MOTHER'S DAY

Again it's Mother's Day and memories thronging
Come drifting back across the gap of years,
To fill my lonely heart with tender longing
And dim my eyes with happy silver tears —

Down orchard lands the bells ring out their story
As up the little slope again we go,
The chapel choir is singing of God's glory
In dear remembered songs we used to know —

Life's barbed shrapnel-hail may bring us sadness
And yet no power can ever take away,
My matchless memories clarion with gladness
And love that burns anew on Mother's Day.

— Bert Gamble.

MRS. MARY KLETH, BIG BEAR RIDGE PIONEER, PASSES ON

Mrs. Mary Kleth, 85, died at 11:15 a. m. Wednesday, May 2, at the family home 4 miles southwest of Deary. She had been a resident of the ridge since 1905.

She was born in Norway, Sept. 22, 1870. She was united in marriage to Albert Kleth at Yankton, S. Dakota, May 17, 1893. They came to Big Bear ridge in 1905, where they farmed and made their home until he retired several years ago.

Mrs. Kleth was a member of the Bethany Lutheran Church of Big Bear Ridge, where she took an active part in its work until forced by ill health to give up regular attendance. She was a real inspiration to everyone, for despite the fact that she was almost totally blind, loved to have people visit her. Her memory was outstanding, she being able to recall events of the past clearly, and quote Bible verses and religious songs.

She is survived by her husband, at the family home; seven daughters, Mrs. Mabel Hugo of Juliaetta, Mrs. Bertha Bowers of Clarkston, Mrs. Marie Kay of Lewiston, Mrs. Betty Wampler of Lewiston, Mrs. Esther Oslund of Moscow, Mrs. Mildred McGraw of Deary and Mrs. Othella Morrison of Moscow; two sons, Ole and Theodore, both of Deary, and one brother, Hans Elide of Yankton, S. D.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 2:00 in the Bethany Lutheran Church, Big Bear Ridge, with the Rev. Paul Barsness, pastor, bringing the message. Music was furnished by Mrs. Robert Jones, Lewiston, and Mrs. Boyd Leland of Clarkston, who sang "Rock of Ages" and "In The Garden," accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Oscar Slind, Fall-bearers were Oscar Slind, Ed. Halseth, Joseph Forest, Ernest Jones, Lloyd Shreffler and Hartwick Lee, all old-time friends of the deceased. Interment was in the Lutheran cemetery, Big Bear Ridge.

In her many years residence on the ridge Mrs. Kleth had made a host of friends, and the packed church and profusion of floral offerings gave silent testimony to the high standing in which she was held.

Despite the fact that she had been in ill health for a number of years, she will truly be missed.

MOTHER'S DAY — MAY 13, 1956

My friend goes every Mother's Day—
Out to her grave and he will lay
A wreath there and then gifts he sends —
To many of her former friends —
He makes a point that day to see —
Some shutin folks and shows that he — Remembers them with fruit and flowers —
And helps to cheer their lonely hours —
She's up in Heaven but her son —
Does those things she has always done.

Present Operetta

Last Friday, May 4, the Juliaetta Elementary students presented an operetta entitled "Roddy Riddle From Mars" at 8:00 o'clock. There were 52 youngsters who took part in the production, and a good turn-out was seen.

Clever costuming and music, plus the colorful settings combined to make delightful entertainment.

Friday, May 11, the Girls' Chorus, Girls' Glee Club, and the Band will present a music concert in the High School gymnasium at 8:00 o'clock. The public is most cordially invited to attend.

Rain Is Real Soaker

The rain which began falling again last Monday afternoon proved to be a real soaker and in some spots a "gully washer."

Here it began in the early afternoon and continued throughout most of the night — not too hard, but a steady down-pour that has effectively stopped all farm work and logging operations.

Near Troy it hit in cloudburst proportions, with the main brunt of the storm apparently hitting the upper edge of American ridge close to the village limits. Here it washed out and closed the Troy-Kendrick road, carried mud down onto the railroad tracks and spewed more mud as far as the Steelsmith farm on the Troy-Deary highway.

As a result, Bear Creek resembles a thick chocolate stream, rather than the rather clear, peaceful creek it was a few days ago.

There is now ample moisture for all farming operations and gardens, and as one farmer put it: "They can turn off the faucet any time. We've had enough."

Temperatures remained mild, however, and grass is "growing like crazy."

Willing Workers 4-H Club

The Willing Workers 4-H Club met May 8 at the Ernest Andrews home. The new assistant county agent, John Moore, was able to attend the first meeting of the Club this year.

Selection of officers was the main business of the evening. They are: Leland Slind, president; Monty Andrews, vice president; Patty Nelson, secretary; Larry Galloway, treasurer; Diane Benscoter, reporter. There were many other positions appointed, such as chairmen of the demonstration, cooking, clothing, livestock, and other projects.

Each member gave a report on his or her project and its progress. There were 14 members present; four absent, and seven visitors. All hope that this interest will prevail throughout the year.

The consolidation of the American Ridge and Big Bear Ridge 4-H Clubs accounts for large enrollment. All hope and expect to do well on 4-H projects this year under our new leaders, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Ingle. The next meeting will be May 29 at the Walter Benscoter home.

