

Drum — Nita Benschoter, Jean Jones and Jane Racicot.

The Pep Band will play for all the home games, and will also travel to Culeasac, Troy, Genesee and Lapwai in support of Coach Racicot's "Tigers."

Directed by George Poulos, the Pep Band will play not only standard band selections, but also many swing arrangements of old favorites and modern "pop" tunes. Yell leaders Kay Abrams, Donna Plastino and Wanda Peters are also working with the Pep Band to bring several new musical cheers to the support of our team.

Help! Help!
Several volumes of the various sets of Encyclopedias at the High School have been taken from the building and no trace can be found. This is very discouraging to the students who need those particular volumes for reference work.

Years of experience has shown that when volumes of the reference sets are taken from the libraries, they eventually become misplaced, so consequently all schools restrict the use of encyclopaedia sets to the school buildings. These sets range in price from $115.00 to $274.00, and in many cases it is impossible to replace the individual volumes. When one student takes a volume home and fails to return it, he denies the use of that volume to the other 200 students.

If there are any of these valuable books in your home, will you please send it or bring it back to the school immediately. They are urgently needed — now.

The latest missing book is a volume from a set of ten that we just this year added to the library at a cost of $115.00.

Assembly Program

Joseph Ellis, noted traveler and authority on the South Pacific area, presented a highly educational talk on "Java," to the Junior and Senior High school students Tuesday morning.

He showed many articles of the Javanese civilization, and compared their ways of life to our own. Many of the Javanese customs proved to be highly amusing to us.

Mr. Ellis climaxed the program by dressing for the students in typical Javanese clothing.

Carnival Coming

This coming Friday evening at 7:30 the High School will present its annual Carnival at the High school gym. This may appear to be a trifle late for a carnival, but it seemed to be the earliest suitable date.

The evening's fun and merry making will be climaxed by a dance.

Christmas For The Needy

The Latah County Welfare Council are sponsoring "Christmas Baskets for the Needy" (within the county) and are asking for a little help on this worthy project.

First — They want the names of families in this area who are needy and who would appreciate a Christmas basket.

Next — To those who would like to share a little of what they have with some one who is less fortunate — now is your chance! Anything that is good, is acceptable. Clothing, toys, canned goods, groceries or money.

The Moose Lodge of Moscow has agreed to act as a clearing house for this project. If desired, gifts of money and names may be sent to Everett Strang, secretary, Moose Lodge, Moscow, Idaho. Other gifts may be left at the Lodge in Moscow or in Kendrick at Blewett's Store, where they will be picked up, taken to Moscow, prepared in baskets, etc. All gifts are asked to be brought in between the 12th and 15th, to allow ample time for basket preparation.

Crusher Being Torn Down
Their crushing contract for Kenaston & Huntley completed, the Dammarell & McKeever rock crushing plant is now practically torn down, and most of it brought to Kendrick for winter storage.

The last "set" of the plant was at the big rock pit on the Ahaska grade.

Local residents, particularly those in the Southwick area who have been forced to travel this road, are indeed glad that it is completed, for now it may be smoothed for travel — it having been one long series of chuck holes and "wash boards" for many weeks. We understand that the road has not yet been accepted by the state, so maintenance will rest with Kenaston & Huntley until such time as the contract will be deemed completed.

Called To Seattle

Mrs. A. O. Kanikkeberg was called to Seattle Wednesday of last week, upon receiving word that her mother, Mrs. A. Erickson, had fallen while getting out of bed, and broken a hip. X-rays revealed the bone was fractured in two places. She underwent surgery Friday morning, and is getting along as well as could be expected.

Mrs. Kanikkeberg is expected home today (Wednesday).

Lots Of Elk Coming In

The extended elk and deer season in this immediate vicinity has seen a considerable quantity of game come in this past ten days. Included in those bagging deer or elk, or both, were Floyd Millard, Dennis Racicot, Keith Thornton, Lester Crocker, Leland Slind, Clarence Perryman and Harley Perryman.

There were probably others of whom we did not learn.

Roy Glenn New Supervisor

Immediately following the business session there will be a special Christmas program entitled "The Other Wisemen," by Henry Van Dyke, with a cast which includes: Asa Calvert, as narrator; Jane Racicot, Mrs. Burton Souders, Jr., Mrs. Jud Lee, Mrs. Bob Magnuson, Mrs. Dennis Racicot, George Poulos, Nolan Weeks and Eugene Taylor, with Mrs. Claude Jones as accompanist.

An open invitation is extended to everyone in the district. You don't have to be a parent to be eligible — so if you like music — don't miss this!

