AREA MUSIC FESTIVAL DRAWS 325 MUSICIANS

More than 325 music students from 10 communities in this area took part in the North Prairie Music Festival at the Kendrick gymnasium, Saturday. The highlight was a massed band and massed chorus concert that evening, which attracted far too few!

Elmer Stitzlein, local music director had charge of all arrangements and deserves much credit for his excellent organization. Other members of the staff gave full co-operation to make this one of the outstanding events of the school year. It is to be deeply regretted that more residents did not take time to hear the young musicians.

Youths came from schools in Kendrick, Moscow, Genesee, Troy, Potlatch, Clarkston, Craigmont, Lapwai, and Reubens. Individual school bands and choruses were judged in the morning and youths practiced in the afternoon for the evening performance.

Selections by the massed band were "Early California" by Choate and Isaac; "The Homesteaders Overture" by Nyquist; "Hamilton Field March" by McDonald and "Rock Around the Clock" arranged by Freedman. The director was Ben Halgrinson, professor and director of band of E. W. C. E. at Cheney, Wash.

The massed chorus sang "Calm Be Thy Sleep" by Cain; "Whiffenpoof Song" arranged by Frey; "In Solemn Silence," arranged by Wilhousky and "Ride The Chariot" by Krone. Director was Herbert M. Cecil, professor of music at M. S. U., at Missoula, Mont.

The Festival was a practice event for the North Idaho District II Festival at Lewiston, April 26-28.

With 325 students swarming over the place it was amazing how quickly and efficiently Mrs. E. M. White and her crew served them, both at noon and evening. Of course, many ate down town, but she reports that 250 were served at noon, and the menu was: Creamed tuna on biscuits, green beans, celery sticks, rolls, butter, jello and whipped cream, chocolate cake, milk or coffee.

In the evening only 182 showed up to eat a delicious dinner of baked ham and candied yams, mashed potatoes, gravy, celery sticks, rolls, butter, apple crisp and whipped cream, milk or coffee. The charge, 60c a plate! Helpers for the kitchen activities included Mrs. Bud Fey, Mrs. Ed. Dammarell, Mrs. Ben Westendahl, Mrs. Gerald Ingie, Mrs. Bill Johnson and Mrs. Jack Mustoe. Dishwashers were Rosalie Whittum, Karen Nelson and Dolores Gaskill. Shirley McAlister served milk; Pat Cowger and Nina Dageferde acted as cashiers.

We might add that many students seemed surprised to find out they could have all the milk they could drink — and consumed copious quantities!

Glass Backboards

The "Glass Backboard" fund is growing. We have just received a $25.00 donation from Mead & Howard Lumber Co., Juliaetta, and $15.00 from John Johanson. Paul Dageferde has contributed $20.00 and Marion Rowden donated $5.00, bringing the total to date to $95.00. Any and all contributions will be gratefully accepted. And remember: You can deduct such contributions from your income tax.

Band Uniform Fund

The Kendrick Canyon Klub made a $20.00 contribution to the still active Band Uniform Fund. Although this fund has been quite static for some time, it is hoped that it can be cleaned up this spring.

Library News

Mrs. Merrick announces that she has a book entitled "Gateways To Reading Books" which will improve the students' reading ability. This volume will guide the students to books which will be to his or her liking, and ones that they will be able to understand. She will soon be ordering books listed for next year.

A new Reader's Digest condensed book of novels has just been received. Suggestions for books to be ordered for next year are still desired. If you don't put in your suggestions now, don't gripe next year if the new books are not to your liking.

Baseball

If good weather conditions prevail, a baseball game will be played between the Kamiah Cubs and the Kendrick Tigers on the home field, April 20. The following Tuesday the Tigers will play the Cubs on the Kamiah field.

Junior Prom Saturday

The annual Junior Prom will be held this Saturday, April 21, in the H. S. gymnasium. The Juniors have chosen "Harbor Lights" as their theme. The Grand March will begin at 9:00 p. m., with the "Melody Makers" furnishing the music. This group is the Lewiston High school dance band, and they played for the dances during the play-offs of the basketball tournament at Lewiston.

