Swim Lessons Begin

Tuesday was a perfect day to begin swim lessons and the local pool was "broke out" with kids of all ages, as they filled in to register for the various classes, at 9:00 a. m.

The thermometer registered 90 before the day was over and from the looks of things the kids were taking to the water like "ducks." We know we're lucky to have a swimming pool, and we're mighty proud, too, to be able to offer lessons to all. This feeling must be mutual, as was evidenced by the turnout — 45 registered the first day, and there will always be more, so Mrs. Wm. Johnson, who is teaching, will have her hands full.

SCHOOL BOND ISSUE AGAIN TO GO BEFORE RESIDENTS

The local School Board (Joint District No. 283), following the wishes of a large majority of our citizens, set the date of the next bond election for August 3rd. The Board met in special session Monday evening to make a decision concerning the proposed building program. The decision has been postponed to allow time for a "sampling of the community sentiments." It was decided that since the need was so great, and only such a small minority had caused the election to fail — to call another election on August 3rd, 1955.

There will be three polling places this time, in an effort to encourage a larger vote, since only about two-thirds of the potential voters have cast ballots in the past elections. The polling places will be the Southwick School, the Juliaetta School and the Kendrick City Hall. Qualified voters may cast their ballots in any one of the three places — whichever is the most convenient for him or her.

In the last election there were only 387 ballots cast out of an approximate potential of 600 voters. This low vote would seem to indicate a lack of interest by the people in one of our most important community problems — the education of tomorrow's leaders and citizens. The low vote of the past elections also fails to give the School Trustees an accurate indication of how all the people of the District really feel about our local educational facilities.

Everybody must vote — or we will again find ourselves ruled by a minority.

Some may say: "We don't need a new school house. The old one is structurally sound," which would be both a fallacy and a truth. Stop and think a moment. This spring (Class of 1955) 20 were graduated, and the school house was bulging at the seams with pupils. The known incoming potential of Freshmen is 45, and it will probably be higher than that, since several new sawmills have been set up in the area, and families moved in.

"Where to put the additional 25 students?" Mr. Meserve, superintendent, says he knows of but one way to handle it — put supplemental electric heaters in the new school buses, pull them in along the side of the school house, plug them in, and hold classes in them! Would you want your child dashing out of the building and into a bus, then back again for classes? Of course not. Then vote "Yes" on the bonds.

It is true that the old building is structurally sound. That is the reason that alterations and additions are proposed for it — but room it lacks! So, the alterations and the new building will permit the teaching of Agriculture, Shop and Home Economics — classes not now available, or on a limited basis.

The lack of these courses might be termed shocking, in this day and age, and still many are complacent about it all. It seems to us that this small group, which are the minority in this area are stifling progress, when they deprive children of an adequate school.

We can look around us — see the new schools or additions and improvements in most every community. Why should we be forced to limp along, barely able to squeeze by on the tired subjects and unable to offer Home Ec. to our girls, Agriculture or Shop to the boys, a Science department with skimpy equipment in this highly specialized world.

This is 1955 — not 50 years ago. No one is satisfied to live with the bare necessities or conveniences our forefathers thought ample. Why do some feel that the school which was good enough for their children or grandchildren? Remember! The present condition is the opinion of the minority — not the majority.

Think it over, then talk up the new building. It's for the good of your children — or perhaps your grandchildren. Somebody built and paid for the building now in use. You or your children used it. It is now inadequate. Let's build one that is adequate.

Charles Parks Writes

July 7, 1955
Dear Bill:
Thought I had better drop you a line to let you know that my address has changed again. I'm still in the same place in Germany, however.

We have been having some very nice weather over here so far. We had one big rain before the 4th of July that did a lot of damage to the grape crop, but other than that the sun has been shining.

I haven't heard from Parker for quite a while. Is he still in Landstuhl? He said something about moving, but I haven't heard whether or not he was shifted.

Well, I guess I had better get back to work. My new address is:

Pfc. Charles Parks; US-56-122-938; Det. 2; Co. B, 307th C/R Bn., APO 36, c/o P. M., New York, New York.

P. S.: Thanks for the paper. I hope you enjoyed your vacation — and tell Parker to "get the lead out" and write.

Warm Weather At Last?

After almost two weeks of chill rains, wind and storms, a warm day finally came — Tuesday, with the thermometer crawling to a high of 90 degrees.

The warm dry weather was indeed welcome, not only to cherry growers, but to those with hay to put up, and to wheat and pea raisers, since sunshine was needed by both crops.

We might add that a great deal of hay was down, and will have to be turned before it can be baled or stacked.

Is there anyone that would be willing to write this news for us? If so please let us know and all necessary arrangements will be made.

