The affair this year is again being sponsored by the Kendrick Community Lions Club, with the free lunch at noon by courtesy of the Kendrick business firms.

All farmers from this area are invited to bring their wives and attend. There will be something of interest for everyone.

JOINT DISTRICT P.-T. A. MET MONDAY EVENING IN H. S.

Joint District No. 283 P.-T. A. met at the Kendrick High school Monday, February 20, with 64 attending.

To open the program the group sang "Battle Hymn of the Republic," followed by the Invocation by Rev. F. C. Schmidt.

The Secretary-Treasurer's reports were read and approved.

In response to the Kindergarten question the group voted to help sponsor it again this year, and the following were appointed to check their areas for eligible children: Mrs. Otto Schupfer, Juliaetta; Mrs. Ben P. Cook, Kendrick; Mrs. Emil Sillow, Leland-Cameron.

Mrs. Nora Callison announced a new rule applying to the "Room Count." In addition to the actual room count for the room receiving the P.-T. A., Poodle, membership in the P.-T. A. and subscriptions to the P.-T. A. magazine will be counted, with the room winning to enjoy a field day trip at the last of school.

The "Fact Finding" committee, chairman, Harry Newman, reported that each family should receive a questionnaire this week, pertaining to new schools in our area, and the committee would appreciate it greatly if people would answer these and return them immediately.

Under "New Business" a letter was read explaining "Teacher Education Scholarships" used in Idaho to encourage young people to enter the teaching profession. Mr. Cook made a motion that $5.00 be sent to this fund. It was carried unanimously.

Mrs. Russell Perkins read a report from the American Medical Ass'n. concerning selling carbonated beverages in our schools, and explaining the danger of substituting such beverages for needed nutrition. A discussion was held concerning the pop machine in our school, and Mrs. Callison emphasized that the policy of the P.-T. A. is not to advise the school faculty on operating the school, but did ask for any comments pro-or-con as the teachers might then know the attitude of parents, rather than the parents just talking at home about the matter.

Mr. Meserve read the report of the State Department of Education following a visit to our school by the State Supervisor in October, 1955.

The P.-T. A. Poodle went to the sixth grade room at Juliaetta, again.

Mrs. Gerald Ingle, program chairman for the evening, gave a brief history of the Founders of the P.-T. A., observing Founders Day, and presented a candle lighting service, with Mrs. Bob Nelson assisting.

Following this Mrs. Walter Hereth of Lewiston showed slides of her two-year stay in Turkey, and displayed some of the things she brought home with her. The entire group expressed their appreciation to her for the interesting pictures and talk she gave.

The hostesses for the evening, Mrs. Walter Benscoter, Mrs. Marion Rowden, Mrs. Wm. Johnson, Mrs. Lawrence Heimgartner, Mrs. Nora Callison, Mrs. Geo. Havens, Mrs. Wayne Davis, Mrs. Dee Shepherd and Mrs. Joe Clayton served delicious refreshments.

Surprise Shower

Mrs. Don Fincher of Juliaetta was pleasantly surprised Tuesday afternoon when a group of friends called to honor her with a bridal shower.

Mrs. Leonard Wolff and Mrs. Chas. Easterbrook, joint hostesses, served delicious refreshments at the close of the afternoon.

Mrs. Fincher (nee Mary Ann Glenn) received many lovely and useful gifts.

Benjamin Franklin said: "There is nothing so powerful as the truth." A fact most politicians dislike!

MORE PERTINENT INFORMATION ON DISTRICT SCHOOLS

This is the fourth and final article, concerning our schools, from the list suggested by the P.-T. A. Fact Finding Committee. This article is intended to help clarify the questions that are continually coming up concerning the finances of the school district.

Question: "What is the Assessed Valuation?" Answer: Assessed valuation is the monetary value that the county assessor has placed on your property for tax purposes. This figure is approximately 14 percent of the real value of the property. This 14 percent may vary a little from one piece of property to the next, but that is the approximate figure that is being aimed at by county officials.

Thus, if your property is worth about $5,000.00, the assessed valuation should be approximately $700.00. Therefore, when taxes are assessed against your property the tax in mills is multiplied against the assessed valuation of $700, not the $5,000.00 resale value.

For example: If school taxes went up 10 mills, you would multiply the assessed valuation of $700.00 by 10 mills and get a tax increase of $7.00 — not the $50.00 that you would get if you multiplied the sale value of $5,000.00 by 10 mills. The assessed valuation of the property in Joint School District No. 283 is $2,288,783.00 at the present time.

This figure represents an increase of $144,825.00 since 1953, so you see we are growing and can expect a slow but continued growth in the future.

The $2,288,783.00 figure is the one the School Board and Administration must work with when setting up an operating budget for the schools. Our present budget for the operation of our schools. The rest of our $127,049.68 budget comes from the state and counties.