The Prom is semi-formal, and corsages are permissible this year. The admission is $2.00 per couple for adults, with the student rate at $1.50 until Friday at noon, when it, too, goes up to $2.00 per couple.

Students are advised to get their tickets and their dates — early!

The article goes on to say: "With the 19 inches of new snow that fell over a period of three days last week-end making it impossible for many farmers in Cavalier County to get feed for their livestock, the North Dakota National Guard sent four large bulldozers into the area Monday to help blaze trails through the deep snow, etc."

When we asked Oscar if he didn't wish he lived there now, came the reply: "Definitely not!"

Final rites for Andrew Lien, Big Bear ridge pioneer, were conducted at the Big Bear Ridge Lutheran Church at 2:30 p. m., Saturday, March 31, by the Rev. Edwin Barsness. Pallbearers were Oscar Slind, Joseph Forest, Ed. Halseth, Gerald Halseth, Lester Nelson and Ole Kleith, all old-time friends of the deceased.

Andrew Lien was born Feb. 2, 1867, in Opdal, Norway, a son of Erick and Marit Lien. The family immigrated to the United States in 1880, settling in South Dakota that same year. In 1889 he with his brother, Hans, moved to Idaho, purchasing a farm on Big Bear Ridge where they lived until 1947, when they sold their interests and moved to Coeur d'Alene Homes, Coeur d'Alene, Idaho. He made his home here until his death on March 27th, of the infirmities of old age.

He was a live-long member of the Lutheran Church, and one of the organizers of that faith church on Big Bear ridge.

Survivors are one sister, Mrs. Zach Aas of Vancouver, Wash., several nephews and nieces, and a host of friends.

Interesting Grange Meeting
The Kendrick Grange held a most interesting and instructive meeting Tuesday evening, with a fairly good attendance.

During the business session it was voted to give $10.00 to the glass back-board purchase fund for the local high school gymnasium, and $5.00 was voted to the Cancer Control Fund.

In the program which followed Mrs. Hiram Galloway showed a Cancer Control film, which proved most interesting and instructive.

A film was also shown by the Western Pine Association on "Industry and Tree Farming."

Art. Lynn, forest engineer, and Gary Ringle, P. F. I. forest engineer, who are working in this area on the formation of a tree farming division, and Carl E. Ward, who assists them, gave short talks on this very important movement.

Delightful refreshments served in the banquet room, closed the evening.

Shower Honors Newlyweds
A shower honoring Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bovencamp, who were married recently, was held at the Gold Hill hall on Friday evening, April 6th.

For entertainment several fun games were played, with the Mesdames Gil Erlwine and Al Pederson winning prizes.

The bride, assisted by Mrs. Tom Gregory and Lella Grayson opened and displayed their lovely gifts. Gloria Babb recorded names in the gift book.

Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the evening by the hostess, Gloria Babb, who was assisted by Mrs. Wm. Babb, Mrs. Tom Gregory, Lella Grayson, Mrs. Ralph Reid and Mrs. Ernes Fteytag.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Walters of Pomeroy were present and took moving pictures during the evening. Mrs. Walters is a sister of Mrs. Bovencamp.

Real Spring Industry Shown
Never has more industry been shown about town as home owners go about the task of cleaning up the debris of winter, conditioning lawns, putting in gardens, etc. It seems as if the long, hard winter created in everyone a desire to get out into the sunshine and "really live it up."

Every evening the "put-put" of power lawn mowers can be heard, or the higher pitched popping of garden cultivators as that work goes forward. Most local gardeners are being faced with the problem of about 1 1/2 inches of crust on top the ground — and then "almost mud" below that.

As a result, peat moss and rotten sawdust have been in real demand — not to mention barnyard fertilizers as well as the commercial types.

Anyhow, we predict, as in the past, that there will be a lot of beautiful lawns and fine gardens in this area.

Enjoy Seattle Vacation
Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schupfer, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Samuelson (nee Maribel Schupfer) spent the week-end in Seattle, going over Thursday and returning Monday morning. They visited with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bechtol.