PERSONALS AND NEWS ABOUT KENDRICK FRIENDS

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Blewett and son Billy were Sunday guests in the Herman Pabst home at Gifford.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Goff came up from Asotin Monday evening to get their little sons, Steve and Rickie, who had been here with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben P. Cook, for the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Vaughan and daughters of Spokane were here visiting with relatives and friends Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Watts and daughters of Moscow were Sunday visitors in the homes of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Watts and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deobald.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deobald were Lewiston business visitors Tuesday afternoon.

Emulus Brown and son Jerry drove to Lewiston Sunday where they were dinner guests in the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rukgaber. Emulus was also a Moscow business visitor Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Brocke, Jr., and son Dean drove to Spokane to spend the week-end with her aunt and family.

Kendrick Bows To Orofino

Tuesday evening of this week saw the Kendrick Tigers playing their first game of the season, when they took on the Orofino Maniacs in the local gym. — and bowed to them 61 to 45.

It was Orofino's ball game in every way during the first half, the board reading Orofino 28, Kendrick 13, at the mid-time. However, in the second half, Kendrick matched the Maniacs in scoring, and canned 10 field goals to Orofino's 6.

The Maniacs had the edge in confidence, it being their second game, and the Tigers' first — but we might say it was hard fought right down to the wire!

In the B-squad opener Orofino won handily 60 to 44 — the Maniacs having the experienced team, with the Kendrick squad literally "new from man to man." Half-time score in this contest was: Orofino 38; Kendrick 21.

Officials were Irish Clovis and Dick Powaukie — and a good job they did, too.

Wonderful Winter Weather

This section of the country certainly cannot complain about the weather we had had this winter.

The low to date has been 16 — but that was for but a brief time last week, and the one tiny little snow fall on Saturday lasted about half an hour.

Monday, we had a brief but heavy rain which took just about an hour from start to finish. This past week the temperature has been dropping to 25 or 26 at night, and getting well above the freezing point each day.

Farmers say that winter wheat is doing wonderfully well, putting on a steady growth. Pastures have even greened up a little, and cattlemen are not having to feed very heavy to keep animals in top shape.

Nmas Community Sing Dec. 15

Wednesday evening, Dec. 15, there will be a Community Sing and Fellowship at the Community church, under the direction of George Poulos.

The church choir will be featured, as well as several other special numbers.

Following the sing a Fellowship hour with refreshments will be held in the church parlors, with the choir members acting as hosts.

This is the season when all enjoy singing the Christmas carols. Bring your family and your friends and share in this song fest.

Santa Claus To Come Dec. 18

Yes kids, Santa will pay his annual visit to Kendrick on Saturday, Dec. 18th, bringing with him treats for the children.

He will arrive through the courtesy of the Kendrick Community Lions Club — although the exact hour of his coming has not yet been determined, as there may have been some previous dates that had to be met.

So keep an eye on the columns of this paper for the exact time of his arrival.

SHORT LOCAL ITEMS OF MORE THAN PASSING INTEREST

Have Fun With Model Planes

The model plane contest sponsored by Vern Choate of the Variety & Gift Store, and held last Sunday, was termed a real success, with twelve "flying machines" taking part in the contest, which was held on the Walter May landing strip on American ridge.

David Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Johnson, won a "Class A" motor for the best flying plane, and Larry Arnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Arnett, won a model plane kit for the best appearing plane. All contestants flew "free flight," with the tiny machines landing some two miles away, near the Henry Kilde ranch. We understand that only two "cracked up" on landing, and these suffered only minor damage.

To those who have never witnessed a model plane contest, we can only say that it will be a revelation to them. When the tiny motors are being warmed up for flight, the noise they put out is terrific, reminding one of a "pop saw motor gone wild," for the sound reaches a high-pitched crescendo — and when properly warmed up and in flight, the speeds they reach are almost unbelievable for so small a plane.

Mr. Choate has been working with the youngsters here for some months in the construction of the model planes, it being one of his hobbies — and we might add that several adults have also been building and flying the tiny speedsters, but, of course, did not take part in the kids Sunday contest.

It's a very fine hobby, and Mr. Choate and others building and flying the models are to be congratulated on them.

4-H Achievement Night

The annual 4-H Club Achievement Night for this area will be held next Saturday evening, Dec. 11, at 7:30 o'clock in the Fraternal Temple, Kendrick. There will be six 4-H Clubs taking part, as follows:

COEUR D'ALENE WOMAN SHOT IN HUNTING ACCIDENT SUN.

Moscow — A young Coeur d'Alene woman was seriously injured Sunday morning by fragments from a 30-30 caliber rifle bullet which struck the barrel of the rifle she was holding and shattered.

Mrs. Pauline Nielson, 20, was brought to Gritman Memorial hospital where eye surgery was performed Monday morning.