Mother Passes In Germany

Mrs. Kenneth Brown received word Monday morning that her mother, Mrs. Maria Holzmann, aged 66 years, had passed away at the family home in Leuterschach, Germany.

Housing Shortage Acute

The shortage of living quarters in Kendrick and vicinity seems to grow shorter by the hour.

With the new stud mill coming into town the demand for housing has become all the more acute. Five families would like to make their home here, and in turn increase business locally. But with nothing desirable to rent or buy, they are moving to Lewiston and driving back and forth.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lile are living in a trailer house near the mill. Others engaged in setting up the mill are J. W. Stratmeyer, Rex McKnight and W. R. Rubendall.

Wednesday evening of next week May 16 — the Kendrick Community Lions Club will host the Lewiston Lions Club at a 6:45 dinner in the Fire Hall — with the Lewiston group bringing the entertainment.

Every Kendrick Lion is asked to mark the date and plan to attend — it should be a big evening.

Picture Explained

Many questions have been asked regarding the identity of Mrs. Jean Crocker, who was featured on the front page of the Spokesman-Review Monday, having been honored at the Ice Follies in that city Sunday.

We might explain that she is a sister-in-law of Frank Crocker, Kendrick, and the late Fred Crocker of Lewiston. She is Mrs., rather than Miss.

Mother and son are doing nicely. Mr. Brocke expects to bring his wife and son home this week-end.

FISH AND GAME NEWS

Regulations Change
Idaho's new fishing regulations became effective on April 1. There have been some changes made over last year's regulations so be sure and get a copy of the new ones before going fishing. They should be available by now from all license vendors.

Some of the changes made this year include a bag limit of two sturgeon per calendar year, a bag limit of two sockeye salmon (ocean run blueback) per day, provision for archery fishing for non game fish (except ling) in all waters open to year round fishing, increase the bag limit of channel catfish from five to ten per day and a few local changes. Archery fishermen are required to possess a valid Idaho fishing license. The general season is the same this year; June 4 to October 31. The bag and possession limit on trout and blueback is also the same as last year.

been completed for 1956. Each winter a survey is conducted by bird biologists, conservation officers and other department personnel, chiefly to determine the number of hens per rooster in each major pheasant area. Results of this year's count show the statewide ratio to be the same as in 1955.

There has been no significant change in the pheasant ratio for the last three years. We have a statewide average of approximately two and one half hens per rooster according to this year's count. The ratio could go to six or seven hens per rooster without endangering reproduction. The number of hens per rooster in the southwestern and southeastern districts of the state has gone up slightly during the last four years. This indicates that pheasant hunters have been harvesting a larger crop of roosters in this area, which is very desirable. However, a larger harvest could still be taken without endangering the breeding population. During the survey an apparent increase was noted in the population of Hungarian partridge in most areas of the state. A particularly good increase was indicated in Kootenai, Idaho and Caribou counties.

Idaho Is "Big Business"
Idaho's state government will be a $118,508,351 business in the two years which began July 1.
A compilation by the Associated Taxpayers of Idaho shows that $49,439,726 was appropriated from the general fund by the 1953 legislature. Another $69,069,625 was made available from other funds, including federal matching money, special taxes whose revenue is earmarked for special purposes, sale of produce and commodities, interest from endowment investments and other local income.
The legislature appropriates for expenditures from the special funds but doesn't transfer the earmarked money from one purpose to another. Nearly $7,000,000 of the state's expenditures will go for highways, education and public welfare. Another $3,516,640 will be for public health and $2,701,170 for the fish and game management.
The state highway department will have $37,715,625 to spend on the state's roads. None of the money comes from the general fund. It all comes from gasoline taxes, motor vehicle registrations and federal matching funds.
The public assistance load for the next two years will be $21,616,012, of which $10,095,832 was appropriated from the general fund and $11,520,180 will come from the federal government and from Idaho counties.
The state hospitals at Orofino and Blackfoot and the Nampa state school will have more than $4,000,000 available in the next biennium, most of it from the general fund.
The state will put up $14,751,404 as its share of the public school minimum education program in the next two years — $12,000,000 from the general fund, $2,000,000 earnings from the endowment fund, and $751,404 surplus from the current biennium. The University of Idaho will have $5,866,945 available, plus an additional $1,564,548 for agricultural research; $1,209,249 for agricultural extension and $258,250 for other research. Idaho State College will have $2,620,000 available and $2,880,026 was appropriated for teachers' retirement.

Eyes Tell Tale Of Safety While Hunting Outdoors

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—One mistake by a hunter in the woods can make a man a killer or a victim. Will you be among the estimated 500 hunters who will be killed or 3,000 who will be injured before the hunting season is over?

The answer may be in your eyes—or someone else's according to Fred W. Jobe, director of ophthalmic research for Bausch & Lomb.

He points that ability to see clearly is the hunter's greatest asset and the greatest safety protection for fellow Nimrods.

In the latest survey of hunting accidents completed by the National Rifle Association, mistaking man-for-animal ranked third among all causes of non-self-inflicted wounds.

This was confirmed in a study recently released by the Minnesota Conservation Federation based on tests and interviews with all hunters involved in hunting accidents in Minnesota in 1953. Visual tests revealed that less than one-fourth of the hunters had normal vision—yet few of them realized that their eyes were under par.

