GOVERNOR PROCLAIMS APRIL AS CANCER CONTROL MONTH

Gov. Robert E. Smylie today called upon the people of Idaho to give their generous support to the 1956 American Cancer Society Crusade. The annual fund-raising and educational campaign was launched on Monday, April 9.

"Cancer, one of the most critical health problems of our times, claimed 669 lives last year in our state," the governor declared. "Moreover; if present rates continue, one Idahoan in every four now living will some day be stricken by that disease."

"The American Cancer Society plays the leading role in the national fight against cancer. Through its programs of public and professional education, the society spreads life-saving information on early detection and prompt medical treatment, and keeps the nation's doctors advised on techniques in detection and treatment."

"By its support of more than 1,000 top-flight scientists in a nationally coordinated program of research, the American Cancer Society gives us every reason to maintain our hope that someday the disease will be conquered completely."

"As a voluntary health agency the society depends entirely upon public contributions to maintain its three-front program of research, education and service to patients. As governor of Idaho and with deep concern for the welfare and health of all people of the state, I urge you to avail yourself of the information offered by the American Cancer Society and personally support the fund-raising efforts of the organization," he said.

Phillip A. Dufford, president of the Idaho Division, said: "Over the entire state an army of more than 7,000 volunteers is ready to begin the mass distribution of information that will save lives and at the same time accept contributions which will keep the society moving toward complete control of cancer."

The following figures may be of real interest: In 1954, 615 Idahoans died of cancer; in 1955, 669. In 1954 326 were men and 289 women; in 1955, 357 men, 312 women.

In 1954 those receiving special services through the "Little Red Door" was 1,676; in 1955, 1,348.

In 1955 the financial drive goal was 15¢ per capita — results were 20¢ per capita. This year (1956) it is hoped to do even better.

Mr. Ebling stated that he disliked putting so many birds in so small an area, but that soft roads prohibited their delivery to some wanted spots.

These 255 birds, said Mr. Ebling, are at "producing age" and should give local hold-over stock, a good boost for hunting this fall.

The birds were raised at the Lapwai Game Farm.

Senior Sneak

Last Tuesday, April 3, the Seniors departed on their annual sneak. They were scheduled to leave at 5:00 a. m., but when that time came everyone was there except Mr. and Mrs. Ben P. Cook. After waiting a while the bus drove to their home and sounded a few hearty blasts of the horn (and thereby gained the "blessings" of neighbors). Finally the Cooks dragged themselves into the bus and away it flew. When it stopped in Lewiston, Mr. Wells, the driver, left his wife, but this was fortunately noticed by some of the Seniors a block or so down the street.

At Pomeroy they came to a screeching halt while everyone piled out to pay their good friend, "Mrs. Murphy," a visit. Later, after walking through the park at Walla Walla, they continued on to Milton-Freewater, where they ate their picnic lunch. Their final stopping place was the Bar-M Dude Ranch in Oregon.

The last 13 miles of road reminded them of home. At their first glance at the ranch they felt almost like coming home again, because it reminded them of somebody's barnyard. Once they got inside, however, it was a different story. In the main building they found a huge fireplace and many comfortable, easy chairs. Adjoining this was a room for dancing and playing ping-pong. On the other side was the "bestest room of all, the chow room." And here their first meal included big, juicy steaks and all the trimmings. Every meal, too, was better than the one before.

Some of the things the Seniors and their chaperones enjoyed doing were: Long horseback rides, swimming in the natural hot water pool, horse shoe pitching, ping pong, cards, learning new dances, eating, sleeping, and going on a mid-night hike.

White Jeanette Rowden, Wilma Wilson and Mr. Baker (the guy who runs the place) were out for a boat ride they upset the boat and came in soaked to the skin.

By the middle of the third day the whole class was ready to come home. At Walla Walla they stopped again "to load up with grub." To top it off they went to a show at Lewiston, and got home in Kendrick about 10:30 Thursday night, tired but happy.

How Much is a Billion?