Ira Foster Falling

NEW DERIVATIVE—Delores Bailey, St. Anthony Hospital, Pendleton, Ore.) student nurse from Juliaetta, is pictured adjusting the flow of serum albumin in a small suspended jug. Recipient is Jerry Cherry, seriously burned by boiling water. Serum albumin is a new human blood derivative, now made available by the Red Cross, which offers a chance of survival to burned persons. Miss Bailey, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bailey of Juliaetta, is a Kendrick High School graduate, and entered the St. Anthony School of Nursing in 1953. (Engraving courtesy Idahoian, Moscow).

Old Timer Writes

Last Friday, Fred Stedman, local postmaster, brought to the Gazette the following letter received by him, which is self explanatory:

Ojai, Calif., July 4, 1955

Dear Sir: If you will permit me to introduce myself I am, Wm. D. Lindsay. My parents moved to Kendrick in 1890, and stayed until '98. Father had a grocery store. I went to school on the hill. My teacher was "Nellie Bengeman," (who I was very much in love with, being 6 years old). Some of the people I remember are as follows — Jim Pierce, Johnnie White, Bob Burns and Burns family (branch on the way to Juliaetta), John Burns, Lon Bengeman, Mrs. Paskell, Alma Kruse, the Crow family, Normoyle, and his Hotel; Hall, the groceryman; Hill, the expressman; Graham Furniture store; Pastor Allen and family; Morassic (the butcher); I can't think of the blacksmith's name where I used to pump the bellows for a "horse shoe nail" which was very valuable as trading stock.

Now if I can impose upon you to the extent of handing this $2.00 to the editor of the Kendrick newspaper and have him send the paper to me to that extent I will get a lot of pleasure out of seeing some of the names I used to know — I hope.

Thanking you very much for your trouble and kindness, I am very truly yours — Wm. D. Lindsay, 215 Grand Ave, Ojai, Calif.

Success Story Featured

Mrs. Estil Richardson of Woodland, Wash., sent the following clipping from a Portland paper to her mother, Mrs. Wallace Clark, who kindly passed it on to us, and since the Wegner Brothers are quite well known here, we think it more than worth while passing it on to our readers:

"The story of seven brothers who came to Portland in the early '20s from a Bear Ridge, Idaho, farm to form a local company that designs, builds and distributes gigantic building, earth-moving, logging and mobile cement mixing machinery, was unfolded by film at a recent Rotary Club meeting in the Benson Hotel.

"At the head table were six of the seven Wegner brothers, founders of the Mixermobile company, located at NE S2nd Ave. and Killingsworth St. They were Gus, Harold, Eddie, Walter, Irvin and Bill. Absent from the city was Elmer. Each heads a department in the firm.

The Seven brothers were first shown as youthful farmers in the wilds of Idaho. One of them bought a saxophone to amuse himself. Soon all seven had musical instruments, and they formed a community orchestra to play at dances and other events.

"When a world fair was proposed for Portland in 1925, they came here to seek fame as an orchestra. Instead they wound up working in freight yards, at logging jobs and as cement mixers.

"Deciding there was a better way to mix cement than by shovel and wheelbarrow they designed and built the first mobile cement mixer, and entered the building trade. From there they developed giant hoists to lift cement from the mixermobile to any needed building height.

"They then made scoomobiles, scraper-dozers, telescope lifters, huge earth moving machines, enormous logging equipment that tows great loads through rough terrain and numerous other machines.

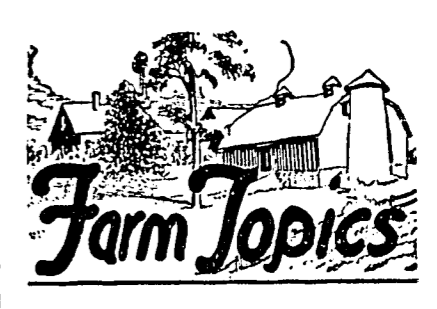

"Upon conclusion of the film, the six Wegners were seated at the instruments and demonstrated that they are still good as musicians."

Direct Loans Offer Advantages Bank Terms Usually Mean Lower Interest

Farmers who borrow money to purchase new machinery should first consider the advantages of a direct loan.

Interest on a direct loan may be lower because bankers usually charge simple interest—that is, after the farmer's first payment on the loan's principal, interest is charged only on the remainder. But, on contracts, interest is sometimes figured in advance and added to the whole principal of the loan—thus, the farmer also pays "interest on his interest."

Such interest figured in advance may make total interest much higher. On a $1,200 loan to be paid back in 12 monthly installments at 6 per cent, the total simple interest payment would be $39. But if interest is charged in advance and added to the principal, the total is nearly twice as much—$72.

