SHORT NEWS ITEMS FROM OUR LOCAL SCHOOLS

Kendrick Wins In Annual Festival
The K. H. S. Band and Girls' Glee Club journeyed to Lewiston Friday to take part in the North Idaho Music Festival, which lasted three days, and was climaxed Saturday evening with a concert in the Lewiston High School auditorium.

The Kendrick area can be proud of her young musicians, as they made a good showing when ratings were given. The Band received a I rating; Girls' Glee Club a I rating, and the Twirling Team a II rating.

On Saturday at 1:30 p. m. the Band joined in the colorful parade which featured 24 other high school bands — marching up Lewiston's Main Street.

The Kendrick band was among the first flanked by a drill team which tossed pompoms in time with the music.

Patty Nelson and Marga Wilken were the only two from Kendrick to participate in the Massed Band performance Saturday evening directed by Prof. Warren Bellis of the U. of I. It is felt that the Band, Girls' Glee Club and Twirling Team represented Kendrick very well.

Not A Soul Showed Up!
Nobody attended the Annual Budget meeting last Saturday, April 28, except the School Board members. The Board discussed the standing of the district and the problems that it faces. During this time nobody put in an appearance — so they went home. Apparently everybody in this school district is satisfied with the financial handling of our district's finances.

The score stood 3 to 2 for the Tigers at the end of the first inning, with Cuddy, Eldridge and Armitage scoring. At the end of the third inning the score was tied at 3-all and remained that way until the bottom of the eighth, when Kamiah scored the winning run. The winning pitchers for Kamiah were Higgins, with 7 strikeouts and no walks, and Adams with 4 strikeouts and no walks. Kendrick's pitchers were Foster, who pitched the first 7 innings, with 4 strikeouts and 2 walks, and Clemenhagen, who took over in the eighth frame.

WHAT JULIAETTA FRIENDS ARE DOING THESE DAYS

"Rock Hounds" Enjoy Work
Mr. and Mrs. Asa Calvert and son Milo have been, along with a number of other "rock hounds," looking for sillimanite along the Clearwater river, and they have found a number of nice pieces.

Mr. Calvert says sillimanite is an aluminum silicate, and as a mineral is not uncommon, but as a gem of quality such as is found here, is very rare. In fact, as far as can be ascertained, it is found in very few other places in the world. Because of its rarity and the fact that it will take a beautiful polish it is considered quite valuable. A quotation of $20.00 an ounce is frequently heard, although probably not much received.

The Calverts welcome anyone interested to see the stones they have found. They have none for sale, however.

The honoree received many useful and beautiful gifts.

SHORT LOCAL ITEMS OF MORE THAN PASSING INTEREST

Home Demonstration Week
This week is "National Home Demonstration Week." Homemakers of Latah County are commemorating this week in conjunction with thousands of club members throughout our land. Each club have their own governing officers with representatives in the County Council, and on to state and national groups. The subjects studied, the projects accomplished in the county are under the supervision of Mrs. Elizabeth Rettig of the University of Idaho Home Extension Service.

Studies are of nutrition, preparation of food, home improvements, home management, family relations, etc., in fact, every phase of home making is covered.

Two members from each club in the county attend monthly classes at Moscow with Mrs. Rettig instructing. These members return to their clubs and present the lesson to their fellow members. Mrs. Rettig meets with each club as often as possible. Workshops are held several times a year for special classes in tailoring, upholstering, etc.

Busy young mothers — and grandmothers all find they can have fun working together and learning to be better home makers.

With leadership and special talents developed, community and home life are enriched. We join with other home makers this week to review the past year's accomplishments, and to look forward with anticipation to the interesting programs chosen for the coming year — Mrs. Harley Eichner, Hi-Hope Club, American Ridge.

Rocks In His Tank!
We've all heard of a "guy with rocks in his head," but Dave Clayton had "rocks in his gas tank!" — all because their two small sons, Stan, four years old and Doug two and a half, ran out of something to do and decided to "raise the level of the gas tank on Daddy's car" by filling it with rock and gravel from the driveway.

Mrs. Clayton stopped them (mothers seem to see everything) before they had finished their project, and called a halt to their activities in no uncertain terms.