The simplest analysis of a billion is fantastic. If 785 years before the birth of Christ, a man had borrowed one billion dollars — without interest — and had started immediately to pay it back at the rate of $1,000 a day, he would have made his final payment on January 1, 1954!

Creek On Rise

The warm weather of Sunday, Monday and Tuesday (72 degrees on Tuesday) have brought the Potlatch river up considerably, as snow still lying in the mountains once more begins to melt. However, the river has not yet reached the foot of the N. P. flow gauge near the depot.

We are told that there is still a great deal of snow "back in them thar hills," but it is now almost ice, and will be a long time in melting.

Store Improvements

He will be remembered by many old-time residents in this area, as he operated a store at Juliaetta in the early '20s. No date has yet been set for funeral services.

DeWeber, Marion Rowden, Eva Perryman, Fred Stedman, Nellie Biddison and the honoree, Hazel Talbot.

A most pleasant time was enjoyed.

Installing Concrete Wall

Village Custodian Bill White, assisted by Walter Sparber and others are busy these days finishing the installation of a concrete curbing and retaining wall on the south side of the High School gym, at Kendrick. We understand that this work is all a part of improvements about town previous to the oiling of streets — which is very badly needed.

A contract for this job was signed last fall, but cold weather stopped the work before it could begin. It is hoped for better luck this year.

Iceland's Identity

The strategic island of Iceland is the home of 160,000 intelligent and independent people with a long, proud history of free government. The world today is seriously impinging on these once-isolated folk. How can they maintain their way of life? The decision of their Parliament—believed to be the oldest in the world—to ask for withdrawal of NATO forces is one bid for a solution. These forces are actually American troops manning radar, air, and naval installations. Foreign Minister Gudmundsson gives two reasons—eased tensions between East and West and Iceland's declining importance as a base in conditions of missile warfare. There is more to it than this. The presence of thousands of American soldiers and sailors has had a tremendous impact on the tiny country—and in the view of many Icelanders not wholly a beneficial one. They could feel that the dangers of losing their identity through peacetime occupation of friendly troops are greater than through wartime attack.

While the missile age is not yet here, it is possible that an occupation force could not save the islands from missile-launching submarines or an atomic bombing. This, like other recent development, underscores the need for a revision of American policy to place less reliance on military measures in its relations with other peoples. For several years the Soviet Union has made more successful cultural approaches to Icelanders than has the United States.

By treaty a year must elapse before a withdrawal would be required, and meanwhile the Icelanders may have second thoughts. Awareness of their love for freedom and respect for their desire to maintain their identity should be keys to Washington's thinking about this situation.

"GIVE-AWAY" CRY IS PHONEY

POLITICAL ISSUE FOR '56

Every effort is being given to making the power issue an important factor in this year's coming political campaigns. As in the immediate past, public power groups and spokesmen are training their big guns on the Administration's partnership and are trying to persuade the voters that this involves the "give-away" of priceless natural resources to rapacious special interests.

An informed electorate is not likely to be taken in by these stratagems.

There is nothing basically complicated or revolutionary about partnership. It is based on the philosophy that, so far as possible, local government and local enterprise should carry the responsibility of developing new and needed sources of electric power—and that, when necessary, the federal government carry a part of the load. It is a means of getting needed development in a shortest period of time—and at the lowest cost to the taxpayers.

The "give-away" cry is without foundation. Nobody is given anything. Private utilities pay large fees for the water they use. They return the water to the stream after it has turned the generators. And they pay very large sums in taxes (about 22 per cent of their total revenues, on the average) for the privilege of serving their customers with electricity at government regulated rates.

It has been observed that the ridiculous amount of stress on the power issue stems at least in part from a lack of what are considered good political issues. Be that as it may, it is difficult to see how many people will be stirred by attacks on an industry which provides them with superb service at a cost which runs to about one per cent of the average family's budget, while paying over one billion a year in taxes.

FARM NEWS

Mrs. Elizabeth Rettig, home demonstration agent, reminds girls this week that the wool sewing contest is on again. The auxiliary of the Idaho Wool Growers' association is sponsor of the activity that attracts scores of Idaho 4-H members.