The accident occurred near Bovill, where Mrs. Nielson and her husband, Glenn Nielson, newlyweds, and another Coeur d'Alene couple, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McHenry, were hunting. Latah County Sheriff William Logan, who investigated the accident, said Nielson fired the shot that wounded his wife.

Mrs. McHenry was also slightly injured in the accident.

Logan said the two couples had seen elk or deer tracks in a clearing and heard the animals moving into the timber. Nielson left the other three and started in pursuit. He went over a ridge and was slightly downhill from the clearing when he looked back and saw what he thought was a deer between 50 and 100 yards away and fired, Logan said.

The bullet struck the "fairly soft" metal of the hexagonal barrel of Mrs. Nielson's rifle, Logan said, making an indentation about 1/4 of an inch deep and almost 1/2 and inch in width.

The largest fragment tore through Mrs. Nielson's left cheek, ripped out her left eye and apparently emerged near the hairline, her physician said. X-rays showed "about 100" other fragments still lodged beneath her skull.

Another fragment pierced Mrs. McHenry's upper lip. It was not known Sunday night if the fragment was still imbedded in the flesh or if it had emerged, but in any event the injury was minor.

Although the accident occurred at 9:30 a. m., it was 2:30 p. m. before Mrs. Nielson reached the hospital. Mr. and Mrs. McHenry hiked about 1 1/2 miles out of the forest to where their car was parked on a logging road. They then drove to the highway to obtain help.

A party of about 25 drove to the logging road and carried a stretcher to the clearing for Mrs. Nielson. She was taken to the road and placed in an ambulance which brought her to Moscow.

Both Logan and the physician praised the plucky young woman for her courage and cheerfulness during the long ordeal. She was treated for shock and received blood transfusions Sunday night. — Lewiston Tribune.

THE BLUE FLASHING LIGHT

Once again the winter season has arrived. No doubt you have felt the chilly winds, and maybe you have skidded upon icy roads.

We, of the Department of Highways have a serious message for you which we feel you should read.

The department has a job to do during the coming months of snow and ice. We need your cooperation as a motorist in order that we may get the job done without hazard to you and to the department employees.

As you drive down the road this winter, you will often come upon snow plows and sanding trucks operating during bad weather to make your trip safer. These trucks will be equipped with a blue flashing light which is to inform you that there is snow removal equipment operating along the roadway. The department has equipped these vehicles with the blue light. It is standard throughout the nation. These snow plows are a type of emergency equipment in many cases, but we have not installed the red lights as they are confined to ambulance and police cars and to fire equipment.

When you see a piece of equipment with the blue flashing light operating along the roadway, you should decrease your speed for they are not out there unless there is a hazardous condition existing. Pass with caution, for these heavy trucks can be stopped quickly by a snow drift, or they can skid more readily than you in your car.

If you are following one of our snow plows or sanding trucks, stay a safe distance behind them. They may have to stop and back up in order to take another run at a drift, or they may have to take another "swipe" in order to properly clear the road. Last year we had ten accidents because the cars following the plows were too close and hit the plow when it stopped suddenly. We also had eight accidents last winter when our plows backed into cars that had pulled right up behind them when the plow stopped and the driver found it necessary to back up to hit the drift. We are encouraging our operators to use every precaution and safety measure to protect the public — but still there are many times when the accidents have been caused by the carelessness of the motorists. We do not want these accidents to happen. We feel that there is a responsibility on the driver's part as well as our own.

There are many sections of the country that conditions make it necessary for the snow plows to operate on both sides of the road. These locations are generally posted with permanent signs, but in any event it is necessary that you drive with extra care and caution in these areas. Also, every driver should take extra precautions when he comes into a canyon section during snow storms. Poor visibility conditions and sight distances may conceal a snow plow until you are right on it if you are not alert.

The department of highways is making every effort to keep the roads open and safe for you to travel. We are requesting your cooperation in keeping down the accidents and delays. Watch for the flashing blue light. When you see one, approach with caution, and follow at a safe distance, keeping in mind that the operator has a number of things that are requiring his attention — but he is out there to make the roads safer for you. — Dwight Crofford, safety director, Idaho Dept. of Highways.

Ward Helton and Elton McCoy went to Leland on Friday, where they visited in the Harry Smith home.

Miss Minnie Glenn was substitute teacher in the Fairview school last Wednesday.

The University of Idaho won the Thanksgiving game at Boise, defeating the University of Nevada by a score of 23 to 0.

The orchardists of Juliaetta are setting out 2,500 cherry trees this fall, and orders have been placed for about 1,500 more in the spring. Approximately 500 apricot trees have also been set out. The growers in Juliaetta have received very profitable returns from their cherry and apricot crops for a number of years.

