Church News

The meetings held at Southwick by Rev. Vera Forrest of Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan, Canada, interdenominational Sunday School worker, were very well attended considering the "very inclement" weather. She presented a great deal of interesting work and held some inspirational and educational meetings. We were very fortunate in having her here, and anyone missing her instruction has lost a great deal. She left for Benton City, Wash., on Monday.

The Southwick Missionary Society will meet Friday, March 11, at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Martin Swinney. The meeting previously scheduled for the home of Mrs. John Lettenmaier, was transferred here, due to bad roads.

Homemakers Club To Meet
The Southwick Homemakers Club will meet on Monday, March 14, at the home of Ruth Armitage. This meeting having been changed, due to over-lapping events.

On Friday, March 18, the ladies will hold their Italian dinner at the Aid Hall. The clothes hamper and linens to be disposed of may be seen in Gamble's store window at Kendrick. Tickets are on sale by any member of the club. Come out and bring the whole family. There will be a program, dinner and prizes. It's our one big event of the year. See you there.

Honored With Shower

A pink and blue shower was given in honor of Mrs. Fred Arnett at the Ralph Reid home in Kendrick Thursday evening of last week. Games were played with Mrs. Pearl DeHaven and Mrs. Wanita Arnett winning prizes.

The guest of honor, Mrs. Fred Arnett, was then led to a table centered with a chimney full of gifts, watched over by the traditional stork, and opened and displayed her many lovely gifts.

A delicious luncheon was then served by the hostesses, Mrs. Ralph Reid, Mrs. C. G. Arnett and Mrs. Ernest Freytag.

One of Mrs. Arnett's most prized gifts was a long distance telephone call from her mother, Mrs. Lew Goss, of Project, Calif.

Wheat Loans Due March 31

From Roy Emerson, Moscow, comes the following information:
All warehouse wheat under loan which has not been redeemed by the 31st of March, 1955, will be come the property of the Commodity Credit Corporation on that date.
The above is completely self-explanatory.

Vern Choate In Hospital

Vern Choate was taken to the St. Joseph's hospital in Lewiston Monday afternoon, entering that institution for observation, following an attack of the flu.
Mrs. Choate went down Tuesday afternoon to be at his bedside.

Atomic Blast Flash Seen

Monday morning at 5:20 o'clock an atomic test was held on the huge proving grounds in Nevada — and the flash of that explosion was seen here by four local residents — Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schupfer at Juliaetta, and Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Supple on Little Bear ridge.
All describe it in the same way — an orange colored flash in the southern sky that lasted perhaps a second.
As near as Mr. Supple could figure from a map, the airline miles was approximately 650 — so the explosion must have been a tremendous one.

SCHOOL "INFORMATION" MEETINGS BEING HELD

Under the chairmanship of Eugene Taylor, Juliaetta, chairman of the P. T. A., sponsored committee to investigate and report to the public on the needs of our local school district — Joint School District No. 283 — a most interesting and informative meeting was held Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Kendrick school.
First came the committee report, with the following recommendations:
1. Construction of a wing addition, installation of a new heating system, and repairs to the school plant at Kendrick.
2. Construction of two more classrooms and improvement of the playground facilities at Juliaetta.
3. Minor improvements to the building and playground at the Southwick school.

The meeting was then thrown open to questions from the assembled group (about 40).
Robert Meserve, superintendent, said that at the Kendrick plant there was immediate need for from 10 to 12 more classroom units for the Junior and Senior High school, as there was now no room for Vocational Agriculture, Home Economics, and very crowded conditions in the Commercial and Science departments. Also, the old heating plant was completely inadequate, not to mention the fact that repair bills on it were extremely high almost on a day-to-day basis.

A discussion of the needs at Juliaetta brought out the crowded conditions there, with one room having but one set of windows, and as a result poor ventilation and light — plus the fact that two new classrooms would allow even distribution of the students and in general improve conditions. More playground was also needed.

In the discussion of the needs at Southwick it was brought out that the present building, of frame construction, was slipping "out of true" in the construction line, and would sooner or later have to undergo major repairs and alterations if continued in use as a schoolhouse.

Again the matter of moving the Leland school building, a well-constructed plant, to Southwick was brought up and discussed, using it as a school and returning the present school to its former status of a gymnasium and hot lunch room.

Mr. Taylor called for a "show of hands" on these improvements, which embodied most of the needs called for in the bond issue of last year, and those present overwhelmingly favored them.
It was noted that only a few were present from each community of the district, so a decision was made to hold meetings in each — and the next one will be held on Thursday, March 10 — in Southwick, at 7:30 p. m. This will give every one a chance to inspect the school plant — and to express their opinions.