There are two divisions of the Make it Yourself with Wool contest. The junior section is for girls 14 to 17. The senior division is for women 18 to 22.

District contests will be concluded October 27. A junior and Senior winner from each district will be eligible for the state finals. The two Idaho winners will go to the national style revue in Las Vegas, Nevada, next January.

Mrs. Myrri Heller, Hammett, is Idaho contest director. District chairmen are Mrs. Laurence Taylor, Rexburg; Mrs. C.W. Coiner, Twin Falls; and Mrs. Basil Aldecoa, Boise. A chairman for northern Idaho will be appointed.

Idaho winners last year were Julie Ann Simmons, Preston; and Mrs. Arma Huschke Looney, Payette. Miss Simmons won second place in the national junior division.

WHAT DO YOU MEAN,

"JUST FACE LIFTING"?

EVERY NOW AND THEN, we run across someone who seems to think that 1956 cars do not offer anything really new—just a little face lifting from the year before.

We won't try to speak for the automobile industry. But we certainly can speak for Buick.

And let us announce in no uncertain terms—it's the newest thing on wheels.

The Styling is New

Sure, it looks like a Buick. But it has a new V-prowed grille that says 1956 and no mistake. The hood's new—the fender ports are new—the sweeppear is new—and it all adds up to a new sweep-ahead look that ends in a sassy new slant to the rear contours.

But that, friends, is only the beginning.

The 1956 Dynaflo* is New

It introduces what the engineers call "double regeneration"—which means a double-action take-off. It gives you new, split-second response in the first inch of pedal travel—plus the "switch the pitch" at full acceleration, which no one else has yet approached.

The Ride is New

To coil springs on all four wheels, a brawny X-braced frame, and torque-tube drive, the engineers have added deep-oil shock absorbers to give new softness, new buoyancy, new comfort, and a brand-new "sense of direction" handling response.

The Power is New

All 1956 Buicks have new 322-cubic-inch V8's—with record highs in power and compression — with unique new double "Y" manifolding to step up efficiency — with new carburetor "deicing"

—and a host of other new features to make owning a Buick pure pleasure.

The Thrill is New

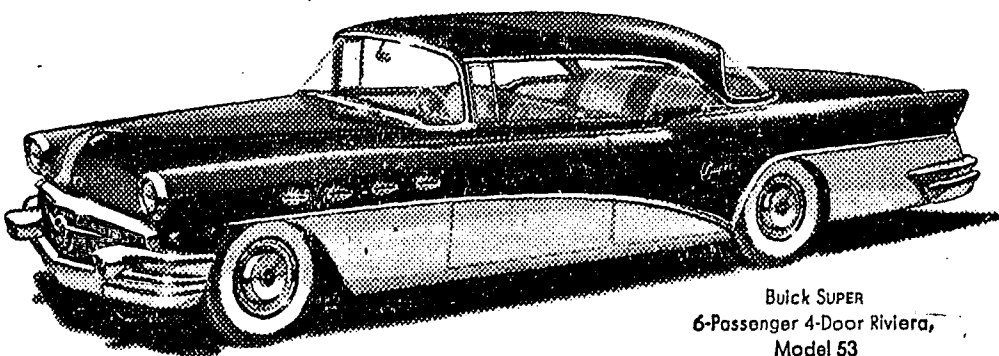

And the surest way for you to find out how right we are, is to sample a 1956 Buick yourself.

As we said before, this is the best Buick yet—by a wide measure—and when you learn the prices we're quoting, you'll know why this Buick is one of the three best sellers in today's market.

It takes a lot more than face lifting to produce such a winner as this.

New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.*

FAHRENWALD BUICK CO.

610 SOUTH MAIN STREET MOSCOW, IDAHO

State Board Of Health Announces
Boise — With the possibility that a number of Idaho communities will be flooded in case of a rapid spring runoff, residents of those areas should avail themselves of the protection afforded by typhoid vaccine, Dr. H. H. Henderson, director of preventive medicine, State Board of Health, said today.

