Weather Continues Mild

Mild weather, with night temperatures dropping down to about 20 have been the rule for this area the past week, and as an indication, lilac buds here in the canyon are beginning to swell, and some even show a green color. Residents may be seen here and there raking leaves and twigs from lawns and otherwise putting about in "hopeful anticipation" of spring.

The mild weather has forced an almost complete suspension of logging operations, for where load limits do not interfere, soft logging roads have stopped the trucks.

Kendrick Whips Old Rivals

Kendrick managed to win the last game of the season for Lapwai Tuesday night by a score of 55 to 47. Kendrick's record for the season shows six wins and 11 losses.

Jim Armitage, Glen Wegner and Norman Silflow did most of the scoring for Kendrick, Armitage leading with 19 points. Lapwai's high point man was Sabotta, who had 12 points.

Kendrick's man-to-man defense kept Lapwai from positions under the basket, and as a result they took many shots from the far court.

There was a very large attendance and the crowd well behaved, considering how close the scoring ran.

The shooting percentage of both teams was 26% from the field, while from the foul stripe Lapwai had a 65% average, Kendrick trailing with 58%.

The score by quarters: First, 16-10; Kendrick; half, 22-all; third, 39-all; final, 55-47.

Another Load Limit Appears

Joining the road sections where Load Limit signs have made their appearance was the Kendrick Highway District, which Tuesday posted a "250 lbs. per inch of tire width" load limit throughout the boundaries of the district.

Hiram Galloway says roads are breaking up rapidly as the frost leaves the ground, and it may be necessary to go to an even lower limit.

The help of truckers throughout the area in observing load limits and helping to preserve roads will be indeed appreciated by the highway districts in this area.

LET'S FACE THE FACTS

To begin with all will agree that Kendrick is a farming community — in fact, to be specific, it is a "farmers town" — dependent almost entirely on farmer trade for its existence, and on this basis it is up to the business men and merchants to meet the desires of the farmers as nearly as possible.

Based on this premise it may be stated frankly that a "storm of protest" is arising from the business men and merchants on the new "Parallel Parking" regulation put in by the state highway department last week, for this move cuts at least squarely in half, the number of cars that may be parked on Main Street — and on Friday and Saturday night, but particularly Saturday nights, this creates quite a problem, for streets and alleys alike are generally jam-packed with cars that night.

In the "opening gun" of working over Kendrick's traffic problem, the state asked for a speed limit increase from 20 to 35 miles an hour within the incorporated limits. This the Village Trustees would not grant, but in certain areas did allow the increase to 35, and the remainder of the town to 25. Frankly, we do not understand this state move, since speed is admittedly the No. 1 killer on our highways and Idaho has the highest traffic death increase of any state in the nation! Almost weekly we get from Dwight Crofford, Safety Director of the Idaho Department of Highways from one to three articles on "Highway Safety" — yet the state wants to increase speed through Kendrick. (We understand the 35-mile request was granted at Juliaetta.)

Next move by the State Highway Department was the erection of "Parallel Parking Only" signs on Main Street, apparently in a move to make the street wider for higher speeds. But why? For when two cars were parked diagonally on the one block, which is the only one on which full diagonal parking was allowed — the space was still wider than that between Kendrick and Juliaetta just beyond the Werner Brammer home — and on that portion of the road a 50-mile per hour speed limit was permitted. We might add that several serious accidents have occurred at the point above mentioned, and yet the state has made no move to widen or improve that stretch for several years — and they want wider streets and higher speed in Kendrick!

In an effort to solve the parking problem thus created by the state it has been proposed to go into the Village park, and pour a concrete circular drive with parking stalls — but you can "just bet" that this has really met with terrific opposition. To begin with, our park and swimming pool are the mecca for summer visitors for miles around, the green grass and cool shade, plus a delightful summer dip being the answer to many a hot summer evening — and to wreck it with concrete is unthinkable.

Too, if the concrete circle were installed it would provide just one more spot for the "hot rodders" and "bang-pipers" to enjoy racing. We have had the spectacle of these two (or maybe it's just one) categories making the night hideous with their games of hide-and-seek and tag (streets played with lights out) on our streets and alleys for many months, topped off with "spinning" on the school playground, and occasionally on the ball field, much to the detriment of these two areas — and to add this circular driveway would only be to increase this type of nuisance, and attendant danger. No, some other solution must be found for this state-created problem.

