The bridegroom-to-be is a graduate of Deary High School, class of 1955, and enlisted in the Air Force the latter part of May. He has been assigned to a 24-month tour of duty in Japan after spending a furlough at home.

Wedding plans are indefinite.

AMEL G. PETERS, OLD-TIME LELAND RESIDENT, PASSES

Amel George Peters, Leland rancher, and one of the best known and most highly respected residents of that community, died at his home there Wednesday morning, Dec. 7, at 7:11 of heart trouble, with which he had suffered for the past three years. He was 71 years old.

Mr. Peters had farmed in this area since 1904. He was born Jan. 21, 1884, at St. Paul, Minn. He moved to Rosalia, Wash., in 1901, and to Leland three years later.

He married Sylvia Daugherty, who survives, at Spokane, Dec. 24, 1911. He was confirmed as a youth, at St. Paul, in the German Lutheran church.

Besides his wife at the family home he is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Vera Decker, Spokane, Mrs. Bernadine Peters, St. Maries, Ida., and Mrs. Irene Olsen of Petersburg, Va.; three sons, Gordon of Kendrick, Elmer of Lewiston and Leo of Spokane, as well as 13 grandchildren. Another daughter, Janie Peters, died in 1945.

Funeral services were held at the Brown-Wann Chapel in Lewiston on Saturday, with the Rev. F. C. Schmidt of the Kendrick Community Church officiating. Mrs. Herman Schupper was organist and Mrs. D. A. Christensen and Mrs. Jud Lee sang.

Active pallbearers were Elroy Kuykendall, Ervin McGeachy, Harold Parks, Walter Crawford, Edwin Mielke and Herman Johnson. Honorary: Homer Parks, Roy Glenn, Reinhard Wilken, E. A. Deobald, William C. Mielke and Charles Hoffman. Interment was in Normal Hill cemetery at Lewiston.

The passing of Mr. Peters saddens this entire area, as he was loved and respected by all who knew him.

Of considerable interest might be the fact that he was one of the first on Potlatch Ridge to use electricity — "Edison Home Plant" for the family home use in 1917. He later installed electric light systems for Herman Koepf, Aug. Meyer, R. B. Parks, Ed. Gerje, Herman Meyer and Claud Craig. Still later he installed a complete lighting system for the town of Leland, the latter being supplied from a central plant housed in the Claude Craig store warehouse.

Mr. Peters held no office on school boards, road districts, etc., but was always willing to help with community problems when needed.

His hobby might be said to be "music," for he loved it, particularly the violin, which he played, and took part in many "Old Time Fiddlers'" contests, not only in this area but in Peck, Pullman, Lewiston and Moscow.

Tonight's The Night

The Kendrick Volunteer Firemen will be out tonight with the big red truck — but there won't be any fire! They will be calling on each of you asking for your yearly gift and presenting you with a ticket to their annual Firemen's Ball on New Year's Eve.

Be sure that you welcome them and have your money ready — for the revenue received from this activity is used for the purchase of equipment, replacement, repairs, etc., the benefits of which we all share alike.

It might be well to remind ourselves how lucky we are to have a Volunteer Fire Dept. These boys give a lot of their time and energy to practice — for the protection of all — without expecting anything in return.

Now is the time we, as a community, can back them, for it takes money to oil the wheels of progress. In supporting them we are saying "Thank You" for the service and protection they give each of us.

Construction Work Progressing

Work is progressing nicely on the new Assembly of God church in the west part of town. Construction is under the supervision of Agner Swan of Juliaetta. Rooms are taking shape and the building outline can be fairly well seen at present.

Plans call for a two-story educational department across the rear with a total seating capacity of 218 pupils. The main auditorium, measuring 30x45 feet, faces the street, and is entered by a side entrance at the rear. With the addition of an 18x29 foot overflow room at the back, the auditorium will have seating space for 200 adults.

The sanctuary will have no ceiling other than the roof, which will reveal two scissor-type trusses, which are soon to be erected.

Gordon Nickell of Grandview, Wn., architect for the building, has carried the rustic pattern throughout. He states that upon completion the church will have an approximate value of more than $40,000.

Plans have been slightly altered from the original drawing shown above, but in general appearance a very good idea can be obtained.

LAST HAND-CRANK TELEPHONE SOLD BY LOCAL CO.

During the last few weeks the last of the hand-crank telephone owned by the Potlatch Telephone Company were removed and replaced with dial phones. The lower Potlatch Ridge and Clearwater country lines, consisting of about 20 phones, was rebuilt and divided into two lines, and cut over to dial — and new dial phones installed. These latter now being served out of the Juliaetta dial office. The phones on the lower American Ridge line were also changed and are now being served out of the dial office. This dial office, though at Juliaetta, is connected with the Kendrick central office, and service is rendered between the two communities without toll.

