

WHAT JULIAETTA FRIENDS ARE DOING THESE DAYS

Talks On Soil

Vernon Heidenreich spoke to the third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades one day last week on "Sunshine Conservation." He said energy received free of charge in sunshine would cost $450.00 per acre per day if produced by electricity. Soil erosion, aggravated by lack of organic matter robs the soil of plant nutrients 21 times as fast as they are removed by crops, he explained. He suggested a green crop of small grain be planted between rows of corn or other tall crops when the ground is last cultivated, to utilize the sunshine, and with available moisture to produce plants and organic matter to prevent soil erosion and improve soil conditions.

Mr. Heidenreich spoke to the 7th and 8th grades at the Kendrick school before going on to Juliaetta. He was sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Latah Soil Conservation District of which Mrs. Roy Glenn is chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Glenn accompanied Mr. Heidenreich, she presenting each room with a picture from the Ladies Auxiliary of the Latah Soil Conservation District.

They returned home through New Mexico, Arizona, and California.

Everywhere they traveled they met tourists who had gone to those southern spots to escape the cold weather that prevailed in the northern parts of the U. S. A. — but even down south they were told that temperatures were lower than usual!

MISS ORETA HOLT IS BRIDE OF DALE STUART, SUNDAY

In a double ring ceremony Oreta Rae Holt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Holt, Kendrick, and Dale H. Stuart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stuart of Weippe, Idaho, were united in marriage. The Rev. F. C. Schmidt, pastor, read the service in the Kendrick Methodist Community Church, Sunday, March 11th, 1956, at 2:00 o'clock p. m.

Large baskets of white gladioli and stocks decorated the altar.

Mrs. Herman Schupfer, organist, played the wedding marches, and accompanied Mrs. Charles Easterbrook who sang "Through the Years" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a waltz-length gown of white lace and nylon net over satin. Her fingertip veil was held in place with a crown of pearls and sequins.

She carried a white orchid with white ribbon streams and ivy atop a white Bible.

Mrs. Donald Millard, the only attendant, wore a blue waltz-length formal, and carried a pink nosegay.

Wesley Stuart, brother of the groom, was best man. Howard Holt, brother of the bride, and Ed. Lefferts, Weippe, a cousin of the groom, were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. William Holt wore a two-piece dusty mauve dress with navy accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. Albert Stuart, wore a navy blue dress with red and black accessories. Each mother had a corsage of gardenias and pink carnations.

At the reception which followed in the church parlors Mrs. W. E. Spicer of Whittier, Calif., an aunt of the bride, cut the beautiful three-tiered cake, assisted by Mrs. Bruce Sherman, Mrs. Walton Morey, an aunt of the bride, poured coffee, and Mrs. Roy Clemenhagen, also an aunt of the bride, presided at the punch bowl, assisted by Mrs. Harold Hatley.

Mrs. Dayma Chapman had charge of the guest book, and Jeanette Rowden and Dorothy Foster received the gifts.

About 75 relatives and close friends attended the wedding and the reception.

After a short wedding trip the newly-weds will live at 812 6th Street, Armstrong Apartments, Lewiston, as Mr. Stuart is employed by Potlatch Forests, Inc., in that city. Until recently Oreta was relief operator for the Potlatch Telephone Co., Kendrick.

MORE INFORMATION FROM P.-T. A. FACT FINDING COM.

The P.-T. A. Fact Finding Committee met with the local School Trustees at their regular meeting last Wednesday. The committee presented the results of the questionnaire and asked for further instructions. The results of the questionnaire are as follows:

Of the 284 persons who answered question No. 1 — 12 persons thought our present plants were adequate, and 272 persons indicated that one or more of the present school plants were not adequate. As to favoring a bond election at this time only 261 persons answered this question, and 239 favored a new bond election in the near future. A total of 182 persons voted against a minimum repair and remodeling project at this time.

Concerning the questions as to which plants (grade or high school) should be rebuilt or renovated, the majority — 126 to 15 — favored new buildings instead of remodeling. A total of 134 persons voted in favor of re-building and renovating both grade and high school.