It is reported that three of the Albright boys, who live below Juliaetta, shot 74 ducks in one day last week, lacking but one quacker of having their limit of 25 each. The ducks were shot on the pond near the Albright home.

Miss Elizabeth Hund, who is attending Lewiston State Normal, and Walter Cook, spent the Thanksgiving vacation at home.

Soil Testing Service Available A new soil testing service is being offered to all farmers in northern Idaho by the University of Idaho. Because of the need for detailed analysis of the soil content for phosphate, potassium, sulfur and acidity or alkalinity, the University of Idaho is offering this detailed testing service.

County agents are accepting samples for the first test during the month of December. Any person wishing such an analysis made may take about a pint of soil to the local office in a can or jar (do not dry with artificial heat), fill out a soil sample envelope which is furnished, and pay the regular fee. The cost of the combined phosphate-potassium-PH test is $1.00. If the sulfur test is requested, 50c additional is charged.

Results of the test will be available in about 60 days. These results along with interpretations and fertilizer recommendations, will be sent to all those submitting samples by the county agent.

If such a soil testing service is to be maintained, it must be used. It is without doubt the best that has been available to date. It will assist farmers in spending fertilizer dollars wisely and increase crop yields in areas deficient in those elements for which tests are made.

The testing laboratory can handle a large number of soil samples, but they need to be taken to the county agent's office during December.

Logging Operations On Again

Following a shut-down caused by rain, which softened roads enough to prevent hauling, logging operations in this area were again going full tilt Monday and Tuesday, as frost and wind had dried enough to permit hauling. Workers, said, however, that it wouldn't take much snow or rain to bring them to a halt — probably for the remainder of the winter.

W. S. C. S. To Meet

Says He Is Retiring

W. F. (Bill) Behrens, former well-known area resident, but now of Craigmont, who for the past several years has been manufacturing a Combine Air-Flo Unit at Craigmont, says in a brief note, that he has practically sold his entire business, including his "Merry-Go-Round," and that he expects to retire.

Knowing Bill, we have no doubt about disposing of his business — but that "business of retiring" — well, we will wager a cup of coffee that he will soon be busy manufacturing some other type of equipment or "gadget." He just never was one to sit still!

HOW TO CAST CHRISTMAS CANDLES

Christmas candles can be cast of your soap carvings. Place the carving in milk carton with one end cut out and pour plaster of paris to depth of an inch over model. After plaster mold hardens, tear away carton and saw mold in half. Remove soap carving and coat inside of mold with water glass mixed with an equal amount of water. When this has hardened, apply mineral oil to inner surfaces of mold. Assemble mold with rubber bands, inserting a heavy cord for wick, holding this centered with paper clamp. Pour in melted paraffin, let it harden, then gently remove mold.

Handy Man Kit is condensed from one of our popular "DO-IT-YOURSELF" books, available at this store.

Farm Scrap Harvest Reported a Success

Farmers Can Sell All Scrap Iron and Steel

The national farm scrap harvest conducted between October 15 and November 15 has been termed a success by the steel industry, producing millions of tons of scrap iron and steel badly needed for making new steel.

Although the drive is over, farmers should continue to collect the scrapped machinery about their farms and sell it to dealers. It is a good way to keep the farm pre-harvest and sell your SCRAP

to help produce the things you need

Steel is 50% SCRAP Your Country Needs It Now!

ises cleaned up and, although scrap does not sell for big prices, the financial return does mean something.

The steel industry continues to need the broken tractor parts, rusted and worn out implements, plow points, outdated horse drawn equipment, old cultivators, broken shovels and similar equipment that can be found on almost every American farm. There are about 25 tons of iron and steel on the average farm.

Farm scrap can be a major source of the 38,000,000 tons of scrap that are needed by the steel mills this year. It takes that much scrap to produce 110,000,000 tons of steel that mills in our country have as their goal for 1951.

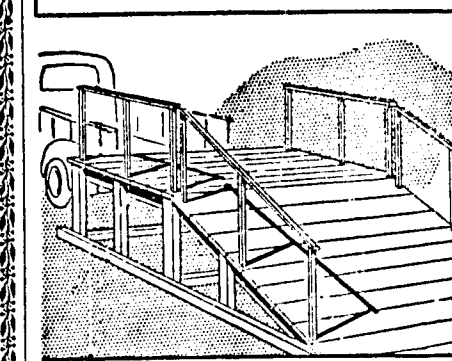

Cheaper Way to Fatten Beef Cattle Outlined

G. A. Branaman, Michigan State College animal husbandry authority, reports that full feeding grain is the quickest way to get a steer to market, but it isn't necessarily the cheapest or the most profitable.