The gas tank had to be taken off the car (before it could be operated), and brought down town. There it was found necessary to cut a hole in one end to remove the rocks and dirt, solder the hole back up and later put the tank back in place.

So — all's well that ends well, but Dave will tell you there's never a dull moment at the Clayton household!

Ill In Lewiston Hospital
Claude Craig, well known former resident, is quite ill with virus pneumonia at the St. Joseph's Hospital in Lewiston.

Last week Mr. and Mrs. Craig left their home at Marysville, Wash., and headed toward Kendrick for a visit with their children and other relatives. They stopped enroute at Richland, Wash., for a visit in the Ivan Craig home, then came on to Lapwai to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Stout.

At their Stout home Mr. Craig became ill and was brought to Kendrick to consult Dr. Christensen, who rushed him to the hospital, where he is now in an oxygen tent, gravely ill. Mrs. Craig is staying at the Jay Stout home at Lapwai.

Monday Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Locke and Mrs. Julius Caesar, all of Marysville came over to be with their father.

Although Mr. Craig is improving the request is "no visitors please."

Ring Proves Of No Value
An apparent diamond ring, found last week by Gary Abbott, and advertised in the Gazette — proved to be not worth the cost of the advertisement when taken to Lewiston for appraisal.

Gary found the ring, complete with engraved initials, on the school house hill, and promptly brought it to the Gazette to be advertised. Later, taken to a Lewiston jeweler for appraisal the gentleman looked "at it — looked up at Gary's grandmother, Mrs. E. V. Weeks, smiled and said: "Not a bad rhinestone. It's worth about 29¢!"

But one thing was brought to the fore — the honesty of the finder.

Firemen Enjoy Pinochle Party
The Kendrick Volunteer Firemen and their wives, with the Juliaetta Firemen and their wives as guests enjoyed a pinochle party at the Fire hall here Friday evening.

Grange Tuesday Evening
At the regular Kendrick Grange meeting Tuesday evening it was planned for Grange members to attend church services May 6, in a body, in observance of Rural Life Sunday. Following the services members will take a sack lunch and coffee and drive to Rock Creek Grange hall, where they will eat lunch at noon and later attend a 1:30 meeting. This is "Visitation Day" and the local Grange will open and close the meeting and present the program. It is hoped to see an outstanding representation.

Pannonia Grange will be held at Kenedy Ford, Saturday evening, May 12. We are also invited to a visitation at Teakean Grange, Sat., May 12 — which had to be postponed in April.

The Grange voted to sponsor the Tree Farm program as a community share, with other Latah County Granges, to buy a 4-H calf for a 4-H winner at the Latah County Fair this coming fall.

Club To Meet
The Good Doers 4-H Club will meet after school, May 9, with Dee Magnuson.

BIG BEAR RIDGE NEWS

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Walt McCall and daughter Myrtle and Mr. and Mrs. Dick McCall and daughter Lynda, Lewiston; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Watts and daughter Fatti, Mr. and Mrs. Dee Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mustoe.

Weather Cool — And Dry
The weather this past week may well be described as "cool and dry." We have had one night of frost, Monday, when the thermometer dipped to 37 degrees, biting some unprotected and tender plants here and there.

A good rain would be greatly welcomed by farmers and townspeople alike, as lawn and garden sprinklers have been used considerably about town this past week. It is just too cool for gardens to grow, and wheat and other field crops are said to be "at a standstill."

Parents Of A Son
Mr. and Mrs. Paul Snyder, Southwick are the parents of a son, born at their home, April 30, weight 7 pounds. He has been named Jeffrey Paul. Mother and babe are doing nicely.

Student Envoys To Germany

A new group of 20 students, including two women, destined for the West German diplomatic service, are soon to enter what is believed here to be a unique diplomatic school.

All 20 have completed academic courses in either law, economics, or history, and speak at least three languages fluently. None is over 30 years of age.

They are the 11th group of about 20 students each to be groomed for future diplomatic posts at the school, started in 1950, at Speyer, an ancient town on the Rhine, and moved in April, 1955, to Bonn. There it occupies a villa and a small dormitory building on the Koblenzerstrasse.

For the first 6½ months of their training, the diplomat trainees, officially listed as "temporary civil servants" and called "attaches," live and study at this school.