To go back to our original statement that "Kendrick is a farmers' town" no better proof could be asked than the storm of protest that arose when trees were cut on Main Street some two years ago — for the farmers liked the town as it was, with its thick shade trees, and so the Village Trustees desisted from further tree removal.

Now, perhaps the state does have the right to tell us how we shall park cars, not being a lawyer we wouldn't know — but we think the Village Trustees should find out why the sudden state interest in our Village traffic, and what right, if any, the state does have — and have they shown the same interest in all villages over the state through which a state highway runs?

We can't feel that the state has the right to regulate the internal affairs of our Village, and if they do have — let them first put their own house in order by widening and straightening the road between Kendrick and Juliaetta — then come to us!

SCHOOL NOTES

Traffic Safety Director Visits
Harold Danis, director of Traffic Safety Division, Idaho Law Enforcement Dept., called at the High school last Thursday to discuss the Driver Training course with Mr. Meserve, Mr. Cook and Mr. Kanikkeberg. He stated that Idaho is now giving 222 percent of its High school graduates Driver Training, and more schools are making plans to get the course into their programs. Three states now require Driver Training as part of graduation requirements.

Drivers trained in the High School Driver Training classes are involved in about one-half as many fatal accidents as persons of the same age group who have not had the training.

At least one large insurance company gives up to 16% discount on premiums to those persons under 25 years of age who have satisfactorily completed a driver training course. This discount applies also to premiums on the family car where all of those under 25 who drive it have completed a Driver Training course.

New Street Lights Installed
Last week H. C. Schupfer of the local W. W. P. force completed the installation of the new "vapor" lights on the school house hill, and a vast difference they make, particularly on the parking and playground at the school house.

These lights will make possible the parking of more cars, as drivers and directors alike can see where they are putting them, rather than having to depend on headlights and a flashlight.

Grange Meets Tuesday Evening

Kendrick Grange met Tuesday evening in the Fraternal Temple, for their regular business session. Attendance was rather small due to competition from the Lapwai-Kendrick basketball game. Square dancing followed the meeting.

Refreshments were served in the banquet room by the hostess committee: Esther Blewett, Goldie Mustoe, Betty May, Bertha McCall and Floy McCreary.

Receive Forest Dividend

St. Maries — The St. Joe National Forest has again declared another cash dividend to the counties in which it is located, namely: Benewah, Latah, Shoshone and Clearwater, according to George H. Duvendack, supervisor. By law, 25 percent of the receipts from the sale of national forest timber, forage, and special uses, is returned each year to the state for distribution to the counties involved to help finance their school and road systems.

The total cash contributions for the fiscal year 1954 is 18 percent greater than last year. The distribution by counties is: Benewah, $3,847; Clearwater, $4,071; Latah, $8,752; and Shoshone, $53,283.

Mr. Duvendack states that the greatest dividends the people receive from their national forests cannot be expressed in dollars. Recreational uses and dependable water supplies far exceed all other values.

Timber harvesting on a sustained yield basis pays big dividends to all the people of the nation. The principle of sustained yield is simply limiting the harvest of national forest resources to keep within the reproductive capacity of the land. In applying the principle of multiple use to wildland management, we endeavor to put each acre, each area, to the use for which it is best suited, but at the same time recognize the co-existence of other uses on the same acre or the same area.

Cougar Bounty Lowered

During its recent January meeting the Idaho Fish and Game commission revised the cougar bounty to provide a $25.00 bounty on these animals taken anywhere in the state. The provision will go into effect July 1. Until then, the present bounty of $50.00 on animals taken in north Idaho only will remain in effect.

Soap Holes Found Value in Disguise

Produce Magic Mud
With Multiple Uses

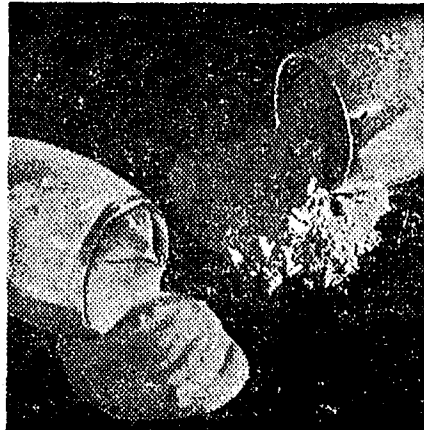

Ever since Belle Fourche, S. D., was a rip-snorting cattle town at the end of the old Chisholm trail its residents have been damning the "soap holes" that plagued the area.