If you are near-sighted, proper glasses will correct it. If you're far-sighted, if you're over 40 and have begun to push things away from you to get them into focus, bifocal and trifocal lenses tailored to your special needs will solve the problem. A telescopic sight may also help you.

Baby Births Fewer In West Europe

NEW YORK—Birth rates in most of Western Europe are receding from the peaks reached during the early post-war years, according to a study of international birth trends.

In marked contrast is the unabated baby boom in the United States and other English-speaking countries outside Europe—Canada, Australia, and New Zealand—where birth rates have remained one third or more above their pre-war levels. The rate in the United States during 1954—25.3 per 1,000 of population—was higher for any prewar year since the early 1920's.

Exceptions to the general trend in Western Europe were noted in France and Norway, where the birth rate in 1954 was still appreciably above that recorded just before World War II.

In England and Wales the rate rose from 15.9 per 1,000 population in 1945 to 20.6 in 1947, but fell to 15.2 by 1954—not much above the 1935-39 average of 14.9. Austria, Denmark, Scotland and Sweden had similar trends.

Mad or Sad—Shed Some Tears for Dear Science

LOS ANGELES—Feel a crying jag coming on? If so, get in touch with Dr. Robert Brunish of the University of California. He needs your tears for research.

Dr. Brunish is studying the chemical structure of tears as a possible clue to the elusive eye irritant in smog and to learn something of the other factors involved in shedding tears.

The scientist reports he has had little difficulty in getting children's tears. They flow profusely for science from his own children and from the children's ward in the U.C.L.A. hospital. But adults don't cry readily for science, so he's short on adult tears.

Tears are not just drops of salt water, he says. They're a complex solution with a surprisingly high protein content. Apparently tears shed in pain, sorrow, or anger, differ from those prompted by peeling an onion or those caused by smog and other irritants.

It is hoped that these differences can be detected and furnish some clue as to the nature of the irritant in smog, he says.

Surprise—Policeman Drives Beer Truck

PITTSBURGH—The assistant police superintendent drove a beer truck—in the line of duty.

Lawrence J. Maloney borrowed the truck to drive up to two suspected numbers-racket headquarters. Two plain clothesmen, hiding in the back of the truck, hopped out to help Maloney make raids. Seven persons were arrested on lottery charges.

After the second stop, Maloney said: "We've been trying to knock off this place for some time, but they always had a lookout. When we pulled up in that beer truck, they didn't know what was going on until we ran inside."

Old-Fashioned

WEST HAVEN, Conn.—Desk Sgt. Leslie Howard received a call from a woman who couldn't get her son out of bed to go to school. She wanted a policeman to "come over and scare him."

The cruisers were all busy, so Howard told her, "Try the old-fashioned method of paddling, and I think you'll get the same results."

Planarians Give New Clues to Early Migrations

WASHINGTON—A worm, among earth's most primitive animals, may provide clues to ancient inter-continental migrations. It is one of four hitherto unknown species of freshwater planarians collected in Alaska by Dr. Roman Kenk, a foremost authority on these fantastic creatures.

Some of these four species are quite similar to planarians now found in Siberia. They are unlike any known elsewhere in North America. Their presence in Alaska, Dr. Kenk holds, provides additional evidence of the existence of an ice-age land bridge between Asia and North America and of the fact that during the ice ages, when glaciers covered most of the northern half of this continent, most of Alaska was ice free.

Planarians, although familiar animals in biological laboratories, are very little known in nature. They are among the most fantastic of all animals, sometimes described as "gliding patches of slimy skin" without a body cavity, able to break up at will into scores of pieces each of which regenerates into a new worm. They overpower their prey by wrapping their slimy bodies around it. They predigest it outside the body by projecting the pharynx, a part of the alimentary tract and secreting some digestive material.

Sun Among Million Variable Stars

WASHINGTON—The sun is one of the millions of variable stars in the galaxy of the Milky Way.

Its radiation, upon which depends all life on earth, waxes and wanes over a period of approximately 273 months. This period has been found repeating itself for almost half a century in observations of the Smithsonian Institute's Astrophysical Observatory, made with extremely delicate instruments on high, dry mountaintops in both hemispheres.

It is relatively simple to observe from the earth fluctuations in the radiation of other stars. The sun is quite different. All stars around it are blotted out in the daytime. Its fluctuations are relatively small, seldom exceed 2 per cent. Variations due to transmission through the atmosphere, rather than to anything intrinsic in the sun itself, may exceed this figure. But an observer on the moon, which has no atmosphere, probably would have no hesitation in pronouncing the sun a "variable."

Life Expectancy Now At an All-Time High

NEW YORK—Average length of life among America's wage-earners and their families has reached an all-time high just short of the Biblical three score and ten.

An expectation of life and birth of 69.8 years was reported by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company for its millions of industrial policyholders, based on mortality conditions prevailing in 1954. This figure represents a gain of almost a full year over that for 1953.

The expectation of life at birth among these insured persons has been rising steadily throughout the past three-quarters of a century, and has more than doubled during that time. Based on mortality in 1879-1889, the average lifetime was only 34 years.

Since 1944, according to the company's statisticians, the rise in expectation of life among these insured people has amounted to 4.2 years at age 5, 3.5 years at age 25, and 2.6 years at age 45. Although during the decade only 1.8 years have been added to the average lifetime remaining at age 65, those at this age now have a life expectancy of 14.1 years.