Everyone interested in the schools throughout the entire district is urged to attend the Southwick meeting — Thursday, March 10, at 7:30 p. m.

V. F. W. Auxiliary To Meet

NEZPERCE INDIANS BLAST KENDRICK TOURNEY HOPES

Second District Class B tournament field was brought to four teams on Wednesday of last week when Nezperce edged Kendrick 40-39, and Genesee downed Clearwater 61-52.

John Fuchs' free throw in the last 25 seconds proved to be the winning point as the Nezperce Indians sneaked with the Kendrick Tigers 40-39.

With Nezperce ahead 39-32 with two minutes-ten seconds remaining in the game, Roger Christensen connected with two free throws, with John Merrick adding a pushup to get the lead to 39-36. Jim Armitage hit with a free throw to make the score 39-37. After Fuchs' winning gift toss Merrick hit with a long push shot to bring the tally to 39-40. Time, however, ran out before the Tigers had a chance to regain possession of the ball.

Heading the Kendrick effort for the ball game was Jim Armitage, who tied Fuchs in scoring with 15 points. The first quarter saw Nezperce out in front 12-8, as Fuchs canned six points, tall with jump shots. The Indians used a zone which was effective through all the game as they forced the Kendrick squad to shoot from far out.

The Tigers narrowed the margin to 11-14 in the second period as Glen Wegner hit from under the basket. John Conger countered for Nezperce as he made a long push for a 16-11 lead. Conger added a free throw and Arnold Fuchs connected with a one-handed push from the key with the half ending 19-13 in favor of Nezperce.

Good ball handling marked the third quarter, and Nezperce continued using their effective zone. Stapleton of Nezperce opened scoring with a two-point from under the basket and a fine hook-shot for an Indian 23-13 margin as Armitage and Wegner pushed in four points. Nezperce rallied to a 29-19 lead, and the quarter ended 33-27, Indians in the lead.

The final period found Kendrick's near victorious rally sparked by aggressive style and good handling of the ball. Kendrick made 9 out of 17 gift tosses and hit 24 percent from the field. Nezperce was successful on five out of thirteen from the charity line, while they managed 28 percent from the field.

At the same evening Genesee eliminated Clearwater 61 to 52.

Thursday Evening's Play
On Thursday evening the Lapwai Wildcats tangled with the Troy Trojans, who were undefeated to that date, and Lapwai emerged victorious 65 to 40.

In the second game of the evening Genesee eliminated the Nezperce Indians 58 to 46.

Friday Evening Play
Troy proved its Tuesday night victory over Genesee was no fluke as it beat the Bulldogs again 56 to 49 — with Troy moving into the winners bracket and a sure tournament berth.

In the final championship playoff Saturday evening Lapwai again took the measure of the Troy Trojans 62-47.

School Events Re-scheduled
Because of the days of school lost due to weather conditions, the following events have been re-scheduled on the given dates. Band Appreciation Concert, Tuesday, March 15; Junior High School operetta, "Belle of the West," Wednesday, March 23.

The Kendrick High School band will present an "Appreciation Concert" at the High school gymnasium on Tuesday, March 15, at 8:00 o'clock. This "extra" band concert is intended as a musical "Thank You" to people of our community for their support of the Band Uniform Fund.

Included on the program will be the following: "Santa Fe Trail Overture," "College Boy March," "Sola," a fox trot, "Energy Overture," "The Buglers," "King For A Day" march, "Great Grand-Dad," novelty, "Donkey Serenade" and "God Bless America."

The Senior High Girls' Chorus will assist the band in presentation of the concert and will sing two selections: "Ifa's Castle" and "Let The Rest Of The World Go By."

The concert is under the direction of George Poulos, and there will be no charge for admission.

Bridal Shower
Miss Jo Darby was honored with a surprise bridal shower last Thursday evening following choir rehearsal at the Kendrick Community church.

The event, sponsored by the choir, included all members, as well as close friends of Miss Darby. Appropriate games were played and delicious refreshments served at the close of the evening. Miss Darby received many lovely gifts.

Miss Darby is the bride elect of Cecil Brammer of Cameron, and their wedding is scheduled for the near future.

PLANS FOR ADMINISTERING OF POLIO VACCINE GOING ON

Plans are moving ahead for the possible administration this spring of all the Salk polio vaccine to 34,150 children in the first and second grades of all public and parochial schools in Idaho. L. J. Peterson, administrative director announced last week.

In addition, 1,800 children who were in the test group participating in the 1954 vaccine field trials, but did not receive vaccine at that time, will be eligible.

"Sufficient vaccine for these groups will be supplied without charge for the product by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, if it is licensed," Mr. Peterson explained. "These children are in the highly susceptible age brackets and can readily be organized for vaccination before schools close down."