Fast-riding cowboys often took a nasty tumble in this super-slippery mud and cattle were forever getting bogged down in them.

But now, like a man discovering his hives are really a blessing, Belle Fourche has found its soap holes are one of its biggest assets.

Every one of them is filled with a magic mud called bentonite. It's an odorless, tasteless, soapy mud with a thousand uses and scientists are thinking up new ones every day.

Most of us already are using it a half dozen times a day, but almost nobody has heard of it. Men use it in shoe polish and hand cleaners. Women use it in face powder, lotions, beauty cream. Bentonite also is found in many types of paint, plaster and cleaning agents. It's handy for filling holes in giant dams and for casting moulds for molten metal. Forced down thousands of feet into the earth this magic mud lubricates the drills in oil wells and sends the debris up to the drillers.

Bentonite is the most absorbent material found in nature. When moistened it swells to several times its normal size. This quality makes it useful in waterproofing housing foundations and many other industrial uses.

Its new uses and increasing popularity for its older uses all add up to a boom such as Belle Fourche hasn't seen since the gold rush.

In the past 10 years the population has practically doubled and bentonite now pours $600,000 a year into the town in the form of additional purchasing power.

Fifteen years ago Belle Fourche shipped out three carloads of bentonite. Last year its production was 6,187 carloads and this year they expect carloading to go considerably higher.

Scientists say that bentonite, a strange mixture made up mostly of dust from prehistoric volcanoes, is found almost nowhere in the world except in the Black Hills of Wyoming and South Dakota.

It is the most absorbent material nature ever has devised, they say, and a half dozen teaspoonsful will soak up a glass of water.

Insect Killers Made By Synthetic Means

New pyrethrum-like chemicals that kill insects have been made synthetically for the first time in the laboratories of the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine. It has been announced by the U. S. department of agriculture.

The chemical makeup of the synthetic materials is almost identical with that of the insect-killing principle in pyrethrum, according to the chemists.

Modern Dentistry Can Aid Youth with Cleft Palate

The role of modern dentistry in the total rehabilitation of young men and women with cleft lip or cleft palate so they can lead happy useful lives is revealed in the Journal of the American dental association.

Asserting that more children are born with this condition than any other congenital deformity, Dr. Herbert K. Cooper, director of the Lancaster, Pa., cleft plate clinic, estimated that at least one out of every 700 children have this handicap.

"The most frequently found condition has been getting the least amount of attention," he said. "The citizens of this country should be as well informed on the subject of cleft palate as they are on polio-myelitis, cerebral palsy and rheumatic fever."

Citing cases of patients treated at the clinic, Dr. Cooper told of a youth, 17, born with a cleft lip and cleft palate. During infancy, surgery had been performed, leaving him with a flat upper lip and very poor speech.

"He shunned all social contacts," Dr. Cooper said. "He left high school and was driving a truck. His whole family was extremely upset."

Dr. Cooper said the youth was given a medical, dental, speech and psychological examination. An appliance was constructed to build out the upper lip and cheeks and thimble crowns were placed on his five remaining upper teeth. At the same time, he was given speech instruction.

The boy was persuaded to finish high school, Dr. Cooper said, and he then was admitted to college. He added:

"The first two years were quite difficult for him because of his social adjustment problem, which he gradually overcame. Then he was taken into a fraternity and was graduated on the dean's list. He is now attending law school in a large university."

U.S. Still Leads World In Production of Matches

It's pretty difficult to get something for nothing these days, but there's one item left that is used by the average person 14 times a day, and two out of five times he doesn't have to pay. That little item is the match.

The manufacture of matches is a $25 million-a-year industry in the United States. Each year, more than 500 billion matches are produced, and of 200 billion book matches made in the United States every year, about 196 billion are given away with the sale of cigars, cigarettes, and tobacco.