On Sunday all attended a family reunion dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Winn, honoring the 42nd wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Bechtol and the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Clyde Miller.

They returned home early Monday morning.

Birthday Party
Mrs. Marion Rowden entertained a group of 17 youngsters Friday evening in the Fire Hall, honoring their daughter Julie's 13th birthday anniversary.

The evening was spent in playing bingo and dancing. Delicious refreshments were served at its close.

The Mesdames Bruce Sherman, R. L. Blewett, Joe Browning and Arthur Foster were also present and helped to direct the games and dancing.

Baby Son Arrives
Mr. and Mrs. Donald Eichner announce the arrival of a 10-pound baby boy, born to them April 11, at their home on American ridge. The little fellow has been named Steven Donald. He joins a little sister, Becky, who has been staying with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Schupfer.

Mrs. Leon Wolff, R/N, has been caring for Mrs. Eichner and new son. Both are doing nicely.

Scouts To Burn Brush
Calling all Boy Scouts — Cub Scouts and their parents — in fact, anyone who is willing to lend a helping hand in a "brush burning bee" next Saturday, April 21. Meet at the Forestry office at 8:00 a. m. In case of rain, it will be called off!

4-H'er Makes Good
University Of Idaho—Moscow, April 19.—When Darrel Gamble, 17-year-old Preston 4-H Club junior leader, took the train Tuesday for Sioux City, Iowa, and the annual conference of Youth Outdoor Americans in session there April 18 to 20, he owed much of his trip to Five Mile Wash.

Darrel's trip is probably the only good thing to come out of "Five Mile," what engineers call one of the most spectacular examples of devastating erosion in the entire world.

Five Mile Wash lies that far west of the town of Preston. It's a monument to ruined farms and lost hopes. Starting its rampage with the excessive use of irrigation water after World War II, it has eaten away hundreds of acres of once fertile and valuable farm lands. Its still spreading canyon is now over 100 feet deep.

In his letter to Dan Warren, state 4-H Club leader for the University of Idaho, Darrel says that before he visited Five Mile Wash the first time he had taken the clear streams, beautiful canyons and timber of his part of Idaho for granted. Conservation didn't seem so important. But his first impression of the crawling, living wash changed all that. He writes, "I was astounded and shocked, reminded of a picture of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, but there was nothing beautiful about Five Mile. The only evidence of plant life was a lifeless tumble weed rolling along the far side of the muddy, dirt-clogged stream that still slowly carried its load of farm land away."

From that time on, Darrel and members of his club took conservation as a more serious thing. They helped plant hundreds of trees in the wash. They worked in other areas of their county to see that people were aware of the dangers of erosion and forest fires, they painted signs and put them up, and they set good examples by good conduct when they went into the woods or along the streams.

The conference of Young Outdoor Americans is sponsored by the Izaak Walton League of America, dedicated to the defense of soil, woods, waters, and wildlife. Delegates come from Boy Scouts of America, Future Farmers of America, and from 4-H clubs in the 48 states. They meet to bring each other up to date on conservation problems and efforts in their home states. And, if one of them has a more spectacular story of erosion to tell at the conference than does Darrel Gamble of Preston, it may well be an Arizona Indian boy who will arise to give his grandfather's version of how the Grand Canyon of Colorado got its start.

You just can't beat a picnic in the great outdoors for sport. Get those supplies of all kinds, including plates and cups, at Blewett's, Kendrick ad

TREE FARM GROUP FORMING IN POTLATCH DRAINAGE

A group of 25 or more farmers and other landowners of the Potlatch valley and vicinity have started organizing a Western Pine Tree Farm Family to advance the idea of growing timber as a farm crop. It was reported this week by Art Lynn of Spokane, district forest engineer of the Western Pine Association.

It will be the fourth group of its kind formed in the Clearwater-Potlatch region in the past two years, the other three being at Kamiah, Orofino and the upper Palouse Valley.

Several granges and lumber industry foresters are helping get the group under way. The smaller landowners of the Kendrick, Juliaetta, Deary, Bovill, Elk River, Troy and nearby districts are forming the group and are tentatively planning a dedication ceremony for July at Kendrick.