Greenlease Bills Back in Circulation

QUINCY, Ill.—A Quincy housewife has found the 13th bill to be recovered from the missing Greenlease ransom money, the F.B.I. says.

The $20 bill was discovered by Mrs. Fred Gehring when she decided to check her household money against the serial number of the ransom bills printed in a newspaper.

Earlier, a $20 bill turned up at Jacksonville, Fla., and 11 others cropped up in the past few weeks at Chicago, St. Louis, Salt Lake City, and Minot, N.D.

A hoard of $307,720 from a $600,000 ransom has been missing since Bobby Greenlease was kidnapped and slain in 1953.

Tongue Twister

SANTA FE, N.M.—The TCFMRA-AETPOPRRTOOMV is now in business in New Mexico.

Full name of the agency is: "The Commission for Making Reciprocal Agreements and Extending the Privilege of Proportional Registration Relating to Operation of Motor Vehicles."

Governor John Sirmms is chairman of the commission.

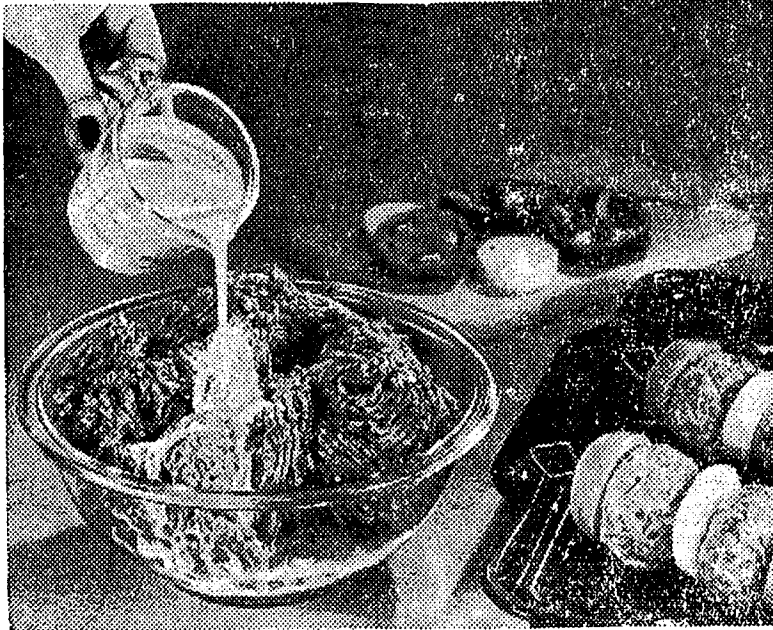

To Test Water Supply

U. of I., Moscow — The University of Idaho and the city of Moscow are cooperating in a research project on the Moscow watershed to determine the supply of surface water that might be available for use if it is eventually needed to supplement the underground water supply.

City and university crews have installed two gaging shelters on two different creeks on the watershed.

PUT ADVENTURE IN EATING WITH FUNFUL HAMBURGERS-ON-A-STICK

Warm weather is coming and with it your chance to put adventure into eating with out-of-door meals.

Add fun to these meals with "funful" Hamburgers-on-a-Stick... thick slices of tomato, sweet onion and perfectly seasoned hamburger balls barbecued on skewers. These delicious hamburger balls made from a Carnation Company recipe are prepared with evaporated milk to make them juicy and never crumbly. They hold together and stay firmly on the skewer.

Barbecued or oven-broiled, Hamburgers-on-a-Stick are an attractive new way to serve hamburger with pride. Make them an all-year-round treat. The whole family will applaud, and children especially love their novelty. You can be sure of perfect results everytime with this recipe.

HAMBURGERS-ON-A-STICK

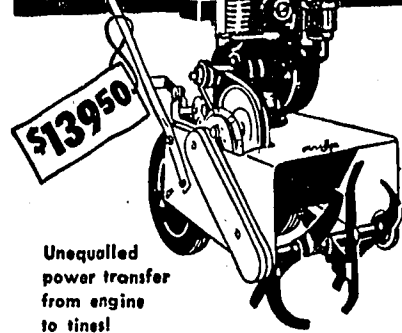

(MAKES ABOUT 6 SERVINGS)

- 1/2 cup (small can) undiluted evaporated milk
- 1 egg
- 1 1/2 pounds ground beef
- 1/2 cup fine cracker crumbs
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 cup finely chopped onion
- 1/2 cup finely chopped green pepper

Mix all ingredients together until well blended. Divide into 24 equal parts. Shape into balls. Put tomato slice, hamburger ball, onion slice, another hamburger ball and a second tomato slice on each of 12 skewers. Broil 5 to 7 minutes on each side.

One of the shelters is located on Crumaine creek which empties into Robinson Lake, and the other is on a creek adjacent to it on the west. Water stage recorder instruments are being installed in the shelters for the purpose of measuring rates and volumes of runoff.

Constructed in university shops of materials supplied by the city, the shelters are of 12-foot lengths of three-foot diameter culvert pipe, and are placed on end in the stream above culverts running under county roads. Instruments record the depth of water at all times, and with the records it will be possible to determine the runoff that has passed through the road culvert. With automatic recording instruments it will be necessary to visit the installations but once each week.