Another direct loan advantage is that the farmer may be in a stronger bargaining position if he comes to the machinery dealer with his financing all worked out. He can then bargain with cash in hand even though he borrows from a bank.

One of the advantages of a direct loan when buying machinery is the fact that having cash in hand makes it easier to do business—may even sometimes help get equipment at a lower price.

It's also an advantage to get a machinery loan from the same place a farmer gets his other production credit. If he gets all his non-real estate credit from one lender, he will be able to keep a close eye on the type and size of such debts.

Predict Dairy Outlook Better for 1955

There will still be dairy surpluses in 1955—but the gap between milk production and use promises to be the smallest since 1952, predicts a University of Minnesota professor of agricultural economics.

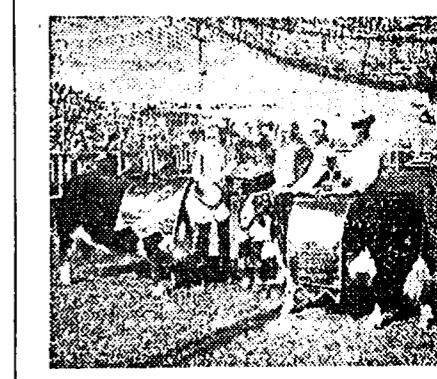

Dr. E. Fred Koller says 1954 milk production will total 124 billion pounds and use was about 119 billion pounds. This left a gap of about five billion pounds of milk the government bought in butter, cheese and milk powder. This is a billion pounds less than in 1953.

1955 milk production is estimated at 124 to 125 billion pounds and use at 121 billion pounds—a possible gap of three or four billion pounds, much lower than in recent years.

An indication of adjustment is that U. S. fall milk production was about the same as the previous year. In the first half of 1954, production was much larger than in first half 1953. U. S. butter production in the week ending December 30, 1954, was 19 per cent below a year ago.

There were also adjustments on the use side. Americans were using 8 to 9 per cent more butter in the first 10 months of 1954 as they did in the same period of 1953.

McFarland, and Lee TePoel, Manager of the Arizona National.

More Farmers Now Growing Trees Thousands of Acres Added During 1954

More farmers are growing trees as a crop than ever before in the nation's history and the American Tree Farm System reports the greatest progress in 14 years took place during 1954.

A total of 3,573,708 acres of tax-paying woodlands were brought into ATFS during the year to bring the total tree farm acreage up to 33,692,964. It has been predicted that 1955 will see five million additional acres added.

Texas continues to lead the parade of tree farm states, with

With tree farming growing in popularity across the nation, machines such as the one shown above are being used more and more by American farmers. Capable of planting 10,000 to 15,000 trees per day, machine opens a 6-inch top furrow to spread surface plant roots away from seedling while secondary plow opens a narrower 12-inch trench in which the seedling is placed.

3,429,363 acres. This well-managed, crop-producing woodland represents 636 ownerships. Washington, the state where the Tree Farm program began in 1941, is second with 3,259,806. Oregon passed Arkansas during 1954 to take third place with 3,231,388 acres. Arkansas is fourth with 3,136,948.

Mississippi stands second to Texas in number of tree farmers with 520. Alabama and Arkansas are third and fourth with 477 and 404 units respectively.

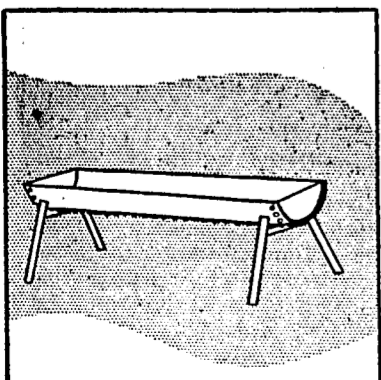

During the year Georgia recorded the greatest gain of any state when it brought more than one and a half million acres of land into the Tree Farm program, more than doubling its certified acreage. This boosted it to seventh place in acreage standings just behind Florida and Alabama. To qualify for certification as a tree farmer, a woodland owner must demonstrate ability and willingness to manage his land for continuing wood crops. This means he must protect his woods from fire, destructive grazing and damage by insects or disease. At the same time he must harvest ripe timber so that his land will continue to produce new crops.

253,404 Tractors Produced in 1954

The farm tractor industry turned out 18,517 units in December, 1954, to bring the total year's production of farm use tractors up to 253,404 units.

In contrast with the 253,404 wheel and crawler type tractors for farm use, excluding garden types, produced during the 12 calendar months of 1954, the industry turned out 414,282 during the comparable period in 1953. The drop is, explained this way: First, 1953 output was at a rate higher than the farmers' purchases. Consequently, there was an inventory build up at dealer level after July, 1953. This forced a drastic reduction in late '53 and early '54. Second, in the second half of '54 just about every tractor manufacturer further reduced production to begin tooling up for a new model output during the last half of 1954. Thus, dealers were able to work off 1953 production during 1954 and get set for the new models coming off the assembly lines at the rate of 18,000 units a month.