There are now approximately 175 dial phones served through the Juliaetta control section, all company owned. There are about 170 common battery phones, served through the Kendrick office, which also are company owned. Then there are about 200 farmer-owned phones which are served through the Kendrick office. These farmer-owned phones are mostly on long lines, with up to 28 phones on one line, and are the hand crank type.

To change these to dial would require a great deal of expense in rebuilding lines and building new ones, as about a dozen on a line is the limit at which dial will operate satisfactorily. Also, all phones would have to be replaced.

Almost all of the telephone systems in surrounding communities have gone to the complete dial — but as a large farming community is served, the elimination of the "Hello Girls" in Kendrick seems to be quite some time in the future.

There may come a time that smaller and cheaper dial switchboards can be purchased and installed in the rural communities, and the building of the extra lines averted — but at the present, this is out of the question.

Neighboring towns such as Genesee, Lapwai, Culesac, Deary and Bovill have gone to complete dial and have no personnel residing in any of these towns.

In Kendrick it would mean a saving on operators' salaries and office expenses of about $7,600 a year if all could be converted to dial — but for the time being this payroll will still be here and the "Hello" from the operators and whatever useful information they can give a subscriber will still be available.

In towns where there are no operators such emergency service as the sounding of fire alarms, the locating of a doctor, etc., must necessarily be dependant on other sources than the operator, which can and often does mean the loss of valuable time.

It might be of interest to state that the last hand crank telephone belonging to the local company was disposed of on Thursday, Dec. 8. Asa Cook of Juliaetta purchasing it for personal use between his ranches.

Christmas Decorations Appear

The annual community Christmas tree made its appearance last Sunday, sponsored jointly by the Kendrick Community Lions Club and the Village of Kendrick — and this year, in an effort to make its display a bit more attractive, was erected in the Main Street intersection adjoining the Potlatch Telephone Co., Abrams Hardware, Blewett's Grocery and the Kendrick Tale Supply. Its base is set in a big barrel of sand, and the top guy-wired at four points — so there is no doubt but what it will stay right there. It is decked with red, blue, green, orange and yellow globes, and is indeed most attractive.

In addition several strings of colored lights interwoven with cedar boughs have also been put across Main Street. All this, in conjunction with Christmas lighting in Kendrick business houses, gives our "Main Stem" a most gala appearance.
Christmas items of every kind are on display in the local stores, and merchants report a very satisfactory trade. All of which goes to prove that "the home town really is the spot."

The Kendrick business firms are offering a wonderful selection of Christmas items this year. Have you seen them?

Santa Coming Saturday

Yes, it's true! Santa will arrive in Kendrick on Saturday, Dec. 17, at 2:00 o'clock for his annual visit.

The appointment was made and the hour set at a meeting of the Kendrick Community Lions Club last Wednesday evening, who are sponsoring his visit. Just how he will come is not known at this time, but it is presumed that due to the lack of snow, he will again enter Kendrick on the big red fire truck.

Of course, he will bring with him treats for all the little children — courtesy of Kendrick business firms. On his departure the doors to the Kendrick Theater will swing open for their annual free show — a gift from the theater.

MISS JEANETTE BAILEY IS BRIDE OF DONALD JOHNE

Miss Jeanette Julia Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bailey, Juliaetta, Idaho, and Donald A. Johne, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Johns, Pendleton, Oregon, exchanged vows at a nuptial mass at St. Stanislaus Catholic Church, Lewiston, on Thanksgiving Day, at 10:00 a. m.

The interior of the newly decorated church was bright with large baskets of chrysanthemums, and candles on the altar.

Miss Wanda Trautman, a friend of the bride, sang Schubert's "Ave Maria," "Panis Angelicus" and "O Lord, I Am Not Worthy," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. William Cherrier, who also played the Recessional and Processional.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was beautiful in a floor-length gown of white chantilly lace and full over slipper satin. The bodice was fashioned with a high neck and long tapered sleeves, pointed at the wrist. Her finger-tip veil was trimmed with chantilly lace and held in place by a tiara of tiny orange blossoms. Her bridal bouquet was a white orchid nestled in white carnations. She carried a white prayer book and a pearl rosary, the latter a gift of one of the sisters of St. Francis, Pendleton, Oregon.

