Work for the year was planned and the work books explained. Two new members, Fay and Rose Cowger, were admitted to the group. The next meeting will be at the home of Shirley Harris.

Church News

The Community Church held its monthly meeting at the home of Christina Cuddy, Friday, with nine members present. Rev. Martin Swinney and Arnie Cuddy joined them for the noon dinner. The meeting was mostly taken over by rolling bandages, and approximately 125 rolls were sent to headquarters as a result of this meeting. A large box of used clothing and a quilt were also packed and sent. It would help the ladies a great deal if anyone having used sheets, greeting cards they did not want, and used clothing, or material for quilt blocks, would turn them in to the missionary group. The articles will all be used to the best advantage by the ladies — who sincerely thank you for help given to date.

There will be a Fellowship meeting Friday evening at the church here, with several churches not too far distant joining. Guests are expected from Weippe, Lenore and Clarkston. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Monday night a "Progressive Supper" was held for the young peoples class. The adult class ladies helping with the supper. Soup was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Benjamin; salad at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Armitage; main dish at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Thornton, and dessert at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Cuddy. After this meal the young people joined the adult class at the parsonage for a song fest, which was enjoyed by all.

New Parking Regulations

Tuesday afternoon local residents rubbed their eyes in amazement when they first saw "parallel parking" on Kendrick's Main Street, the new regulations and signs making their appearance simultaneously. We understand that as soon as weather conditions permit parking lines will appear on the oil road surface.

We have no information of the penalties, if any, for failing to comply, as the ordinance governing this rule has not yet been published.

RASH OF BURGLARIES HITS THIS AREA; LOSS GREAT

Thieves Make Rich Haul

Wednesday night, or perhaps we should say, "early Thursday morning" a thief or thieves broke into the Vernon Choate home on the schoolhouse hill, and got away with items estimated to exceed $800.00 in value.

Mr. Choate had attended the Lions Club meeting that evening, went to his home about 9:00 o'clock to check on the stove before joining his wife and family at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Choate, at Teakean. On leaving he locked the house completely.

Entrance was gained by breaking a window on the north side of the house, next to the Bob Magnuson home. The thief or thieves first attempted to remove the putty from around the glass, but failing, broke the window, and crawled through. They took from the home a Lica 35-mm camera, two other lenses for it, a light meter, view finder, flash attachment, etc., all for the camera; a table model radio, an electric clock and a Parker "51" pen set. In addition they hammered open little Marcia Choate's "piggy bank," getting from it an estimated $200.00 in small change — for a total "haul" of about $800.00.

The thieves were indeed bold, for the broken window was next to the Bob Magnuson home, and in addition the "piggy bank" was metal, of the cash register-type, so was not easy to batter open, but they carried on this job on the living room floor!

The exact time of the burglary is not known, but Mr. Magnuson said he heard a car leave the alley shortly after midnight, and it is presumed this was the one.

The sheriff's office at Moscow was notified, and the theft investigated by J. F. Jordan, sheriff.

In talking to us about the robbery Sheriff Jordan said that a great deal of this type of crime is going on now, and advised all householders to lock their homes when leaving. In addition, he recommended taking and recording in a safe place the serial numbers of all guns and watches owned, as this often provided the only means of identification if and when stolen items were recovered.

This robbery is only one of a series in this area. The first of these was the Wilbert Brunisiek home between Leland and Southwick, where guns, fishing tackle and jewelry were stolen.

Next came the robbery of the Alta Moore home on Big Bear ridge, where again fishing tackle and guns were taken.

Probably taken the latter part of December, but not discovered until Thursday morning, was the theft of a .3006 Springfield rifle from the Ernest Brammer home near Southwick. Mr. Brammer used the rifle the last day of hunting season, and Thursday morning spotted a coyote. He went for his rifle — only to discover his loss.

Our Comment: We have lived in Kendrick for better than a quarter of a century, and this recent outbreak of house burglaries is the first in our memory in all that time — and it behooves everyone to do all in their power to protect their property. True, we have had store and garage burglaries, but homes were passed by until recently. If you see anything suspicious when friends or neighbors are away, the sheriff's office asks that you notify them immediately, and attempt to identify the person or persons, or secure the license number of the vehicle.

Entertain Pinochle Club

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Westendahl were host and hostess for the Pinochle Club in their home last Thursday evening.

A "Doggie" Housecleaning Needed

It is the opinion of most residents of Kendrick that a doggone good "doggie" housecleaning would be a very fine thing.