"We don't know yet if the Salk vaccine is effective. We await the evaluation report of Dr. Thomas Francis, Jr., of the University of Michigan, in April. But we must make our plans now for possible usage to protect as many children as possible before this year's polio season. If we waited to organize until after the report, we would not have time to make the necessary arrangements. We must get ready now, so no time will be lost if the vaccine is found to prevent paralytic polio."

Polio vaccine, already administered to 440,000 children in the trials last spring, is being purchased as a calculated risk by the National Foundation before its effectiveness can be known. If it is licensed by the federal government this spring, the National Foundation, which financed the research that made its development possible, will turn it over to State Health departments for use without charge for the product. If used, it will not be another test, but the first use of a newly-established preventative measure.

Purchase of enough vaccine for eligible children in our state by the March of Dimes organization has enabled pharmaceutical manufacturers to keep their facilities in production during the waiting period, so that the vaccine would be ready if licensed. As a result, vaccine also will be available to physicians through the usual channels as soon as the product is licensed.

"The administration of three shots of vaccine to so many children in our state will be a tremendous task, requiring the cooperation of parents, health and educational officials, physicians, nurses, and many other volunteers," Mr. Peterson said. "I am sure that the necessary cooperation will be quickly forthcoming — both in the planning stages and in the actual administration of the vaccine."

Vaccine will be given only to those eligible children whose parents request it by signing forms that will be distributed through the schools. Mr. Peterson added, Local health and education officials have been alerted and are already making plans for the vaccine program. Volunteers to assist in the program will be recruited by local health officials and chapters of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in all counties.

Warning against premature optimism that polio had been defeated, Mr. Peterson said: "We have high hopes that this vaccine will work; therefore we are making full plans for a vaccine program, so that we will be prepared to go immediately into action if we get the green light. But we must not forget that the vaccine will not be offered to anyone until the official report is issued, and then only if the report shows that that the vaccine prevents paralytic polio under natural conditions, and the vaccine is licensed."

SCHOOL NOTES
Schools Reopened
All schools in the district reopened Monday after the "snow enforced" vacation. According to some comments from Junior and Senior High school students, the vacation could not have come at a better time, with the District Basketball tournament being played in Lewiston.

A definite decision has not yet been made as to how part of the lost time is to be made up.

School Buildings Re-insured
Following a long period of fact gathering and study by the administration and the local Board of Education, the school buildings throughout the district have been re-appraised and re-insured.

By taking advantage of the large premium discounts available to the schools for insuring percentage-wise on insurable value and writing the annual renewal plan it was possible to increase the insurance on our school buildings and contents, while actually reducing the premiums.

Previously the school district had to pay about $1,200 a year for $150,000 insurance on buildings and contents. Under the policies that just went into effect about two weeks ago, the district now pays an average of $963.12 per year for $239,907.00 in insurance on all buildings and contents.

Grange To Meet
The regular Grange meeting will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30, when the Moscow Grange will be here for the Visitation, to try to win the traveling gavel.

This visitation night was scheduled last month, but postponed. The visitors will open and close Grange and present the program. It is hoped there will be a large turnout to welcome the visitors.

Weather Goes "Snap-Bang"
By the shades of St. Patrick, the weather certainly took a turn for the worse on Monday afternoon of last week, when a blizzard blew up, and forced the dismissal of school here — and the blizzard continued through Thursday, with howling winds drifting the snow on top the hills, closing roads, and forcing the operation of the state highway and Kendrick Highway District snow plows on an almost round-the-clock schedule. On Thursday night the wind died, and a cold, clear calm descended — a cold snap that sent the mercury to 5 above on Friday morning about 6:15, and Saturday morning the old mercury column read 5 below! And the Lewiston weather bureau said the reading set an all-time record low for this area.

The calm, however, permitted the snow plows to catch up with their work, and by Monday evening of this week all or almost all roads, including private ones, had been opened and the snow "winged back."

Sunday was comparatively mild, the mercury hitting 42 degrees. Monday was still better, with a high of 46 degrees — and prospects are now held that "spring is just around the corner."

Biggest local item of damage due directly to the big storm was the blowing over of the big TV antennas that serve the C. F. Broeke & Sons system for Kendrick. By Sunday evening temporary repairs had been made, and Jack Kuykendall is steadily getting the damage repaired.

By Tuesday night the snow had settled a great deal on top the hills. The danger of drifting was over, and under the impact of a warm sun, some bare ground could be seen here and there. In the canyon even old ice on the north side of buildings was almost gone.