Question No. 8 — dealing with the amount of a bond election, if one is held, showed an overwhelming majority favored bonding for $300,000 or more — 187 persons indicating the largest figure, with only 51 persons indicating the smaller amounts.

Question No. 9, dealing with the location of the present High School showed 170 persons not satisfied with the present site, and 89 felt that the present location was adequate. The "b" part of question No. 9 has opened the greatest spread of ideas as to where a new building should be located. The Fact Finding Committee, acting on instructions from the School Trustees, spent Monday looking over proposed sites for a new High School plant. Tuesday the committee met with Hugh Richardson, architect from Lewiston. At the time of writing, the location, size, costs, etc., of the proposed sites are still being studied. It is felt that Mr. Richardson in his capacity as a competent impartial architect and building engineer can provide us with information and figures concerning buildings that are unavailable to the lay person.

The committee has under study four possible sites: The Don Gruell farm on the edge of Juliaetta; the area to the east of the present ball field; the area north of the Bear Creek bridge, and a portion of the Wm. Holt ranch, which lies just above the Wauncher Gulch bridge, on Potlatch creek.

P.-T. A. Meeting Monday
The March 19th P.-T. A. meeting should be of special interest to all. George Merrick is program chairman for the evening and he has made plans for a special speaker, Mrs. Raleigh Albright of Juliaetta, for a discussion on U. N. E. S. C. O., which is the United National Education program in foreign lands. The topic for the evening is "International Relations."

Reports are also to be given by the P.-T. A. Fact Finding Committee and the Nominating Committee for the new year.

This meeting will be at the Cameron Ladies Aid Hall — 8:00 p. m.

Remember the special drive for room points which will be climaxed with a field day trip for the winning room. Points will be given for the following:

1. Membership in P.-T. A., which also gives you a vote on questions which are brought up. These meetings cannot be the success they should be without your help.

2. Subscriptions to the P.-T. A. magazine. This publication has no advertising, but is full of articles, stories, etc. One year's subscription at $1.25 would prove its worth to you.

3. Attendance at P.-T. A. How about coming to see what does happen?

Points will be given to the room your children are in, or the room of your choice if you have no children in school. The P.-T. A. values very highly the interest shown by grandpa, grandma and friends who have no children in school.

Each one of us have (or should have) a question about school conditions from time to time and the people attending P.-T. A. are the best informed on conditions.

Let's not be satisfied with our schools because they were adequate when we went to school several years ago. We might find out they're not in quite as good condition as then — "and what are we gonna do about 'em?"

See you at the P.-T. A. Monday night, March 19, at Cameron.

WHITE-DALE NUPTIALS HELD AT CHURCH SAT. EVENING

Miss Ruth Annette White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. White, Kendrick, and Harvey Dale, son of Mrs. Olga Thormahlen of Lewiston exchanging wedding vows Saturday evening at 7:30 in the Kendrick Community church. Arrangements of white stock and pink carnations formed the background as the Rev. F. C. Schmidt read the beautiful double-ring ceremony in the presence of relatives and a few close friends.

The petite bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in an off-white satin, street-length dress. It was princess style, fashioned with a long torso and full pleated skirt, scoop neck-line and three-quarter sleeves. The ensemble was completed with matching hat and slippers. Her bouquet was a single lavender orchid surrounded with pink rosebuds and lilly of the valley, which she carried atop a white Bible, the latter a gift from her grandmother, Mrs. W. M. Huff. She also wore the traditional blue garter.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Keith Thornton, was her only attendant. Her dress was of coffee-brown satin and identical in design to that of the bride's. Her head dress and gloves were beige, and she wore brown pumps. A bouquet of yellow rosebuds accented her attire.

The groom wore a charcoal business suit. His best man was a brother of the bride, Robert L. (Roy) White. Ushers were his brother, Elton Dale and a cousin Richard Nelson. All wore white boutonnières.

Roger Jones, organist, played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Burke Sower of Pomeroy, who sang "Oh Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Joyce Dale, a sister of the groom, had charge of the guest book.

A reception for the guests was held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony.