Kendrick is literally over-run with dogs of every size, color and description — eleven being counted in one "pack" on Main Street one day this past week. Most of these are allowed to roam the streets day and night.

As a result yards, shrubs, white-wall tires and car bumpers suffer to a greater or lesser degree, and with the coming of spring, this nuisance will become all the greater, when flower beds and gardens come into being.

Quite a number of residents have threatened to "take the law into their own hands" unless something is done to correct the situation.

WHEREAS, the Chairman and Board of Trustees of the Village of Kendrick have determined as a fact that the comfortable enjoyment of homes and property by occupants and residents of said Village require, and in order to promote the general public health, convenience, welfare, economic well being and safety of the inhabitants of said Village, the Chairman and Board of Trustees have decided to license and regulate the practice of soliciting orders for sale and selling by peddlers, hawkers, itinerant and transient solicitors, and itinerant and transient vendors of goods, wares and merchandise within said village.

licensee to show cause why such notice should not be revoked; such notice shall fix a time and place for a hearing and at such time and place so fixed the licensee may appear informally or otherwise and show cause why such license should not be revoked. If it shall appear at such hearing to the satisfaction of the Chairman and Board of Trustees that the licensee has been conducting his business, endeavor or activity in an offensive and improper manner the license may be revoked by resolution and such revocation shall be effective immediately.

Fishing Regulations

The Idaho Fish and Game Commission last week set approximately the same fishing seasons, bag limits and regulations as last year. The general season again runs from June 4th through October 31, and most of the special seasons set in various localities also will be continued.

The trout and kokanee bag limit continues at 7 pounds and 1 fish — not to exceed 15 fish. A number of changes were made, however, and these will be made available in printed form before the new regulations go into effect on April 1.

Report Thorough Cooking Of Pork Cuts Down Disease

Thorough cooking of fresh pork can help to reduce materially the incidence of trichinosis, an infection from diseased pork, it was shown in a report made public by Dr. Rodney R. Beard of San Francisco.

Dr. Beard credited that as one of the factors in an apparent two-thirds reduction in the incidence of trichinosis in San Francisco since 1936.

Trichinosis is caused by Trichinella spiralis worms which sometimes are found in pork. The worms lay eggs in the human intestinal tract. The embryos work their way into muscles, especially the diaphragm, where they develop. Diarrhea, nausea, colic and fever are the usual early symptoms of the disease, followed later by stiffness, pain, swelling of the muscles, fever, sweating and insomnia. The seriousness of the infection depends upon the degree to which the pork has been infected. Severe infections may cause death.

Dr. Beard cited a 1936 study in San Francisco of a random sampling of 200 human diaphragms taken at autopsy. Trichinosis worms were found in 24 per cent of the organs. A more recent study of 161 diaphragms, also a random sampling, showed only 8 per cent were infected—a decrease of two thirds.

He first pointed out that federal, state and local regulations now assure adequate processing of pork products intended to be eaten without cooking. In San Francisco, for example, stringently enforced rules by the local Department of Public Health provide for adequate salting and drying of Italian style salami, an uncooked product, or possible prior killing of trichinae by freezing.

Another factor he mentioned was the reduction in the proportion of pork from garbage-fed hogs. Wartime scarcity of labor, difficulties of transportation and other factors.

Statisticians Report Life Safest Ages Nine and Ten

Life in the United States is safest at ages nine and ten, according to Insurance Company statisticians, and less safe during the first year than at any age to and including 65.

This is based upon an analysis by the statisticians of mortality data for the general population in 1949, as reported by the National Office of Vital Statistics.

An all-time high of 67.6 years in expectation of life at birth registered during the year represents a gain of fully 4 years since 1940, the statisticians note, and a gain of 18½ years since the start of the century.

Our greatest gains in life expectation, it is pointed out, have been at the early ages. At birth the gain in life expectation for males during the decade has been more than three years, whereas at age 40 the increase was less than a year.

"This reflects the strides made in the control of the infections of early life," the statisticians explain, "in contrast to the limited progress which has been made in the control of the chronic diseases of middle and later life. Then, too, with an unchanged life span limit of about 100 years, the closer that limit is reached the smaller is the margin left for gain."

The extent to which women live longer than men is greater than ever before. According to mortality conditions prevailing in 1949, women outlive men by an average of 5.6 years, as compared with 4.5 years at the beginning of the decade.