Miss Dolores Bailey, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor; and Miss Mary Jo Roden, a cousin of the bridegroom, Ogden, Utah, and Jane Raciocot, Spokane, Wash., a classmate of the bride, were bridesmaids. The maid of honor was attired in a floor-length peach-colored gown of net over crystal, with a softly draped bodice and full skirt, with matching head-dress. Her bouquet was of rose-red carnations. The two bridesmaids wore floor-length gowns of orchid and aqua with matching headpieces. Their bouquets were styled identically with that of the maid of honor.

Little five-year-old Linda Keller, a cousin of the bridegroom, as flower girl, wore a floor-length gown of net over taffeta. Her headpiece was of flowers, and she carried a white basket of rose petals.

Robert Keller, a brother of the flower girl, acted as ring bearer. He wore a white jacket and dark trousers.

Edward Keller, a cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Richard Hermann and John McKenna, cousins of the bridegroom. They were from Milton-Freewater and Spokane, respectively.

Mrs. Bailey chose a mauve-colored dress for her daughter's wedding, complimented with winter-white accessories. Mrs. Frank A. Johne, mother of the bridegroom, wore a navy blue dress with mauve accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of gold talismans roses.

The newlyweds were honored at a reception at the Knight's of Columbus hall. The refreshment table was beautiful, covered with a lace table cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom. The cake was flanked by tall white tapers in white candleabra.

After the traditional first piece had been cut by the bride and groom Mrs. Edmund Bailey, a sister-in-law of the bride, finished cutting and serving. Mrs. Clifton Keller, aunt of the groom, poured, with Mrs. Leo Feucht presiding at the punch bowl.

Mrs. Ed Keller had charge of the reception, with Mrs. Margaret McCoy and Miss Helen Kaminsky presiding over the gift table. Miss Mary Ann Bailey, a niece of the bride, had charge of the guest book.

For going-away the bride wore a gold colored suit with blue accessories. Her corsage was of talismans roses. Following a short honeymoon trip to the coast they returned to Spokane, where they are making their home at 804 E. Montgomery.

The bride, well known here, is a graduate of Kendrick High School and St. Anthony's School of Nursing at Pendleton, Oregon.

The groom has just finished four years with the Air Force, and is now enrolled at Gonzaga University in Spokane.

Father Passes Away

Mrs. Elmo Eldridge received word early Thursday morning of last week that her father, Charles Chase, was sinking, and she left immediately for his bedside at the Deaconess hospital in Spokane. He passed away shortly after she arrived. He had been gravely ill the past two months.

Mrs. Eldridge remained with her mother at the family home in Tekoa until after the funeral, which was held Monday at 1:30 in the Methodist church there. Elmo Eldridge, with their children and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Eldridge, drove up for the service, bringing Mrs. Eldridge home.

SHORT NEWS ITEMS FROM OUR LOCAL SCHOOLHOUSE

Council Meeting
The Student Council held a meeting at 1:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The main topic of discussion was the "Annual."

It was stated that A. W. Johnson would be here Monday to take pictures, but it was decided to postpone this until a later date when more would be known about the "Annual."

Who Was It?
Mrs. White said that someone in the lunch line Tuesday of last week was the 10,000th person to receive a tray of food this year!

The following are the members and instruments playing at this game: Trumpets — Garry Abbott, Billy Blewett, Larry Blankenship, Trombones — David Johnson, Denny Abrams, Clarinets — Marjorie Ingle, Margo Wilken, Judy Koepf, Lynn Koepf, Baritone — Delores Gaskill. Drums — Nita Bencotter, Vicki Tarbet, Jean Jones, Saxophones — Paige Craig, Diane Johns.

Gary Abbott, leader of the group, said that membership will remain the same for the rest of the season.

Christmas Customs
Christmas Tree — The tree, as a symbol of Christmas, was brought to this country by German emigrants. As a religious symbol, branches of the date palm tree were known in ancient Egypt. Roman revelers used the pine tree as a symbol of religious celebration. In practically every country there is a legend concerning a tree and the Christmas season. Today evergreen trees, beautifully decorated with ornaments and glowing with colored electric lights are the delight of children and adults alike. Few homes fail to have some bit of greenery at Christmas.

Yule Log — There is little adherence to the merry custom of burning the Yule Log in American homes. This custom originated with the Scandinavians at the Feast of Yule, from which stems Yuletide (or Yuletide). The Greeks keep a Christmas log burning all through the holiday season. The church-going, country people of Sweden carry large torches and throw them on a pile near the church to make a huge bonfire. It is a beautiful sight to see these people coming with their torches through the woods and over the fields.

Christmas Stocking — Little Dutch children put their wooden shoes on a row in front of the fire — otherwise Saint Nick would leave no gifts. English and American children hang their stockings on the fireplaces so they will be filled with gifts.