New Book Now Off The Press

From the press of the Caxton Printers, Ltd., of Caldwell, Idaho, comes a new book, "The Voice of the Shepherd," by Edna James Kayser of Spokane, Wash. The author has illustrated this book with ethereal art work. She also has a number of Christian Brochures, which have been published in the last two years. These Brochures have been used in quantities by the Fairchild Air Base, the Sunset Memorial Chapel of Spokane, and by church leaders throughout America.

Mrs. Kayser has dedicated her life and her time to Christ and His work. "The Voice of the Shepherd" is an art, literary book of deep spiritual purpose — centered around the person of Jesus Christ, the son of the living God. This book which is written in essay form, reveals the positive aspects of radiant Christianity and depicts what can be gained in the individual life by a total commitment to Christ. The book is one of comfort, in which it is shown how deeply Jesus loves man and how much He can do for the individual who yields to a greater, more abundant life as found in Him. The book continues to portray that power, peace, wisdom and understanding of God become the personal possessions of the individual, who really finds Christ as personal Lord and Saviour.

For these times of darkness and uncertainty — the book offers the hope and promise of a merciful and loving God.
Mrs. Kayser will be remembered here by her friends as having attended grade and high school and is grateful to these schools for the foundation of learning.

Mrs. Kayser is the sister of Arthur James, Kendrick, and a daughter of the late Rev. and Mrs. James.

Employees To Be Honored

Mar. 10 — Nineteen active and nine retired employees of the Washington Water Power company's Palouse division will be honored at the firm's 17th annual Trailblazer banquet to be held Saturday, March 12, in Spokane.

V. S. Casebolt, division manager, said the yearly affair honors employees with 20 or more years of service with the pioneer electric utility. The event this year commemorates the 66th anniversary of the founding of W. W. P., March 13, 1889.

Twenty-three employees will enter Trailblazer ranks to receive special 20-year pins, bringing the total of WWP Trailblazers to 437 men and women.

Casebolt said his firm was proud of the fact that 268 active employees have been with the company from 20 to 48 years. This is more than a quarter of WWP's 1,100 employees, and is considered an outstanding business employment record.

Only newcomer to the Trailblazer ranks from the Palouse division of the company will be Dennis Buckallow of Palouse, now retired, who will receive his 20-year pin. George E. Stone, Colfax, and T. V. Danielson of Rosalia, will receive 25-year pins, and Mr. Casebolt, Pullman, and H. C. Schupfer, Kendrick, will receive 30-year pins.

J. E. E. Royer, WWP vice president and general manager, who leads the list of active employees with nearly 48 years of service, will be master of ceremonies at the banquet, and will present the service pins to eligible employees. Altogether, 86 persons will be presented with pins denoting from 20 to 50 years of service.

The banquet is set to start at 6:30 p. m. in the Marie Antonette Room of the Davenport Hotel. A big program of entertainment is planned for the event.

New Mail Schedule

Under the new mail schedule all incoming mail arrives now at 9:00 a. m., and outgoing mail must be in the postoffice before 4:30 p. m. if it is to leave that day.

All mail now travels via "The Podunk Express," piloted by Cecil Gruell.

Something to bear in mind is the fact that there is now no Sunday mail despite Mr. Robinson's assertion that mail service "would be equal to or better than the previous carrying by train." So, if you don't mail that letter before 4:30 p. m. Saturday, it will not leave the Kendrick postoffice until 4:30 p. m. Monday!

But don't blame Cecil. He is only the mail carrier, and doesn't write the schedules. We might add that his "Podunk Express" is always on time.

Interesting Letter To Parents

From M/Sgt. A. G. Candler comes a most interesting letter, written to his mother, Mrs. P. G. Candler, and we have kindly been allowed the use of a major portion of it.

Feb. 17, 1955, French Morocco Dear Mother:
We arrived here on Jan. 7 (French Morocco) and I have been so busy it doesn't seem that long. We will be leaving about April 1st.

We have a mission to do out of the Azores, so will go over there next week and will then be back here for the rest of the time.

This base, "Ben Guerie" is about 40 miles from Marrakech in French Morocco, North Africa.

A friend and I went into town and spent the week-end. We stayed at the Hotel El Maghreb, which is run by the French. This Arab coffee is stronger than Dad could ever drink black. They pour it half hot milk and coffee, and then it is strong enough to float a splitting wedge. We had breakfast at an outdoor cafe under orange trees. It sure was a beautiful place. My breakfast cost me 1,255 francs. The rate of exchange here is 350 francs to the dollar.