After the first half year, they are employed for 14 months within Germany, at both the Foreign Office and the Economics Ministry, and then sent to small diplomatic missions or consular offices in Europe for another year.

The students are carefully picked by a committee of Foreign Office officials on the strength of an examination, which includes personal interviews, written theses on various subjects, and tests in English and French.

There are hundreds of applicants for admission to this school. The Foreign Office chooses about 40 of the most likely candidates for the entrance examination, held twice a year in Bonn, and finally selects about 20 of these.

Personality and character as well as knowledge count for success, Dr. Helmut Sigrist, former Second Secretary at the Washington Embassy, who is head of the school, explained.

During the initial six months' course at the school, the students follow a curriculum more demanding than that of any university.

"It is work, work, and work again," Dr. Sigrist says, "and it leaves the students almost no free time."

In addition to language courses in English and French, stressing the "diplomatic use of the language," there are lectures in law, history, economics, the liberal arts, administration, press and information policy protocol, and the "art and history of diplomacy."

The lectures are given by university professors, sometimes from foreign universities, or officials of the Foreign Office.

The whole organization of the school stresses the principal of "self-rule" and "self-organization." Lecturers are welcomed by spokesmen for the students, guests are entertained by them and students preside over discussions. Two or three evenings each week the students invite members of parliament, personalities of public office or government officials for discussions or round-table talks on various subjects.

As often as possible the students are sent to official or other public functions of the Foreign Office or other government offices, to balls, and to social parties to learn how "to move in society."

Scholarship Aid

Lewis-Clark Normal School, Lewiston — Lewis-Clark Normal School is starting the new year with a big boost in its scholarship program. Dr. D. R. Theophilus, president of the University of Idaho, and the Normal school, announced this week that a scholarship gift of $2,000 had been made to the Lewiston institution by the Holsum Baking Co., Lewiston.

S. A. Spangler, president of the company, asked that the money be used for "encouraging and helping young men and women attending the Lewis-Clark Normal school to complete their education and become teachers in the schools of Idaho." The gift will provide scholarships of $100 to $300, beginning with the second semester of the current academic year. Selection of students for the awards will be made by the school's scholarship committee.

Trappists Put Famous Bread on Commercial Market

BERRYVILLE, Va.—Trappist monks at the Holy Cross Monastery here have put their famous bread on the commercial market in the suburbs of Washington, D.C. 60 miles away.

Called the "Monk's Own Loaf," the bread forms one of the staple parts of their meatless diet. It is dark, firm bread made of whole-wheat flour, honey, nonfat dry milk solids, butter, white flour, yeast, sugar, salt, shortening and soy flour.

Brother Kevin, baker for the Monastery, uses three per cent soy flour in the bread formula. Soy flour is 40 to 50 per cent protein, so the bread supplies protein which the monks miss in their meatless diet.

Wrapper on the bread shows clerical wit and whimsy. Small figures of monks are shown hoeing in the fields, running with shocks of wheat, milling flour, milking cows, pumping water, kneading bread, baking and eating.

Bread is only one of the many things they make for themselves. As members of the Cistercian Order, they attempt to be economically self-sufficient and to produce within their cloister as many of their needs as possible.

The Cistercian Order traces its founding back to Saint Benedict in the Sixth Century, although it went through a reformation in the Eleventh Century.

The modern commercial bread program, still on a very small scale, was fostered by a retired physician who discovered that the bread was for sale. His enthusiasm among his friends was the major "sales force."

Panic in Streets Usually Greeted
Free Wild Animals

WASHINGTON—Wild animals that escape from the circus, pet shop or zoo often aren't as wild as the human beings they excite by their chance meetings in the open.

Take the case of the ocelot (tropical American wildcat) who escaped from a Washington pet shop and roamed for more than a week among homes and woods around the Naval Observatory, dodging police shotgun blasts, traps baited with halibut fillet and a number of persistent coon dogs.

After nine days of freedom, the hungry ocelot voluntarily limped back to the pet shop.

When big cats escape they often cause panic, maul people and have even taken human lives. Thousands of volunteer searchers, police, Marines, helicopters, planes and trained dogs failed to find a leopard which escaped from the Oklahoma City zoo. The zoo staff finally captured the animal by planting doped horse meat—but the meat killed the valuable animal.