Program Dates Are Set
The Music department will present a Christmas program of music, Dec. 22, at 8:00 p. m., in the K. H. S. gymnasium.

The Southwick School will hold their Christmas program on the evening of December 21st.

The Juliaetta Grade School has scheduled their Christmas program for the afternoon of December 21st.

All parents and friends of the school are welcome at any or all of these programs.

Hope For Driver Education
The Kendrick School Board met on Dec. 7th. Among the business problems discussed was that of sending a faculty member to Spokane during the Christmas vacation to attend the AAA drivers' training school. The administration is in hopes of providing Driver Training Education during the second semester.

To Purchase New Lockers
The School Board voted to purchase 15 more lockers to match the 15 bought by the Student Body two years ago, and the 15 purchased by the School Board last year. This will give the High School a total of 45 lockers which is enough to house the belongings of the upper-three classes — as each locker will accommodate items for two students.

Grade Room To Be Re-lighted
The School Board has agreed on a plan for re-lighting the second grade room at Juliaetta, the approximate cost of which is $275.00. The rest of the lighting in the Senior High building at Kendrick will be finished in the spring at an estimated cost of about $1,200.00.

Student Body Meeting
Friday, Dec. 9, a Student Body meeting was held. The students decided to furnish lunches for the ball players and visiting teams following home ball games.

It was also decided to put out an Annual this year, on the grounds that approximately 100 students had made a down payment of $4.00 before the Christmas vacation.

Tigers Bow To Nezperce
Friday evening the Kendrick Tigers were "sculpted" by the Nezperce Indians to the tune of 45-35 in the B game and a close 48-45 in the A game.

The game started out with a "bang," with Kendrick in the lead 19-8 at the end of the first quarter. At the half-time mark Kendrick still held their lead, 28-17. During the third quarter the Indians began their stealthy approach on Kendrick's lead with the end of the period showing 32-28, Kendrick leading. The Indians then began an all-out campaign and won the game 48-45.

In the B game the first quarter ended with Nezperce in the lead 14-10. By the half-time Kendrick had knotted the score 23-23. The Indians bounced back in the last half to win

Custodian To Retire
C. G. Arnett, custodian at the local school for the past ten and one half years, has expressed his desire to retire Jan. 1st.

Mr. Arnett, although he looks 10 to 15 years younger than his 67 winters, says he does not feel quite as spry as he did when he came on the job in the fall of 1945.

His plans for the future are indefinite, but probably will take shape after a trip to the coast shortly after the first of the year.

In addition to his custodial duties Mr. Arnett has also farmed, scaled logs and in general been a pretty busy man.

Tigers Defeat Wolves
The Kendrick Tigers tangled with the Culesac Wolves on the local floor Tuesday evening, defeating them by a score of 73 to 23. A full report on the game will appear in this column next week.

Birthday Dinner
Mr. and Mrs. Dick McCall and daughters and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McCall and children, all of Lewiston, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Clayton.

The occasion honored the Clayton's little son, Stan, on his fourth birthday anniversary.

Card Of Thanks
I would like to thank all my good friends and neighbors for their messages of cheer while I've been ill. The flowers, cards, gifts and many calls have meant more than I can say, and will never be forgotten. x

Man's Oldest Tool For Measuring Up To New Tricks

WASHINGTON — The scale, man's oldest measuring tool, whose use dates beyond the Dawn of History, is taking on many fascinating new jobs in American business and industry.

Take the matter of weighing money, for example. Today, scales are used in many banks to check-weigh packages of paper money to make sure that the bills are all there. A typical transaction might be to drop a package of $1,000 in ten dollar bills on the scale. Present weighing machines are so sensitive that if even a single ten spot is missing its absence sticks out like a sore thumb. Coins are also counted by weight. This saves time and money and makes for peace of mind for bankers—(assuming the money is all there of course).

A manufacturer of baby nipples advertises that his product isn't touched by human hands—and it isn't. A machine automatically packs them three to a box. The only thing is, sometimes the machine makes a mistake. It may pack only two nipples or sometimes one in a box where the customer pays for three. This causes howls of anguish, not only from the babies, but from the customers, too. So the manufacturer has his boxes checkweighed. He doesn't give a hoot how much they weigh, but if one is missing the scales detect it.

Humans In America 7,000 Years Ago

WASHINGTON — Human beings have lived in the northern Missouri Basin for at least 7,000 years. The prehistoric people—presumably of the same type physically as living Plains Indians—passed through many cultural changes due to migrations, variations in climate, perhaps major wars. They were, at various periods, hunters, farmers, food gatherers. Sometimes they combined all three ways of life.