Plain cattle, for instance should be fed longer and more cheaply than well-bred steers of good type. "Corn silage full-fed along with protein supplement may replace all the grain for plain steers when fed a longer time," he comments. "Yearling steers usually are fed from 4 to 7 months, depending on their grade and quality, and the amount of grain fed. Calves require a longer time to fatten and 2-year-olds a shorter time.

Wintering calves on roughage, then pasturing for part or all of the summer without grain results in cheap gains. Under present cattle and feed prices it is possible to pasture cattle for two summers, feeding roughage in winter. These animals may be grain fed for a short time or sold as grass-fat cattle.

Loading Platform

The above sketch of a loading platform is one any farmer handy with tools can build. The main idea is to build it on skids so it can be moved about the farm as desired. The railing can be made detachable to make it easier for loading farm machinery. The uprights would require 4x4 lumber and the platform 2" planks.

Shearing Lamb Faces Will Increase Gains

Shearing the faces of heavily-wooled feeder lambs will increase gains, according to Graydon Blank, extension animal husbandry specialist at Michigan State College.

Blank explained that lambs can see better without a heavy crop of wool around their eyes. After shearing they'll find the feed trough more quickly, will eat better and will gain much more rapidly, specialists report.

Medical School Enrollments Are Setting New Records

Medical schools of the United States in the last year took further steps to protect the future health of the nation by enrolling the largest number of students in their history.

This was revealed in the 51st annual report on medical education in the United States and Canada, compiled by the Council on Medical Education and Hospitals of the American Medical Association. The report was prepared by Dr. Donald G. Anderson of Chicago, secretary of the council, and his aides, Dr. Francis R. Manlove and Mrs. Anne Tipner.

A total of 26,191 students were enrolled in 79 approved schools in the United States for the 1950-51 academic year. This compares with the previous high record of 25,103 in the year before, an increase of 1,088 (4.1%). Since 1941, when there was an enrollment of 21,379 students in 77 approved schools, the increase has been 4,812 (22.5%).

The report also disclosed that the current academic year will see a continuation of this increase in medical education because of the enrollment of a record freshman class. It is estimated that about 7,400 new students will enter medical schools, compared with the previous record of 7,182 a year ago. Also important from a future health protection standpoint was a survey which showed plans were under way in many states for the opening of additional medical schools and for the expansion of existing facilities.

"Significant progress is being made toward resolving the financial problems of the medical schools," the report also said. "Funds available to the schools during 1951-52 will total approximately $109,600,000, which represents an increase of $36,000,000 in the last four years.

Psychologist Believes Kids Aren't Bad—Just Problems

There are no "naughty children" or "problem children," in the opinion of one distinguished child psychologist, there are only "children with problems."

"In modern days, we should not talk any longer about 'the naughty child' or 'a problem child' but should try to find the reasons back of the problems of the child."

Dr. Reymert, who is Director of The Mooseheart Laboratory for Child Research at Mooseheart, Illinois, explores some of these reasons and finds that most of them are related to a lack of understanding of the child and his needs, on the part of the parent.

He observes that "one child may be naughty because he feels that he is being blamed and criticized too much. Another child may misbehave because he feels that his parents are not interested in him and do not pay enough attention to him. A third child may use this means to rebel against excessive restrictions or confinements.

"It is toward removing the cause or causes for the child's naughtiness that we must turn our attention rather than toward even stricter and more severe discipline," Dr. Reymert points out.

Insomnia

Although many people are troubled with various types of insomnia, there is no one who "just can't sleep at all" for any length of time. There is a type of insomnia where one can't get to sleep easily, but after he has fallen asleep, he sleeps soundly. In another type, the person awakens often during sleep and, although he seldom stays awake for long, things he is awake for hours. Still another type is the person who awakens early and can't get back to sleep. The person who "just can't sleep at all," however, is non-existent. It is impossible to live without sleep. Even though one is troubled with insomnia, if he has a good sleep foundation, he will doze off—although he may not realize it. On a good quality sleep foundation, it is impossible to resist sleep for long unless there is something physically wrong with a person.

Stop Sediment

To prevent the sediment that accumulates in the bottom of a tea kettle from hard water, throw away immediately the remaining amount of boiling water which you are not going to use. Do not allow the boiling water to settle in the kettle. Installation of a water softener, to treat the hard water and get rid of the compounds that cause the sediment, would also eliminate the deposit.