Much less trouble was Jackie, a young male lion who escaped from New York's Madison Square Garden. Jackie wandered into the basement and lay down for a short nap. He was safely caged in time for the circus matinee.

A kangaroo, fresh from a TV debut in Baltimore, departed the studio and lit out across the city. Sunday drivers snarled traffic at the sight of the animal, which once leaped over an auto hood. The kangaroo bit one pursuer, kicked the wind out of another in its one-hour fling at freedom.

Scientist Claims Birth of New Stars

MT. HAMILTON, Calif.—Dr. George H. Herbig, associate astronomer in the Lick Observatory, has raised the possibility that he may have detected the "birth" of two new stars.

If confirmed, the event will have been truly unique in the history of astronomy.

The discovery of the possible "birth" of the two stars is based chiefly on two types of evidence:

First, Dr. Herbig has taken two photographs 7 years apart at the same point in the Orion Nebula. In the first of these photographs, taken in 1947, there are two stars imbedded in a dark cloud of dust and gas. In the second photograph, taken in 1954, five stars appear where there were three in 1947.

Second, Dr. Herbig and other astronomers have been accumulating evidence during the past decade that all five stars belong to species that have been formed recently.

Chance of Living to 100 Twice as Good

MINNEAPOLIS—Chances of living to age 100 are twice as good now as they were only half a century ago.

Of the nearly 20,000,000 babies born in the past five years, 80,000 should live to be 100 years old, says the family economics bureau of a national life insurance company. Out of an equal number born in the early 1900's however, only about 40,000 would be expected to reach the 100-mark.

Of the total white American population living today, approximately 500,000 will live to be 100, on the basis of present trends. Out of each 100,000 babies born in 1900, a total of 200 should survive to see the year 2,000. But of each 100,000 born in 1950, approximately 400 should live to see 2,050 A.D.

Teen-Age Deaths Due Mostly to Accidents

NEW YORK—Accidents are responsible for 6,000 teen-age deaths yearly, with motor vehicles the cause of a great number of the fatalities.

Among boys five to fourteen, the loss of life from accidents is seven times that from acute poliomyelitis, and nine times the loss from pneumonia and influenza, combined. Among the older elementary school boys—those at ten to fourteen—accidents take a greater number of lives than all other causes combined.

Motor vehicle mishaps account for two-fifths of the fatalities among children of elementary school age. Drownings rank second as a cause of accidental death among children, causing about one fourth of the fatalities. Other causes contributing in appreciable measure to the total are burns and conflagrations, firearms accidents, and falls.

TV Tells on Him

RALEIGH, N.C.—Officials at the State mental hospital were watching television. The local program was "Sidewalk Superintendents," which is broadcast from the street. "Say," said one of the hospital men, "that looks like one of the patients."

"Yes, it is," another said. "Somebody better go get him." And somebody did.

Colorado Toad
Shoots His Poison

LOS ANGELES—A giant toad, which can squirt its deadly poison a distance of 12 feet and devours rats and mice, is being studied by zoologists of the University of California.

The amphibian is known as the Colorado River toad because it is native to the Colorado basin in Arizona and California. It is being put through its paces in a laboratory aquarium so that more can be learned of its little-known habits.

The Colorado River toad grows to a length of nearly a foot (when fully outstretched). Only the marine toad of South America is larger.

The animal has glands on the back of its head which are a prolific source of potent poison. With a little prodding, it can squirt its poison some distance.

The toad apparently releases the poison in the animal's mouth after it has been picked up, causing the animal to spit it out. The poison is deadly when ingested.

Today's Forgotten Man Is Diet-Restricted

CHICAGO—Who is today's "forgotten man?" Dr. B. W. Bauer, editor of Today's Health, says it is the diet-restricted restaurant customer.

Dr. Bauer says the average restaurant doesn't offer much for the man who "must stick to carefully selected diets with restrictions on salt, meat, sweets, fats or starchy foods."

A mere change in menu, he says, will enable the restaurateur to satisfy the growing number of diet-restricted customers and still make a good profit.

He suggests addition of fresh or sugarless canned fruit and skimmed milk to the menu for diabetics and those watching their weight. A note might be added to the menu saying that artificial sweeteners and non-sodium "salt" will be supplied on request, he added.