If a building program was undertaken in the school district, it would be possible, under the present 15 percent bonding limit, to bond for $343,317.45. When the present 15 percent law expires next year, and we revert to the old 10 percent law, we would only be able to raise $228,873.30 unless the legislature should extend the 15 percent law.

In any case it probably would not be advisable to bond for the absolute limit because of the remote possibility of delinquent taxes, or a decrease in valuation.

We have the dubious distinction of being one of nine school districts in the State of Idaho that does not have a bonded indebtedness. This is a fact to be proud of, but not at the expense of your students educational facilities.

If the School District was to pass a bond election for, say, $300,000, it would mean a probable increase of 9 mills in your taxes. The average town dwelling, with an assessed valuation of about $425.00 is now paying less than $40.00 a year taxes. A 9 mill increase would cost this average home owner $3.83 per year, or about a 10 percent increase in taxes on city property. The average farmer, with an assessed valuation of $4,000 would have to pay an additional $36 per year — less than the average smoker spends on his cigarettes.

The P.-T. A. Fact Finding committee has prepared a questionnaire that is being mailed to every household in the district. The purpose of the questionnaire is to obtain the unbiased opinion of everyone concerning our educational plants and program. It is the hope of the Fact Finding committee that everyone will study this questionnaire, write out their own carefully thought out answers, and mail it back in the enclosed, stamped self-addressed envelope. If, through an oversight on our part, you do not receive your questionnaire this week, please notify the office at the High School and we will mail you one promptly. You do not need to sign the questionnaire, but it would be appreciated if you would do so.

Please mail them back by March 2nd.

Marion Rathbun Passes

Word reached Kendrick late Wednesday morning of the passing of Marion L. Rathbun, well known former Juliaetta resident, at his home in Moscow, Tuesday night. He had been in failing health for the past seven months. Death was attributed to a brain tumor, from which he had undergone surgery some months ago.

Mr. Rathbun was born in Moscow, July 30, 1895. He lived near Moscow until he married Pearl Lackner at Coeur d'Alene. They moved to Juliaetta, where they lived until last December, when they sold their farm and moved to Moscow.

He is survived by his wife, Pearl and one son, Louis, both at the family home; also one sister, Mrs. Wm. Bingman of Genesee, and five brothers, Earl of Graham, Wash., Willis of Kennewick, Wash., Roy of Otis Orchards, Wash., and Fred and Arthur, both of Moscow.

He was a member of the Christian Church.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2:00 p. m. in Short's Funeral Chapel, Moscow. Burial will be in the Moscow cemetery.

We regret further details are not available at this time.

Home From Hospital

SHORT NEWS ITEMS FROM OUR LOCAL SCHOOLHOUSE

Tigers Drop Opening Game

Defending district champion Lapwai High school breezed to a 67-32 win over Kendrick and Culdesac eliminated Winchester 46-42 in the Valley sub-district class B basketball tournament at Lapwai Saturday evening.

It was the second round of the double-elimination meet which now recesses until Thursday evening. Kendrick will meet Culdesac at 7:00 p. m. that day, with Lapwai meeting Reubens for the second game. Reubens was the surprise winner over Winchester Friday evening.

Accurate shooting made the difference in the Lapwai-Kendrick game. Lapwai averaged 36 percent in scoring 23 of 64 field goals and 78 percent in sinking 21 of 27 free throw attempts. Kendrick managed only 14 of 63 field shots for 22 percent, and 4 of 16 free throw attempts for 27 percent.

Fouling also had a hand in the game, with Lapwai charged with only 7 against Kendrick's 17.

The Tigers seemed unable to get a real offense under way against the Lapwai defenders and were able to score only 13 points in the second and third quarters. Lapwai's second five played the entire final quarter.

LeRoy Seth of Lapwai was the game's top scorer with 17 points. The Tigers were paced by Jim Armitage, Glen Wegner and Lyle Parks, each counting six points. Armitage led the game on fouls late in the final period.

The score by quarters: First, 17-12, Lapwai; half, 32-20, Lapwai; third, 49-25, Lapwai; final, 67-32, Lapwai.

Juniors Reporting

Folks, we sort of slipped up last week by not reporting on "Strictly Formal." But this week you'll be especially interested in hearing about the cast of characters in our play, which will be presented Thursday evening, March 16th.

First, there are Jane and Sally, who can't make their steady boy friends "perk" when dates to the Junior-Senior formal are in order. You know how men get to taking women for granted. Wanda Peters and Delores Gaskill act the roles of these two worried adolescents. Their thoughtless boy friends, George and Jim, are portrayed by Darrel Brocke and Chuck Cuddy. This indefinite state of affairs throws a decided burden upon the only semi-eligible male left — poor, gangling, unassuming Elroy, who, unaware that his popularity stock is being abnormally inflated in feminine circles, goes blissfully on to steal the spot light. Gary Gertje plays the part of Elroy. Not only is Elroy the target for the wiles of Jane and Sally, but Marilyn and Rose, two attractive "sweet sixteeners," also attempt to meet the male shortage by pursuing Elroy. The roles of Marilyn and Rose are acted by Margie Ingle and Nita Benscoter.