The bride's table was lovely with lace cloth, lighted tapers in silver candelabra, and was centered with a bowl of white stock and pink carnations. The three-tiered wedding cake, embellished with pink rosebuds around each tier was cut and served by a sister of the bride, Mrs. Theodore Deobald. Mrs. Lauren Hoisington, a cousin of the bride, served ice cream and groom's cake.

Mrs. W. H. White, Lewiston Orchards, an aunt of the bride, poured coffee, and Mrs. Ed. Nelson, an aunt of the groom, served punch. The gift table was presided over by the Misses Dawn Marie Nelson, Lottie Wilson and Francis Dammarell, all school-mates of the bride. Frank Benschoter assisted with arrangements throughout.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a tailored after-noon dress made of a creme colored nubby fabric with black flecks which was accented with black accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations and lilly of the valley.

The groom's mother wore a navy blue suit dress with matching accessories, and her corsage was the same as Mrs. White's.

The new Mrs. Dale chose for her going-away ensemble a beige suit which was complimented with the accessories from her wedding outfit. Her corsage was the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The young couple left immediately after the reception on a two-week trip to southern Idaho. They will make their home in Lewiston Orchards.

The groom served two years in Alaska with the Armed Forces, and is presently employed at P. F. I., Lewiston as a millwright. He is a graduate of Potlatch High School with the class of 1951.

The bride graduated from Kendrick High school with the class of '55, and was employed at Burt's Cafe last summer. In November she accepted a position with the telephone company in Lewiston, where she worked until her marriage.

School Questions Answered

The "grapevine" has brought rumors of some questions concerning the operations of our schools that need explanation. The statement has been made: "The School District would have more money if they did not spend so much for new cars for the Driver Education Course." It was thought the true facts of the Driver Education car were known to every one. The School District DOES NOT buy these cars. McMonigle Chevrolet Co., of Lewiston, loans these cars to us FREE OF CHARGE. McMonigle Chevrolet Co. furnishes the car, buys and installs the dual controls, and even pays part of the insurance! The only cost to the School District is gas and oil, and part of the necessary insurance. Why do they do this? It's good advertising!

Another question has been: The financing of the Hot Lunch program: The Hot Lunch programs are entirely self supporting. The 25c per meal charged the students, plus what is received from the Federal government in financial help and surplus commodities completely pays all the operating costs of the three Hot Lunch programs. The District does pay for the electricity and water (it would be impractical to install separate meters). It is a tribute to the Hot Lunch cooks that they are able to serve such delicious, wholesome and generous meals on so limited a budget.

Here, too, we must say that the generosity of the people of the district in donating surplus garden vegetables, fruit, berries, etc., plus work in processing them, goes a long way in this program.

Store Interior Improved

The interior of the N. B. Long & Sons store here has been undergoing considerable improvement the past few days in re-arranging and interior improvements.

The long counter on the dry goods side has been removed and put in two short sections, thus permitting easy access to goods on the shelves. Tables have been re-arranged for better display of goods — shelves added for overalls, hats, etc., permitting better display and access.

A new set of scales, adding machine and cash register have been installed in the grocery department. A hot water tank put in and the wash room completely remodeled.

SHORT LOCAL ITEMS OF MORE THAN PASSING INTEREST

Home From Washington, D. C.
Ernest Jones returned Tuesday, March 13, from a two-week trip to Washington, D. C. He with 37 other delegates from Idaho, Washington, Oregon and Utah, as representatives of the National Farmers Union, chartered a bus, leaving Boise on Feb. 28 for the capitol. There they met with their senators and representatives to talk over the present farm problem of falling prices.

This was a nation-wide movement, 1,800 people from 35 states making the trip to solicit aid from their representatives and senators since the first of this year.

Mr. Jones says he doesn't know how much good their visit did, but they were treated royally while there. Delegates were all taken on sight seeing buses and were shown the spots of historic and national interest for two and a half days.

He also mentioned some of the problems of farmers in the middle states, saying they were watering stock now, due to the extreme dryness. The dairy farmers in south Idaho are hard hit too, their water rights making it difficult. Mr. Jones added further that all seemed to be in sympathy with the farmer and his problems — but no ready solution was forthcoming.

Some 5,450 miles were covered in the round trip, which took them through some 20 states, and he added that home looked mighty good.