Sweden had us topped for many years in the production of matches. The Swedish Match Company, formed in 1913 by Ivar Krueger, had match factories in 43 countries of the world and manufactured most of the world's matches. Krueger is said to have invented the common superstition that "three on a match" is unlucky, in order to sell more matches. His match empire lasted until 1932, when it was discovered he'd been using the company's capital for his own speculations.

Sweden now ranks fourth down the line led by the United States. Great Britain ranks second and the Soviet Union third.

Spices in History

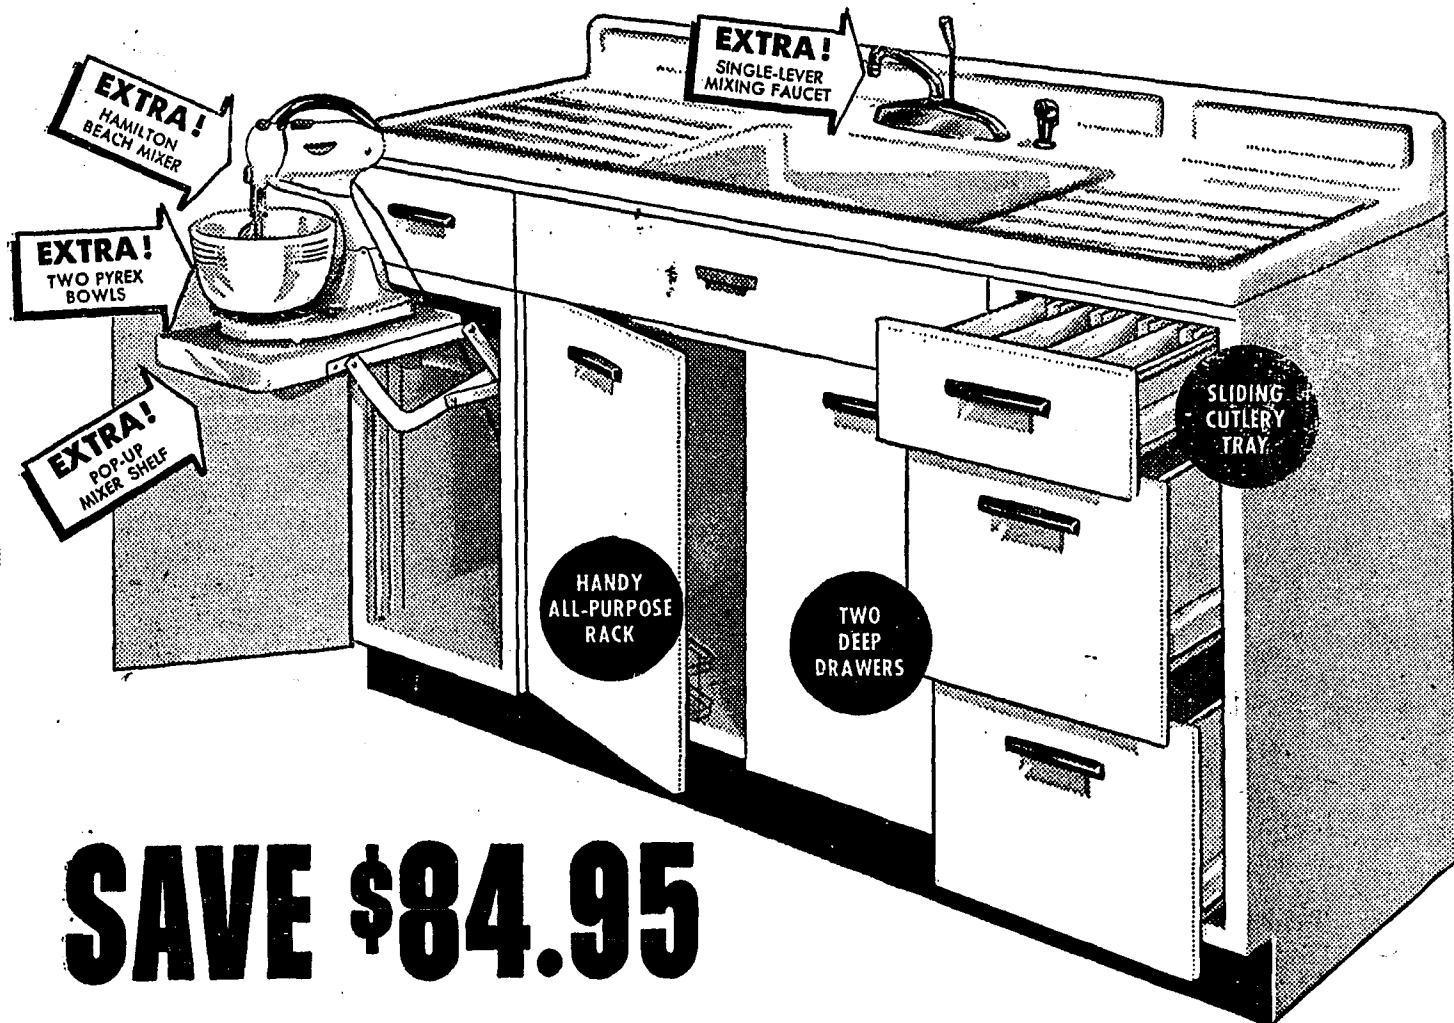

There are many references to spices and herbs in the pages of history. They play important parts in the development of our civilization. The ancients attributed strange powers and accomplishments to spices. Basil, for example, is venerated by the Hindus who plant it outside their temples and homes to insure happiness. The famed laurel wreaths which crowned Greek heroes of war and sport are the same bay leaves we use today in our cooking.

Freezing of Water Pipes

Freezing is most likely to occur in pipes which run along an outside wall. This hazard should be corrected by re-location of the pipes, if possible. If this is impractical, thorough insulation with from two and one-half to three inches of good pipe covering is the only safeguard. Should any of the piping freeze, the work of thawing it should not be entrusted to a handyman. It should be done under the supervision of an experienced master plumber. Blow torches or other methods involving open flames are extremely dangerous. They not only involve fire hazards but also permit the generation of high pressures which may cause explosions.

Gregorian Calendar