There is no villain in Strictly formal, but there is decidedly a "feminine threat" in the person of Marcia, a youthful siren who "gets her man" if and when she so desires. Marcia is played by Montez Browning. She meets her match, however when the delightful character of Cindy appears on the scene. Cindy is played by Karen Nelson. Prize ponies enter the picture, too, when Jane picks prize flowers. The two temperamental fathers are played by Albert Westendahl and Leland Slind. Jane's mother, however, played by Wilma Head, pours oil on the troubled waters. Agnes, the Cutlers' maid, is a character ably handled by Mary Lohman.

Two other parts, Mrs. Tilton, Rose's mother, and Josie, her little sister, who is somewhat of a brat, are played by Daisy Groseclose and Frieda Bamberg. Gary Abbott plays the role of a lieutenant in the Air Force, with a southern accent and impeccable manners.

Students Good Listeners

"The students of this school are some of the best listeners to classical music that I have ever played before," said Don Comfort, accordionist, who played at our school last Thursday.

The students enjoyed the program, and we hope that Mr. Comfort comes to our school again.

Kendrick Loses To Tierney's

Lapwai — Tierney's of Lewiston and Pullman won their way into the finals of the Lewis-Clark League basketball tournament at Lapwai on Monday evening. Tierney's, the defending league champions, defeated Kendrick 67 to 55 in the Monday night opener.

The score in the Kendrick-Tierney battle was tied at 32-all at the half-time, and again at 37-all early in the second half. Then Tierney's inched ahead using the fast-break offensive, and were never headed from that point on. Free throws appeared to make the difference, with Tierney's canning 16 of 20, while Kendrick was able to garner but 7 out of 11. Kendrick scoring follows: Chuck Easterbrook 11, Herb Millard 4, Ira Havens 15, Luther Parks 10, Ken Brown 3, Orville Halseth 2, Ron Craig 2, Max Clemenhagen 4, Jess Clemenhagen 4.

W. S. C. S. Circles

The Afternoon Circle will meet on Thursday, Feb. 23, at 2:00 in the home of Mrs. E. A. Deobald with Mrs. W. L. McCree as co-hostess. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

The Evening Circle will meet Feb. 27 in the home of Mrs. Bob Magnuson. Mrs. John Deobald has charge of the program, and all are urged to be present.

Always A Friend

A friend is the man who knows all about you — and still likes you!

Roads Very Soft

The chinook wind of Sunday night, Monday and part of Tuesday, cut deeply into the snowbanks throughout the area. In doing so it pulled the heavy frost from the ground and roads, and in many places left the road surface a "slimy quagmire."

On Tuesday logging truck operators said they had received no word of load restrictions, but expected them to be "slapped on" any minute.

Felling, sawing and other woods operations were proceeding full tilt, with woods workers finding the warmer weather most welcome.

Mill ponds at the local mills were begging to lose their ice coating, and should this weather continue a few days, resumption of operations would be possible.

SAM TABER, JULIAETTA PIONEER PASSES ON SUNDAY

Samuel St. Clare Taber, 89, died Sunday evening at 10:00 at his home on Fix Ridge, near Juliaetta. Death was attributed to the infirmities of old age.

He was a retired farmer who had lived at or near Juliaetta since he took up a homestead in 1878 on Fix Ridge.

The ridge was named after Mr. Taber's stepfather, Eleazar Fix. Mr. Taber was 11 when his family moved there. He was the last survivor of the early-day settlers of that vicinity.

Mr. Taber had retired from farming in 1944, and had lived at Juliaetta until last August, when he moved back to his farm home.

Mr. Taber was born Oct. 28, 1866, in the Walla Walla Territory. He was a member of the United Brethren Church.

He married Dora Thomas at Juliaetta in December of 1887. She died in June of 1921. Mr. Taber married Evelyn Ruth Davey at Juliaetta in November of 1923. She passed away in January of 1935. He married Marie Elizabeth Arnold at Juliaetta, May 13, 1944, and she also preceded him in death, passing Aug. 27, 1955.

Survivors include a son, Rex of Juliaetta; a daughter, Mrs. Thelma Evans of Riverton, Wyoming; a half sister, Mrs. Lillie Hall of Moscow, and a half brother, Ira Fix of Lewiston; 11 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday morning at 11 at the United Brethren Church. The Revs. Ben Pressman and Earl Gaskill will officiate. Burial will be in the Fix Ridge cemetery. Brower-Wain Funeral Home of Lewiston is in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Taber was a friendly man. He always had a smile and a warm word of greeting for young and old alike. He was always willing to help friend and neighbor, and these attributes alone will make him long remembered.

Writes From Fort Ord

Under date of Feb. 16, from Fort Ord, Calif., Pvt. Wally Wolff writes as follows:

"I have been intending to write, but it seems as if my off time is very limited. I want to thank you very much for sending me the Gazette. It is much more appreciated to read what the home folks are doing when one is so far from home.