How Standard invested its money last year to meet your growing oil needs

Exploration for new oil sources cost $134 million. Standard Oil Company of California produced oil and gas from more than 8600 wells in the U.S., Canada and South America to supply your petroleum needs.

New Refinery Units to make higher octane gasoline took a big part of the $30 million we spent for plant improvement.

Petrochemicals for plastics and other new products; fertilizers and sprays for bigger crops, took a $20 million investment.

Research and technical services cost nearly $13 million. One result was a technique which promises to greatly increase yields from oil wells, helping conserve U.S. resources.

Transportation Facilities to bring our products from oil field to you were a $10 million item.

New and Modernized Service Stations from Alaska to Mexico cost $16 million, made Standard products more convenient for you.

STANDARD IMPROVED its ability to serve you last year by investing $347 million for new production and distribution facilities and exploration. The rest of our $1 1/2 billion income was spent on such items as wages and benefits for our 36,369 employees, supplies from more than 10,000 U.S. firms and crude oil from independent producers. We paid a $107 million tax bill, and our 119,793 stockholders received 7¢ of each dollar we took in as a return on their investment in the Company.

Bird's Eye Frozen Foods at Blewett's Market

FARM NEWS

Elbert McProud, county agent, advised farmers this week that two varieties of wheat, three grasses, and two legumes have been added to the certification list for 1956. The seed crops are eligible for the Idaho Crop Improvement association program.

The wheats are Lemhi and Omar. Howard Roylance, University of Idaho extension agronomist, said Lemhi 53 is a result of breeding stem-rust resistance into Lemhi. In yield and other characteristics it is similar to Lemhi.

Omar is a red-chaffed, soft white, winter club wheat highly resistant to common and low smuts. The straw is medium short. Yield is equal to Elmar.

The new grasses are Akaroa, orchard grass, Goats fescue, and Lincoln smooth brome. Akaroa is a leafy, fine-stemmed variety, late maturing, and disease resistant. It lacks winter hardiness in Idaho and it is recommended for speedy production only.

Goats fescue is a variety of tall fescue. It matures early. The stem and leaves are coarse. It is particularly adapted to the warm valleys of California, but is not superior to Alta fescue for forage use in Idaho. Goats is recommended in Idaho for seed production only.

Lincoln is a variety of smooth brome adapted to the central great plains. In the lower valleys of southwestern Idaho, the agronomist said, it may be equal to Manchur for forage. Seed grown in Idaho will be largely for the middle west.

Lahontan alfalfa and Dollar red clover are the new legumes. Lahontan is described as partially immune to the stem nematode, an eelworm parasite that stunts stems and root buds. Lahontan is named for a Nevada lake bed. Its purple flowers bloom about six days earlier, following cutting, than does ranger. It is about equal to ranger in resistance to bacterial wilt.

Dollar clover is adapted to the northern part of the red clover belt. It produces high forage yields, is moderately resistant to northern anthracnose and is often more persistent than common red clover.

Word From Elton Wilsons

In a brief note accompanying a subscription remittance Mrs. Elton Wilson, Independence, Oregon, says in part: "We are all well and finally beginning to enjoy a little spring weather, and hope it is the same for you folks. We called on Mrs. Jack Travis while she was in the hospital at McMinville, last Sunday, and it certainly seemed good to see someone we used to know."

The toughest problem that some kids face is that of learning good manners without seeing any.

English Sailor Set Mark for Marathon Walkers

WASHINGTON—It wouldn't be too surprising if it happened in this day and age, but there is an often discredited story about an early English sailor who took a 3,000-mile walk from Mexico's Gulf coast to a point near what is now Saint John, New Brunswick, in Canada.

History shows that sometime late in 1586 more than 100 English seamen of the adventurer Sir John Hawkins went ashore near what is now Tampico, rather than starve afloat. A disastrous battle with the Spanish had left Hawkins' ship overloaded and short of food.

Only five of these men ever got back to England. One group of 75 men headed south and only two of this number eventually escaped from Spanish servitude. One after 14 years, the other after 23 years.

Three others, David Ingram, Richard Browne and Richard Twide, were among a smaller group of men who set out "northward." Most were killed by Indians or hardships. But 11 months later, Ingram related, three of them had reached a river mouth 60 leagues west of "Cape Britton"—Cape Breton Island, Nova Scotia. There they found a ship, the French "Gargarine". By 1580 they were back in England.

There has been much controversy over whether Ingram really walked as far north as Saint John, but attempts have been made to prove that he and his companions must have crossed New England to describe the things Ingram related 13 years after their "long walk".

It was not the first overland walk in America.

Tuberculosis Hits 100,000 Victims Every Year

NEW YORK—Every year tuberculosis claims about 100,000 new victims—an attack of one person every five minutes.

Almost 400,000 persons in the United States are estimated to have active tuberculosis today. It is difficult to know the exact number because all cases are not a matter of record. Because tuberculosis has a long, symptomless onset and because people may be careless about checking up on their health unless they are actually ill, tuberculosis frequently goes undiagnosed for months or even years.

However, there are 250,000 cases on health department records and, on the basis of experience in case-finding surveys, it is estimated there are approximately 150,000 active cases unreported to health authorities. These unknown cases are the ones spreading most of the disease.

In addition, there are around 800,000 people with inactive disease—people who have been successfully treated for tuberculosis but, because of the chronic, relapsing nature of the disease, should continue under medical supervision, with frequent check ups, lest they break down again.