Sunday we went down into the Madeni (native quarter) and bought a few things from the Arabs — and they like to "Jew." I had a big time dealing with this fellow. I will go back again when we get back from the Azores. If there is anything you'd like, let me know and I will get it for you. I got two 2x3 foot hand woven tapestries to hang on the wall, a brass plate, a Fez (Arab hat) and a bill fold. You'd have laughed to see me and that Arab sitting on two hassoks drinking coffee and "jew-ing."

We spent about four hours prowling around. There are no cars, horses or buggies allowed. The streets are about six feet wide. Marrakech is over 1,000 years old. The blacksmiths, coppersmiths, weavers and woodworkers work just as they did hundreds of years ago.

People have often talked about how dangerous it is to go into these places, but I have always found that if you tend to your own business they will leave you alone. Most everyone travels by donkey. I think I told you before that they use a camel, teamed up with a donkey, to do their plowing.

The Arabs look just like the pictures in the Bible. They make the most beautiful rugs, tapestries, brass and copper work and inlaid wood work that I have ever seen. The fellow I did my trading with told me I looked like an Arab. I was also told that last year in Casablanca.

I wouldn't trade all the things I've seen and the experiences I've had in the Air Force for a million dollars. I will enclose a picture I bought of Marrakech. Wish I had my camera.

We hope to come up there in the spring, so am looking forward to seeing you all then. — Love — Archie.

Farm Scientists Found Dicumarol

While Seeking New, Better Type Hay

Agricultural research, which has done so much for the farmer, often produces other unexpected benefits. University of Wisconsin scientists made a triple-barreled discovery that lead to a new medicine and rat killer.

As a part of a federally supported project to produce better varieties of alfalfa and sweetclover, Wisconsin scientists searched for the cause of occasional deaths among cattle eating sweetclover hay.

Their hunt lead to the discovery of a chemical substance in spoiled hay which slowed natural clotting of blood. Sufficient quantities taken in over a prolonged period of time could cause death in a warm-blooded animal.

The scientists, looking for a beneficial use of the chemical, went on to develop a substance now well known to the medical world as Dicumarol. Surgeons use it to prevent blood clots after operations; other doctors treat some heart disorders with it.

Warfarin, a chemical cousin of Dicumarol developed by the same scientists has become the most effective rat killer known. Mixed with a grain bait, rats will eat more Warfarin than other poisons. It is now used all over the world to kill rats which cause untold human misery and enormous economic losses.

Seed Producers Lose Large Share of Crops

Most of this country's legume seed producers lose about half of their year's crop, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture, which puts the blame on both nature and inadequate harvesting methods.

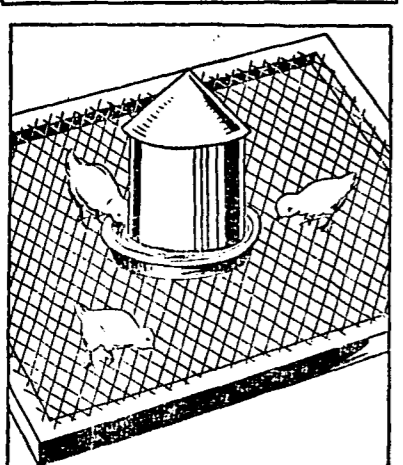

Seeds have a natural tendency to shatter from the pods as the plant matures, and this factor coupled with pelting rains in humid areas (half of our crimson clover and lespedeza seed is produced in the humid Southeast) and strong winds in dry areas is one big reason.

Second big reason is the average grower's dependence on standard grain-harvesting equipment—combines, windrowers, swathers—to harvest the smaller, lighter legume seeds.

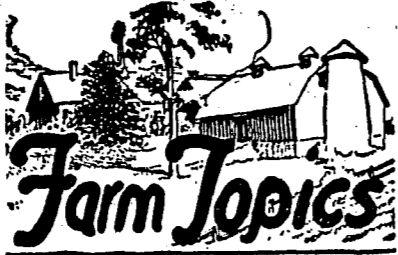

According to the Department's Agricultural Research bulletin, Oregon crimson clover growers and Michigan alsike clover and alfalfa growers lose 60 per cent of their seed crops. Alabama crimson clover fields with a possible 1,000 pounds of seed per acre often yield less than 300. In South Carolina, 40 to 50 per cent losses of crimson clover and lespedeza are common.

The Agricultural Research Service, conducting tests to find ways to reduce seed loss traceable to equipment, showed in preliminary tests that direct combining is usually better than combining from windrow or swath.

Clean Fountains

When poultry water fountains are placed about they usually become scratched full of dirt and litter. One method of keeping them clean is to use a chicken-wire ground covering. Wire is nailed to a 6x6 wooden frame and the assembly laid on the ground with the watering fountain located in the center.