"To save a little trouble you need not send it to this address anymore. I am being transferred to Virginia for Engineer Maintenance training. Will send you my new address when I arrive there.

I received a letter from the folks today and it sounds as though it is pretty wintery in Idaho. It seems just as cold to me here, as we are right on the coast and get a cold ocean breeze which will really freeze anyone. I should be home on furlough soon unless the army changes its plans — which is very possible. Sure will seem good to get back to Idaho again.

"Again, thanks for the paper. Hope to see all of you soon. — Wally."

Evergreen Friendship Club

The next meeting will be with Esther Blewett, with Bernadine Easterbrook as co-hostess on March 21. Roll call will be "My Favorite Spring Flower." Program: "Lamps and Lighting" by Mrs. Edwin Nelson and Mrs. Margie Eldridge.

A special solo was furnished by Mrs. D. A. Christensen, and later Miss Donna Kanikkeberg and Mrs. Burton Souders, Jr., sang "The Lord's Prayer" during the lunch hour.

In the afternoon session a skit was presented by Mrs. Elmo Eldridge and daughter Janet, and the choir sang a beautiful selection.

New Book by Edna Janes Kayser
"The Bridegroom Cometh," by Edna Janes Kayser is a book of intimate tenderness concerning the person of Jesus Christ, the Son of God. Edna Janes Kayser portrays a Christ who is close to the reader, One who is ever present and ever ready to help mankind in the many problems of life. She describes Christ as being as real as the people we see daily. His mercy, love and concern shine across the pages. Here is a warm, living Christ in a world so in need of eternal strength.

Rich in the language of poetry, with the varied qualities of imagery, "The Bridegroom Cometh" will be especially welcomed by those who are lovers of beauty.

Part II, "Portraits of the King," reveal Christ as a person of beauty, mercy and grace. For the one who is seeking solace in the Lord, there is comfort in this book.

Edna Janes Kayser, a daughter of the late A. E. Janes of Kendrick, needs no introduction to the literary world. She has been writing for many years and has been very successful in publishing some delightful collections of poems including "Sunlight and Shadow" and "Leaves of Amber Wine." There have also been numerous brochures of a religious nature credited to her name.

Farm Tree Orders By March 1st
Orders are being taken at the University of Idaho, college of forestry, tree nursery, for planting stock on Idaho farms according to Franklin Schoeffler, assistant county agent in forestry. Frank Pitkin, manager of the nursery department has recently completed an estimate of planting stock available to farmers to plant this spring. His estimate is well over 700,000 trees, all of which are of exceedingly good quality.

If you wish trees for spring planting and want to be sure of obtaining the kind for your planting plans, be sure to place your order before March 1st, as this is the last date for requests.

Planting stock not sold by March 1st is declared surplus in the Nursery department. However, as in previous years, orders received after that date will probably be taken, but with limitations as to kind and quality. You can secure these order requests at your county agent's office, Box 25, Moscow, or by writing Franklin Schoeffler, Farm Forester, Court House, St. Maries, Idaho.

Delicious refreshments in keeping with Washington's birthday were served by the hostess committee.

Watch Your Cattle Feed
This is the time of year cattle are likely to get short of vitamin A, says Wade Wells, animal husbandman of the University of Idaho extension service. It's the element in green grass and fresh grain.

When winter drags, the amount of vitamin A is apt to be small in regular feeds. As it declines, cattle fall off in general health and development. Vitamin A is particularly important for normal reproduction in cows.

Swelling of the joints and night blindness may be signs that the animals are not getting enough of this element, Wells said. In advanced stages the shortage can cause convulsions.

In areas where supplies of green, leafy forage and fresh yellow grain are limited, vitamin A can be supplied, he said, by including in the daily ration a few pounds of good green hay, or small quantities of fish oil, or alfalfa meal, or alfalfa pellets.

'A Real "Weather Switch"
This section of the Inland Empire has certainly had a greatly enjoyed "weather switch" the past couple of days.

Following the snowstorms of last Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, with maximum temperatures of around 28 degrees, the weather began warming a bit Sunday, with bright sunshine.

However, on Sunday night a gentle breeze began blowing, and the mercury began to rise, climbing until it hit a high of 42 degrees. Then it fell to 28 degrees early Monday morning.

Later, under cloudy skies the mercury again began to climb as the chinook wind bit into snow banks. All night Monday the wind blew, and carried with it the snow.

Tuesday at noon the "official" thermometer recorded a high of 54 degrees, with a gentle wind, and by late afternoon Kendrick's streets were bare and all but dry, in fact, on Main street little curls of dust could be seen following behind large vehicles.

About dark the thermometer again began to fall, accompanied by a down-pour of rain here in the canyon, and snow on top the hills. About 10:30 the rain switched to snow here and Wednesday morning approximately two inches of the wettest, heaviest, soggiest snow anyone ever saw lay on the ground. Ed. Brown of the state highway maintenance department reported the local crew had plowed snow all night, and that at Southwick approximately 16 inches lay on the ground "and it was about as wet a snow as you could ever see."