Lynn said the Tree Farm program's aim is to encourage and help landowners to increase cash income from their woodlands by growing timber on a crop basis as a permanent business. Tree Farm groups exchange information on a profitable forest crop practices and also receive forestry advice and help in operating their timber crop programs. The movement is strictly educational, he said, involving no expense and no considerations other than timber growth encouragement.

Dr. D.A. Christensen of Kendrick; Hugh Parks, Lapwai Pomona Grange Master of Potlatch Ridge; Gerald Ingie, Kendrick Grange Master of Bear Ridge; John, Andy and Dewey Galloway, Bear Ridge; Harold Gray, Mt. Deary Grange Master of Deary, and several other prominent ranchers and town residents are taking leadership in forming the Tree Farm Family.

Potlatch Forests, Inc. has assigned Forester Carl Deward to the area as a tree farm forester to work with small landowners in planning the growing and harvesting of tree crops. He will be assisted by Jack Fagan,

P.F.I. tree farm forester at Orofino, and Art Lynn.

Lynn said farmers who have not been interviewed so far but who might be interested in becoming certified tree farmers can direct inquiries to their Grange Master or be Deary at Potlatch Forests, Inc., forestry department, Lewiston.

Speaking programs explaining the plan are being presented at the Grange meetings. The first one will be held at Kendrick, April 17, 1956, and a meeting with the Mt. Deary Grange will be held on the 27th of April.

When the group is certified under the Western Pine Association Tree Farm program, Idaho will have extended its lead over other Western Pine states in number of tree farms listed. Idaho already has 426 tree farms, with a goal of passing the 500 mark this year. A group similar to the one being organized here is forming in the New Meadows area.

The Tree Farm program is nationwide in scope, Lynn explained, with 38 million acres in 7,500 ownerships certified to date. In 12 western states where the Western Pine Association functions, the program is guided by that forest industry group.

Spring Painting Time at Hand

With the coming of Spring every householder thinks of freshening the appearance of his home and redecorating certain rooms, but the question of costs often brings planning to an abrupt end. Needless so.

Many homemakers have discovered it is possible to paint a room for as little as $12 to $15. This is undoubtedly the most inexpensive way of redoing any room. Even a lamp would cost more than that. Certainly a rug or new draperies would.

Painting is no longer an arduous task, and a new and attractive room can be created with very little effort.

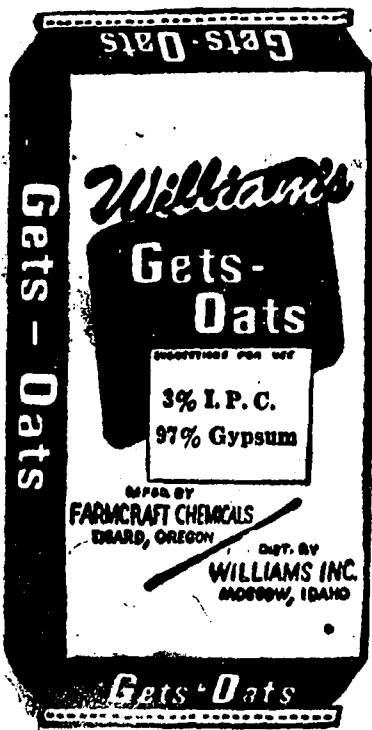

Paint "mixing machines" extend the great range of colors already available—and make it possible to match in paint virtually any fabric color. By matching the new walls to the draperies, rugs, or upholstery already in the room, it is possible to get a new effect with paint alone, and thus save the expense of new furnishings.

Best of all, this new paint actually dries within an hour, so that pictures, curtains and draperies may be hung up again the same day the room is painted.

INCREASE YOUR FARM PROFIT!

USE GETS-OATS

ON PEA GROUND!