Thus, tuberculosis is a health problem of immediate concern to 1,200,000 persons. Furthermore, the disease affects in a deeply personal way the husbands and wives, the children, the mothers and fathers, and other close relatives of those afflicted with the disease.

The plight of persons incapacitated by tuberculosis is a direct concern to the community, the state, and the nation. Tuberculosis today is costing this country $620,000,000 a year, largely in tax dollars.

Homicide Rate At All-Time Low

NEW YORK — Despite reported increases in major crimes and juvenile delinquency, the homicide rate in the United States has fallen to an all-time low level, insurance company's statisticians report.

Among one company's industrial policyholders, whose experience closely parallels that of the country's general population, the homicide death rate dropped from 5.8 per 100,000 in 1934 to 1.9 in 1954. This downward trend was interrupted only twice during the twenty-year period—immediately after World War II, and to a lesser extent during the Korean War.

The long-term reduction in the homicide rate has been especially large among white male policyholders, amounting to 70 per cent over the two decades. Among white females the corresponding reduction was 50 per cent and among nonwhite persons it was about 55 per cent.

Despite the over-all improvement, homicide continues to be a major cause of death among nonwhite males. In the insurance experience homicide mortality among nonwhite males averaged 21.7 per 100,000 in 1952-54, or more than 11 times the rate for white males.

Visitor Survives Life on 'Range'

MADISON, Ind. — A Cincinnati man escaped injury while wandering for three weeks around a heavy-artillery firing range near Madison.

David Gilkey, 30, a contractor, was taken into custody on the 4,000-acre Jefferson Proving Grounds and charged with trespassing on Government property.

Government property officials said he had been where many projectiles fall. Gilkey said he heard firing, but no shells fell near him.

Gilkey spent the three weeks wandering about the grounds at night and sleeping in the fields and wooded sections during the day. All he had to eat was apples and pears he picked up on the big reservation.

He spent the entire period in a sport coat, sport shirt, trousers, and low-cut shoes. He said he climbed over the fence one night and did not realize until the following day he was on Government property.

Gilkey explained: "I guess you would call it retreat I was after. I just wanted to get away to myself for a while."

Detroit Teachers Use 'Punishment Code'

DETROIT—Public school teachers in Detroit can paddle junior where it hurts when he gets out of line.

In a 500-word policy statement, Superintendent of Schools Arthur Dondineau outlined a physical-punishment discipline code to be used with discretion as to "size, sex, and physical strength."

However, Dondineau said that any punishment given must not be such as to cause "lasting pain or injury."

Explaining the reason for the policy statement, Dondineau said: "We wanted to give teachers and principals an understanding as to how far they can expect the support of the administration in punishment problems. Now we think the teacher knows how far he will be protected if a complaint were made in court of his actions."

Largest Garter Snake Found by Zoologist

LOS ANGELES—A 3½ foot garter snake, the largest such snake on record, has been found by a California Zoologist.

The yard-long reptile was picked up by Jim Vial beside an irrigation ditch near Yuma, Arizona. It apparently has thrived on the toads and frogs along the ditch.

It is of a common variety of snake known as Marcy's garter snake. The king-sized garter snake is 14 inches longer than the largest garter snake on record.

Other than its gigantic proportions the reptile is identical with the small striped variety that little boys carry around in their pocket to scare little girls with and just as harmless, according to Vial.

The U.C.L.A. zoologist says that after a few weeks observation the snake will be pickled for posterity and placed in the University's bottled reptile collection.

Sex Equality Gets Blame for Divorces

LONDON—A leading marriage counselor blames the growing equality of sexes for Britain's booming divorce rate, now about four times the 1939 level.

"It has really shaken the stability of marriage and family life," said Joseph Brayshaw, in the magazine Family Doctor.

"Women now do almost every job that men do. The plain truth is that the modern marriage partnership is much richer. It involves much greater tolerance. And in aiming higher in marriage today, we are suffering more casualties."

Farm Mortgages Greatly Increased

WASHINGTON—Farm mortgages for the first half of 1955 totaled $1,300,000,000, an increase of $300,000,000 over the first half of 1954, says the Farm Credit Administration.

The mortgages also averaged about $1,060 larger in the first six months of 1955—$7,050 this year as against $5,990 in 1954.

Farm owners obtained the largest number of mortgages since 1951 and the largest total of loan money since such statistics were started in 1934.

TV Watchers

WASHINGTON—U.S. families now have 32,000,000 television sets, compared with only about 5,000,000 in 1950, the Census Bureau reports.

Four out of five families in cities have them, the bureau said, and less than half of those living in rural areas.

American Inventions Make For Better Living Standard

During the period prior to World War II, when Adolph Hitler was building up an arsenal of weapons with which he hoped to conquer the world, a nuclear physicist at the University of Berlin had an idea for a death-ray gun.

The only thing wrong with the idea was that the inventor intended to use the death rays to kill microorganisms that spoil food. Hitler wasn't interested.

America thrives on inventions that promote health and make for better living. It provides a Patent System as an incentive for such inventions. Dr. Arno Brasch, the nuclear physicist with the death-ray idea, and his associate, Dr. Wolfgang Huber, left Berlin for New York 12 years ago.