Earth and Gravity

The force of gravity is lessened by the centrifugal force produced by the Earth's rotation because of centrifugal force. The effect of gravity at the equator is about one part in 289 less than it would be on a stationary Earth, or than it is at the poles, where there is no such force. The centrifugal force also throws the surface of the Earth at the equator about 13 miles farther than the poles from the center. This causes a further decrease in gravity, so a man who weighs 189 pounds at the pole would only weigh 188 pounds at the equator, as measured by a spring balance. Ordinary scales would not show this, since the weights used would be equally affected.

Terramycin Said Effective Against Pinworm Infection

Infection caused by the pinworm, the most common and widely distributed of all human parasites, can now be successfully treated with terramycin, according to a team of 6 American doctors conducting clinical trials in Haiti.

Treating 61 cases of pinworm infection, the physicians found terramycin effective in all but two patients. Clinical trials with the wide-range antibiotic drug were undertaken because, said the doctors, "the usual treatment with gentian violet often does not eradicate the infection, and not infrequently the drug must be discontinued due to toxic reactions." Several of the patients who had taken gentian violet previously said they found terramycin "considerably more tolerable."

Pinworm infection is found throughout the world and in all ages. Public health experts estimate it affects 35 per cent or more of the general population. In southern states 50 to 80 per cent of all children have had it. Caused by a small white worm, its most disturbing symptom is itching. Often scratching brings about a secondary infection. Pinworm may interfere with eating and result in loss of weight and anemia. The disease usually infects the entire family.

In their clinical report, appearing in the current issue of the medical journal, "Antibiotics and Chemotherapy," the doctors point out that successful therapy depends upon simultaneous treatment of the whole family. In this respect one of gentian violet's disadvantages, they say, is that young children often cannot swallow the enteric-coated tablets.

Whenever possible, the medical team in Haiti examined whole families and treated them simultaneously with terramycin. Full cooperation was not always obtainable, but "despite inadequate dosage in a large number of cases," says the report, "in only 2 instances did treatment definitely fail by the fourth week after therapy was begun."

North Carolina Attacks Highway Safety Problems

A sound program to promote safety on the highways has been set in motion by the state of North Carolina. The appalling number of deaths and injuries resulting from motoring accidents in recent years has provoked this state to take action of a new and decisive type.

Since the first of July, applicants for driver's licenses and renewals have been required to have their eyesight tested on a complex instrument which measures 12 visual skills, including muscular balance, acuity at near and far distances, and depth perception. The instrument makes it impossible for drivers with poor vision to slip by, by memorizing the letters that they must read — a trick sometimes played with conventional charts. Those who fail the tests are advised to consult an eyesight specialist, and many of them will undoubtedly be enabled to pass by professional eye-care.

Good vision has long been recognized as a major factor in accident prevention, and thousands of hours have been spent in attempts to establish proper standards for motorists. But the results were always inconclusive, because too much of the element of personal opinion was involved. Under the new system, however, definite statistics on 1,300,000 drivers will be obtained by next July 1, and it will be possible to judge accurately which visual errors contribute most to accidents and which visual skills are most essential to highway safety.

A Comet's Weight

What is the weight of a comet? Weight is a measurement of the attraction of the Earth for a body on or near its surface, and as a comet moves far out in space, and is subjected to a varying attraction from the Earth and other planets, one should not speak of its "weight." Its mass, which is a measure of the amount of matter it contains, can only be determined roughly. It has been estimated that with Halley's comet the nucleus, which contains most of the material, has a mass of about a two-hundred-millionth of the Earth's mass. This would be about thirty million million tons. It has also been determined that the particles of which Halley's comet is made could not be held together by the gravitational attraction of a mass smaller than one twenty-fifth of the above figure. Most comets, however, are much smaller than Halley's, and have considerably smaller mass.

Schedule Is Wise

A regular painting schedule actually simplifies property protection. One wise farmer does a fourth of his buildings each year. In that way, each gets its necessary coat of protection every four years without fail, and each year's painting project can be fitted in as other outdoor work permits. While city dwellers do not have as many structures to safeguard, they are wise to look on painting as property-value insurance and to follow a regular schedule.

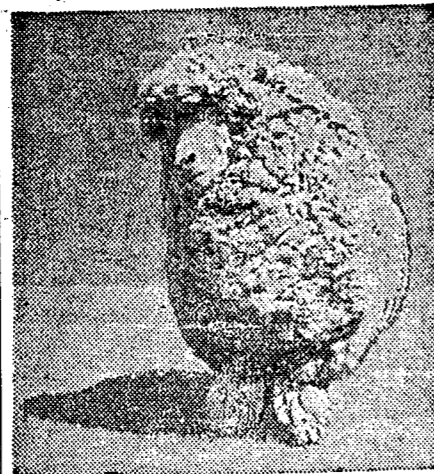

Chile Produces Some Of World's Best Wool Three-Fourths of Crop Is Shipped to U. S.