Careless Poisoning Kills Livestock

Use Extra Caution, Farmers Are Warned

Even on the best-managed farms, carelessness with poisonous materials used in farming may exact a costly toll among livestock.

The American Foundation for Animal Health believes the risk may be even greater on well-managed farms, because of their greater use of chemical products, as in weed and insect control.

"For example," warns a Foundation report, "cattle readily eat plants treated with sodium chlorate, and the results are often fatal. They will by-pass plants treated with arsenic, but may be poisoned by drinking from puddles in fields recently treated. Various other weed killers are in themselves harmless to animals but may cause chemical changes in plants, which, when eaten, produce ill effects."

You can't be too careful when using chemical sprays of any type around cattle. Well-managed farms which use chemical products to control weeds and insects are careful in choice and use of insecticides in areas where cattle are grazed.

Fertilizers containing nitrogen should be placed well out of reach of livestock. So should discarded paint pails, old storage batteries, and other products containing lead. An animal may be poisoned after only a few licks.

1954 New Tractor Sales Estimated at $2 Billion

Sales of new tractors and farm equipment during the first half of 1954 were steady and averaged $164 million a month. The continued unspectacular but steady pace of farmers' purchases of new tractors and other farm equipment is expected to carry industry sales at retail value to slightly under the $2 billion mark for the full calendar year.

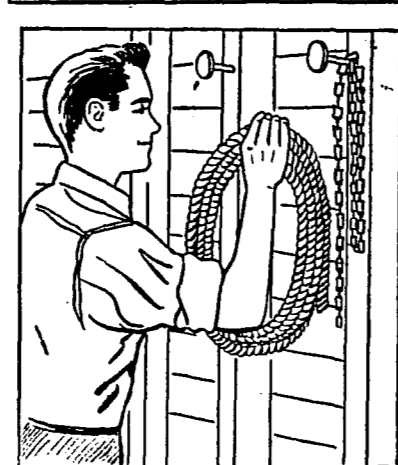

The tractor industry turned out 160,870 wheel and crawler type farm use tractors between Jan. 1 and June 30 according to Implement and Tractor, the business paper of the farm industry.

During the comparable period in 1953 the industry produced 268,210 farm use tractors. Thus, production of farm tractors for the first half of 1954 was 40 per cent under the production for the first half of 1953.

Sales for the first six months ending June 30 were estimated at $987 million as compared with $1,187 million for the same period in 1953.

It was pointed out that tractor production pace during the second calendar quarter was stepped up to 89,741 units as compared with the 71,129 turned out during the Jan.-Mar. quarter. The increase was necessary to return inventories in distribution lines to more adequate level. Tractor output for the July to December periods of this year are expected to approximate 160,000 units, as compared with 146,000 produced during the last half of 1953.

Valve Hangers

Handy wall hangers for the garage or barn can be had by using discarded auto valves. Because their heads are large in comparison with the stems, such hangers will support all types of miscellaneous gear. Make holes slightly smaller than valve stems, drill at an angle, then drive valves into the wall at least one third the length of the stem.

Membership Up Sharply

Church membership in the United States has rocketed from 50 million in 1929 to more than 95 million today—a gain of 90 percent, while the population was increasing only 31.4 percent. During the same period, says

Clarence W. Hill in the current Reader's Digest, 58,000 places of worship were being built, bringing the total to 295,000 churches and synagogues.

Road-killed pheasants examined by Idaho Fish and Game department biologists give an indication of how wintering flocks are faring as to feed, weight and general condition. Here Charles Haynes, Nampa, examines a highway casualty. Birds forage along roadsides for feed spilled from passing trucks and other vehicles, rather than for grit, as many people suppose. The number of birds seen along roads generally reflects the local density of pheasant population, rather than excessive hardship, biologists have found.

New Hope for Safe
 Phosphate Injection

Search for a safe insecticide that kills cattle grubs when injected under the skin or fed to the animal, has moved into the promising field of organic phosphorous insecticides, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports.

Entomologists and veterinarians investigating insects affecting livestock at the Kerrville, Tex., laboratory of the Agricultural Research Service have found that diazinon given by mouth and under the skin and chlorthion and a dia-ky-l phosphate given yearling cattle by mouth killed cattle grubs for as long as three weeks following treatment.

Aldrin, dieldrin, and lindane—all chlorinated hydrocarbons — has previously been found to kill cattle grubs when injected into cattle, Science hopes for an effective agent against cattle grubs which may be either taken internally or injected early in order to kill grubs before they puncture animal's skin.

but the Kerrville research represents the first successful use of phosphorous insecticides. Yet to be determined are what toxic effect continued use of the chemicals will have on the animals and whether treatments cause accumulation of chemical residues in meat or milk.