This lost chapter is being tentatively reconstructed from the surveys and excavations carried out under the River Basins Surveys project of the Smithsonian Institution and various Federal and State cooperating agencies. A large number of archeological sites, eventually to be flooded under the government's river development program, have been investigated in order to salvage scientific material of value.

In the course of this archeological work, evidences of what apparently was an early human occupancy of the area were found in the basin of the Angostura Reservoir on the Cheyenne River in South Dakota.

U. S. Eye-Care Habits Compared With British

NEW YORK — Recent studies made in the United States and England reveal an interesting comparison of eye-care habits.

In a nation-wide American survey, it was found that 67.6 per cent of all adults wear glasses and that the average number of pairs owned by each person is 1.5. Average age of frames now in use is 3.0 years, while average age of lens is 2.5 years.

These figures show a slight but healthy improvement has taken place since a similar survey was conducted in 1948. At that time, 67.3 per cent wore glasses, owned 1.4 pairs, average age of frames was 3.7 years and that of lenses, 2.8 years.

The English are tied with Americans in average eye-glass ownership per wearer and those questioned expect to wear their glasses for about the same length of time, 2.75 years. But—only 59 per cent of their adults wear specs.

Old Farm Machinery Turns Pages Of Time

EAST LANSING, Mich.—Michigan State College's collection of antique farm equipment turns back the clock 100 years to the era of the horse-drawn walking plow, hand seeder and wheel cultivator.

The college museum spent five years collecting and restoring the old equipment to its original condition before placing it on display for the summer.

Those "good old days" are recalled by the surrey with the fringe on top; a grist mill, stump puller and three-horsepower sweep. Other pioneer tools that bring to life the farming past include an 1868 reaper, an 1804 threshing machine, an 1870 corn sheller and a hand-operated churn with wooden gears.

Three Little Words

SAN ANGELO, Tex. — The San Angelo Standard-Times got a lot of long letters and weighty opinions when it sent our questionnaires for a news roundup on West Texas economic conditions.

But one reply, from a banker, summed up the trouble with the economic conditions in three words: "Too D—Dry."

British Isles Large And Small, Number In Hundreds

LONDON—Great Britain is the earth's eighth largest island. You would expect the British to let it stand at that. Instead, the major British Isles are fringed with hundreds of smaller ones, some in flocks and coveys, and others standing in stark isolation. While this clutters things up considerably, it works out to the advantage of the vacationist, for some of Britain's best travel attractions lie a little way offshore.

Someone has put the number of British Isles at 902. This figure undoubtedly includes every bit of land surrounded by water large enough to stretch your legs on and above water at high tide.

Not all of Britain's islands are tiny, but none of them is without color. Four of the most important groups, for example, keep alive something of the tongues they spoke before English.

The Channel Islands — Jersey, Guernsey, Alderney, Sark and scores of lesser ones — cling to their Breton dialect. Just off France, they are the last remnants of William the Conqueror's original French realm.

Good-sized Isle of Man and its tiny satellites lie in the Irish sea, in easy reach of England, Wales, Scotland, Northern Ireland and Eire. Here the Manx language, a form of Celtic, survives in written form, along with assorted wee folk (a fairy queen's own cup is in the Manx Museum).

The west of Scotland is half islands, some hugging the mainland and others, like the Outer Hebrides, separated by broad straits.

'Four-Hour' Pills May Be Outmoded

NEW YORK—Taking pills every "four hours" may be a thing of the past. They're now putting out pills "with a built-in memory"; the medicine being put into "extended action tablets" which produce their effects evenly through the night.

The tablet consists of two parts. The outer coating, or shell, contains one dose. This dissolves in the stomach immediately and passes into the small intestine, where it is effective for three or four hours.

Then the inner core of the tablet takes over. It is equal to two old-fashioned tablets. Passing into the small intestine intact, it dissolves slowly. It's like a piece of hard candy in the mouth, only it takes hours to dissolve,—not minutes.

Often a doctor prescribes a medication because he wants the patient to benefit from the sustained effect, round-the-clock, over days, weeks, or even months. Under the new regime, one tablet each morning and one at night does the trick.

Geriatric Department In Future's Store

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va.—Folks have been talking about cars, planes, and houses of the future—what will a drug store look like in 1980?

Dan Rennick, editor of American Druggist, says that among other things it will feature a Geriatric Products department—a section devoted to drugs, foods and other supplies needed by the aged.

The proportion of persons over 65 is increasing so rapidly. Rennick says, that by that time the oldsters will constitute more than 10 per cent of the nation. He estimates there will be nearly twice as many people 65-and-older than there are today.