Those making the trip from North Idaho were Francis Nuxall of Green-creek; Earl McClellan, Plummer, and Ernest Jones, Kendrick. Twelve others fro throughout the state also made the trip, and all was made possible by the sponsorship of the Farmers Union.

Winter Sidelights
There seems little doubt but that shrubs, decorative evergreens, roses, berry bushes, grape vines, etc., have suffered a great deal of damage here this past winter, most of them having been badly frosted, if not killed, during the first cold snap, which hit before the sap had gone down and in many cases while the leaves were still hanging green.

George Brocke, Sr., said this week that a recent short trip about town with a shrub, bulb and bush salesman for a wholesale company failed to reveal a "single live rose bush."

Noria Callison of American ridge says he believes every blackberry, raspberry bush on their ranch was dead, and that many Port Orford cedars in a windbreak were also killed. Similar reports are also coming in from other ridges.

Advice from horticultural experts from the University and from nursery experts is to wait this spring, until full leafing time, so that real damage may be determined, before pruning or digging out such items.

Bride Is Feted
Mrs. F. Parker McCreary, a recent bride, was complimented with a miscellaneous shower Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Estella Leith, with the Mesdames E. M. White, Oscar Slind, John Johnson and R. L. Blewett as co-hostesses.

Guests were entertained with several guessing games at which Mrs. Bob Magnuson, Mrs. Howard Hoffmann and Mrs. A. O. Kanikseberg won prizes. Mrs. D. A. Christensen added relief to the merriment by reading an original poem entitled: "The Romance of the Parker McCrearys."

The honor guest was then seated at the gift table where she opened and displayed her many beautiful gifts.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, and a social time enjoyed.

Out of town guests included Mrs. J. M. Lyle of Moscow and Mrs. Wade T. Keene of Lewiston.

Fire Hall Redecorated
The interior of the Fire Hall at Kendrick has been almost completely redecorated, only a little more remaining to finish the job.

The work was done by volunteer labor from the Kendrick Volunteer Firemen and the Lions Club, cooperating under the direction of Carl Mattoon, — with materials a gift of the Mead & Howard Lumber Co. at Juliaetta.

Soft shades of blue and green were used on three walls and the ceiling, and the front wall finished in flowered wall paper above knotty pine — to give a most attractive result.

In the north wall an electric ventilator fan has been installed, as well as another oil stove.

The interior of this building shows what can be done by working together for community betterment.

Entertain At Luncheon
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Holt entertained at a noon luncheon Saturday, following the rehearsal for their daughter Oreta's wedding, which took place Sunday afternoon in the Community Church.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stuart and son Wesley and Ed. Lefferts, all of Weippe; Rev. and Mrs. F. C. Schmidt, Mrs. Don Millard and nephew John Bogar, Oreta Holt, Dale Stuart and Howard Holt.

The juniors have been working extra hard this year in projecting their voices so they may be heard in every part of the gym.

The Juniors have advertised their project extensively, so if it isn't a success it won't be their fault. It has been announced on posters, in the newspapers, over the radio, and will even be advertised over TV. They traveled to the Southwick and Juliaetta schools and presented one play scene to get these pupils interested.

Mrs. Merrick wishes to express her appreciation for the co-operation the students in the play have given her. They have worked hard and are looking forward to entertaining you on Thursday evening.

Odd Bits About This And That
The national crop of orchardgrass seed is forecast at eight million lbs., 89 percent above last year.

The department of agriculture says the average American farmer spends about $5,000 a year for feed, seed, fertilizer, gas and oil, machinery and building materials.

Brushing a pig once a day for about 15 minutes makes the hair glossy and helps to tame and train the animal for showing at a fair, says Wade Wells, livestock specialist of the University of Idaho.

Esther Nystrom, clothing specialist of the University of Idaho extension service, says brown colors and the slim silhouette are prominent notes in fall styles.

Legume Pastures Carry More Steers Weight Differences Are Shown in Tests

Yearling steers averaging about 600 pounds in weight gained at strikingly different rates on legume pasture and grass pasture from mid-May to mid-June last year at the Dixon-Springs Experiment Station of the University of Illinois.