Persons with gout must avoid meats, therefore, fish, poultry, eggs, cheeses, and pancakes or waffles "make them happy," Dr. Bauer said.

Taste for Taxi Rides Brings Downfall

FARGO, N.D.—A taste for taxi rides brought the arrest of two brothers on charges of theft from several churches and business places.

Police said the two admitted taking more than $100 in cash, checks and other property. They were arrested after police received a tip that the pair was riding "too many" taxis around town for boys only 9 and 11 years old.

Their mother said she thought they were in their respective fourth- and sixth-grade classes.

Runaway Truck

ADRIAN, Mich.—Kenneth Deermeyer was ready to load his truck when he found it gone.

It had rolled out of the garage and traveled 200 feet across the street, jumped a curb, smashed through a fence, tore up two trees, plunged over a bank and stopped against a concrete abutment inches from the River Raisin.

Progress Against Lymphomatosis

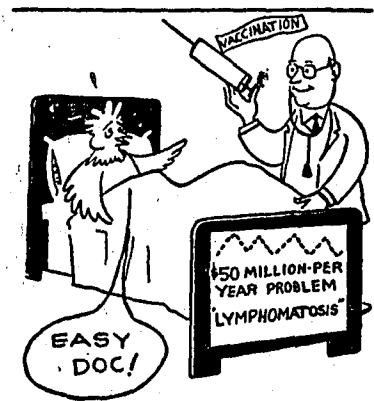

Test Hens Pass Resistance Thru Egg

An important step has been taken toward control of lymphomatosis (a cancerous disease often called "big-liver disease") in chickens.

In experiments at East Lansing, Michigan, resistance to the disease was passed from vaccinated hens to their chicks through the eggs. It is hoped that this discovery may eventually bring this $50-million-per-year problem under control.

It has been pointed out, however, that the findings must be confirmed under a wide variety of conditions, the technique for vaccination must be greatly simplified and the vaccine production put on a more practical basis.

The chicks hatched from eggs laid by the test hens before vaccination suffered 41 to 70 per cent death loss when inoculated with lymphomatosis. However, after the test hens were vaccinated only 3 to 13 per cent of the chicks developed the disease, and on the average they survived longer than the susceptible chicks in the other group.

Michigan experiments suggest that vaccination procedures may hold the answer to the problem of lymphomatosis in barnyard flocks.

The American Veterinary Medical Association, commenting on the experiments, noted that findings were under laboratory conditions in a relatively small number of birds. Additional experimental work and refinements are needed before veterinarians will have this material available for use in average poultry flocks.

New, Potent Booster For Insecticides

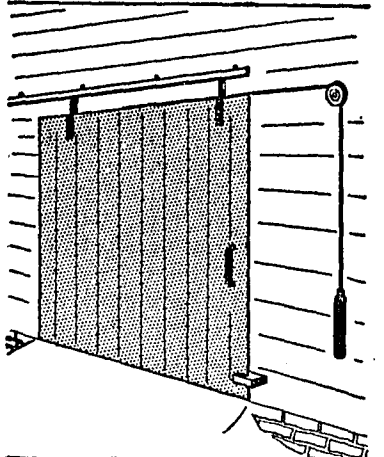

An important advance in continuing research to find better ways of controlling insect pests has been made through determination of the chemical structure of sesamol—a sesame-oil derivative that is the most potent booster known for pyrethrum insecticides.

Use of the compound gives pyrethrum insecticides greatly increased killing power against house flies and certain other insects, but does not increase their extremely low toxicity to humans and warm-blooded animals.

Sesamol by itself does not harm insects, but when added to pyrethrum it greatly increases the insecticide's potency. The outstanding effectiveness of sesamol as a synergist for pyrethrum was discovered by Dr. Morton Beroza of the USDA.

His discovery has laid the groundwork for (1) development of a satisfactory commercial process for extraction of sesamol from the oil of the sesame seed, a fast-expanding new oilseed crop for the South, or (2) possible development of a synthetic compound for use in insecticides that will duplicate the booster effect of natural sesamol.

Self-Closing Door

This self-closing door is operated on a slightly inclined track by a weight rigged with a cable and pulley. Door can be made of size and weight suitable for any barn or building opening.