The small American farmer has learned from experience just how profitable a small flock of sheep can be to his general farm program. And in the western part of the country great flocks are maintained by producers.

One of the greatest producers of wool, now selling at a record price, is Chile. The industry is valued at $170,000,000 and employs more than 10,000 people.

Chile's first sheep were brought from Spain by the Spanish conqueror Pedro de Valdivia over 400 years ago. In 1877, 300 head were brought to the Punta Arenas area from the Falkland Islands.

The huge English Marsh Romney will produce 12 kilos of long staple wool, or 30 pounds. This type wool is often called the best in the world.

The industry specializes in the famous English Marsh Romney sheep which produces, according to many experts, the finest long staple wool in the world. Today, Chile has a total sheep population close to 7,000,000 head. Three quarters of the nation's wool crop — about 15,000 metric tons — goes to the United States. England gets the remainder.

Farm Worker Crop Output Triples in Fifty Years

Fifty years ago a farm worker produced enough food for himself and five other persons. Today the crops raised by a single worker are sufficient for 15 persons.

Although machinery has had much to do with this spectacular productivity record, a major factor is the expanded use of fertilizers. The nation's farms last year consumed 18,346,132 tons of soil food—six times as much as in 1901—at a cost of $744,000,000.

At the turn of the century 265 million acres of crop land, tilled by 13 million farm workers, were needed to supply the crops required by a population of 76 million. Now 10 million workers produce from 345 million acres of land the food required by twice as many Americans, as well as thousands of persons in other countries.

Agricultural authorities say that the use of fertilizer is responsible for roughly one-fourth of the volume of all crops.

The use of fertilizer is expected to continue upward for an indefinite period.

Seed Beds

It is a long time from planting seed beds, but gardeners and farmers might spend some of their spare time during the winter months making one. Seed beds with plastic covers are hailproof, shatter-proof and light in weight. A plastic-coated wire mesh, weighing less than glass, passes on to the plants most of the sun's ultraviolet and infrared rays. This material is available at most farm equipment dealers and hardware stores.

Poultry and Egg Eating Increases, Experts Say

Poultry experts report the American family is consuming more poultry and eggs and predicts the increase will continue during the rest of 1954. Forecasts indicate the average American will have eaten 30 pounds of chicken by the end of 1954, 10 per cent more than last year; 406 eggs, slightly more than in 1950; and about five pounds of turkey meat, approximately the same as last year.

Farallons, Bird Refuge, Now Closed to Civilians

California's Farallon islands whose 1950 U. S. census count of 48, even 30 inhabitants was reported complete before the April 1 official census started, found human traffic there far greater in the 19th century than it has been in the first half of the 20th.

Russian sealers occupied the bleak group, 26 miles west of San Francisco's Golden Gate, from 1812 to 1833, notes the National Geographic society. Drafting Indians and Aleuts as labor, they reduced seals from abundance to scarcity, taking close to 200,000 skins for the China trade. Sir Francis Drake had restocked his vessel with seal meat at the Farallons in 1579.

During the 1849 gold rush in California, food was scarce in San Francisco. Egg-gathering from the nests of gulls and murres on the Farallons became profitable and well organized, and the traffic continued for many years. Finally, bird lovers stepped in, and the islands are now a bird refuge, closed to civilians from April to August.

The Farallons, known but little even to mainland Californians, consist of three pinpoint groups of rocky islets spreading over seven miles of the Pacific ocean on air and water lanes of trans-Pacific travel. Paradoxically, although they are officially part of the City of San Francisco, the mayor and other city officials may not set foot on them without special permission.

The permission must come from the 12th coast guard district based in San Francisco. It provides the personnel that maintains the powerful beacon 358 feet above sea level atop Southeast Farallon, the only inhabited island of the group.

The lighthouse-keeping families live in neat, white houses at the foot of the high beacon cliff. A radar station and an automatic fog-signal horn complete the island's important navigation aid equipment.

Human Regard for Criminal Modern Idea, Says Educator

The idea that the legal offender shares a common humanity with his nonoffender brother is a relatively novel conception and regards the criminal as a human being and not subhuman, specialhuman, superhuman, inhuman, robothuman, or extrahuman, Dr. Robert Lindner, clinical psychologist at Harlem Lodge, Catonsville, Maryland, told the first session of the third annual institute on crime and delinquency which University of California extension held in Los Angeles recently.