As the soggy mass dripped and fell from trees, telephone and light wires here any pedestrian was liable to receive a "real ducking" if unlucky enough to get hit by a falling "gob" of the wet snow.

It might be of interest to say that the Lewiston weather bureau reported a reading of 60 above for Tuesday at noon, which was the all-time official high reading for that day (Feb. 21) since weather records had been kept there.

Are You Average Idahoan?
"Are you an average Idahoan?" asks the Idaho State Police. You know the average Idahoan gets behind the wheel of his automobile, speeds down the road, and quickly slows down upon seeing a black and white Idaho State Police car. That's a natural reaction for most drivers. That black and white car is a sign of law enforcement to the motorist; it's a sign of enforcement without partiality.
There are other signs on the highways of the State of Idaho — signs that are more important to the driver. But most drivers take them to mean signs of discretion. Traffic experts, however, call them "Signs of Life." They cost thousands of dollars to erect and are placed at just the right points to save your life. In simple terms, they are Traffic Signs. These inanimate protectors of your safety deserve more attention and consideration. Even the shape of the sign has a meaning and were designed that way for the convenience of the motorist.
The diamond shaped sign is a warning measure and usually requires the reduction of speed. The round sign always indicates a railway crossing, just as the octagonal sign indicates a Stop. A driver can recognize the simple shape of these signs and automatically know what to expect ahead. They give the motorist a convenient forecast of road conditions whether he is driving at night or day. Know and obey these "signs of life," suggest the Idaho State Police.
Experience is the only sure-fire cure for inexperience.

Poultry Raisers Should Eye Market
Get Birds Ready When Prices Right

The fact that each person in the United States may be eating more broilers is not a go-ahead sign for unlimited expansion in broiler growing, says H. E. Larzelere, farm economist at Michigan State University.
Larzelere says that increased consumption does not necessarily mean increased demand. If production is large and there is no increase in demand, prices are lowered to move the increased number of broilers.
In explaining some of the changes in demand for broilers and fryers, Larzelere said prices are usually lower the last three months of the year in spite of smaller supplies. Competition due to seasonal marketing of farm chickens (old hens and cocker-

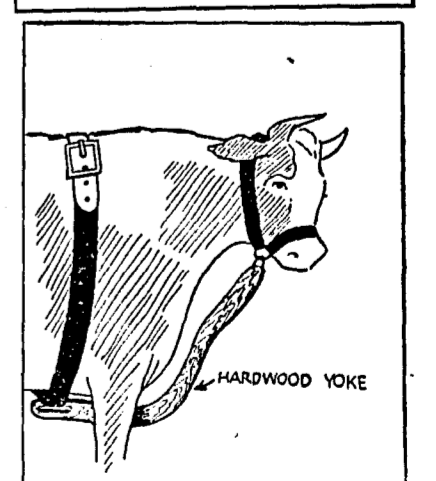

Farm economists suggest planning your yearly production of poultry so that birds will be ready for market when both prices and demand are most favorable.

els) and turkeys cause this. Increase in demand occurs in warm weather when consumers want meat to broil or fry rather than to roast or bake.
Since relative demand and available supplies both affect price, highest prices may not occur when demand is strongest. Large supplies may overcome even a good demand.
In planning a year's production, Larzelere advises growers wanting to raise three lots of birds to be ready to sell during March, June and September. For those wanting to raise four lots, he suggests being ready to sell in January, April, July and late September.

High Price Supports Are Often Helpful

There are times when rigid high price supports for farm commodities seem to serve the best interests of a nation. But conditions must be right.
One instance in which they seemed to work was observed by H. C. M. Case, University of Illinois farm economist, in Finland last year. Farmers in Finland, which is as far north as Alaska, simply cannot raise sugar beets in competition with sugar production in other areas of the world without government help.
But Finland had a sugar shortage in World War II. In order to develop a partial home supply to meet emergencies, the government is supporting the price of sugar beets about 45 per cent above the retail price of sugar to get a production of about 30 per cent of the domestic demand.
We have done and are doing the same thing with wool, because we have to depend on other countries for much of our wool supply. By paying producers a bonus for producing wool in the United States, we are encouraging wool production which makes us less dependent on imports.

Improved Yoke

Improved hardwood yoke will cure a cow of the undesirable habit of self-sucking. Yoke is attached to a halter and supported by a belly band. While restricting sideways movement, yoke doesn't interfere with normal feeding.

Don't Give Pigs Too Much Protein

14 Per Cent Ration Brings Top Results

A too-high protein ration will not poison pigs as commonly claimed, but it has two undesirable effects—it is more expensive and acts as a laxative.

This conclusion came from a demonstration last summer by a University of Minnesota animal husbandry professor, L. E. Hanson.