The form of our present calendar was set by Julius Caesar with some additional innovations by Augustus Caesar. However, in about 1500 years the length of year adopted by the Caesars proved incorrect. Therefore, Pope Gregory, in 1582, appointed a commission which revised the calendar sufficiently to bring it back in step with the seasons. Now it takes 3000 years for the calendar to slip out of line one day. The Protestant countries did not accept the Gregorian calendar until 1752 and this is why certain dates in history sometimes appear to be confused.

Find Clue to Mortality Among Baby Calves, Pigs

Nobody knows definitely why many newborn calves and pigs die shortly after they begin to nurse, but a theory advanced by research veterinarians is winning acceptance because it seems to be the most logical explanation yet offered.

Picture a starving man who eats food that makes him violently ill, only to die from the illness rather than from starvation, and you will have an idea of what is believed to be happening to countless pigs, and calves too, on the nation's farms. The main difference is that the newborn animals die after consuming their mother's milk—the very thing upon which they depend for life.

This is how the trouble starts: While the cow or sow is pregnant, she is attacked by a virus disease that may or may not be apparent to the owner. Her natural body forces produce substances called antibodies that fight off the infection, and at the same time some of these antibodies find their way to the unborn calf or pig.

Large amounts of them also go into the colostrum or first milk, that will nourish the youngster after birth. These disease-fighting substances have a sensitizing effect on the unborn animal. Then, after birth, when the youngster starts to consume colostrum, it gets a large dose of the antibodies and dies from shock.

Prevention of such losses is a problem now confronting veterinarians. While the colostrum from affected cows and sows is obviously harmful, it also has many properties vital to the survival and health of calves and pigs. Ordinary milk and other feedstuffs do not contain all of these essential properties, and so far satisfactory artificial foods have not been developed for practical farm use.