George F. Cmarik, first assistant in beef research at the Station, reported that the legume pastures were able to carry four steers to the acre during the period, while the grass pastures could carry only about two head to the acre.

Steer gains on legumes varied from 200 to 340 pounds to the acre with an average of 265 pounds. Average daily gain for six legume pastures were about one and three-fourths pounds per steer. The legume pastures were seeded mainly to alfalfa, red clover and Ladino, and the alfalfa was just about right for making a good hay crop when the steers were turned onto these fields.

On the other hand, the grass pastures were seven-year-old seedlings of various grasses. Originally these fields all contained good stands of Ladino clover, but since the dry years recently it has almost disappeared.

Gains on the grass pastures varied from 36 to 88 pounds and averaged 63 pounds per acre during the month. Average daily gain per steer for six grass pastures was about nine-tenths of a pound.

Cmarik said the grass fields that contained the highest percentages of Kentucky bluegrass, orchard grass and brome grass produced the highest animal gains. A field of mostly wild grasses produced low gains, but they were still better than gains on good fescue pasture.

Red Clover Pollination Aided by Honey Bees

University of Minnesota entomologists have found honey bees important for good red clover pollination. Best results came when honey bee colonies were placed near the field and when red clover did not have to "compete" with white sweetclover for bees.

These facts came from a Farm and Home Week session on the campus.

There were more honey bees in Minnesota test fields nearest an apiary. But two fields—one two and one four miles from an apiary—had almost none.

Red clover seeds yields in fields within a mile from honey bee colonies ranged from 220 to 270 pounds per acre. The two fields yielded only 30 and 40 bushels of seed an acre. Last year, with better moisture, yields were up to 500 pounds per acre.

In studies near Roseau, most important competitor of red clover seemed to be white sweetclover—honey bee population on red clover stayed very low until the white sweetclover went out of bloom. Then there was a sudden increase of honey bee activity in red clover.

Storing Surplus Grain Poses Major National Problem

WASHINGTON—Like giant fingers thrust into the sky, the nation's grain elevators loom mightier than ever in these days of grain glut.

The United States has almost a third again as many commercial off-farm elevators as it did only four years ago. Their capacity now totals 2.8 billion bushels. But it also harbors twice as many government steel storage bins with a capacity of 850 million bushels, plus a variety of previously untried structures ranging from circus tents to ships.

Inside all of them are the biggest stores of wheat, corn and other grains collected by man. The wheat alone, of which the government owns 95 per cent, now adds up to 1,020,000,000 bushels. Turned into bread it would feed every American a pound loaf every week for the next eight years.

Eighty per cent of the bread-grain rests in country or terminal elevators. The largest single unit of these—with a capacity of 50,300,000 bushels—stands in Oklahoma. Kansas, however, provides the greatest aggregate elevator capacity, outpacing Texas which led the list a few years ago.

Wheat not in elevators is either in transit, in bins or ships. Until 1949, wheat had not been stored in ships. That year 20 million bushels were put away in the moored Hudson River fleet.

Today 81 million bushels cram the holds of 357 Liberty-type vessels in the James and Hudson River fleets, at Astoria, Ore., and Olympia, Wash. Excellent granaries, ships will do even more wheat duty soon.

Efficiency Down During Heat Wave

CHICAGO—Stenographic errors increase 1,000 per cent as the temperature increases from 78 to 96 degrees a survey taken during Chicago's heat wave revealed.

Among typists, errors increased from an average of 11 per hour to more than 95 per hour as temperatures rose from 78 to 96 degrees.

The survey, made by the Chicago manufacturers of air diffusing and electrical equipment, also showed that in other lines of work efficiency increased by more than 50 per cent as the temperature fell off to the optimum of 78 degrees.

One manager reported his company had kept statistics during hot and cooler periods of summer. He said a definite unit of work in a drafting operation was chosen as an example. During the eleven-day heat wave in early August, statistics showed that 564 work units were produced in 282 man hours. After the heat wave broke, in the same length of time and for the same kind of work, 807 work units were produced in 220 hours.

U. S. Is Medical Magnet For Foreign Physicians

CHICAGO—The United States has become a "medical magnet" for physicians in Europe, Asia, Africa and Latin America.