Research scientists hope that phosphate insecticide residues will disappear rapidly from animals as they do when used on plants for insect control. Proof of quick disappearance of residues would recommend further testing of phosphates against both internal cattle grubs and perhaps such internal pests as flies, mosquitoes, and lice.

Avacado May Furnish Perpetual Youth Secret

The secret of "perpetual youth" may some day be revealed in the study of avacados and other fruits.

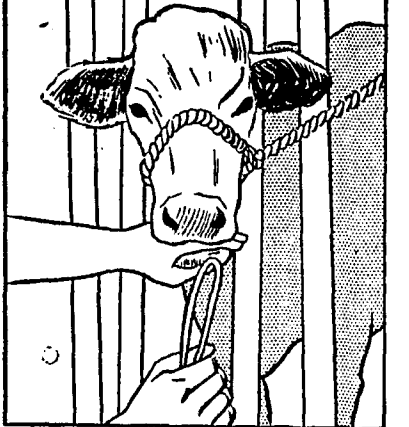

Science, of course, has little hope of discovering eternal youth for human beings. Instead, scientists, like Dr. Jacob Biale of the University of California, hope to slow down the aging process in fruit from a practical storage standpoint.

The avacado stays "young" as long as it is on the tree, Dr. Biale points out. It will ripen on the tree and drop only when the stem suffers damage. One speculation is that a tree substance which inhibits ripening is constantly supplied to the fruit as long as it remains attached.

This is difficult to prove by studying the fruit on the tree, but laboratory studies hold promise. Key to the process seems to lie in a chemical action involving phosphorous, an important element in all life processes.

"If the trigger mechanism is determined, it seems that a likely means of inhibiting the action—just as in the avacado—might be devised," Dr. Biale says.

Prevent Choking

Sometimes cattle that swallow large objects as whole ears of corn, apples, etc., will choke unless the object is removed quickly. If the object is in the upper throat, you can remove it by using a piece of baling wire doubled in a loop. Slip the loop over and beyond the object, then pull forward to dislodge it.

Big Game Making
 Strong Comeback
 In America

WASHINGTON—North American caribou, moose and buffalo, once apparently headed for extinction, are roaming the wilds in growing numbers, having won their fight for survival.

Stricter hunting laws and better control of fires, wolves and other predators are the tools man has used to reverse the trend of destruction started more than 150 years ago.

The Caribou is a sort of American reindeer, sometimes known as "the cattle of the far north." Eskimos, Indians and settlers in Canada, and Alaska, depend upon them for food and clothing. Forest fires, wolves and hunters once diminished their numbers at an alarming rate. Now, they're making a comeback.

The slaughter of the American bison, or buffalo, began early in the 19th century and by 1889 an estimated 60 million in the United States had dwindled to less than 600.

Now national refugees in both Canada and the United States and private ranchers own 35,000 head. This is probably as high as the bison population will go, since range land for these animals is limited.

Largest herds are at Wood Buffalo Park in Canada and National Bison Range in Montana.

Moose, once fading fast from northern forests, came back in such great numbers that hunting controls were relaxed to avert overpopulation. Forest fires, mortal enemy of the caribou and other animals, are a boon to moose. The burning of spruce and pine forests encourages growth of willow, birch and aspen, favorite foods of the moose.

Milk of Kindness Travels by Rail

LONDON, England—A hungry baby, a distraught mother and an anxious father recently were the recipients of the milk of human kindness, British Railways style.

Mrs. Peter Baines and 15-month old Susan of Wakefield, England, set off by train for London, but in the last minute rush and excitement forgot to take the baby's milk.

Peter Baines, returning home after seeing his family safely on the train, found the all-important bottle of milk on the kitchen table, and worrying about the welfare of his young heiress, phoned the station master for help.

By the time the train arrived in Grantham, 70 miles away, mother and child were met by a retinue consisting of a ticket collector flourishing a baby's feeding bottle, a female station attendant with a jug of warm milk and one porter carrying one diaper.

Later, Baines wrote to British Railways offering to pay any bill and stating, "You are often criticized, but I am most impressed by your efficiency."

The pithy and official reply, "Thanks. All in a day's work. Diaper and milk on the house."

Big Traffic Toll
 Shown in Death Claims

NEW YORK—Motor vehicle fatalities accounted for 20,000 life insurance death claims in the first half of this year, representing aggregate payments of $39,000,000, the Institute of Life Insurance says.

This compares with 18,000 claims for $37,000,000 in the first six months of 1953. The increase stemmed more from the greater number of insured persons rather than from any rise in fatality rate, the latter appearing to be running somewhat lower than the year before.

Last year, the 12-month aggregate of motor vehicle death claims was 40,000 for $78,000,000.