Ready For Registrations
Lewis-Clark Normal School, Lewiston — "We are ready to accept applications at Lewis-Clark Normal school, both for registrations and for scholarships," Dr. H. Walter Steffens, executive dean of the University of Idaho, who has administrative charge of the Lewiston institution, said this week.

"The people of Lewiston and other friends of Lewis-Clark have been most generous and cooperative in getting behind the scholarship program," said Dr. Steffens. "A large number of $100 scholarships are to be made available to worthy and needy students. It is not known, at this time, however, exactly how many scholarships will be available, and students seeking financial aid for their college educations should get their applications in early to be sure they do not miss out on the opportunities offered." Letters of inquiry should be sent to Lewis-Clark Normal school, Lewiston, Idaho.

Dr. Steffens also stressed the importance of early applications to register.

"Opening of Lewis-Clark Normal school is a pioneering venture," he said. "We will be better able to chart our course if we have an early idea how many students the school will serve during the coming academic year."

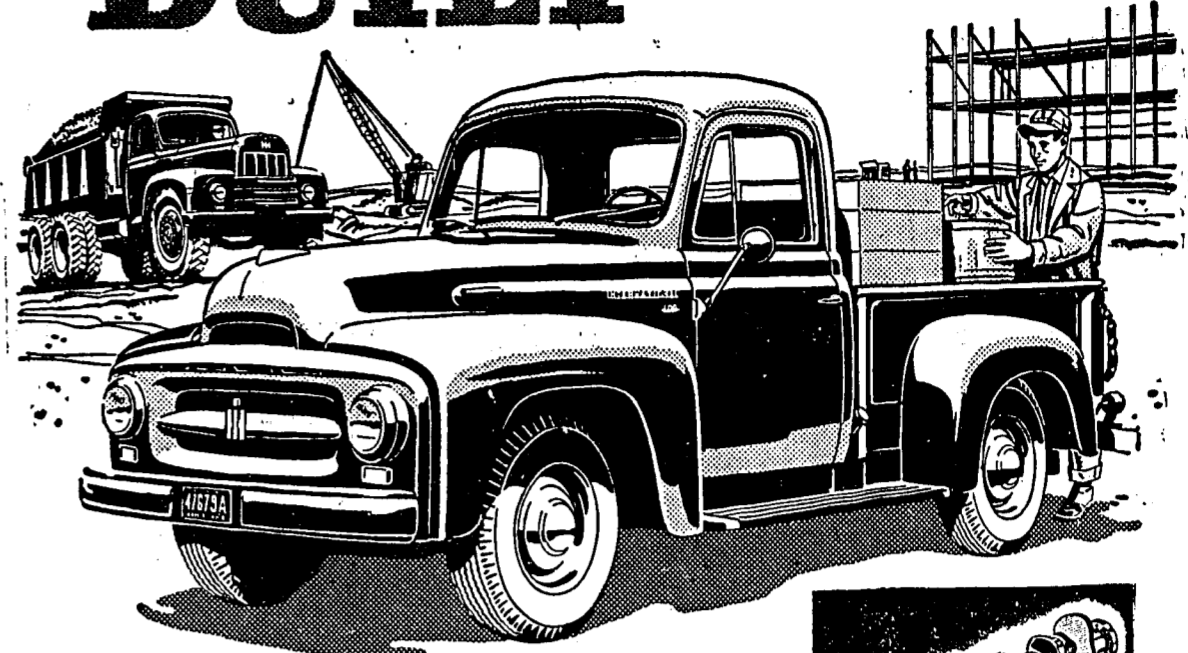

The new institution, which will open for classes on September 26, on the attractive campus of the former Northern Idaho College of Education, will offer a first-year curriculum of subjects for those planning teaching careers.

There's this vital difference between INTERNATIONAL and other trucks: Of the 5 leading makes, only INTERNATIONAL builds a complete line of models that are all-truck... with no passenger car engines or components asked to do a truck job.

This means that INTERNATIONALS, for all their comfort and easy handling, are engineered and built to save you the big money... the operation and maintenance money.

The proof is in the records of cost-conscious operators who have made INTERNATIONAL the heavy-duty sales leader for 23 straight years! It will save you BIG money to go INTERNATIONAL! Drop by and we'll show you why — in complete detail.

From fiery forges and precision machines come extra-strong INTERNATIONAL cranks. Those used in light-duty models are 17% heavier than the average of comparable forged or cast alloy 6-cylinder designs — for maximum strength and rigidity, long life.