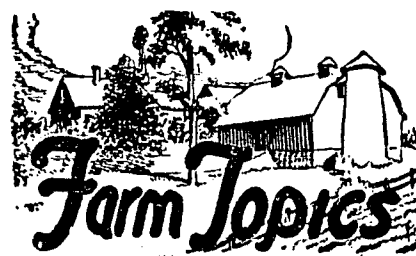

Even if there should be no further improvement in mortality, most people now living in the United States can expect to live beyond the biblical three score and ten years, according to the statisticians.

Finding Fingerprints

Criminal investigators use various methods to make fingerprints visible, depending on the surface where the fingerprint is located, its age, and other factors. When one touches a surface with the fingers, the ridges on the finger tips usually leave an invisible pattern of perspiration. If the print is on light-colored paper, and not more than a few days old, finely powdered lampblack or graphite dusted over it will usually make it visible. On a dark surface a white powder would be required. For older prints, there are various methods using chemicals which react with the minute amount of salts, such as potassium and sodium chloride, left after the perspiration has dried. In one such method, the paper bearing latent prints is dipped in a weak solution of silver nitrate, which converts the chlorides into silver chloride.

Aid for Key Losers

Motor-car-key forgetters or losers will be interested to know that Edward J. Tobin of Norfolk has come to the rescue with his invention of a combination lock to take the place of keys for automobiles. With this dial on your instrument panel, you can forget your key, but not your combination. It works like the combination on a safe. National Patent Council suggests that the combination numbers be kept with your driver's license. Tobin's patent is good for 17 years, and by that time he hopes combination locks will be clicking in autos throughout a good part of the motor world.

Experts Say Barn Windows Practicable Sun Reduces Disease And Barn Moisture

Farm experts are urging farmers to make practical use of sunshine to solve some of their problems of moisture, sanitation and daylighting inside farm buildings by installing large windows.

Farm building windows in the past have been too small, have frosted over during cold weather so that sufficient sun energy could not get into the building to provide warmth. Also, little attention has been given to the germicidal effect of direct sunlight in the poultry house, dairy barn or farrowing pen.

Proper ventilation and sunlight not only helps to dry up moisture, but direct sunlight helps kill bacteria wherever they gain access to farm buildings.

As an example of the sun's heating power, in a central farrowing house in Iowa using insulated windows in the south wall, the inside temperature never dropped below freezing although the outside temperature hit 25 to 30 degrees below zero.

Wheat, Corn Estimates Below Last Year Yield

The nation's 1951 corn and wheat crops will fall short of 1950 production, according to the latest U. S. Department of Agriculture report.

The corn crop for all purposes is estimated at 3,105 million bushels, a decline of 26 million bushels from last year's production, but above the 1940-49 average of 2,981 million bushels. The indicated yield per acre of 36.7 bushels is 0.9 bushels above the average of 33.9 bushels.

Production of corn for grain this year is estimated at 2,789 million bushels compared with 2,845 million bushels last year.

Total wheat production is estimated at 994 million bushels, about 3 per cent smaller than the 1950 crop of 1,027 million, and 7 per cent smaller than the average of 1,071 million bushels.

Corn and wheat production, however, is expected to meet U.S. needs.

Poultry Litter

A specially-processed vermiculture poultry litter has been put on the market for the first time. Poultry producers might find that it will fulfill their needs. Called San-Flor, it is fireproof, vermin-proof, an efficient insulator against cold, and a non-conductor of electricity. The product is being introduced to seed and feed dealers and hardware stores across the country. It comes in four cubic foot bags, weighing about 25 pounds.

Dead Tree Perils Are Acute When Winter Hits

Alive, trees are considered among the householder and farmer's best friends. Dead, they become his most dangerous enemies. Trees that succumb to insects or disease have a way of developing into serious menaces long before owners are aware of their peril. These woody foes should be removed before winter storms hit. Snow, sleet and howling winds make them acutely dangerous.

Water Supply Vital In Farm Fire Control Annual Damage Amounts To Over $100 Million

Recently a New Jersey farmer's barn was set afire by lightning, and despite the efforts of three fire departments from nearby villages, the barn was a complete loss.

Two factors combined to defeat the firemen. There was a delay in notifying the fire department because the fire wasn't immediately noticed. There wasn't a good supply of water near the barn from which the pumpers could draw.