It backs up facts proven in previous experiments there and in other states' agricultural experiment stations.

In the experiment, Hanson split several groups of littermates into two lots at eight weeks, just after weaning. He gave one lot a ration with 14 per cent protein—

Pigs will thrive on the recommended 14 per cent protein ration and will use their feed better, according to results of a University of Minnesota demonstration.

the recommended level. The other got a 30 per cent protein feed.

Here's what happened: Pigs on the 14 per cent protein ration out-gained the others 1.31 to 1.54 pounds a day. They used their feed better, too, gaining 100 pounds on 318 pounds of feed. Pigs fed the 30 per cent protein ration used 345 pounds of feed to gain 100 pounds.

Even more important, it was much cheaper to feed a ration with the recommended protein level. The feed cost was 10 cents a pound compared to 15.2 cents for the high-protein ration.

Ewes With Lamb Need Plenty of Good Food

Ewes need plenty of good feed while they are carrying lambs.

Jack Lewis, assistant superintendent of the Dixon Springs (Illinois) Experiment Station, reports that research shows that ewes fed a good ration during pregnancy have heavier, stronger lambs than ewes that didn't get enough to eat.

Sheepmen at the station combine four parts of oats and four parts of shelled corn with one part of good protein supplement during the last 30 to 45 days of pregnancy. They feed this ration at the rate of one-half to one pound a head daily while continuing to run the ewes on pasture.

Ewes bred to lamb early can be on pasture for at least eight weeks before they need supplemental winter rations. Good sheep pastures during this time could contain some fescue, orchard grass or a cereal grain.

When the ewes stop gaining weight and show signs of needing more feed, station sheepmen start feeding one-half pound of oats per head daily and let the ewes continue to rustle for most of their roughage. In this way the sheep get the exercise they need in order to keep vigorous and healthy.

A mature ewe of average size and condition at breeding time should gain about 25 to 30 pounds before she lambs, Lewis says.

Tire Traction

Tire traction when you need it on slippery pavement can be gained by merely using a few asphalt roof shingles. Carried in trunk of car or vehicle, a couple of shingles will provide enough traction to get you rolling again.

Geneva Longtime Convention City For Entire World

WASHINGTON — Traditionally hospitable to international negotiators, Geneva, Switzerland, has witnessed the fruition of ideas and ideals affecting all mankind.

The International Red Cross was founded in Geneva 91 years ago. In 1920 Geneva became headquarters of the League of Nations. A few years later came the Geneva Protocol on regulating international disputes. A world disarmament conference was held from 1932 to 1934 at the League headquarters.

The city is now the seat of the Economic Commission for Europe, the World Health Organization, the International Telecommunication Union, and the International Committee for European Migration.

The city has so frequently been a conference center that the term "Geneva Convention"—rules for international conduct—is as familiar around the world as "Swiss watch," an important Geneva product.

Geneva visitors delight at the thousands of watches that gleam in shop windows. One company keeps a case history of every watch it has made. Each time-piece is assembled then taken apart and reassembled three times before being oiled. Such painstaking attention to work reflects the Genevise love of precision.

Besides international conventions and watches, Geneva boasts many products: precision tools, electric fittings, sewing machines, gas and electric stoves, pencils and perfumes.

Happy Secretary Gets Praise With Paycheck

LOS ANGELES—Business men who have trouble keeping a competent secretary should hand out a generous portion of praise with her weekly paycheck.

That's the advice of a former secretary, Dr. Allen R. Russon, now an associate professor of office management and business education at the University of Utah. Dr. Russon says that sincere appreciation from the boss is more important than many other considerations such as salary and working surroundings.

Among reasons secretaries go looking for other jobs are lack of employer appreciation, insufficient salary, grimy office quarters, inconsistent promotion policies, pettiness about vacations and sick leave, in that order, she says.

Dr. Russon sees no end to the present secretary shortage. "After all," she says "you can't tell a machine to run down to the bank with a late deposit or go shopping for your wife's anniversary present."

Not Elephants—But Pink Flamingos

LA JOLLA, Cal.—Anybody got a pet flamingo? If so, you might be interested to know you can brighten up your flamingos by feeding them ground-up shellfish in addition to their usual diet of grass pellets, millet, rice and dried flies.

For the past year, two dozen flamingos in the San Diego Zoo have been fed regular doses of the finely ground shell of the California spiny lobster. As a result, the American species have developed striking pink and vermilion tints in the skin of their legs and bills and in new feathers. Their kin, the Chilean flamingos, have also developed bright pink skin on their feet and leg joints, but their feathers remain, as in nature, mostly white.

Woman Scorned Takes Revenge On Auto

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich.—Police learned the power of a woman scorned, but won't tell her name and her boy friend won't prosecute.

Someone reported a hit-and-run accident. A young woman was lying in the street. Questioning police found out that the woman in question had followed her boy friend, who drove another young woman home in his convertible. While he was saying good night to the other woman, No. 1 picked up rocks and smashed the lights, windows, and instrument panel of his car.