More than 5,000 foreign physicians came to this country during the year 1954-55 for study according to a survey by the Institute of International Education and the American Medical Association.

They came from 83 different countries for internship and residency training at hospitals in 42 states, the District of Columbia, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Canal Zone.

The survey of 1,177 hospitals indicated that there were at least 5,036 alien physicians in training. Not included in the study were immigrants and displaced persons.

Students Dislike for Mathematics Studied

DAVIS, Calif.—Why do some students dislike mathematics?

Child development specialist Thomas Poffenberger and mathematician Donald A. Norton are trying to find out what, besides a natural ability, makes some students poor and others outstanding in algebra, geometry and calculus.

In spite of more and more need for engineers, chemists, and physicists, proportionately fewer students are entering these fields in colleges and universities.

The researchers are going to start their study in intermediate algebra courses. Students selected from the top and bottom of a class will be interviewed in hopes of finding out what their attitudes, influences of family, grade school teachers and friends.

He suffered a jarred hip bone.

Grain Sorghum Corn Substitute

But Raising Sorghums Poses Some Problems

You can substitute sorghum grains for corn—pound for pound—in fattening beef cattle.

Sorghum grain is most efficient in cattle and hog rations after being ground or cracked. You'll find that much of the whole grain passes through the animal undigested.

Chemically, grain sorghum is slightly higher in protein than corn, but slightly lower in fat. Like any other carbohydrate feed, you should supplement grain sorghum with protein in fattening rations.

One of the hazards in raising grain sorghum is due to the fact that they dry quite slowly in the field and too much moisture makes them difficult to harvest and store. You should let sorghums get down to 12 to 15 per cent moisture before storing. Artificial drying may be necessary in some cases.

You'll find that head sprouting is another disadvantage. If rains come just before time for combining, the compact heads will retain the moisture and you'll get head sprouting. The new varieties have open heads, which help to prevent head sprouting, but you may find fall rains still a problem.

Chinch bugs and leaf diseases may also be hazards, although there are varieties that have some resistance to these two pests.

Veterinarians Report Enzymes Show Promise

The use of enzymes as an auxiliary in the treatment of certain animal wounds has shown considerable promise, according to the American Veterinary Medical Association.

"The period of healing of inflammatory conditions is shortened through the use of enzymes and their use also allows for better penetration of antibiotic or other treatment agents," the Association says.

Certain enzymes have been found useful by veterinarians in treatment of septic arthritis, wounds, acute mastitis, abscesses, osteomyelitis and endometritis in animals. Another enzyme has been found useful in treating gangrenous mastitis in dairy cows.

The enzyme, pancreatic dornase, was found to be nontoxic in dogs except when massive doses were given. When this enzyme was infused into the udder of normal, lactating cows, examination 24 hours after the final injection revealed no change in any of the mammary glands treated.

"Abscesses and wounds in cattle, horses, dogs and cats have shown distinct clinical improvement following the use of pancreatic dornase. The methodic use of this enzyme with or without antibiotic agents has brought about liquefaction of the pus and removal of necrotic tissue with complete and prompt healing," the Association added.

Chick Catcher

Baby chicks allowed the freedom of a small pen for sun and exercise are often difficult to catch for return to the brooder. One poultryman solved the problem with a large cloth. He spread the cloth in one corner of the pen, drove the chicks into that corner, then picked them up by gathering the edges of the cloth.

Building Boom Of Roaring '20's Biggest of All

MINNEAPOLIS—So you think the present residential building boom is the greatest in our history? Better take a good look at the roaring twenties, suggests the family economics bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

If 1955 fulfills predictions it will see construction started approximately 1,300,000 non-farm dwelling units by the end of the year. That is a rate of 36 new residential units for each thousand non-farm families, based on current census bureau estimates of 36½ million such families in our 1955 population.

But back in 1925, when there were approximately 20 million non-farm families in the U.S., 937,000 non-farm dwelling units were started. This was 47 new units for each thousand families—a record which still stands as the all-time peak of residential building activity in the U.S. history.