These conditions are common to most properties in rural or small town areas. If rural residents can find means to correct them, they will go a long way toward reducing the large number of "total losses" that occur on farm properties, causing damage amounting to $100,000,000 a year and taking the lives of 3,500 farm residents.

No water. There is not much these firemen could do to save the barn without an adequate water supply.

In spite of efforts on the part of county agents, farm groups, insurance men, and volunteer fire departments to encourage the building of farm ponds, there still are thousands of farms in all parts of the country with inadequate water supplies.

The easiest way to provide adequate water is to dam a brook, or deepen an existing marsh or water hole near the barn. Or a farmer may be able to bulldoze a suitable pond near his buildings. For proper drainage, the pond should be laid out with surveying instruments.

'Sound of Corn Growing' Recorded by Professor

Probably every farmer in the United States at one time or another has heard the old saw "it's so hot you can almost hear the corn growing." Now, seven men, including three University of Wisconsin experts, have joined the ranks of believers.

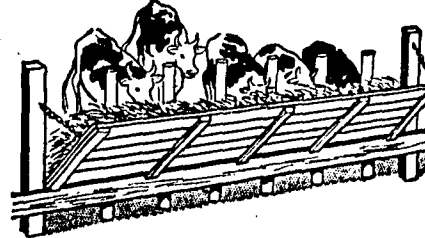

They have a tape recording of what they describe as corn growing. Herbert Jacobs, telegraph and farm news editor of the Madison Capital Times, thought up the idea. With the aid of Wisconsin U. experts the experiment was conducted in a 100-acre stand of university raised corn.

Recording equipment was carried 500 feet into the field. Microphones were carried deep into the corn rows. There was no wind or other noises to complicate the recording, the experimenter reported.

When the experiment was over and the recording played, Verner E. Suomi, associate professor of meteorology at the school, said, "When background noises subsided, you could hear that corn growing."

Farm experts report corn makes 80 per cent of its growth during night-time and will grow as much as two to five inches in one night.

Hinged Fence

Here is an idea a number of midwest farmers might use in their feed lots. Hinged at the bottom and held in position by chains, a section of fence is lowered to form a manger. It can be raised when not in use to become again part of the fence. Posts should be set along the length of the manger as illustrated.

Farm Land Prices Up Sharply in Nebraska

Farm land dollar values in Nebraska have increased 124 per cent since 1939, according to figures of the bureau of agricultural economics. In the west north central region of the country, of which Nebraska is a part, prices have increased 3 per cent during the four months ending in July. This despite the usual seasonal reduction in farm real estate activity and a downturn in farm products.

Squirrel Provides Big Part Of Nation's Yearly Game Bag

Although it is generally recognized as a prolific game species of extensive range, comparatively few people realize the truly important part the squirrel plays in the nation's game bag.

Several years ago the Remington Arms Company, Inc., conducted a survey of national wildlife resources and sportsmen's hunting preferences. The survey revealed that the squirrel ranked second only to the rabbit as the most sought-after game species in the country.

A recent analysis of "Hunters' Scorecards" returned to the office of the Mississippi Game and Fish commission placed the squirrel in an outstanding position in the hunting activities of the sportsmen of the Magnolia state. The analysis brings to light the fact that 79 per cent or 150,000 of the licensed hunters in Mississippi sought squirrel during the 1950-51 hunting season. The cotton-tail rabbit and the Bob White quail practically tied for second high rank, with the rabbit coming out the quail by the slight margin of 47.15% to 47.12%. Next in line was the lowly possum with the somewhat surprising score of 23.06%, topping the dove's rating of 21.58%.

A breakdown of the analysis in hunting activity percentage and estimated total statewide kill follows: deer 6%, 1,370; wild turkey 1.35%, 249; quail 47.12%, 2,119,532; squirrel 79.83%, 2,418,574; rabbit 47.15%, 900,360; coon 16.2%, 208,712; possum 23.06%, 386,145; dove 21.58%, 522,876; ducks 8.97%, 182,217.

Patients On Salt-Free Diet Given Hope for Meal Variety

Patients on a monotonous salt-free diet were given the hope of adding more variety to their meals in two reports on further experiments in the recently developed exchange resin therapy. Exchange resin compounds have been administered to patients having congestive heart failure, cirrhosis of the liver, or kidney ailments which cause excessive fluids to collect in the system. The resin compounds eliminate the sodium which locks in the fluids. Because of this action, it becomes possible for the patient to take more sodium in his diet than would otherwise be possible.