As he drove off, she was pulling on the convertible top and was knocked down, not exactly hit-and-run style.

Finally Fooled
GENEVA, N. Y.—A fisherman trying his luck on Seneca Lake landed an "oldtimer"—a 17-year-old trout tipping the scales at 22 3/4 pounds.

John Kenyon of Geneva pulled in his line and saw a tag attached to the dorsal of the fish. It was dated October 4, 1945. Records showed the fish, when placed in the lake on that date, was 8 years old and weighed 6 pounds.

No Sure Answer To Bloat Problem

But Precautions Can Prevent Heavy Losses

No one has a sure answer to the bloat problem. Products on the market that claim to prevent bloat have not yet been proved effective.

Dairymen can, however, take a number of precautions that may help to prevent serious losses.

Bloat occurs when a hungry cow eats too much green, wet, lush forage too fast. The cow

Turning a hungry cow into a wet, lush pasture is an open invitation to bloat. Planned pastures should not be more than 50 per cent legume, since cows seldom bloat on grass pastures.

actually fills her stomach so full that the gas exit through the esophagus or gullet is closed off.

Obviously the way to prevent cows from eating so much that they may bloat is to see that they are not hungry when they first go on new pastures.

Legumes sometimes produce a foam or froth in the pauch that blocks off the gas exit. Dairymen who have trouble with bloat would do well to plan pastures that are not more than 50 per cent legume, because cows do not ordinarily bloat on grass pastures.

Wet pastures seem to increase possibility of bloat. The reason is probably that the cow can eat the wet feed faster, although it may not be the complete explanation.

Preventive measures and treatments for bloat are explained in a publication available from the Dairy Science Department, University of Illinois, Urbana.

Aerial Screw-Worm Campaign Is Studied

The campaign against screw-worms in the southeast poses many problems and entomologists need at least two more years of research to learn if mass release of sterile male screw-worm flies over Florida is worth a try as a practical means of ridding the southeastern United States of this destructive livestock pest, the U. S. Department of Agriculture says.

Screw-worms were eradicated from the small Caribbean island of Curacao in an experiment carried on by USDA's Agricultural Research Service with the cooperation of the Netherlands West Indies Government. Male flies made sterile by radioactive cobalt rays were released from planes over the island to mate with wild female flies.

Problems are essentially mass-production ones: covering 50,000 square miles instead of 170; distributing 50 million sterile flies a week instead of 200,000; establishing and operating large rearing laboratories and gamma-ray sources; and recruiting and training numerous experienced entomologists and scientific aides instead of the half-dozen workers that freed Curacao of screw-worms.

Sapling Support

Hazardous obstacle of guy wires used to support young saplings until they are old enough to stand alone is prevented with the use of 2x2 posts imbedded into the ground near the base of the tree and using two lengths of galvanized wire for support as shown above.

Blind Veteran Helps Sightless Renew Confidence

CHICAGO—Newly blinded veterans and servicemen are learning to walk, work, and play again under the leadership of a man just as blind as they.

Serving as a constant example of success and adjustment to the newly blinded men at the VA hospital, Hines, Ill., is Russell C. Williams, himself a blinded veteran. He is chief of the blind rehabilitation section at Hines.

Assisting Williams are specially trained sighted therapists who work "seven days a week, 24 hours a day" on an individual basis with the patients.

The program participated in by the patients, who come from throughout the United States, is not vocational training but a way of making the emotional and physical change needed for "a fresh launching into society." Underlying all the activities is the aim of showing blinded men that they can adjust and succeed in everyday life.

The activities begin with simple projects and progress to harder ones.

As patients conquer each new situation, they move to the next, always gaining confidence in their ability to succeed. Each patient progresses at his own rate under the supervision of his own therapist.

In shop units, patients begin with leather work, move to weaving, then to the use of hand tools and, finally, to power equipment.

The men are taught to walk with a cane in simple situations in the hospital.

Nation On Mass Prospecting Binge

NEW YORK — The American public is on a mass prospecting binge. It used to be gold, silver or a new railroad that would set a town rocking, but in this atomic age, it's uranium. As a result, amateur prospecting has become one of the biggest of all U. S. hobbies and a booming multi-million dollar Geiger counter business has sprung up.

The "new" prospector is offered a remarkably broad selection of instruments and books, radioactive ore samples and other accessories peculiar to uranium hunting. A free quickie education on how to prospect is usually thrown in as a bonus. One New York City supplier sells everything from geologists' picks at $4.98 apiece to scintillation counting systems for airborne surveying at $4500.00.

Has the prospecting boom reached its peak? No one thinks so, least of all the prospectors and with one being born every minute, they should know. As a sport, it is gaining innumerable fans and as a business, well... even the beginning of the end is a long way off, according to the experts.

Collector's Coincidence In Illinois, Canada

CHICAGO—A collector's coincidence was uncovered recently when it was learned that a man in Illinois and another in Winnipeg, Canada who happen to work for the same company, also happen to have the same hobby—collecting, or rather saving their old license plates.