Floods always produce a typhoid fever hazard when ground water contaminates drinking water supplies in both urban and rural areas, he said.

Persons residing in possible flood-threatened areas should have typhoid inoculations as soon as possible, since the vaccine does not give protection until some ten days after the injection. Dr. Henderson pointed out. For persons who have had recent typhoid inoculation, a single shot will probably be sufficient to act as a booster, he said.

Other protective measures against typhoid fever were also listed by Dr. Henderson, and they are particularly directed to those who cannot avail themselves of the vaccine.

First, he said, all water suspected of being contaminated by surface drainage should be boiled before it is used for drinking or cooking.

When available in flood areas, other liquids may be substituted for water if there is any question on the safety of the water supply. These would include milk, soft drinks, canned and bottled fruit juices.

Wells and other sources of water supply which may have been contaminated by flood conditions should be tested for safety before continued use. Sample bottles for the purpose may be secured from the Idaho State Board of Health, and there is no charge for this service. In some cases, it may be necessary to disinfect sources of water supplies before continuing their use.

If necessity creates circumstances where water of questionable contamination is the only drinking water available, considerable safety can be assured by adding certain household bleaches to small quantities of water, Dr. Henderson said. About eight drops of bleach (such as Clorox, Purex, etc.) to one gallon of water will make most water reasonably safe for drinking after the mixture stands for about a half hour.

Large Trees Valued As Tourist Assets
Large and colorful street trees are a valuable tourist asset to many cities and towns and a tendency to supplant them with small specimens will result in severe financial losses to the communities, warns the American Association of Nurserymen.

Tourist travel in many sections of the country is dependent upon the splendor of the flowers and foliage of many large trees. Without them in New England, New York and Pennsylvania, for example, tourist travel in the fall months when the foliage is brilliant would be sharply reduced. The same is true of the magnolias and the live oaks of the south, the sweet gums, and other large, colorful trees, as well as many stately trees of the west and midwest that attract various seasons of the year.

Large trees impart a feeling of stability and permanence to a town, a variety of growth which attracts tourist dollars to local merchants, and colorful displays which are incomparable.

It's usable horsepower that counts!

Rated horsepower figures don't tell the whole story of truck performance!
Many passenger-car-type engines have to strain at the job of developing power to pull a normal load. They have to "give it all they've got" to move their loads and keep them rolling, cost big money in wear, repair and shortened life.
INTERNATIONAL Truck engines - built for trucks - turn at relatively low rpm - deliver high usable power at normal road speeds. They are part of the all-truck engineering that asks no passenger car component to do a truck job - part of the thinking that builds trucks stronger, to last longer... save you the BIG money in operating and maintenance costs.
Come in and let us give you all the facts!

Published Weekly by the Union Oil Service at Kendrick
W. L. "Bill" Rogers, Editor

HELLO, FOLKS:
Are you one of those who are still running that thin, winter-worn motor oil in the crankcase of your car? If so, it's time to bring it in for an oil change. Let us fill that crankcase with Royal Triton, and thoroughly lubricate it from end to end with Union Lubricants — there's a special one for every spot. You'll then have that quiet motor "purr" and smooth "cushiony feeling" that makes motoring a real pleasure.

"I did," the woman replied ery sweetly, "and then he whispered over my shoulder: 'My dear, it fits you just beautifully in the back and displays your shoulders so nicely!'"

"Ruth," moaned the long-suffering husband, "you promised you wouldn't buy a new dress. What made you do it?"
"Dear," replied the modern Eve, "the devil tempted me."
"Why didn't you say: 'Get thee behind me Satan?'" the poor man required.

Thinking about working those fields soon? If so, let us figure with you on your needs of diesel fuel, gasoline, motor oils and lubricants. You just can't beat them for quality, and we'll deliver right to your tanks. There's a Union Oil or Lubricant to meet every requirement. Talk it over with us before you buy!

Tom: "I'm sorry, George, but I make it a rule never to lend money. It ruins friendship."
George: "Don't worry about that; we never were what you would really call good friends."