In a report on resin therapy presented by Drs. Carl Voyles, Jr., and Edward S. Orgain, Duke University School of Medicine, Durham, N. C., it was concluded that "Resin therapy is a useful adjunct to conventional therapy management of chronic congestive heart failure, and it can be used safely in conjunction with strict sodium restriction in patients who are followed closely. Resin therapy also makes possible the addition of sodium chloride in amounts sufficient to render the diet more palatable," the report added, and it facilitates the action of mercurial compounds that help in fluid elimination.

The second report on exchange resin therapy reviewed studies by Drs. B. L. Martz, K. G. Kohlstaedt, and O. M. Helmer, at the Lilly Clinic for Cardiovascular Research, Indianapolis.

Sleep Anywhere

One of the most energetic causes of sleep is fatigue. It is said that prisoners upon the rack have slept through sheer exhaustion while undergoing the horrors of torture. In a like manner, if one is tired enough he will be able to sleep on the floor or on any manner of uncomfortable bed, although he will not thoroughly relax. To the person who has known the luxury of sleeping on a good quality bed, though, sleeping on a worn out, sagging mattress and spring is almost as much torture as going to sleep on a prisoner's rack.

War and Peace

Development of the flame thrower, which first became a military weapon during World War II and has been used extensively by the Army in Korea, led to the peace-time perfection of a highly proficient weed killer. Tests at the Army Chemical Corps Center, at Edgewood, Maryland, proved that a thick jet of burning, jellied gasoline would kill weeds between rows of plants without harming the plants themselves.

Deciding Issue

If it had not been for the magic of the name "George Washington" the fabulous Phineas T. Barnum may have lived out his life in obscurity as a poor country storekeeper. One day, the man who was to become known as "the greatest showman on earth" heard an interesting story of a remarkable Negro woman, Joice Heth, who claimed to be 161 years old. When he went to see her, purely out of curiosity, she asserted that she had been the nurse of George Washington. Barnum became so excited upon discovery of documentary evidence to back up her claims, he decided to sell his store and exhibit the strange old woman in the east. The tour proved so successful, and stirred up so much interest, he was inspired to engage in other similar ventures. Finally, he formed the partnership with James A. Bailey, out of which grew the most famous circus in America.

Most Life Policy Benefits Go to Widows, Children

Reflecting the basic use of life insurance in family financial planning, wives, children and other relatives appear to be the directly named beneficiaries in more than 80 percent of all life policy death claims; the Institute of Life Insurance says. This is indicated by an Institute analysis of one month's claims in the United States.

Applied to the year's probable total of death claims, the one month's distribution would indicate that this year, wives, children and relatives will be beneficiaries of some 1,200,000 life insurance policies, with total benefits about $1,400,000,000. Wives and children alone would account for $1,225,000,000. In addition, they will receive a considerable share of the 7 percent of claims and 14 percent of benefit payments which go to estates and other beneficiaries, excepting husbands.

Husbands were shown to be beneficiaries in 11 percent of the policies, although they received only 4 percent of aggregate benefits, reflecting the smaller average size of policies owned by women.

The month's claim analysis also revealed that, while the majority of death claims were paid on policies which had been in force a number of years, there was a large number in the early life of policies, even in the first year. Although great care is taken in selecting applicants, with those to whom policies are issued being in apparent relatively good health, nearly 5 percent of policies becoming death claims were found to be less than a year old. This would indicate that this year there will be some 70,000 death claims within a year of issuance of policies, with nearly $100,000,000 involved.

Nearly one-sixth of all claims were shown to be under policies less than five years old. Almost 40 percent of the claims and just over 40 percent of the amount of benefits paid were under policies in force 20 years or more.

Preventive Measures Urged As Safeguard Against Stroke

The best way to avoid a stroke, third among leading causes of death in this country, is to recognize its possibility and make physical readjustments that may help to stave it off.

In the absence of serious systemic diseases such as diabetes and syphilis, there is not much chance of the average person having a stroke before 45 years of age, according to Dr. William Bolton, associate editor of the magazine, Today's Health. But, virtually everyone past middle age is a possible candidate. The following precautions were recommended.

1. Obtain prompt, active treatment of systemic diseases.
2. Do not become or remain overweight.
3. Watch blood pressure that tends to become high.
4. Obtain regular physical check-ups.