A dollar built as much in 1925 as $2.60 builds today. Adjusted to this rise in prices, the physical residential volume of 1925 would cost $14,299,000,000 in 1925. That is almost a match in sheer physical volume of residential construction for our estimated 1955 volume—but built by a population of 20 million families, compared with 36½ million families of 1955.

Dietetic Foods Use Farm Products

STOCKTON, Calif.—The new low-calorie food industry is providing the nation's farmers an "insurance policy" against diet-inspired reduction in food buying, says Tillie Lewis, founder and president of FloTill Products, Inc.

Starvation diets no longer hold a threat to incomes of fruit and vegetable growers, Mrs. Lewis says, pointing out that the sales of dietetic foods will top $100,000,000 this year, compared to $25,000,000 only four years ago. Fruits and vegetables have formed a large percentage of these sales since new developments in no-calorie sweeteners made processed fruits just as sweet and tasty as their high-calorie counterparts, she said.

"The market for low-calorie food is tremendous," Mrs. Lewis declares. "More than half of the families in America have at least one member with a weight or diet problem."

"Until recently this has resulted in tremendous losses of potential sales for fruit and vegetable growers and processors as dieters starved themselves or carried home 'funny foods for fad diets' in their market baskets."

Pronghorn Antelope Has Made Comeback

WASHINGTON—The nimble pronghorn antelope, fastest animal in North America, has won its race against extinction.

Called the prairie phantom because it is so elusive, the thin-legged creature has returned in such force it is commonly seen from highways in the West.

Its future now seems assured, thanks to careful game management and strict hunting laws.

Estimates of antelopes between the Mississippi River and the Pacific Ocean before the advent of Europeans range up to 100 million head. But hunting depleted their ranks until they neared oblivion in 1908 when only 20,000 were left in the United States. In Wyoming, heart of antelope land, only 5,000 remained.

Wyoming took action and outlawed hunting for several years. Antelope bounded back until it was safe to allow a limited hunting season. In 1948, some 65,000 head were counted on Wyoming prairies and there were approximately 350,000 in the United States as a whole.

Money Lost Years Ago Worth Much More Now

LONDON—Archibald Boseley, 59, made 2,600 pounds by losing his money in 1939.

Boseley said he bought $26,750 in American dollars as a speculation in 1939, but lost his roll on the way to the bank when the British Treasury called in all foreign currency.

Recently, Boseley, said, he received a typewritten envelope through the mail containing the identical bills. He turned the envelope over to police and figured that the bills which cost him 6,400 pounds in 1939 now are worth more than 9,000 pounds.

Buy Him Boots

MINOT, N. D. — Three-year-old Bruce Olsen fell into a tistern. Just above water level, he grabbed onto a pipe and called until his cries brought someone to the rescue.

He wasn't injured, but Bruce confided to his mother that he was terribly upset. He'd lost his cowboy boots in the ordeal.

"We'll buy him another pair," said Mrs. Harlan Olsen.

Boost Oat Yield With Fertilizer

Effective in Spring, Fall, Tests Show

Up to 10 bushels more oats per acre in 1955 from a field fertilized for corn in 1954—that's the residual effect reported by a University of Minnesota soils specialist.

Jack M. MacGregor, associate professor of soils, told a Soils and Fertilizer Class that 60 pounds of anhydrous ammonia per acre applied either in fall, 1953, or spring, 1954, not only increased the 1954 corn yield, but boosted the 1955 oat yield on the same land up to

University of Minnesota tests show the true value of fertilization.

10 bushels in field tests at the University's experiment station.

Comparing fall-versus spring fertilizing, MacGregor found that there was no difference in effectiveness. In spring fertilizing, they compared April applications with equal May and June applications and found no important difference in yields between the three application times.

MacGregor also had some striking results to report in soybean fertilizing studies. Apparently, an already fertile field—for example, one that would yield 110 bushels of corn in 1954—would not be noticeably benefitted, yield-wise, in its 1955 soybean production.

He told of a low-fertility field in which part was left unfertilized—giving a 60 to 70 bushel corn yield. A second part of the field was fertilized with 60 pounds of anhy-drous ammonia per acre. Result: corn yield rose 18 bushels per acre and 1955 soybean yield went up five bushels—that is, 15 bushels, compared to the 1954-unfertilized field's 10 bushels.