The store will also have a waiting room for customers waiting for prescriptions and, for the most part, the store will feature self-service since there will be a shortage of clerks.

Oregon Dims Value Of Salmon Derbies

SALEM, Ore.—The Oregon Legislature has virtually put an end to the many fish derbies which usually attracted thousands of fishermen during the big fall salmon runs.

Previously, fishermen flocked to the many coastal streams and bays to compete for thousands of dollars worth of prizes in fish derbies which State game officials and conservationists said were killing off the salmon runs.

The lawmakers approved a bill limiting derby awards to buttons, ribbons, emblems, plaques and trophies.

Cop On The Job

BOSTON — Patrolman John McCarthy, stationed at a hospital, solved a robbery without even leaving his beat.

McCarthy noticed two youths dividing a large number of quarters. One was waiting for treatment of a cut hand.

McCarthy investigated and got the pair to confess they had just broken into a tavern and were dividing the loot.

About Water Witching
U. of I. — The theory of water witching with a forked stick finds an Idaho spokesman in Arthur M. Sowder, federal extension forester and former member of the University of Idaho extension staff. Sowder is the author of an article in "Water," the 1955 yearbook of the department of agriculture.

He says he is a spare-time dowser, having successfully tried forked twigs of many species of wood. Peach, apple and maple seem to be the best. "As I near moving water I can feel the pull," he says, "as the butt end dips downward. When I am over water it is straight down. A stick of brittle wood will break under my grip. Pliable twigs will twist down despite efforts to hold them straight. Although declaring he is a practitioner, Sowder says he does not take sides in the age-old debate. "A large body of scientific investigation," he writes, "says flatly that water dowsing is pure nonsense and without any valid basis. Those who cannot dowse generally assert scoffingly that it is faked by hand manipulations." His article quotes from authorities on both sides without drawing a conclusion. "Water" is a book containing articles on many phases of water use ranging from irrigation to swimming and fishing. Trade with advertisers. It will pay!

Sit-Down Dentist's Career Is Longer, Professor Says

Several years of service will be added to the life of the average dentist if he sits down part of the time while he works.

This is the belief of Edgar W. Swanson, D.D.S., M.S.D., professor of operative dentistry at Northwestern university dental school, who recommends that dentists use operative stools at least 50 per cent of the time.

Dr. Swanson said students in the operative technique laboratory at the Northwestern dental school use operative stools about 60 per cent of the time. Students in the clinics use the stools from 10 to 90 per cent per operation.

Northwestern, convinced that operative stools will be used more widely by dentists to eliminate fatigue and extend their years of service, trains students in the use of the stools.

To obtain more accurate information on the reaction of students to the stools, the school recently sent a questionnaire to every member of its senior class.

The first question was: "Do you feel as tired at the end of the day when you have used an operating stool as you do when you have operated from the conventional standing position?" All but three answered "no." Two of those answering "yes" said it may have been due to their limited experience with the use of a stool.

The second question was: "Do you like the idea of sitting while operating?" All answered "yes."

To the question, "Would you do more operating from a sitting position if more stools were available?" All senior students answered "yes."

Dr. Swanson points out that the operative stool enables a dentist to change his position during the day, which is extremely important in preventing fatigue.

Sugar-Graving Animals Lured by Poison Plants

There may be danger ahead when livestock pass up lush pastures in favor of weeds and tough plants.

The attraction may be a poisonous spray or other chemical that gives ordinary unpalatable weeds and plants a special taste-appeal.

A bulletin issued by the American Veterinary medical association explains it this way: Certain chemicals used in farming, such as sodium chlorate, turn plant starches to sugar, and animals with a "sweet tooth" readily eat the sprayed plants.

Not all the chemicals used for spraying crops and treating soil are poisonous to animals, the AVMA emphasizes, but many of them are. The severity of poisoning varies directly with the kind of chemical and the amount of treated plants the animals consume.

Experiments are still being made to test the safety of various new chemicals on the market, and until all the facts are known, livestock farmers are advised to use only those proved to be safe and to follow manufacturers' instructions.

Resistant Plants

Plant diseases are no respecters of experimental plots. As a result scientists have sometimes acquired valuable information in the nick of time. So it was in the case of Victoria blight of oats, which invaded breeding plots and demonstrated to plant breeders of the U. S. department of agriculture and some of the middle west state experiment stations a type of disease resistance soon to be needed on a large scale. Clinton—and some of the other new varieties of oats derived from the Bond variety—in that way became known as resistant to a disease soon to be rampant in the Mississippi valley. This disease attacked the widely-grown oat varieties derived from the Victoria oat brought in from South America.