Declaring that "offenders, too, are human," Dr. Lindner pointed out that the modern view of the criminal historically succeeds the primitive, theological, philosophical, mechanical, and psychiatric views. "The modern view is based on a total approach to the offender, including the whole person and his history in the world; it is based upon scientific knowledge that is reaching a level of maturity; its sources are biological, anthropological, sociological, and psychological. Among these, the psychoanalytical appears to be the most fruitful and comprehensive."

Study Hydrogen Bonds

While other scientists the nation over concern themselves with hydrogen bombs, Dr. Joseph W. Ellis and Dr. Leonard Glatt of the physics department of the University of California are busy with hydrogen bonds—a study more closely related to everyday life. Hydrogen bonds are links which assist in holding together the long molecular chains found in many of the substances we use in our daily life. These links are formed by the sharing of a proton (hydrogen nucleus) between two units of the same or different molecules. Examples of substances that bind together are liquid water, proteins, and many plastics, including nylon.

From Everywhere

The ingredients of paint products literally come from the world's four corners. Take, for example, a quarter pint can of varnish stain. It's packed in a shipping case made from fibre that may have come from Norway. The paper for the label may have come from the same place. The tin for the can probably came from either Bolivia or Malaya. The contents may consist of linseed oil that came from Argentina, the drier from Asia, tung oil from China, resin from Africa and dyes from England. Skillfully combined by American know-how, the user benefits from world-wide activity which he seldom realizes.

Making Good Soils

"Somehow the notion gets around," says Dr. Charles E. Kellogg of the U. S. department of agriculture, "that originally our farm soils were highly productive. That is, productive when first plowed. Many of them were, like the black lands in our Middle West and in central Eurasia, for example, and in some of the great deltas and alluvial valleys. But most soils are not. It is through liming and fertilization, drainage, irrigation, the introduction of legumes, and a host of other practices, that farmers have made their soils productive," explains Dr. Kellogg.

Habitat Program

Three more soil conservation districts have joined with the Idaho Fish and Game department in cooperative programs to coordinate the wildlife benefits with the soil and water conservation practices on member farms. More than a fourth of the state's soil conservation districts are now taking part in the program, which furnishes windbreak and other improvement plantings designed also to benefit game birds and other wildlife.

State Highway Report

Lewiston — Construction work has continued on five projects throughout the district during the past month.
 One project, Ashaka-Kendrick, was completed Dec. 2. The work on this section consisted of realignment and construction of roadbed on two sections of the highway to eliminate curves. One section was just east of Southwick, being 0.6 miles in length, and the other section being at Devil's Elbow, approximately one mile south of Cavendish, was 1/2-mile in length. The other work in the contract was to recondition the present roadway and place a crushed rock surfacing on 26.33 miles of the highway. Thirty-five men have been working on the project.

On the Potlatch Junction to Latah-Benewah County Line project, widening roadway from Princeton north, drilling and blasting rock points north of Harvard, clearing right of way and moving fences north of Harvard is underway. Thirty men are employed on this project.

Eight of way agents are in the field buying right of way for the next section of the Lewiston-Spalding Highway. To date approximately 75 percent of the right of way has been purchased, and it is planned to advertise the project for bids as soon as the right of way is secured.

Regular maintenance crews bladed roads, put up snow fences, sanded icy surfaces, and carried on with their regular maintenance winter duties.

Whitetail deer herds in many states are suffering from over-use of forage plants in their wintering yards. Note that there is nothing edible within reach of this doe. To help prevent development of similar conditions at the Farragut Wildlife Management Area, the Idaho Fish and Game department will again trap a number of excess animals and transplant them to start new herds in areas from which whitetail deer disappeared in early days.

THE Bull itin

Published Weekly by the Union Oil Service at Kendrick
W. L. "Bill" Rogers, Editor

HELLO, FOLKS:

Beyond a doubt most of you have heard of or practiced typing or writing that old exercise: "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party." Well, politics are over — and it should read: "Now is the time for all good men to look after their cars, pickups and trucks" — for winter, with all its driver pitfalls, is at hand.

Customer: "Here's the final installment on the baby's furniture." Storekeeper: "Splendid. And how is the little fellow getting on?" Customer: "Wonderfully. He had top grades in his high school class last semester!"

Come in and let us show you that wonderful U. S. Royal Mud & Snow tire — or a set of chains — for road safety. And then, there is that wonderful Royal Triton for your motor — Prestone for your radiator — and a grease for every moving part of your car. Be safe! Winterize with us.

Worker: "Would you increase my wages? I was married yesterday." "Sorry," said the foreman, "but we are not responsible for accidents outside the factory."

She: "There's one thing I want to tell you before you go any further." Her Date: "What's that?" She: "Don't go any further!"

It's said: "A woman is as old as she looks; a man as old as he feels." — Keep your "wheels" looking and running "new," by letting us service and care for them!