AS THE PUBLIC SEE IT

It is very seldom that this writer ever produces an editorial, preferably leaving that to the big daily papers and to news commentators on TV and radio, but after listening to the comments of businessmen and farmers about town, following the joint Latah County Chambers of Commerce and Kendrick Community Lions Club meeting here Wednesday night of last week we feel it only fair to report on the sentiment of local residents, and perhaps add our own ideas.

One man remarked: "Moscow apparently doesn't care a tinker's dam where the state highway may run just so long as it goes to Moscow!"

Said another: "Moscow want's a new Court House and some new roads leading into Moscow — but they don't care whether this section of the county can use them to get there or not. It's the same old story — Moscow first, last and all the time, to heck with the rest of the county!"

Said still another: "Moscow wants a lot of support for their Fair, but they wouldn't turn a hand to get us a better road to get there to see the thing. They want a new court house and a lot of other things at county expense, too, but when we want their help to get something it's "we won't fight you, but we won't help either."

Said another: "I think it's time we laid our cards on the table. Moscow doesn't know we exist except when election time rolls along or they want the county to do something for them. They forget that a large slice of Latah county has "hellish roads" to travel to get to the county seat — yet want our support for a road that would mean nothing to us. Well, we can still do our trading in Lewiston."

And there were many, many more comments in a like vein, not only from residents of Juliaetta and Kendrick, but from some attending or familiar with the resolution on roads introduced at the March meeting of the Latah Chambers of Commerce, and re-read at the April meeting in Kendrick.

From the above it is clear that little, if any, editorial comment is needed on the matter. However, one thing is very clear to this writer — there will be almost no support (if any) from this section of the country toward a new court house at Moscow when (or if) the matter ever appears on the ballot, and possibly but little more from the communities of Troy and Deary.

Moscow's merchants need to wake up and attempt to get better roads to the county seat from this area if they are to share in any possible financial benefits through trade — rather than "a road anywhere just so it leads to Moscow." Water grades and alternate routes are possible within the county from this section rather than "Little Potlatch" or "Hatwai Creek," which would not improve our connections to Moscow one whit. Why not boost for them?

This writer would welcome written and signed expressions from others in this territory. Please, however, keep them below the point where they would have to be "blue penciled."

You just can't beat a picnic in the great outdoors for sport. Get those supplies of all kinds, including plates and cups, at Blewett's, Kendrick — ad

The Earth Is The Lord's

"Soil Stewardship Week" is being observed throughout the nation beginning May 6, through May 12, and sponsored through the Soil Conservation program.

The Women's Auxiliary, of which Mrs. Roy Glenn is chairman for the Kendrick-Juliaetta areas, is responsible for this year's program.

Special emphasis is being placed on church attendance — realizing man's existence depends upon his continued good use of the land as a faithful steward under God, conserving its resources so that man may live happily upon the earth. The continuity of human life depends upon our preservation and good use of the soil of the earth. Since God created both — both are sacred.

Published Weekly by the Union Oil Service at Kendrick
W. L. "Bill" Rogers, Editor

HELLO, FOLKS:

Well, maybe "Spring has Sprung — and mebbe not," but anyway spring work is on full tilt — and it's our business to see that those diesel and gasoline tanks don't run dry on you — so just pick up your phone, call 1251 — and say: "Fill 'em up." We'll do the rest — including bring out any lubricants you may require — those famous Union Lubricants — and there's one for every need. Try our service — try our products — you'll like both!

An Irishman, after paying his respects in the cemetery, walked about looking over some of the old tombstones. He stopped before one on which was carved: "Here Lies Sandy McGregor. A Generous Father and A Pious Man."
"Huh! Just like the Scots," he mumbled to himself, "three men in one grave."

In the rush of spring work are you neglecting your car? Truck? pickup? — if so, why? Bring it in to us for a complete lubrication job, a crankcase fill with that famous Royal Triton — a wash job and perhaps a wax job. You'll be surprised at how little it will cost and the results worth far more!

"Hello, is this the Fidelity Insurance Company?"
Clerk: "Yes, Madame."
"Well, I would like to arrange to insure my husband's fidelity."

Yes, you bet, we wash your windshield every time you stop for service — and vacuum clean the interior of your car with every wash job.