Vanishing Wildlife

Gone from the British Isles since World War II is the great bustard, Europe's largest land bird. Going or gone from haunts in Florida and vicinity is the ivory-billed woodpecker, largest of its clan. Deserting the Bahamas in alarming fashion is the tail, scarlet, hued flamingo, whose one United States haven is at Hialeah park, Miami, Florida. Whales, vital food source for many Europeans, long have been reduced to scarcity in northern hemisphere waters. Blue whales, biggest of all, currently show signs of sharp depletion in Antarctic whaling grounds. A new international treaty shortens the hunting season as a whale conservation measure.

First Tank Car

On November 1, 1865, about six years after the world's first oil well was opened at Titusville, Pennsylvania, the first tank car was loaded in that city. It was a flat car fitted with two wooden tanks shaped like inverted tubs. Many of these "rotary" oil cars, as they were called, were used for transporting oil from the Pennsylvania wells, until replaced by the present type of horizontal cylindrical tank, fitted with a dome which allows the oil to expand without injury to the tank. The first of this type was introduced in 1868.

More Users, But Electricity Now Less A Killer

NEW YORK — Fatal accidents involving electric current have decreased in the past quarter century from nine per million population to seven per million population in the United States, although the number of consumers of electricity has about doubled and the use of appliances and power tools has greatly increased.

Safety campaigns fostered by the electric light and power companies and by other agencies are credited with having contributed to this improved record.

Fatal accidents from electric shock—which now take about 1,000 lives yearly in the United States—reach their peak during the summer, with more than two-fifths of the year's fatalities occurring during June, July and August.

The higher mortality in the summer largely comes from increased activity in the repair and extension of electric lines, the generally greater amount of outdoor work, and the fact that the body is more likely to be wet from perspiration, with its resistance to electric shock consequently lowered.

About 95 per cent of the fatalities annually occur among males, reflecting the effect of occupational hazards.

Accidents in the home account for one-sixth of the deaths due to electric current among males, and for about four-fifths of those among females. These home accidents are brought about by such varied circumstances as defective extension cords, the falling of a radio, fan, heater, or other appliance into a bathtub where a person is bathing, and children playing with exposed wires, light sockets and defective appliances.

Employers Rate Teen-Agers Highly

NEW YORK — Despite public concern over today's teen-agers, recent high school graduates working for New York City firms rate fairly high with 255 employers reporting on their work habits, social attitudes and basic skills in a survey recently made public.

The companies graded their young employees generally higher in personal attributes as integrity, ability to get along with others, desire to develop and progress, fairness, courtesy and neatness than in the basic skills of reading, writing, arithmetic, grammar and spelling.

Participating companies were asked to grade the graduates on the basis of poor, fair, good and excellent. The survey report showed that 76 per cent of the 255 employers believed development of better work habits merited increased attention of the schools, while 69 per cent would like to have more attention paid to basic skills and 33 per cent to social attitudes.

Neighbors Suspicious As Van Unloads Slots

EL MONTE, Cal. — Neighbors watching a moving van unload in front of Mrs. Patricia Shedley's home were slightly startled when the driver unloaded 11 slot machines.

Sheriff's Vice Squad officers rushed to the scene. Van driver David Diaz has an explanation:

In Bremerton, Wash., he had loaded Mrs. Shedley's furniture for transport here. In Tacoma the van picked up the one-arm bandit for delivery in Las Vegas, Nev.

To get Mrs. Shedley's furniture out of the van, Diaz and his helper had to first remove the slot machines. "How was I to know it's against the law to haul the machines through California?" he asked.

Couldn't Lift Wife, So He Left Her There

CHICAGO — John Vedeckis, 72, isn't the kind to get excited. Vedeckis was calmly standing around a neighborhood candy store telling friends how his wife, Anna, 75, had fallen into a trunk the day before.

"Did she hurt herself," they asked.

"I don't know," he replied, "she's still there."

They rushed to the house and there she was, trapped in the trunk with only her arms and legs protruding. Vedeckis explained he wasn't strong enough to pull her out, so he went to sleep.

Mrs. Vedeckis was hospitalized for examination.

Dedicated Musicians

EURERA, Calif. — Music means so much to the residents of this sparsely populated section of Humboldt county that some of the 60 members of the Humboldt Little Symphony travel 130 miles weekly to attend rehearsals.

The Little Symphony has been making music in this part of California since 1933. Members are mostly housewives, ministers, teachers and retired persons.