Hybrid Lambs Hold Promise for Sheepmen

Hybrid lambs that far outclass the finest strains of purebreds in meat and wool production and reduced death rate hold promise for the nation's sheep industry, reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

At the USDA Agricultural Research Center, Beltsville, Md., two-way and three-way crosses of purebred Hampshires, Shropshires, Southdowns, and Merinos have outperformed parent stock in practically every factor important to sheep producers.

Beltsville researchers are convinced that the striking results achieved through crossbreeding make the production of hybrid lambs on a commercial scale a practical future prospect.

In seven years of testing two-breed crosses, the lambs produced have shown pronounced superiority in reduced mortality and in greater meat and wool production over purebred lambs from the same basic stock.

Three-way crossing, introducing Merino blood into the crossbreds to emphasize production of high-quality wool, was begun in 1951. The three-way cross lambs show even greater general superiority, but Beltsville scientists feel that four years of breeding and testing are insufficient to give a true picture.

Dinner Is Served

Since the mother of these Holstein calves only had a "table-for-four," dairyman Alfred Gaser of Valley City, Ohio, rigged up a set of nipple nursing palls. The result: no more arguments over who gets their calf first. The chances of quintuplets in the bovine world are estimated at only once in 14,500,000 births.

Salutes 452 "Electric Trailblazers"

Who help you to "Live better . . . Electrically!"

On our company's 67th birthday, we honor the 452 employees who have served the company and the people of this area for 25 years or more.

Pioneering is a habit and a tradition with the company and its employees. Right now, for example, three giant dams are being built or planned — dams and generating plants that will dwarf existing plants, to provide the power needed for this region's growth and future needs. By looking ahead and planning ahead, present day electric Trailblazing helps you "live better . . . electrically" now and in the future.

You Never Saw Such Weather
Following what might be termed "a few days of average March weather," skies cleared Saturday night and

Sunday morning local residents peered almost with disbelief at their thermometers when a low of 16 above was recorded here at Kendrick, and readings of as much as 7 above on top the hills.

Monday morning, following another cloudless night, 7 above was recorded here in the canyon, and reports of zero to 5 above came in from the ridges. About 10:00 Monday morning clouds began drifting in and the mercury began to rise, hitting about 37 degrees.

Shortly after nightfall Monday the mercury began to drop, and at 9:30 with a reading of 32 degrees snow began to fall, which continued most of the night, leaving between three and four inches on the ground. As business firms began to open for business Tuesday morning the scrape of snow shovels was heard everywhere, and snowplows were busy pushing "the white and beautiful" into the gutters.

W. A. (Bill) Reece Dies Tuesday
Orofino — William A. Reece, 69, well-known cattleman and farmer of the Cavendish area, died at 7:15 Tuesday morning while visiting at the home of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Edelman on Route 6. He had spent the night there.

He Just Gave Up!

THE Bull itin

Published Weekly by the Union Oil Service at Kendrick
W. L. "Bill" Rogers, Editor

HELLO, FOLKS:

Are your sawdust tires "on their last legs"? Are you dreading the thought of buying new, safe tires for summer driving? If so, banish the worries from your mind. You'll be surprised at how cheaply you can own a set of those wonderful new U. S. Royals, "8's" or Royal Masters. Come in and talk it over. It just can't be too long until spring comes.

City Sportsman: "It's getting awfully late and we haven't hit a thing yet."
Second City Sportsman: "Let's miss two more and then go on home."

How's your fuel tank holding out this kind of weather? Are you hoping for spring — but know it isn't here? If so, pick up your phone and call 1251 and say "fill 'er up." We'll fill it with that fine, clean-burning Union Fuel Oil — and then you're set for care-free comfort.

Mike: "O-i-i! And did your wife give you that black eye when you got home last night?"
Pat: "She did not. She only gave me the black. The eye I had all the time!"

Does your car need attention? Is it dirty? Does it squeak and rattle? If so, bring it in to us for a wash job (we also vacuum clean the interior) — and then let us grease it thoroughly with those fine Union Lubricants, and fill the crankcase with Royal Triton — it will sound and run like new!

Always travel "Union".