Motor vehicle accidents have become one of the important causes of death, the death rate from them last year exceeding the combined toll from stomach ulcers, influenza, communicable diseases of childhood, gastritis and homicides.

Thefts Laid to Man Supposedly in Jail

OCALA, Florida — Sheriff Don McLeod accused a prisoner of burglarizing four homes while supposedly sharing the hospitality of the law.

The sheriff said Samuel Thomas admitted after he was caught that he slipped out of the road camp after a prisoner check, rode a bicycle two miles to town for a burglary, and got back in time for the next prisoner check.

Ought to Know

DETROIT — William J. Smith, 79, and his wife, Anna, 77, recently celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary. Mr. Smith who should be an expert, had some advice for newlyweds.

"When you get into a spat with the wife, start counting," he says. "But don't stop at 10. Keep right on counting. Pretty soon you'll be more interested in counting than listening to your wife."

Baby Pigs Getting Special Diet Now
Early Weaning Reducing Losses

Baby foods for baby pigs is big news in swine nutrition these days and reports are that special feeds will lead to more and better pork than ever.
As recently as 1952, authorities estimated that up to 35 per cent of all pigs farrowed in the United States died of injury, disease or malnutrition—all of which may be caused by the sow—before the weaning age of eight weeks. The average survival rate was under seven pigs per litter, the average weight at eight weeks less than 30 pounds.

Today, it is commonplace for farmers to save eight or more pigs per litter, with eight-week weights

This sow appears comfortable and relaxed, yet she could accidentally kill one of her pigs by rolling over and crushing it. Development of new starter feeds is making it possible to take pigs away from the sow as early as five days after birth. Early weaning is bringing mortality rate down, authorities say.

of 40 pounds or more. In well-managed operations the mortality rate has dropped to 10 per cent and less.

Some credit for the advance must go to the use of new "wonder drugs" as terramycin, which have cut disease losses, but the chief factor, experts agree, has been the practice of quickly removing baby pigs from the hazardous presence of the sow, which often passes diseases to the young, fails to feed them properly, crushes them, and even eats them.

Starter feeds for baby pigs made their appearance on experimental farms in 1950, the year antibiotics and vitamin B-12 were shown to stimulate the growth of pigs and many other farm animals. In 1951, scientists at Iowa State College found that they could take pigs away from the sow a few days after birth and substitute a formula milk, containing antibiotic terramycin, for the sow's milk. Tests conducted in 1953 have proved it possible to start feeding dry starter rations to pigs as early as five to seven days of age.

Animals May Transmit 80 Diseases to Man

Sick and ailing animals on the farm are a menace—not only to profitable farm management but also to the people in charge.
Veterinary medical authorities say about 80 infectious and parasitic diseases may be communicated from animals to man. Farmers may be exposed to about 15 or 20 of these diseases.

Topping the list is brucellosis which has been called the greatest occupational disease of the farmer. Other diseases listed include rabies, swine erysipelas, anthrax, hookworm, ringworm, trichinosis, Newcastle disease, tularemia, tuberculosis, leptospirosis and psittacosis.
Farmers generally underestimate the dangers of livestock diseases, some veterinarians say. Anthrax, for instance, is so dangerous that it is recommended that top soil where animals dead of anthrax have lain should be buried with the carcass.

Double Duty

One enterprising farmer who noticed that little pigs like to chew on rubbery things developed this idea. Rubber tire is brushed with a vitamin-fortified syrup and a pan of buttermilk is placed in the center of the tire. Pigs take turns chewing on the tire and drinking from the pan of milk.

HELLO, FOLKS:

You can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear, according to an old saying — and it's very true. True, also is the fact that you can't get peak performance out of your car, pickup or truck with inferior gasoline. And that's where the new Union 7600 and Royal 76 gasolines come in. They are octane rated to give you that peak performance. One tankful will convince you. We dare you to try them!

Customer: "What's the charge for this battery?"
Service Station Attendant: "Sixty-eight volts."
Customer: "How much is that in American money?"

Don't forget to attend the "Appreciation" Music concert at the Kendrick High school gym. on Tuesday evening, March 15. It's really worth your while.

Want the perfect driving combination? Try Royal Triton Motor Oil in your crankcase, and Royal 76 Gasoline in your tank. That motor will really "purr with satisfaction."

The bright young thing entered a swank shop and approached the counter.

"I want a present for an old gentleman," she said.

"Yes, miss," replied the clerk. "Something nice in ties?"

"No; he has a beard.

"H'm! Perhaps a fancy vest might be suitable?"

"No! It's a long beard."

The clerk sighed wearily. "Well, how about carpet slippers?"