Veterinarians Tell Ways To Prevent Pig Scours

These five suggestions for keeping scours out of the spring pig crop are offered by swine disease authorities of the American veterinary medical association:

1. Set up a definite schedule for feeding the sow. Irregular feeding results in an uneven flow of milk that causes nursing pigs to go hungry at one feeding and then scour from overeating at the next.
2. Don't overfeed the sow. Newborn pigs often scour because the brood sow is being overfed. Give her only warm water and no solid feed the first day after farrowing and a small amount of bran or oats the second day. After that, the ration can be increased a little each day so that she is on full feed within two weeks.
3. Feed a balanced ration. If the sow gets too much corn, her litter is almost sure to scour.
4. Keep sows away from mud holes, manure, and filth. Many cases of pig scours are traceable to filth consumed while nursing.
5. Protect pigs against sharp changes in temperature. Failure to keep pigs warm when the weather suddenly turns cold will cause outbreaks of digestive trouble.

Saws Used in Home

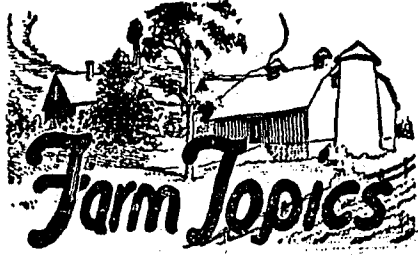

The saws commonly used in the home are the hacksaw and the handsaw. The hacksaw is used to cut metal and the handsaw to cut wood. There are two types of handsaws, the rip saw to cut with the grain and the crosscut to saw across the grain. All saws should be kept sharp. In starting a saw cut, the thumb of the left hand should be used to guide the blade until the cut is started at the desired location. The first stroke of the saw should be in the up direction. Sufficient pressure should be used when starting the cut so that the saw immediately begins to bite into the wood.

Warning to Cattlemen

Stock owners who use grazing land that adjoins oil lines and tanks are warned to watch out for crude oil poisoning in their herds. A bulletin from veterinary medical authorities cautions that the lines and tanks occasionally spring leaks, leaving pools of oil, and cattle may consume enough of it to be fatally poisoned. Animals on poor grazing land seem to have a special liking for crude oil, the bulletin adds. Cattlemen also are advised to keep their animals off pastures fronting recently oiled roads, particularly during rainy weather. The reason is that rain may wash enough oil onto the pasture to poison all or part of a herd.

Early Days of Indiana

Indiana territory's initial 1,000 settlers came from Kentucky, Virginia, and the Carolinas. They built their cabins in the south, along the Ohio and lower Wabash. They found the farm land rich, and when, in 1813, they moved their capital to Corydon, 20 trail miles west of Louisville, their number was 30,000. The total had jumped to 75,000 by late 1816, when statehood was won. There were a million and a half Hoosiers in Civil war days. By that time, the state's "naturals" in crops—corn, wheat, and hogs—had been found. Horny and hogs continue to be good Hoosier fare.

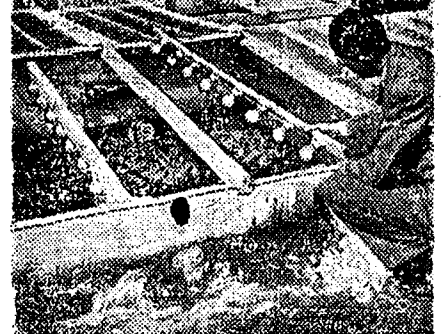

Light Bulb System Hastens Vegetables Speed Up Development In Backyard Hotbeds

Burn 25-watt light bulbs in a backyard hotbed and you'll eat your own early June peas next May.

That advice for home gardeners comes from Robert L. Zahour, Westinghouse lamp engineer. Such miniature "greenhouses" warmed by low-power bulbs hurry vegetables to the table 10 days ahead of regular seed plantings outdoors. Flower seeds started in hotbeds are brought to bloom one month earlier, he added.

The 25-watt bulb is best for hotbeds because higher wattage bulbs are more apt to create hot spots in the soil, stunting seed growth or scorching the tender young plants.

Seedlings coddled in electric hotbeds like these hurry vegetables to the table 10 days earlier and bring flowers to bloom a month earlier.

The cost of a bulb-heated hotbed averages only three-tenths of a cent per plant for electricity during the entire six-week season in northern United States, the engineer calculated. This is 30 per cent less than the cost of soil heated by electric cable and only half the cost of manure. Manure, which requires soil preparation such as digging into frozen ground, depends upon fermentation for its heating effect in a hotbed.