Food is an important item of trade, here, and financial interest-backed the two physicists in developing their electronic gun to the extent of a half-million dollars. They rented an icehouse on Long Island and scrounged the area for hard-to-get parts required for their electrical apparatus. The pilot model, resembling somewhat the steel skeleton of a skyscraper, began to tower toward the third-story ceiling. Near this was a cylindrical structure, tapering in sections to the top.

Out of this combination of transformers, insulators, and giant electronic tubes there protruded something similar to the muzzle of a gun, aimed straight down to hit the target directly underneath. A 220-volt house current was thus stepped up to shoot 3,000,000 volts.

It was five years ago that this amazing gun began its operation of shooting electron bullets into specimens of food.

Poison Deaths of Children Caused by Careless Parents

Parental carelessness plays a big part in the more than 600 deaths of children each year due to the accidental swallowing of poison, according to Dr. Jay M. Arena of Durham, N. C.

Dr. Arena is associate professor in the department of pediatrics, Duke University School of Medicine and Duke Hospital.

"Children who survive the ingestion of poison may be left with permanent disabilities," he added.

"Poisons contained in household agents are responsible for most of the deaths and disabilities. If all drugs and household agents that contain poison were made inaccessible to children, such poisonings could be almost entirely prevented."

Lye, he explained, is one of the most common causes of poisoning in childhood. During the first 18 years of the Duke Hospital, more than 136 children were treated for stricture of the esophagus caused by swallowing lye. Many of these cases were due to sodium hydroxide in washing powders, drainpipe cleaners or certain paint removers.

Among other causes of childhood poisonings listed by Dr. Arena are the following: strong acid, kerosene, iodine, strychnine, phenolphthalein, barbiturate, salicylate, aniline dye, lead, and mercury.

Farm Land Boom

Farm land prices on an over-all basis may have experienced a record rise over the last decade, but the increases varied widely as between one section of the country and another, according to figures compiled by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The boom was led by eight states. Headed by Kentucky, which enjoyed increases of more than 200 per cent between the 1935-39 average of dollar farm land valuations and July of this year. More than half these states are in the South. Thirteen others, mostly in the South and Middle West, showed rises of between 150 and 200 per cent, and fourteen more between 100 and 150 per cent. The remaining thirteen showed gains of less than 100 per cent.

High Hat

The expression "to high hat" or be snobbish toward one of lower rank probably goes back before the days when the top hat became a symbol of wealth and social position. The rank of a Spanish lady in the latter days of the Roman Empire could almost be measured by the height of her head covering. The more important the lady, the higher her turban towered above her head.

Sea Food

The ocean contains enormous quantities of small plants and animals, many of them microscopic in size, which cannot swim but float with the tides and currents. These are called "plankton" and they form the principal food of various whales, as well as sharks and many other kinds of fishes. The animal plankton is said to have a nutritive value equal to the best meat, since they consist largely of protein, while the plant plankton equal rye flour. The main difficulty seems to be in harvesting. A biologist who studied the matter has said that to meet the normal food energy requirements of one person would require the animal plankton each day from a volume of ocean water equal to an area the size of a football field, and about five feet deep.

People Spent More And Saved Less, 1954 Records Show

NEW YORK—The American people had $107 billions left from their aggregate income in 1954 for discretionary spending or saving as they preferred after laying out a record $148 billions for the basics of food, shelter and clothing, and paying a $33 billion tab to the tax collector—Federal, State and local combined.

This discretionary income at the people's disposal in 1954 was the equivalent of some $600 for every man, woman, and child in the population and was greater than the total personal income in any year prior to 1942.

Out of this sum the people made a substantial addition to their "nest egg" in insurance and other savings. Figures compiled by the U. S. Department of Commerce show that total personal savings in 1954 exceeded $18 billions, a comparatively high level by past standards. However, the temptation to spend when income is rising and growing competition for the consumer dollar were reflected in the fact that 1954's personal savings were $1 1/2 billions under the 1953 total, and that savings continued to decline and personal debt rose further in the first half of 1955.

The people also spent a half billion dollars more than ever before last year for medical care, indicating the increasing emphasis being given to health in the family expenditure pattern.

Navy Wins Fight With Barnacles

WASHINGTON — The United States is finally winning its toughest engagement—a long-time battle against hitch-hiking barnacles. No longer need these tight-sticking crustaceans crowd their shells onto hulls of Navy ships, causing loss in speed and boosting fuel consumption.

Government researchers have developed a plastic paint deadly to young barnacles and other marine growths. A plastic-coated warship can now churn the seas for five years without drydocking for cleaning and repainting.

Before World War II, Navy vessels docked every nine months for this purpose. Some heavily fouled ships carried 200 tons of sea life on their hulls.

Two thousand different kinds of life, ranging from bacteria to fish, have been detected on hulls, buoys and marine structures. Barnacles are the most pestiferous of the lot. Even after they die, their shells often remain on a ship's hull.

For many centuries seafarers have tried to rid their vessels of barnacles. Copper sheathing was successful on wooden ships, for even minute quantities of copper in the water kills young barnacles.

Single Donor's Gift Sets Up New Institute

BERKLEY, Calif.—A new institute devoted to basic research has been established by the University of California and will start operations with a fund of almost $2,750,000, the gift of a single secret donor.