1. Easier to apply. This material can be applied with your regular fertilizer spreader. This means no nozzle to plug and no mixture to prepare.
2. It is a time saver in the spring when you are 'always pressed for time to get those crops planted. It also saves time in the fall. Those oat free fields if peas are much easier to harvest than oat infested fields.
3. It increases your yield of peas. Experiments have proved that oat free fields will yield up to twice as many peas as an oat infested field.
4. The application cost of IPC when applied with Gypsum is actually free. In your normal farming practice when you apply Gypsum as a fertilizer for peas, the IPC added to this fertilizer is applied on practically a no cost basis.

TODAY'S BIG SPECIAL

at a price that will open your eyes
(and Purse)

If you're in the market for a real buy, take a good look at this one.

It's a 1956 Buick SPECIAL—which means, of course it's a big car.

But look again at the price news it carries.

It tells you this big Buick SPECIAL can be yours for only a few dollars more than the price of the well-known smaller cars—for even less than some models of those very same cars. (And the price we'll show you proves how true that is.)

The gospel truth is—this brawny new beauty is the biggest bundle of high style and hot performance ever offered in Buick's lowest-priced Series.

Even that, though, doesn't completely explain why Buick outsells every car in America except the two well-known smaller ones.

To understand the big reason, you've got to know something about how much pure automobile you get for your money in a 1956 Buick—

The extra satisfaction of commanding Buick's walloping new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine—

The extra joy and comfort of Buick's new buoyant ride, Buick's matchless new handling ease, Buick's extra solidity of structure—

The extra thrill that comes from the world's most modern transmission. For, at your option, you can also have the new double-action take-off—and the extra gas-saving mileage—of Buick's advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo. †

Those are some of the things we'd like you to know, firsthand, about the 1956 Buick. And we'll let the car itself—and that low price tag—do the talking. Will you come in—real soon—this week maybe?

†New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

IDAHO'S WILDERNESS AREA OF TREMENDOUS VALUE

At this time the people of Idaho should give serious thought to the future of our fish and wildlife resources. In the past, thanks to our vast land areas and small population, we have depended on nature to supply abundant hunting and fishing. Now, because of good roads, present modes of transportation, increased interest in hunting and fishing, we can no longer sit back and do nothing about perpetuating this resource.

We are blessed with more streams, forests, and other wild life habitat than most states in America. We do a lot of talking about attracting tourists. Our greatest attractions are Sun Valley, with the beauty of the Sawtooths, and our big game hunting and fishing. In fact, it is estimated that we now have America's greatest elk herd. Actually, only a few states have elk hunting to attract the big game shooter. Roughly forty million dollars is spent annually by fishermen and hunters in Idaho. Surely this is a big industry. Nearly a quarter of a million people buy Idaho hunting and fishing licenses annually—substantial evidence of the great interest in this recreation. Nearly half of the license revenue of our Fish and Game Department comes from out-of-state residents.

Some people think that additional roads through our state will attract tourists. This is not true. The tourist who visits us is looking for more than our mountain scenery. He is attracted mainly either by Sun Valley or by our big game hunting and fishing. About all that new roads attract are hot dog stands and gas stations; and the people from the East and South will not drive to Idaho just to buy a hamburger.

A few people forget and many do not know that deer and elk were originally prairie animals. The journals of the Lewis and Clark Expedition mentioned the abundance of deer and elk across the western prairies and the lack of wildlife through the mountains. In fact, the members nearly starved while passing over the Lolo trail. Civilization has pushed our big game animals from the prairies to our wilderness and mountainous areas. We cannot continue to build unnecessary roads through our primitive country and at the same time preserve our big game, especially our elk herds.

Within the boundaries of our Western national forests lie the last true strongholds of nature in our land. These strongholds are the Wilderness Areas—tracts of land set aside by the U.S. Forest Service, to preserve primitive conditions of habitation and environment. Fortunately, several of these areas were set up in Idaho, the most important ones in the Chamberlain Basin, the Middle Fork drainage area of the Salmon River, and the Selway Forest. These areas are natural wildlife habitats and are of little value commercially.