Term 'Hybrid' in Swine Applicable to Offspring

The term "hybrid" has come to mean superior producing ability to the corn grower. It is natural, therefore, that the terms "hybrid hog" and "hybrid boar" should interest corn belt pork producers. It seems quite clear, most agriculturists are agreed, that "hybrid vigor" eventually will increase greatly the efficiency of livestock production. Informed breeders, however, believe that there are not yet available adequate dependable sources of boars for producing hybrid hogs.

Furthermore, the name "hybrid" in the accepted sense of the term should be reserved for the litters produced by the market-hog farmer.

Organic Matter Loss

Maybe you don't need a trip-hammer to work your land. But if you have a hard time plowing the ground, don't blame it on the weather or your implements. The trouble may be due to loss of organic matter from the soil.

G. P. Walker, Purdue University extension agronomist, says that when soils can't take plowing readily, it's a sign they are dangerously low in organic matter.

Walker's advice is more sod crops in the rotation to give the soil an easily worked texture. Sod crops well fed with nitrogen, phosphate and potash put life in the soil and build up its organic matter supply. They improve structure and till.

Farmers Given Warning Of Newcastle Disease

Bold Ellis, poultry specialist of the Wyoming agricultural extension service, discloses that many farmers may be acquiring a false sense of security over the threat of Newcastle disease to their poultry flocks.

He pointed out that the disease has spread to every state in the union, and although there is less talk about it today than there was casualties are still very heavy.

THE Bull itin

Published Weekly by the Union Oil Service at Kendrick
W. L. "Bill" Rogers, Editor

HELLO, FOLKS:

Ever hear that old saying: "Sprig, sweed sprig is cobing, cobing; bud and slush are ebrywhere — and I got a cold in by head!" Well, it's true, in more ways than one, so why risk a cold washing winter's mud from your car — bring it to us and let us take the chance of "gadding that cold in the hed." You'll find our price is low — and the satisfaction high!

"Doc," said the patient, rushing into the doctor's office. "You've just got to do something about this insomnia of mine. It's driving me crazy."

"Now, now," soothed the medic, "surely it can't be as bad as all that."

"It can't, eh? Why, I can't sleep even when it's time to get up."

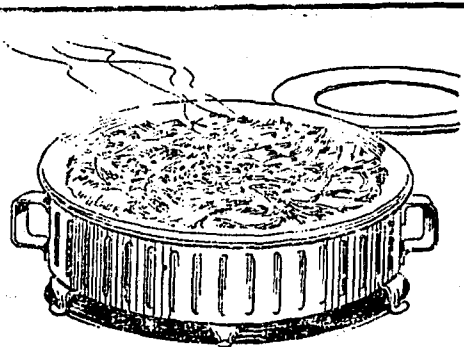

Never mind how hard your fuel oil tank is to get to — just Phone 1251, and tell us "fill it." We'll do the rest. Also ask about our "Constant Full" Service — it's the one in which we do the worrying.

A little boy, caught in mischief, was asked by his mother: "How do you expect to get into heaven?"

He thought a moment and then replied: "Well, I'll go in and out, and in and out, and keep slamming the door till they say, 'For goodness sake, come in or stay out' then I'll go in."

Minister (announcing a special attraction at the church): "You'll have to come early if you want a back seat."

For the finest in gasoline, try a tankful of Union 7600 — and for the finest motor oil, Royal Triton!

ALL THAT EXTRA WHY COMFORT AND WEAR? THAT'S EASY TO FIGURE OUT!

SEE THAT SHELL?

EXTRA WEAR because BOTH soles and uppers are of inner-shell horsehide. The center layer is the shell. The grain runs vertical—the wear is on the end of the fibers—like the wood in a butcher's meat block.

EXTRA COMFORT because Wolverine's exclusive triple-tanning process tans this super-tough 3-ply hide so it is buckskin-soft—dries out soft—yet retains all its remarkable strength and wear.

WOLVERINE SHELL HORSEHIDES

ONLY Wolverine SHELL Horsehides have this stronger, tougher inner-shell leather in BOTH soles and uppers—this 3-ply leather that wears and wears — that costs less to wear month by month on any work shoe job. No other work shoes in the world of leather tanned like Wolverine Shell Horsehides. Come in and try on a pair... no obligation.