Chancellor Clark Kerr announced the new institute—similar to one at Princeton, N. J., where Einstein studied many years—in opening a three-day symposium on the physical sciences.

The institute's primary purpose, as specified by the donor, will be "to discover and encourage the work of individuals of great talent and promise." It "shall be dedicated to the encouragement of creative thought and conduct of research and investigation in pure science."

Dog's Life in L. A. Really Dog's Life

LOS ANGELES—The old joke about "a dog's life" gets no laugh in Los Angeles.

All dogs in the city and county were ordered quarantined by the City health officer for at least a year because of the rabies situation. Between January and October, there were 67 rabid-dog reports, most in 10 years. The order requires dogs be confined to owner's premises except when on a leash not more than 5 feet long.

On top of that, Mrs. Sally Moody urged a new law requiring marriage licenses for canines. Her ordinance would make it a misdemeanor "to breed a female dog or to permit an owned female dog to be bred without first obtaining a license or permit to do so from the City or County."

CAMDEN, S. C.—Courtesy pays off on the highway.

F. B. Mobley noticed in his rear view mirror that an automobile wanted to pass. He slowed down and waved the driver behind to come ahead.

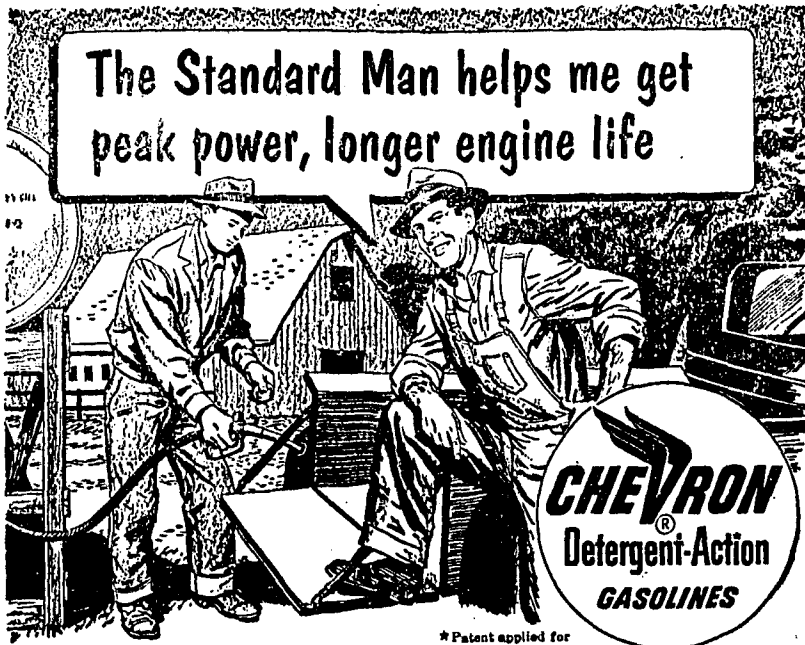

As the car passed, Mobley noticed two pieces of paper fall out of the window. Curious, he stopped, got out and picked them up. They were two $1 bills.

Logging Trucks Rolling

With the partial lifting of load limits last Sunday at midnight, logging trucks began operating in the area again, a steady stream of them rolling through town, to the cheers of the truck owners and mill operators — for in many cases supplies for the mills were running low.

The raising of the limits, however, brought with it this warning from the state police: Stay within the load and speed limits prescribed — or the maximum penalties will be faced. Seems like somebody is always taking the joy out of living!

MORE ABOUT ROADS
Quite a bit of comment has come our way following our "Road Editorial" of two weeks ago, which was actually not an editorial at all, but more of a repetition of comments heard following the Latah County Chambers of Commerce meeting here some three weeks ago.
To some, despite a long residence in this territory, the routes mentioned do not seem clear. Perhaps the following will help:
"Middle Potlatch" is the stream whose mouth is at Juliaetta. A road built up it would come out near old Cornwall (between Troy and Moscow).
"Little Potlatch" is the stream whose mouth is near the old Jonas Waters place, just above the old Pilot Rock school, or roughly about five miles below Juliaetta.

Published Weekly by the Union Oil Service at Kendrick
W. L. "Bill" Rogers, Editor

HELLO, FOLKS:

Are you taking proper care of your equipment these busy spring days? Is it lubricated as it needs to be? You know there is a Union Lubricant to fit every particular need and spot on your equipment from your tractor to your pick-up and truck — and car! Yes, and we will deliver them to your farm, or use them for you at this service station — you name it! Oil and grease is far cheaper than machinery!

"The wife was greatly pleased with her success at the women's meeting. On her return home she said to her husband."

"Yes, I was absolutely outspoken at the meeting this afternoon." Her husband look incredulous: "I can hardly believe it, may dear, who outspoke you?"

Why drive a dirty, squeaky car when it costs so little to have it washed, polished, greased and the oil changed at this Union Service Station? And we vacuum the interior with every wash job. Try us!

Pastor: "Ah, good morning, Mrs. Brown. I see you are taking a tramp into the country."
Mrs. Brown: "A tramp indeed! I'd have you know this is my husband!"

Does your car have a ping when you step down on it? If so, come in for a tankful of Royal 76 gasoline. It changes "ping" to "purr."

Come in and let us show you the famous U. S. Royal Tires. You will be surprised at how cheaply you can own a set for your car.