Both collections date back to 1912 and, not entirely by coincidence, each man has managed to get the same license number year after year. Since 1912, Elmer W. Rietz, of Highland Park, Ill., has each year received and saved license No. 2398. For the same number of years, Paul Charles, who works for the same company Rietz does, has had Manitoba Province license No. 179.

Rietz states he has never had to pull any political strings to keep his low digit number intact despite the fact some 88,000 license plates were issued in 1912 in Illinois, and more than 2.5 million issued in 1954. He merely applies early every year, requesting number 2398 from the Illinois Secretary of State.

Can't Sue to Recover Money Lost At Races

NEW YORK—A woman who lost $425 on her first visit to a race track also lost her suit to recover the money she lost on the ponies.

Justice Harold Stevens dismissed the suit and ruled that Miss Paula Aiello, 28, a dress buyer, cannot sue to recover money lost in pari-mutuel bets.

Long Way Home

LANDORE, Wales — George Slade answered a knock on his door recently. The surprise caller was his brother, William, 78, Ellwood City, Pa., whom he had not seen for 42 years.

"I decided suddenly to fly over," the brother explained. "I didn't tell anybody I was coming because I wanted to find my own way home, and I did."

Polio Funds Exhausted
 Boise — Four Idaho Chapters of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis have exhausted their March of Dimes funds and appealed to the National Foundation for help, according to Joe Imhoff, chairman of the Idaho State Polio Planning committee.

The appeal for additional emergency funds was sent to New York from Clearwater, Franklin, Nez Perce and Teton counties.

Imhoff emphasized that there will be no interruption in the Foundation's patient aid policy in these counties. "Polio victims will continue to receive March of Dimes assistance to meet the tremendous costs of this disease," he said.

Funds will be channeled in from states not as heavily hit by polio this year, Imhoff explained. He said the money to bolster the hard-hit treasuries of Idaho chapters is expected with a short time.

Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation, last week appealed to every chapter in the nation for surplus funds to be used in areas where high polio incidence has depleted the March of Dimes sources.

"Meanwhile, Foundation chapters in every Idaho county stand ready to give needed financial assistance to local polio victims," Imhoff stated. "In counties where funds are not available, hospitals will extend credit until emergency money is received."

Cheerfulness lubricates the axles of the world — great numbers of people go through life with a continuous squeak.

Published Weekly by the Union Oil Service at Kendrick
W. L. "Bill" Rogers, Editor

HELLO, FOLKS:

Well, here we are in the final throes of the basketball season — and a lot of you have put a lot of miles on your cars attending the games and tournaments to date — and the end is not yet. So bring in that mud-spattered, squeaking car and let us grease it thoroughly with Union Lubricants — fill the crankcase with that famous Royal Triton Motor Oil — and wash and polish it. Then — you'll be proud to drive to the tournaments!

A husband and wife were in sharp disagreement over what suit he should purchase. Finally the wife relented and said: "Well, go ahead and please yourself. After all you're the one who will wear it."

In a meek voice the man replied: "Well, dear, I did figure that I'd probably be wearing the coat, anyway."

The teacher was trying to make Elsie understand subtraction and she said: "You have ten fingers. Now supposing there were three missing, what would you have then?"

"No music lessons," said little Elsie promptly.

Having heating problems these damp, chill days? If so, call us at 1251 and say "Fill up my stove oil tank." You'll like the clean, fast heat given by Union Burner Oils — and you'll like our service, too. Try both, won't you?

Wife: (at conclusion of family quarrel) "Well, I'll admit I'm wrong if you'll admit I'm right!"

WHAT CAMERON FOLKS ARE DOING THESE DAYS

Bridal Shower
Mrs. Charles Parks (nee DeAnn Mielke) was complimented with a bridal shower Saturday afternoon in the Cameron Aid hall, with 40 guests present.

The gift table was covered with a drawn-work white table cloth centered with a miniature bride on a yellow pedestal, encircled with a yellow lace-trimmed heart. White candles trimmed with yellow lace flanked both sides of the center piece.

The refreshment table was decorated with yellow daffodils and yellow trimmed candles.

Games were played with Mrs. Geo. Wilken and Mrs. Ed. Mielke winning prizes.

The bride then opened and displayed her useful and lovely gifts. She was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Ed. Mielke, her mother-in-law, Mrs. Harold Parks, and her sister, Patricia.

Don't Hide Your Light

A solicitor of advertisements for a local paper called on a village grocer. The gray-haired proprietor said: "Nothing doing. Been established here 80 years and never advertised."

"Excuse me, sir, but what is that building on the hill?" asked the solicitor.

"That's our village church," said the grocer.

"Been there long?" asked the other.

"More'n a 100 years," replied the grocer proudly.

"Well," was the reply, "they still ring the bell!"

"Put me down for an ad," said the grocer with a smile.