"Strokes vary from widespread, devastating ones that bludgeon their victims into oblivion to tiny ones producing such vague, indefinite signs that they often escape immediate detection," he said. "The basic cause in both extremes is identical: escape of blood into the brain tissue. The amount of bleeding and its location near to or far from vital centers or important nerve pathways are the chief factors that determine severity in strokes.

"Not all strokes are the result of direct escape of fluid from blood vessels into brain tissue. Some physicians lean strongly to the belief that temporary spasm in a blood vessel may be a common cause.

"Another fairly common event is formation of a clot within one or more of the tiny arteries in the brain.

"There is increased possibility of stroke, in certain diseases."

Tough Case

Recognizing the fact that portable movie projectors are often carried into all sorts of climates and that they must withstand the hard knocks incident to travel, the manufacturer of one such machine has devised a special carrying case that is able to "take it." Built of birch and basswood, high frequency radio waves are used to set the adhesive that binds the panels so they can never pull apart. The case is then dipped in a synthetic resin sealer that checks decay and minimizes moisture absorption. It is then primed, sanded, and painted with a spatter finish. Allowed to cure for three weeks, the finish is hard and durable. Even after years of intensive service, it does not become brittle or chip away from the wood.

Pre-War Army

Six months before World War II began, the Army contained 29 infantry and cavalry divisions at nearly full strength, totaling more than 450,000 officers and men, plus an armored force of four divisions with a total strength of 40,000 troops. The Army history, "Washington Command Post: The Operations Division," credits mobilization of the National Guard and induction under the Selective Service Act for this rapid expansion of strength.

Achievement Pays Off for Idaho 4-H'ers

MERITORIOUS achievement records in the 1954 National 4-H Beautification of Home Grounds, Leadership, and Meat Animal programs have brought state honors to four club members from Idaho. A 19-jewel watch was awarded to each. The winners and some of their major achievements are:

The State award for all-around accomplishment in the 4-H Meat Animal program in 1954 went to Carol Hatton, 16, of Moscow.

Her pigs were Reserve Grand Champion at the 1951 Pacific International Livestock Exposition and Grand Champion of the 1952 Latah County Fair. In 1953 her Hereford steer was Reserve Grand Champion at Spokane and at the Palouse Empire Fair at Colfax, Wash. Carol has been president of the club led by Rudolph Schroeder. She plans to major in home economics at college, and return to the farm to raise Herefords.

In recognition of her accomplishments, Thomas E. Wilson presented her with a 17-jewel pocket watch award.

Two 4-H Club members in Idaho have been named boy and girl state winners in the 1954 Leadership program, for outstanding guidance of club and community projects. They are Floyd Hansen, 16, of Polkath and Carol Lee Andrews, 17, of Copeland.

In his eight years in 4-H activities, Floyd has become a proficient young dairyman, with a Guernsey herd of his own. He won a Guernsey calf at the Latah County Fair for his fitting and showing. In electrification, Floyd has won numerous blue ribbons. He is especially interested in working with and leading young 4-H'ers, and has been president of his local 4-H Club for four years. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Kemmelman and Mr. and Mrs. Hank Riehart, his local leaders, are very proud of him.

A 4-H'er for nine years, Carol Lee Andrews has taken especial interest in clothing and home demonstration projects. She has been Style Revue winner of trips four times, and has cut the family food bills with her knowledge of home freezing and food preparation. An able leader and organizer, she has led many fund-raising campaigns in her community. Her two leaders are Trudy Chisholm and Gwen Krauss.

A 19-jewel wrist watch was presented to each by Edward Ross Wilson, Chairman of the Board, Wilson and Co., Chicago.

For greatly improving her family's homestead surroundings, Florence Bond, 15, of Shoshone, has been named state winner in the 1954 4-H Beautification of Home Grounds program.

Florence has completed a Home Beautification project for four years, and received honors each year. She has built a rack for yard tools and uses insecticide for foliage protection. Every fall she moves gladioli bulbs and house plants inside for protection from frost. This year, Florence plans to add several flower borders to her yard. Her local leader is Mrs. Fred Kohl.

Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen of Chicago rewarded Florence's efforts with a handsome 19-jewel wrist watch appropriately inscribed.

UTILITY COMPANIES MUST SPEND HUGE SUM SOON

"Private utility companies must spend two billion dollars over the next 20 years to assure an adequate supply of electricity for Inland Empire and Northwest customers," V. S. Casebolt, Palouse Division manager for the Washington Water Power company said here this week.