In order to preserve these areas as a wilderness for wildlife and recreation, the next session of our legislature should establish them as a Wilderness Area, should prohibit roads, and should permit air landings only for forest supplies and emergencies. In other words, the only way to visit this area would be either by foot or by horseback. Hunting and fishing would be allowed by state laws. This would not be an area for private hunting and fishing clubs, nor for the few with airplanes, etc., but would be preserved for all people—for those who wish to "rough it" as the pioneers did and to enjoy during the future years an unspoiled, untouched primitive country.

The Idaho Wilderness Areas are only a small fraction of our entire land acreage. Some will say that if the U.S. Forest Service has set aside the areas and continues to supervise them, why should the people of Idaho be interested. The reason we are interested is that we never know what the federal Congress may do. We used to think that we owned and controlled the water in Idaho, but since some recent decisions of our higher courts we are beginning to wonder.

Our idea of defining the Wilderness Areas through our legislature to control them by the people of Idaho and allow the U.S. Forest Service to continue supervising these areas as it has been in the past.

The encouraging part about controlling the primitive areas is that we don't have to buy them; we don't have to spend money for maintenance. We can then advise nationally our spectacular primitive area and what a tourist can expect in the way of regulations when he arrives.

Some states have passed legislation to control their wilderness areas. I have asked one of our prominent Idaho attorneys to secure as much of this information as possible so that we can draft a bill for the next session of our legislature. Every unselfish citizen of Idaho should be interested in this movement. We should contact all candidates for our next legislature and put them on the spot as to whether they are for or against this movement.—N.F. Raymer, Former member of the Idaho Fish and Game Commission, 520 S. Hayes, Moscow, Idaho.

Dams Would Give Electricity Boost
New tax benefits of approximately $5,000,000 annually—or $250,000,000 in 50 years—will be available to local, state and Federal government when Pacific Northwest Power Company is permitted to construct its proposed Mountain Sheep and Pleasant Valley hydroelectric project on the middle Snake river between Oregon and Idaho.

V.S. Casebolt, Palouse Division Manager for WWP company, one of PNP's four organized utilities, said the present estimate included property taxes to be assessed on new facilities as dams, power plants, substations and transmission lines, excise taxes and income tax benefits stemming from operation of the $213,000,000 development slated for building with private funds.

He said that on the basis of $5,000,000 annually over a 50-year license period, tax and license fee benefits would amount to something in excess of $250,000,000—or more than the total original cost of the development.

PNP was organized by the Washington Water Power, Montana Power, Pacific Power and Light and Portland General Electric companies to develop economic new power resources for this region.

The generating firm applied last September for a federal license to build and operate the 1,446,000-Kilowatt project on the snake some 80 miles south of Lewiston, Idaho. The dams—one of them to be the third highest of its kind in the world—are located above the mouths of the Salmon and Imnaha rivers.

PNP has already spent more than $1,500,000 for preliminary engineering, test drilling and other phases of investigation for the big project. Present construction schedules call for starts at both dam sites immediately upon receipt of a Federal Power Commission license.

The WWP Palouse Division Manager said an estimated $2,000,000 would be paid annually in property taxes alone as the result of construction of Mountain Sheep and Pleasant Valley dams, and the building of new substations and transmission lines to get the new power out of the rugged Snake river canyon to each of the four companies' service areas. "Twenty-five counties in the four Northwest states will receive direct tax benefits from the project," he said.

A substantial part of the total property tax would be on substations and transmission lines in Idaho, Oregon, Montana and Washington.

"Federal income tax benefits have been estimated to start near $700,000, ranging to about $4,000,000 for an average of $2,100,000 annually during the first 30 years of project operation, Casebolt said.

In addition, it is expected that various taxes and other state and Federal license fees will increase the total of both taxes and fees to approximately $5,000,000 annually.

As a general rule the fellow who is in a position to do as he pleases never knows what to do.

Rams Floor Tigers 4 to 1
 The Kendrick Tigers were beaten by the Clearwater Valley Rams by a score of 4-1, Thursday, April 12. During the second inning of play Clearwater batted in two runs, making the score read 2-0. Jim Armitage made a base hit for the Tigers, but no further hits were made by our players.