Long-Term Thrift Paying Dividends For Americans

NEW YORK — The average American's "nest egg" is steadily growing and the long-term thrift and investment programs which have been built up over the years are bringing to the saver a greater dollar return in the aggregate than ever before.

At the same time the American people have made a record provision for the future to protect the individual and family, not only in accumulated savings and investments but also in life insurance and pension and retirement programs.

Figures compiled by the U. S. Department of Commerce show that the aggregate return on accumulated personal savings and investments crossed the $35 billion mark for the first time last year. This sum represents the combination of personal interest income, dividends and rental income tabulated by the Department of Commerce in its compilation of the sources of personal income. It does not include any return of principal such as occurs in withdrawals from savings accounts, sale of real estate or securities, etc.

The aggregate return on personal savings and investments in 1954 was up nearly $2 billions over the year before, and added up to two and three-quarters times the comparable figure in 1940. It also contributed approximately $1 out of every $8 in all personal income before taxes last year, indicating the magnitude that the people's savings and investment programs have attained as a result of their persistent thrift.

Taureg Tribesmen Hide Their Faces

LOS ANGELES — A proud and little known people whose men wear veils and cling to customs reminiscent of knights of old were visited recently by a geographer of the University of California.

Dr. Benjamin Thomas visited the land of the Tauregs while studying trade routes and modes of transportation in Africa. Tall, aristocratic, and fearless, the Tauregs once ruled desert commerce with an iron hand before their power was broken by the French.

Called the "People of the Veil," the Tauregs are a nomadic people who live in the central part of the Sahara Desert. They retain a hereditary caste system and any labor but managing herds or fighting is deemed unworthy by Taureg born to the noble class.

Taureg men consider the veil a symbol of masculinity. Taureg women, unlike their Moslem sisters elsewhere in the Arab world, never wear the veil and have the same social freedom as women in the Western world.

These Bats Pitch Tent To Beat The Heat

WASHINGTON—Ever see a bat pitch a tent?

The Smithsonian Institution says the tent-pitching bat, the Uroderma, is strictly nocturnal, so chances are, you won't catch him in the act.

The tent-maker cuts and bends a large palm or coconut leaf into the form of a tent in which it spends the day. Several animals share the same tent, fanning each other with their wings—it is reputed—when the interior of the tent gets to hot for comfort.

Curiously enough, both of the trees whose leaves are used for tents have been introduced into the Jungle, and it is possible that the tentmaking technique has been "invented" by the bats.

Burro Takes Shine To Annoyed Milkman

FAIRFIELD, Conn. — Milkmen and postmen have always had trouble with dogs along their routes—but not John Renchansky, a milkman. His troubles came from an affectionate burro.

It was about 6:30 one morning when Renchansky got tired of the pesky burro following him from house to house and sought the aid of the law.

Two policemen tried to shoo the burro home, but she refused to leave her new-found pal, Renchansky. Police telephoned the burro's owner, Edward Sterling. "She likes to have her nose tickled," said Sterling.

Policeman Ambrose Smith tickled the burro's nose. The animal deserted Renchansky and followed Smith.

Comfortable Canvas

LONDON—Boxers who get KO'd in the future may be able to rest more comfortably on the canvas.

England is testing the injury-reducing effects of putting a layer of foam-rubber sheeting under the canvas in boxing rings. Experiments to date indicate the rubber helps minimize the seriousness of fall injuries.

HELLO, FOLKS:
Something New Has Been Added! Yes, it's a fact. We have just installed a complete wheel and tire balancing set-up, and are now prepared to do that work accurately and quickly. Don't drive a "chatter" or "bump-bumpy" car when the simple addition of balance weights will give you smoothness and satisfaction.
And, when you buy a tire from us, we mount it and balance it FREE! Just a further addition in our effort to bring you complete driving satisfaction.

Mrs. Lester could not endure the thought of anyone remaining unmarried, so when she encountered Mr. Telverson, single and quite cheerful about it, she remarked archly: "Forty years old, Mr. Telverson, and never been married."

It's really too bad. But surely you have not given up hope?"
"Oh, no, indeed," replied Mr. Telverson. "I hope I am safe for another 40 years, anyway!"

Does your car or pickup "look a sight?" If so, why let it stay that way. Bring it in to us for a wash job, or wash and wax. And while it's here let us service it with those wonderful Union Lubricants. You just can't beat 'em!

New Wife: "I'd like to get some fresh beet greens for my husband. They don't have any poison spray on them, do they?"

Grocer: "No, I'm sorry, Ma'am, you'll have to get that at the drug store."

Yes, we stock chains, mud and snow tires, anti-freeze, etc.