He said the estimate of expenditures was disclosed by W. W. P. president Kinsey M. Robinson, who has just been re-elected president of the newly-formed Pacific Northwest Power company. The utility executive emphasized that the private firms "could do the job if given a chance to go ahead on building plans."

Commenting on the activities of the big generating company, which is composed of four Northwest private power companies, including W. W. P., Casebolt said preliminary investigations were being made at a major site on the Clearwater river, and that filings had been made for preliminary permits to study two other large sites on the Snake.

"Developments of the three sites which include Mountain Sheep and Pleasant Valley on the Snake, and Bruce Eddy on the Clearwater, would mean over 1,000,000 kilowatts of new power," he said. "But in order to keep abreast of growing demands, utilities will have to install some 200,000 new kilowatts a year that will cost $100,000,000 a year for the next 20 years."

Estimated cost of the two dams on the Snake would be about $225,000,000, and produce 850,000 kilowatts. If the Bruce Eddy site proves feasible, additional millions will be spent on it.

"The four-company venture is the first concrete evidence of the Pacific Northwest's intention of developing new power as outlined in President Eisenhower's power partnership program," Casebolt said. Participating with the W. W. P. in the new generating company are Montana Power, Portland General Electric and Pacific Power & Light companies. Together they serve over 800,000 electric customers, representing nearly 50 percent of all power users in Washington, northern Idaho, Oregon and Montana.

Casebolt pointed out that the joint power generating venture by the company would in no way affect the independent operation of the separate companies, and that they would be continuing their own expansion programs, costing many millions of dollars.

"These tax-paying private utilities are proving that by working together they can handle large-scale power projects, and it is an indication of their desire and determination to participate in orderly development of this power-hungry region," he said. "And with this northwest corner of the United States using three times more power than anyone else, every power producing agency — federal, public and private — must maintain an aggressive building program to keep up with the demand."

Idaho Briefs

Paris — An Illinois motorist, on his way to Seattle, slid off Highway 89 in the Snake river canyon and plunged nearly 300 feet down the steep embankment to the river bed. The driver, Clement Turner, his wife and seven-year-old daughter received only minor injuries.

Burley — David Dyck's car couldn't seem to find a place to light. "Headed west at about 50 miles per hour, the vehicle suddenly crossed the road and went into the left borrow pit," a report by State Patrolman Marvin Snyder stated. "The car rolled over, landed on its wheels, then crossed the road into the right borrow pit, out of it and on into the sage brush." Dyck and two companions received only minor injuries.

Published Weekly by the Union Oil Service at Kendrick
W. L. "Bill" Rogers, Editor

HELLO, FOLKS:

Well, here it is darn near the middle of February — and the weather acting just like March — but you know, as well as we do, that these chill, windy days take as much fuel to heat your home as real winter cold! So don't try to "just get by" on that fuel tank. Call us at 1251, Kendrick, and we'll fill your tank with that famous Union Burner Oil. The clean, hot heat that will "satisfy you — and your stove!"

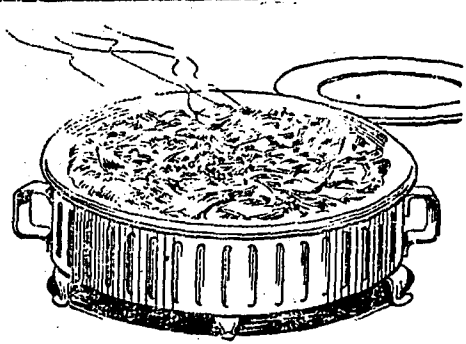

The teacher had forbidden the eating of candy or chewing of gum during school. One day she noticed a lump in Johnny's cheek. "Johnny, are you eating candy or chewing gum?" "No, ma'am," replied Johnny. "I'm just soaking up a prune to eat at recess."

Is that oil in your car's motor getting pretty black and thin as a result of winter use? If so, why wait for spring? Bring it to us for a change and a filling of that famous Royal Triton 10-30 — the oil that really lubricates — in fact — the finest!

Husband (calling to wife, sick in bed) "I can't find the tea, dear."

Wife: "I don't know why not. It's right in front, on the cupboard shelf, in a cocoa tin marked 'matches'."

Mud and slush are coming as snow leaves, and nothing cuts chassis-lubrication faster. Bring in that car, truck or pickup often for a job with those specialized Union Lubricants.