During the third inning the Rams added another tally, making the score 3-0. Joe Cuddy made a beautiful hit for Kendrick, but nothing further developed. At the end of the sixth inning the score became 4-0, when Clearwater tallied another run. Jim Armitage made the only hit for the Tigers during that inning, but did not come in to score.

With Joe Cuddy on second base during the top of the 7th, Monty Andrews made a two-base hit, which enabled Cuddy to score.

For the Tigers, pitcher Roger Christensen sent five of the Rams' players down swinging, and allowed no free bases. The Rams' pitcher, Ellenwood, sent 13 of our men down swinging and gave away two free bases.

In the 440-Relay the Kendrick Tigers came in fifth place.

In the 880 dash Joe Cuddy, Kendrick placed first, time 2:10.0.

Seniors Study Europe
 Mr. and Mrs. Parker McCreary met with the English IV class at the High school Tuesday, April 17th, and talked with them of their experiences in Europe. The McCrearys were married while Parker was serving with the army medical corps in Germany.

The seniors are studying European Literature and were surprised to hear from the McCrearys that American students are allowed much more freedom at home and at school than are their European counterparts and that, in spite of a war, there is probably less racial prejudice and juvenile delinquency in Germany than in the United States.

Odd Fact And Figures
 A millionth of an ounce is a measurement which is now commonly used in medical research.

The Hale Telescope on Mount Palomar in California is so powerful that it can detect the flame of a single candle 10,000 miles away.

Although invisible, atomic particles called neutrons are so "heavy" that a teaspoonful would weigh close to 210 million tons.

Experience is the only sure-fire cure for inexperience.

Section No. 10. The purpose of this program is to improve fishing in Idaho," Simpson explained. "In waters where poor growing or wintering conditions cut down natural production, but fishing pressure is heavy, we release legal-size fish during the summer when the water can support them. This keeps such waters on the fishing list all season instead of allowing them to be fished out during the first few days or weeks." He said the smaller fish are used to re-stock streams, lakes and reservoirs where wintering and growing conditions justify being treated to remove non-game fish.

More Fish Again This Year
 State fish hatcheries have again brought a bumper crop of young fish through the winter, and 1956 plantings should equal last year's record high, the Idaho Fish and Game department said today.

James C. Simpson, chief of fisheries management, said this year's fish are making excellent growth and are in fine condition. Last year 1,747, 000 trout six inches long and longer were released in state waters, and approximately 1,200,000 trout that were three to six inches long, Simpson said. In addition, about 15 million smaller fish (under three inches long) were planted. "This was the biggest planting program completed so far, and indications at present are that this year's program will equal it, and should be ample to take care of the needs of state waters this year," he said.

"The purpose of this program is to improve fishing in Idaho," Simpson explained. "In waters where poor growing or wintering conditions cut down natural production, but fishing pressure is heavy, we release legal-size fish during the summer when the water can support them. This keeps such waters on the fishing list all season instead of allowing them to be fished out during the first few days or weeks." He said the smaller fish are used to re-stock streams, lakes and reservoirs where wintering and growing conditions justify being treated to remove non-game fish.

HELLO, FOLKS:

As the rush season of spring is now with us we believe that we can serve you better through longer hours — so, as of right now, we will be open from 6:00 o'clock in the morning until 10:00 o'clock at night — which means that those famous Union Gasolines, Greases and Oils can be yours almost any working hour of the day — and perhaps even longer. Just try our service and see for yourself!

A student was reading the birth and death records in the University library. After doing some figuring on a piece of scratch paper, he turned to the pretty co-ed sitting next to him and said, "Do you know that every time I breathe a man dies?"
"Very interesting," replied the co-ed. "Would you mind breathing in the other direction?"

Have you checked the tires on your car? Are they ready for summer's driving? If not, come in and let us talk trade with you. You'll be surprised at how cheaply you can drive, in safety, on those famous U. S. Royals. It will only take a few minutes of your time to get all the facts.

One of the mysteries of life is how a boy who wasn't good enough to marry the daughter, can be the father of the smartest grandchild in the world!
